This map shows hurricane surges and flood hazard areas in Washington and Hancock counties of Downeast Maine. Hurricane surges were measured coincident with both mean tide and mean high tide by examining the water surface elevation that would occur from a worse-case hurricane surge. These data were prepared by the US Army Corps of Engineers, New England District. Flood hazard areas were designated as flood hazard zones or flood prone areas, obtained from Flood Insurance Rate Maps from the Federal Emergency Management Agency.