HOME COMFORTS.

'Where are you going, George?' asked Mrs. Wilson, as her husband arose from the supper table, and took his hat. 'O—I'm going out,' was the careless response. 'But where?' 'What odds does that make, Emma? I shall be back at my usual time.'

enjoyment there was away from home. Home is a dull place after all. 'Isn't it?' 'Why—no—I can't say that it is,' returned George. 'I rather like it.'

in the august pile of ruin—every bloodred anemone on the bank of the Illinois, and every apheland that blossoms on the hill of Colonus I know them and they know me. Not as a curious stranger shall I leave Athens; but with the regret of one who knows and loves the sacred soil, to whom it has been at once a sanctuary and a home.'

and then curl over and lap its smooth sides, and by-and-by begin to lash itself into rage and show its white teeth and spring at its jaws, and howl the cry of its mad, but, to me, harmless fury. And then—to look at it with that inward eye—who does not love to shuffle off time and its concerns, at intervals? to forget who is President and who is Governor, what race he belongs to, what language he speaks, which golden headed nail of the firmament his particular planetary system is hung upon, and listen to the great liquid metronome, as it beats its solemn measure, steadily swinging when the solo or duet of human life began, and to swing just as steadily after the human chorus has died out and man is a fossil on its shores?

Extravagance in Expenditures. Many causes have been assigned for the late panic and for the present disastrous and depressed condition of business. We have often reflected upon this subject, and heard all kinds of statements, reasons and arguments, but at last have come to the conclusion that the true causes are those named at the head of this article, viz., 'Personal and Household Extravagance.'

he exultingly pointed to her and said, 'She is my mother.' Lumps of Gold. Two brothers, Philip and Arthur, set off, one afternoon, to take a walk. It was a fine day, late in October, and though the fields were now bare of crops, and no flowers left by the sides of the roads, the mellow autumn sun threw still left on the trees, the sky was of so deep a blue, and the air so clear, that no summer's day could have been brighter or pleasanter.

ALL LETTERS AND COMMUNICATIONS. Not being either the business or editorial departments of this paper, should be directed to 'MAXHAM & WING, or EASTERN MAIL OFFICE.'

PINE GROVE CEMETERY.—We notice great improvement, not only in the trees and shrubbery, but in the grading and monumental decorations. The new Buttelle monument is one of the latter, which must long be a prominent mark in the beauty and skill which the grounds present.

There is danger of the same fault in the department of foliage; indeed, it is there already. The growth of a few years will remove a great portion of the proper distinctness of detail, and convert what at this time may be judicious contrast or harmony, into a mere hotch-potch of foliage.

REV. JUSTIN R. LOUIS, LL. D.—The friends of this gentleman, who had the pleasure of his acquaintance while Professor in Waterville College, will be pleased to learn that he now occupies the presidential chair in the University at Lewisburg, Pa.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—Of course you will read the extracts from this excellent magazine, on our first page, but that we hope will only sharpen your appetite for more that you will go to Carter's Periodical Depot and buy the September number, which has just received from Federhen of Boston.

OUR TABLE.

FRANK LESLIE'S NEW FAMILY MAGAZINE.—To enumerate all the articles in a single number, even of this monthly, would occupy more room than we can well spare; and we content ourselves therefore by mentioning the titles of the more prominent ones in the September number.

THE STUDENT AND SCHOLAR.—Things worth knowing; in the September number of this pleasant little work furnishes us with an interesting account of many curiosities of costume, in ancient and modern times; the letters from Europe are occupied with sketches of life and manners in Germany; we learn more of Cuba from another chapter of 'The Land of the Sun'.

THE EXECUTION AT LEWISTON. Abraham Cox and Peter Williams, the Albion Cooper mutineers, were hung on Friday last at Lewiston in the presence of 8000 spectators; but we are gratified to learn that our own contributed only the smallest fragment of the crowd.

THE CROPS AT THE WEST.—The Detroit Tribune of Wednesday last, has the following: 'The market is somewhat less active to-day. Most buyers are disposed to wait until it is known what effect the Canada news will have upon the market.'

FEARFUL RAVAGES OF THE VOMITO AT HAVANA.—A correspondent of the National Intelligencer says: 'An hour in Havana when the vomito reigns would effectually cure one of all illness in his right mind would accept it as a bonus, on condition of remaining the year throughout.'

DYING WORDS OF WILLIAMS.—All friends around about here, I deserved long ago this place. I never killed any one before. I killed four of them. I killed the most of them. I have to answer for four of them. I have to answer for that. Lord God knows that. The Lord Jesus Christ is in all parts of the earth, this day, and everywhere. Be with me now and forever, amen.

At half past 11 o'clock the officers fastened the arms of both prisoners by a cord at the elbows, behind the back, and their ankles. Cox stood erect and apparently composed, while Williams trembled violently, and with his eyes turned upwards engaged in silent prayer.

No pulse perceptible in Williams after the eighth minute. His heart beat audibly at the end of the tenth minute. Faint pulsations at the twelfth. Fifteenth minute, no pulsations. No heart sounds in Cox after the tenth minute. Seventeenth minute, a faint flutter in Williams. Extremities perfectly cold.

TELEGRAPH EXPLAINED.—Only ten cents for a plain, simple, but complete description of how messages are sent by telegraph, not only under the ocean, but over the land. In the American Agriculturist for September, is a full and complete article, with eleven engravings which make perfectly plain to the comprehension of even the child how it is that signals and words are transmitted by telegraph.

SOMESET NOMINATIONS.—The following were the nominations at the republican convention at Skowhegan, on Thursday last:—Senators.—Henry Williamson, Starks; John Totman, Clinton.

DEATH OF AN AUTHOR.—It was with regret that we learned to-day of the death of Mrs. H. M. Stephens of this city, which occurred on Friday, 27th inst., at the residence of her sister at East Hampden, Me.

WIRE FOR THE ATLANTIC CABLE.—It is generally supposed that the Atlantic Cable was made entirely in England. Such is not the case. Very many miles of the wire were manufactured in Providence, at a factory in the upper portion of the city.

FAITH IN A BABE.—Mrs. L.— had lost her little pet lamb—her only one—of only six summers, by scurletina. Her neighbor's child, not quite so old, went over to spend a Saturday afternoon hour or two; and as she was the dead Lizzie's play-mate, Lizzie's playthings were brought out by the bereft mother.

The poison was never more plainly discernable than now; no one can forget its smell, nor the stinking fog which, as the sun rises, shoots up and disappears from the hot harbor, like steam from the locomotive without a whistle; for, though all are upon his track, Death gives no warning.

WATERVILLE COLLEGE.—The next term in this Institution begins on Wednesday, Sept. 8th. There will be an examination for admission to the college on the same day.

A most refreshing rain on Friday and Saturday last, with showers since, has given a new aspect to the weather; and the weather-wise now count upon security from frost till corn is out of its way.

CAMP-MEETING is in progress this week at the old camp-ground, Kendall's Mills. The regular attendance is said to be unusually large, and the fr-regular about as last year.

INDIANS AS A MATTER OF FACT.—A man who had been West and been chased by an Indian, writes: 'Much has been said by poets and romantic young ladies, about the picturesque aspect and noble form of an untamed, unnameable warrior of the prairie, and far be it from me to gainsay them.'

TEACHING NEGROES.—The Richmond Dispatch of the 24th, mentions that the arrest of ninety odd negroes, in the Leigh Street Baptist African Church, last Sunday morning, where they had assembled to receive instructions as Sabbath school scholars, has created no little talk in our community.

THE FENOBSCOT MUSICAL ASSOCIATION will hold its annual session in Bangor, October 19—22d, under the direction of Prof. Baker. The State Musical Association will be in session at the same time, and place, and it is probable that the two bodies will meet and have their exercises together.

TEACHING NEGROES.—The Richmond Dispatch of the 24th, mentions that the arrest of ninety odd negroes, in the Leigh Street Baptist African Church, last Sunday morning, where they had assembled to receive instructions as Sabbath school scholars, has created no little talk in our community.

ITEMS OF FOREIGN NEWS. BY LATE ARRIVALS. The London Times states that the message of the Queen to President Buchanan, which contained 99 words, was sent over the cable in sixty-seven minutes.

A CONSPIRACY has been discovered in Limburg, Austria, among some school boys from 12 to 14 years old. Eleven were tried and sentenced, one to death and the others to imprisonment.

THE MADRID JOURNALS ridicule the idea that has just been renewed in the United States, of the cession of Cuba by Spain to that country.

IT IS REPORTED that the King of Prussia will probably abdicate the throne in October. Jeddah, the scene of the late massacre of Christians, has been bombarded by the British steamer Cyclops.

SOMETHING ABOUT PICTURES.—Donald G. Mitchell—liking Marvel—delivered a Lecture not long since in New Haven, that we think, from the imperfect reports we have seen of it, must have been of no little interest and value.

WE COPY A PASSAGE as reported in a New York paper, for its excellent sense: 'An Emperor may command paintings by the rod almost, but the Imperial command has not so much in it to light up and give force to the artist's endeavor as the visit, perhaps, of some poor Arab woman who sees and knows the yellow mountains he has painted, who feels in all her veins the torrid hearts lurking under the purple shadows—who sees and knows the lost kingdom trampled down—who feels as she never felt before, an overwhelming sense of her desolated home, of her desolated country, and falls fainting before the picture.'

BUT IT IS NOT to be supposed that all which the word Art embraces lies in a gallery of pictures, or in a hundred galleries. Every good building which is admired, every tastefully arranged home which is entered upon lovingly, every dainty bit of shrubbery or flower-patch that is cherished, is making one an art-lover and an art-patron.

TEACHING NEGROES.—The Richmond Dispatch of the 24th, mentions that the arrest of ninety odd negroes, in the Leigh Street Baptist African Church, last Sunday morning, where they had assembled to receive instructions as Sabbath school scholars, has created no little talk in our community.

read and write! And were not these laws passed to prevent negroes from obtaining education, and from doing mischief with their learning. Scarcely a week passes that instruments of writing, prepared by negroes, are not taken from servants in the streets, by the police.

ASHES AND MUCK.—One of the best methods of using muck, particularly in the vicinity of villages where wood is the principal fuel, is to compost it with ashes. In these villages, ashes are always to be had, and the enterprising farmer, who takes the paper, will buy them up early in the winter, before his old foggy brethren think of moving.

WHERE THE COMPOST is prepared at this season of the year, it should be forked over once or twice, before it is applied in the Spring. One advantage of this preparation is, that it may be drawn directly to the fields where it is to be used.

WHILE THE FARMERS are carting wood and lumber to the cities and villages, as they often are during the winter, they may as well carry back ashes to their farms as not. The expense of transportation will not be felt, and the land will receive some compensation for the wood it has lost.

SUCCESS OF THE HUGES' INSTRUMENT IN ENGLAND.—New York, Aug. 30.—A private letter from London, dated 17th inst., by the City of Baltimore, states that the Hughes' Printing Telegraph Co. between London and Liverpool, on the 14th inst., had greatly astonished the telegraph managers, operators, etc., by their wonderful performances, working with the most perfect regularity at the rate of 35 to 40 words per minute between the two cities, notwithstanding a heavy rain, which lasted for two days and disabled all other instruments.

WE ALSO LEARN from the same source that negotiations have been opened by the Atlantic Telegraph Company, looking to a purchase of the patent of the Hughes' invention, with the view to the immediate use of the machines upon the Atlantic Cable, the agent of Prof. Hughes being willing to guarantee that they will transmit intelligence 200 per cent. faster, and with more accuracy than can be done by any other system.

But it is not to be supposed that all which the word Art embraces lies in a gallery of pictures, or in a hundred galleries. Every good building which is admired, every tastefully arranged home which is entered upon lovingly, every dainty bit of shrubbery or flower-patch that is cherished, is making one an art-lover and an art-patron.

ECONOMICAL HINTS.—1. Have a work-bench and a few tools in your woodshed, or in a little room at the end of your barn. There are many small jobs, in the course of a year, which any man of common ingenuity can do as well as a professional carpenter.

2. Have a place for everything and everything in its place. Those tools—why should they be lying around the umber here, the jack-plane there, and the saw yonder, and the ads and screw driver no where? Don't put away a spade or any implement without cleaning it. This may seem needless care, but in the long run it is a saving of time and money.

3. Have a plan, a system of things contrived and fore-ordered by Providence for rewarding virtue and punishing vice in every form of its disorders? The Governor of the world need not for this purpose step from his throne, or put forth his hand from the clouds. With admirable wisdom he hath so ordered the train of human affairs, that in their natural course, men's own wickedness shall reprove them, and their backslidings correct them; that they shall be made to eat the fruit of their doings, and to fall into the pit which they themselves had digged.

"This is equal to the call of the stirring housewife, who rises at four o'clock, to get up at five, Monday morning. Come Bridget, get up!" Here, the Monday morning. To-morrow's Tuesday—next day's Wednesday—half the week gone, and nothing done yet!

Ho! speaking of the press, said Jones, after hearing "hoop" vivid description of its wonderful powers, which made the girls of that fast fellow who undertakes to drive fast progress as though they had no feeling than so many fast horses—slowing the cylinders down, spluttering the ink, and grinding out cords of newspapers at the rate of seventeen thousand a minute, will soon find themselves obliged to Ho for a living!"

HORSE TAMING IN OLD TIMES—A horse-breaker in the good old times of Queen Bess gives the following directions: "If your horse does not stand still; or hesitates, then at him with a terrible roar; he will then stand firm, and then stick him in the spurting place till or till times together, with one leg after another, as fast as your legs might walk; your legs must go like two bounding beetles."

Judge Jones of —, Indiana, who never allows a chance for a joke to pass him, occupied the bench when it became necessary to obtain a jurymen, in a case in which the witness was a Quaker, at Parkersburg, Pa. The former was an illiterate Hibernian, the latter decidedly German in his modes of expression. The Sheriff proceeded to look around the room in search of a person to fill a vacant seat, when he espied a Dutchman, and claimed him as his own. The Dutchman objected; "I can't understand you English," he repeated.

ed a policeman before each one, whose duty it is to warn all persons who go there of their true character, and to arrest the keepers if they effect a sale. The New York Evening Post of Saturday, gives the following as a sample of the way things have been done.

On Saturday morning an officer A. V. Davis, whom the Mayor had stationed in front of Brady & Ward's place, 153 Greenwich street, saw an old man named Bachman in the office, alone, apparently waiting for one.

"You are a stranger?" said the officer. "Yes," was the reply. "I have bought a ticket for California for $175, and this is all I have got to show for it."

He produced a paper receipting the money, but not securing a passage. The officer went with him to the genuine office and showed them the receipt, but the name signed to it was not known; the paper was actually worthless.

It was further ascertained that a ticket of the description bargained for was only worth $85; so that the man was swindled out of $80, even if he got his ticket.

The officer and Bachman then returned to the place in Greenwich street, but nobody was there. The 'head quarters' of all the California ticket business, (for such this place was represented to be,) was deserted.

"Are you the proprietor?" asked Davis. "Yes," was the answer. "Well, you have 'done' this man out of a hundred dollars, very nicely, haven't you?"

"Well, suppose I have? We can arrange the business here with any man. You must go to the Mayor's office." McDonald protested, and wanted to 'arrange' with the officer, but he was taken to the Mayor's office.

Being brought up he said Ward was the man who did the business and had the money. The officer went back to Greenwich street, and in a short time Ward made his appearance.

Being accused of the transaction with his victim, whom he was told he had cheated out of $100, he said to the officer: "You can take the money."

"No," replied Davis, "I do not want the money. You must settle it with the Mayor." "But there is no need of that. I can take it you. It has been done with other officers, and you can do it."

"No, you must go to the Mayor's office." "Here," said Ward, "I will give you $5000. I do not want to go to the Mayor's office; I have enemies there."

The officer arrested him, notwithstanding his protestations and offers. He was brought before the Mayor, expresses a determination to follow up these men until they are driven out of the business.

The plan of stationing officers is not temporary, but will be kept up as long as there is a bogus office to be found. The men will be relieved every six hours; and their places will be watched night and day.

THE DARK HOUR BEFORE THE DAWNING. From Chamber's Journal. She roves her baby to and fro, Crying aloud in anguish wild.

For while she speaks, her arms enfold The baby with a still tighter clasp. "I cannot bear that deader word! God of mercy take my child!"
