Words of Wisdom

Statements from faculty writers in college yearbooks are almost invariably solemn. Solemn and more than a little pretentious. Afloat on words like integrity; and moral seriousness, and ambivalence. I myself have written such uplift for Oracles past.

Not in 1992. By the time most Colby people get this yearbook, a new year — and a new life — is well started, and all everyone wants is to find a favorite friend's photograph. Or to chortle over how awful a former hated rival looks in his senior picture (your own intrinsic charm shines clearly in your photo — or is it a reflection from the Pond?)

Thus, no sermonette from Bassett this year. My English composition students tell me they learned all the right stuff in kindergarten, in any case, so it's obviously too late for words to the wise in your college yearbook.

Even the worst, most sluggish of you loons, however, are wiser for your four years on Mayflower Hill. You've come up a protracted notch from that beer-drenched dweeb (still chilblained from Katahdin on COOT), to your present cool, suave, sophisticated self. You took Passionate Expression, Adolescents in Schools and Society, Quantum Physics, Jazz, Contemporary Japanese Politics, Business German, and the American Short Story. You're liberally educated and petrified that you'll become a permanent temp. at H. & R. Block in Belfast.

But, "people person" that you are, you'll talk and think and bamboozle your way to respectability — you Horatio Alger wanna-be, you — just as you fooled Dean Serdjenian in your Colby years. You'll return — sleek and confident — to tell me that you finished The Scarlet Letter, which I assigned you in 1988. How can diligence and enterprise like this fail?

Yes, you'll be OK, but I'll be retired when you come back for your tenth reunion in '02 — Scarlet Letter glowing on your bosom — and will only recognize you only dimly.

Except for Dwyer, who got me with the pie in EN353. I'll remember her.

Good luck to all of you. Keep in touch!

Fall Devastators

All-American cross country runner Michelle Severance '94, led Colby to victory over Middlebury last Saturday with a 72-yard touchdown.

Dave McCarthy '93,

This week's Devastator(s) is the Colby football team. By beating Bowdoin 28-13, the team secured its first winning season since 1979 with a record of 5-3. The Mules also wrapped-up their fourth straight CBB title, and finished with the second-ranked defense in the NESCAC.

John Conaty DEVASTATOR '93, free safety on the Football team, continued to be a big-game player for Hamilton, setting up two Colby touchdowns with a blocked punt and a pass interception. He also had six solo tackles and two assists.

This week's Devastator is the Women's Tennis Team's Lisa Black '92. Black, who was 6-2 in singles competition this year, won her third consecutive Maine State Championship, an accomplishment that has not been achieved in at least 20 years. Way to go, Lisa !!!!

Women's Soccer Team. Against Norwich, goalie Johnson stopped all nine scoring attempts. In Colby's 3-0 blanking of UNE, she stopped all six shots. Two shut-outs—not bad! □

Mike Eash '93, Captain of the Woodsmen's Team, led the charge as the squad won its first-ever international competition.

Meredith Johnson '92

The new 2,100-square foot Colby physical therapy center was dedicated in his name at its opening ceremony on Saturday, November 9.

DEVASTATOR of the week

This week's Devastator is men's basketball co-captain John Rimas '92. In last Saturday's victory over UMass-Boston, in which he had 20 points and 5 rebounds, John joined Colby's hoop elite in the 1,000 point club.

men's hockey goalie Eric Turner '92. In the victory over Bowdoin, Eric had an amazing 50 saves on 51 shots. And in the 3 games he has played, Eric has made 100 saves on 107 shots for a .935 save percentage. Way to go,

This week's Devastator (s) is the Men's Swimming Team. The Water Mules, who were at the New England Division III Championships this past weekend, broke a whopping 15 Colby records !!!

This week's Co-Devastator is Men's Squash Captain impressive 5-4 at #1 singles since January, led Colby individual singles tournament at Bates this past Sunday Mikey!!!!

John Daileanes '92
Men's basketball

Men's basketball co-captain John Daileanes '92, went out in typical Daileanes fashion, scoring 38 points in the ECAC final loss to Brandeis. The "Duke" put together a tidy 28.3 scoring average this year, totalling 735 points for the season and 1605 for his career. The season mark was second-best in Colby history. Daileanes is an almost sure bet to be named All American.

Women's Swimming

Co-captain Sura DuBow '92, set 6 school records on the women's swimming and diving team. "Sura had an outstanding year," said coach Sheila Cain of her top breastroker. "[Sura] was a very solid leader, in and out of the water." Dubow was the team's sole representative at Nationals, and will be nominated by Cain for Academic-All American.

Mike Keller '92

Meredith Johnson '92

Colby's other co-Devastator is Women's Squash Tri-Captain Meredith, who qualified for nationals this past weekend, was the Intercollegiate Squash's highest Sportsmanship Award. Great Job, Meredith!

This week's Devastator is men's hockey player Mike Flynn '92. Flynn scored two goals, including the game-winner, in Colby's 4-3 victory over Hamilton. Nice

Spring Devastators

DEVASTATOR of the week

You might have noticed that a recurring theme throughout this section has been the weather and the havoc it has wreaked on Colby sports. Who--or what--is therefore more qualified to be our Devastator? Well, Snow, if you were trying to get our attention, you succeeded, so here's a little more. About ten sporting events were cancelled, and it's April 16. Don't you have something else to do?

This week's Devastator is Colby baseball tri-captain Jim Dionizio '92. Jim, a third baseman, is currently one of the top hitters in NESCAC, batting over .500. Way to smack the pea around the yard, Jimbo !!!

This week's devastator is Kebsa Tolbert '94, of the Men's Track team. Tolbert was the only member of both record-breaking 4x100-meter and 4x400-meter relay teams. Way to move, Kebsa!!!

This week's (and the year's final) devastator is Captain Tom Capozza '92, of the men's track team. Capozza led his team to a third place finish at NESCACs by winning the long jump and setting a new NESCAC record of 22'11". Nice hang time, Tom

This week's devastator is the cycling team's Eric Johnson '93. Eric, a transfer student from UMass, qualified for Nationals for the third straight year. In a field that included 45 teams and hundreds of cyclists, Johnson finished third overall in this past weekend's Eastern Collegiate Cycling Championships. Way to

Jennifer Grace Alfond

Condon Metal Award

Christy Merrill O'Rourke
1992 Class Speaker

This is a proud moment and one that I would finally like to share with my parents. Surprise!

Time has passed by so quickly that when the Female Experience class asked me how old my mother was I said thirty-five. She is definitely young but she is no thirty-something.

I would like to start off my speech by dedicating it to two very special people.

First: To Jodi Lynn Spear who went to France with me as a Feb Freshman. We will always cherish the memories we had of Jodi. We know in our hearts that she is smiling with us today. Second: To Dr. James J. O'Rourke, my Grandfather, who recently passed away in Yonkers, New York. I was very fortunate to be able to speak to my grandfather four days before he passed away. I was telling him how honored yet how nervous I was about giving this speech. He said, "Chris, Dear, just say whatever comes from your heart and you will make people smile."

Those few simple words gave me an emotional reaction — one which every single one of us here today and in the whole world experiences. And those are goose bumps. Goose Bumps, those tiny little pimples that develop all over your body when you experience pain or pleasure. Some people call them the chills but I have decided that there is a big difference between the chills and goose bumps.

I remember my first case of the chills at Colby. I was late getting to Orientation in January due to heavy fog in the D.C. area. I finally arrived, after a treacherous drive in the snow, and dizzy from seeing so much farmland on 95, and saw my new school and home for the very first time. My mom and I spent the night in a hotel without heat and both caught colds. The next morning we drove up, teeth chattering and miserable, and my mom left me with a few comforting words while sitting in the car: "Honey, it is much too cold for any human being to live up here — Well, good luck and have fun — love to stay, but, I'm outta here!"

I tromped off to my first college class one hour late. I walked into the Lunder room, in a cold sweat, to see most of my friends from France. Their smiling faces did not cushion the blow from the wrath of Mr. David Mills. In his serious tone Mr. Mills boomed out, "Miss O'Rourke. I presume, have a seat in the front row and we will talk about the late policy during break." I nearly cried, but I got the chills instead. I thought to myself, nice going O'Rourke, what an impression you just made on your first Colby professor.

I remember getting a distinct case of the bumpers when I went to the ECAC Colby Men's Basketball finals our sophomore year. I sat directly in the middle of the crowd and cheered like Dickie Burton might at a skating competition. It was towards the end of the game and everyone was on his/her feet cheering wildly. I stopped for a second and looked around at all of the faces in the crowd. Every person, from Colby and Waterville was doing the exact same thing. We were all so excited — everyone was smiling and experiencing the same emotion.

It was at that moment that I knew Colby was the best choice I could have ever made. We all love to get together and go crazy. Any kind of bonding experiences give me the goose bumps, but, when an entire community can get together and get immersed in the same thing and experience happiness, I get a royal case of the bumpers.

I love to watch people lose their inhibitions and just have fun with themselves. It was my mother who taught me "who cares what anyone else thinks as long as your actions are tasteful and you are having fun." We have to admit that Colby has been a haven for Dance Fever wanna-bees. What would we have done without student center parties? I have to thank the stores in the greater Waterville area that suited us up for every type of costume party from disco to Grease to the Flintstones. Thank you all for making Colby laugh, sing, and dance. You provided us with tension relievers when we needed to smile.

I truly believe that if people just talked and made each other laugh — then life might be a little more enjoyable. Laughing is therapy, crying is too, but I prefer to laugh. The whole reason I have raised the chills/goose bumps issue is to help each of you recognize your true reactions to things. Just because our time at Colby has ended does not mean that our spirit, creativity, and imaginations have to leave us.

I believe that if we took a closer look at our reactions towards issues, people, love, and nature then we could act accordingly. If you feel strongly one way or another then speak up about it. Find your voice and utilize it. It is up to our generation to continue on in the tradition of creating change and making a difference in the world.

So these were supposed to be the best four years of our lives — well — let's see if we can dispel that theory and make every single day the best day of our life. I found this quote, on Easter Sunday, with a few very special friends. I hope that these few simple words will change your perspective on life: There are no strangers in life, Only friends you haven't met yet. Nothing gives me bigger goose bumps than meeting a new friend.

To end I'd like to say thank you to the greatest group of college graduates north of Augusta — You have given me goose bumps for four years!

1992 Commencement Speaker

First of all, it's cold. I want this to either be funny or quick. When you laugh your temperature goes up and your blood rushes. There's a lot of old people out there, and cold is no fun to old people. Secondly, I'm watching the weather change right before my very eyes. It's sort of just going by, and so is my life. Thirdly, I was excited about standing here and shaking hands and hugging, but the pace which you entered this thing, I thought they were handing them out to you as you were coming around. $23,000 a year, you should get a lot more than that. We should be indoors, we should also have a free weekend in some warm climate with a plane taking us away.

But then again, I've heard about you all from the faculty and the trustees. Last night you were drunk, and now your hung over. So I thought maybe that's why it took so long — some of you were dead and they were sort of pumping you up and bringing you in here. I'm trying to figure out what Colby is all about, here. Is it a school full of drunkards who pay $23,000 a year in rehab, and that's why it's so cold? Obviously that is not Outward Bound. It's close, but it's not Outward Bound.

And they haven't fixed the motels. Poor Miss O'Rourke and her mother. I was confused. I thought that you came to visit and see if you like the place, then went home and made the decision. But it appears that once you come up here you're in, and your parents leave you. So it is Outward Bound. It is. This is Outward Bound. You all think that you're graduating from college. Your parents sent you here to punish you.

But enough of that. Why are we here? To leave. That's what it's all about. Your time is up . . . What did you do in the four years? Most of you will probably go to work for your parents, and I want to thank the parents for doing that. Rather than sending out somebody with low self esteem to work for somebody else, keep your kid working for you. Notice how your parents were ticked about that.

You guys are supposed to be ready for what? Gonna turn you loose. You're leaving Maine. That's for sure. What are you prepared for? Let's start this way. You own your own business, and here you come. And you know you. You know how you behaved here. You know how you studied preparing for an exam. Was it for a grade, or was it for knowledge? Did you have a love for learning . . . did you do your best? That's all old people ever ask you to do. Why? Because they know that's the way life is.

There are places where human beings are just not human beings anymore — they're numbers, they're cubicles, there's no blood, there are no eyes. And if, in whatever number of years this happens . . . that we can make God's product a machine and man's product a human being, we will have defeated God. You've got to know each other or you can't survive, not if you care about yourself. Nor if you care.

Don't be afraid. When you leave here you're going to have a support system. They have to support you. You are their blood. They don't want to be embarrassed, so they'll let you come back home. The only people who really don't want you back there are your siblings. They got your room all fixed, I mean, they wish you would stay away. They'll hug you today, but they really don't like you anymore, because they thought after you graduated college you would be gone . . . forever. Now you're coming back — this is not a nice sight. I would advise that you stay awake all night because they're going to sneak into the room!

I will not wish you good luck. It's silly. You've got an education now. You don't need luck, you need perseverance. They're graduating all over, and you are coming. Colby. What? Well by the time you explain where it is, they've given the job to somebody else. So you've gotta be ready, but not afraid.

You're young. You won't realize how young you are until you have a kid graduating from college. And that's going to frighten you. You are going to say, "Oh my God, they're turning that loose?" You think you're old people now. You think you have responsibility. You have nothing. You've got a diploma. Your parents sent you here to get an education. Why? Because you were dumb.

Enjoy your life, but it's not that important, not until you hit 50. And then when you turn 60, your philosophy of life is set, you're wonderful. The only thing I know about 60 is what an old man told me. He had great wisdom, and we were supposed to run in a race at 11 o'clock and they postponed it until 2 o'clock. We had been out there warming up, and this old man looked at me and said, "I'm not running." I said, "Why?" and he said, "Because I'm too old to warm up twice."

You are in your 20's. You can warm up lots of times. But don't do it on purpose. Do you understand? Don't make excuses anymore. When you come home, don't lie to us and don't make up excuses. When you're wrong, say it — and mean it. And we will love you forever. Good luck. Take care.

To My Dear Class of 1992,

By the time you finally receive your yearbook, we will have embarked on a new year. I apologize for the delay, but good things come to those who wait. When I took a position on the yearbook editors staff, I never expected to be in the situations I have been in for the past six months. The trials and tribulations of trying to finish the book have truly tested my patience. Though I traveled the road as the lone editor the last few months, I never would have made it at all without the help and support of many special people and friends.

There are several people that I would like to thank, because without their help you probably wouldn't have received the book until 1994! First thank you goes to Bill Hanna '95. You provided yearbook knowledge to the seniors on staff who never had it and never will. Mary Ellen Matava of Public Affairs and Scott Davis, thank you both. Without your picture taking, there would be no sports section. Yugho Yamaguchi, thanks for your patience and pictures. K. C. Scott and Stan Smith, I still don't know where you are coming from but, thanks for your help. Amy Vreeland, thanks for making me laugh and handling things I couldn't deal with.

Mr. Cole Harris (our first Taylor representative), the staff treasured the few times we could actually arrange to meet with you, thanks for everything. Mr. Jeff Graffam (our second Taylor representative), I appreciate all you went through to get Colby what we wanted. You dealt with more than your fair share of problems and politics, and I thank you for your help. Dean Smith, thank you for your advice and help in finding a way to keep some color in our book. And lastly, Di and Ted thanks for just listening, you both helped me through some rough times and kept me sane.

So, it is finally done. I hope you enjoy the book for the next 50+ years. Deep down, I know that the extra time and effort was worthwhile. I look forward to seeing you all at reunions and hope that you will continue to love and support Colby. Take care and stay in touch.
