Chapter II. Choosing a Site

1. Colby Archives. Original Records of the Trustees, Vol. 1. This and all following quotations attributed to votes of the Trustees are from one or another of the several volumes of records kept by successive secretaries of the Board, unless an individual reference is otherwise identified.
2. Although this vote was never specifically repealed, it was abrogated by later actions and precedents. In fact, within six months of its enactment, the Trustees themselves either violated or waived it when they elected the non-Baptist, William King, to the Board.

Chapter III. Pangs of Birth

1. The term "officers" was frequently used to mean president and professors.
2. Tuition at Bowdoin in 1818 was $6.67 per term (three terms a year). The Waterville trustees later decided to charge only four dollars per term.
3. The college records give no indication why this chair was at different times designated Divinity, Theology, and Sacred Theology.
4. The original deed of this lot, signed by Robert Hallowell Gardiner and his wife, was found in 1958 by this historian, and is now in the Colby Archives.

Chapter IV. Jeremiah the Prophet

1. Mittie M. Chaplin, Elder Asa Chaplin, p. 46
2. Ibid., p. 47
3. Ibid., p. 47
4. For this and other information about Chaplin we are indebted to the editor of Sprague's Annals of the American Pulpit. In Volume VI, page 462, is published a letter written in 1853, at the editor's request, by Chaplin's son-in-law and colleague on the faculty of Waterville College, Thomas J. Conant. Also included is a letter written in 1850 by James Brooks of Washington, D.C., who was a student at the college when Chaplin was President.
6. The longboat is not to be confused with the bateau, a much smaller boat, pointed at both ends. It was bateaux, not longboats, that Col. Colburn built at Pittston for Arnold's Expedition in 1775.
7. In 1754 Governor Shirley had ordered a road opened from Fort Western in Augusta to Fort Halifax in Winslow, but that road was little more than a blazed trail and could not accommodate wheeled vehicles. In 1763 it was improved to permit passage of carriages. By 1780 it had become possible for carriages to go also over a road up the west side of the river through Sidney. By 1818, when Chaplin came to Waterville, carriage travel was common over both routes; but many travelers, like the Chaplins, found it more comfortable to journey by longboat than to endure the jolting over the primitive road.

Chapter V. A Modest Start

1. The petition for four townships of land and $3000 a year was rejected by the Massachusetts Legislature largely because of objections raised by General Richardson.
2. The three institutions (the only ones established in Massachusetts preceding the charter to M.L.& T.1), were Harvard, Williams and Bowdoin.
3. These three local trustees had become key men in the development of the Institution. It is noteworthy that all three were laymen, and only one (Redington) was a Baptist.

4. Letter in the Colby Archives.
5. The Latin Grammar School in Waterville, started by Chaplin to prepare students for the college course, for which the admission standards were immediately set higher than for the theological course, later became Waterville Academy and still later Coburn Classical Institute.
6. Elijah Foster, who was a tutor in the College for one year at the same time as Boardman's classmate, Ephraim Tripp, entered the ministry in 1825 at the age of 35.
7. Joel Hayford was pastor at Johnson, Vermont, when he died in 1831, only 32 years old. Calvin Holton was Colby's first missionary to Africa. Only a few months after his arrival in Liberia in 1826, he died of tropical fever at the age of 29.
8. All four received their degrees in 1825. John Hovey had a long career as a teacher in Michigan. Alonzo King, a Massachusetts pastor who died before he was forty, was author of Memoir of George Dana Boardman. Francis Macomber, another Massachusetts minister, also died young at the age of 29. Thomas Ward Merrill, teacher and home missionary, gained fame as the founder of Kalamazoo College. Longest lived of the four, he died in Michigan at the age of 76.
9. All three of these men graduated in the Class of 1827. Harvey Dodge had successful pastorates in New York and Ohio. Enoch Freeman, when a pastor in Lowell, published a volume of hymns. Timothy Ropes had a long life as pastor in Minnesota.
10. In spite of Professor Briggs' doubts, William Rowen completed the theological course with Silas Kenney in 1824. Ezra Going finished it in 1825.
11. Letter in the Colby Archives.

3. This report is in the Colby Archives.
4. Until 1958 it was thought that no original records of the workshop remained. Then there suddenly turned up a badly disintegrated account book, with only a few of its pages still legible. It appears to be an account of each student's time and earnings in the shop at some period in the 1830's. It contains two references to Benjamin F. Butler.

10. The United Brethren was one of several societies founded during the early years of the College. The first was a religious organization in 1820, called the Philanthropic Society. Its name was later changed to United Brethren, and still later to the Boardman Missionary Society. The first organized group which was not definitely religious in character was the Literary Fraternity, founded in 1824.

3. Graduates of the early 1900's know that the bell was then in a tower of South College, with the rope descending into a room in the A.T.O. House. They will naturally ask for an explanation of this passage. It lies in the fact that the weight of the tower of Recitation Hall endangered the walls, so that the bell was removed to South College.

Chapter XIX. Redoutable Quintet
1. The General Catalogue should not be confused with the Annual Catalogue. The former contained information about all persons, living and deceased, who had ever attended the college, whether graduates or not. Originally it was published every three years and was called the Triennial Catalogue. It appeared as General Catalogue in 1887, again in 1909, and finally in 1920. With no new edition for forty years, there existed in 1960 a strongly felt need for a new edition.

Chapter XXVII. Unlucky President
1. The annual burlesque publication that had originated in "False Orders," was called War Cry in the 1890's and was issued by each sophomore class for nearly thirty years, but occasionally under a different name.
2. Letter from Karl Kennison to E. C. Marriner, August 27, 1957
3. Letter from Carl Bryant to E. C. Marriner, July 31, 1957

Chapter XXVIII. Honeymoon Years
1. All four of these men were graduates of the College. Wilfred N. Donovan, 1892, was then assistant professor of Old Testament at Newton. Woodman Bradbury, then pastor of the First Baptist Church at Cambridge, Mass., later became professor of homiletics at Newton. Shailer Mathews, 1884, who until 1894 had been professor of history at Colby, was at this time professor of theology at the University of Chicago, where he later became Dean of the Divinity School. Charles Francis Meserve, 1877, had been since 1894 president of Shaw University at Raleigh, N. C.

3. Ibid., p. 6
4. Ibid., April, 1938, p. 3
5. Ibid., October, 1939, p. 5
6. The buildings were as yet mere shells of masonry. No interior construction had been completed until the Government permitted completion of certain of the women's buildings in order that a unit of the Army Air Force might occupy Foss Hall on College Avenue. All other completion had to await the end of the war.

Chapter XLI. The Early Societies

1. A documented account of Emerson's visit was published in Zion's Advocate, January 5, 1894. It was written by Arthur J. Roberts, Class of 1890, then a young instructor at Colby, who became President in 1908. Roberts' principal sources for the article were conversations with four Waterville residents who had heard Emerson deliver the address; Recollections of Eminent Men, by Edwin Percy Whipple (Boston, 1887); Ralph Waldo Emerson, by Oliver Wendell Holmes; and three of Emerson's own works: his published journal, Nature, Addresses, and Letters (Boston, 1890), and Lectures and Biographical Sketches (Boston, 1884).
2. E. P. Whipple, Recollections of Eminent Men, p. 238
3. Zion's Advocate, August 15, 1841
4. Waterville Mail, August 16, 1863
5. In 1848 the Waterville Baptist Church had a high, raised pulpit, much like that in Old South Church, Boston. The Waterville pulpit is said to have been so high the minister's head was on a level with the listeners who sat in the first row of the balcony.

Original Petition for a Baptist Seminary in Maine, 1812
(Massachusetts Archives, House 7209)

To the Honorable Senate and the Honorable House of Representatives in General Court Assembled:

Your petitioners humbly show that, whereas the encouragement of arts and sciences and all good literature tends to the honor of God, the advantage of the Christian religion, and the great benefit of this and the other United States of America; and whereas wisdom and knowledge, as well as virtue, diffused generally among the body of the people, being necessary for their rights and liberties; and as these depend on spreading the opportunities and advantages of education in the various parts of the country and among the different orders of the people; we believe it to be, as the Constitution of our State says it shall be, the duties of legislatures and magistrates in all future periods of this Commonwealth, to cherish the interests of literature and sciences, and all seminaries of them, and encourage public institutions.

Your petitioners beg leave further to show that, whereas Harvard College in Cambridge, as well as the other colleges and seminaries in this State, have been liberally endowed, either by the appropriation of public lands or otherwise by grants of the General Court, and have been committed to the more particular direction and management of that specific part of the community denominated Congregationalists; and whereas we have sustained a part, and not an inconsiderable part of those appropriations without having any particular share in the oversight and direction of such appropriations ever assigned; by authority of that part of the community denominated Baptists we therefore consider and are firmly persuaded that the General Court would do no injustice to any section of the Commonwealth, but would render more equal justice to the different sections and largely promote the best good of the State generally by kindly receiving and favorably answering the petition to which we solicit the attention of your honorable body.

Your petitioners also beg leave to show further that there are, belonging to the regular Baptist churches, at least between six and seven thousand members in the District of Maine, and large congregations generally united with the churches on the same sentiment, so that the Baptists are, undoubtedly, more numerous in this district than any other denomination, if not than all others.

Notwithstanding our numbers are so large and daily increasing, yet we have no seminary over which we have any control. It is our judgment that it would be for the furtherance of the gospel and the general good that a seminary should be founded in which some of our religious young men might be educated under the particular inspection of able men of the same sentiments. God having put into our hearts a strong desire that such an event might be amicably and speedily accomplished, your petitioners humbly pray your honorable body to take their request into your wise and benevolent consideration and grant them, for the furtherance of their object, a tract of good land and cause it to be located as nighly in the center of the district and as conveniently situated, as in your wisdom you may find convenient. For it is contemplated, should it be deemed advisable by the Trustees, that the seminary be on the very tract which your honorable body may see fit to grant for its encouragement.

Your petitioners further pray that your honorable body will cause the Overseers and Trustees of the proposed seminary to be appointed from among the ministers and churches of their own denomination with the powers and privileges which in such cases are by law made and provided, and as in duty bound will ever pray.

as in this act is hereafter directed, be and hereby are erected a body politic and corporate by the name of the President, Fellows and Trustees of the Maine Literary and Theological College, and that they and their successors and such others as shall be duly elected members of the said corporation shall be and remain a body politic and corporate by that name forever.

Section 3. And be it further enacted that the Trustees aforesaid be hereby empowered to elect nine persons of education to be Fellows of the said Institution and who shall be stiled the learned faculty whose duty it shall be to determine the qualifications of all candidates for degrees, which shall be given only by their authority.

Section 4. And be it further enacted that for the more orderly conducting the business of the said Corporation the President, Fellows and Trustees shall have full power and authority, from time to time, as they shall determine, to elect a Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary of said Corporation; and to declare the tenure and duties of their respective offices, and also to remove any Trustee or Fellow from said Corporation, when in their judgment he shall be rendered incapable, by age or otherwise, of discharging the duties of his office, and to fill all the vacancies in said corporation by electing such persons for Fellows or Trustees as they shall judge best. Provided nevertheless, that the number of the said Corporation, including the President and the Treasurer for the time being, shall never be greater than thirty-one nor less than twenty-one.

Section 5. And be it further enacted that the said Corporation may have a common seal, which they may change, break or renew at their pleasure; and that all deeds signed and delivered by the Treasurer and sealed with their seal by order of the Corporation shall, when made in their corporate name, be considered in law as the deed of the said Corporation. And that the said Corporation may be sued and sue, in all actions real, personal and mixed, and may prosecute and defend the same to final judgment and execution, by the name of the President and Corporation of the Maine Literary and Theological College. And that the said Corporation shall be capable of having, holding, and taking in fee simple, or any less estate, by gift, grant, devise, or otherwise, any lands, tenements, or other estate real or personal. Provided nevertheless, that the annual clear income of the same shall not exceed the sum of thirty thousand dollars.

Section 6. And be it further enacted that the said corporation shall have full power and authority to determine at what times and places their meetings shall be held, and on the manner of notifying the Trustees and Fellows to convene at such meetings. And also from time to time to elect a President and Treasurer of the said College, and such Professors, Tutors, Instructors and other officers as they shall judge most for the interest thereof, and to determine the duties, salaries, emoluments and tenures of their several offices. The said President, for the time being, when elected and inducted into his office, to be ex-officio, the President of the said Corporation. And the said Corporation are further empowered to purchase or erect, and keep in repair, such houses and other buildings as they shall judge necessary for the said College; and also to make and ordain, as occasion may require, reasonable rules, orders and by-laws, not repugnant to the laws of this Commonwealth, with reasonable penalties for the government of the said College, and also to determine and prescribe the mode of ascertaining the qualifications of the students requisite to their admission. Provided nevertheless than no corporate business shall be transacted at any meeting unless thirteen at least of the Corporation are present.

Section 7. And be it further enacted that the President, Professors and Fellows of the said College are hereby empowered to confer such degrees as are usually conferred by universities for the education of youth. Provided nevertheless, that the said Board shall confer no degrees other than the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts until after the first day of January, 1820.

Section 8. And be it further enacted that the clear rents, issues and profits of all the estate, real and personal, of which the said Corporation shall be seized or possessed, shall be appropriated to the endowment of the said College in such manner as most effectually shall promote virtue and piety, and the knowledge of such languages and liberal arts and sciences as shall hereafter be directed from time to time by the Corporation.

Section 9. And be it further enacted that the Hon. John Woodman Esquire be and is hereby authorized and empowered to fix the time and place for holding the first meeting of the said Corporation, of which he shall give notice, by an advertisement in a Portland and one other eastern newspaper, at least fourteen days previous to the time of said meeting.

Section 10. And be it further enacted that the Treasurer of said Corporation shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, give bonds to the said Corporation in such sums and with such sureties as they shall approve of, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the said office, and for rendering a just and true account of his doings therein, when required. And that all the monies, securities and other property of the said Corporation, together with all books in which his accounts and proceedings as Treasurer were entered and kept, that shall be in his hands at the expiration of his office, shall, upon demand made upon him, his executors or administrators, be paid and delivered over to his successor in that office; and all monies recovered by virtue of any suit at law, upon such bond, shall be paid over to the Corporation and subjected to the appropriation above directed in the Act.

Section 11. And be it further enacted that the said Corporation shall be holden to render an account to the Legislature whenever they shall see fit to require it, of all their proceedings and the manner of disposing of the funds of said College.

Section 12. And be it further enacted that there be and hereby is granted a tract of land, twelve miles square, or four townships either separate or adjoining each other of the contents of six miles square each, either the one or the other as the Corporation of the said College may judge to be most conducive to the prosperity and interest of the same, to be laid out and assigned from any of the unappropriated land belonging to this Commonwealth in the District of Maine, under the same restrictions, reservations and limitations as other grants for similar purposes are usually made; the same to be vested in the Corporation of the said College and their successors forever, for the use and benefit of supporting said College, to be by them holden in their corporate capacity, with full power and authority to settle, divide, and manage the same tract of land or townships, or any part thereof, or to sell, convey or dispose of the same for settlement only, and to no one person a larger quantity than one thousand acres, in such way and manner as shall best promote the welfare of the said College, the same to be laid out under the direction of the Committee for the Sale of the Eastern Lands, and a plan or plans thereof returned into the Secretary's office.

Provided nevertheless, that no corporate business shall be transacted at any meeting unless thirteen at least of the Corporation are present.

Section 6. Be it further enacted that the clear rents, issues and profits of all the estate, real and personal, of which the said Corporation shall be seized or possessed, shall be appropriated to the endowment of said Institution, in such manner as shall most effectually promote virtue and piety, and a knowledge of such of the languages, and of the liberal arts and sciences, as shall hereafter be directed by the said Corporation.

Section 7. Be it further enacted that the Hon. John Woodman, Esq. be and is hereby authorized and empowered to fix the time and place for holding the first meeting of the said Corporation, of which he shall give notice by an advertisement in a Portland and one other eastern newspaper at least fourteen days previous to the time of said meeting.

Section 8. Be it further enacted that the Treasurer of said Corporation shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, give bonds to the said Corporation, in such sums and with such sureties as they shall approve of, conditioned for the faithful discharge of said office, and for rendering a just and true account of his doings therein, when required; and that all the money, securities and other property of said Corporation, together with the books in which his accounts and proceedings as Treasurer were entered and kept, that shall be in his hands at the expiration of his office, shall, upon demand made upon him, his executors or administrators, be paid and delivered over to his successor in that office, and all monies received by virtue of any suit at law, upon such bond, shall be paid over to the Corporation aforesaid and subjected to the appropriation above directed in the Act.

Section 9. Be it further enacted that the Legislature of this Commonwealth may grant any further powers to, or alter, limit, annul or restrain any of the powers by this act vested in the said Corporation, as shall be judged necessary to promote the best interests of the said Institution; and the said Corporation shall be holden to render to the Legislature, whenever they shall see fit to require it, an account of all their proceedings and the manner of disposing of the funds of said Institution.

Section 10. Be it further enacted that there may be and hereby is granted a township of land six miles square, to be laid out and assigned from any of the unappropriated lands belonging to this Commonwealth in the District of Maine, under the same restrictions, reservations and limitations as other grants for similar purposes are now usually made; the same to be vested in the Corporation of the Institution and their successors forever, for the use, benefit and purpose of supporting said Institution, to be by them holden in their corporate capacity, with full power and authority to settle, divide and manage the same tract of land or township, or any part thereof, or to sell, convey or dispose of the same, for settlement only, and to sell to no one person a larger quantity than one thousand acres, in such way and manner as shall best promote the welfare of said Institution; the same to be laid out under the direction of the Committee for the Sale of the Eastern Lands, and a plan thereof returned to the Secretary's office within three years after the expiration of the present war with Great Britain.

Appendix E.

Original Grant of Land

Instrument signed by William Smith, Agent for the Eastern Lands of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, June 12, 1815.

Whereas, by a resolve of the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, passed February 15, 1815, the Agent for the Sale of the Eastern Lands was authorized to give a deed of Township Number Three on the west side of the Penobscot River, purchased of the Indians, to the Trustees of the Maine Literary and Theological Institution, with the reservation of 2600 acres for purposes therein mentioned, and also with the usual reservation and restriction made in other grants for similar purposes;

Now therefore I do, in behalf of the said Commonwealth, assign, relinquish and quit-claim to the Trustees of the Maine Literary and Theological Institution all right, title and interest of Said Commonwealth in a township of land Number Three on the west side of the Penobscot River, being one of the townships purchased from the Penobscot tribe of Indians, containing 29,164 acres, as the same was surveyed by Park Holland, Jonathan Maynard and John Chamberlain, by direction of Salem Town in the year 1797, bounded as follows: east by the Penobscot River, south by Township Number Four, west by Township Number One of the fourth and fifth ranges of townships north of the Waldo Patent, north by Township Number One in the first and second ranges of the townships purchased from the Indians—reserving, however, 2600 acres laid out or to be laid out in lots of 100 acres each, on a road to be made through the said township agreeable to a contract entered into by the undersigned agent with John Bennock, which lots are reserved for the purpose of defraying the expense of making said road. Further conditioned that the said Trustees and their successors shall lay out and convey to each settler who settled said tract before January 1, 1784, or to his heirs or assigns, one hundred acres each in fee simple, and so laid out as best to include the settler’s improvements and to be least injurious to the adjoining lands; and they shall also lay out four lots of 320 acres each for the following uses: one lot for the use of the ministry; one for the first settled minister; one for the use of schools; and one for the future disposition of the General Court; and they shall also settle in said township twenty families in six years from the date hereof, including those now settled thereon.

Under the above conditions the Trustees of the Maine Literary and Theological Institution shall have and hold the aforegranted premises forever, for the use, benefit and purpose of supporting said Institution, and to be by them holden in their corporate capacity in full consideration for the grant made by an act passed February 27, 1813.

Amendment of Charter re Location of Institution

Laws of Massachusetts, 1816-1818, Chapter VIII.

An act in addition to an act, entitled “An Act to Establish a Literary Institution in the District of Maine within this Commonwealth.”

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the Maine Literary and Theological Institution be, and they hereby are authorized and empowered to locate and establish their buildings in any town within the counties of Kennebec or Somerset, anything contained in the first section of an act entitled "An act to establish a Literary Institution in the District of Maine within this Commonwealth" to the contrary notwithstanding. (Approved by the Governor, June 15, 1816)

Appendix G.

DEED OF THE LOT IN WATERVILLE ON WHICH THE COLLEGE WAS ORIGINALLY BUILT.

Know all men by these presents, that I, Robert Hallowell Gardiner of Gardiner, in the County of Kennebec, Esquire, in consideration of $1797.50, paid by the President and Corporation of the Maine Literary and Theological Institution, the receipt whereof I do hereby acknowledge, do hereby give, grant, sell and convey to the said President and Corporation, their successors and assigns, a certain tract of land, situate in Waterville in the said county, being Lot Number Ten, and bounded easterly by the Kennebec River, westerly by the mile-and-a-half stream, northerly by Lot Number Eleven, and southerly by Lot Number Nine, containing about one hundred and seventy-nine acres and three-fourths of an acre—excepting any roads through the same—being part of fifteen mile Lot B One, as delineated upon the plan of division made for the heirs of Benjamin Hallowell, Esq. by Samuel Adams and Lemuel Pelham Esquires, and dated reference thereto being had for a more particular description; to have and to hold the aforegranted premises to the said President and Corporation, their successors and assigns, to their use and behoof forever. And I do covenant with the said President and Corporation, their successors and assigns, that the aforegranted premises are free of all incumbrances by me made; that I have good right to sell and convey the same to the said President and Corporation, against the lawful claims and demands of all persons; excepting, however, from my said covenant of warranty any claim or title commencing by disseisin, or by virtue of a possession or improvement, or from sales for non-payment of taxes.

In witness whereof, I, the said Robert Hallowell Gardiner, and I, Jane the wife of the said Robert, in token of my relinquishment of my right of dower in the premises, have hereunto set our hands and seals this twenty-ninth day of July in the Year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighteen.

LETTER FROM MRS. JEREMIAH CHAPLIN TO A FRIEND IN DANVERS, MASSACHUSETTS.

Started aboard the Sloop Hero on June 20, 1818, and continued after her arrival in Waterville.

My dear Friend:
Not knowing but we might speak with some vessel bound for Salem, I avail myself of the present opportunity of acquainting you with our situation. We are more comfortably accommodated than might be supposed in such a small vessel. We have prayers on board morning and evening and find it quite pleasant employment to engage in singing psalms, hymns and spiritual songs.

We are now about half a mile from Marblehead, so you see although we move we do not progress on our way eastward. I am not, however, anxious about it, knowing that He who holds the winds in His fists and the waters in the hollow of His hand knows how to manage them and does all things well.

10:00 o'clock. The breeze freshens. We are now going farther from our dear Danvers friends, but we are neither of us farther from our Covenant God. The sea is His and His hand formed the dry land. Whether we are in the most pleasant part of America or the cold region of Greenland, or whether we dwell in India's sultry climes, the Lord is near.

4:00 afternoon, off Cape Ann. All very comfortable. We have now a view of Agamenticus in old York.

One of the monsters of the deep, a whale, has just elevated himself above the surface of his liquid abode and shown himself, although at a distance of three or four miles, but the great whale and sea serpents with all their terrific associates which inhabit the mighty deep are subjects of Him who made them and will prove harmless as doves if their almighty Maker commands them.

It is to me a consolation that I have every reason to believe that to do good is the greatest of the objects Mr. Chaplin has in view in moving to Waterville. What the event will be we know not, but a reflection that the desire to be useful governed our conduct will support us amidst unkind reflections or adverse scenes.

Sabbath morning, 10:00 o'clock. We have just entered the Kennebec river. Have left the salt water to sail on the fresh. Our vessel is no more tossed with boisterous waves, but is calm and unruffled. It is also very convenient to the mariner, as he may quench his thirst with pure water and cool, as often as he wishes.

It has been really pleasant as we sailed up the river to observe now and then a meetinghouse. We saw a decent looking one at Phippsburg situated on rising grounds. I wondered where the people could come from to attend it, but soon saw some on horseback and some on foot ascending the hill. It is delightful sailing on this river this season of the year. In a few minutes we could reach the shore on either side, which is settled all the way and which is beautifully shaded by trees. Many of the houses are good, some of them handsome, and chief of them bespeak the industry and neatness of the owners.

Many of our western friends entertain erroneous opinions about this part of the country. It seems very pleasant in many places and handsomely settled.
After we left Bath we set sail for Gardiner, but the wind lost its breath, anchor was cast, and we stopped seven miles the other side. The heat was so oppressive, the vessel so small, and the children so uneasy, it was thought not expedient to have public worship until the cool of the day. We drank tea early, then took the boat and went on shore. The right hand side was in the town of Dresden and the left hand side the town of Bowdoinham. It was on the latter we landed. The meeting was opened and closed by prayer. Mr. Chaplin and Mr. Dilway spoke from Psalm 107. Our congregation was small. It consisted of Mr. Chaplin, myself and children, and those who accompanied, and the mate of the vessel, but we trust there were enough to claim the gracious presence of our blessed Savior.

In the afternoon of Monday we set sail about 4:00 o'clock and arrived in Gardiner, where we stayed all night. It is a pretty place where considerable business is transacted. In the morning we sailed for Augusta. At 10:00 o'clock we passed by Hallowell, which as we passed formed a very handsome appearance. At 11:00 o'clock our vessel struck aground, which prevented our going so near to Augusta as we had intended. Mr. Chaplin and the young men went on shore and walked to the town. Mr. Chaplin called upon Squire Hovey, who had previously given an invitation to visit him. The family were so kind as to send for the rest of us, who accordingly stepped into a boat and went to the landing place, where a chaise was in readiness to take us to the house. We were kindly received and hospitably entertained that day and night and part of the next day. As there is no Baptist church in Augusta, Mr. Hovey, wife and daughter, belong to the church in Hallowell, which is as yet in an infant state and consists of few members.

Wednesday afternoon about 2:00 o'clock we left the place and took one of those long boats which are much used in the Kennebec river and which, being made with a booth at one end, are very convenient for the transportation of families as well as goods. We thought it would be more pleasant and less fatiguing than to go in a carriage. Part of the time we could easily have stepped from the boat to the shore, the distance was so small, which the brethren did several times and walked some way. Sometimes, when the wind was unfavorable, it was found necessary to go to shore and procure oxen who, standing on the water's edge with a rope fastened to them and to the boat, must assist its motion. We went along with their assistance, but as the wind was several times faint and weak, the men took the rope and helped us along. Night beginning to draw the curtain of darkness around us, when we were three or four miles from Waterville, it was thought best not to proceed until the light of another day dawned upon us. Accordingly a young man went before us to procure us a lodging. The family where we stayed seemed pleased to have family prayers and singing, and regretted that they could not accommodate us better. Early on Thursday morning we again set out. A boat with two men and two women in it was quite near us for a considerable time. Once their boat was so near ours that one of the women offered us a pinch of snuff. I told them if they had come rather sooner I would have invited them to take breakfast with us, but we had just finished our morning repast. I inquired if they lived at Waterville. She replied they lived at Winslow on the opposite side of the river. At Winslow is a meetinghouse, very pleasantly situated, by which we passed, but which is not supplied with a minister. I requested them to visit us on the Sabbath and invite their neighbors, as there would be preaching at Waterville, for we meant to have a meeting if Mr. Chaplin should be obliged to follow the example of the apostle who preached in his own hired house.

At 10:00 o'clock we arrived in Waterville. Just before we reached the shore we observed a number of gentlemen coming toward us. We soon found their object was to welcome us to Waterville. I sat in the booth while Mr. Chaplin stepped on shore and was introduced to them. In a few minutes I was informed that a chaise was waiting for me, into which I stepped with Anna and Judson, and in a few minutes a boy drove us to Squire Boutelle's. Mrs. Boutelle met me at the door with as much freedom as though we had been previously acquainted. She and Mrs. Clark, a young woman who boards with her, were agreeable and very attentive to us. They formerly lived in Exeter. We took dinner with Mr. Partridge, a gentleman in the neighborhood who seems to be truly pious. Teams were immediately provided to carry our goods from the boat to the house. The attention and affection with which we were received, instead of banishing, revived the recollection of dear Danvers friends, from many of whom we received similar kindnesses.

Our house is convenient and very pleasantly located. It is rather retired from the thickest of the village, although neighbors are quite handy. A number have called upon us and seem quite friendly. They do not seem to be such ignorant, uncultivated beings as some have imagined. Many of those whom I have seen appear to be persons of education and polished manners. Nor have we been destitute of Christian company. Quite a number have been to the house, although but a few reside in the village, nor are they destitute of places for public worship. We were so happy as to find that Waterville contained two, though neither of them elegantly or completely furnished. The one in the village is about as large as the one in Danvers. The frame is good and the floor pews finished, but the upper part is yet without pews. Some think they will be finished. Others think after a while another and better one will be built in a more eligible spot and this one taken for some other purpose. This people seem as though they had been as sheep without a shepherd. The man who formerly preached to them and to the people at Winslow is said not to favor experimental religion, and two years ago they agreed to give him $1200 not to preach to them any more. $800 of the money is already paid. They now seem generally pleased with the idea of having preaching constantly, and we hope the desire will continue and increase. Before the Sabbath, a number of gentlemen waited upon Mr. Chaplin and requested him to preach in the meetinghouse. He accordingly did and began his preaching among them by discoursing upon the love of God to sinners, John 3:16. On the second Sabbath more people attended than on the first, and more, it is said, than have been in the house for three years past. Christian friends from a distance of two, four and six miles attended. We have been pleased to observe the attention with which the congregation listened to the several services of the day, and were also gratified to observe the almost perfect stillness in the streets on the Sabbath. Already the Macedonian cry from a number of places has sounded in our ears. Already a number of applications from different places have been made for preaching. Even from China a person has been sent to procure a preacher, and in about three weeks Mr. Chaplin expects to visit the Baptist church in that place and break bread with them. However, it is but twelve miles from us.

July 16. Our hearts have been refreshed this week with a visit from our dear friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bolles. The sight of Christian friends is certainly enlivening. Since they have been here we have visited at Mr. Redington's. The family are very agreeable.

Sabbath Eve. This day we have been privileged with two excellent sermons from Mr. Bolles. The time will assuredly come when Waterville will as assuredly be driven to the Lord for an inheritance as any place over which he reigns.

Today Mr. Chaplin preached at Bloomfield, about twelve miles from the village. Calls for preaching are numerous.

Appendix I.

Address to the Public in Behalf of the Maine Literary and Theological Institution, May 21, 1819.

The Trustees of this Seminary were incorporated by the Legislature during the winter of 1813. At the same time they obtained the grant of a township which they were authorized to select from any of the unappropriated lands of the Commonwealth in the District of Maine. The grant was made on condition that the Seminary should be erected within the limits of the township which the Trustees should select. At their request, however, the Legislature gave them permission to locate it in any part of the counties of Kennebec and Somerset; in consequence of which they finally resolved to establish it at Waterville.

In February, 1818, they made choice of Rev. Jeremiah Chaplin as Professor of Theology, and the Rev. Ira Chase as Professor of the Learned Languages. The latter, however, did not accept his appointment; and the Seminary was opened by the former alone, on the sixth of July following. At a special meeting of the Trustees, holden on the 12th inst., Mr. Alva Woods, a graduate of the University at Cambridge, and a student of the Theological Institution at Andover, was appointed a Tutor.

The design of the Trustees in founding this Seminary is not limited to such students as have the gospel ministry in view, but extends to those who are desirous of engaging in any of the learned professions. It has, accordingly, a literary as well as a theological department. Students who enter the former are required to possess nearly the same literary qualifications, and to pursue in general the same course of studies as those who enter the several colleges in this Commonwealth.

Students who belong to the theological department are arranged in three divisions. The first consists of those who have received a completely classical education. These are to tarry two years and to devote their whole attention to Theology and Sacred Literature. The second division consists of those whose advantages for literary improvement have been small and who do not propose to obtain a completely classical education. These are to tarry for four years, the three first of which they are to devote to the study of the Learned Languages and some other branches of Literature, and the last to Theology. The third division consists of students who, like those of the second, have enjoyed but few advantages of a literary kind, and who propose to read no books but those written in the English language. These are to tarry two years, and are required to devote the first to English Grammar, Common Arithmetic, Rhetoric, Logic, Geography, and English Composition, and the last to Theology.

The Literary Department, it is expected, will be put into operation in September next.

The number of students in the theological department is at present 17. It will probably increase during the coming summer.

The vacations at this Seminary are as follows: the first begins on the third Wednesday in August and continues three weeks; the second on the last Wednesday in December and continues eight weeks; the third on the first Wednesday in May and continues two weeks. The price of tuition is four dollars a quarter. Decent board, exclusive of washing, mending and beds, may be obtained for about one dollar a week; with the addition of these for $1.50. The usual price of wood in winter is $1.50 a cord.

Students are permitted to assist themselves by keeping school during the winter vacation, and may be absent for that purpose four or five additional weeks, provided the instructors deem it necessary.

Having given the foregoing sketch of the origin, progress, design and present state of the Institution, the Trustees solicit the attention of those persons who wish to make a right improvement of the property with which the Lord of heaven and earth has been pleased to bless them.

The local situation of Waterville, the Trustees conceive, recommends it, in no small degree, as a suitable place for the establishment of such a Seminary as that which is here contemplated. It has, or shortly will have, an easy communication, not only with the various parts of New England, but with several of the British Provinces of North America. Besides, the country around it, especially on the north of it, to a very considerable extent, is remarkably fertile, a circumstance that renders it highly probable that this part of Maine, should the blessings of Heaven attend it, will in a few years become very populous, and will of course furnish a very considerable number of students to the Institution. It is important to add that, as the fertility of the soil in this section of the country cannot fail to afford to the inhabitants of Waterville a plentiful supply of the necessities and comforts of life, so it authorizes the expectation that provisions of almost every kind, and consequently board, will be afforded there at as cheap a rate as in any part of New England.

Nor should it be forgotten that the Seminary in behalf of which public patronage is now solicited is especially intended for the instruction of students of divinity. On this account, it will, if handsomely endowed and well conducted, attract the attention of a large number of pious young men who will repair to it for the purpose of obtaining an education, and who, feeling a deep concern for the welfare of those around them, will exert a most salutary influence on each other and on the students generally. It has long been regretted that, at many of the Literary Institutions in this country, a large number of the students are utter strangers to experimental and practical religion. The pious young man who becomes a member of any of those seminaries is placed in circumstances far from favorable to his spiritual progress. This lamentable fact can hardly fail to have weight with such persons as justly appreciate the importance of ardent piety in a gospel minister. And the Trustees feel it ought to influence those to whom this paper may come, especially the inhabitants of Maine, to patronize the Institution at Waterville. All the students in this Seminary, at present, have the gospel ministry in view and are hopefully pious. How much better it must be for a pious youth to receive instruction at a seminary where a large proportion of the students possess a spirit congenial to his own, and feel it to be their duty to exhort, admonish and reprove him, as need may be, than at a seminary where the predominant influence is of a directly contrary tendency.

The benefit here contemplated will not be confined to students of a religious character. It will extend to students of every description. In a seminary where many are truly pious, the rest can hardly fail of being overawed and may be expected to refrain from many vices into which their unhallowed passions would otherwise hurry them. Associating daily with those who pay a sacred regard to the precepts of the gospel, they can hardly fail to impose a restraint on their words and actions. Parents who intend to give their sons a classical education should be excited to patronize an Institution the plan of which is so eminently adapted to promote morality and piety as well as to facilitate the acquisition of useful knowledge.

This Seminary, though under the direction principally of one denomination, is nevertheless open to persons of every religious sect. From the literary department no one will be debarred who maintains a decent moral character. Nor will anyone be debarred from the theological department (to whatever denomination of Christians he may be attached) who is able to exhibit satisfactory evidence of his piety and of possessing gifts adapted to the gospel ministry.

The pressing need of this Institution for pecuniary aid is one of the most weighty of those considerations which have induced the Trustees to address the public on this occasion. They have undertaken to erect two buildings, one for the accommodation of students, the other for the accommodation of instructors. To meet the expenses which the completion of these buildings must necessarily create, they propose to sell a part of the township above mentioned and a part of the lot which they lately purchased in Waterville. From the sale of these lands and from subscriptions pledged but not yet collected they hope to obtain a considerable sum. Subscriptions obtained in Waterville and vicinity amount to about $3000. Of this sum almost $1800 has been expended on the lot. The remaining $1200 is still due to the Trustees. The money thus obtained will be inadequate to complete the buildings. Besides, the Institution is in want of a library and a philosophical apparatus, neither of which can be obtained without the expenditure of a pretty large sum. There is now one instructor, and ere long will be two, for whom support must be found.

In these circumstances the Trustees feel it incumbent upon them to make application for aid to the pious and charitable of every religious persuasion, and they flatter themselves that the application will not be in vain. They cannot but indulge the hope, that while large sums are annually given to Bible societies, to other literary and theological institutions, and to a variety of establishments, the Institution under their care will not be forgotten. The Trustees especially address themselves to those who are distinguished by the possession of large fortunes. They beg leave to remind such that they are but stewards under God, the great proprietor of all things, and are accountable to Him for the use they make of the treasures committed to their care.

But the Trustees do not apply to the opulent only. They extend their solicitations to those whose narrow circumstances will not permit them to do much for pious and charitable purposes. Persons of this description may perhaps excuse themselves from giving, on the ground that what they are able to give is too little to do any good where thousands of dollars are wanted. The reasoning of these people would be correct, did each of them know that he was the only individual from whom money could be obtained. But such persons should consider that they form the most numerous class of people in every country, and that if some thousands of them unite in giving only a few cents each, the aggregate of the whole will be a considerable sum.

It is hoped by the Trustees that the benevolent in the various parts of New England, and in some of the British Provinces, will afford them aid in this important and arduous undertaking. But they will not despair, although they should be disappointed in this expectation. Enough, they conceive, might be raised in the District of Maine to supply the immediate and most pressing needs of the Institution, were such of the inhabitants as are bound both by duty and interest to assist them disposed to do it. This section of the country is supposed to contain about 240,000 souls. Now, admitting that of the whole population a sixth part only are able to give anything, and that of these one half are already pledged for the support of other seminaries, still 20,000 would remain to patronize the one established at Waterville. And should each of them give but fifty cents, the sum of $10,000 would be obtained. This, with what the Trustees have reason to expect from tuition and sale of lands, would probably be sufficient for two years to come. But should the 20,000 above mentioned contribute fifty cents annually, the Trustees would scarcely stand in need of donations from the opulent or of aid from the Legislature. Ten thousand dollars obtained annually would, with the blessing of God, soon raise this Seminary to a respectable rank among the Literary and Theological Institutions of New England.

Special Laws of Maine, 1820-1828, Chapter VIII.

An Act to enlarge the powers of the Maine Literary and Theological Institution, June 19, 1820.

Sect. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled, that the President and Trustees of the Maine Literary and Theological Institution are hereby authorized and empowered to confer such degrees as are usually conferred by universities established for the education of youth; provided that the said Corporation shall confer no degrees other than those of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts until after the first day of January, 1830. And provided also that the said Corporation shall not make or have any rule or by-law requiring that any member of the Trustees shall be of any particular religious denomination. Provided, that no student belonging or who may hereafter belong to said Institution, sustaining a fair moral character, shall be deprived of any privileges of said Institution, or be subject to the forfeiture of any aid which has been granted by said Institution, for the purposes of enabling him to prosecute his studies, or be denied the usual testimonials on closing his studies, or be denied admission to said Institution, on the ground that his interpretation of the scriptures differ from those which are contained in the articles of faith adopted, or to be adopted by said Institution.

Sect. 2. Be it further enacted, by the authority aforesaid, that the Legislature of this State shall have the right to grant any further powers to alter, limit or restrain any of the powers vested in said Corporation, as shall be judged necessary to promote the best interests thereof.

Appendix K.

AN ACT TO CHANGE THE NAME OF THE MAINE LITERARY AND THEOLOGICAL INSTITUTION, FEBRUARY 5, 1821.

Be it enacted by the Senate and the House of Representatives in Legislature Assembled that, from and after the passing of this act, the name of the said Maine Literary and Theological Institution shall cease, and the same shall henceforth be called and known by the name of Waterville College, any act to the contrary notwithstanding; and nothing in this act contained shall be construed to impair or annul any of the rights, powers or privileges of the said Corporation.

Appendix L.

PETITION OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE MAINE LITERARY AND THEOLOGICAL INSTITUTION TO THE LEGISLATURE OF MAINE, MAY 21, 1820.

To the Hon., the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled:
Respectfully represent the Trustees of the Maine Literary and Theological Institution that this Institution was incorporated by an Act of Legislature in 1813, and at the same time was endowed with a grant of a township of land; that in 1818 the Trustees established the Institution in Waterville, and in July of the same year instruction commenced under the direction of the Reverend Jeremiah Chaplin, Professor of Theology; that the Reverend Avery Briggs has since been appointed Professor of Languages and commenced instruction in the summer of 1819; and that the number of students now in the Institution is twenty-two.

They further represent that, since the establishment of the Institution, benefactions of generous individuals have amounted to about seven thousand dollars, by means of which they have been enabled to purchase eligible grounds for the erection of suitable buildings, and to erect and finish a dwelling house and outbuildings for the accommodation of one of the professors, and have the greater part of the materials now collected for a brick edifice 120 feet long, 40 feet wide, and three stories high, to contain 36 rooms for students.

They further represent that it was the original design of the Trustees, whenever their funds and prospects should warrant, to establish a sufficient number of professors and tutors to instruct in all the different branches of science and literature usually taught in our colleges; that in establishing the Institution in Waterville, they believed they thereby attained one important point necessary to its future growth and prosperity; that its situation in the State is central and in the midst of a large agricultural district, not surpassed, if equalled, by any other part of Maine, in consequence of which the price of board now is, and will probably continue to be, not more than two-thirds what it is at the other colleges in New England.

And your petitioners believe that literary institutions should be organized and conducted with a wise regard to the situation and exigencies of our state, and that the true interests of science, as well as of every free state, require that the means of acquiring a liberal education should be made accessible to the middling classes of citizens as well as the more opulent. They therefore pray that the powers given by their charter may be enlarged and that the power of bestowing such degrees as are usually conferred by other colleges may be given to this Institution.

LAWS OF MAINE, 1903, CHAPTER 150. AN ACT TO AMEND THE CHARTER OF THE PRESIDENT AND TRUSTEES OF COLBY COLLEGE, MARCH 11, 1903.

(Authorizing the election of alumni trustees)

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled as follows:

Section 1. That Section 3 of an act entitled "An Act to establish a Literary Institution in the District of Maine, within this Commonwealth," passed by the General Court of Massachusetts and approved February 27, 1813, and from time to time amended, be further amended by inserting after the word "trustees" in the eleventh line thereof the following words: "except as hereinafter provided," and by adding to the end of said section the following words: "And provided also that nine of the trustees shall be elected by the Alumni Association of Colby College, to be known as Alumni Trustees, and to be elected, three each year, for terms of three years, in such manner as said Association may provide, so that said Section 3, as amended, shall read as follows:

"Section 3. Be it further enacted that, for the orderly conducting the business of the said corporation, the President and Trustees shall have full power and authority, from time to time as they shall determine, to elect a vice-president, treasurer and secretary of said corporation, and to declare the tenure and duties of their respective offices, and also to remove any trustee from the said corporation, when in their judgment he shall be rendered incapable by age or otherwise of discharging the duties of his office, and to fill up all vacancies in the said corporation by electing such persons for trustees, except as hereinafter provided, as they shall judge best. Provided, nevertheless that the number of the said corporation, including the President of the said Institution, and the Treasurer for the time being, shall never be greater than thirty-one nor less than twenty-one; and provided also that nine of the Trustees shall be elected by the Alumni Association of Colby College to be known as Alumni Trustees, and to be elected three each year, for terms of three years, in such manner as said Association may provide."
Section 2. The first three of the Trustees herein provided for shall, for their first term, be elected during the year 1904, the second three during the year 1905, and the third three during the year 1906.

Section 3. This act shall take effect when approved.

Appendix R.

LAWS OF MAINE, 1959, S. P. 118. AN ACT AMENDING AND RESTATEING THE CHARTER OF THE PRESIDENT AND TRUSTEES OF COLBY COLLEGE.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. Name. The corporation created by Chapter CXXXI enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and approved by the Governor February 27, 1813, entitled "An Act to establish a Literary Institution in the District of Maine, within this Commonwealth," and known as "The President and Trustees of Colby College," is hereby continued as a body politic and corporate by that name forever.

Sec. 2. Purposes. The purposes and objects of the said corporation shall be to educate persons of all ages, both within and without the State of Maine, and to promote education generally; to compile, present and disseminate knowledge and information through any means of communication; and to establish and maintain in the State of Maine an institution for the purpose of educating youth and others to be called and known by the name of Colby College.

Sec. 3. Powers of the Corporation. Said corporation shall have all powers necessary and proper to carry out the foregoing purposes. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, said corporation shall have the following powers:

I. To have one common seal which it may change, break or renew at its pleasure; and all deeds signed and delivered by any officer or other employee of the corporation and sealed with its seal by order of the corporation shall, when in its corporate name, be considered in law as a deed of the said corporation.

II. To have, hold, and take in fee simple or any less estate, by gift, grant, devise or otherwise, any lands, tenements, or other estates real or personal in an unlimited amount; to act as trustee of real and personal estate; to borrow money and to mortgage and pledge its interest in any property to secure its borrowings; and to purchase, sell, manage, operate, control, and otherwise deal in real and personal property of any name or nature.

III. To sue and be sued in all actions real, personal and mixed, and to prosecute and defend the same to final judgment and execution by the name of the President and Trustees of Colby College.

IV. To determine at what times and places, within or without the State of Maine, the meetings of the corporation shall be held and on the manner of calling and of fixing the time and place and notifying the members to convene at such meetings.

V. To elect or appoint a Chairman of the Board of Trustees, a President, one or more Vice Presidents, a Treasurer, a Secretary, such professors of various grades, tutors, instructors, lecturers, and such other officers or employees as may be necessary to fill such offices and positions as the corporation may from time to time create; to determine the duties, salaries, emoluments, and tenures of such offices and positions; and to remove any person from any such office or position.

VI. To purchase, construct, erect, maintain, operate, repair, demolish or replace such houses, buildings, or other structures, or scientific or other equipment of any nature, as said corporation shall judge desirable or necessary for carrying out the purposes of the corporation.

VII. To make and ordain, as occasion may require, reasonable rules, orders and by-laws, not repugnant to the laws of this State, with reasonable penalties, for the good government of said corporation or said institution, and to determine and prescribe the mode of ascertaining the qualifications of students requisite to their admission.

VIII. To carry on research and experimentation in any and all fields of knowledge.

IX. To confer such degrees as are usually conferred by universities, col-eges, or other institutions of learning, including honorary degrees, and to issue or confer such other diplomas, certificates, or evidences of progress or accomplishment in any field of education as the said corporation may see fit.

X. To receive and hold bequests, gifts and endowments and to invest and reinvest the same and to create and carry out annuity contracts or other arrangements or agreements for the payment of sums of money to or for the support of the donor or other persons in connection with any gift or endowment to be received by the corporation, and all moneys held by the corporation in all forms of securities or real or personal property, and the net income from such investments shall be used for the furtherance of the purposes of the corporation.

XI. To delegate to any officer, committee, or other person or persons connected with the corporation any of the foregoing powers except the election or removal of Trustees, the President, Vice Presidents, Secretary or Treasurer, the making or amending of by-laws or such powers as the by-laws shall place exclusively in the hands of the corporation.

Sec. 4. Members. The members of the said corporation shall consist of the Trustees and the President, for the time being in office, as a member ex officio, but no other officer shall be an ex officio member unless so designated by the by-laws; provided nevertheless that the number of Trustees, exclusive of any ex officio member, shall never be greater than thirty-one nor less than twenty-one.
The said corporation shall have full power and authority, from time to time as it shall determine, to remove any trustee when in its judgment he shall be rendered incapable by age or otherwise of discharging the duties of his office; to fill all vacancies in the said corporation by electing such persons for such terms, except as otherwise provided, as it shall judge best; provided nevertheless that the Colby College Alumni Association shall be entitled to elect not less than six nor more than nine of said trustees in such manner, with such conditions of eligibility, and for such terms not exceeding six years as said Association may determine.

Sec. 5. Restrictions. The corporation shall not make or have any rule or by-law requiring that any member of the Trustees shall be of any particular religious denomination. No student belonging or who may hereafter belong to said institution, sustaining a fair moral character, shall be deprived of any privileges of said institution, or be subjected to the forfeiture of any aid which has been granted by said institution for the purpose of enabling him to prosecute his studies, or be denied the usual testimonials on closing his studies, or be denied admission to said institution on the ground that his interpretation of the Scriptures shall differ from those contained in the articles of faith adopted, or to be adopted by said institution.

Sec. 6. Reserved Powers. The Legislature of this State shall have the right to grant any further powers to or alter, limit or restrain any of the powers by this act vested on the said corporation as shall be judged necessary to promote the best interests thereof; and the said corporation shall render an account to the Legislature whenever they shall see fit to require it of all its proceedings and the manner of disposing of the funds of said institution.

Sec. 7. Repeal of Chapter 500, Special Laws of 1874. Chapter 500 of the Special Laws of 1874, entitled “An Act additional to the acts which constitute the charter of Colby University,” is repealed; and the provisions of this act shall supersede inconsistent provisions of any prior public or private and special law.

Appendix S.

ACT AUTHORIZING ALUMNAE TRUSTEES

Laws of Maine, 1931, Chapter 22, February 27, 1931.

Be it enacted by the People of Maine as follows:

Section 3 of the act entitled “An Act to establish a literary institution in the District of Maine within this Commonwealth,” approved February 27, 1813, as amended by Chapter 150 of the private and special laws of 1903, as further amended by Chapter 97 of the private and special laws of 1917, be further amended by striking out all of said section 3 and inserting in place thereof the following:

Sec. 3. Increase of number of trustees; tenure of office. For the more orderly conducting of business of said corporation, the President and Trustees shall have full power and authority, from time to time as they shall determine, to elect a vice president, treasurer and secretary of said corporation, and to declare the tenure and duties of their respective offices, and also to remove any trustee from the said corporation, when in their judgment he shall be rendered incapable by age or otherwise of discharging the duties of his office, and to fill up all vacancies in the said corporation by electing such persons for such terms, except as hereinafter provided, as they shall judge best; provided, nevertheless, that the number of the said corporation, including the President of the said Institution, and the Treasurer for the time being, shall never be greater than thirty-one nor less than twenty-one. And provided also that, beginning with the year 1931, to and including the year 1933, the alumni and alumnae associations shall elect annually one trustee; beginning with the year 1934 and thereafter, the Alumni Association shall annually elect two trustees, and the Alumnae Association shall annually elect one trustee; each of the said alumni and alumnae trustees shall be elected for terms of three years, in such manner and with such conditions of eligibility as the said alumni and alumnae associations may respectively determine. The terms of alumni and alumnae trustees shall begin at twelve o'clock noon of the Commencement day in the year of which they are elected and shall terminate at twelve o'clock noon of the Commencement day in the year when their successors are elected. Both the alumni and alumnae associations shall have the right to fill vacancies among their respective trustees for unexpired terms. Nothing herein shall be construed to abridge the terms of alumni trustees now in office.
