Dean of the College
Earl Smith

We are grateful for the opportunity to work in a community that renews itself each year with bright, energetic young people; to be invigorated by such splendid faculty colleagues;

to meld our life work with a passionate belief in the liberal arts;
and to be part of a team that fervently believes in this great institution."

-Dean Smith at the Inauguration of President Adams

The Senior Class would like to thank Dean Smith for his years of service to the College, and especially the Senior Class. As he moves on to his new position as specil assistant to the President, we wish him all the best.

I felt there was something special and memorable about the atmosphere at Colby. It seemed to me to be truly an atmosphere that honored individuality and yet was not in the least inclined to cloister it, that it was an environment which fostered independence and offered no exemptions from challenge.

Eavan Boland
Irish Poet
Faculty
“In essence, Administrative Science is about how to get organized, how to figure out what needs to be done, and then how to go about doing it. This technique works well in managing organizations, and it’s not a bad approach for much of life.”

-Lenny Reich

“Don’t start reading Danielle Steele! Read Raymond Carver or Stephen Ambrose or Toni Morrison or George Lipsitz. My god, you graduated from Colby!”

-Charles Bassett

“In the future, everyone will have fifteen minutes of fame.”

-Andy Warhol
"The frontiers of biology are many, from molecular biology to organismal biology to ecology. You have the ability and training to make a contribution to pushing back the frontiers. Follow your heart!"

"Life is one big timed exam."
-Whitney King

"Non sum uni angulo natus, patria mea totus hie mandus."
-Seneca

Translation: I was not born for the sake of this one corner, this whole world is my homeland.

-Former President William Cotter
"People are wishful, not to say romantic, in their desires, and they much prefer easy and direct solutions to their problems... It is this wishfulness which makes the public so susceptible to the propaganda of both illiterate reformers and self serving special interests."

-George J. Stigler

"I am always afraid of determining on the side of envy or cruelty. The privileges of education may sometimes be improperly bestowed, but I shall always fear to withhold them, lest I should be yielding to the suggestions of pride, while I persuade myself that I am following the maxims of policy; and under the appearance of salutary restraints, should be indulging the lust of dominion, and that malevolence which delights in seeing others depressed."

"You philosophize when you reflect critically upon what you are actually doing in your world. What you are doing is, of course, in the first place, living. And life involves passions, faiths, doubts, and courage. The critical inquiry into what all these things mean and imply is philosophy."

Looking to the Future?

The Colby Baseball team used the 2000 season as a rebuilding year, especially for its pitching staff. Of the Mules' 12 pitchers, 10 were freshman, while the other two were sophomores. Colby began its season with its annual trip to Fort Meyers, Florida where it played eight games in six days. The team lost its first two games but bounced back with three straight wins. Upon returning to Colby, the team had an up and down year, but showed signs of promise with wins over Brandeis, ECAC finalist, Tufts, and World Series qualifier, Southern Maine. In the 2001 season the teams hopes to build on the positive foundation of 2000, and band together behind the leadership of seniors Lou DiStasi, Andy Tripp, and Bill Goldman.

The 2000 Colby Softball team had yet another successful season, winning 18 games, against 12 losses. As always, the team started its season in Fort Myers, Florida, playing 10 games in seven days against competitors from around the country. Among the teams' victims were Salve Regina, Plymouth State, and Union. Coach Richard Bailey also earned his milestone 300th win on the trip. The team came back from Florida with its best start ever, a record of 7-3, which helped set the tone for the rest of the season. In the 2001 season the Colby Softball team will be looking to improve on 2000's success behind the leadership of senior captains Stephanie Greenleaf and Elizabeth Oberlin.

The Colby Women’s Lacrosse team finished a very successful 2000 season with a record of 11-6, which earned the team the 20th ranking nationally. Early season wins over nationally ranked St. Mary’s and Randolph-Macon gave the team the fire it needed to finish as the fourth place seed, gaining home field advantage for the first round of the ECAC Tournament. Colby defeated Wheaton College in round one, then went on to knock off the number one seeded Bowdoin Polar Bears at Bowdoin. In the finals, Colby suffered a tough loss to Connecticut College, a game that finished 13-12 with a Colby shot hitting the post in the final seconds. In 2001, the Lady Mules will hope to repeat the success of 2000 and then some, following the examples set by the strong senior class of Katie Lee, Angela Pappas, Valerie Cooper, Emily Brooks, and Robin MacColl.
Men's Lacrosse

Success in 2001

The 2001 Colby Men's Lacrosse Team is hoping to build on the success of last year's team by following the leadership of returning seniors Jimison Foster, Matt Cohen, Bill Getty, Jon Lay, and Alec Porteous. This year the team will face some tough competition in games against NESCAC rivals Middlebury, Bates, Bowdoin, Trinity, Tufts, Amherst, Connecticut College, and Wesleyan. It will be up to a solid senior class and an energetic supporting cast to build on Colby's tradition of excellence.

NESCAC CHAMPIONS - 1988, 1999
ECAC FINALISTS - 1999

David Zazzaro will enter his ninth year as head coach of men's lacrosse. He is the winningest men's lacrosse coach in Colby's history with a record of 67-43. In 1998, Zazzaro was the New England Division III Coach of the Year. Zazzaro earned a degree in political science in 1991 from Drew University, where he was a standout soccer and lacrosse player. During his senior season, he was invited to participate in the North-South Division III All-Star lacrosse game in Maryland. He began his coaching career at SUNY-Potsdam in 1991, serving as assistant coach for the men's soccer and lacrosse teams. Zazzaro also serves as the Director of Club Sports, the assistant men's varsity soccer coach, and head junior varsity coach for men soccer. During the summers, he is the director of the Total Lacrosse Camp (The Loomis Chaffee School, Windsor, CT) and the Colby College Lacrosse Camp. In addition, he works at various soccer and lacrosse camps throughout New England.
Men's Tennis

The 1999-2000 Tennis team endured one of its toughest schedules to date, facing five top 20 regionally ranked teams. The team finished the spring with an 8-6 record. Over Spring Break, the team traveled to Hilton Head, S.C., where they played five matches against cross-regional opponents. The team managed a 3-2 record on the trip, which saw them bounce back with a 4-3 win over Brandeis after suffering a heartbreaking loss to NESCAC rival Connecticut College the day before. Upon their return to Colby the team posted a 5-4 record, which secured them a spot in the NESCAC Tournament. At the tournament Colby made it to the third day for the first time in a number of years. Senior Owen Patrick (featured below) was one of the team's most important players. Patrick's hard-nosed play earned him honors as a semifinalist at the NESCACs, as well as at the Middlebury Invitational.

Track & Field
Men’s & Women’s Crew
In the Fall of 2000, the Colby Football team shrugged off past troubles and returned to prominence in the NESCAC. From the get go the team was ready for battle, which showed in the thrilling 27-24 season opening win over rival Williams. Through a tireless work ethic and unwavering resolve, the team built on its season opening win going on to a 7-1 record--its best in three seasons. The Mules won the CBB for the first time since 1996, and were NESCAC Co-Champions. Seniors Mark D’Ambrosio, Andy Tripp, Justin Pare, Jagon Meadow, Dave McGeehan, Drew Johnson, Christos Hatzidakis, Lou Digtasi, Dennis Clark, Matt Carter, and Jared Beers were the foundation for a determined and driven team and were complimented by a talented core of underclassmen.

The Colby Women’s Volleyball Team returned four starters from its 1999 season. With holes to fill, the team looked to seniors Reagan Carey and Jessica Libben, and returning starters Amanda Cusato and Laura Reese, for leadership and solid performances. The team used its mixture of experience and youth to put together an excellent season against some tough NESCAC rivals.

Colby Women’s Tennis ended the season four and four with big wins over Connecticut College and Bates. Finishing 12th overall at New England’s, the Women’s Tennis team had three players advance to the quarter-final round. Although they are a vary young team, each season shows continual improvement. They are looking forward to a strong spring season!
Field Hockey

Under the leadership of captains Jane Stevens '01, Becky Downing '01 and Marcia Ingraham '02, the 2000 team returned a large core of starters and many other experienced players waiting to fill the remaining spots. Returning in goal was four-year starter and senior captain Jane Stevens. Steven's consistency and ability to make crucial saves was important in ensuring the success of the team. The defense remained largely intact, with captain and two-time Regional All-American Marcia Ingraham leading the backfield. Joining Ingraham in the backfield was returning starters Brook Brisson '02 and Lauren Rodier '02, both of whom have excellent marking skills. With a combination of depth and experience, the White Mules can be counted on for a successful and exciting future.
Men’s & Women’s Cross Country

Colby’s distance training program is divided into four or five phases. Each phase focuses on the improvement of a different energy system. Workouts are designed to improve cellular adaptation, improve running economy, increase maximum oxygen capacity and elevate lactate threshold. The emphasis is on individual development. Heart rate monitors are used occasionally to check correct intensity levels and every effort is made to ensure that each individual is challenged without over- or under-training.
With a younger team than Colby has seen in several years, the 2000 cross-country season could have been facing a rebuilding year; however, the return of 6 of the team's top 8 runners left the team in good shape. The nucleus of the team was left intact, and was led by senior Tiffany Frazer. With a host of young runners Colby had to regroup and depend on an inexperienced team to rise to the challenges of a very competitive cross-country season.

The Colby Men's Soccer team faced an uphill battle in 2000. The team came into the season having lost two starting seniors, one a captain, and then suffered the early loss of a starting forward. Inexperience troubled the team throughout the season; however, behind the leadership of captains Bill Getty and Jay Freedman, and seniors Justin Amirault, Noam Dorro, Doug Johnson, and Evan Reece, the team battled to finish with a .500 record. Highlights of the season for the team included a tie with ECAC champions, Tufts, and a 1-0 win over Bates, which marked the completion of coach Mark Serdjenian's 25th season as head coach. -Special thanks to Bill Getty.

The 2000 season marked a new schedule and playoff system in the NESCAC for the Colby Women’s Soccer team. Senior Captain’s Katie Rowen and Sara Lovitz, with seniors Anne Hottle and Carolyn Szum, led a talented group, looking to ensure Colby’s sixth straight post-season appearance. The team finished the Season with an 8-7 record, which earned them a trip to the post-season and the NESCAC seven team tournament.

Men's & Women's Ice Hockey

The 2000-2001 season marked the second season in which the Colby Women's Ice Hockey Team played in ECAC division III. The Lady Mules looked to senior captains Jodie Chapman, Regan Carey, and Amy Bonnifond for leadership, and were lead to a 10-7-4 record.

Success in 2000-2001

The 2000-2001 Colby Men's Hockey Team finished the season with a 12-5-1 league record and a 15-9-1 overall record. Led by a solid senior class of Greg Stutman, Jeff Fighbone, Marc McEwen, Steve Cunningham, Mike Dalton, Freddy Perowne, Ken Kears, Chris Tashjian, and Ryan Kelly, the team earned the number three seed in the 2001 NESCAC Tournament. Unfortunately Colby ran into a very hot Hamilton squad that defeated the Mules 4-0.

Looking Back on 1999-2000...

Coming into the 1999-2000 season the Colby Men's Ice Hockey team was pumped up for the return of a solid core including Freddy Perowne, who scored the majority of the goals in 1998-99. Colby began the season with a sweep of Hamilton and Skidmore, which was a positive sign because Colby was beating the teams that had traditionally been trouble. Colby was 6-1 heading in to winter break. Following the holidays, the team was ready for battle as they rebounded from a loss to RIT, to beat up on USM 10-1. In January, the Williams Ephs proved tough competition once again, as Colby tied the first meeting and lost in the second. The team continued its rollercoaster second half with wins over Trinity and Amherst, losses to Middlebury and Norwich, followed by wins over Conn. College and Wesleyan. The team then went on to the NESCAC Tournament where it beat up on Wesleyan again, but suffered a tough loss in the next round to Williams.

Men’s & Women’s Squash

During the 2000-2001 Men’s Squash season, the team was ranked as high as number 10 by the National Intercollegiate Squash Racquets Association and finished the season number 11. Colby won the CBB Championship for the second time in three years, and also had the individual champion. Seniors Mike Natenshon, Preston Amoe, and Rob Henzi provided veteran leadership for the rest of the team, which looks to be even stronger next season. Over the past two seasons the team has improved steadily, finishing number 18 in the 1999-2000 campaign and number 11 this past season, after having played the team’s toughest schedule in its history.

The 2000-2001 Colby Women’s Squash season was the best in team history. The team went to the national finals, were it was ranked an impressive number 11 in the country. The team’s depth was the key to its success, and will prove important in next year’s season. Despite the loss of seniors Whitney Dayton, Emily Mahlman, Anne Garinger, and Liz Wainwright, the Colby women’s squash team will be looking on to bigger and better things in the 2001-2002 season. As Whitney Dayton says, “we wish ya’ll a little ganash, a little special time, and a great ’01-’02 season.”

Men’s & Women’s Basketball

Two Hoopsters hit 1,000 points

The 2000-2001 Colby Men’s and Women’s Basketball Seasons saw a milestone achieved, not once, but twice. On the Men’s team, senior Sam Clarke reached the 1000-point career mark, while Kim Condon of the Women’s team achieved the same. Below, Kim Condon drives to the basket.

Leadership Counts

Colby’s Women’s Basketball team entered the 2000-2001 season riding the leadership of senior captains Kim Condon and Jen Hallee. Condon and Hallee, along with support from senior Mandy Cochrane, a solid sophomore class, and team chemistry that is second to none, have helped Colby to a 17-5 record entering the final weekend of the season. If the team should win both games in the final weekend they would secure home court advantage and the first ever Colby hosted NESCAC tournament, with the winner gaining an automatic NCAA Div. III tournament birth. Throughout the 2000-2001 season Colby Women’s Basketball pulled together, gaining much respect throughout the New England. With contributions from every player and unsurpassed camaraderie Colby will surely be hard to beat in the 2001 playoffs, and in years to come.

-Special thanks to Kim Condon.

Dick Whitmore, who also serves as Colby's Director of Athletics, completed his 30th season at the helm of the men's basketball program. Colby has compiled a record of 508-226 for a .693 winning percentage during his tenure. Whitmore, a 1965 graduate of Bowdoin College, has accumulated 25 winning seasons and taken his teams to postseason competition 20 times in the last 27 years. He was honored as Maine College Coach of the Year in 1973, 1975, 1981, 1995 and 1997. He was inducted into the Maine Sports Hall of Fame in 1998. Before arriving at Mayflower Hill in 1970, Whitmore coached at Morse High School in Bath, Maine, and at Hall-Dale High School in Hallowell, Maine. He is the co-director of the Pine Tree Basketball Clinic, which is conducted on the Colby campus each summer.

Colby Men Go Down Under

The Men's Basketball team embarked on a trip of a lifetime to Australia this summer. The team ran into flight delays and jetlag on their trip to the other side of the world. While in Melbourne they played, practiced and toured the city, while playing eight games in six nights. The team also got a peek at the Sydney Olympic Center during a visit to Sydney, home of the 2000 Summer Games. Said one Mule of the trip, "The days were probably too packed, but we found Melbourne to be a city of many faces and great cultural experience. From the gold mines of Ballarat, to the seaside at Dromana, to the rain forest in Dandenong and to Traralgon in the Latrobe Valley we viewed the city and country life of Australia up close and personal. The public transportation is unbelievable, the kangaroos a spectacle, the people extremely hospitable and the style reserved, but the arenas a little cool."
Skiing

The Colby ski team, which received varsity status in 1986, won five Eastern Intercollegiate Skiing Association Division III titles between 1987 and 1992. The program moved to division I in 1993 and finished 15th at the NCAA championships that year. In 1994, Colby was host to the NCAA Championships at Sugarloaf/USA. On-snow training is conducted on Colby’s 10-kilometer groomed trail system and at the Nordic Touring Center at Sugarloaf/USA, which has had the most consistent snow in the region over the past several years. The winter season begins in November with training camp at the Winter Sports Academy at Fort Kent, Maine. Racing begins in early December, but January and February are the peak of the season when the whole team competes in carnivals and the New England Junior Olympic Qualifying races. The season concludes in March with the NCAA and Junior Championships.

Clubs & Organizations
The Sirens are those enchanting vixens whose song teases and dances upon the harmonic fruit of all souls. These vixens close their eyes and melt into the music that is manifested in their hearts, and the sweet melody frolics afar, whispering in the distance beyond the mysterious fog, to be heard and felt by the senses of nature, but truly understood only by those who sing it. The Sirens are a family, learning, growing, creating, and loving together. We celebrate each time we gather, not only because we are a tightly-knit group, but mostly because we honor the music within ourselves.
Colby Dancers is a student-run club. It’s about dance, friendship, and above all, FUN!

DANCER QUOTES:
“Nobody puts Baby in the corner.”
“Before the performance comes the practice.”
“... dance like nobody’s watching.”
“... dancing is a perpendicular expression of a horizontal desire.” G.B. Shaw
“War is not a necessity of life, Dance is!”
“To dance is the hidden language of the soul, of the body.” Martha Graham
“O body swayed to music,
O brightening glance, how can we tell the dancer from the dance?” WB Yeats
The Colby College Chorale is comprised of approximately 70 singers, all students. For members of the class of '01, the 2000-2001 season is the culmination of a four-year experience that began with a spring tour to England (March 1998); other trips to Hartford and New York City followed, as well as several concerts on campus. Repertoire for the current season included choral works by Benjamin Britten and George Frederick Handel, and several choruses from 19th-century operas. Paul Machlin, the current director, is both respected and admired by his students. In essence, the Chorale is an elite group of professionals.
POWDER AND WIG 2001
Broadway Music Review

What is BMR? BMR is one of the craziest groups on campus— it involves being up on stage, belting out showtunes, jazz squares, crazy choreography, BMR bonding, and MUCH MUCH MORE!

Each semester, the group puts on three performances packed with at least twenty different musical numbers. The shows, known for their audience participation, occurs in Page Commons where the entertainers mingle with their guests by serving lemonade, popcorn, and other tasty refreshments during intermission. Their selections of songs ranges anywhere from pieces by Stephen Sondheim and Andrew Lloyd Weber to Rogers and Hammerstein and Gilbert and Sullivan. The groups is highly competitive and ranges anywhere from fourteen to eighteen people. During the year of 2000-2001, BMR was directed by Rachel Rokicki ‘01 and Andrea Taylor ‘03. Their motto is “come one and come all!”

Colby Christian Fellowship (CCF) is a chapter of the Intervarsity Christian Fellowship and it provides opportunities for fellowship, worship, prayer, Bible studies, and Christian service. The 2000-2001 year brought huge numbers to CCF and many new and exciting events and activities.

The Colby Eight is Colby’s oldest a cappella group. This year was a particularly successful one for them, taking on five new studs to add to the bunch. Kyle, Stan, and Gavin are the resident seniors of the group. Eric directed again, and the boys set out making music. "How the Grinch Stole Ramadan" is a fond memory for all:

"Dear Mr. 'I'm too mean and cruel to celebrate Christmas,' This will be the last present I ever give your ass
So this is my flea collar I'm sendin you, I hope you like it,
Shit I'm in my doghouse now, I'm gonna take my water bowl and spike it.

Hey Grinch, I just drank a fifth of vodka... dare me to pull your sleigh?
You know that song by Backstreet Boys, 'I Want it That Way?'
Well that's kinda how this is, Grinch, I coulda been your rudolph
We coulda sat around and thrown rocks and scared the Whos off.
But now it's too late, I've got fleas and ticks and lice
And you're moping around about how ruining Christmas is so nice.
And all ever I wanted was a little pat or recognition
But instead you just seek the joy in your own destructive mission.
I hope you're happy, Grinch, look at what you made me
I chase around my own tail and have to lift my leg to pee.
So I'm leavin. You can go ahead and get yourself another,
Grinch, I'm not gonna spend my life bein' a color."
Women's Group

The Women’s Group is a club where women and men discuss issues that concern women’s experiences both on and off-campus. It also is dedicated to actively promoting women’s rights.

Habitat for Humanity

For the past few years, Habitat for Humanity has taken its annual service trip to Beaufort, South Carolina home of Colin Widener, working alongside future home members. Habitat members construct homes and assist in general contracting duties. The group always has a wonderful time and revels in their accomplishments.

MASSAGE CLUB

The massage club has several goals. The first is to relax. We live in a high stress environment and a good massage will help relieve that stress. The second goal of the massage club is to learn about massage therapy. We sponsor several workshops throughout the semester, and we are building a small library of reference material. We learn a lot from the lectures, but we learn the most from each other. “The best way to learn about massage is to get one.” It's definitely a fun way to learn.

The final goal is to develop trust among each other. We try to create a safe comfortable environment where we can learn together. Letting someone give you a massage can be an exercise in trust, therefore we make every effort to open clear lines of communication. Massage Club is just a nice place to relax and hang out with good people. Everyone is welcome.

Asian Cultural Society

Asian Cultural Society is a club dedicated to raising awareness about Asian culture and traditions. We sponsor home-cooked Asian dinners open to the Colby community and celebrate holidays such as the mid-autumn Moon Festival, Diwali (The Indian Festival of Lights), and Chinese New Year.
Colby Emergency Response

Colby Emergency Response (CER) is an extension of Colby's Garrison-Foster Health Center. CER works in conjunction with security to provide on-campus safety. CER is a group of radio-dispatched student Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT). They are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week during the academic year.

Muslim Group

The Muslim Group was established to serve as a group where Muslims on campus can have a community to pray, talk about issues in Islam and the Muslim world, and educate both Muslims and non-Muslims about Islam. Every week we have a Friday prayer which is obligatory for every Muslim male and highly recommended for every Muslim female. In addition if we feel Islam is not being properly represented in some way by on campus sources, we feel it's necessary to address the issue and give the proper Islamic perspective and clear any misconceptions and fight any falsehoods.
The Colby Outing Club, founded 1492, is the only paramilitary organization on the Colby College Campus. The Charter of the COC states that the goal of the club is to expand the borders of the United States into Canada. This goal has stayed with the club through the years.

Our tactic for achieving this goal is to loan out gear, and lead trips to areas like Maine, New Hampshire, and as far away as Nevada and California. The equipment loaned out to allow members to get familiar with some of the gear that will be needed for the pending invasion. The trips have three purposes: to train wilderness survival skills, scout terrain, and to increase membership across the country.

Recently, our plans were greatly helped with the building of the new CO headquarters, a nicely furnished cabin on Great Pond. Increased recruitment has upped our timetable, and we hope to take British Columbia (great skiing!) by early Fall 2006. By June of 2007, the invasions of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland will be complete. Fighting a three-front war will quickly deplete Canada's limited military resources, and the rest of the country will follow within a year. Remember the COC motto, "The only good Maple is a tree."
The fall of 2000 brought with it not only a Presidential election, but also the strong resurgence of the Colby Democrats. The Colby Dems became heavily involved in local Waterville politics as well as fighting for Democratic Presidential candidate Al Gore here in the state of Maine. We registered over one hundred students to vote through registration drives. We assisted the campaigns of Democrats Ken Gagnon and Marilyn Canavan in their quests for the State Senate and State House of Representatives, pounding the pavement for them during multiple literature drops in Waterville. We participated in campus debates about the Presidential election. Three different field trips brought the Dems to see Tipper Gore, Al Gore, and his running mate "Jumpin'" Joe Lieberman. On election day, we teamed up with the State Democratic Coordinated Campaign in city-wide Get-Out-The-Vote efforts. That evening, hours of phone banking resulted in an above average turnout of Waterville's Democrats to the polls. Although the Colby Dems were responsible for single-handedly delivering the state of Maine to Al Gore, we take the most pride in having helped Ken Gagnon (a Colby employee) and Marilyn Canavan (whose daughter is a Colby grad) bring home the victories in our own backyard. No recounts were needed in Waterville.

The Colby Dems wish the best of luck to the class of 2001.
I CAN FEEL IT. YOU WANT TO PLAY BADMINTON. YOU NEED TO PLAY BADMINTON. ALL YOU CAN THINK ABOUT IS BADMINTON. SO LET THE GAMES BEGIN

THE BRIDGE

Students Organized Against Racism’s goal is to combat racism at Colby by educating and encouraging faculty, students, administrators, and staff to actively address the insidious nature of racism and initialize changes to reduce the effects of prejudice and bigotry within our society. Together we can achieve a more tolerant and egalitarian society that will benefit us all.

The Bridge - Colby’s very own GLBT group - is responsible for many of the queer themed events on campus. This year we helped out with the YES on 6 campaign for equal rights in Maine and although it didn’t pass, the campaign was a great experience for us to learn a little about how state level politics work. We also celebrated National Coming Out Day by giving away rainbow stickers, sending out an informative mailing about what means to be queer, and bringing speakers to campus to discuss their own coming out stories and comics to entertain and educate. We also take field trips to expand our knowledge such as the conference on GLBT issues at the University of Maine in Orono, ME; and we went to the March on Washington last year...
