A booklet, Colby, with illustrative material, has been prepared for prospective students and may be obtained from the dean of admissions.

Colby College is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges. Membership in one of the six regional accrediting associations in the United States indicates that the school or college has been carefully evaluated and found to meet standards agreed upon by qualified educators. Colleges support the efforts of public school and community officials to have their secondary school meet the standards of membership.

Colby College admits qualified students of any race, religion, or national or ethnic origin without regard to sex or handicapped status. It does not discriminate on the basis of such criteria in its educational or employment policies, or in its athletic, scholarship, loan, or other college-administered programs. Colby is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and operates in accordance with federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination.

The college reserves the right in its sole judgment to make changes of any nature in its program, calendar, academic schedule, fees, deposits, or any other matters in this catalogue.

Colby Yesterday and Today

In 1813, when Maine was still a part of Massachusetts, a group of Baptists secured a charter for the Maine Literary and Theological Institution, and in 1815 received a grant of land on the Penobscot River. Permitted subsequently to erect the institution on a site other than the land grant, they chose a tract in Waterville on the west bank of the Kennebec, where in 1818 the Reverend Jeremiah Chaplin began instruction of seven theological students.

The first legislature of Maine in 1820 granted the institution the right to confer degrees, and in 1821 changed the name to Waterville College, with Jeremiah Chaplin as the first president. William King, Maine’s first governor, had been instrumental in securing the original charter, and was himself for many years a member of the board of trustees.

Though founded by Baptists, the college, even in its earliest days, was not narrowly sectarian. The Maine charter decreed that no applicant should be denied admission on grounds of religious belief. By 1830 the theological course had been abandoned, and the institution became, and remains today, distinctly a nonsectarian college of liberal arts. Though without official ties to any denomination, the college is proud of its Baptist heritage and support.

When the Civil War threatened to force closing of the college, the struggling institution was saved by a generous gift from Gardner Colby, a prominent Baptist layman of Newton Centre, Massachusetts, and in 1867 the grateful trustees changed the name to Colby University. In 1899, sensing that the college had never become a university if fact, the board changed the name to Colby College.

In the first class receiving degrees in 1822 was George Dana Boardman, pioneer of a long line of Colby missionaries to foreign lands. A graduate in 1826 was Elijah Parish Lovejoy, who suffered martyrdom for the cause of freedom of the press when his persistent antislavery articles led to his death at the hands of a mob in Alton, Illinois, at the age of thirty-four.

Colby first admitted women in 1871, when Mary Low was the lone female student. By 1890 the number had so increased that President Albion Woodbury Small proposed, and the trustees adopted, a system of coordination, providing for men’s and women’s divisions with separate classes. In time coordination... changed to coeducation, and Colby is now officially a coeducational college.

After World War I, Colby found its campus confined to thirty crowded acres hemmed in by the tracks of the Maine Central Railroad. On the campus were ten buildings, while six others sprawled into the downtown area. In 1930 the trustees voted that "as soon as feasible" the college must move to a new site.

For twenty anxious years after this decision, President Franklin Winslow Johnson led a valiant and finally successful campaign to move the college, despite the obstacles of a great depression and World War II. Colby was gradually transferred, between 1943 and 1952, to its new site on Mayflower Hill, on land given by the citizens of Waterville.

In 1942 Dr. Johnson was succeeded by President J. Seelye Bixler, who for eighteen years extended and solidified the program on the new campus, securing national acclaim. During the presidency of Robert E. L. Strider II, 1960-79, Colby strengthened its academic programs through faculty development, tripled the college's endowment, and added eleven new buildings, including a science complex, a performing arts center, and an art and music center.

In September 1979 William R. Cotter was inaugurated as Colby's eighteenth president. His initial year was distinguished by significant innovations and developments: the establishment of the Ralph J. Bunche Scholarship Program for outstanding minority students; an extensive curriculum review; authorization by the board of trustees for a new dormitory and a major renovation-expansion of Miller Library; the establishment of Colby overseers to serve as an advisory council to the college; and a program of visiting committees in academic and administrative areas.

The growth of Colby since the transfer to Mayflower Hill has been striking. On 900 acres there are now forty-one buildings and several playing fields. Enrollment has risen from 600 to 1,600, and students come from two thirds of the states and many foreign countries. The faculty, numbering fifty-six in 1940, now is 152. Endowment has increased from three million to twenty-five million dollars. The physical expansion has been accompanied by growth in variety and quality of the curriculum.
In 1963 Colby College observed its 150th anniversary with a series of events emphasizing the college’s heritage and its re­sponsibility for the future. That academic year was a milestone, but no event had more significance for the college than its selec­tion by the Ford Foundation for development as a “regional center of excellence.” Colby received in June 1962 a challenge grant of $1.8 million in the foundation’s Special Program in Education, which was successfully matched on a two-to-one basis in three years. Officials of the Ford Foundation chose a select number of liberal arts colleges to be included in the pro­gram “because of the importance of the liberal arts—the hu­manities, natural sciences, and social sciences—in cultivating the thoughtful leadership and independent opinion essential in a free society.” Colby has continued to explore the possibilities of the liberal arts, experimenting with educational innovations—enriching the traditional liberal arts program while re­maining responsive to a changing universe.

<th>COLBY TODAY</th>

| Colby is a coeducational undergraduate college of liberal arts committed to the belief that the best preparation for life in our world, and especially toward the professions that require further specialized study, is a broad acquaintance with human knowledge rather than narrowly concentrated training in limited areas. Colby is concerned with ideas and values as they are inherited from the past, as they are perceived in the present, and as they may be developed in the future.

In addition to a comprehensive investigation of our heritage, Colby students are urged to explore through their electives and to concentrate by choosing a traditional major or interdisciplinary or area studies.

Consistent with the philosophy of the college, responsibility is given each student in the determination of the academic program and in the regulation of social life and daily living. Toward this end, advising, guidance, and counseling are available. The recommendations of the Constitutional Convention in 1969, adopted by the board of trustees, and of a similar convention reconvened in the spring of 1972, revised the governmental structure of the college to make possible a productive sharing of responsibility in the reaching of decisions. Through work on committees at both the faculty and board levels, this process involves students, faculty, and alumni, as well as the administration and trustees.

Emphasis on independent thought and enterprise by students is nothing new. Colby’s January Program of Independent Study, initiated in 1962, encourages the student to acquire the habit and the methods of exploring a particular field of knowledge on his own, which can be carried over beyond graduation and through life.

Students are strongly advised to consider graduate study in further preparation for the professions. Each year a number of graduates enter divinity, law, and medical schools, and graduate schools of arts and sciences, business, education, and engineering.

On the occasion of the college’s 150th anniversary, in connection with a convocation dedicated to the general subject Heritage of Mind in a Civilization of Machines, President Strid wrote: ‘‘Colby and other colleges were founded upon ideals that have not changed. A center for sound learning in the quiet wilderness of Maine in 1813 was something to be desired. The quiet wilderness almost everywhere is gone, and the cacophonous megalopolis that stretches the length of our Atlantic coast..."
has crept to the margins of the forests to the North. But the need for sound learning remains, and the human race, wherever it is found, still faces the fundamental questions that are prompted by man’s perennial curiosity.” In the 1980’s Colby College is maintaining this commitment.
The Campus

In 1977 Colby observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of the move from its original site in downtown Waterville to Mayflower Hill, two miles west of the city. Today forty-one buildings stand on a campus of 900 acres, one of the most modern and beautiful in the nation.

The first was Lorimer Chapel. The main chapel, in early New England style, contains an organ built in the classical tradition by Walcker of Ludwigsburg, Germany. Its specifications were drawn up by Albert Schweitzer. The Rose Chapel adjoins the main building.

At the center of the campus is Miller Library, described in a section that follows.

The new science center consists of three buildings connected as a unit: the Seeley G. Mudd Science Building for physics, geology, and mathematics; the Keyes Building for chemistry; and the David Kenneth Arey Life Sciences Building for biology and psychology. The science library for the center is in Keyes.

The humanities and social sciences are located in the Elijah Parish Lovejoy Building, named for the 1826 Colby graduate who was America’s first martyr to freedom of the press. Here are classrooms, faculty offices, laboratories for modern languages and psychology, and an auditorium.

Administration offices are housed in the Eustis Building.

The Bixler Art and Music Center has classrooms, studios, an art and music library, Given Auditorium, rehearsal hall, and practice and listening rooms. The Museum of Art, with the Jetté Galleries and the Marin Gallery, is a major segment of the center. The Lenk Building includes studios for painting and design as well as workshops for wood and metal sculpture. Emphasis in the college’s permanent collection is clearly in the American field, but the British Isles and Europe are represented by paintings, sculpture, prints, and drawings.

Colby is a residential college where students are expected to live and eat on campus. Classes are distributed equally through all eighteen dormitories, some of which are coeducational.

A new residence hall, located on the wooded slope behind the chapel, is expected to be completed by the fall of 1981. Designed to take optimum advantage of passive solar energy, the building will accommodate 100 students in four-person suites, as well as in single and double rooms.
In addition to these dormitories, there are eight fraternity houses, where students live but not dine. In special circumstances, some students have the option of living off campus.

Set into a hillside, the Garrison-Foster Health Center opened in the fall of 1976. The first floor is devoted to outpatient treatment and service rooms. The second floor has inpatient facilities: a twenty-four-bed infirmary, first aid room, lounge, study carrels, kitchen, and dining area.

Roberts Union, completely renovated in 1977, serves as a student center. The facility has two dining halls, the Seaverns Bookstore, a post office, and the student spa and pub. In addition to numerous meeting rooms for campus organizations, the center also has a pottery studio, darkrooms, and is headquarters for the Student Association, the outing club, and all student publications, as well as the campus radio station, WMHB.

In September 1980, a student-operated coffee house will be opened in Mary Low Hall.

Completed in 1976, the Performing Arts Center in the Ninetta M. Runnals Union features the 274-seat Strider Theater, with orchestra pit and balcony. Above the balcony are control booths for lighting, sound, and projection. Workshop-storage areas and, on two levels, dressing rooms are behind the stage. The second floor has the Dunn Studio for dance.

Indoor sports facilities are in the physical education and athletic complex and consist of the Wadsworth Gymnasium (badminton, volleyball, and four basketball courts), Alfond Ice Arena, the fieldhouse (an eighth-of-a-mile track, a baseball diamond, and four tennis courts), the Dunaway Squash and Handball Courts (consisting of seven singles and one doubles), the swimming pool, saunas, and two weight training rooms.

Outdoors there are some fifty acres of playing areas: two football fields, one baseball diamond, fourteen tennis courts, three soccer fields, as well as fields for men’s and women’s lacrosse, field hockey, rugby, intramural competition, and recreation, a quarter-mile track, and cross-country courses for running and skiing. Community facilities include bowling lanes and riding stables.

The entire Mayflower Hill campus has been designated by the Maine legislature as a State Wildlife Management Area. Part of the woodland has been set aside as a wildlife sanctuary,
The Perkins Arboretum and Bird Sanctuary, and includes 128 acres.

In the Belgrade Lakes area, near Waterville, the college owns the Colby-Marston Preserve, a thirty-four-acre tract containing a kettle-hole bog. The preserve, which is considered a classic example of a northern sphagnum bog, has been classified a Registered Natural Landmark by the United States National Park Service. It is used for teaching and research in the fields of biology, ecology, and geology.

Near the coast, at Head Tide, the college owns the birthplace of Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Edwin Arlington Robinson. Maintained as a memorial, the house is open on specified days each summer for visitors.
The Library

The Miller Library, at the center of the campus, is about to undergo an extensive renovation that will dramatically increase accommodations for readers, book collections, and staff.

The library furnishes printed and audiovisual material for assigned and recreational reading, reference, research, and independent study. Reading rooms and individual carrels in the main library and in departmental libraries provide study areas for approximately one third of the students. The library is a member of the New England Library Network. The main building is open from early morning until late at night during the academic year, and mornings and afternoons each weekday in summer. Miller Library houses the humanities and social science collections, college archives, and special collections.

An open-stack system allows browsing through the collection of 360,000 volumes. The library has 1,400 current periodicals, with strong retrospective runs, and daily newspapers from this country and abroad. In addition, on file are specialized types of material such as microfilms of newspapers, periodicals, and documents, a spoken-record collection, some films, and video tapes. Miller Library is a selective depository for United States government documents.

There are two libraries devoted to departmental collections. The Bixler Center has the Ambrose Coghill Cramer Room for the library of fine arts and music. The science collections are housed in the Allyn-Smith Science Library of the Keyes Building.

Special collections of first editions and manuscripts in Miller Library have achieved international recognition. The Edwin Arlington Robinson Memorial Room, named for the famous Pulitzer Prize-winning Maine poet, contains his books, manuscripts, letters, and memorabilia. The Thomas Hardy Collection is one of the most extensive in the country. Other authors represented in the Robinson Room include A. E. Housman, Sarah Orne Jewett, Kenneth Roberts, Henry James, Willa Cather, John Masefield, William Dean Howells, and Thomas Mann.

The John and Catherine Healy Memorial Room contains the James Augustine Healy Collection of Modern Irish Literature, with numerous inscribed copies, manuscripts, and holograph letters of William Butler Yeats, Sean O’Casey, James Joyce, George Bernard Shaw, and many others. The Healy Collection has 6,000 primary and critical sources representing the Irish Literary Renaissance, 1880-1940.

The Alfred King Chapman Room houses the college archives, which hold over 4,000 manuscript files pertaining to Colby graduates, faculty, and staff dating from 1813 to the present. Also included is an extensive collection of books by Colby graduates and faculty.

The Colby Library was selected in 1962 by the New England Chapter, Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, as repository for all records and documents of the Academy of New England Journalists.

The Colby Library Associates, founded in 1935, is an organization of friends of the library, many of long standing. Dues are used to purchase books, manuscripts, and letters that the library could not otherwise acquire. Members receive the Colby Library Quarterly.
The Academic Program

The courses in the curriculum are classified under four divisions. In the Division of Humanities are art, classics, English, modern foreign languages, performing arts, and music. The Division of Social Sciences includes administrative science, economics, education, government, history, philosophy, psychology, religion, and sociology. In the Division of Natural Sciences are astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, and physics. The Division of Physical Education and Athletics, besides offering courses, administers the intercollegiate athletic and intramural sports programs.

Certain interdepartmental courses take content and staff from more than one department, and sometimes from more than one division.

The student at Colby normally takes from twelve to eighteen credit hours in each semester.

To assure distribution among the divisions mentioned above, students must include English composition and literature, a foreign language (unless exempted by examination), and courses to meet "area" requirements in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. Programs should be planned so that the majority of these requirements are met within the first two years, leaving the junior and senior years for "major" concentration and for free electives. Students should, however, avoid overconcentration in any department or division.

Each freshman is assigned to a member of the faculty who advises him during the first year; at the end of that year he is assigned a new adviser from the department in which he has declared his major.

Prospective students frequently ask what subjects they will study—especially in the freshman year. It would be misleading to present any specific pattern of courses for either of the first two years. The programs of individual students may vary widely because there is considerable latitude within the requirements. The student preparing for a scientific career or the study of medicine will begin electing scientific subjects at once. Many major departments in both the natural and social sciences recommend mathematics for the freshman year. Each student should discuss his prospective program with his adviser, noting carefully the recommendations and requirements of areas in which he might later wish to major. As a service to new students seeking assistance with their academic programs, the office of the dean of students maintains a “hot line” on which specific questions can be answered.

Graduation Requirements

To qualify for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a candidate must meet specific requirements in quantity, quality, distribution, and concentration, and must also complete a January program for every first semester in residence to a maximum of four (see also January Program of Independent Study).

Quantity

A minimum of 120 semester credit hours, at least 105 of which (hereafter called “basic credits”), including all distribution requirements, must be earned in conventionally graded academic courses or specifically designated nongraded courses (see also Flexible Credits, Residence).

Quality

A minimum of 210 quality points in 105 basic credit hours. For each basic credit hour, a mark of A entitles the student to four points, a mark of B to three points, a mark of C to two points, and a mark of D to one point. For each plus mark, .3 quality point per credit hour is added; for each minus mark, .3 quality point per credit hour is deducted. No points are given for marks below D. Two points are awarded for each hour of Cr in basic nongraded courses.

Distribution Requirements

1. English Composition and Literature: Six credit hours. This requirement will be met by English 115 and 152.

2. Foreign Language: A basic knowledge of one ancient or modern foreign language. This requirement may be met in one of five ways:
   (1) By attaining before entrance a score of sixty in a College Entrance Examination Board foreign language achievement test.
   (2) Successful completion of three hours in course-numbered above 123 in a modern foreign language by enrolling in 121, 122, 123, 124, 131, or 141 as determined by the score on the appropriate placement examination, and pursuing courses in sequence until the requirement is fulfilled.
(3) Successful completion of a classical language sequence terminating with either Greek 131 or Latin 232.
(4) For a transfer student who has studied a foreign language not taught at Colby, the requirement will be fulfilled if he has completed at an accredited institution the equivalent of a second year of that language at the college level with marks high enough to make the work acceptable toward the Colby degree.
(5) For a foreign student whose native language is not English, knowledge of his native language will be recognized as fulfillment of the language requirement, subject to the approval of, and possible testing by, the department of modern foreign languages.

II AREA REQUIREMENTS
A minimum of six credit hours in each of the areas described in III below. Three of the credit hours in the natural sciences must involve laboratory experience.

III AREAS
A. HUMANITIES
Art
Classics (except Ancient History)
English (except 111, 112, 115, 152, and 271)
Greek Latin
Modern Foreign Languages (above the intermediate level)
Music
Performing Arts (except 251)
Philosophy and Religion (certain courses: Religion 211, 212, 223, 224, 351, 352, 353, and 358; Philosophy 313, 355, 356, and 372; philosophy and religion seminars when topics are relevant)

B. NATURAL SCIENCES
Astronomy
Biology
Chemistry
Geology
Mathematics
Physics
C. SOCIAL SCIENCES
Administrative Science
Ancient History Economics Education
Government
History
Philosophy and Religion (except courses listed among the humanities)
Psychology
Sociology

PHYSICAL EDUCATION
One year of physical education is required for graduation.

RESIDENCE
Candidates for the degree must earn in residence at least sixty credit hours, including fifty-three basic credits with a 2.0 cumulative average. They must be resident students at Colby for at least four semesters, including the last two semesters before graduation. A resident student is defined as a full-time student taking at least twelve credit hours.

Credits earned at another institution while concurrently registered at Colby may not be applied toward graduation requirements.

EXEMPTION BY EXAMINATION
When appropriate, either all college or area requirements, as well as certain requirements for the major, may be absolved by examination without course enrollment, at the discretion of the department concerned. Credit hours can be earned under specified conditions.

OPTION FOR CERTAIN STUDENTS
A student returning to college after an absence must meet any new requirements for graduation if he still needs more than one half of the total number of credit hours required for graduation. If he still needs no more than one half of the total number, he may meet either the new requirements or those in effect when he first enrolled.

MAJOR
Near the end of the freshman year, each student elects a tentative major in which he wishes to concentrate. The major may be chosen in a single subject, in one of a number of designated combinations, or in a specially designed independent major. Students are encouraged to reexamine their choice of major during the sophomore year.
The respective academic departments and programs specify the courses constituting a major in each department or program. Before selecting a major, the student should acquaint himself thoroughly with the requirements detailed in the section on Divisions, Departments, and Courses of Study.

With the consent of the departments or programs concerned, a student may change his major. Forms for officially effecting such change must be obtained from and returned to the registrar's office.

Any student whose accumulated quality points in the major are less than two times the number of credits earned has lost his right to continue with that major. A student who has thus lost his major may, with the consent of the department or program concerned, be accepted or retained for one semester as a probationary major. Each department or program designates the courses to be calculated in the major average.

A student may change his major at the end of the junior year if he has completed, with the required points, the equivalent of at least twelve credit hours toward the fulfillment of the new major. If, at the end of his junior year, a student finds no department or program in which he can be accepted as a major, he cannot continue in the college. If, in the senior year, the cumulative points in courses completed toward the major fall below the required number, the major requirement is not fulfilled, and the degree cannot be awarded.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL MAJORS

Approved interdisciplinary majors are offered in the following areas:

- American Studies
- East Asian Studies
- Studies in Human Development
- Studies in Western Civilization

In addition, combined majors are offered in the following areas:

- Administrative Science-Mathematics
- Classics-English
- Classics-Philosophy
- Economics-Mathematics
- Geology-Biology
- Geology-Chemistry
- Philosophy-Mathematics
- Philosophy-Religion
- Psychology-Mathematics

INDEPENDENT MAJORS

A student may design an independent major by presenting a detailed written proposal prepared with the support of an adviser who agrees to assume responsibility for the program throughout its course. Normally there will be at least one other adviser who will help to shape and direct the program. The program must include integrated course work representing from one quarter to one third of the total credit hours required for graduation. Implementation requires the written approval of the independent major board, which is made up of the dean of the faculty, two faculty members elected from each division, and two students appointed by the Student Association. An annual report is required from each independent major and his adviser, which will include any minor changes in the program; substantial changes, or a change of adviser, must be referred to the board.

READING PERIOD

During the two weeks preceding the final examinations at the close of the second semester, a special reading period is scheduled for many courses numbered in the 300's and 400's. Not a time for review, this period frees the student from the routine of class meetings so that he may devote full time to independent study of freshly assigned reading or laboratory work. Although classes do not meet, instructors are available for consultation. Reading-period assignments are tested in the final examinations to a maximum of one third of the examination time.

Whether to have a reading period is decided by each instructor, who informs students whether classes are to continue meeting during the two weeks. Reading periods are not held in courses exempted from final examinations.

JANUARY PROGRAM OF INDEPENDENT STUDY

The January Program of Independent Study, introduced in 1961-62, grew from a desire to extend to students a greater measure of academic responsibility. Formal coursework of the first semester begins immediately after Labor Day and extends to the start of the Christmas holiday; this includes semester examinations. Administratively, the January program is officially part of the first semester. The second semester starts in February, freeing January for projects distinct from regular class meetings. January is a period during which topics may be pursued singlemindedly, free from the competing demands of an orthodox curriculum.
Great diversity is evident in the nature and conduct of the projects, which may be undertaken with a group or independently. Upperclass students may work on campus or away, in laboratories, museums, libraries, hospitals, professional offices, government agencies, and the like. The college does not impose restrictions on the subject matter nor on the method of research, but each project must have demonstrable academic or creative merit and be conducted through direct supervision by the faculty sponsor or an off-campus supervisor working with the sponsor.

Because the January program assures most students considerable flexibility in use of their time, it offers a chance to participate fully in extracurricular activities in athletics, drama, music, and other fields. While students are encouraged to attend the lectures, seminars, concerts, and art exhibitions scheduled by the college, they are expected to spend thirty to forty hours a week on their January program topics.

The concept of January as a period of study or field experience extends to faculty as well. At least half serve as program sponsors; the others, relieved of teaching, have an opportunity for writing, reading, and research.

To be eligible for graduation, each student must successfully complete one January program for each first semester in residence unless he studies abroad or on exchange during the second semester with the approval of the college. (For students entering Colby in September 1981 and thereafter, three January programs will be required, including one taken during the freshman year. In the fall of 1980, the faculty will consider adjustments in the January program requirement for students already in progress toward their degrees.)

Beginning in 1981-82, credit options will be added to the January program. Programs may be offered for two or three credit hours, either basic or flexible depending on the subject matter; noncredit programs will continue to be offered. The January program requirement for graduation can be satisfied with credit or noncredit programs; credits earned in January permit students to reduce the number of credits for which they would otherwise need to register during semesters.

Registration for the program takes place during the first semester, when descriptions of group projects and a list of faculty available during January are published. Two options are offered:
(1) Group plans, designed primarily for freshmen and sophomores. Freshmen are required to take group plans.
(2) Individual plans for upperclass students. These projects must be approved by the sponsor’s department.
Most departments require that one independent (nongroup) January program be done in the major. Each student is responsible for knowing the January program requirements of the major.
A fine is charged for late registration. A student failing to register for a program by the end of the third day of the January program will be considered to have failed the program for that year. A student may not register for two concurrent January programs.
January programs are graded honors, pass, or fail. Marks of Abs (absent from final examination) or Inc (work otherwise incomplete) may be given only in cases where the student has an excuse from the dean of students. A grade of CF (conditional failure) may be reported if the sponsor judges the work generally creditable but flawed by errors or inadequacies which may be corrected by the student. Projects receiving grades of Abs, Inc, or CF must be completed by the end of spring vacation.
Make-up of a deficiency is arranged in consultation with the faculty sponsor and the director of the January program. Make-up proposals must be registered by the third Monday in April. Departments may permit not more than one January program deficiency to be made up by successful completion of a summer school course approved in advance for this purpose by the department. Students may not, at any time, apply credits thus earned toward any other requirement for the degree, nor may they register for more than one make-up January program during any semester, summer, or January period.
A student whose record shows two January program deficiencies will be placed on probation by the committee on standing.

 SENIOR SCHOLARS

This honors program permits a limited number of seniors to devote six credit hours per semester to a project approved by a faculty committee and pursued under the guidance of a faculty member. A final report is judged by three faculty readers and, upon successful completion, the senior scholar's report is deposited in the college library. Senior scholars are cited in the commencement exercises.

Colby has a Junior Year Abroad program in France, established in 1970 with the University of Caen. Details of the program are available from the department of modern foreign languages.

Colby is a member of the Associated Kyoto Program, which makes possible a year of study in Kyoto, Japan. In addition, Kansai Gaikokugo Daigaku of Osaka annually makes a tuition scholarship available to a selected Colby student.

By agreement with Manchester College Oxford, limited numbers of Colby nominees are accepted for a year of study there.

Many opportunities for study abroad in these and other countries are available through the programs of other institutions or by independent arrangement.

Permission to study abroad during the junior year is given by the committee on foreign study and student exchange programs. Credit for such study is guaranteed only if the student follows a program approved in advance by the major department and the committee. Application must be made by November 15 for spring-semester study abroad and by April 15 for fall-semester; forms can be obtained from members of the committee. Approved applicants must notify the dean of students office of their plans by December 15 for a second semester abroad or by May 1 for a first semester abroad.

Committee approval presupposes an academic record for the first three semesters sufficient to give promise that the student will complete his program of foreign study with credit to himself and to the college. No student on probation will receive committee approval.

The committee administers the Harold D. Walker Scholarship Grants for study and travel in Latin America, the French Government Scholarship Fund for study abroad in French language and literature, and the James Perry Class of 1911 Fellowships for study abroad with preference to students admitted to a college or university in the Near East.
EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

Colby participates in student exchange programs with Fisk University in Tennessee, Howard University in Washington, D.C., and Pitzer and Pomona colleges in California. Ordinarily, exchanges are arranged for a single semester of the junior year. Each student pays tuition, board, and room charges at the home institution; travel is at the student’s expense.

A course exchange program is in effect with Thomas College (Waterville). Students may obtain information about exchange programs from the committee on foreign study and student exchange programs. Colby students away on exchange may not do January programs during the academic year they are away unless they have one or more January program deficiencies.

OFF-CAMPUS PROGRAMS

A limited number of qualified students may earn up to fifteen hours of academic credit by one or more off-campus field experiences which have a direct, demonstrated relationship to their major field of interest. Such field experiences may be done while in residence at the college, concurrent with regular course work, or away from campus while on a leave of absence. Students must submit a formal proposal, to be approved by the appropriate academic department in advance of the start of the field experience. In some situations, students earning Colby credits in this program are charged an administrative fee.

An opportunity is provided for a limited number of Colby students in their sophomore and junior years to participate in the various Washington Semester Programs organized by The American University in Washington, D.C. Through these programs, students can obtain firsthand knowledge of the national government as it deals with the crucial problems of cities, foreign policy, economic development, and scientific advancement.

Colby is one of eighteen institutions participating in a one-semester program in American Maritime Studies taught at the Mystic (Connecticut) Seaport Museum and accredited through Williams College.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Colby has traditionally encouraged the enrollment of students from other countries and is actively engaged in programs of international cooperation and exchange.

Students from foreign countries other than Canada should write to the dean of admissions for a preliminary application form. Upon its receipt, the college will determine whether or not the candidate has the potential for completing the requirements for a Colby degree. If the decision is affirmative, application material will be forwarded.

Applicants should be aware that financial aid for foreign students is extremely limited.

All foreign applicants are encouraged to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) if it is offered in a student’s home country. In addition, applicants who have attended a school in which the medium of instruction is not English are required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The college has no program to teach English as a foreign language.

The adviser to foreign students is Peter Jordan, director of intercultural activities.

OCCUPUTER RESOURCES

Students have free access from more than a dozen keyboard terminals to two Digital Equipment PDP-11 time-sharing systems. One runs RSTS/E and supports programming in BASIC or FORTRAN; the other runs Bell Laboratories’ UNIX operating system and allows users to program in C, PASCAL, APL, FORTRAN, BASIC, or assembly language. Several microcomputers are also available for student use. Informal instruction is provided in the use of computers, and several courses in mathematics and the sciences make use of computer facilities.

AUDIOVISUAL CENTER

The audiovisual center in the Miller Library provides media services for the college community. In addition to offering the traditional equipment delivery and loan services, the center also produces educational materials and provides instruction in many media-related areas. Audiovisual maintains a full complement of equipment, from overhead projectors to portable video recorders.

REGISTRATION

Students must register for courses of each semester on the regularly assigned days. A fine of $5 for each day of delay is charged on the student’s semester bill for registration later than the date specified.

No student will be permitted to register later than the seventh class day of the semester, unless the dean of students certifies in writing that exceptional circumstances justify such action.

The treasurer is not authorized to permit deferred payment of any fees that the board of trustees requires to be paid in advance of registration. It is important that students understand the distinction between payment of fees and registration. Each student must complete the financial procedures specified by the treasurer before he can register.

ELECTION OF COURSES

Each semester, with the approval of their advisers, students elect programs of study for the following semester; these elections, with approved revisions, are confirmed during the registration period at the beginning of each semester. A student’s academic program must bear his adviser’s approval and be properly filed with the registrar; no credit will be granted for work in a course for which a student is not correctly registered.

With the approval of the adviser, voluntary changes in a student’s program may be made during the first eight class days of a semester, the first day of classes being considered the first day of the semester. After the eighth day, no changes may be made voluntarily from one course or section to another.

Changes of section within a course must be approved by the department or course chairman. Unless otherwise stated in the course description, no course may be repeated for additional credit. A student may not register for two courses scheduled to meet concurrently.

FLEXIBLE CREDITS

Fifteen of the 120 hours required for graduation (called “flexible credits”) can be earned in any combination of the following: (1) additional basic credits, (2) courses taken on a pass/fail basis, (3) courses specifically designated as carrying flexible credit, or (4) independent, noncurricular field experience that has a direct, demonstrated relationship to the student’s curricular program and which has been approved in advance by the appropriate departmental or program committee. Details about field experience can be obtained from the assistant to the dean of faculty.

PASS/FAIL

Students may elect a limited number of courses on a pass/fail basis (see FLEXIBLE CREDITS); these cannot include distribution requirements. Departments may specify that major courses must be taken on a conventionally graded basis; it is the student’s responsibility to be aware of the policy of his department.

Forms for declaring pass/fail options can be obtained at the registrar’s office. The form must be completed and returned no later than ten days after the end of the change of course period of the semester in which the course is to be taken. Once submitted, a pass/fail election may not be voluntarily revoked. Letter grades submitted by instructors will be converted to $P$ (for grades $A$ through $D-$) or $NP$ before being posted on permanent record cards. No information about the “quality” of a $P$ will be released by the registrar’s office, even upon request of the student himself.

A Colby student may register to audit courses (not for credit) by obtaining written consent of the instructor and his adviser. He is not charged an auditing fee, nor is the audit recorded on the student’s permanent record.

Adults who are not students of the college may register to audit courses at a fee of $5 each semester for each credit hour, provided they obtain written consent of the instructor and of the dean of admissions; the fee is waived for persons sixty-five years of age or older. Members of the college staff and their spouses may register without charge to audit courses or to take courses for credit; the necessary forms can be obtained from the registrar. Permission to audit will be withheld if the class is already too large and if auditing applications for it are numerous.

An auditor is not permitted to submit papers or perform any other function for which course credit is usually given. For this reason, auditing is seldom permitted in courses where the method of instruction involves significant individual attention and criticism. Under no circumstances can academic credit be given an auditor, nor can he later convert an audited course into an accredited course merely by paying the regular course fee. The decision whether the course is to be audited or taken for credit must be made at entry.

At the close of each semester, a period of six days is set aside for examinations in all courses except those which are specifically exempted by the chairman of the department concerned. The time and place of semester examinations are fixed by the registrar. The mark for the examination may constitute up to half of the total course mark.

No student may be excused from any semester examination except for illness or emergency so grave as to justify excuse in the judgment of the dean of students, or unless he has filed with the registrar a valid conflict-of-exams form based on his having scheduled three examinations in a single day or any four consecutive examinations. A student excused because of an examination conflict may be examined at a later date convenient to the instructor during the examination period or during a make-up date scheduled the day after the end of the regular examination period. Under no circumstances may a student be permitted to take a semester examination earlier than the date on which it is scheduled. A student is entitled to only one semester examination in any course; failed examinations cannot be repeated.

With the consent of the dean of students, a student may for unusual reason accept, in lieu of semester examination, a mark for the course equal to seventy-five percent of his average without examination. Because this procedure is costly in reduction of final mark, few request it.

Hour examinations and shorter quizzes are given as the individual instructor decides. Short quizzes may be scheduled without notice, but each instructor is expected to give one week's notice of any hour examination.

Plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty are serious offenses. The instructor may dismiss the offender from the course with a mark of F and may also report the case to the department chairman and the dean of students, who may impose other or additional penalties. A student is entitled to appeal charges of academic dishonesty to the faculty appeals board, which shall recommend action to the president of the college.

A student's class standing is determined by the number of credit hours he has passed. Freshman standing, fewer than twenty-four credit hours; sophomore, from twenty-four to fifty-three; junior, from fifty-four to eighty-three; senior, eighty-four or more.
Throughout the semester, at the discretion of the professor, warnings are sent to students. A major warning means that a student's standing at that time is below passing; a minor warning that, though passing, standing is so low that failure of the course is likely.

Official marks are issued in duplicate to students at the end of each semester. The college does not send grades directly to parents. In practice, a student often obtains his mark directly from the instructor, but the only official record is that in the registrar's office. Normally, grades are posted as A, B, C, D, E, F; pluses and minuses may be appended to grades of A through D. Courses described as "nongraded" are marked Cr (credit) or NC (no credit). If a course has been elected to be taken on a pass/fail basis, the registrar will convert the letter grade to P or NP before recording and releasing it.

In a course designated as a year course, the tentative mark, showing progress at the end of the first semester, carries no credit toward graduation; for such courses, no credit is given until the completion of the full year's work. A student who has failed a year course may not secure credit by repeating merely the second semester even if his tentative mark at the end of the first semester is passing; he must repeat the entire year to obtain credit.

A mark below $D-$, except in courses referred to in the next paragraph, indicates that a course has been failed and that credit thus lost must be made up by an additional course taken subsequently. If the failed course is specifically required for graduation, it must be repeated.

A mark of $E$ is given only in specifically designated first semester courses. The mark $E$ signifies temporary failure, which may be made up by improved work in the sequentially related course during the second semester. Passing the second semester in such a course entitles the student to a change of the first semester mark from $E$ to $D-$.

A mark of $Abs$ indicates that a student has been absent from the final examination (see examinations). A mark of $Inc$ indicates a course not finished for some reason other than failure to take the final examination. Grades of $Abs$ or $Inc$ must be made up within limits set by the instructor, and not later than January 15 for the first semester and July 1 for the second se-semester. After these dates, any remaining mark of Abs or Inc will be changed to an F. The dean of students may give limited extensions for the completion of work without penalty but only for excuses similar to those acceptable for missing a final exam.

Marks of W and WF indicate withdrawal from course, and represent the student's standing at the time of withdrawal. WF indicates that the student was failing; W indicates either passing or no basis for judgment. These marks are excluded from computation of all averages except that WF’s incurred within the last thirty calendar days of the semester are treated as F’s in averages. Withdrawal is permitted through the final class day of the semester.

For abandoning a course without permission the student shall receive an F.

The letter R is used together with an appropriate mark when a student has repeated a course previously passed, and in such a case there can be no additional credit in terms of credit hours.

When a student’s academic record is seriously deficient, the decision to retain or dismiss him from college or to place him on probation is made by the committee on standing. The committee considers both quantity and quality of work in determining progress. The faculty has endowed this committee with full power to deal with these matters.

WITHDRAWAL, LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Students who leave Colby while a semester is in progress are required to withdraw, as are students who leave at the end of a semester with no definite plans for return. Students who withdraw are not permitted to return without special approval. Students who withdraw for medical reasons must have the permission of the college physician in order to apply for readmission. Eligibility for initial or continued financial assistance from the college will be subject to review and action by the financial aid committee.

Students who leave to participate in college-approved student programs elsewhere or who leave at the end of a semester for a specified period may take a leave of absence and are not required to obtain special permission in order to return. Those who do poorly in study programs elsewhere are, however, subject to review and action by the committee on academic standing.

Such withdrawals or leaves must be officially accomplished by filing the appropriate form, which must be obtained from and signed by the dean of students. The proper exit procedure, which includes the surrendering of the student’s identification card and dormitory keys, must be followed to be eligible for any refunds that may be due (see refunds). A student who leaves without official notification is not eligible for refunds, which are computed from the date on the approved notice.

Students and alumni may have official transcripts mailed to other institutions, prospective employers, or other designated recipients only by requesting them in writing; a transcript request form is available at the registrar’s office. The fee for this service is $1 per transcript after the first. Only courses taken at Colby are listed.

Courses taken at other institutions may be credited toward the Colby degree under the conditions and circumstances listed below. In addition to the conditions listed on these pages, restrictions detailed in the section on residence requirements (q.v.) should be read with care.

(1) When students are admitted by transfer, their records are tentatively evaluated by the registrar to determine the transferable equivalent in Colby courses. These courses are credited subject to confirmation through satisfactory progress at Colby College.

(2) College level courses taken by freshmen prior to matriculation are evaluated on the same basis as courses presented by new transfer students.

(3) Students on approved foreign study or student exchange programs will receive credit under terms specified by the committee on foreign study and student exchange programs. Credits earned in summer school may be transferred if approved by the appropriate Colby department; forms for this purpose can be obtained at the registrar’s office and should be filed prior to taking the course. No student may receive credit toward graduation for more than fourteen credit hours taken in summer school for the purpose of making up deficiencies incurred at Colby.
(4) When a student who has been dropped from the college applies for readmission, courses taken during the period of separation are examined for transferable credit on the same basis as courses presented by new transfer students.
Admission

Colby College admits students as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Admission is selective, and evaluation includes data concerning academic achievement and ability, as well as qualities of intellectual promise, interest and excitement in learning, character, and maturity.

The college actively seeks applicants who have special qualities or talents to contribute to the Colby community, as well as those who represent diverse geographical, racial, and economic backgrounds. Such candidates are expected to be within acceptable ranges of academic ability and preparation.

The quality of a candidate’s preparation is judged by the academic record, the recommendations of school authorities, and results of tests administered by the College Entrance Examination Board.

To ensure a common educational base, a minimum of sixteen academic preparatory units is recommended, including: English 4, foreign language 2, college preparatory mathematics 3, history or social studies 1, science (laboratory) 1, college preparatory electives 5.

Application Procedure

(1) Candidates submit applications provided by the admissions office prior to February 1 of the year admission is desired. A nonrefundable fee of $30 accompanies each application.

(2) Colby grants early decision to well-qualified candidates who have made the college their first choice. Applicants submit application forms, junior or senior SAT’s, and three achievement tests (English composition and two others) prior to January 15, and include the printed form requesting early decision. Early decision candidates may file regular applications to other colleges with the understanding that these will be withdrawn if the candidate is accepted on an early decision basis at Colby.

College notification of action is normally given within four weeks of the receipt of the completed application but no earlier than December 1. Candidates who have not been approved for early decision are deferred to the college’s regular admission plan and are reviewed without prejudice at the usual time in the spring.

The schedule for admissions applicants is:

January 15: Deadline for filing applications for early decision admission and financial aid.
February 1: Deadline for filing applications for regular admission and financial aid.

Mid-April: Notification of action by admissions committee to regular applicants.

May 1: Accepted regular applicants confirm intention to attend Colby by payment of an advance tuition deposit of $200.

Interviews

Interviews, though not required, are available on campus from May 1 to January 31. Appointments may be scheduled between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. on weekdays, and on Saturday mornings from mid-September through January. Group information sessions are also available on these Saturday mornings.

Interviews with alumni can be arranged for students who are unable to visit the campus and would like some additional personal contact and information about the college.

Campus Visits

A visit is encouraged. Guides are normally available at the admissions office weekdays, and tours are also possible on Saturday and Sunday afternoons when arrangements are made in advance. A list of motels near the campus is available from the admissions office.

High school seniors who wish to spend a night on campus may do so through the Colby Host Program. This operates throughout the academic year, with the exception of examination and vacation periods. Requests for accommodations through the host program should be directed, in writing, to the admissions office at least two weeks prior to the visits. Accommodations are limited to one night.

For those driving, Colby is reached from the Maine Turnpike and I-95; Waterville is served by Greyhound Bus and Air New England.

Tests

Colby requires either the CEEB Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) and three achievement tests—one of which should be English composition—or the ACT tests. CEEB SAT and achievement tests are preferred. A foreign language test is recommended for students seeking exemption from the language requirement. All required tests should be taken no later than January of the senior year. A request should be made by the applicant that test results be sent to Colby. Students taking the CEEB tests should contact the College Entrance Examination Board, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey 08540 (or P.O. Box 1025, Berkeley, California 94701, for those living in Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, or points farther west). Students taking ACT tests should make requests to P.O. Box 168, Iowa City, Iowa 52243.

ADVANCED STANDING

Colby participates in the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board, providing academic credit for students qualified for advanced standing. Those interested take CEEB advanced placement tests and have them submitted to Colby for evaluation. Students scoring four or five receive automatic placement and credit from the college. Scores of three and below are evaluated by the academic department concerned.

In addition to earning advanced placement credits, regularly enrolled students may earn credit by examination in freshman- or sophomore-level courses to a maximum of twelve hours. Departmental examinations or external examinations approved by the department may be used, with credit given for the equivalent of at least C-level work. The cost of each examination is borne by the student.

EARLY ADMISSION

A small number of students are admitted without completing the senior year of secondary school. This is done only upon the recommendation of the secondary school and when a candidate has exhausted the educational opportunities at the school. Considerations of academic and personal maturity are important to the candidate and to the college in earlier-than-usual admission.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

First consideration in admission is for freshmen, but some transfer students are accepted each year. Admission by transfer is normally limited to those with satisfactory academic and personal records from accredited colleges or universities.

Transfer application forms, including a special recommendation form, may be obtained from the admissions office. Credits from accredited institutions are generally accepted for courses comparable to ones offered at Colby in which grades of C or better are received. No more than sixty transferred credit hours may be applied toward a Colby degree.
Veterans may request advanced standing consideration for completion of service schools or USAFI courses in advance of matriculation. Credit is not granted for military service or College Level General Educational Development Tests.

| NONMATRICULATED STUDENTS | Subject to limitation of enrollment in individual courses and the consent of the instructors, the college permits adults to enroll as nonmatriculated students. Such persons must present evidence that they are qualified to pursue the intended courses and pay the fee of $205 per credit hour. Individuals sixty-five or older may audit a course without charge.

A limited number of gifted area secondary students may take a course at Colby for an administration charge of $30. These students are recommended for selection to the dean of admissions, who has the responsibility for the admission of nonmatriculated students. |

| HEALTH CERTIFICATE | Before matriculation, each student must present a health certificate, to be obtained from Colby and signed by a physician, including evidence of tetanus toxoid immunization within the last three years. A chest X ray and/or current Tine Test is also required. It is recommended that polio immunization be completed prior to entrance. Preregistration cannot be guaranteed unless all required forms are received two weeks prior to registration. |
Orientation

An orientation program for freshmen and other new students is held each fall and in February for several days before the beginning of classes in each semester. Designed to acquaint students with the intellectual and social life of the college, the program includes meetings with faculty and staff advisers, and placement examinations. A few days in advance of the orientation, a limited number of freshmen may participate in Colby Outdoor Orientation Trips (COOT) conducted by upperclassmen and faculty members.

Tests during orientation week determine levels of speed and comprehension. Students with low scores are offered assistance in a developmental reading program.

Interviews are scheduled for freshmen who have not taken the CEEB advanced placement examination in mathematics but who seek advice on placement in Mathematics 122 (Calculus II), 221 (Calculus III), or 241 (Elementary Statistics).

The college language requirement for 1980-81 is met at entrance by a score of sixty or more on the CEEB language achievement test.

Students continuing a foreign language at Colby are placed on the basis of the CEEB achievement test in that language. They are expected to take that test in their senior year or the last year of study of the language at the secondary-school level. If they have not taken this test, or if more than one year has elapsed since the test was taken, and they wish to continue the study of the language, they must take the language placement test during the freshman orientation program. Those presenting two or more units for entrance continue in courses above the 121, 122 level, with the following exceptions:

1. If the last year of a student’s study of the language was the sophomore year in high school, regardless of the number of years of previous study, he may enroll in 121, 122 for credit.

2. If a student has had two or more years of language work that terminated in the junior or senior year, he may repeat the language with credit only if the department determines, on the basis of the CEEB placement test, that the preparation received is not adequate for the 123, 124 level.

Payments must be made in accordance with this calendar of payments whether or not reminder notices are received from the college.
DEPOSITS

Admission Deposit—Freshmen: A nonrefundable deposit of $200 is due on or before the date for confirmation of intention to attend. This deposit is deductible from the first semester payment due August 15.

Room Deposit: All upperclass students must, in order to reserve a room for the first semester of the following college year, make a $100 deposit on or before April 4. This deposit will be forfeited if the student does not return to college, unless the room reservation is withdrawn on or before June 15.

Attendance Deposit for First Semester: A nonrefundable deposit of $200 is required of all upperclass students on or before June 15 each year. Room reservations and places in their respective classes will not be held for students failing to make this deposit. For entering students, the $200 admission deposit satisfies this requirement.

Attendance Deposit for Second Semester: A nonrefundable deposit of $200 is required of all students on or before November 15 each year. Room reservations and places in their respective classes will not be held for students failing to make this deposit. The attendance deposit of a student who does not return to Colby will be retained as a credit on the student’s account for one year. If the student does not return the following year, the deposit will be forfeited.

ADVANCE PAYMENTS

Increases in costs may necessitate an adjustment in charges.

Tuition: The tuition charge is $2,695 per semester and must be paid prior to each semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. For schedules of fewer than nine hours, the tuition charge is $205 per credit hour. Nonmatriculating students will be charged at the rate of $205 per credit hour.

Board: Board in college dining halls is charged at the rate of $605 per semester. Payment must be made prior to each semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. All students living on campus are required to pay the board charge to the college.

Room: The room charge in college dormitories is $495 per semester, payable prior to each semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. Students are expected to occupy college housing facilities to the full extent of their availability. Other arrangements may be made only with specific approval of the dean of students. Dormitory reservations are made through the office of the dean.

General Fee: The general fee (compulsory for all students) is $290 for the year and is payable in full prior to the first semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. Included in the general fee is a sum allocated for the Student Association and such student organizations as it chooses to support. The general fee also supports the college health services. No additional fee is required for staff services in the student health center. Included in the general fee is a mandatory sickness and accident insurance policy, which the college covers by separate contract with an insurance carrier.

SEMMESTER STATEMENTS Charges for miscellaneous items not paid prior to registration are included on semester statements issued November 15 and April 4.

MISCELLENOUS CHARGES

Chemistry Laboratory: A fee of $20 per course is charged to cover the cost of materials used in laboratory experiments.

Fraternity Fee: Fraternity members are charged a fee in excess of the room rent established for college dormitories. The fee, determined by each fraternity, applies whether or not the student resides in the fraternity house.

Applied Music: Students receiving musical instruction under the applied-music program are charged a fee of $90 for a one-credit course and $150 for a two-credit course.

Developmental Reading: A $25 fee is charged for the developmental reading course.

Telephone: Telephones are located in each room of the following dormitories and fraternity: Dana, Taylor, Sturtevant, and KDR. Each student living in these housing facilities is charged a fee of $12 per semester for the use of these telephones.

Flexible Fifteen: Students engaged in off-campus projects for academic credit to be applied to the allowable fifteen credit hours of flexible credit are charged a $100 administrative fee, unless they are simultaneously enrolled in a formal academic program.

January Program: Those January programs which require extensive travel, special materials, or highly specialized outside instruction each carry a fee that reflects the extraordinary costs of the individual program. These fees are published annually in the January program brochure.

Colby in Caen: In lieu of the regular charges for tuition, room, board, and general fee, a fee of $5,500 is charged to students participating in the Colby in Caen program. The program involves a year of study in France under the supervision of a Colby faculty member. Because of the nature of this program, it carries a set of deadlines, refund policies, and deposits separate from the rest of the academic programs offered by the college. Further details are available in the Colby in Caen brochure.

Fines: Fines are charged to students' accounts for violations of college regulations in the following areas: auto registration, parking, late return of library books, late registration for academic programs, checks returned as uncollectible, and disciplinary actions.

Damage to or Loss of College Property in Dormitory Rooms: Liability for damage to or loss of college property located within individual dormitory rooms lies with the resident(s) of the room. The dean of students requires all students living in college dormitories to enter into a room contract covering this liability. Students are billed at the time that they move out of the room for any damage to or loss of college property which occurred within that room.

Damage to or Loss of College Property in Dormitory Common Areas: When damage to or loss of college property occurs in dormitory common areas (lounges, hallways, lobbies, bathrooms, etc.), the dean of students makes every effort to identify the individuals responsible and to bill them immediately. In cases where the dean determines that responsibility lies with the residents of a specific section of a dormitory, those students will be billed immediately. When the individuals responsible for damage to or loss of college property cannot be identified, the cost of repair or replacement is accumulated by dormitory. At the end of each semester, the dean of students, in cooperation with the buildings and grounds department, determines the cost of all unidentified damage to and loss of college property and bills it to the residents of each dormitory on a pro rata basis.

Other Damage to or Loss of College Property: Any student found to be responsible for damage to or loss of college property will be billed for the cost of the damage or loss. In addition, the in-individual will be subject to disciplinary action, including possible suspension or expulsion.

PAYMENT OF BILLS

Tuition, board, room, general fee, and any other financial obligation to the college must be paid in full in accordance with the Calendar of Payments (see previous pages) before a student is permitted to register or attend classes. Students excluded from classes under this rule for longer than ten days may be suspended from college for the remainder of the semester. In the event that a student does register, he/she will not receive grades for that semester nor be allowed to register for any subsequent semester until all outstanding obligations to the college have been paid. Students with outstanding bills to the college will not be allowed to graduate or receive transcripts until all such bills have been paid.

Plans providing for monthly payments at moderate cost are available through the Insured Tuition Payment Plan, 53 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02108, and Academic Management Services, Inc., P.O. Box 1000, Pawtucket, Rhode Island 02860.

The business office cannot permit deferred payment of any portion of the charges due prior to registration. Students and parents must deal directly with the controller concerning college bills. No other officer of the college has responsibility for their collection.

REFUNDS

In case of voluntary withdrawal, refund may be made of the balance of a student’s account in excess of charges. The general fee is not refundable. Tuition, board, and room rent are charged according to the following schedule:

- During first two weeks of classes ............... 20% charge
- During third and fourth weeks of classes ...... 40% charge
- During fifth week of classes .................... 60% charge
- During sixth week of classes .................... 80% charge
- Thereafter ........................................ 100% charge

A pro rata charge for tuition, room, and board will be made to students who withdraw upon advice from the college physician.

Revised charges for students withdrawing from college will be paid from the following sources in this order: (1) from feder ally funded programs, if any, to the extent allowable under refund regulations pertinent to those programs, (2) from payments made by the student or the student’s parents, (3) from outside scholarships, if any, (4) from Colby loans, if any, (5) from Colby financial aid, if any.

Whenever a student is required to withdraw because of unsatisfactory conduct, no refund will be made.

No refunds will be made to withdrawing students until the withdrawal process is completed.

Credit balances on semester statements are ordinarily carried forward to the student’s account for the following semester. After semester statements have been issued, written requests for refund of credit balances will be honored promptly by the business office. Refunds will be made to either the student or to the person responsible for payment of the account. Information concerning the status of a student’s account may be obtained from the business office upon request. Credit balances on the accounts of graduating seniors will be refunded automatically.
Financial Aid

Financial aid is offered to students evidencing need as well as academic and personal promise. In an effort to insure equal access and opportunity for those from all socioeconomic backgrounds, Colby awards annually nearly two million dollars in grants, loans, and campus employment to approximately 600 students, or thirty-five percent of the enrollment. The average award in 1979-80 was $3,350. In addition, Colby administers the full range of federal and state financial aid programs, including Basic Grant (BEOG), Supplemental Grants (SEOG), National Direct Student Loans, College Work-Study, and Guaranteed Student Loans.

As a member institution of the College Scholarship Service (css), Princeton, New Jersey, Colby requires aid applicants to submit the Financial Aid Form to the css before February 1. An analysis of the form determines need within the context of the college’s policy and the schedule of student fees.

Early decision applicants should request from the college before January 15 a special institutional application for financial aid.

Students seeking more detailed information may write for the pamphlet Student Financial Aid at Colby College or contact the director of student financial aid.
Campus Life

The Bixler Art and Music Center is the focal point for the college’s art program. Continuous exhibitions of works selected from the permanent collection, as well as original and traveling shows, are to be seen in the Jetté Galleries of the Colby Museum of Art. The permanent collection features American and European painting, sculpture, and graphic art. Special collections are the Harold Trowbridge Pulsifer Collection of Winslow Homer Paintings and Drawings, the American Heritage Collection and the American Painters of the Impressionist Period Collection of Edith Kemper Jetté and Ellerton Marcel Jetté, the Helen Warren and Willard Howe Cummings Collection of American Art, the John Marin Collection, the Adelaide Pearson Collection, the Bernat Collection of Oriental Ceramics and Bronzes, the Langenbach-Pepper Collection of Watercolors by Charles Hovey Pepper, the Weiss Collection of Jack Levine Graphics, and the William J. Pollock Collection of American Indian Rugs and Jewelry (Navaho and Zuni).

The 1979-80 exhibitions were the annual Student Arts Festival; Prints by Delil Sacilotto; Chinese and Japanese Paintings and Prints, from the museum’s collection; faculty exhibition: Barbara Kassel, Harriett Matthews, Recent Work; Sculpture by Athena Tacha; Contemporary Prints, from the museum’s collection; alumni exhibition: Recent Work by Professional Artists; Eight Hundred Years of Chinese Painting and Calligraphy, album leaves from the collection of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston; the selections from the permanent collection that were exhibited (September 25-October 20) at the Davis and Long Company Gallery in New York; Prints from Aeropress, New York, arranged by Patricia Branstead, artist-in-residence; African Art, in conjunction with the Black Culture Festival; January Plan exhibition project: Six Thousand Years of Chinese Ceramics, arranged by Ellen Steeves ’80; Watercolors by James M. Carpenter; selections from the permanent collection: Juxtaposing Works of Similar Subject Matter but from Different Periods; senior exhibitions; Colby Alumni Photography Exhibition. Throughout the year, selections from the museum’s permanent collection were on view concurrently with the loan exhibitions.

The Friends of Art at Colby, organized in 1959, make substantial contributions to the overall art program throughout the year.

The Archives of Maine Art, located at the Bixler Center, is a repository of information and documents about artists in Maine from the eighteenth century to the present.

In addition to the studio courses in the regular curriculum, workshops are maintained for extracurricular activities in ceramics, typography, weaving, and bookbinding. The Russell S. Hitchcock Bindery is equipped with tools, type, and presses for teaching the fundamental procedures of bookbinding.

In September 1973 a wing to the Bixler Center was opened. Built in response to the growing interest in art and music among students, alumni, and Friends of Art, it contains painting and sculpture studios and gallery space for exhibitions in the Museum of Art. Expansion into the wing made possible enlarged classrooms for art and music, and a library shared by both departments.

DANCE

Dance facilities are provided in the Dunn Studio of the Performing Arts Center. Guest artists during the 1979-80 season were Kei Takei’s Moving Earth Chamber Ensemble, an experimental dance company in residence for one week (under the trisponsorship of the Colby/Bates/Bowdoin Dance Alliance).

In addition to a rigorous rehearsal schedule in conjunction with their fall and spring concerts, the Colby Dancers and members of the music department presented a premiere performance of Shakespeare in Music and Dance, with original music by Adel Heinrich and choreography by Christine Mitchell-Wentzel.

FILMS

Film Direction brings films of high quality in various film genres. In addition, there are movies shown by the Student Association and films brought by other student organizations and departments.

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES

There are chapters of ten fraternities and two sororities. Eight of the fraternities occupy separate houses on the campus, controlled by the administration and their prudential committees.

In order of founding, the fraternities are Delta Kappa Epsilon, Zeta Psi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Delta Rho, Tau Delta Phi, and Pi Lambda Phi. The sororities, Sigma Kappa (founded at Colby) and Chi Omega, maintain chapter rooms in Runnals Union.
The charter of Alpha Delta Phi was reactivated in the spring of 1980 with the intention of organizing in the fall as the college’s first coeducational fraternity.

The board of trustees requires that fraternities and sororities select members without regard to race, religion, or national origin. Hazing of any kind is prohibited.

TERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Athletics for men include varsity teams in football, hockey, lacrosse, golf, tennis, cross-country, indoor and outdoor track, swimming, and squash. Varsity as well as junior varsity teams compete in baseball, basketball, and soccer. Rugby is a club sport.

Varsity teams for women are in field hockey, tennis, cross-country, soccer, swimming, ice hockey, basketball, squash, softball, lacrosse, and indoor and outdoor track.

The rules that govern intercollegiate sports are those adopted by the athletic conferences in which Colby holds membership. Colby is a member of the New England Small College Athletic Conference, which also includes Amherst, Bates, Bowdoin, Hamilton, Middlebury, Trinity, Tufts, Wesleyan, and Williams. The college is also a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Eastern College Athletic Conference, the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, the Eastern Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, and the Maine Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women.

ICTURES

Throughout the year, outstanding scholars, musicians, and artists visit the campus. The Winthrop H. Smith Visiting Scholars Program brings a speaker for two days to lecture, to talk in classes, and to meet informally with students and faculty. The Spencer Lecture, established in 1973, focuses on topics relating to world unity. The Clara M. Southworth Lecture considers subjects in environmental design. The Guy P. Gannett Lectures focus on general subject areas not covered by other established lectures at the college. The Samuel and Esther Lipman Lectureship is devoted to Jewish studies and contemporary Jewish thought. The Grossman Lecture concerns itself with topics in the field of economics. The Lovejoy Convocation annually honors a member of the newspaper profession “who has contributed to the nation’s journalistic achievement.” In addition to these established lectures, speakers are invited by the Friends of Art at Colby, by student organizations, and by learned societies.

Gannett lecturers were Sol Gittleman, chairman, department of German and Russian, Tufts University; Walter Carrington, acting president, African-American Institute; Victor Kiernan, professor-emeritus, history department, University of Edinburgh; Robert Spaethling, professor of German, University of Massachusetts, Boston; Vishwanath Naravane, visiting philosopher; John Chettle, director for North and South America of the South Africa Foundation, Washington, D.C.; Karl Guthke, professor of German, Harvard University; J. Dell Johnson, assistant professor of religion, Ohio Wesleyan University.

Other lecturers included Joseph C. Miller, professor of economic history, University of Virginia, Charlottesville; Derel C. Bok, president, Harvard University (convocation inaugurating William R. Cotter as the eighteenth president of Colby College); Linda L. Fagenholz, M.D. ’68, codirector, outpatient clinic, department of pediatrics, St. Vincent Medical Center; Deborah Brooks, vocational rehabilitation, Department of Human Services; William Kazar, correspondent for The Far Eastern Economic Review and Newsday; Robert Morris, chairman, American Zimbabwe Rhodesia Association in New York City; Mr. Ncube, assistant director, Zimbabwe African Peoples Union in New York City; Kuang Mei, Asian scholar-in-residence, Colby; Henry Barber, mountain climber; Patric; Branstead, artist-in-residence, Colby; Sister Margaret Dorgan, The Hermitage Monastery, Orland, Maine; Cliffe Knechtle, Inter-Varsity evangelist; Joel Horn ’77; Karen Gustafson ’77; Robert Campbell, advocate for the rights of mental patients; Charles Blockson, archivist and author; Alf Hiltebeitel, professor of religion, George Washington University; Florence Denmark, president, American Psychological Association; Catherine E. Costello, department of chemistry, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Harold Burrell, nurse practitioner, Mid-Maine Medical Center; Currier McEwen, M.D., Arthritis Foundation; Everett Ellis Briggs, career diplomat; Melvin Gottlieb, director, Princeton Plasma Physics Laboratory; Aloysius M. Lugira, visiting professor from the Center for the Study of World Religions, Harvard University; Larry Kasmin, emergency room physician; Stephen Toulmin, professor of social thought and philosophy, University of Chicago; Susan Haddad, Franklin Pierce Law Center; Josh Rubinstein, Amnesty International; William Worthy, correspondent and columnist, Baltimore Afro-American; Regina Herzlinger, author; Jane Morrison, filmmaker; Benjamin Schwartz, Leroy B. Williams Professor of History and Political Science, Harvard University; Marjorie Lalime, director, nutritional care, Mid-Maine Medical Center; Peter Ashton ’76, research associate, Charles River Associates; Detmar Schnitker, Ira C. Darling Center, Walpole, Maine; Barbara Tennant, biology department, Stanford University; Jim Jordan, Institute of Fine Arts, New York University; Robert Schneider, Harvard Cyclotron Laboratory; Hal Prince, Broadway director; debate with John B. Randazza, vice-president, Central Maine Power Company and Maine Yankee, and Pat Garrett, Safe Power for Maine (energy advocacy group); Charles Simmonds, sculptor; Stephen Brooke ’68, conservator, Augusta State Museum.

Poets and fiction readers were Steve Orlen, Mekeel McBride, Steve Bauer, Ira Sadoff, Charles Simic, Raymond Carver, Ken McClane, Cecil Giscombe.

Musical activities converge in the Bixler Art and Music Center, which contains rehearsal and practice rooms as well as the 400-seat Given Auditorium and a new electronic music center, opened in 1978. Facilities for musical theater and opera are provided in the Performing Arts Center, while the Alma Morrissette McPartland Music Shell permits the adaptation of Wadsworth Gymnasium for large-scale choral and orchestral concerts. The Gould Music Shell, placed in a natural bowl on the northeast corner of the campus, is available for summer concerts.

Students are invited to participate (with or without academic credit) in the Colby Band, the Colby Community Symphony Orchestra, the Colby Glee Club, and the Lorimer Chapel Choir, all under faculty direction. There are also informal student groups: the Colby Eight, the Colbyettes, and others.

Concerts by visiting artists are presented by the music department, by the Student Association, and by the Colby Music Associates, a student-college-community group, which arranges the Colby Music Series and contributes to musical life on the campus. In 1979-80 the series included performances by the Hancock Woodwind Quintet; Claude Monteux and Jara Goodrich, flute and harp duo; Michael Rudiakov and Gilbert Kalish, violoncello and piano duo; the Composers String Quartet.

Among other programs were concerts by the Banchetto Musicale, baroque chamber orchestra; John Rynne and Judy Rynne, trumpet and piano duo; Louis Hall, Susan Heath, and Kathryn Ann Foley, oboe, flute, and piano trio; Douglas Rafter, organ; the Aeolian Chamber Players; Loose Caboose; Karla Bonoff; Robbie Craft and the Ivory Coast; The Blend; The Johnny Winter Group; Pat Metheny; Jean Rosenblum, flute; Peter Waring, organ; Joanne Low; Adrian Lo, viola.

Soloists for the Colby Community Symphony Orchestra concerts were Peter Zazofsky, violin; Raymond Pellerin, piano; Jara Goodrich, harp; Pei-loh Chia, harpsichord; Linda Hurwitz ’82, violin. The Sunday Chapel Vesper Concerts offered recitals on the Walcker organ in Lorimer Chapel by the college organist and visiting artists. Concerts were given by college musical organizations, faculty, and students at Friday Noonday Recitals and on other occasions.

In addition to the courses in dramatic literature offered by the departments of classics, English, and modern languages, Colby provides courses and opportunities for practical experience in all the areas of theatrical production, as well as dance and music. The Strider Theater and the Dunn Dance Studio serve as laboratories for the arts and as performance centers.

The Strider Theater has a full stage, shop, makeup rooms, and rehearsal space. Light and sound booths over the balcony command a full view of the stage.

Under the auspices of the performing arts program and with faculty supervision, productions are presented. The 1979-80 season offered The Firebugs, Diary of a Scoundrel, and John Gardner's Helen at Home, a world premiere performance.

Dance concerts were given by Colby students and visiting artists.

The student-directed drama club, Powder and Wig, presents a variety of productions. In 1979-80 these included Mother Courage, Roar of the Greasepaint—Smell of the Crowd, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead, a one-act festival of six plays by various playwrights, The Old Jew, and Hello Out There.

Radio Colby

WMHB-FM is a student-operated station with a Class D noncommercial license from the Federal Communications Commission. With studios in Roberts Union, the station broadcasts throughout the day and evening during the academic year.

Religion

Colby College was founded by New England Baptists, and although it does not now maintain a formal relationship with any denomination, the college supports and encourages an ecumenical ministry on the campus.

The college chaplain acts as coordinator for the activities of a number of religious associations: Newman Club (Catholic), Hillel (Jewish), Canterbury Club (Episcopal), and Colby Christian Fellowship (Evangelical Protestant). All of these groups use the sanctuary and social lounge of Lorimer Chapel. An interfaith committee organizes services and activities for Catholic and Protestant students. The Roman Catholic diocese of Portland provides the services of a chaplain for Catholic students, and the local rabbi and the rector of the Episcopal parish also carry on a campus ministry.

Each Sunday morning a student group, under the direction of the college chaplain, conducts an all-college worship service in the chapel. Music for this service and for special concerts is performed by the students of the chapel choir under the leadership of Adel Heinrich, associate professor of music.

The director of student activities sponsors a student volunteer corps whose members give time each week to work as Big Brothers and Big Sisters with children in Waterville and neighboring communities.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

A tradition of public speaking has resulted in the endowment of awards for oratory, public reading, and debate. Supplemeting the course offerings in public speaking and oral interpretation, prizes are awarded annually in all the areas of the forensic arts. The program in debate places emphasis on current topics in on-campus competition.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

More than fifty student organizations are chartered by the college. Academic societies are Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Delta Pi (Spanish honor society), Chi Epsilon Mu (chemistry), Delta Phi Alpha (German), and Pi Sigma Alpha (political science). Student publications include the weekly newspaper, The Colby Echo; the yearbook, The Oracle; and Pequod, devoted to art, literature, and photography.

Service organizations are the Big Brother/Big Sister program, Colby Friends, and Student Primary Emergency Care System (SPECS).

Other groups include the Colby Outdoor Orientation Trips (COOT), Colby Photographers, Deutschklub, Environmental Council, French Club, International Relations Club, Los Subrosa (Spanish club), Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic Council, Outing Club, Rugby Club, Student Organization for Black and Hispanic Unity, Women’s Group, Yachting Council, Chemistry Club, Psychology Club, East Asian Culture Society, New World Coalition, Gymnastics, Film Direction Pottery Club, Powder and Wig, Russian Club, приоберки (Radio Colby), Cross-country Ski Club, Fencing Club, and Woods men’s Team.

Religious organizations are the Canterbury Club, Chapel Service Committee, Colby Christian Fellowship, Hillel, and Newman Club.

Music organizations are the Colby Jazz Band, Colby Eight Colbyettes, Colby Community Symphony Orchestra, Glee Club, and Lorimer Chapel Choir.

There are other clubs and societies described under appropriate catalogue headings. In addition, each class acts as an organization, with elected officials. All organizations and clubs, and many of the campus activities, including film, lecture, and concert series, are funded through the Student Association. Also, students are appointed by the Student Association to serve on college committees.
General Regulations

All students are responsible for knowledge of the regulations in the Student Handbook and in the annual catalogue. The handbook covers academic, administrative, and social regulations.

The college reserves the right to dismiss any student whose presence its officers believe to be detrimental to its general welfare.

Although authority regarding discipline is the ultimate responsibility of the dean of students, most cases requiring discipline of students are turned over by him to the proper judicial board. A student judiciary board consisting of twelve members assists in the enforcement of nonacademic rules and regulations of the college. A student may appeal a finding of the student judiciary board to a faculty appeals board, which also hears appeals stemming from disciplinary action for academic infractions.

Students are expected to attend classes regularly and are held responsible for all work done in any class from which they are absent. Each student is, however, permitted at least two unexcused absences from each course in any semester. The maximum number allowed, if beyond two, is determined by individual instructors. Each instructor explains at the first meeting of every semester what constitutes unsatisfactory attendance in his class. Any student whose attendance the instructor judges to be unsatisfactory is warned by the dean of students. Flagrant repetitions may lead to dismissal from the course without credit. For abandoning a course without permission, the student shall receive an F.

Official excuses for absence are granted only by the deans of students, and only for (1) critical emergencies, (2) athletic or other organizational trips, or (3) illness certified by the college physician or his authorized representative.

Medical excuses are issued only to students who fall within one of three classifications: (1) those confined to the college infirmary or hospital because of illness or surgery, (2) students treated by the medical staff at the infirmary or hospital, (3) students visited by the college physician in dormitories or other places of residence. Medical excuses are not granted on a retroactive basis unless one of these classifications is satisfied.

No student on academic probation or condition may be exc...
The administrative officers of the college have a responsibility for maintaining and encouraging an atmosphere on campus consonant with the college’s function as a community of students and teachers.

The trustees have delegated to various sectors of the college, including the Student Association, extensive autonomy in the conduct of student affairs. Colby College assumes that those who accept admission to the student body are able and willing to conduct themselves with the maturity consistent with this responsibility. Students retain the right to organize their own personal lives and behavior within the standards agreed upon by the college community, so long as they do not interfere with the rights of others or with the educational process.

Colby is committed to maintaining a community in which persons of all ethnic groups, religious affiliations, and nationalities are welcome. The college will not tolerate racism, harassment, or intimidation of any kind; any student found guilty of such actions or of interfering with these goals will be subject to civil prosecution as well as suspension or expulsion from Colby.

The college respects the laws and ordinances of the civil jurisdictions within which it lies. It does not stand in loco parentis for its students, nor is the campus to be considered a sanctuary from civil law.

The college has always encouraged temperance in the use of alcoholic beverages. The laws of the State of Maine forbid possession of alcoholic beverages by any person under the age of twenty. Where drinking leads to disruptive behavior, a student faces sanctions.

The college does not tolerate violations of federal or state drug laws. Such violations may result in dismissal.

Plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty are serious offenses. The instructor may dismiss the offender from the course with a mark of F and may also report the case to the department chairman and the dean of students, who may impose other or additional penalties. Students are subject to suspension from the college whenever they are found guilty of academic dishonesty. A student is entitled to appeal charges of academic dishonesty to the faculty appeals board, which shall recommend action to the president of the college.

HEALTH POLICY

Physicians in the Colby College health services treat students on the same basis as community physicians treat the patients under their care.

The college feels that the best interests of students are served by having full medical counseling and treatment from physicians thoroughly informed about personal medical history.

The college respects the rights of these physicians to use their professional judgment in meeting the health needs of students.

Upon recommendation of the college physician, the college reserves the right to require a student to withdraw for medical reasons. If, in the doctor’s opinion, a student becomes unable to carry on normal student functions, or when his presence is or may become a hazard to himself or others, withdrawal will be required. Following any medical withdrawal, recommendations from an attending physician may be required before the student is readmitted to the college.

The officers, faculty, and medical staff of the college reserve the right to refuse to divulge information regarding a student’s psychological or psychiatric condition or matters of an intimate nature without the student’s authorization.

SPECIAL DIETS

Special diet needs may be requested through the college physician. A meatless entrée is provided at each meal.

AUTOMOBILES

For a number of reasons, including the desire to preserve the natural quality of the campus environment, parking lots are limited in number and size. Having a car at Colby therefore has its inconveniences as well as conveniences.

Students, faculty, and staff are assigned lots according to their place of residence or work, and are discouraged from using their cars simply to move about campus. The annual registration fee for a car is $20.

Details of rules relating to the use of motor vehicles may be found in the Student Handbook.
HOUSING AND STUDENT LIVING

Students are housed in twenty-six living units: eighteen college residences (some of them coeducational) and eight fraternity houses. Some dormitory sections have a faculty member or faculty family in residence. All freshmen not living at home or with relatives are required to live in college housing as assigned by the dean of students office. Individual dormitories have broad social autonomy, including control over such matters as parietal hours and quiet hours. These regulations are reviewed by each residence unit in the fall. The college has charge of the maintenance and security of its buildings.

In special circumstances, limited numbers of upperclass students are permitted to live off campus, with permission from the dean of students.

STUDENT RECORDS

Colby complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, which establishes the right of students to inspect and review their education records and provides guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data. Complete guidelines used by the college for compliance with the act are printed in the Student Handbook and may be obtained at the dean of students office.

Division of Humanities

Chairman, Professor Mizner

Interdepartmental majors are offered in classics-English and classics-philosophy. Attention is also called to interdisciplinary majors in American studies, East Asian studies, and studies in Western civilization.

Requirements for the major in classics-English:
In classics: either three years of Latin in courses numbered 200 or higher or three years of Greek.
In English: six semester courses approved by the departments.

Requirements for the major in classics-philosophy:
In classics: either three years of Latin in courses numbered 200 or higher or three years of Greek, subject to departmental approval.
In philosophy: Philosophy 112; 133 or 211; 331, 332; 491 or 492.
For each of the above majors, at least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. For the major in classics-philosophy, a second Independent Study 491 or 492, of at least three hours credit, may be substituted for this requirement but cannot be used to satisfy course requirements for the major.

The point scale for retention of each of the above majors applies to all courses that may be credited toward the major. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Chairman, Professor Carpenter

Professors Carpenter and W. Miller; Associate Professor Matthews; Assistant Professors M. Miller and Kassel; Instructors Kraehling and Werfel.

Requirements for the major in art:
Art 121, 122, 161; at least nine credit hours chosen from 271, 311, 312, 314, 316, 317, 352, 356, 358; additional courses in art to bring the total to 29 semester hours; at least six semester hours chosen from other fields of study related to the individual student's interests within the major (e.g., history, philosophy, music, English). These courses should be selected with the advice and approval of the student's adviser in the sophomore or junior year.

At least one January program is required to be taken in art, either as a group or an individual topic.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to courses taken in the department. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail. A departmental examination is to be passed in the senior year.
Attention is called to the interdisciplinary major in American studies and studies in Western civilization.

1On leave full year.
2Part-time.

CLASSICS

Chairman, PROFESSOR D. KOONCE
Professor Westervelt1; Associate Professor D. Koonce; Taylor Lecturer Budenz.

Requirements for the major in classics:

Two courses numbered 200 or higher in Greek or Latin. Six additional courses selected from at least two of the following categories: two or more courses numbered 300 or higher in the ancient language elected above; two or more courses in ancient history; two or more courses numbered 200 or higher in the other ancient language; two or more courses elected from Classics 232, Classics 234, Art 311, Philosophy 331, or the equivalent.

Attention is called to interdepartmental majors in classics-English and classics-philosophy, and to the interdisciplinary major in studies in Western civilization.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in the department. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

1Chairman 1979-80.

ENGLISH

Chairman, PROFESSOR BRANCACCIO
Professors Benbow, Sutherland1, Archibald, Curran, MacKay, Brancaccio, C. W. Bassett, H. Koonce, and Mizner; Associate Professors Witham2, Sweney3, and E. Kenney; Assistant Professors S. Kenney*, Harris1, Mannocchi, I. Sadoff, McDowell, Hunt, and D. Sadoff; Lecturers Onion*, Sanborn*, Sewell, and Bauer*.

Requirements for the major in English and American literature:

English 221, 222, 251, and eight courses numbered 300 or higher excluding English 315, 316; English 252 may be substituted for one of the eight. At least three of these must be courses in which the major focus is upon literature written before 1800, and at least three must be courses in which the major focus is upon literature written after 1800.

At least one January program must be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all English courses that may be used to fulfill major requirements. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.
Students planning to continue the study of English in graduate school should confer with their advisers to be sure that they have planned a substantial and adequate curriculum. They should be proficient in at least one foreign language. Most universities require two languages, and some require a classical language as well. Work in classical or foreign literature, history, philosophy, art, music, and some of the social sciences reinforces preparation in the major and enhances one’s chances of success in graduate study.

The department encourages interdepartmental and interdisciplinary studies, and supports programs in American studies, black studies, performing arts, and studies in Western civilization.

Chairman, Professor Holland

Professors Bundy, Holland, and Cauz; Associate Professors Kueter, Filosof Ferguson, P. Doel\(^1\), and Weiss; Assistant Professors McIntyre, Greenspan\(^2\), Miller, Reynolds, So, Bertrand-Guy, J. Moss, Fresco, and Perez-Pineda; Instructors Abetti and Davis\(^3\); Lecturers Nelson\(^4\) and Strong\(^4\).

Achievement test: If a student offers a foreign language for entrance credit and wishes to continue it in college, he must either have taken the CEEB achievement test in the language or take the placement test during freshman orientation.

Note: In addition to the following major programs, the department also offers instruction in Chinese, Italian, Japanese, Portuguese, and Russian.

The following statements apply to the majors in French, German and Spanish:

1. The point scale for retention of any major within the department is based on courses in the major language only.
2. No major requirements may be taken pass/fail.
3. No more than the equivalent of four semester courses of foreign study or transfer credit may be counted toward the major.
4. All majors in the department must take at least one course in the major, approved by the major adviser, each semester until graduation.
5. For students returning from foreign study, these courses must be numbered 300 or higher.
6. Courses numbered 499 may not be counted toward the major.
7. One January program is required to be taken in the major.

Requirements for the major in French:

French 221, 222, 231, to be taken no later than the sophomore year.
(Students who begin the study of French at Colby with French 123 may substitute French 141, 142 for 221, 222.) At least five additional French courses numbered above 222; of these, at least two must focus on literature written prior to the nineteenth century, and at least two on literature of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

Requirements for the major in German:
Eight semester courses numbered above German 124.

Requirements for the major in Spanish:
Spanish 232 and at least seven additional semester Spanish courses numbered above 124.

Students interested in Russian are invited to consider an independent major (q.v.), combining their study of Russian with another area of concentration (any language or literature, art, economics, history, music, philosophy, sociology). Such students are encouraged to take advantage of various summer programs offered domestically and in the Soviet Union, and to compete for a place in a semester language program in Leningrad or Moscow.

Teacher certification: Students desiring certification for teaching any of the above languages must take Modern Foreign Languages 411, and may in some cases be required to take other specified courses.

1 On leave first semester.
2 Resident director, University of Caen, full year.
3 First semester only.
4 Part-time.

Chairman, PROFESSOR ARMSTRONG
Professors Ré and Armstrong; Associate Professors Heinrich and D. Reuman1; Assistant Professor Machlin.

Requirements for the major in music:
Music 171, 172, 211, 216, 217, 271 and, effective with the class of 1984, 272; at least nine additional basic credit hours in music courses, of which at least three hours must be in courses numbered 400 or higher. Majors are urged to complete Music 172 not later than the end of the sophomore year. Some skill at the keyboard is required of all majors; consult the department. Students wishing to pursue graduate study in musicology are advised that a reading knowledge of French and German is a general requirement for such study.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in music history and theory. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Attention is called to the interdisciplinary majors in American studies and studies in Western civilization, and to the program in performing arts.

Part-time.

Division of Social Sciences

Chairman, PROFESSOR GEMERY

INTERDEPARTMENTAL MAJORS

Interdepartmental majors are offered in administrative science-mathematics, economics-mathematics, philosophy-mathematics, and psychology-mathematics. Attention is called also to interdisciplinary majors in American studies, East Asian studies, studies in human development, and studies in Western civilization.

Requirements for the major in administrative science-mathematics:
In administrative science: 221, 222, 321, 322, 353, 413, 494; and Economics 131, 132.
In mathematics: at least 18 credit hours, including 221, 222; either 241, 242 or 381, 382; at least six hours must be at the 300 or 400 level.
Sociology 121, 122 and two courses in psychology are recommended but not required.
At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. At least one junior or senior January program must be approved by the mathematics department.

Requirements for the major in economics-mathematics:
In economics: 131, 132, 233, 234, 391, 394, and three additional semester courses numbered 300 or higher. Also required is a satisfactory percentile rating in the graduate record examination in economics, given in the spring of the senior year.
In mathematics: 221, 222, 381, 382, and two additional courses numbered 300 or higher.
At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. At least one junior or senior January program must be approved by the mathematics department.

Requirements for the major in philosophy-mathematics:
In philosophy: 112 and either 133 or 211; 258, 331, 332; and one further course in the department.
In mathematics: at least 18 credit hours, including 221, 222, 361.
At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. At least one junior or senior January program must be approved by the mathematics department.
Philosophy 491 or 492, of at least three hours credit, may with approval be substituted for a January program but cannot also be used to satisfy course requirements for the major.
Requirements for the major in psychology-mathematics:

In psychology: 111, 371, 479, 494, and nine additional hours, to include at least two of the following courses: 231, 232, 272, 273, 274.

In mathematics: 241, 242 or 381, 382; at least 12 additional credit hours, of which six must be at the 300 or 400 level.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. At least one junior or senior January program must be approved by the mathematics department.

The point scale for retention of each mathematics combination major applies to all courses offered toward the major. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Students should consult one of the advisers before planning to enter one of these majors and should register for the first course in mathematics in the freshman year.

Chairman, PROFESSOR KNIGHT
Professors W. Zukowski¹ and Knight; Assistant Professors Samuel², McGough, and Richards; Instructor Paul.

Requirements for the major in administrative science:

Administrative Science 221, 222, 321, 322, 413, 494; two semesters of mathematics; Economics 131, 132; two semesters of psychology or Sociology 121, 122 (although only one, or a combination, of the latter two course sequences is required, it is recommended that both be completed); and two semester courses selected from any of the following: additional courses in administrative science; Mathematics 241, 242, 243, 244; Economics 233, 234. None of these courses may be taken pass/fail.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all administrative science courses taken and to Mathematics 241, 242, 243, 244, and Economics 233, 234, where these courses are used to satisfy major requirements.

Students planning graduate work in administration should consult the chairman of the department early in their college career.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in administrative science-mathematics.

¹Chairman 1979-80.
²On leave full year.

Chairman, PROFESSOR GEMERY
Professors Hogendorn¹ and Gemery; Associate Professors Meehan and Tietenberg; Assistant Professors Dooley² and Payson; Instructors Christiansen², Christainsen, and Behr.
Requirements for the major in economics:
Economics 131, 132, and 30 additional credit hours in economics, including Economics 233, 234, and (for class of 1982 and subsequent classes) 391. Also required is a satisfactory percentile rating in the graduate record examination in economics. Administrative Science 221, 222 or 321, 322 and Mathematics 241, 242 or 381, 382 may be substituted for 12 of the 30 credit hours in advanced economics required for the major.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

Students who wish to be recommended for graduate work in economics are urged to elect Economics 394 and 431. A knowledge of mathematics through calculus and statistics is essential.

The point scale for retention of the major applies only to courses in economics, except that Administrative Science 221, 222 or 321, 322 and Mathematics 241, 242 or 381, 382 will be counted if substituted for courses in advanced economics in fulfilling the major requirement. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Attention is called to the interdisciplinary major in economics-mathematics, to the interdisciplinary program in public policy, and to the honors program (see description under Economics 491, 492).

1Chairman first semester 1979-80.
2On leave full year.

Chairman, PROFESSOR JACOBSON
Professor Jacobson; Assistant Professor M. Mavrinac.
Colby offers an interdepartmental program of courses and field experiences that meets the minimal requirements for secondary-school teacher certification in the fields of English, social studies, science, mathematics, Latin, American studies, environmental studies, and modern foreign languages. For those students interested in early-childhood, elementary, special-subject, special-education, or adult-education certification, the sophomore and junior courses may be taken at Colby, and the balance of the program completed elsewhere. For those students who wish to defer their education courses, many graduate schools offer the Master of Arts in Teaching program, which includes a paid teaching internship and regular courses leading to the M.A.T. degree and a teaching certificate in the state.

Program of studies:
Sophomore year: Education 213 and 253, January program, or 254; Psychology 256. Junior year: Philosophy 333; Education 336 and 353, January program, or 354. Senior year: Education 431, 432, 433, and full-time teaching during January. (English 411 or Modern Foreign Languages 411 is required of students who desire to teach those subjects.)

Guidance and counseling services are available from Professor Jacobson.

Second-semester freshmen and students planning to be away during their junior year should consult Professor Jacobson to plan their education curriculum.

1Part-time.

GOVERNMENT

Chairman, PROFESSOR A. MAVRINAC

Professors A. Mavrinac and Weissberg, Associate Professor Maisel; Assistant Professors Hauss, Bowen, and Mackenzie; Lecturer Huey.

Requirements for the major in government:

Ten semester courses in government, to include at least one at the 400 level, and normally including Government 111 and 112. These courses must be distributed over the four fields of the department's work according to specific rules established by the department and available from the department chairman. The passing of a comprehensive examination has normally been a part of the requirement for graduation as a major in government.

Majors in government may apply during their junior year for selection for admission to the department honors program. On successful completion of the work of the honors program and of the major, their graduation from the college will be noted as being "With Honors in Government."

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in government. No government courses may be taken pass/fail by government majors.

Attention is called to the interdisciplinary program in public policy.

1Acting chairman second semester 1979-80.

2Part-time first semester only.

HISTORY

*Chairman*1, PROFESSOR RAYMOND

Professors Gillum, Raymond, and Berschneider; Assistant Professors Feigon; R. Moss, Weisbrot, Bernard, Hunter, and M. Mavrinac; Lecturer Cocks.

Requirements for the major in history:

Twelve semester courses in history, to include at least two courses in each of three major fields: United States history, European (including English) history, and non-Western history. At least one of the courses in each of the three fields should be at the 200 level or higher. Two of the total of twelve courses may be in ancient history.

During the senior year, all majors must satisfy a comprehensive requirement either by taking a designated senior seminar or by a satisfacory oral presentation on a topic in the student’s field of concentration in history. Details on the division of courses among the fields and on the comprehensive requirement are available at the department office. At least one January program must be taken in the major. The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in history. With the exception of History 111, 112, no requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Chairman 1979-80, Professor Beeman.

PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION

Chairman, PROFESSOR HUDSON

Professors R. Reuman, Todrank, F. Parker, and Hudson; Associate Professors McArthur and Longstaff; Assistant Professor Soifer; Ziskind Lecturer Elman.

Requirements for the major in philosophy:

Philosophy 112, 211, 331, 332, 353, and 12 additional hours in philosophy, only six of which may be in 100-level courses.

Requirements for the major in philosophy and religion:

Religion 223, 224, 311, 312, 316. Philosophy 112, 211, 331, 332, 372, 373.

Requirements for the major in religion:

Religion 121, 122, 223, 224, 311, 312, 316, and two additional courses in religion, at least one of which must be at the 300 level or higher.

While Philosophy 372 and 373 are not required, they are highly recommended and may be used to satisfy the requirement of two additional courses in religion.

For each of the above majors, at least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. Philosophy or Religion 491 or 492, of at least three hours credit, may be substituted for this requirement but cannot also be used to satisfy course requirements for the major.

A maximum of two courses may be taken on a pass/fail basis in partial satisfaction of the requirements of any of the above majors. Effective with the class of 1981, no specifically prescribed course may be taken on a pass/fail basis to satisfy major requirements. The point scale for retention of each of the above majors applies to all other courses that count toward the major.

Attention is called to interdepartmental majors in philosophy-mathematics and classics-philosophy (see list of requirements under Division... of Humanities), and to the interdisciplinary majors in studies in human development and studies in Western civilization.

Chairman 1979-80.

PSYCHOLOGY

Chairman, PROFESSOR ROHRMAN
Professors Perez and Rohrman; Associate Professors Zohner\(^1\) and Lester; Assistant Professors Skowbo, Yeterian, and O'Brien.

Requirements for the major in psychology:

Psychology 111, 214, 479, 494, and 20 additional hours in psychology, to include three courses selected from 231, 232, 236, 238, 272, 273, 371, 372, 373, and three courses selected from 251, 253, 254, 255, 256, 274, 352, 354, and any two biology courses approved by the psychology department.

At least one January program is required to be taken in the major.

Seniors must submit a score on the Psychology Advanced Test of the Graduate Record Examination. It is given in April by the department.

No grade lower than C- may be counted toward the major.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major, as prescribed above. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in psychology-mathematics and to the interdisciplinary major in human development.

Chairman, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR MORRIONE
Professors Birge\(^3\) and Geib; Associate Professors Rosenthal\(^2\) and Morrione; Assistant Professors R. Doe\(^3\), Rose, and McGrane; Lecturer Gresson\(^4\).

Requirements for the major in sociology:

Sociology 121, 122, and 24 additional hours in sociology, including Sociology 311 and one course selected from 313, 318, 338; any combination of 12 hours selected from history, government, psychology, and economics. A written or oral comprehensive examination is to be passed by majors who do not take Sociology 401, 402.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in sociology. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Division of Natural Sciences

Chairman, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR CHAMPLIN

INTERDEPARTMENTAL MAJORS

Interdepartmental majors are offered in geology-biology and geology-chemistry.

Requirements for the major in geology-biology:
In geology: 141, 142; 215, 311 (or 312); six additional credit hours numbered 200 or higher. The geology department's Bermuda Semester may be elected by geology-biology majors.

In biology: 121, 122, 271; 12 additional credit hours.

Other courses: Chemistry 141, 142; Mathematics 121 and one additional mathematics course numbered above 121. Physics 121, 122 is recommended.

A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year in either geology or biology.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in geology and biology.

Requirements for the major in geology-chemistry:
In geology: beginning in the sophomore year, 215, 241, 242, 381, 382.

In chemistry: 141, 142, 331, 332, 341, 342; Physics 121, 122; Mathematics 121, 122.

Students should consult one of the major advisers regarding election of languages and other required courses in the freshman and sophomore years.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in geology and chemistry.

BIOLOGY

Chairman, PROFESSOR BENNETT

Professors Terry and Bennett; Associate Professors Easton, Fowles, and Champlin; Assistant Professors Firmage, Cole, and Labov.

Two major programs are offered by the department. For each, the point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses required for the major. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Requirements for the basic major in biology:

Two semesters of mathematics, including 121 (students who enter with Mathematics 121 or equivalent are required to take one semester of mathematics); Chemistry 141, 142; 32 hours in biology, including 121, 122, 271, 272, 301, 302 (substitutions may be made with departmental approval); one additional year of science other than biology. Chemistry 467 may be credited towards the biology major. The comprehensive examination in the major is to be passed in the senior year.

Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272 constitute a core program and are normally prerequisite to all higher-numbered biology courses. With special permission of the department, a student may arrange to take Biology 271 or 272 and higher-numbered biology courses concurrently.

The inclusion of geology is advised for majors preparing for teaching or for work in the field aspects of biology. Students preparing for dental, medical, or veterinary schools should take Mathematics 122, and must take Physics 121, 122, and Organic Chemistry; students preparing for graduate study in the biological sciences should also elect these courses. For most of these students, at least one further course in mathematics should be elected with the advice of the major department. Requirements for the Ph.D. degree in areas of biological science may include a reading knowledge of two modern foreign languages.

Students are encouraged to take courses at approved summer laboratories, and such courses may be approved for credit toward the major requirement.

The environmental science concentration is designed to provide the student adequate background to work in the environmental field or to continue on to graduate study in environmental science or in one of the biological disciplines. The requirements are: Administrative Science 354 or 413 or Economics 231; Biology, 32 hours, including 121, 122, 271, 272, 301, 302, 352, and either 354 or 356; Economics 131 or 132; Chemistry 141, 142; Geology, two courses selected from 141, 142, 172, 292; Mathematics 121 and either 241 or 381; Physics 112 or 121; Independent Study, at least two hours, taken as Biology 483, 484 or Geology 483, 484. The comprehensive examination in biology is to be passed in the senior year.

Students are encouraged to take at least one field-oriented course such as Biology 358, Sea Semester, or other similar approved programs.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in geology-biology and the interdisciplinary major in studies in human development.

1Acting chairman second semester 1979-80.
sharply toward graduate work in chemistry, while the other majors provide an opportunity for additional study outside the chemistry department. A student who successfully completes the ACS program receives official certification from the American Chemical Society. It should be noted that chemistry majors who intend to apply for admission to medical, dental, or veterinary schools must take a biology course with laboratory. All prospective majors should meet with the chairman as early as possible in order to plan their full chemistry programs.

Requirements for the basic major in chemistry:
Chemistry 141, 142, 241, 242, 331, 341, 342; Mathematics 121, 122; Physics 121, 122.

Requirements for the ACS major in chemistry:
All courses required for the basic major, plus Chemistry 332, 411, and 2 semesters (6 credit hours) of 400-level courses. Independent study may be counted as one of the two semesters.

Requirements for the major in chemistry-biochemistry:
Chemistry 141, 142; 241, 242; 312 or 341, 342; 467, 468; Mathematics 121, 122; Physics 121, 122; Biology 121, 122, 272, one additional course numbered 200 or higher.

Requirements for the major in chemistry-environmental sciences:
All courses required for the basic major, plus Chemistry 217, 483, 484; Economics 131, 132; Biology 121, 122 or Geology 141, 142.

Both junior and senior January programs should be taken in the major.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all required courses. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

A student who majors in chemistry is prepared to enter many professional or graduate schools, such as in medical sciences, biochemistry, law, environmental sciences, oceanography, pharmacology, forensic science, and other areas of concentration.

Seminars are held on Tuesday evenings; chemistry majors are expected to attend, and seniors are expected to participate. Summer employment in industrial or professional laboratories at the end of the junior year is encouraged.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental geology-chemistry major.

Chairman, Professor Koons
Professor Koons; Associate Professors H. Pestana and Allen1; Assistant Professor Westerman2.

The department offers three major programs for students with different interests. For each option, at least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses taken in the major. No requirement may be taken pass/fail.

Requirements for the basic major in geology:
Geology 141, 142, 215, 242, 251, 311 (or 312), 323 or 371, 381, 382, 452; one year of college mathematics; and Chemistry 141, 142. Geology 382 and one semester of Geology 491, 492 are recommended for professional preparation.

The earth science option is offered for students planning to teach in the secondary schools; the requirements are: Geology 141, 142, 215, 251, 292, 311 (or 312), 323, 324, 381; Chemistry 141.

The environmental science option is designed to provide students with a core of geology courses supplemented by related courses from other departments. The requirements are: Geology 141, 142, 215, 311 (or 312), 483 or 484; Biology 121, 122, 271; Chemistry 217 (or any of the following: 241, 242, 331, 332); Mathematics 121, 241 or 381; Physics 112 or 121; Economics 131, 132, 231; Sociology 232. Other related courses include: Biology 311, 314, 315, 316, 318, 332, 352, 354, 356, 358; Geology 172 (or 176), 241, 242, 292, 323, 324, 371; Mathematics 122, 242, 382; Physics 122, Economics 293, 294, 314.

The Bermuda Semester. Majors may earn 12 credit hours in field study of coral reefs and carbonate environments. Geology 176, 312, and 314 are offered biennially by Colby faculty using the facilities of the Bermuda Biological Station.

Students planning professional careers in geology should remember that graduate schools will require for admission a summer field course or its equivalent, at least one year in physics and biology, and, frequently, additional mathematics; and that candidates for the doctorate must demonstrate a reading knowledge of two foreign languages.

Attention is also called to interdepartmental majors in geology-biology and geology-chemistry.

1On leave first semester.
2First semester only.

Chairman, Professor L. Zukowski
Professor L. Zukowski¹; Associate Professors Small and Hayslett²; Assistant Professors J. Goulet, G. Walker, Hamilton, and Skrien; Instructors C. H. Bassett³ and Kiralis; Lecturer Flamm⁴.

Requirements for the major in mathematics:
Mathematics 121, 122, 221, 222, 361, 362, 401, 402, 421, 431, and 12 additional hours in mathematics selected from the following: 311, 312, 315, 332, 352, 372, 381, 382, 422, 432.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.
The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses taken in the department. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Freshmen planning to major in mathematics or the physical sciences should elect in the sequence Mathematics 121, 122, 221, 222. Advanced placement or high school background would determine exactly where a student should enter the sequence.

Freshmen planning to major in the life sciences or social sciences might plan to elect from the set Mathematics 113 (Linear Algebra); Mathematics 121, 122 (Calculus); Mathematics 241 (Elementary Statistics); Mathematics 243 (Finite Mathematics). Elementary Statistics has a prerequisite of Mathematics 121 or equivalent. Mathematics 243 is offered in alternate years and has a prerequisite of 113 or 121, or equivalent.

A brief introduction to the use of the computer terminals will be required in all 100- and 200-level mathematics courses. For students electing more than one such course, the work will be graduated accordingly.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental majors in administrative science-mathematics, economics-mathematics, philosophy-mathematics, and psychology-mathematics.

PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY

Chairman, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR METZ

Associate Professors Dudley and Metz; Assistant Professor Campbell.

The department seeks to train students to think analytically in terms of the fundamental principles of physics. Subject matter in courses is selected to illustrate basic laws with wide applicability. The course offerings provide excellent background for graduate study in physics, astronomy, and some areas of engineering. Moreover, analytical training is often profitable to students who intend to pursue other professions, such as medicine, law, or business.

Requirements for the major in physics:

Twenty-eight credit hours in physics: including 121, 122, 211, 232, 321; Mathematics 121, 122, 221, 222. A comprehensive examination is normally required in the senior year.

Students preparing for graduate work in a physics-related science or engineering should plan to elect at least 12 additional hours of physics, including 152, 331, 333, and six additional hours of mathematics, including 311. For students planning graduate work in physics or astronomy, attention is drawn particularly to Physics 322, 332, 441, and 442. Mathematics 121, 122 should be taken during the freshman year. It is recommended that Chemistry 141, 142 be taken during the sophomore year, and that the college language requirement be fulfilled in French, German, or Russian.

Students seeking advanced standing in physics should consult the chairman of the department before electing courses.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses taken in the Division of Natural Sciences. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Interdisciplinary Studies

Interdisciplinary majors are offered in American studies, East Asian studies, studies in human development, and studies in Western civilization. In addition, there are courses in black studies and the performing arts. Each area is administered by an advisory committee and utilizes courses in several departments of the college.

Director, Professor C. W. Bassett

Advisory Committee: Professors C. W. Bassett (English), Bernard (History), Brancaccio (English), Cocks (Special Collections), Geib (Sociology), Gemery (Economics), Hudson (Philosophy), Longstaff (Religion), Machlin (Music), Mackenzie (Government), Maisel (Government), Mannocchi (English), McDowell (English), W. Miller (Art), Marrione (Sociology), R. Moss (History), and Weisbrot (History); and five students majoring in American studies.

A student majoring in American studies at Colby is taught—in single courses and through a combination of courses—the subject matter of America’s past and present, with special effort devoted to the integration and knowledge of more than one academic discipline. Built around a core of courses in American history and American literature, the American studies program strives for genuinely interdisciplinary insights into the complexities of American thought and culture.

Requirements for the major in American studies:

Five courses, to include a senior seminar, in an area of concentration in either American literature or American history. These courses must demonstrate adequate chronological breadth, and include offerings at the 200, 300, and 400 levels.

Three courses in the area, American literature or history, not chosen as the area of concentration.
Note: All majors are strongly advised to complete English 359 in the junior year. Senior majors are required to complete the American studies section of English 493.

One senior seminar or independent study course with an American emphasis in a department other than the area of concentration.

Additional courses with an American emphasis to bring the total to at least 14 courses. These may be selected from a list available from the major adviser, and include offerings in administrative science, American studies, art, biology, economics, education, geology, government, music, philosophy, psychology, religion, and sociology.

An interdisciplinary oral or written comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year.

The senior January program is required to be taken in the major.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Courses approved for the major:

Administrative Science: 354 Law.

American Studies: -97, -98 Selected Topics (except at the 100 level); 274 Women’s Studies: The Female Experience in America; 276 Black Culture in America; 491, 492 Independent Study.

Art: 271 American Art; *356 Twentieth-Century Art; 491, 492 Independent Study.

Biology: 352 Ecological Theory.

Education: *298 History of Women’s Education, United States and Québec; 336 History of the American School.

English: 251d Major American Writers I; 252d Major American Writers II; *351 The American Renaissance I; †[352] The American Renaissance II; 353 American Realism and Naturalism; 355 Black American Literature; 356 Modern American Fiction; †[357] American Poetry; 358 Contemporary American Poetry; †[359] Early American Authors; [375] Modern Drama I; [376] Modern Drama II; 491, 492 Independent Study; 493, 494 Seminars in British and American Literature (when appropriate).
GEOLOGY: †[323, 324] Map Interpretation and Geomorphology of the United States.

PSYCHOLOGY: 253 Social Psychology; 491, 492 Independent Study.

RELIGION: *217 Religion in America; [277, 278] Religious Perspectives; 281 Cultural Euthenics; †[316] Contemporary Western Theology; 491, 492 Independent Study.

SOCIOLOGY: 211, 212 Short Courses in Sociology; 231 Contemporary Social Issues; *233 Criminology; 252d1 Race and Minorities; *253 Urban Sociology; †[274] Social Stratification; 318 Contemporary Theory; 361d2, [362] Cultural Anthropology; †[391] Social Change; *394 Collective Behavior; 491, 492 Independent Study.

ACK STUDIES

Director, Professor Brancaccio

Advisory Committee: Professors C. W. Bassett (English), Brancaccio (English), Gemery (Economics), McDowell (English), R. Moss (History), Sweeney (English), and Weissbrot (History); and two students.

Activities in the area of black studies began in 1969 with the formation... of a black studies subcommittee of the educational policy committee. The work of this committee has involved the encouragement of curriculum development, scholarly exchanges through visiting lecturers, faculty attendance at professional meetings such as the one held annually in Atlanta at the Center for Afro-American Studies, exchange of students, and faculty visits to other colleges to keep abreast of developing programs. The committee also encourages the development of January program topics in this area. The history courses listed below may be offered as a field of concentration within the history major.

Courses offered in black studies include:

American Studies: 276 Black Culture in America.

English: 355 Black American Literature; 436 African Prose.

History: 277 Afro-American History I; 278 Afro-American History I; 379 Black History III; 432 Seminar in Black History.

Students interested in black studies should also note the following courses, which deal with various American minority and third-world concerns.

Economics: 293 Economic Development.

Government: 332 Political Development in the Third World.

Religion: 319 Primitive Religion.

Sociology: 231 Contemporary Social Issues; 252d1 Race and Minorities; 253 Urban Sociology.

EAST ASIAN STUDIES

Director, Assistant Professor so

Advisory Committee: Professors Bowen (Government), Elman (Philosophy), Feigon (History), So (Modern Foreign Languages), and Soifer (Philosophy & Religion).

The program of East Asian studies contributes a new dimension to the traditional liberal arts curriculum by exposing the student to rich cultures outside the scope of Western civilization. Study abroad during the junior year is encouraged; see FOREIGN STUDY section for information about Colby’s participation in the Associated Kyoto Program at exchange agreement with Kansai University of Foreign Studies in Japan. Other foreign study possibilities include the People’s Republic of China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan.

Requirements for the major in East Asian studies:

A minimum of two years of training in an East Asian language, and additional credit hours obtained from courses in East Asian studies at least three different disciplines. Students are encouraged to take History 151, 152 and at least one seminar or independent study project in the major.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.
Courses approved for the major:

EAST ASIAN STUDIES: *198 Introduction to Japanese Intellectual History; *297A Topics in Chinese Science; *297B The Perception of the "Orient" in the West; *298 Foundations of Modern Japanese Political Thought; 491, 492 Independent Study.

HISTORY: 151 East Asian Civilization to 1600; 152 East Asian Civilization from 1600 to the Present; 215 America and Asia: Attitudes and Relationships; 216 The Chinese Revolution; [317] The Introduction of Marxism into China; 318 The People's Republic of China; 457 Seminar in Modern Chinese History.

PHILOSOPHY: *197 The Classical Tradition in Chinese Philosophy; *198 Medieval and Early Modern Chinese Intellectual History; *356 Indian Thought; [391, 392] Philosophy Seminar (when appropriate).

RELIGION: 211 Indian Religions; 212 East Asian Religions; 214 The Buddhist Tradition; *297 The Hindu Mythological Tradition; [391, 392] Religion Seminar (when appropriate); *398 Enlightenment and Immortality in Asian Religion.

ENVIROMENTAL STUDIES

Director, Professor H. Pestana

Advisory Committee: Professor Bennett (Biology), Vice-President Jenson (Dean of Faculty), Professors Koons (Geology), Machemer (Chemistry), Metz (Physics), H. Pestana (Geology), and L. Zukowski (Mathematics).

This major is available only to students entering Colby prior to 1979. Attention is called to environmental science options in biology, chemistry, and geology.

Requirements for the major in environmental studies:

In biology: one semester course selected from 138 or 271; 121 or 219; and 352.

In chemistry: two semester courses selected from †[111], 112 or 141, 142.

In geology: two semester courses selected from 141, 142 or 161, 162; 172 or *176 or 292; and 483, 484.

In mathematics: 241 or 381.

In physics: Physics 121 or Astronomy 131.

From the science areas, a student is urged to take at least two courses with laboratory.
An additional seven credit hours from the approved list of courses in astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, and physics.

Nine credit hours selected from the approved list of courses in administrative science, economics, government, and sociology.

At least one January program in environmental studies.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Courses approved for the major:

ASTRONOMY: 131 Introductory Astronomy.

CHEMISTRY: †[111] Studies in Environmental Biochemistry; 112 Chemistry for Citizens; 141, 142 General Chemistry and Elementary Analysis.

GEOL OGY: 141, 142 Introduction to Geological Science; †[161, 162] Problems in Geology; †[172] Oceanography; †292 Meteorology; 483, 484 Environmental Geology.

PHYSICS: 121 General Physics.

Approved courses from the Division of Natural Sciences include those listed above and the following:

GEOL OGY: *176 Oceanography; 241, 242 Field Methods and Structural Geology; 251 Invertebrate Paleontology; †[252] Micropaleontology; †[254] Advanced Invertebrate Paleontology; 311 Sedimentation; *312 Sedimentation and Carbonate Sediments; *314 Field Study in Bermuda; †[323, 324] Map Interpretation and Geomorphology of the United States; †[358] Geological Field Study.

PHYSICS: 122 General Physics.

Approved courses from the Division of Social Sciences:

ADMINISTRATIVE SCIENCE: 354 Law; 413 Organizational Behavior.

ECONOMICS: 131d Principles of Macroeconomics; 132d Principles of Microeconomics; *274 American Economic History.

GOVERNMENT: 314 American Constitutional Law; 338 International Law; [393] State and Local Government.

PERFORMING ARTS

Coordinator, Assistant Professor Woody

Advisory Committee: Professors Machlin (Music), Mitchell-Wentzel (Performing Arts), Sewell (Performing Arts), Witham (English), and Woody (Performing Arts).

The program in the performing arts enlarges existing patterns of academic concentration through credited work in theater, musical performance, and dance. The program is founded on two premises: first, that performance is essential to a full understanding of the art form; second, that all the arts share significant modes of thought and expression, and that a knowledge of one art form will contribute to an understanding of all the arts. In addition to traditional lecture/discussion courses, the program includes frequent opportunities for practical experience in the theater.

Courses offered in the performing arts include:

Music: 191, 192 Applied Music: Individual Study; 193, 194 Applied Music: Ensemble; *278 Opera as Theater; *378 Conducting; 491, 492 Independent Study in Music.

Performing Arts: 111d Theater Production; 132 Scene Design; 171d2 Acting I; †[221, 222] Theater History; 231 Stage Lighting; †[241, 242] Introduction to the Art of Dance; 251d2 Stage Movement; *272d1 Acting II; †[274] Performing the Classics; †[341], 342 Modern Dance Composition and Theory; 491, 492 Independent Study in Theater.

Courses in the literature of the performing arts, which provide the liberal arts context for the program, include:

Classics: †[232] Greek Tragedy.

Music: 134 The Symphony; *135 Chansons and Lieder; *235d2 Chamber Music; [332] Studies in Operatic Style; †[376] Counterpoint.

Spanish: *351 El Siglo de Oro.

PUBLIC POLICY

Director, Professor Tietenberg; Codirector, Professor MacKenzie

Advisory Committee: Vice-President Jenson (Dean of Faculty), Professors MacKenzie (Government), Meehan (Economics), Rose (Sociology), and Tietenberg (Economics).

The public policy program is an interdisciplinary concentration that builds upon foundations of economics and government to enable students to engage in thoughtful and sophisticated analysis of important public policy issues. The public policy concentration, available in the economics and government majors, is designed to develop in Colby students the ability to apply the methodologies and accumulated knowledge of several disciplines to complex public problems through a combination of classroom, independent research, and work experiences.

The requirements of this program are shaped by its three substantive objectives: (1) to reveal the broad dimensions of important public policy issues, the interests they crosscut, and the value conflicts they present; (2) to provide an understanding of the operations of the public-policy-making process in the United States—its political and economic dynamics, its biases, and the parameters that establish this for policy makers; (3) to provide the conceptual and analytical skills needed to conduct independent evaluations of proposed and existing public policies.

Requirements for the concentration in public policy:
It is anticipated that all requirements listed below will be completed before the beginning of the senior year.

(1) Method courses, to examine the major approaches to, and techniques for, the study of policy issues. The following courses are required:
- Administrative Science: 271 Introduction to Decision Making.
- Economics: 233d Macroeconomic Theory or 234d Microeconomic Theory.
- Government: 311 Introduction to Social Science Research.
- Philosophy: 211 Moral Philosophy.

(2) Process courses, to explore the processes by which public policies are designed, enacted, and implemented. Government 317 is required, and at least one course each in economics and government drawn from the following list.
- Economics: 313 Topics in Law and Economics; 338 Money, Banking, and Monetary Policy; 351 Public Finance; †[352] Fiscal Policy.

(3) Practical applications. During the junior year, each student will put together a comprehensive program of study of a selected policy issue. This program will consist of two courses from different departments, whose content bears directly on the issues selected, and an internship in some organization with an interest in, or responsibility for, policy making in the area of the student’s substantive concentration. The internship may be undertaken during January, the summer, or an academic semester, and will culminate with a short research paper analyzing the issues to which the student was exposed.
During the senior year, a seminar in public policy analysis is required. This will be taught jointly by two faculty members from different departments, and will focus on independent, multidisciplinary student research.

REGIONAL AND CANADIAN STUDIES

Director, Professor Weiss

Advisory Committee: Professors C. W. Bassett (English), Bennett (Biology), Brancaccio (English), Koons (Geology), W. Miller (Art), Rosenthal (Sociology), Teitenberg (Economics), Weiss (Modern Foreign Languages).

The regional and Canadian studies program fosters and encourages the comparative study of northern New England and eastern Canada (Québec and the Maritime Provinces). From its beginning in 1978, with the help of a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the program has promoted increased awareness of the varieties of cultures, languages, and political systems that surround us in Maine.

A lecture series brings speakers from Canada and New England; January programs offer students the opportunity to study in Canada and to do field work within the state. Colby works closely with the Canadian-American Center at the University of Maine, and students have full access to the center’s resources. Colby students may, if they desire, spend a semester or an academic year at a Canadian university.

The program offers no major, but coordinates existing courses in regional studies and promotes new ones. Because of their experimental nature, many courses in regional and Canadian studies have been offered on a temporary basis; these include Comparative Canadian and American Literature, Canadian Art and Architecture, and The Franco-American Experience in New England. Students are advised to check the course-description list at registration time to see what new courses are being offered. Permanent courses in regional and Canadian studies include:

Biology: \( \star [354] \) Marine Ecology; \( \star 356 \) Inland Ecology.

Economics: 294 Urban and Regional Economics.

Education: \( \star 298 \) History of Women’s Education, United States and Québec.

French: \( [235] \) Québec in Transition.

Geology: \( \star [324] \) Map Interpretation and Geomorphology of the United States; \( \star 371 \) Glacial Geology.

STUDIES IN HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

Director, Professor Rosenthal

Steering Committee: Professors Bennett (Biology), Morriere (Sociology), R. Reuman (Philosophy), and Rohrman (Psychology).

Advisory Committee: Professors Easton (Biology), Geib (Sociology), Hudson (Philosophy), Jacobson (Education), F. Parker (Philosophy), Perez (Psychology), R. Reuman (Philosophy), Skowbo (Psychology), and Todrank (Philosophy); and six students.

A multidisciplinary study of the origin and development of man. Academic aims of the program are to provide an understanding of the development of man as a biological and psychological organism; an appreciation of the relationship between the individual and his social environment; an opportunity to consider possible future directions for both the individual and society; and working experience with a local, state, or regional agency involved in some aspect of human development.

Requirements for the major in studies in human development: (through the class of 1981):

In biology: 121 and either 122 or 134.
In human development: 393d, 493d.
In philosophy: one semester course selected from 211, 236, 281, 372.
In psychology: 111 and two semester courses selected from 251, 253, 254, 255, 256.
In sociology: 121, 122 and two semester courses selected from 232, 233, 237, 253, 273, 274, 361, [362], 391, 394.

An additional nine credit hours above the introductory level in biology, economics, English or American literature, government, history, philosophy, psychology, religion, and sociology.

At least one January program in human development.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

Requirements for the major in studies in human development (beginning with the class of 1982):

In biology: 121, 122 and either 134 or 271.
In human development: 393d, 493d.
In philosophy: 331, 332.
In psychology: 111 and two additional courses, not to include 214 or 255.

In sociology: 121, 122 and one additional course, not to include 237 or 271.

Either Sociology 271 or Psychology 214.
Either Psychology 255 or Sociology 237.

An additional nine credit hours above the introductory level in one of the following areas: biology, philosophy-religion, psychology, or sociology.

At least one independent January program is to be taken in human development during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses of ferred toward the major. No requirement for the major may be taken pass/fail.

STUDIES IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION

Director, Professor D. Koonce

Advisory Committee: Professors Berschneider (History), Bundy (Modern Foreign Languages), Carpenter (Art), D. Koonce (Classics), H. Koonce (English), F. Parker (Philosophy and Religion), and Westervelt (Classics).

Each student majoring in studies in Western civilization will draw up a provisional plan of study with his major adviser before choosing courses. This plan will be reviewed and can be revised by the adviser and the student before registration each semester. Since in a civilization program it is desirable to respond to a culture in its own terms, students in the Western civilization major will be expected to pursue at least one classical or modern language for at least one year beyond the all-college language requirement. The exact extent of this requirement, and the language involved, will be part of the plan agreed on by the student and his adviser. The advisory committee for the studies in Western civilization major encourages students to take advantage of opportunities for off-campus study currently available through the committee on foreign study and student exchange and the committee on special programs. Plans for off-campus study, which include provisions for meeting the requirements for the major, will be accepted in lieu of portions of the requirements below.

Requirements for the major in studies in Western civilization:

Eighteen hours from courses listed in and counting toward a major in one of the following disciplines: art, classics, English, history, modern foreign languages, philosophy, religion. Nine of these credit hours must be concentrated in no more than two of the following periods of Western culture: Greece, Rome, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, the Enlightenment.

At least six hours in courses in two other disciplines that are in the same period(s) of concentration selected above, and which appear in the list of approved courses below.

Western Civilization 493 and 494.

Eight additional credit hours selected from the list of approved courses below.

Courses approved for the major:

Ancient History: 151 Introduction to Greek Civilization; †[177, 178] Topics in Ancient History; *252 Greek History; †[254] Roman History; †[352] Athens in the Fifth Century; †[353] Greece in the Fourth Century.

Art: 121, 122 Introduction to Art; †[311] The Art of Ancient Greece; *312 Art of the Renaissance in Italy; †[314] Baroque Art; †[316] Art of the Renaissance in Northern Europe; †[358] Medieval Art.
Division of Physical Education and Athletics

Chairman, Assistant Professor McGee

Assistant Professors McGee: Adjunct Assistant Professors Covell, Nelson, Whitmore, Taylor, Kopp, Wescott, DeLorenzo, and M. Goulet; Adjunct Instructors Bell, Ewell, and Pluck.

The department of physical education and athletics offers required and voluntary physical education classes, intramural sports, inter-collegiate athletics (varsity and junior varsity), and informal recreational activities.

On leave first semester.

Coordinator, Assistant Professor McGee

Physical Education 1, 2: two semesters of physical education are required of all Colby students for graduation. Waivers are available for members of varsity or junior varsity teams.

A program of instruction in a wide variety of activities is offered on a coeducational basis. Activities presently in the program are aquatics: swimming, life saving, water-safety instructors' course, canoeing, scuba; leisure-time sports: tennis, racquetball, golf, squash, skating, figure skating, bicycling, skiing, cross-country skiing, fencing, badminton, riding; dance: modern, folk, ballet, ballroom; team sports: volleyball; other activities: yoga, conditioning, hiking.

Intramurals

Coordinator, Mr. Delorenzo

Programs in intramurals are on a coeducational basis; each student is free to engage in the activities of his/her choice. Competition is organized in touch football, soccer, basketball, ice hockey, volleyball, chess, table tennis, skiing, track, squash, swimming, softball, tennis, cross-country, marathon run, and basketball free-throw. Teams are divided into fraternity and independent divisions, with a point system determining winners of each divisional trophy. Participation by all members of the college community is encouraged.

Division of Special Programs

Recognizing the fact that diverse interests exist in every community, and that even the most professionally trained individual has a need to continue his/her education, Colby College maintains a division of special programs with a full-time director.

Each summer nearly 6,000 individuals from throughout the nation and other countries are on campus for courses, conferences, seminars, and institutes ranging from Great Books to the Maine Special Olympics. Continuing-education programs in medicine and allied health fields constitute a significant portion of summer activities. Approximately 150 doctors enroll in the 10-week Lancaster Course in Ophthalmology. Three- to five-day seminars in Allergy and Immunology, Anesthesiology, Dermatology, Emergency Medicine, Epilepsy, Forensic Medicine, Hematology, Neurosurgery, Nuclear Medicine, Obstet-Pulmonology, Pediatrics, Pulmonary Disease, and Surgery are offered annually or biennially. The Maine Orthopedic Review, a two-week course, is held at Colby.

Colby medical programs are fully accredited by the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Education. For courses designed for primary-care physicians, the American Academy of Family Practice credit is generally available. In addition, some of the medical seminars are cosponsored by nationally recognized organizations, such as the American Association of Dermatology.

There are various other summer programs, including the Estate Planning and Tax Institute, Advanced Audiology, Church Music Institute, Speech Pathology, as well as youth cheerleader, basketball, soccer, and football clinics.

During the academic year, the division arranges such annual conferences as the Colby Institute for Management. Adult courses and noncredit courses for which the continuing-education unit may be earned are also structured and evaluated through special programs.

The use of Colby's facilities for conferences is coordinated through the division of special programs. This past year, some of the groups holding meetings on campus included the Natural Resources Council, Public Health Nurses, Maine Council of Teachers of English, Maine Child Nutrition Project, and Maine Press Association.

Information may be obtained by writing to the director, Robert H Kany.
Courses of Study

Each course is known by a title and also, for convenience of reference and ease in record keeping, by subject and number: American Art is also Art 271.

The first digit indicates the class or classes eligible to take the course:
- 100—open to freshmen;
- 200—ordinarily open to sophomores, and classes above;
- 300—ordinarily open only to juniors and seniors;
- 400—ordinarily restricted to seniors.

The second digit may be:
- zero—either semester of a year course, with credit given only on completion of the two semesters;
- an even number—either member of a pair of closely related semester courses (special permission of the department is required to take the second without the first);
- an odd number—an independent semester course.

The last digit shows the semester in which the course is offered. Courses ending in odd numbers are first-semester (fall) courses, while those ending in even numbers are given in the second semester.

Thus Art 271 may be elected no earlier than the sophomore year (as it is a 200 course); it is an independent one-semester course (shown by the 7, an odd number); and it is given in the first semester (since the final digit is also odd).

The letter d after a course number indicates that the course is repeated each semester. The d followed by the number 1 or 2 is used to designate a course being given out of its usual semester. Geology 313d2 would be an independent semester course for juniors or seniors ordinarily given in the fall but this year being presented in the spring instead.

The letter e after a number indicates an E course, the first of two closely related semester courses. When so designated, a mark of E may be given for the first. E designates provisional failure, but the deficiency may be made up by satisfactory completion of the sequentially related course in the immediately following semester. When thus made up, the first-semester mark is changed to D. An E course finally carries a separate permanent mark for each semester.

A year course (with zero its second digit) may not be dropped at midyear without loss of credit; nor may it be entered except at the beginning of the year. In a year course, the mark at midyear merely indicates the student’s standing at that time. The end-of-year mark is the only finally recorded mark for the course, and no credit is given until that mark is recorded.

An asterisk indicates that the course will probably not be offered in 1981-82.

A schedule of hours and rooms for courses listed in this catalogue is available at the registrar's office at registration periods.

Courses listed are subject to withdrawal at the discretion of the college administration.

Credit hours shown are per semester unless otherwise noted. Courses listing variable credit are offered primarily for the smaller number of credits. Students can earn augmented credit in these courses by completing such extra work as the instructor may specify.

Unless otherwise stated or taken pass/fail, courses carry basic credit.
Administrative Science

111d
The Computer and Decision Making
Mr. Richards

An introduction to the potential uses of the computer as a device in the solution of a variety of management problems. Three credit hours.

221e, 222
Accounting
Mrs. Knight and Mr. McGough

The underlying theory and analytical aspects of accounting as a control device and tool of management, including an examination of the role of accounting in modern society—its relationship to law, economics, and social policy. Three credit hours.

271
Introduction to Decision Making
Mr. Richards

An examination of decision theory and modeling utilized in solving complex policy problems. Consideration is given to simulation, risk and cost-benefit analysis, and budgeting. A case approach is used to enable students to apply theory and then test and defend the applications. Three or four credit hours.

321, 322
Finance
Mr. Zukowski

An analytically structured approach to decision making in the financial area. Money and capital markets are considered.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222 and Economics 131, 132 or special permission. Three or four credit hours.

333d
Marketing
Ms. Paul

Development of the broad concept of marketing as an all-pervasive organizational and societal function, both domestically and internationally. Four credit hours.

334
Administration of Public and Social Service Organizations
Mrs. Knight

An introduction to the theories and methodologies utilized in the administration of public and social service organizations: federal, state, and local government units, health care and educational institutions. Emphasis placed on the management tools and skills that best enable the organization to perform its function efficiently and effectively in an environment of constantly changing social and economic values.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

341, 342
Advanced Accounting
Mr. McGough

Advanced study of accounting theory, with stress on analytical, interpretative, and managerial aspects of the subject. Concepts relating to major current accounting questions are examined.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222. Three credit hours.

74Women's Studies: The Female Experience in AmericaMs. Mannocchi

A re-creation of the female experience in nineteenth- and twentieth-century America through an analysis of the primary documents of women’s lives: letters, diaries, autobiographies, oral histories, and films by women filmmakers. In 1980-81, autobiographical writings by Emma Goldman, Gertrude Stein, and Sylvia Plath will be supplemented by primary source materials from the lives of lesser-known American women, culminating in a small-group production of an audiovisual document of the contemporary female experience in America. Open to men and women.

Prerequisite: Sophomore standing or permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

276Black Culture in AmericaMs. McDowell

An interdisciplinary analysis of the literary and historical manifestations of black culture in the United States.

297Cultural Traditions in Modern American LifeMr. Hunt

The relationship between folk tradition, popular culture, and elite art in the contemporary United States, to include music and visual art as well as literature. Focusing on representative figures like Duke Ellington, Charles Ives, Raymond Chandler, and Robert Coover, as well as western and blues songs, we will try to understand and appreciate the ways that Ralph Ellison’s Invisible Man draws on and synthesizes these cultural traditions. Three credit hours.

91, 492Independent StudyFaculty

Individual study of special problems in American studies in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor and the program director. One to four credit hours.

American Studies Major

Attention is called to the major in American studies, incorporating courses from several departments. Courses approved for this major are listed in the section on Interdisciplinary Studies (q.v.).

Astronomy

IN THE DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY

112

R. DUDLEY

Major turning points in the history of man's understanding of his world. An examination of the relationships and content of revolutionary changes of thought about motion from Copernicus to Einstein, illustrated primarily by astronomical examples. Occasional laboratory work is designed to illuminate the concepts discussed. Permission of the instructor required for students who have completed Physics 121. Lecture and laboratory. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

31

INTRODUCTORY ASTRONOMY

R. CAMPBELL

A study of the universe from a physical point of view, including a discussion of the earth, the solar system, the stars and their evolution, the galaxy and some of the newly discovered peculiar objects within it (e.g., pulsars, black holes), and cosmology. Three credit hours.

Biology

21, 122

INTRODUCTION TO BIOLOGY

FACULTY

First semester: the form, function, and behavior of selected organisms. Second semester: the biology of reproduction, inheritance, and development. Illustrative examples will be drawn from a variety of organisms. Coordinated lectures presented by several members of the biology faculty in their areas of specialization. Lecture and laboratory. Four credit hours.

34

HUMAN EVOLUTION

R. EASTON

The evolutionary origin of Man through study of selected original papers and short publications. Attention is given to the basic theory of evolution and the forces that are effective in the process. Does not satisfy the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Three credit hours.

36

R. FIRMAGE

Basic principles in the areas of plant structure and function will be covered and related to plant cultivation. Practical application of these principles will be discussed in areas such as lighting, propagation, pruning, and floriculture. Some laboratory work will be required, and one field trip will be taken. Does not satisfy the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Credit may not be obtained for both Biology 136 and 138. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

Chemistry

112
Chemistry for Citizens
Mr. Smith

Basic chemical principles and their application to topics of current concern, such as environmental problems, energy, nuclear reactions, recycling, health, and consumerism. Intended as a nonlaboratory course for non-science majors. Three credit hours.

141c, 142
General Chemistry and Elementary Analysis
Mr. Smith and Mr. Shattuck

Fundamental principles, with examples selected from inorganic chemistry; stoichiometry; atomic theory; chemical bonding; thermochemistry; gases, liquids, and solids; solutions; chemical equilibria; electrochemistry; chemistry of certain important elements; radioactivity. Lecture, discussion, and laboratory. The first-semester laboratory is concerned with gravimetric analysis, the second with volumetric analysis and qualitative analysis. Four credit hours.

217
Environmental Chemistry
Mr. Machemer

Application of chemical principles to such topics as mineral resources, energy, solid wastes, air and water pollution, and toxic substances.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 142. Three credit hours.

241c, 242
Organic Chemistry
Mr. Newton

The chemistry of carbon compounds, aliphatic, aromatic, and heterocyclic, from the point of view of synthesis, structure, properties, and uses. Lecture, discussion, and laboratory. Laboratory includes separations, purifications, syntheses, determination of important properties.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 142. Five credit hours.

312
Fundamentals of Physical Chemistry
Mr. Machemer

A lecture course to provide a fundamental understanding of the physical chemistry important to biochemists and biologists.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 242, Mathematics 122, and Physics 122. Three credit hours.

331
Quantitative Analysis
Mr. Machemer

A theoretical and practical study of fundamentals of analytical chemistry. Laboratory work emphasizes the acquisition of manipulative skills. Lectures are devoted to principles underlying chemical analysis,
The literature of analytical chemistry, precision, and sources of error. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 142. Four credit hours.

332
Instrumental Analytical Chemistry
Mr. MacEhmer

Theoretical and practical instruction in special instrumental methods. Laboratory work involves potentiometric determinations, atomic, ultra-violet, infra-red, and nuclear magnetic resonance studies, polarography, gas chromatography, and radio chemistry. Lecture, discussion, and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 331, 342 (may be taken concurrently). Four credit hours.

341, 342
Physical Chemistry
Mr. Shattuck

The laws and theories of chemical reactivity and the physical properties of matter. Emphasis is placed on chemical equilibrium, molecular bonding, and the rates of chemical reactions. Major topics include thermodynamics, solutions, reaction kinetics, quantum mechanics, spectroscopy, and statistical mechanics.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 142, Physics 122, and Mathematics 122. Five credit hours.

411
Inorganic Chemistry
Mr. Smith

Current models and concepts of inorganic chemistry, with emphasis on both structural and reaction aspects. Topics include bonding and structure, periodic properties, acid-base theories, nonaqueous solvents, applications of thermodynamics, coordination compounds, and selected areas of descriptive chemistry of current interest. Lecture and discussion.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 342. Four credit hours.

413
Integrated Laboratory Studies
Mr. Smith and Mr. Newton

Synthesis and characterization of organic, inorganic, and organometallic compounds.

Corequisite: Chemistry 411 or 431. One to three credit hours.

431
Physical Organic Chemistry
Mr. Newton

Reaction mechanisms, molecular rearrangements, nonclassical carbonium ions, hard-soft acid-base theory, carbenes and nitrenes, qualitative molecular orbital theory, and pericyclic reactions. Lecture.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 242, 342. Three credit hours.

432
Advanced Organic Chemistry
Mr. Newton

The analysis and design of syntheses of complex molecules of biological importance: steroids, alkaloids, pheromones, juvenile hormones, prostaglandins, gibberellins, and antibiotics. Lecture.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 242. Two credit hours.

Geology

- 141c, 142
  Introduction to Geological Science
  Mr. Koons

- The physical and biological evolution of the earth, with emphasis on mechanisms and processes; laboratory and field sessions. Enrollment limited to three laboratory sections of 25 to 30 students; recommended for those planning to major in geology or environmental studies. Lecture and laboratory. May not be taken for credit in addition to Geology 161, 162. Four credit hours.
†[161, 162]
Problems in Geology
Selected topics related to a central theme of geologic time. Most of the topics involve laboratory work in the gathering and interpretation of geological data. Designed for nonmajors. Satisfies the laboratory science distribution requirement. Enrollment limited. May not be taken for credit in addition to Geology 141, 142. Three credit hours.

†[172]
Oceanography
A descriptive introduction to physical, dynamical, and biological oceanography. Topics will include: the structure and composition of the ocean and its floor; tides, currents, and other important dynamic features; the nature of ocean life. The value of the oceans for food and physical resources will be discussed. Lecture. Three credit hours.

*176
Oceanography
Mr. Pestana
Similar to Geology 172 but taught at the Bermuda Biological Station. Students cannot receive credit for Geology 172 and 176. Lecture. Three credit hours.

215
Mineralogy
Mr. Westerman
Physical properties and chemical structure of minerals leading to investigation of the chemical composition and optical properties of minerals. Lecture and laboratory.
Prerequisite: Geology 141, and Chemistry 141 (may be taken concurrently) or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

241, 242
Field Methods and Structural Geology
Mr. Westerman
First semester: surface and subsurface mapping techniques applied to geological problems. Second semester: structural geology, including a study of mechanical deformation of rocks, microfabrics, primary structures, structural associations with plate tectonics.
Prerequisite: Geology 142. Four credit hours.

Invertebrate Paleontology
Mr. Pestana
Morphology of invertebrates and general principles, including nomenclature, taxonomy, paleoecology, evolution, correlation, and techniques of identification. Lecture and laboratory.
Prerequisite: Geology 142 or 161 or one year of biology. Four credit hours.

†[252]
Micropalaeontology
A laboratory course covering one or more of the major microfossil groups. Emphasis will be on identification, age determination, and environmental interpretation.
Prerequisite: Geology 251 or permission of the instructor. One to four credit hours.

†[254]
Advanced Invertebrate Paleontology
A laboratory course involving a detailed investigation of one or more invertebrate groups. Emphasis will be on identification, age determination, and environmental interpretation.

Government

111
Introduction to American Government and Politics
faculty
An examination of the ideas and values that underlie the American political system, and of their contemporary manifestations in institutions, processes, and policies. Coordinated lectures presented by several members of the government faculty in their areas of specialization. Open to freshmen and, by departmental permission, to others majoring in government. Four credit hours.

112
Comparative Politics: An Introduction to Politics Outside the United States
faculty
An analysis, through case studies, of the major dimensions of domestic and transnational politics in Western democracies, Communist countries, and the Third and Fourth worlds. Coordinated lectures presented by several members of the government faculty in their areas of specialization; discussion sections headed by individual faculty members. Open to freshmen and, by departmental permission, to others majoring in government. Four credit hours.

132
Conflict Resolution
mr. weissberg
This course will begin by dealing with the theoretical aspects of conflict resolution in the domestic and international spheres. Subsequently, it will be turned into the United Nations Security Council as constituted at the present time. Each student will assume the role of an ambassador to the United Nations and represent his or her country’s position in relation to a hypothetical case. Open to freshmen only. Three credit hours.

211
The American System and the Shaping of the Modern Polity
mr. mavrinac
A systematic introduction to the ideas, practices, and experiences that shape modern polities, focusing on the evolution of the American system beginning with the constitutional period. Underlying philosophies and operational assumptions of other complex political systems are considered in order to provide perspective. The goal is to strengthen the student's overall model of the American political system and to help develop an appreciation of contemporary approaches of political scientists to political phenomena. Particularly intended as an introduction to American political thought, and as a foundation for further work in American government and politics, the political systems of other developed societies, and political theory. Designed for students from a variety of majors, including American studies, history, and government. Four credit hours.

215
Transnational Relations in the Modern World
Mr. Weissberg

The basic actors, theories, and systematic elements of international politics and their relationship in the fluidity of the modern world. Emphasis is placed on the search for a structure of international security, and on such subjects as transnational power politics (including the role both of traditional states and of contemporary nonstate movements), comparative conceptions of diplomacy and war as instruments of goal achievement, and institutions of collective security. Intended both for students planning further study in international relations and for those who will not have other occasion in college to study the shape of the international system. Three credit hours.

[234]
European Politics

An introduction to comparative political analysis and to the politics of Great Britain, France, Italy, and the Federal Republic of Germany. Four credit hours.

†[237]
Japan and the United States

The political, cultural, historical, and economic dynamics of Japan's drive to modernize since the Meiji Restoration of 1868. Special attention will be given to the ongoing conflict between the proponents of liberal democracy and those favoring an oligarchic, authoritarian governmental system. Throughout the study, we will seek to locate the roots of Japanese democracy and militarism. Three credit hours.

253
Comparative Political Parties
Mr. Hauss

An introduction to the comparative analysis of political parties, focusing on the behavior of political parties in single and plural party systems. Parties in the United States, Great Britain, the People's Republic of China, and the Ivory Coast will be included. Three or four credit hours.

254
Comparative Communism
Mr. Hauss

An analysis of the politics of the Communist world. Particular attention will be given to an understanding of the similarities and differences between the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the People's Republic of China. Three or four credit hours.

History

11A
The Rise of Europe
Mr. Gillum

A survey of principal developments and trends in European history from about 1450 to about 1890. The expansion of Europe, Renaissance, Reformation, Age of Reason, Revolutionary Epoch, romanticism, liberalism, nationalism, socialism, and imperialism are all given brief attention in an introductory course designed for students who have not already studied this subject. Enrollment is restricted to freshmen and may be limited. Three credit hours.

11B
The Rise of Europe
Mrs. Mavrinac

An examination of major national societies of eighteenth- and nineteenth-century Europe. Political and diplomatic developments of these modernizing states will be investigated, as will the social and cultural processes that accompanied them. Students will formulate and discuss their own analyses in order to develop understanding and skills. Open to freshmen and sophomores. Three credit hours.

112A
The Decline of Europe
Mr. Gillum

The diplomatic backgrounds of World War I and World War II and the period of the cold war, with some attention to the causes and consequences of the Suez crisis of 1956, the conflict in Indo-China, and the wars in the Middle East. Enrollment is restricted to freshmen and may be limited. Three credit hours.

112B
The Decline of Europe
Mrs. Mavrinac

Twentieth-century Europe: World War I, collapse of old empires, emergence of new national societies, and social and political tensions that led to World War II. European politics to the 1970’s. Open to freshmen and sophomores. Three credit hours.

123, 124
Survey of United States History
Mr. Moss

United States history from the age of discovery to the present. Although chronological symmetry is maintained, an effort is made to demonstrate the particular value of political, economic, and constitutional interpretations. Three credit hours.
137
Medieval History, 476-1453
Mr. Berschneider

A historical survey of the "first Europe" of Christendom from the time of the fall of Rome and the establishment of the Christian church to the Renaissance. Emphasis will be on Western (Latin and Germanic) and non-Western (Byzantine and Moslem) influences. Three or four credit hours.

151
East Asian Civilization to 1600
Mr. Feigon

The development of the various cultures and civilizations of East Asia, particularly China and Japan, and their interaction, from "Peking Man" to the seventeenth century. Archeology, geography, philosophy, anthropology, and political institutions of the region will be discussed, focusing on the distinctive contributions of East Asian civilization in relation to other major cultural centers. Three credit hours.

152
East Asian Civilization from 1600 to the Present
Mr. Feigon

The final flowering of the traditional civilizations of China and Japan and their eventual response to the modern industrial West. Though the major historical developments within the period will be discussed, the focus will be on the effect these developments have had on the everyday life of the people of the region. Three credit hours.

197
History through Autobiography
Mr. Bernard and Mr. Bassett

An interdisciplinary team-taught course focusing on several American autobiographies (Bradford, Franklin, Douglass, Twain, others) in order to understand the relationships between individual lives and cultural, social, political, and literary history in America. Coordinated with English 115, Section A. Three credit hours.

215
America and Asia: Attitudes and Relationships
Mr. Feigon

A history of United States attitudes and relations with Asian countries, principally China and Japan, particularly as manifested in such episodes as the opium wars, the anti-Oriental exclusion laws, the open-door policy, the Pacific side of World War II, the Korean War, the war in Vietnam, and present-day U.S.-China and U.S.-Japan relations. The American view of East Asia will be compared with other accounts of life in the region. Three or four credit hours.

216
The Chinese Revolution
Mr. Feigon

Modern China, concentrating on the massive upheavals that have shaped her history in the past century, from the Taiping Rebellion of 1850-1864 to the death of Mao. Three credit hours.

†232
Renaissance and Reformation

Selected topics in the intellectual and cultural history of Europe during its period of transition from the medieval to the modern world. Formerly listed as History 138. Three or four credit hours.

More advanced topics of calculus and an introduction to real analysis.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 222 and senior standing, or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

General topology, including such topics as elementary point set topology, mapping, and metric spaces.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 421 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

Properties of various geometrics, with emphasis on axiomatic development.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 361, 362. Three credit hours.

Independent study in an area of mathematics of particular interest to the student.

Prerequisite: Mathematics major and permission of the department. Two to four credit hours.

Problems and methods of teaching modern foreign languages. Readings, discussions, practice work, and criticism. Some attention is also directed to the FLES program. Counts as three hours in education toward the Maine secondary-school teaching certificate. Conducted in English. Nongraded.

Prerequisite: Two 200-level modern foreign literature courses. Three credit hours.

Individual projects in language or literature in which the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department chairman. Two to four credit hours.

Introduction to the Western musical tradition and development of perceptive listening through the study of selected works from the Middle Ages to the present. No previous knowledge of music assumed. Cannot be counted toward the music major. Three credit hours.
131
Studies in American Music
Mr. Machlin

Aspects of American music, examined from historical and critical perspectives. Areas to be studied may include topics in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, the works of important contemporary composers, or music in popular culture. A description of specific topics to be covered will be published before registration.

Prerequisite: Music 111 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

The Symphony
Mr. Armstrong

Representative symphonies from the eighteenth century to the present. Primarily for students not intending to major in music.

Prerequisite: Music 111 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

*135
Chansons and Lieder
Miss Heinrich

A detailed study of art songs, French chansons, and German lieder, with emphasis given to the songs and song cycles of Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, Mahler, Wolf, Debussy, and contemporary composers.

Prerequisite: A college-level course in music history or theory. Three or four credit hours.

†[151]
Music in the Liberal Arts

An exploration of relationships between the art of music and other areas within the liberal arts. Such areas might include physics, mathematics, physiology and psychology, philosophy and aesthetics, the visual arts, anthropology and sociology, language and literature, historical or area studies, theater and dance, and religion. A description of specific topics to be studied will be published before registration; the choice of topics will depend in part on the background of prospective registrants and on the availability of guest lecturers. Three credit hours.

153d
Introduction to Music Theory
Mr. Armstrong and Miss Heinrich

An introductory survey of the main aspects of music theory, including intervallic, melodic, and rhythmic dictation, creative writing, and analytical studies of representative compositions from various historical periods. Primarily for students not intending to major in music. Three credit hours.

171
Music Theory I
Mrs. Reuman

Within a sequence of courses designed to present analytical skills for understanding the elements and structure of tonal music, Music Theory I covers skills pertaining to notation, intervals, scales, tonality, and melodic construction. Includes ear training and sight singing. Primarily for music majors.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

[234] Studies in Baroque Music

Selected aspects of baroque music. A description of specific topics to be covered will be published before registration.

*235d2 Chamber Music

Mrs. Reuman

The development of chamber music written for various groups, with emphasis on representative composers and works. Augmented credit of one hour based on participation in a performance laboratory.

Prerequisite: A college-level course in music history or theory. Three or four credit hours.

271 Music Theory III

Mr. Ré

A continuation of Music Theory II, covering the elements of harmony.

Primarily for music majors.

Prerequisite: Music 172. Four credit hours.

†[272] Music Theory IV

A continuation of Music Theory III, continuing the study of harmony and including an introduction to chromatic harmony. Primarily for music majors.

Prerequisite: Music 271. Three credit hours.

*278 Opera as Theater

Mr. Machlin

A historical study of principles of opera production, with laboratory experience in staging scenes from several periods.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

[332] Studies in Operatic Style

Representative operas will be examined in detail, noting the individual stylistic tendencies of the composer, as well as the various ways in which the music reflects aesthetic trends of the age in which it was composed.

Prerequisite: Music 172 and one college-level course in music history, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

†[376] Counterpoint

Prerequisite: Music 271. Three credit hours.

*378 Conducting

Mr. Ré

Score reading, studies in basic baton technique. Analysis of works of various periods and application of conducting techniques to stylistic interpretation.

Prerequisite: Music 271 and permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.
191, 492
Independent Study
Faculty

Individual topics in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work. Primarily for senior music majors.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department. One to four credit hours.

193, [494]
Seminar in Music
Mrs. Reuman and
Mr. Gillespie

Topics will change each semester; a complete description will be available before registration. Primarily for senior music majors.

Prerequisite: Music 271 and permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

199d
Music Teaching
Mr. Machlin

Directed practice in conduct of introductory music courses. Open to a limited number of upperclass music majors. Nongraded.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department. Flexible credit. Two credit hours.

Applied Music

Private lessons in voice and a variety of instruments are available, with or without academic credit, at additional cost. Students of applied music are invited to participate in the college band, chapel choir, glee club, and symphony orchestra, with or without academic credit; small ensembles are also formed from time to time. For information concerning academic credit, see the statements for Music 191, 192 and 193, 194. In the case of Music 191, 192, a fee of $120 is charged for each semester of instruction in a two-credit course; for a one-credit course the fee is $70. A fee of $20 per semester is charged for use of the electronic music center; users are also liable for damage to equipment. Fees are payable on the semester bill. Students are not charged for membership in musical organizations or small ensembles.

All majors are expected to demonstrate some skill at the keyboard; consult the department. Students not already proficient are urged to remedy this deficiency as soon as possible by enrolling for piano study.

The department reserves some scholarship money to aid students of applied music; consult the chairman.

Performing Arts

111d
Theater Production
Mr. Woody

A basic course in the technical aspects of theatrical production. Application of theory to practice is required in laboratory and Performing Arts presentations. Enrollment limited. Flexible credit. Three credit hours.
132
Scene Design
Mr. Woody

The art of scene design from an analysis of the playwright's text to the aesthetic and functional solutions for achieving a viable design. Projects will include design drawings with written justification of assigned plays for in-class discussion and criticism. Attendance at Performing Arts and Powder and Wig productions required. Enrollment limited to 10 students.

Prerequisite: Performing Arts 111 or permission of the instructor.
Flexible credit. Three credit hours.

171d2
Acting I
Mr. Sewell

Basic techniques of stage performance. Enrollment limited. Flexible credit. Three credit hours.

†[221, 222]
Theater History

The history of significant developments in Western theater from the classical Greek period to the present. In the first semester, emphasis will be placed on influential changes occurring in theater architecture and scene design, and on other innovative contributions made by playwrights, producers, and performers from the beginnings to the nineteenth century. The second semester will cover important developments from the nineteenth century to the present. Three credit hours.

231
Stage Lighting
Mr. Woody

Principles and tools of stage lighting, with special emphasis on translating design ideas to the physical stage. Attendance at several college productions and work on one production are required.

Prerequisite: Performing Arts 111 and permission of the instructor.
Flexible credit. Two credit hours.

†[241, 242]
Introduction to the Art of Dance

A historic survey of the art of dance from its primitive ritual beginnings to its development as an art form in Western civilization. The course includes lectures, films, an introduction to basic theory, composition, and movement experience. No dance experience necessary.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

251d2
Stage Movement
Ms. Mitchell-Wentzel

A study of basic body movement and efficiency of movement. The course will deal mostly with improvisational problems geared for the stage. Flexible credit. Three credit hours.

272d1
Acting II
Mr. Sewell

Advanced techniques of stage acting. Scenes and short plays.

Prerequisite: Performing Arts 171 or permission of the instructor.
Flexible credit. Three or four credit hours.

†[274]
Performing the Classics

Diction, style, and interpretation in classical theater. Memorized scene work from The Trojan Women, Macbeth, The Rivals, and other classical plays. An actor's study of poetics, including vocabulary.
Prerequisite: Performing Arts 171 or permission of the instructor. Flexible credit. Three credit hours.

†[341], 342 Modern Dance Composition and Theory
Ms. Mitchell-Wentzel

Compositional problems relating to the theories of various modern dance artists, improvisational problems, a study of the modern dance repertory through films and direct movement experience. Not offered if enrollment below eight.

Prerequisite: Service class in modern dance or movement and permission of the instructor. Flexible credit. Three credit hours.

Faculty

Individual projects in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Flexible credit unless otherwise stipulated by instructor in writing to registrar. One to four credit hours.

Performing Arts Program
For additional offerings in the performing arts, see section on Interdisciplinary Studies.

Philosophy
IN THE DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION

112d Logic
Mr. McArthur

The techniques of formal reasoning and their application to argumentation in ordinary language. Three credit hours.

133d Introduction to Western Philosophy I
Faculty

Some typical problems in Western philosophy: ethics, sociopolitical philosophy, and philosophy of religion. Multisectioned. Three credit hours.

134d Introduction to Western Philosophy II
Faculty

Some typical problems in Western philosophy: theory of knowledge, metaphysics, and philosophy of science. Multisectioned. Three credit hours.

*197 The Classical Tradition in Chinese Philosophy
Mr. Elman

The development of Chinese philosophy in its classical context from antiquity to the fall of the Han empire in 220 A.D., with emphasis on the roles that Confucianism, Taoism, and legalism played in Chinese social, political, religious, and legal thought. ### Independent Study

Individual projects in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. One to four credit hours.

Physical Education

211, 212

Coaching of Team Sports and Administration of Athletics
Mr. McGee and Others

Principles and methods of coaching team sports. Policies and practices in organization and administration of athletic programs. Brief exposure to physiology of exercises and care and prevention of athletic injuries.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Flexible credit. Three credit hours.

323, 324

Principles and Methods of Physical Education
Mr. McGee and Others

Policies, practices, standards, and educational methods of secondary-school physical education and coaching of individual sports. Physiology of exercise, prevention and care of athletic injuries. May be coordinated with education courses to include practice teaching.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Flexible credit. Three credit hours.

Physics

112

Energy and the Environment

An analytical treatment of systems and their interactions, demonstrating the central role of energy conversion processes in the environment. Satisfies the laboratory science requirement. Three credit hours.

121, 122

General Physics
Mr. Metz and Mr. Campbell

A quantitative introduction to the interpretation of theoretical and experimental problems in the fields of mechanics, thermodynamics, electricity and magnetism, relativity, and quantum physics. Physics 211 may serve as a prerequisite for Physics 122. Lecture and laboratory.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 121 and 122 (may be taken concurrently). Four credit hours.

152

Essential Electronics
Faculty

An introduction to modern electronics, including theory, experimentation, problem solving, and circuit design. The course starts by considering simple direct-current devices, and progresses to examining operational amplifiers, digital integrated circuits, and modern in-instrumentation. At each step, the significance of general concepts, such as regulation or feedback, is stressed. Self-paced. Lecture, discussion and laboratory. Enrollment open to the limit of available equipment.

Four credit hours.

211 Intermediate Mechanics
MR. DUDLEY

Newtonian mechanics in theory and experiment: moving coordinate systems, momentum and energy, gravitation and Kepler's laws, forced and damped harmonic motion. Special emphasis is placed on the analysis of data obtained in the laboratory, including extensive use of the computer. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Physics 121 or permission of the instructor, and Mathematics 221 (may be taken concurrently). Open to freshmen with advanced standing in calculus who have had a strong preparation in physics.

Four credit hours.

232 Atomic Physics
MR. METZ

An intermediate treatment of the quantum physics of atoms, including atomic models, Schrödinger theory, atomic spectra, and electron spin. Emphasis is placed on the experimental evidence for modern atomic theory.

Prerequisite: Physics 122 and Mathematics 222 (may be taken concurrently). Four credit hours.

251d Independent Electronics
FACULTY

An independent, self-paced course in electronics. May be taken as a sequel to Physics 152 for the further study of digital electronics and instrumentation. Enrollment limited. One to three credit hours.

321, 322 Electricity and Magnetism
MR. CAMPBELL AND MR. DUDLEY

Prerequisite: Physics 122 and Mathematics 222 or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

331 Solid State and Nuclear Physics
MR. METZ

A continuation of Physics 232, treating the physics of solids and nuclei and including quantum statistics, molecules, electrical conductivity, nuclear models, and elementary particles.

Prerequisite: Physics 232 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

332 Thermodynamics
MR. CAMPBELL

Concepts of temperature, energy, entropy, heat, and work, and their thermodynamic relations as developed from a microscopic point of view. Single and multicomponent systems are discussed, using both classical and quantum statistics. Lecture and discussion.
Prerequisite: Physics 211, 232, and Mathematics 222 (may be taken concurrently). Four credit hours.

333
Modern Physics Laboratory
Mr. Metz and Mr. Campbell
Experiments in atomic and nuclear physics: fundamental physical constants, radioactivity, diffraction, and atomic and nuclear spectroscopy. Self-paced.

Prerequisite: Physics 232 or permission of the instructor. Two credit hours.

431
Physical Optics
Mr. Campbell
Radiation, interference, diffraction, coherence, Fourier optics, and wave propagation in media. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Physics 321. Four credit hours.

441, 442
Quantum Physics
Mr. Dudley and Mr. Metz
First semester: an introduction to the mathematical formulations of nonrelativistic quantum mechanics, including Schrödinger wave mechanics, operator algebra, perturbation techniques, and electron spin. Applications to one-dimensional and simple three-dimensional systems are developed. Second semester: a continuation of the first semester, with applications as interests dictate. Lecture.

Prerequisite: Physics 232 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

Senior Laboratory
Faculty
Projects in experimental physics.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department. Two credit hours.

491, 492
Independent Study
Faculty
Individual topics in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. One to five credit hours.

Portuguese

IN THE DEPARTMENT OF MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES

†[121, 122]
Portuguese as a Second Romance Language
The spoken and written language of Portugal and Brazil, utilizing previous knowledge of a Romance language. Extensive use is made of taped materials.

Prerequisite: Successful completion of intermediate French or Spanish, or indication of equivalent proficiency by placement test. Four credit hours.

RUSSIAN LITERATURE IN TRANSLATION

A survey of the most important works in Russian literature from its beginning until Dostoevsky’s death. Representative works of Pushkin, Lermontov, Gogol, Goncharov, Shchedrin, and Dostoevsky. Three credit hours.

RUSSIAN LITERATURE IN TRANSLATION

Tolstoy through the Soviet period. Representative works of Tolstoy, Chekhov, Bely Mayakovsky, Sholokhov, Pasternak, and Solzhenitsyn. Three credit hours.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Individual readings in areas of the student’s major interest.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Two to four credit hours.

Selected Topics

Each department and interdisciplinary major may from time to time offer special courses not otherwise included in its regular course listing. When such a course is offered, it will be listed under the appropriate subject heading. The first digit of its number will depend on the level at which it is offered. Titles, descriptions, prerequisites, and number and type of credits will be determined by the department or interdisciplinary major offering the course, and will be available at registration.

Sociology

INTERACTION PROCESS ANALYSIS

Theories and methods of understanding interpersonal behavior as it occurs in small groups. An attempt to synthesize concepts, theory, and observation of the group. Enrollment limited.

Prerequisite: Freshman standing, no previous sociology, and permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

PRINCIPLES OF SOCIOLOGY

Human society: its growth, institutions, activities, and problems. The course attempts to synthesize the available knowledge and concepts necessary for a scientific understanding of our complex modern society. Multisectioned. Three credit hours.

SHORT COURSES IN SOCIOLOGY

During each semester several different short courses will be offered. A student may take any or all; however, registration is required for each course. Each course will run approximately four to six weeks. By de-department rule, dropping or adding any short course must be done prior to the second meeting of the class. Short courses for the fall of 1980 are: (A) "The 1920's: Dim Echoes of the Roaring Twenties"; (B) "The 1930's: The Depression, a Time for Remembrance". Short courses for the spring of 1981 are: (A) "The 1950's: The Placid Decade"; (B) "The 1960's: The Age of Confrontation."

Prerequisite: Sociology 121, 122, and permission of the instructor. One or two credit hours per short course.

PRACTICUM IN SOCIOLOGICAL RESEARCH

Under supervision of a faculty member, on a tutorial basis, each student will develop and pursue a sociological research project of limited scope. Although survey research is the design most frequently chosen, alternate modes appropriate to the problem defined and data derived may be developed (e.g., field studies, field experiments, laboratory experiments, participant observation, content analysis).

Prerequisite: Sociology 271 and permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

SOCIAL CHANGE

Although a historical approach is used at times, this course is primarily theoretical. The mechanisms, functions, and consequences of social change. Particular attention is given to the relevance of social change for the social order.

Prerequisite: Sociology 121, 122. Three credit hours.

COMPLEX SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Utilizing a historical perspective and sociological orientation, this course will examine the existing and empirical data and theoretical concepts dealing with the behavior of people in business and other organizations.

Prerequisite: Sociology 121, 122. Three credit hours.

COLLECTIVE BEHAVIOR

A course that seeks to shed light on the plight of contemporary man through the examination of the various instances of collective behavior—crowds, masses, publics, and social movements—and the forces that mold each. Consideration is given also to public opinion, propaganda, communication and the major mass media, and their functions in modern society.

Prerequisite: Sociology 121, 122 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

401, 402
Sociology Seminar
MR. MORRIONE

Major problems of sociology as a science. Much of the work is devoted to individual projects developed from group discussions.

Prerequisite: Senior standing and permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

491, 492
Independent Study
Faculty

Individual topics in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Senior standing and permission of the department. Two to four credit hours.

Student-Taught Courses

Student-organized and student-taught courses are offered from time to time in various departments and programs. Any such course must have a faculty sponsor and be approved by the educational policy committee. No student may register for more than three credits in such courses in any one semester unless he or she has completed or is concurrently completing the 105-basic-hour requirement. Nongraded. Flexible credit. One to three credit hours.

Western Civilization

Individual study of special problems in Western civilization in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor and the program director. One to three credit hours.

Interdisciplinary seminars conducted by at least two members of the Western civilization advising faculty, leading to the composition of a major essay. Required of all senior majors in Western civilization. Three credit hours.

Attention is called to the major in studies in Western civilization, incorporating courses from several departments. Courses approved for the major are listed in the section on Interdisciplinary Studies (q.v.).
Career Planning

The programs of the office of career planning are designed to help students become aware of their interests, skills, and values, and how they relate to the professions.

Workshops are offered to all underclassmen in career planning, determining job skills, graduate school planning, and other areas that are relevant to making career choices. Prelaw, prebusiness, and premedical advising is started early to assure preparation for related professions. Personal counseling is available from faculty members and the staff of the career planning office.

Colby offers a variety of programs through which students may experience the professions. Internships, independent study projects during January, summer job workshops, alumni advisory panels, professional-school discussion workshops, and the availability of flexible credits for related experiences are some of these opportunities.

Underclassmen may use the extensive computer system of Interactive Guidance and Information, designed by the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, New Jersey. This three- to six-hour computer program provides skills testing, value determination, and thorough information about hundreds of professions.

The office provides a lifetime reference file service and information on summer jobs, internships, professional schools, and fellowships.

Through counseling, career workshops, systems for practical professional training, and an extensive library, the office of career planning is committed to the belief that a broad understanding of the professions and practical experience are essential in preparing for a vocation.

Every year, Colby graduates enter many different graduate schools to work toward advanced degrees in art, music, history, classics, English, economics, modern languages, sociology, psychology, philosophy, or the natural sciences. Interested students should confer with the chairmen of their departments and their major advisers.

Graduate programs in administrative science at such institutions as Harvard, Chicago, Cornell, the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, and the Amos Tuck School at Dartmouth continue to attract many Colby graduates. Early in their college careers, interested students should seek counsel from members of the department of administrative science. Seniors are urged to take the graduate management admission test.

Three career paths in education are available to the graduate: (1) a secondary-school teaching position if certified; (2) an education-related nonteaching position in government at the federal, state, or local level, or in the private sector in business, industry, human services, or the helping professions; (3) graduate study to obtain a certificate in teaching, special education, guidance, library, or administration. Career guidance and counseling are available from Professor Jacobson, director of the office of education, 112 Lovejoy.

ENGINEERING

Colby College, the University of Rochester, and Case Western Reserve University are affiliated in joint programs whereby a student may acquire an education in the liberal arts and also in engineering in a five-year period, with three years spent at Colby and two at either Rochester or Case Western Reserve. On successful completion of the program, the student may be awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree from Colby and a Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree from the chosen university.

While at Colby, the engineering student must attain mastery of the necessary mathematics and science to support him in the intensive study of engineering that will follow. In his Colby program, however, he is assured a broad grounding in the humanities and social sciences as well.

Students graduating in this program are exempt from Colby’s usual requirement of residence during the senior year, but all other graduation requirements must be met.

The chairman of the physics department serves as adviser to students intending to enter the joint program. He should be consulted early in a student’s Colby career to plan for meeting university requirements.

Another option for the student who wants ultimately to be an engineer but also wants a liberal arts college education is a regular physics or chemistry major at Colby, followed by engineering studies in a graduate school. Members of those departments are prepared to advise students who make this choice.

LAW AND GOVERNMENT SERVICE

The committee on professional preparation for law and government service advises students preparing for careers in these areas. The pre-law student may major in any field. Students will profit from early consultation with members of the committee as to which courses would provide the strongest possible liberal arts background for the study of law. The law-school admission test is given at the college each year.

MEDICINE AND DENTISTRY

Medical schools do not require a particular major but do require high standing and the inclusion of biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, English, and foreign languages in the student’s college program. It is strongly advised that mathematics be pursued at least through the first year of calculus. Organic and general chemistry are required.

The medical-college admission test is ordinarily taken in the spring of the student’s junior year.
Although some dental schools admit applicants after three years, and sometimes after only two years, of college work, the leading schools prefer students with a college degree. Each applicant, regardless of his major, must meet the specific requirements in biology, chemistry, physics, and English, which vary with different dental schools.

The dental-college admission test is ordinarily taken in the spring of the junior or fall of the senior year.

THEOLOGY

Colby has a long tradition of preparing graduates for the ministry. There are representatives of Colby alumni among the clergy of many denominations, and over the years a considerable number have done missionary work.

The theological preparation committee, in cooperation with the college chaplain, serves as adviser to students who plan to enter seminaries.

Students preparing for the ministry are assisted in attending seminary conferences by grants from the Clarence R. Johnson Conference Fund.

Degrees and Honors

The degree of Bachelor of Arts with honors is awarded in three grades: summa cum laude to those who obtain a 3.75 grade point average; magna cum laude to those with a 3.50 grade point average; cum laude to those with a 3.25 grade point average.

A second category of honors, entitled distinction in the major, is awarded to a student on the specific recommendation of the department. To be eligible, the student must have at least an average of 3.25 in the major. The department recommends distinction in the major only for those very few students who, in the opinion of the department, merit special recognition.

In American colleges, it is generally considered that the highest honor an undergraduate can receive is election to Phi Beta Kappa. This society, founded in 1776, restricts its chapters to leading colleges and universities, and maintains high scholastic standards. The Beta Chapter of Maine was organized at Colby in 1895.

Each spring, the college recognizes student achievement with the announcement of various honors and awards. Among those recognized are: members of Phi Beta Kappa; Senior Scholars for the ensuing year; winners of college prizes; and recipients of Phi Beta Kappa certificates, awarded to members of the three lower classes for distinction in scholarship.

Academic excellence is also recognized at a convocation each fall for the Julius Seelye Bixler and Charles A. Dana scholars. Bixler Scholars are the top-ranking students as determined by the academic records of the preceding year. Dana Scholars are selected on the basis of a strong academic performance and potential leadership.

The Dean’s List, recognizing high academic standing, and announced at the conclusion of each semester, includes the name of every student whose average of all marks in the previous semester has been at least 3.2 in a minimum of twelve basic credit hours for upperclassmen, 3.0 in a minimum of twelve basic credit hours for freshmen. A student with any mark of incomplete is not eligible for Dean’s List.
