

Session 4

"Take Me to the River": Photography and Place

Mike Kolster, Associate Professor of Art

The session will involve the viewing of glass plate positives, or ambrotypes, of the Los Angeles River, and some digital prints made from scans of them. Our discussion will focus on how certain places persist for many as "hidden in plain view" and will try to examine the extent photography has shaped this perception.