1. Tennyson's "Locksley Hall":

"Comfort? comfort scorned of devils! this is truth the poet sings,
That a sorrow's crown of sorrow is remembering happier things."

2. By William Makepeace Thackeray, first published 1848-1850. This novel became one of EAR's favorites.