it's what we do...

I grew up in Gary, Indiana. In order to get by, my parents worked at least 60 hours a week and my brother, sister, and I took care of the house. When my parents decided to open a restaurant in order to spend more time with the family, my college fund disappeared—family comes first. But I was determined to go to college, so I took any job that would fit around my schoolwork—cooking and waiting tables at the restaurant, yard work, tutoring. . . . I saved every penny I could and hoped it would be enough to pay for college.

When I received my acceptance from Colby and saw the cost, I realized that I had to make a choice involving happiness and debt. Just before leaving for Colby, my dad handed me the final financial aid papers. Seeing that number was an answer to my prayers. Colby had awarded me a substantial scholarship.

The last three years have been great. I've enjoyed my classes and activities. Having the opportunity to come to Colby without any stress about money is a blessing, and I want to thank the scholarship donors. Now I can follow my dreams.

Thank You
