Aside from the itinerary, the thing to look for in a world cruise is a ship of plenty. A ship with the facilities, diversions and surprises that will keep a smile on your face throughout a voyage of world proportions. In this, the Queen has no equal.

With her 13 stories and 67,000 tons, this is the premiere world cruise ship. Built expressly for the comfort of ocean cruising, not merely island hopping.

There are four restaurants, six bars, two ballrooms, two nightclubs, four swimming pools, a gymnasium, jogging track, spa, cinema, casino, boutiques, library, hospital and more.

A world of new friends.

A QE2 world cruise never fails to attract an international passenger list, with a delightful cross-section of people from the business, professional and art worlds.

These are the kind of people who enjoy travel. Who love new adventures. And who are a sheer delight in any social situation.

From past experience, we know that friendships are made that endure for a lifetime—not merely to the end of the cruise.

People, be they singles or couples, sometimes hesitate to travel for fear of being, well...left out.

The Queen would like to dispel those fears right now.

QE2 sails with the largest social staff of any ship in the world, and a member of that staff is personally assigned to cover each
