The Woman for a Wife.

I suppose that in every young man's mind there exists the hope and the expectation of marriage. When a young man pretends to marriage. When a young man pretends to MALL OFFICE. me that he has no wish to marry, and that he never expects to marry, I always infer one of two things: that he lies and is really anxious for marriage, or that his heart has been pol lated by association with unworthy women In a thousand cases we shall no: find three exceptions to this rule. A young man who, with any degree of earnestness declares that he intends never to marry, confesses a brufal na ture or perverted morals.

But how shall a good wife be won? I know that men naturally shrink from the attempt to obtain companions that are their superiors; but they will find that really intelligent women, who possess the most desirable qualities, are uniformly modest, and hold their charms in modest estimation. What such women most admire in men is gallantry; not the gallantry of courts and fops, but boldness, courage, devotion, decision, and refined civility. A man's bearing wins ten superior women where his boots win one. If a man stand before a wo man with respect for himself and fearlessness of her, his suit is half won. The rest may State Board of agriculture, and to withhold all safely be left to the parties most interested. Therefore never be afraid of a woman. Wo men are the most harmless and agreeable creatures in the world, to a man who shows that he has got a man's soul in him. If you have not got the spirit in you to come up to a test like this, you have not got that in you which must pleases a high-souled woman, and you will be obliged to content yourself with the simple girl who in a quiet way, is endeavoring to attract and fasten you.

But be not in a hurry about the matter:-Don't get into a feverish longing for marriage. It isn't creditable to you. Especially don't imagine that any disappointment in love which takes place before you are twenty one years old will be of any material damage to you The truth is, that before a man is twenty five years old he does not know what he wants himself. So don't be in a hurry. The more of a man you become, and the more manliness you become capable of exhibiting in your association with women the better . wife you will be able to obtain; and one year's possession of the heart and hand of a really noble spec imen of her sex, is worth nine hundred and ninety nine years' possession of a sweet creature with two ideas in her head, and nothing about either of them. Bette fifty years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay. So don't be in a hurry, I say again. You don't want a wife now. You'll want one by and by. Go into female society if you can find that which will improve you, but not otherwise You can spend your time better. Seek the cassible to you than the other, and it is through that mostly that you will find your way to good female society.

If any are disposed to complain of the in justice to women of advice like this, and be lieve that it involves a wrong to her, I reply that not the slightest wrong is intended. Thorough appreciation of a good woman, on the part of a young man, is one of his strongest recommendations to her favor. The desire of such a man to possess and associate his life with such a woman, gives evidence of qualities.

aptitudes, and capacities which entitle him to any woman's consideration and respect. There is something good in him; and bowever uncultivated he may be-however rude in man ner and rough in person-he only needs development to become worthy of her, in some respects, at least. I shall not quarrel with a woman who desires a husband superior to herself, for I know it will be well for her to ob tain such an one, if she will be stimulated by contact with a higher mind to a brighter and the elder of the church refusing to officiate. broader development. At the same time. I must believe that to marry his inferior, is to call upon himself a great misfortune; to de prive him elf of one of the most elevating and refining influences which can possibly affect him. I therefore believe it to be the true policy of every young man to aim high in his choice of a companion. I have previ that and this conspire to establish the sound ness of my counsel. One thing more; not the least important, but the last in this letter. No woman without piety in her heart is fit to be the companion of any man. You may get, in your wife, beauty amiability, sprightliness, wit, accomplishments. wealth, and learning, but if that wife have no higher love than herself she is a poor creature. She cannot elevate you above means, aims and objects, she cannot bear with pa-tience your petulance induced by the toils and vexations of business, and she never will be ously given a reason for this policy, and both

safe against the seductive temptations of gaiety and dress. Then again, a man who has the prayers of a pious wife, and knows that he has them -upheld by heaven, or by a refined sense of ob ligation and a profound gratitude-ean rarely become a very bad man. A daily prayer from the pure heart of a pure and pious wife for a husband engrossed in the pursuit o wealth or fame, is a chain of golden words that link his name every day with the name of God. He may snap three hundred and sixty five times in a year for many years, but the chances are that in time he will gather the sundered filaments and seek to re unite them in an everlasting bond .- [Timothy Titcomb. We find in the Bangor Times an account o a murder in Bucksport on Saturday last of which rum was the cause. It seems that some young men had been out on a sleigh ride and had partaken quite freely of ardent, spirits; upon their return to the village a quarrel occurred between them in which Zelotes Crocker was stabbed twice in the neck and immediately expired. The victim of this drunken quarrel was a son of Ebenezer Crocker, of Bucksport, and aside from an occasional over indulgence in intoxicating drink, stood very well in the community. He was but 22 years old.

THAT JOKE !- It passed about in our legislature as a good joke upon the Board of Agriculture, that in appointing their several committees, they made it the duty of one " to consider that part of the Governor's message relating to agriculture"-when examination tured four rebel gunboats and burnt several revealed the fact that the Governor entirely others. My Dear Doctor:—I write this to inform you of the wonderful effect of your Sugar Coated Pills on my ldest daughter. For three years she has been affected with a billious derangement of the system, sadly impaired her health, which has been stendily failing during that period. When in New York, in April last, a friend advised, me to test your pills, Having the fullest confidence in the judgment of my friend. I obtain fi a supply of Messrs. Barnes & Park, Druggists, Park Row, New York. On returning home, we ceased all other treatment, and administered your Pills, one each night. The improvements in herfeelings, complexion, digestion, etc., surprised us all. A rapid and permanent restoration to health has been the result. We used less than five boxes, and consider her entirely well. I consider the above a just tribute to you as a Physician, and trust it will be the means of Inducing many to adopt your Pills as their family medicine.

I remain, dear sir, with many thanks.
