BASKET BALL.

COLBY 29, BANGOR 10.

Colby won her first victory of the season at the City hall on Tuesday evening before an enthusiastic audience of about three hundred people. The Bangor Y. M. C. A. team were our opponents and Colby won easily from those who defeated them at Bangor recently by a score of 13-3. Only once during the game were the visitors at all dangerous and that was in the first period when they twice tied the score by some brilliant goals.

The City hall underwent something of a change for the contest. The stage was fitted up with raised seats, the border lights were removed and seats were placed along the sides of the hall under the galleries. Temporary goals were erected at either end of the hall, backed by wire screens. Manager Atchley deserves much credit for the excellent manner in which he handled the whole affair. Basket ball is not only a very good game in itself but it has the additional advantage of keeping the baseball men in excellent condition.

Two games were played during the evening. As a starter two teams from the college called respectively the Reds and the Blacks, played a ten-minute period, resulting in a victory for the Blacks. Then came the game of the evening. Captain E. L. Allen was unable to play and Meserve acted as floor Captain for Colby. The choice was a good one, for he not only played a fine game himself but he kept the team well in hand, especially in the second period. The Bangor men looked neat in their white and red suits and in the first half made the game very interesting.

The game started with Bangor throwing toward the stage. The play was fast and brilliant, neither side getting a chance for about a minute, when Meserve threw a pretty goal. Teague followed it with another in about ten seconds. Then followed some loose playing which ended with a foul by Bangor. Glover missed the throw. Bangor became aggressive and Newenham did some pretty blocking. About this time the audience had a chance to play with the ball but the officials ruled them out of the game. Newenham now made one of the prettiest throws of the evening and the score was 6-0.

The visitors took a brace at this point and won the applause of the audience by two fine goals. The play became very fast now for a few minutes. Glover and Meserve made some pretty attempts and it seemed as though it was only luck that kept the ball out of the basket. Bangor tied the score on two pretty throws from fouls. Score 6-6.

For a time the game became intensely exciting. Newenham put Colby ahead by a nice throw but Bangor once more tied the score by a well made basket. Colby let a little new life into the game and both Meserve and Glover made a goal, putting our team out of immediate danger. Several fouls were made but no scores resulted. The period ended with Colby ahead, 12-3.

The Blacks and Reds now came upon the floor and finished their game. The play was good and lively but nothing remarkable. Bartlett was easily the best player on the floor. Several pretty cushion shots were made against the gallery. The game ended with a victory for the Blacks. Final score, 11-8.

When the Bangor and Colby teams appeared for the final contest there was a hearty round of applause. There were some changes in the Bangor team and their playing was not improved thereby. It looked like an indoor football game for a few minutes. After several fruitless throws at the basket by both teams Noonan finally scored by good work. Bangor now fouled repeatedly and Glover with careful eyes scored six times. Colby also fouled several times in this period and Bangor took advantage of two of them for the increase of her score. Noonan was a good part of the game in this half and scored three times in succession with some very nice throws. Meserve and Newenham was also in evidence. Towards the end of the game Glover made a very pretty try but the ball did a rim run all around the basket and finally dropped to the floor. The game ended with some loose playing and it was evident that the players were tired enough to stop.

The line-up was as follows:

BANGOR Y. M. C. A.	COLBY.
Dugan	Meserve
Pfaff	Glover
Nickerson	Newenham
Mutty	Teague
Mathews	Noonan

Final score—Colby 29; Bangor 10. Goals—Meserve 4, Glover 1, Newenham 2, Teague 1, Noonan 5; Bangor 3. Goals from fouls—Glover 5; Bangor 4. Officials—Mr. Foss of Bangor, and Dr. Frew of Colby. Time—30 m.

DOCTOR McELROY, APRIL 11.

The Athletic Association is to be congratulated! It is not often that a really first-class lecturer can be introduced to a Waterville audience, under any auspices whatever. But through personal and individual influence, Dr. William H. McElroy, of New York, is to give his lecture, "Famous Men at Famous Dinners," in the Baptist church, April 11, for the benefit of the Colby Athletic Association.

Dr. McElroy is a graduate of Union College and a journalist of note, being at present on the staff of the New York Mail and Express. He is a contributor to the Atlantic Monthly and other magazines.

Dr. McElroy is best known as an after-dinner speaker. His fine presence, keen intellect and ready wit, make him much sought after to grace the best of post-prandial programmes in New York club and society life.

As an after-dinner speaker he is one of the few men in New York who may be compared with Senator Depew.

As a lecturer, Dr. McElroy has won signal success and has received words of recommendation from the press and from men in public as well as in private life. The Athletic Association is certainly to be congratulated in being able to present to the people of Waterville a man who can talk from personal experience on "Famous Men at Famous Dinners."

This season has been a notable one in the city. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe first of all entranced a large audience; then Doctor Lyman Abbott won all hearts and minds; and now we are to have before us a man who is a social lion in the great metropolis of the country. Doubtless people will appreciate the opportunity to be given soon of hearing Doctor McElroy.

THEODORE EVERETT MANN, '03.

For the first time in many years death has come among the undergraduate body at Colby. Theodore E. Mann, who entered college with the present Junior class, died Wednesday night at ten o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Herrin in this city. The sad news was current on the campus late that night and Thursday morning President Butler announced the fact and made a few remarks before the students assembled in chapel. He requested the friends of the deceased to remain after the devotional exercises, and the entire Men's Division of the college remained. Knowles, '03, and Morton, '04, were requested to take in charge matters relating to the afternoon service, and matters pertaining to flowers, etc., were left to members of the Y. M. C. A.

Mann prepared for college in Massachusetts, but did not enter college immediately. He spent three years in South Paris as a carpenter, where he became acquainted with Morton, '04. Mann entered college in the fall of '98, but did not entirely complete his year's work, on account of trouble with his eyes. He came back to college just after the Thanksgiving recess and took up his studies with the present Sophomore class. He always showed himself a faithful student, "a man with a mind," as one of his instructors has said. Mann sang second tenor on the Glee Club and played in the Mandolin Club. He was studying for the ministry and preached several times in this vicinity with success. He was not in good health when he returned to college in the fall, and soon after the musical clubs returned from the Portland trip, he showed plainly that he was unwell. Two weeks ago his native pluck and perseverance were forced to give way to the fever raging in him. Doctor Bessey and Doctor Dunn called up the Maine General Hospital, but Mrs. Herrin came forward and the sick man was put in the best room in her house and she herself tended him with all a mother's care and tenderness.

At four o'clock, Thursday afternoon, the college bell tolled mournfully for service in the chapel. The men of the college lined up on either side of the walk to the south of the chapel and stood with bared heads in the softly falling snow as the body was borne along by six members of the Sophomore class: Stewart, Boyadjieff, Teague, Staples, Knowles and Knapp. In the chapel, the members of the Women's Division and some citizens were seated in the regular Sophomore seats, the men of the college held the Junior and Senior seats, and the college choir occupied the Freshman section. The faculty were on the platform and with them Rev. E. C. Whittemore and Doctor Dunn. Mr. Whittemore led in prayer and read selections from the Bible, and then President Butler and Doctor Dunn made short speeches, describing Mann as "a fine fellow, of good native ability, clean Christian character, the kind of a Christian one likes to see, a man of excellent pluck and perseverance, a faithful student, a man respected and esteemed by all who knew him." An excellent tribute was paid to Mrs. Herrin for her hospitality and kindness of heart and to Doctor Merton Bessey for his noble and skilful effort to save the young man's life. The college choir rendered three selections. The whole service lasted about an hour, and was very impressive in its beautiful simplicity.

Mann was twenty-two years of age last September. His father received news too late to see his son before he died. He came to Waterville and carried the body to his home in Ashland, Mass., for burial.

The whole college joins in expressions of sympathy to the friends and relatives of their fellow student and great thankfulness and appreciation to Mrs. Herrin and Doctor Bessey for their hospitable and skilful care of their friend.

A group of the members of the Men's Division have decided to present a comedy at the approaching Commencement. It seems probable that a college play at that season will awaken even more enthusiasm than one at this time of year. Last year's production was a success in all departments, especially in making money for the Athletic Association. Without doubt there are some arguments against devoting one's time and energy to rehearsing and otherwise preparing for a creditable presentation of a masterpiece, but the sum total of such arguments cannot weaken the force of the things that can be said in favor of the scheme. In this case the drama selected is an excellent one, Lessing's "Minna von Barnhelm," and there can be no objection in that quarter. The Senior German class has just read the play in the original and it was found very entertaining. The first plan of giving the comedy in German was abandoned in favor of an up-to-date presentation in English.

Soon after midnight, Wednesday morning, the musical clubs start on an extended tour through the northern and eastern parts of the state. So many good remarks have been made about the quality of the concert the clubs give and about the way the men conduct themselves, that it is hardly out of place to say here that the college is proud of the showing thus far made and confident that only good will come from the trip about to be undertaken. Certainly we all join heartily in wishing the men a delightful time, and while in a way they are robbing themselves of their inter-term recess, we feel that the journey will be filled with pleasure. Good luck, at all events.

The Kennebec Journal does not see the difference between our editorial column and the Bill Board. Sometimes even a huge label is overlooked. Next, please.

COMMUNICATION.

[From another point of view.]

In the last edition of THE ECHO it was stated editorially that more than three-fourths of the men of the college are opposed to the existing conditions—a mixture of co-ordination and co-education.

If this means that more than three-fourths of the men are dissatisfied with the present condition, and are in sympathy with the plan to debar the women from the college, the statement is not only open to question, but from investigation made, is clearly erroneous.

Aside from the question of justice, the debarring of women from the college will not only fail to give new impetus to the institutions of the college, but will cause some of the more important ones to be done away with entirely. Figures are dry but have convincing power. During the last two years there have been added two new departments, a separate chair in French, and one in Biology. Also since this present "mixed" condition began, an instructor in Gymnastics has been employed, who gives his whole time to the gymnastic work, whereas, formerly the instructor in Elocution also had charge of the physical training. These additions have been made possible only by the revenue received from the "Women's Division."

During the last year, according to the Treasurer's report, $3,800 was received from the women above all expenses connected with their department. Supposing this revenue were withdrawn, what would it mean? According to the testimony of those in authority, it would mean retrenchment; it would mean a decrease in the number of courses. It would mean the loss of Senior German, of Scientific German and French, of one year's Classical French, of the best course in Biology in the state, and would also mean the return to a "mixed condition" of Elocution and Gymnastics.

How much more attractive would the college be with these courses dropped and the women eliminated?

We believe that the presence of the women has little or no effect upon the attendance in the Men's Division. The fact that many young men in this vicinity go elsewhere to college is not due to the existence of a Women's Division here, but to the lack of courses.

A perusal of the figures in last week's ECHO will clearly show that the number of women has not effected the number of men; for to cite one instance: In 1893, 32 women entered the college and 33 men. This was the largest class of women up to the year 1900, yet the very next year, in 1894, entered the largest class of men in our history. And it is not fair to judge the future by the number of women in the present Freshman class because 11 of this number are residents of Waterville, not all coming from last year's class in the city schools.

One other point we would like to call attention to. The members of the Women's Division pay into the treasury of the Athletic Association enough to support the departments of Track and Tennis. Without this revenue one of two courses must be taken, either these departments must be dropped, or there must be a heavy decrease in the appropriations for the other branches of athletics.

We beg humble pardon of the members of the Women's Division for being obliged to consider them in this article, from a strictly financial point of view, but no more potent force can be used to appeal to the sordid materialists of the opposition.

W. W. DREW.

M. I. C. A. A.

The annual meeting of the M. I. C. A. A. was held at Bates College, Saturday, February 23. The following college men were present: Swett and Walker of Bowdoin; Ham of Bates; Thyng and Withee of Colby; and Martin and McCarthy of U. of M. Walker of Bowdoin was elected President for the ensuing year, Thyng of Colby Vice-President, McCarthy of U. of M. Treasurer, and Blake of Bates Secretary. An effort was made to establish a new constitution, but after considerable discussion the matter was postponed a year and a committee appointed to draw up a new constitution. This is a much needed step, as the old constitution is hazy on several important points. The date of the Maine meet was fixed at June 1, and the place Orono. The events will be the same as last year, except that the bicycle race will take place at Maplewood Park, Bangor, the day before the meet, May 31.

Part of the officials were chosen for the meet, and the rest will be announced later. The following were chosen: Referee, Granville R. Lee of Portland; Judges at Finish, Rockwood of U. of M., Bayley of Colby, Bolster of Bates; Timers, Dr. Whittier of Bowdoin, W. R. Howard of Belfast, U. of M., and H. L. Fairbanks of Bangor, Bowdoin; Starter, William F. Garcelon of Boston; Clerk of Course, Swett of Bowdoin, with an assistant to be appointed by himself. The U. of M. manager will also appoint scorer and marshal. Measurers for field events, Hubbard of Bangor, and some one appointed by the Bates manager. Judges of Field Events, Fred Swett of Bangor, and J. Arthur Haynes of the U. of M. Scorers for Field Events, A. M. Frow of Colby, and F. L. Martin, U. of M.—Ex

THE BROKEN RING.

In sheltered vale a mill wheel
Still sings its tuneful lay;
My darling used to dwell there,
But now she's gone away.

A ring in pledge she gave me,
And vows of love we spoke;
The vows are all forgotten,
The ring assunder broke.

I would as a musician
Journey in the world afar,
And tramp from house to house
Singing my little air.

I would a daring horseman
Into bloody battles fly,
And on the field when night is dark
Around the camp fires lie.

But while I hear the mill wheel
My pain will never cease—
I would the grave would hide me
For there alone is peace.

Translated from Eichendorff by EMMA CLOUGH.

FRATERNITY FEELING.

"It has come to our notice rather forcibly of late that there is between certain fraternities an unaccountably bitter hatred. This is not merely a friendly rivalry which would be entirely in keeping with the fraternity idea, but a positive antagonism. Because one man belongs to a certain organization, the members of a rival society shun him, snub him, and even malign him for no reason whatsoever, save that their societies are opposed.

It is natural that in two or more organizations of a similar nature rivalries should spring up, and this is eminently proper and helpful. It is due to the strivings of each to outdo the others that subscriptions are raised, scholarships founded and prizes attained. Each man should strive for honors in studies and sports not only for personal glory but for the credit of the fraternity to which he belongs. In so far as these strivings merely advance his own society he is doing well, but when he attempts to hinder others of other societies from gaining like honors, he is doing a great wrong to himself and to his University.

Consider this, then, you fraternity men, as an admonition to be more kindly toward each other. Spend your energies in seeing which of our many societies can raise the largest amount to send our crew to Henley, but for all our sakes drop your petty enmities and party antagonisms, sink your fraternity feelings in your university spirit and pull together for the progress of Pennsylvania."—Pennsylvanian.

OF INTEREST.

A. D. Cox, '03, preached in Belfast Sunday.

Miss Gertrude Moody has recovered from her illness and has returned to college.

Miss Kate Russell, of Castine, visited Mabel Richardson last Saturday and Sunday.

Will H. Sturtevant, '01, has returned to college to complete his course with his class.

Miss Mabel Nason, of Bangor, spent Sunday with her friend, Miss Freese, at Ladies' Hall.

Miss Gertrude Carver, of Augusta, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Ruby Carver, 1904.

Students in the History courses are making some brilliantly colored maps. It is an all-round education that one gets in some courses.

A most interesting debate took place at the Coburn Classical Institute last Friday on the question of Higher Education for Women. The affirmative was upheld by young ladies and the negative by men. The question of admitting women to Colby in the future was used as an argument by one of the young ladies.

Thursday evening Kappa Alpha was royally entertained by three of the Junior girls. A bountiful supper was served at half past six and after the good things provided had been consumed, an informal social time was enjoyed. Then the guests departed, feeling that there is nothing in the world like being a Kappa Alpha.

"On Thursday, March 12, Miss Edna Owen, Miss Lois Meserve and Miss Edith Gray, all members of Colby, entertained the members of Kappa Kappa, at the home of Miss Meserve's sister, Mrs. Charles Ayer." There is some conjecture as to whether this is really Kappa Kappa Kappa, Kappa Alpha, or some other Kappa.

The Senior class has done a little more towards filling out its slate of officers. The Executive Committee is now complete and consists of Seaverns, Richards and Newenham. Thayer has been elected class marshal. The three vacancies still to be filled are oration, address to undergraduates, and parting address. Hunger is the only thing that induces adjournment.

The Washburn Book About Mandolins and Guitars.

Any one interested in the subject of mandolins and guitars can obtain a beautiful book about them free by writing to Lyon & Healy, Chicago. It contains portraits of over 100 leading artists including Abt and Siegel, together with frank expressions of their opinion of the new model Washburn Instruments. Descriptions and prices of all grades of Washburn's from the cheapest ($15.00) upwards, are given, together with a succinct account of the points of excellence which every music lover should see that his mandolin or guitar possesses. Lyon & Healy, 20-40 Adams Street, Chicago.

The thing to do is to get through without a crib in sight, you know. And if you don't know everything cram for your life, though cramming's sin.
Yes, for the end the means we take Are justified by what's at stake.

The Young Man's Fancy

lightly turns to thoughts of clothes. We say "lightly" because the young man at once thinks of Brown, and thinking of Brown at once cleans up all doubts in his mind. He knows that the cloth will be the best, the style the latest, and that the price won't inconvenience his pocket-book.

Colby College,

Waterville, Maine.

The College was chartered in 1818. It is most favorably situated in a city of about 10,000 inhabitants at the most central point in Maine, in a region unsurpassed for beauty and healthfulness. It offers the classical course with 70 electives, also a course without Greek, leading to the degree of Ph. B.

The Library contains 36,000 volumes and is always accessible to students. The college possesses a unique Physical Laboratory, a large Geological Museum, and is the repository of the Maine Geological Collection. A new and thoroughly equipped Chemical Laboratory was opened in September, 1899. Physical training is a part of the required work. There is a gymnasium with baths, and an excellent cinder-track.

The preparatory department of the college consists of four affiliated academies: (1) Coburn Classical Institute, owned by the college, Waterville; (2) Hebron Academy, Hebron, (Oxford county); (3) Ricker Classical Institute, Houlton, Aroostook county; (4) Higgins Classical Institute, Charleston, (Penobscot county).
