

Colby

Colby College
Digital Commons @ Colby

Edwin Arlington Robinson Letters and Transcriptions

Edwin Arlington Robinson Community

11-2-1891

To Harry de Forest Smith - November 2, 1891

Edwin Arlington Robinson

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.colby.edu/robinson_transcriptions

Recommended Citation

Robinson, Edwin Arlington, "To Harry de Forest Smith - November 2, 1891" (1891). Edwin Arlington Robinson Letters and Transcriptions. 44.

http://digitalcommons.colby.edu/robinson_transcriptions/44

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Edwin Arlington Robinson Community at Digital Commons @ Colby. It has been accepted for inclusion in Edwin Arlington Robinson Letters and Transcriptions by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Colby. For more information, please contact mfkelly@colby.edu.

TO HARRY DE FOREST SMITH

Harvard University.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov 2 1891^a

My Dear Smith,--

I shall have to crave your pardon this week for a break in the order of our correspondence. I felt so mean yesterday that I knew it would be of no use to attempt writing you, though I managed to get a few lines to the folks at home.¹

I rec'd your letter this morning & you may be sure that I was more than glad to do so. I have been rather blue for the past week, and am not at all confident of remaining here as long as I hoped. Following a course of prescribed study seems to [be] almost an impossibility. Sometimes I plug for three or four hours without any apparent benefit. I have ~~tried~~^b been trying to drop Anglo-Saxon for the simple reason that I have not the brains to carry it, and do anything in French. & English 9. I tell you what it is, Smith, I have had enough ~~more~~ conceit taken out of me, in a passive manner, since I came here, to fill a Saratoga trunk. Do not infer by this that I have been in any way imposed upon, for nothing of the sort has happened. I was not even guyed when I called the Coöperative Society the "cō-öp" instead of the "Coop"²--in the presence of a sophomore & two juniors. Everything is quiet and each man minds his own business. But I am so grievously

-2-

^a Everything in red here is part of the printed Harvard stationary. The month, date and "1" for the year were written in black. WA omits "Harvard University."

^b WA transcribes the mistake as "tried".

rusty that sometimes I am afraid that January may find me working on the ice in Gardiner. Exams are coming on this week & next and I am three themes behind in English 9. The subjects are these: William Godwin's Delineation of Character in "Caleb Williams", Lord Jeffrey's³ Pessimism, & Miss Edgeworth's⁴ Realism. Not very jovial topics, are they? But they do not worry me any; the trouble is coming with the little points I have not remembered or taken down in lectures. Prof. Child has an exam in Shakspeare next Friday @ 10.00 A.M. It will be a "stinker".

-3-

I seem to be doing very well in French, and I ought to get out all right. As to Eng A. (Comp. & Rhet.) I have no idea what it will be like. In short, I am feeling rather down in the mouth. If I were discharged, I don't know as I would have the nerve to go back to Gardiner. Upon the whole I think I should try to hunt up some job in Boston where I could get enough to pay my board & lodging until the year is up. That would be better than being at home for everybody—my "dear friends"⁵—to cast their remarks at and hold up as an example. But this may be due to my being "out of sorts" generally. By next Sunday I shall have taken most of the examinations and will be able to tell you something definite, perhaps. I feel that I am doing about twice the work necessary to carry my courses but cannot seem to improve matters any. All the reading I have done since I came here is Guy Mannering—prescribed in Eng. 9. Wrote an essay on Domine Sampson.⁶ Would give five dollars to smoke a pipe with you in the "bower."

-4-

Yours very truly

Robinson.

717 Cambridge St.

P.S. It seems to me that ~~the Prin~~ you and the Prin. are having a devil of a time with those two "young lady friends." I am beginning to think you may have found that ideal you have been seeking so long. How is it?

R.

HCL US, 35-36.

NOTES

1. Unknown letter. (SL)
2. The Cooperative Society, or "COOP," is the university bookstore. Established in 1882 in Harvard Square as a cooperative. (SL)
3. Francis Jeffrey, Lord Jeffrey (1773-1850) was a Scottish literary critic who is known for his contributions to, and editorship of, the Edinburgh Review. (SL)
4. Maria Edgeworth (1768-1849), an influential Anglo-Irish novelist known for her didacticism and as an important precursor of realism. (SL)
- 5^c. See EAR's sonnet "Dear Friends," which begins:
"Dear friends, reproach me not for what I do,"
and ends:
"The shame I win for singing is all mine,
The gold I miss for dreaming is all yours."
See also EAR's letter to Smith dated October 1, 1893.
6. Dominie Sampson, notable character in Scott's Guy Mannering.

^c This and the following note are numbered 1 and 2, respectively, in WA's manuscript.