TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must furnish to the President satisfactory testimonials of good moral character.

Candidates for advanced standing are examined in the preparatory studies, and in the various studies to which the class they desire to enter have attended. Those who are admitted from other colleges must present certificates of regular dismissal.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.

The examinations for admission are held on Thursday and Friday preceding Commencement. Candidates will assemble at 8 A. M., Thursday, June 27, at Champlin Hall. As the examinations are conducted chiefly in writing, each applicant must bring the text-books required in the languages. Examinations for admission are also held at the opening of the first term, beginning Wednesday, September 18, at the same place and hour.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are required to be prepared for examination in the following subjects and books :

CLASSICAL COURSE.

GREEK.—Xenophon's Anabasis, Books I—III : Homer's Iliad, Books I—II : Harkness' First Greek Book, or an equivalent : Jones' Greek Prose Composition, twenty exercises or an equivalent ; Greek Grammar.

LATIN.—1. Caesar's Gallic War, Books I—IV ; or Books I—III, and Sallust's Catiline : or an equivalent from Cornelius Nepos. 2. Cicero, seven Orations ; or the Orations against Catiline, and the Oration for Archias, and two thousand lines of Ovid's Metamorphoses. 3. Vergil's Aeneid, Books I—VI ; or Eclogues and Aeneid, Books I—IV. 4. Translation, at sight, of ordinary passages from Caesar, Cicero's Orations, Vergil's Aeneid, and Ovid's Metamorphoses. 5. Parts I and II of Harkness' Latin Composition, or an equivalent. It is recommended that pupils be accustomed from the beginning of their preparatory course, to translate into Latin, both orally and in writing, passages prepared by the teacher on the basis of the author read.

Instructors in preparatory schools are urged to insist upon the use of simple and idiomatic English in the translation of Greek and Latin.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic, Common and Decimal Fractions, Percentage and Square Root; Algebra, Equations of the First and of the Second Degree, Exponents and Radicals; Geometry, the whole of Plane Geometry. Candidates must be prepared on Definitions, Demonstrations, Constructions and Proportion.

ENGLISH.—English Grammar, with criticism of incorrect English; Essays upon subjects announced at the time of examination to be taken from two or three of the books named in the list prescribed for the year. The essay will be expected to show a general familiarity with the works mentioned, and will be examined with respect to accuracy in grammar, spelling and punctuation. The lists for the next three years are:

1895, Shakspeare's Merchant of Venice and Twelfth Night, Milton's L'Allegro, Il Penseroso, Comus, and Lycidas, Longfellow's Evangeline, the Sir Roger de Coverly Papers in the Spectator, Macaulay's Essays on Milton and Addison, Webster's first Bunker Hill Oration, Irving's Sketch Book, Scott's Abbot.

1896, Shakspeare's Merchant of Venice and Midsummer Night's Dream; Milton's L'Allegro, Il Penseroso, Comus and Lycidas; Longfellow's Evangeline; Macaulay's Essay on Milton; Webster's first Bunker Hill Oration; DeFoe's History of the Plague in London; Irving's Tales of a Traveler; Scott's Woodstock; George Eliot's Silas Marner.

1897, Shakspeare's Merchant of Venice and As You Like It; Scott's Marmion; Longfellow's Evangeline; Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America; Macaulay's Life of Samuel Johnson; DeFoe's History of the Plague in London; Irving's Tales of a Traveler; Hawthorne's Twice-Told Tales; George Eliot's Silas Marner.

HISTORY.—History of Greece, to the death of Alexander; Pennell's or Meyer's preferred. History of Rome, to the death of Marcus Aurelius; Pennell's or Allen's preferred. Outline of the History of the United States; Johnson's or Montgomery's. Geography, ancient and modern.

FRENCH.—A preparatory course in the French language will be added to the requirements for admission in 1897.

PARTIAL COURSE.

Individuals of suitable age and attainments will, after examination, be allowed to take a Partial Course for any length of time not less than one year, selecting such studies as they may desire to pursue. They will be required to recite with the regular college classes at least twice a day, and to continue through the term any study commenced. Candidates for admission to a partial course must be prepared in at least three subjects, (of which Greek or Latin must be one,) out of the following six; Greek, Latin, Algebra, Geometry, French, German.

CERTIFICATES.

Graduates of the four academies constituting the Preparatory Department of the University will be admitted without further examination, on the certificate of the Principal that they have completed the course and attained an average scholarship of at least 70 per cent in each study; provided that the said certificate shall be granted with approval of the Faculty of the college. All students so admitted are to be considered as on probation, with reference to scholarship, during the first term of the Freshman year. A similar arrangement has been made with other approved fitting schools.

Any school which desires to be placed on the list of approved preparatory schools, should forward to the President copies of its courses of study with other information necessary to give a full knowledge of its work.

Certificates should be made out on blanks which will be furnished by the Librarian and which should be mailed to the President before the opening of the first term. The form of Certificate is as follows :—

I hereby certify that has spent years in the studies of the preparatory course, that . . . is of rank of general scholarship, of good moral character, and has completed in a satisfactory manner all the requirements for admission to the Freshman Class of the University, as specified in the last annual catalogue.

Principal of

The Courses of Instruction Arranged According to Departments.

I. PHILOSOPHY.

PRESIDENT WHITMAN AND DR. PEPPER.

The aim of this department is to give a working knowledge of mental conditions and operations. Its investigation and application are intended to discipline and strengthen the student at the same time that they are laying clear the problems involved. Text-books, syllabuses, lectures, reports, essays and discussions are in daily use. Students are encouraged and required to test their work at every stage by reference to personal experience and interrogation of consciousness. The course in Logic exhibits the laws of thought. In Psychology the main problems of the embodied human spirit are outlined. In Ethics inquiry is made into the principles of conduct. In Sociology the chief theories of society are examined, the laws of social development studied, and current social topics discussed.

COURSES.

1. Logic. Four hours. Elective for Senior Class, first term.
DR. PEPPER.
2. Psychology. Four hours. Required of Senior Class, first term.
PRESIDENT WHITMAN.
3. Ethics. Five hours. Required of Senior Class, second term.
PRESIDENT WHITMAN.
4. Sociology. Four hours. Elective for Senior Class, third term.
PRESIDENT WHITMAN.

II. GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROFESSOR STETSON AND MR. EVANS.

The aim of this department is twofold; first, to give every student such a knowledge of the Greek language and literature as will furnish the basis for a broad general education; and, second, to afford the specialist in classics such an equipment as will enable him in the shortest possible time to prepare himself for higher degrees in university courses. To answer the aim in the first case, the required work in Greek extends over the first five terms of the college course, and in the second, electives are offered extending over four more terms, so that the student has the opportunity of pursuing Greek throughout nine of the twelve terms in his college course.

The work, so far as is possible, is arranged in groups. Thus the study of Herodotus and Thucydides forms a center for Greek Historians, the study of Plato, for the Philosophers, and Demosthenes for the Orators.

COURSES.

1. Herodotus, selections; grammar; prose composition. Four hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, first term.

PROFESSOR STETSON.

2. Same as Course 1. Required of women of Freshman Class.

MR. EVANS.

3. Greek Lyric Poets; Jebb's Primer of Greek Literature; Xenophon's Symposium; grammar; prose composition. Required of men of Freshman Class, second term.

MR. EVANS.

4. Same as Course 3. Required of women of Freshman Class.

PROFESSOR STETSON.

5. Homer; Xenophon's Memorabilia of Socrates; study of the derivation of words. Four hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, third term.

PROFESSOR STETSON.

6. Same as Course 5. Required of women of Freshman Class.

MR. EVANS.

7. Plato, Apology and Crito; reading at sight. Three hours. Required of men of Sophomore Class, first term.

PROFESSOR STETSON.

8. Same as Course 7. Required of women of Sophomore Class.

PROFESSOR STETSON.

9. Lysias, selections ; Demosthenes, Philippics ; Jebb's Attic Orators. Three hours. Required of men of Sophomore Class, second term.
 PROFESSOR STETSON.

10. Same as course 9. Required of women of Sophomore Class.
 PROFESSOR STETSON.

11. Demosthenes, De Corona. Three hours. Elective for both divisions of Sophomore Class, third term.

PROFESSOR STETSON.

12. Sophocles, Oedipus Tyrannus, Antigone ; lectures on Scenic Antiquities. Four hours. Elective for both divisions of Junior Class, first term.

PROFESSOR STETSON.

13. Aeschylus, Prometheus Bound : lectures on Greek drama. Four hours. Elective for both divisions of Junior Class, third term.

PROFESSOR STETSON.

14. Aristotle's Ethics. Two hours. Elective for both divisions of Senior Class, first term.

PROFESSOR STETSON.

III. LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR AND MR. EVANS.

The courses in the Latin department are designed to conduct the student to a progressive acquaintance with the language and the literature. In the earlier courses the linguistic feature is given the greater prominence, and the class-room work dwells with special emphasis on word criticism, sentence structure and phrase arrangement. In this connection blackboard practice in Latin composition, as well as oral exercise from dictation, and the memorizing of select passages are made a feature of the daily recitation.

The later courses are devoted, in a large degree, to a more strictly literary interpretation of the authors read ; and variety and interest are given by including as wide a range of authors as practicable. In grouping the different authors, the attractiveness of contrast and variety is kept in view rather than chronological order or historic development. Various authors, other than those named, are introduced to the student's attention by incidental exercises in sight reading of selected passages or celebrated quotations.

COURSES.

1. Livy, XXI. Four hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, first term.

MR. EVANS.

2. Livy, I, V. Four hours. Required of women of Freshman Class, first term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

3. Agricola of Tacitus; Odes of Horace, I. Four hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, second term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

4. Same as Course 3. Required of women of Freshman Class, second term.

MR. EVANS.

5. Odes of Horace, II, III, IV. Four hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, third term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

6. Same as Course 5. Required of women of Freshman Class, third term.

MR. EVANS.

7. Histories of Tacitus. Three hours. Required of men of Sophomore Class, first term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

8. Pliny's Letters. Three hours. Required of women of Sophomore Class, first term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

9. Satires of Horace; Laelius of Cicero. Three hours. Required of men of Sophomore Class, second term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

10. Satires of Horace; Histories of Tacitus. Three hours. Required of women of Sophomore Class, second term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

11. Epistles of Horace; Terence. Four hours. Elective for both divisions of the Sophomore Class, third term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

12. Quintilian, X, XII. Four hours. Elective for both divisions of the Junior Class, second term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

13. Catullus; Lucretius; Tibullus; Propertius; Lucan. Four hours. Elective for both divisions of the Senior Class, first term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

14. Vergil. Special elective for teachers of Latin. Open to both divisions of Senior Class, third term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

15. Aryan and Semitic Languages: Lectures. Given to the Sophomore Class, first term.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR.

IV. MATHEMATICS.

PROFESSOR WARREN.

An endeavor is made in this department to acquaint the student with the elements of the several branches of mathematical study. While the intrinsic worth of these pursuits is not undervalued, the methods by which the truths of Mathematics are obtained and held are made of paramount importance. The mastery of principles, and the ability to apply them, are kept constantly in view, both as a means of mental training and as a preparation for other fields of study. The demand is constantly increasing for a thorough knowledge of mathematical principles in order to insure success in scientific pursuits and to furnish a true basis in art studies; this demand is tending to the revival of a more extended course and thorough comprehension of Higher Mathematics.

COURSES.

1. Solid Geometry. Four hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, first term.

2. Same as Course 1. Required of women of Freshman Class, first term.

3. Algebra, including Arithmetical Progression, Geometrical Progression, Undetermined Co-efficients, Decomposition of Fractions, the Binominal Theorem, Logarithms and Higher Equations. Four hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, second term.

4. Same as Course 3. Required of women of Freshman Class, second term.

5. Plane Trigonometry with lectures on Surveying. Four hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, third term.

6. Same as Course 5. Required of women of Freshman Class, third term.

7. Spherical Trigonometry. Three hours. Elective for Sophomore Class, first half of third term.

8. Analytical Geometry. Three hours. Elective for Sophomore Class, last half of third term.

9. Differential Calculus. Four hours. Elective for Junior and Senior Classes, first term.

10. Integral Calculus. Four hours. Elective for Junior and Senior Classes, second term.

V. CHEMISTRY AND PHYSIOLOGY.

PROFESSOR ELDER.

1. General Chemistry, introduction, laws of chemical combination; distribution, preparation, and properties of the elements and their principal compounds. Five hours. Required of men of Junior Class, first term. Open as an elective to qualified students, who must possess a good knowledge of elementary physics.

2. Same as Course 1. Required of women of Junior Class, first term.

3. Laboratory Practice in General Chemistry and Use of the Blowpipe. Nine hours a week during the first half of the third term. Open as an elective to students who have completed Courses 1 or 2.

4. Qualitative Analysis. Lectures, recitations and laboratory practice. Twelve hours a week during second half of third term. Open as an elective to students who have completed Courses 1 and

2. In the laboratory each student is provided with a table, and the apparatus and reagents necessary to enable him to perform the required experiments and operations.

5. Advanced Physiology and Biology. Study of the blood, tissues, sense organs, nervous system. Four hours. Required of men of Junior Class, second term. The class is supplied with microscopes and anatomical preparations for the study of histology.

6. Same as Course 5. Required of women of Junior Class, second term.

VI. ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROFESSOR ROBERTS.

1. English Composition; A. S. Hill's Principles of Rhetoric. Five hours. For the first few weeks daily themes are required. During the term the classes read four or five of Shakspeare's plays. At least one recitation hour a week is given up to reports on this work, to discussion, and to critical reading. Required of men of Sophomore Class, first term.

2. Same as Course 1. Required of women of Sophomore Class, first term.

3. Literary Invention; Genung's Practical Rhetoric, and Whately's Elements. Five hours. A good deal of time is devoted to the study of argumentative composition. Every two weeks each member of the Class makes out an analysis of some speech or essay. During a part of the term daily skeleton articles are required. One day a week is given up to the study of the literature of the Elizabethan Age. Required of men of Sophomore Class, second term.

4. Same as Course 3. Required of women of Sophomore Class, second term.

5. Old English. Cook's First Book in Old English. Four hours. The class reads part of Beowulf, and spends some time in the study of Chaucer. Required of men of Sophomore Class, third term.

6. Same as Course 5. Required of women of Sophomore Class, third term.

7. Lectures on English Writers before Spenser. One hour. Required of men of Sophomore Class, first half of third term.

8. Same as Course 7. Required of women of Sophomore Class, first half of third term.

ELECTIVES.

The elective courses in English Literature cover the periods from the Elizabethan Age to the present time. Students are required to do a good deal of reading, and to make weekly reports to the class. The recitation hours are given up to these reports, to discussion, lectures and critical reading of some of the masterpieces of our literature. All the courses are open to both divisions of the Junior and Senior classes.

9. Literature of the last half of the 17th century and of the 18th century. Four hours. First term.

10. Literature of the first half of the 19th century. Four hours. Second term.

11. Literature of the last half of the 19th century. Four hours. First half of third term.

12. Literature in America. Four hours. Last half of third term.

VII. MODERN LANGUAGES.

DR. MARQUARDT.

The chief object of the required courses in modern languages is that every graduate of the college has a sufficient knowledge of French and German to make practical use of these languages. The student acquires the necessary knowledge of the grammar, and a good vocabulary, so that he is able to translate ordinary French and German at sight. Besides, conversational language is taught to a certain extent, in order to train the student's ear, to furnish him a correct pronunciation, and to make him familiar with the most important idioms. The aim of the six elective courses is to give to those students who wish to make a specialty of modern languages a more thorough knowledge of the French and German literature.

FRENCH.

1. Whitney's French Grammar; Super's Preparatory French Reader; Peiffer's Progressive French Drill-Book A. Three hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, first term.

2. Same as Course 1. Required of women of Freshman Class, first term.

3. Whitney's French Grammar; Super's Reader completed; Peiffer's Progressive French Drill-Book B. Three hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, second term.

4. Same as Course 3. Required of women of Freshman Class, second term.

5. Chardenal's Practical Exercises on French Conversation; Victor Hugo's Hernani; Grammar reviewed. Three hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, third term.

6. Same as Course 5. Required of women of Freshman Class, third term.

7. Victor Hugo's La Chute; Racine's Athalie; Hennequin's Idiomatic French. Four hours. Elective for Junior Class, second term.

8. Mellé's Contemporary French Writers; La Fontaine's Fables (Book I); Molière's L'Avare. Four hours. Elective for Senior Class, first term.

9. Brachet's Grammaire Historique; French Literature; La Fontaine's Fables (Book II); Corneille's Horace. Four hours. Elective for Senior Class, second term.

GERMAN.

1. Whitney's German Grammar; Joynes' German Reader; Practical Exercises on German Conversation. Three hours. Required of men of Sophomore Class, first term.

2. Same as Course 1. Required of women of Sophomore Class, first term.

3. Grammar; Joynes' German Reader completed; Practical Exercises on German Conversation. Three hours. Required of men of Sophomore Class, second term.

4. Same as Course 3. Required of women of Sophomore Class, second term.
5. Brandt's Reader; Grammar reviewed; Practical Exercises on German Conversation. Three hours. Required of men of Sophomore Class, third term.
6. Same as Course 5. Required of women of Sophomore Class, third term.
7. Tschokke's Der zerbrochene Krug; Storm's Immensee; Freytag's Journalisten; Stein's German Exercises. Four hours. Elective for Junior Class, first term.
8. Lessing's Minna von Barnhelm; Schiller's Maria Stuart; German Literature. Four hours. Elective for Junior Class, third term.
9. Goethe's Hermann und Dorothea; Goethe's Faust; German Literature. Four hours. Elective for Senior Class, second term.

VIII. PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY.

PROFESSOR ROGERS.

PHYSICS.

1. Properties of Water, theoretical and experimental, Dynamics and Kinematics, Liquids, Gases, Heat, Magnetism and Statical Electricity. Four hours. Required of men of Sophomore Class, third term.
2. Same as Course 1. Required of women of Sophomore Class, third term.
3. Sound, Light and Electricity. Four hours. Elective for Junior Class, first term. Arranged for students who desire to pursue courses in science.
4. Experimental work in Electricity. Five years. Elective for Junior class, second term. Students who elect this course spend two and one-half hours each day in the Laboratory, which is provided with a sufficient amount of apparatus to allow each student to do his work independently.

5. Advanced Physics. Five hours. For students who have developed special aptitude for theoretical and experimental research. Besides considerable general reading, Barker's Advanced Course in Physics, a work of 900 pages, will be thoroughly mastered. Elective for Senior Class, first term.

6. Advanced Physics, continued. The Laboratory work will consist of such experiments as will be of service in giving instruction in Physics, and of the experimental work which will form a part of an assigned thesis, required of each student and which will be deposited in the Archives of the College, at the close of the course. Elective for Seniors who have taken Course 5, second term.

7. Advanced Physics, concluded. Elective for Seniors who have taken Courses 6 and 7, third term.

ASTRONOMY.

1. Astronomy. Five hours. While a text book (Young) will be used in this course, considerable attention will be given to mapping constellations and to experimental work with the transit instrument and the equatorial telescope. Elective for Junior Class, third term.

2. Advanced Astronomy. Four hours. For approved students who are prepared for special work. Young's Theoretical Astronomy will be read. Elective for Senior Class, first term.

3. Mathematical Theory of Instruments; Theory of Eclipses; Theory of Perturbations; Construction of Star Catalogues. Four hours. Elective for Seniors who have taken Course 2, second term.

4. Practical work with the Equatorial and the Transit Instruments. Four hours. Elective for Seniors who have taken Courses 2 and 3, third term.

IX. HISTORY AND POLITICAL ECONOMY.

PROFESSOR BLACK.

HISTORY.

1. Europe during the Middle Ages. Four hours. A study of the institutions and civilization of the Western world from Constantine to the Renaissance, with introductory lectures on the influence of the Roman, Christian and Germanic elements upon mediæval society. Textbook (Duruy's Middle Ages), lectures, and topical reports by the students. Elective for Junior Class, first term.

2. English History, Political and Constitutional. Four hours. Includes a general survey of English Political History from the Saxon Invasions to the present time, special attention being given to the origin and growth of the Constitution and Parliamentary government. Textbook (Gardiner's Student's History of England), lectures and reports by the students. Elective for Junior and Senior Classes, second term. Given in 1894-95. Omitted in 1895-96.

3. American History to 1789. Four hours. A study of American Colonial History and Institutions, especial attention being given to the economic and social phases of early American life. The Course concludes with a study of the Constitution, and its interpretation. Lectures, assigned readings and topical reports by the students. Elective for Senior Class, second term.

4. American History from 1789 to 1860. Four hours. A study of American politics, the rise of political parties, the development of constitutional principles, the economic progress of the country, concluding with a review of party machinery and administration in the United States. Lectures, assigned readings, and topical reports by the students. Elective for Senior Class, third term.

5. The Napoleonic Era and the Nineteenth Century. Four hours. This Course will be prefaced by a brief survey of the condition of Europe before the French Revolution, and the causes and results of the Revolution. Attention will be given chiefly to the history of Europe during the supremacy of Napoleon, the growth of democracy, the unification of Germany, and the consolidation of Italy. Lectures, assigned readings, and topical reports. Elective for Juniors and Seniors. Omitted in 1894-95. Given in 1895-96.

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

1. Political Economy. Four hours. Introductory to the advanced courses in Political Economy and History. Includes a study of the principles of economics, and the development and significance of modern problems. A text-book is used. Lectures, examinations, and reports by the students. Required of Junior Class, third term.

2. Advanced Political Economy; Money and Banking. Four hours. A study of the history and functions of money, monetary legislation in the United States, bimetallism, the use of instruments of credit, paper money, banking in England and the United States, with other monetary and banking problems. Text-book (Jevons' Money and the Mechanism of Exchange); lectures, assigned readings, and reports by the students. Elective for Senior Class, first term.

NOTE.—Owing to the contemplated absence of the President during 1895-96, and the consequent readjustment of the work of the Class of '96, the members of this Class will be allowed to elect all Junior studies during their Senior year.

Other Courses in Political Economy will be offered as soon as the necessary provision in the schedule can be made for them. The announcements relating to these Courses will be made later.

X. MINERALOGY, GEOLOGY AND BOTANY.

PROFESSOR BAYLEY.

The purpose of the instruction in this department is twofold: to familiarize a large number of students with the elements of general mineralogy and geology, and to prepare a few for advanced work in these subjects.

MINERALOGY.

1. Mineralogy; crystallography, lectures and practical work. Five hours, and four hours laboratory work. Elective for Junior Class, third term.

2. Optical Mineralogy; laboratory work. Four hours. The student is expected to prepare his own mineral sections, and to observe their principal optical constants. A large number of crystal drawings are made from the students' own crystal measurements, and the determination of the refractive indices of several different substances under different conditions is required. Elective for Senior Class, second term.

3. Optical Mineralogy; laboratory work. Five hours. The microscopical characteristics of the rock-forming minerals are studied, and the student prepared for a course in Petrography. Individual work outlined by the instructor is required. Each lesson occupies three hours. Elective for Senior Class, third term.

GEOLOGY.

1. General Geology; Physical Geography. Four hours. A general survey of the whole field of geology is obtained, and the laws governing the molding of the earth's surface features are studied. Elective for Senior Class, first term.

2. Geology of North America; Inorganic Geology. Four hours. Elective for Senior Class, second term.

3. Historical Geology. Four hours. The instruction is mainly through lectures given by the instructor and by the students, emphasis being placed upon the practical rather than upon the theoretical side of the subject. Elective for Senior Class, third term.

BOTANY.

1. General Botany; laboratory work. Four hours. Gray's Lessons and Manual of Botany is used as the basis of class-room work. Required of Sophomore Class, five weeks of third term.

XI. ART.

PROFESSOR WARREN.

Three courses of lectures on Art are given subject to occasional changes, in the following order:—

1. Architecture. Five lectures. The lecture topics are: 1. Outlines of Ancient Architecture. 2. Outlines of Christian Architecture. 3. Egyptian Architecture. 4. Greek Architecture. 5. Roman Architecture. Elective for Senior Class, first term.

2. Sculpture. Three lectures. 1. Architectural Sculpture. 2. Earlier Greek Sculpture. 3. Later Greek Sculpture. Elective for Senior Class, second term.

3. Painting. Seven lectures. 1. Early Italian Masters. 2. Leonardo da Vinci and his Contemporaries. 3. Michael Angelo. 4. Raphael's Paintings in Oil. 5. Raphael's Frescoes. 6. Correggio and Later Renaissance Painters. 7. Titian and the Venetian School. Elective for Senior Class, third term.

XII. BIBLICAL LITERATURE.

PROFESSOR PEPPER.

This department took its place in Colby University in the fall of 1892. Its aim is to introduce to a thorough and systematic study of the books of the Bible, the world's most remarkable body of literature, to investigate the origin, history and influence of this literature and its relation to other literatures, especially to other sacred books; to gain at least an outline view of its contents as a whole and of the mutual relation of its parts together with a more extensive knowledge of certain representative sections; to discuss the evidences of Christianity with special reference to the questions of the day; and to give elementary instruction in the original languages of the Old Testament (Hebrew) and facility in the accurate reading of the Greek New Testament. The value of such a department in a college course is now widely recognized. The following Courses are offered.

1. The Historic Origin of the Bible, embracing such topics as its authorship, the preservation and transmission of its original text, versions, ancient or modern, contents, influence, etc. Five hours. Introduction by lectures, text-book, discussions, oral and written reports and assigned reading. Required of the Junior Class, third term.

2. The Greek New Testament, comprising a careful study of Luke's Gospel and of Christ's life as there given, with constant comparison with the other three Gospels. Four hours. Stevens and Burton's Outline Handbooks are used for reference. Related subjects, historical, geographical, etc., are assigned for investigation, and the results presented orally or in writing. Sight reading of other books of the New Testament is practiced. Elective for Senior Class, first term.

3. The Evidences of Christianity. One hour. Lectures and discussions. Required of the Senior Class, second term.

HEBREW.

1. The Hebrew Language. Four hours. A beginning, covering the first half of Harper's Hebrew Method and Manual, with constant use of his grammar, The Elements of Hebrew. The first chapters of Genesis are read in Hebrew. Elective for Senior Class, second term.

2. The Hebrew Language. Four hours. A continuation, completing Harper's Method and Manual, and using faithfully, as in Course 1, his grammar. The reading of Genesis in Hebrew is continued. Elective for Senior Class, third term.

XII. PHYSICAL TRAINING.

MR. JACKSON.

Each student is given a thorough medical and physical examination by the Director who is prepared to study the physical needs of each student, and to recommend the special form of exercise most desirable for a symmetrical bodily development. The prescribed work is taken in the gymnasium under the supervision of the Director.

1. Dumb-bell exercises; heavy gymnastics. Four half-hours. Required of men of Freshman Class, November to April.

2. Dumb-bell exercises; light gymnastics; free movements. Four half-hours. Required of women of Freshman Class, November to April.

3. Indian club exercises; wrestling; boxing. Four half-hours. Required of men of Sophomore Class, November to April.

4. Light gymnastics; wand drill; marching. Four half-hours. Required of women of Sophomore Class, November to April.

5. Single stick; bar-bell exercises. Four half-hours. Elective for Junior Class, November to April.

6. Foil-fencing. Four half-hours. Elective for Senior Class, November to April.

Tabular Statement of the Courses of Study.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Colby University was incorporated with collegiate powers, by the first Legislature of Maine in 1820, under the name of Waterville College. It had received from Massachusetts in 1814, a charter as a Literary and Theological Institution, and went into operation as such in 1818. The original corporators were all Baptists of the District of Maine. The first President of the corporation was Rev. Jeremiah Chaplin, D. D., who served the college in that position until 1833. Prior to 1864 the college had no endowment. By the generous gift at that time of $50,000 from Mr. Gardner Colby of Boston, the friends of the institution and the denomination in the State were prompted to establish an endowment fund of $200,000. This fund has been increased by several gifts and legacies, including a bequest of $120,000 from Mr. Colby. The present name of the institution was adopted by vote of the Board of Trustees and ratified by the Legislature in 1867.

CO-ORDINATE COLLEGES.

At their annual meeting in 1890, the Trustees of Colby University, after extended discussion, adopted the following recommendations of the President's report :—

1. That the Board adopt the purpose of organizing within the University a college for young men, and a second co-ordinate college for young women.

2. That the conditions of scholarship for entrance to Colby be absolutely identical in the two colleges.

3. That as soon as the income of the University will permit, instruction in different branches pursued in common by the young men and the young women be given to the students in each college separately, except in the case of lectures, which would be given to the students of both colleges simultaneously, and excepting also laboratory work, in which pupils are engaged upon individual problems.

4. That in the further development of the elective system due attention be paid to the expansion of courses likely to be of special attractiveness to members of the one college or the other. I refer, on the one hand, to courses in natural and political sciences, and, on the other hand, to courses in language, literature, æsthetics and history.

5. That in case the students in one of the colleges should in any study not be numerous enough to form a separate division, they be admitted to recitation with the corresponding division in the other college.

6. That in class organization, rank, prize contests, appointments, and honors, the members of the two colleges be treated as independently as though they were in distinct institutions.

LOCATION.

The University is located at Waterville, on the Kennebec river, nineteen miles above the State capital. The college buildings occupy an extensive campus in the northern part of the city, between College avenue and the river. Directly opposite is the station of the Maine Central Railroad, two of whose principal branches intersect here, making Waterville easily accessible by rail.

THE BUILDINGS.

Chaplin Hall, so named in memory of the venerated first President, REV. JEREMIAH CHAPLIN, D. D., and South College furnish the dormitories for the students. Chaplin Hall is heated throughout with steam.

Champlin Hall, so named in recognition of the distinguished services of the late President, REV. J. T. CHAMPLIN, D. D., LL. D., supplies the general recitation rooms.

Coburn Hall, so named in acknowledgement of benefactions from one of the most liberal friends of the college, HON. ABNER COBURN, is entirely devoted to the Departments of Chemistry and Natural Science. The building is of rough quarry stone, with granite trimmings, the walls being 56x48 feet, and 41 feet high. On the first floor are the Chemical Laboratories and Apparatus and Lecture rooms. On the second and third floors are the Collections, Laboratories, and Lecture, Work and Store rooms of the Departments of Mineralogy and Geology.

Memorial Hall, so named in honor of the alumni of the college who fell in the service of their country during the late civil war, is built of stone and surmounted by a tower 80 feet in height. The eastern wing of the building contains the University Library, 44 feet by 54, and 20 feet high, furnished with double alcoves and shelves for 35,000 volumes. The western wing contains on the first floor the college Chapel, 40x58, in dimensions: Above this is the Hall of the Alumni, in which is the Memorial Tablet, surmounted by a copy, in marble, of Thorwaldsen's Lion of Lucerne.

The Gymnasium is conveniently located on the college grounds, and is admirably adapted to the purpose for which it was designed. It is well furnished with apparatus for gymnastic exercises and physical training, in which instruction is given by a competent Instructor in Gymnastics. The Gymnasium has been enlarged recently, and provided with baths, practice rooms, and steam heating apparatus, and is open daily.

Ladies' Hall, situated on College avenue, near the University buildings, affords a pleasant and convenient home for the young women. Two other houses on College avenue are also devoted in part to the accommodation of the young women:—viz, the house formerly used as a residence by the President of the University, and the home of the late Dr. Palmer, corner of College avenue and Getchell street. A family occupies a portion of each of these buildings, the remainder being reserved for the young women.

The Shannon Observatory and Physical Laboratory, the gift of HON. RICHARD C. SHANNON, class of 1862, affords superior advantages for instruction and practical work in Astronomy and Physics.

PHYSICAL LABORATORY.

The supply of apparatus permits of a great variety of experiments for illustrating and establishing physical laws. The collection includes, among other apparatus, a Kew unifilar magnetometer,

Barrows' circle, Holtz's electrical machine, plate frictional machine, batteries, Ruhmkorff's induction coils, Clark's magneto-electric machine, a large collection of Crookes' tubes, electrometer, spectroscope, compound microscope, oxyhydrogen lantern, camera obscura, camera lucida, porte lumière, a fine set of apparatus for illustrating polarized light, Lissajous' forks, sonometer, Koenig's apparatus for comparison of vibrations by manometric flames, and a great variety of apparatus illustrating wave motion.

GEOLOGICAL LABORATORY.

The Geological Laboratory is provided with the most important instruments for the study of Mineralogy, including a Fuess Universal Apparatus, a Nachet microscope, two student's petrographical microscopes, and with collections to illustrate the lectures in Mineralogy, Geology, Palæontology and Physical Geography. The Mineral collection embraces over 3000 specimens, including many that are well crystallized. The most of these are arranged so as to be readily accessible to students. The palæontological collection includes a suite of the most characteristic American fossils, and casts of some of the foreign ones. In the geological cabinet is the State Geological Collection, intrusted to the care of the University by the Maine Legislature, a series of New York rocks, Rosenbusch's set of 490 massive rocks and 100 European crystalline schists, 300 thin sections of typical rocks, relief maps of volcanoes, apparatus for the preparation of rock sections, and a Thompson's Dissolving Boston Ideal Stereopticon. The number of lantern slides at present in use for the illustration of the geological lectures is only 200, but the collection is being added to by purchase. A set of 175 crystal models affords opportunity for the study of crystallography. There are usually also in the possession of the department about three or four hundred thin sections of crystalline rocks, the property of the United States Geological Survey, which are available for the study of special points in the Geology of the Lake Superior region.

In the Physical Geography Collection is a set of Prof. Davis' paper models, a series of masks of Pacific Islanders, and a suite of 325 geological photographs.

ART COLLECTION.

Through the liberality of the trustees, alumni, and private friends of the University, a collection of works of art has been made and located for the present in Memorial Hall. This collection consists of portraits of distinguished benefactors and friends of the college, casts of noted pieces of sculpture and sets of photographs and representations, for the illustration of the lectures on the History of Art. Additions are made from year to year, and are published with the name of the donors in the annual catalogue. During the past year has been received:—A plaster cast of the antique statue of Pudicitia, presented by the class of 1895; an oil portrait of the late Hon. Marcellus Lovewell Stearns, class of 1863, ex-Governor of Florida, presented by Mrs. Stearns.

THE LIBRARY.

The Library of the University contains 29,450 volumes, and about 10,000 pamphlets. It is open daily for consultation and delivery of books from 9 A. M. to 12.30 P. M., and from 2.30 till 5.30 P. M. Members of all the classes have free access to the alcoves under the usual rules. A card catalogue has been prepared. Personal assistance is given to those desiring to investigate special topics.

Additions are made from the income of a small Library fund, supplemented by annual appropriations.

The Library is one of the designated depositories of the public documents issued by the United States Congress, and possesses an unusually complete set of these publications.

Donations to the Library funds, and gifts of books or pamphlets, are earnestly solicited from the alumni and from other friends.

During the past year the Library has been increased by the addition of 730 volumes. In addition to 54 volumes added by binding, the current publications of the United States Government and of the State of Maine have been received. Gifts have also been received from:—The Argentine Republic, 1; Hon. Dudley P. Bailey, 2; W. E. Barrett, 1; Hon. W. P. Bartlett, 4; Stephen Berry, 1; Rev. Geo. D. Boardman, D. D., 2; Rev. H. S. Burrage, D. D., 17; California State Library, 1; Century Association, 1; G. H. Colby,

5; W. Bayard Cutting, 1; Hon. Josiah H. Drummond, 2; Mrs. Martha Baker Dunn, 3; Mrs. G. C. Fitch, 1; Hon. W. P. Frye, 2; Georgia Geological Survey, 1; Hon. Samuel A. Green, M. D., 4; Hon. Eugene Hale, 12; Miss R. F. Hanscom, 2; Harvard Observatory, 4; Harvard University, 1; Charles P. Haviland, 63; Iowa Geological Survey, 2; Japanese Woman's Commission, 1; G. H. D. L'Amoureux, 1; Lick Observatory, 1; Mass. Board of Health, 2; Mrs. Sophia L. Mathews, 105; Prof. Shailer Mathews, 9; Mrs. Mary E. Mathews, 2; Daniel G. Munson, 5; National Asso. of Wool Manufacturers, 1; N. H. State Library, 4; N. J. State Library, 1; N. Y. State Library, 4; F. L. Pope, 1; City Clerk, Portland, 6; Prof. A. J. Roberts, 5; Royal Society of Canada, 1; Hon. Richard C. Shannon, 86; Prof. A. W. Small, PH. D., 1; Smithsonian Institution, 3; Allen P. Soule, 23; Rev. W. H. Spencer, D. D., 2; Hon. H. H. Sprague, 1; N. M. Wing, 4; Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, 3; President Whitman, 4; Y. M. C. A. of North America, 1.

READING ROOM.

A Reading-Room, supplied with daily and weekly newspapers and with the leading monthly magazines, is maintained by a small assessment on the students of the Men's College. A convenient room in the South College is provided, which is open daily.

STUDENTS' PUBLICATIONS.

The Colby Echo is published fortnightly by the students during the college year, and is now in its seventeenth volume.

The Oracle is an annual volume published by the students during the third term.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

The Association is organized on the same plan with those in most other colleges of the country, and is affiliated with them. It has for its members the Christian students of the college, and is designed to help them to Christian growth and manhood, and to furnish them with facilities for helping others. It conducts a weekly prayer and conference meeting, which once a month takes the form of a Missionary Concert, holds a special conference meeting the first Sabbath morning of each month, provides for occasional sermons from eminent preachers, and seeks and uses opportunities for Christian work, both in college and in the neighboring communities. It thus, in important respects, takes the place of a living church. The President of the college coöperates heartily with the Association, and the weekly Conference of which he has charge is practically its meeting.

The Young Women's Christian Association maintains regular meetings for prayer and conference, and affords to the young ladies the advantages of united effort and Christian sympathy.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

A religious service of singing, reading of the Scriptures, and prayer, is held in the College Chapel every morning, except Sundays, at nine o'clock, and all the students are required to be present. Excuses for absence from chapel must be presented to the Registrar.

All undergraduates are required to observe reverently the Sabbath and to attend public worship. Where they shall attend shall be determined by the election of each one, if of age; if under age, by the election of parent or guardian. At the close of each term a statement of church attendance is required to be presented to the Registrar.

EXPENSES.

The cost of education in our large colleges is every year becoming more burdensome, and in the case of many is a positive interdict to the benefits which they offer. The charges at Colby for tuition, room-rent and incidentals, are but little higher than they were in the early years of the college, notwithstanding the increase in the number of the officers of instruction, and in the general expenses of conducting its affairs.

The expenditure per annum of a student may be less, it is believed, than in any other college of equal grade in New England. The following is an estimate of some of the more prominent items:—

Tuition,	per annum,	$60 00
Room-rent, one-half of a room, average,	"	22 50
Term expenses,	"	31 50
Books.	"	12 00
Fuel,	"	15 00
Light,	"	2 50
Board (37 weeks at $3.00 in clubs),	"	111 00
Washing,	"	12 00
Furniture (cost averaged upon four years),	"	14 00
Sundry other expenses,	"	6 50
		$287 00

When two persons occupy one room the charge for room-rent is from $12 to $18 per term according to the location of the room. Room-rent for a single occupant is from $10 to $16 per term.

TERM BILLS.

An account is kept of each student's absence from all exercises upon which his attendance is required; also of his general conduct and scholarship. This account, in connection with the regular term bill, is sent to the student's parent or guardian at the close of each term. Term bills are due at the beginning of the succeeding term. Persons admitted to advanced standing, if not from another college, are required to pay back tuition; but no matriculation fee is exacted in any case.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The Annual Commencement occurs on the Wednesday next preceding the Fourth of July. There are three terms in each year. The Fall term begins thirteen weeks before the Wednesday next preceding Christmas, and continues — with recess of one day at Thanksgiving — thirteen weeks.

The Christmas recess is two weeks in length.

The Winter term begins two weeks after the Wednesday next preceding Christmas, and continues ten weeks.

The Spring recess is usually two weeks in length.

The Spring term begins thirteen weeks before the Wednesday next preceding the Fourth of July, and continues thirteen weeks.

The first college exercise of each term is the Chapel service on Thursday morning.

No student is allowed to be absent a term or leave town during term time, involving absence from a college exercise, without permission from the President. Special attention is called to the fact that no student can be absent from the regular college exercises, even for a few days, without serious loss.

Students, upon application to the President, are permitted to be absent for the purpose of teaching during the second term (ten weeks), and, in consideration of the intellectual discipline thus gained, are credited with attendance as if in college. They are, however, required to make up the work gone over in their absence, by their respective classes.

EXAMINATIONS.

There is a public written examination of the classes at the close of each term, beginning on Friday and closing on Tuesday. The final examination of the Senior class ends three weeks before Commencement.

Any student intending to be examined on deficiencies, whether he has been engaged in teaching or not, shall report in writing to the Librarian, on or before the first Thursday of any term, the studies on which he is prepared. Examinations will occur on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the opening of the term, by the several officers in the order posted in the Library.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

The University has at its disposal seventy endowed scholarships, amounting to $80,000. The income of these scholarships, varying from $36 to $90 per annum, is devoted to the assistance of worthy students needing aid, under the following conditions, established by the Board of Trustees: —

1. The student shall satisfy the Committee on Scholarships that he is in need of assistance.

2. The student shall be in constant attendance upon college work, unless prevented by reasons satisfactory to the Faculty.

3. The student shall be obedient to college laws and duties, and aid will be withdrawn for any and all terms when he is under discipline.

4. No aid shall be granted to any student who uses tobacco or intoxicating liquors, or frequents billiard saloons.

When aid is granted, save in exceptional cases, the amounts in the four successive years are thirty-six, forty-five, fifty-four and sixty dollars, respectively. The average is thus nearly equivalent to the charge for tuition.

PRIZES.

The following prizes are offered during the present year: —

SENIOR CLASS. A prize of fifteen dollars for excellence in composition.

A first prize of ten dollars and a second prize of five dollars for excellence in the course in German.

JUNIOR CLASS. A first prize of fifteen dollars and a second prize of ten dollars for excellence in declamation and composition.

A prize of fifteen dollars is offered to the side which excels in the Junior Prize Debate.

SOPHOMORE CLASS. To the young men: a first prize of ten dollars and a second prize of five dollars, for excellence in declamation.

To the young women: the Hamlin prizes for the same amounts, for excellence in reading.

FRESHMAN CLASS. The Hamlin Prizes. To the young men: a first prize of ten dollars and a second prize of five dollars for excellence in reading.

To the young women: one first prize of ten dollars and one second prize of five dollars for excellence in reading.

ENTRANCE PRIZES. For superior excellence in preparation for admission to college: a prize of fifty dollars, and a second prize of twenty-five dollars, to each division of the class. The special examinations for the entrance prizes will be given during the first term in the departments of Greek, Latin and Mathematics.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

University Extension teaching has been conducted by the Faculty of Colby University for the past two years, and is now recognized as an important feature of the college work.

The motive of University Extension is education, and the effort is made to widen the sphere of the college and university, and to offer to all some of the advantages of college studies, carried forward by collegiate methods under the direction of specialists in the various departments of study.

The instruction is carried on by

1. Lectures. A course will consist of three or more lectures upon a chosen subject, and these will be given at intervals arranged to suit the convenience of the lecturer and the classes, and will be accompanied with printed outlines distributed to the audience. These outlines, in addition to a topical review of the course, will contain suggestions and readings for further study.

2. Class Work. At the close of each lecture a brief conference is held for questions and discussions upon points brought out by the lecture. This will constitute the Extension Class, attendance being optional, though earnestly recommended. Methods of study will be explained, and where practicable, collateral readings assigned, and written exercises required upon the ground covered.

The following courses are offered for 1894-95:—

- | | |
|---|-------------------|
| 1. Aryan and Semitic Languages. | 5 Lectures. |
