BATES 5, COLBY 2.

Colby played an exhibition game of baseball with Bates at Lewiston May 30, and was defeated.

Bradeen pitched a strong game for Colby, Meserve played the best all around game. For Bates Towne pitched a star game.

The game opened with Colby at the bat. Palmer flied out to Bucknam, Saunders dropped a high one into Towne's pocket and Cowing took a hit. Meserve walked to first when Towne failed to give him some good ones, and Keene struck out. For Bates, Deane died at first Palmer to Keene, then Keene put out Clayson on Bradeen's assist. Allen made a pretty single, stole second and third while Stone was given his base on balls. Bucknam went to first on Pugsley's error and Allen scored.

Moody was hit by a pitched ball, Daicy retired the side being put out by Pike.

Only three men represented Colby in the second. Teague struck out, Pike went out to Deane and Bradeen to Moody. Parsons, the first man up for Bates, got a hit, and Towne did likewise, sending Parsons to second. Deane sent one out into short infield which landed him safe on first, but killed Parsons at third, Keene to Palmer. Clayson knocked a long drive to Saunders who had it easy, Towne and Deane scored. Allen got another hit and Stone followed suit, sending Allen to third. The inning closed when Pike and Keene retired Stone between second and third, after allowing Allen to bring in another score.

Pugsley lost his job on a conspiracy between Towne and Deane, Palmer flied out to Clayson and Saunders made a hit. Cowing was put out by Parsons. Bucknam opened fire with a single, Bradeen struck out Moody, Daicy made first on Teague's error, Parsons earned a two-base hit sending Daicy to third. Towne gave up the ghost Bradeen to Keene.

Meserve started the fourth by hitting the star Bates twirler for a single but Keene flied out to Allen, and Deane retired Teague and Pike assisted by Clayson and Parsons respectively. An error by Palmer let Deane hold his base, Saunders relieved Clayson of any further responsibility in this inning, Allen told his twice told tale over again and scored another single. Stone was put out, Bradeen to Keene, and Bucknam flied out to Palmer.

Bradeen popped a little one over to Deane, Pugsley fanned the Androscooggin atmosphere in vain, and Palmer was retired by Allen. In Bates' half, three men only were necessary for the sacrifice. Moody came up nursing recollections of his last strike-out, and Penobscot Phil again convinced the fast center-fielder that there was a hole in his bat. Daicy got a daisy of a hit, and in the exuberance of the moment tried to steal second, but Cowing caught him on a pretty throw by Pugsley. Parsons flied out to Teague.

Saunders got a hit in the sixth, Cowing flied out to Bucknam, and Saunders was sent in from second, put out by Allen and Clayson. This put-out gave Meserve his base, who stole second and third, and scored on Keene's hit. Teague was out on a pop fly to Stone. Towne knocked a long fly into Meserve's pocket, Palmer spoiled Deane's prospects, and Pugsley threw Clayson out to Keene. At the end of the sixth, the score was four to one.

Pike flied out to Bucknam, Towne and Deane put out Bradeen, Pugsley was hit by a pitched ball, Palmer was third man out, Towne to Deane. Allen completed his grand batting record by scoring a three-base hit, getting a total of four hits and six bases out of four times at bat. Brady and Keene retired Stone. Bucknam's single scored Allen, Moody flied out to Saunders, and Meserve threw out Bucknam to Pugsley at second.

Saunders sent his fly ball too near Moody's invincible mit, Captain Cowing met his death at the hands of Clayson and Deane, Meserve took a beauty of a two-bagger, and Keene followed with a single, letting Meserve home with score number two. Teague was out by Deane unassisted. Keene put out Bates' three delegates in the eighth, Daicy on Palmer's throw, Parsons on Bradeen's assist, and Towne, unassisted.

In the last inning, Colby failed to score. Pike was attended to by Parsons and Deane, Bradeen failed to hit the ball.

TUFTS 20, COLBY 11.

Since baseball was introduced into Colby, all kinds of games have been witnessed on college field, but the game with Tufts, last Wednesday, was undoubtedly the poorest exhibition ever put up by a college team in Waterville. Not a single player on the Colby team gave evidence of possessing anywhere near the ability and skill necessary to play fast baseball, and had they not been playing against an aggregation which played almost as miserably as themselves, the nine-inning farce-comedy would be considered nothing short of disgraceful.

Saunders opened the game in the box but was hit severely by the heavy batters from Tufts and Bradeen went in to pitch in the fourth. He did little better than Saunders.

Cowing was off on his throws to second and dangerously reckless in his throws to third. Some ridiculously slow playing was done on first and second bases, and only Meserve did any very creditable work in the outfield.

On the whole it was pretty loose playing for a college team, and unless the players brace up and show a little inclination to do something besides child's play, the season will close without Colby's winning a single game. Saunders played a good game at third after replacing Palmer, who was forced to retire at the end of the third on account of trouble with his eyes.

Tufts was first at bat, and Stolworthy drew his base on balls. Clement went to first on Pike's error, Connell struck out and Chapman's hit scored Stolworthy. Simon struck out and Plunkett got two bases, scoring Clement. Saunders was out at first.

Palmer reached his base when Clement fumbled, stole second, took third on Saunders' hit and scored when Cowing knocked out a pretty single. Meserve was out O'Brien to Clement, Keene struck out, and Teague was thrown out at first by Chapman. Score 2 to 1 in favor of Tufts. This was an interesting inning, and the only one of the game.

Clay started the second with a single, Pugsley's error gave O'Brien his base, Palmer fumbled and Stolworthy was given a start around the course. A hit to right gave everybody a base and Clay a score. Connell smashed out a single; O'Brien scored, Chapman smashed another and Stolworthy scored. Simon gained his base on an attempted double and then stole second. Plunkett's hit let in two runs, and Saunders' triple let in two more. But right here the merry-go-round ran down, for Clay flied out to Palmer, and O'Brien to Meserve. Pike struck out, Leighton got a base on Simon's error, and then Pugsley scored Leighton on a beauty of a three-bagger. Palmer was thrown out, Simon to Clement. Saunders' hit let in Pugsley, Cowing went across on Stolworthy's error, but three were out when Simon tagged Saunders in an attempt to score.

Stolworthy came up in the third, but was sent to the bench by Palmer and Keene. Clement then drove out a long one and crossed the plate before the fielder could return it. Pugsley made an error, and Connell was safe on first; Chapman followed on an attempted put-out. Simon and Plunkett each got a hit, and Saunders got a double, three scores followed this string of raps before Clay struck out. Keene was gone, Saunders to Clement, Teague struck out, Pike got his base on Simon's fumble and Leighton fanned. The score, 13 to 3.

In the fourth, Tufts was retired in one, two, three order. O'Brien was thrown out by Bradeen to Keene, Stolworthy won a walk, and Clement dropped a balloon into Meserve's hands. Stolworthy had meanwhile stolen second and third and now tried to steal home, but Pugsley and Cowing doubted if Mr. Stolworthy was still worthy of a score, and he was out. Pugsley died Simon to Clement, Bradeen made a two-base hit and then Saunders drove out a daisy, good for a home run. The ball struck out somewhere beyond right field and the help-shagger's corps of small boys are still hunting for it. Cowing dropped one down to Stolworthy, and Meserve struck out. Score, 13 to 5.

Connell took a single, and Chapman a double. Connell was put out by Pugsley and Saunders at third and Chapman by Pike and Cowing at home plate. Simon took a two-bagger, but was out at third by Cowing's throw to Saunders. Keene hit a little bunt, but saved himself the exertion of running up to first, and the put out was credited to the catcher. Teague was retired, Simon to Clement. Pike took his base on Saunders' error, and Leighton on Chapman's. Pugsley now sustained his lately earned reputation as a hitter by knocking out another three-bagger, letting Pike come home. But the umpire said Pugsley cut first bag, so there were three men gone.

Plunkett commenced the sixth by flying out to Pugsley. Saunders drew three bases, Clay flied out to Leighton, Saunders scored on O'Brien's single, but the last named gentleman was called out of the business, Cowing to Saunders, after stealing second, and attempting to steal third. Bradeen got his base on Plunkett's error, Saunders flied out to Stolworthy, Cowing hit for a single and scored when Meserve got a hit. Keene closed the inning, being out, O'Brien to Clement.

Stolworthy drew his base on balls, Clement got a hit and stole second, Connell was out at the bat and Chapman fanned. Simon's hit scored the man with the long name and Plunkett struck out. Teague took a hit, Pike was out at the bat by a sacrifice hit which sent Teague to second. Simon's error gave Leighton a chance to run and Pugsley's hit scored Teague. Pug stole second, Bradeen flied to Plunkett, Saunders got another hit and scored Leighton, Cowing closed the inning, flying out to Simon.

Saunders and Clay took a hit apiece. Palmer attended to O'Brien and Keene read Stolworthy's death warrant. A single by Clement scored Saunders, and two other men were dangerously near home when Connell was put out by Keene on a pretty assist by Pike, Meserve took a single and Keene took another one just like it, Teague made a good start for a double, but Stolworthy made a beauty of a catch and the ex-captain was out. Meserve scored, and Pike was retired O'Brien to Clement.

Keene's error gave Chapman a start in the ninth, and Teague's error launched Simon into the swim. Plunkett's double let Chapman home and Clay's single scored Simon after Saunders regaled himself with a strike out. O'Brien got in the way of Brady's curve, and was sent to first. Plunkett scored. Clay had stolen second and when Stolworthy sent a long one into right-field, tried to Prof. Roberts, who is taking charge of the funds solicited for helping Sam on his trip to Sweden as a delegate to the Supreme Lodge of I. O. G. T., reports a very favorable outcome. In an early issue of THE ECHO, will be published a complete report of the enterprise, including a list of the subscribers and the amounts of their subscriptions.

To criticise in any way the methods of our faithful bell ringer seems hardly in order, but we wish to make one suggestion. When the rising bell is rung at seven o'clock, the number of strokes is generally less than half a dozen. This attempt at ringing a rising bell does not serve its purpose. Three or four strokes do not wake anybody, and it seems to us that unless this seven o'clock bell can be rung for at least a quarter of a minute, it would be vastly better to dispense altogether with the ringing of the bell at that hour.

COLBY COLLEGE.

The following described incidents in the early history of Colby College are of much interest to all persons interested in the Institution, and being very generally unknown to such, are here briefly reported.

The College had its origin in an act of the Legislature of Massachusetts, approved by the Governor Feb'y. 27, 1813, whereby it was incorporated by the name of "The President and Trustees of the Maine Literary and Theological Institution." The act was very particular in its provisions, consisting of ten sections, but no locality was named for the Institution, except that in one of its provisions a township of land, six miles square, was donated, to be afterwards selected, on which township the buildings should be erected.

The Legislature, by subsequent act passed Feb'y. 13, 1815, appropriated "Township No. 8 on west side of Penobscot River, purchased of the Indians," to satisfy such provision. The township is that which was subsequently incorporated into the respective towns of Alton and Argyle, about twenty miles north of Bangor.

By subsequent act passed June 15, 1816, the locality of the Institution was provided for by the provision authorizing it "to locate and establish their buildings in any town within the Counties of Kennebec or Somerset." Nothing further was effected until after the separation of Maine from Massachusetts, which took place by articles dated June 19, 1819.

By act of the Legislature of Maine enacted June 19, 1820, the Institution was authorized "to confer degrees such as are usually conferred by Universities," provided that no degrees other than those of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts should be conferred until after Jan. 1, 1830, and that no by-law or rule should be adopted requiring the trustees to be of any particular religious denomination, or denying to students the right of admission on account of their interpretation of the Scriptures, differing from the articles of faith adopted by the Institution.

The legal status of the proposed Institution being thus, as it were, established, there immediately arose a general public discussion as to its locality, the town of Bloomfield contesting the question in opposition to that of Waterville. By act of the Legislature, which thereupon took place, passed Feb'y. 5, 1821, it was provided that "the name of said Maine Literary and Theological Institution shall cease and the same shall henceforth be called and known by the name of Waterville College."

Following close upon this act of the Legislature another question arose and was very generally discussed as to the locality of the college in Waterville, three places being designated by different citizens; the Plains and the present Universalist Meeting-house lot being respectively contended for in opposition to that which succeeded. A serious objection to that which succeeded consisted in the fact of its distance from the village and the additional fact that it was covered by a forest.

The locality being soon determined, the work of clearing the forest and erecting the old south college building was at once commenced, and in due time was found ready for use, whereupon a general illumination took place in the evening by placing a lighted tallow candle behind each 7 x 9 pane of glass in every window in the front and south end of the building. (The writer of this well remembers the scene, he being present with his father and brother.)

Immediately afterwards, the building was occupied by the officers and students who had already commenced the work of education in the building then standing on the lot now occupied by the Elmwood.

Thus far the Institution bore the name of "Waterville College" until Jan'y. 23, 1867, when by act of the Legislature "Colby University" was substituted in its place and continued until Jan'y. 25, 1899, when by an additional act the "University" became a "College," as it now is.

come home, but Leighton's pretty throw and Cowing's pretty catch disappointed the Medford man, and the score remained the same. Clement fled out to Pugsley, the side was retired and Tufts had only 20 scores to her credit.

Leighton was thrown out, Simon to Clement, Pugsley struck out, and Bradeen closed the game by being put out on first by Chapman's assist.

BOSTON COLBY ALUNNAE ASSOCIATION.

The Boston Colby Alumnae Association held its third annual meeting on April 19, 1902, at Hotel Berkley.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. Nellie Bakeman Donovan, president; Miss Grace Gatchell, vice-president; Miss Linda Graves, secretary; Miss Helen Hanscom, treasurer.

Letters of greeting were read from Alumnae, and from Mrs. Chas. White and Miss Grace Matthews who were not able to attend.

A literary programme followed the business. Two poems, one written by Miss Mary A. Sawtelle, the other by Miss Alice Lena Cole, were much appreciated.

A social hour closed the meeting.

[NOTE. The above report was delayed in the mails, a fact which will account for its late appearance.—EDITOR.]

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION.

President and Mrs. White tendered a reception at their College Avenue home Friday evening, May 23, to the visitors of the Junior League teams, the Senior classes of Colby, Ooburn and Waterville High school. Very many of those whom the invitation included were glad to avail themselves of the opportunity for spending a pleasant evening, and the reception was one of the most enjoyable occasions of the college year. During the course of the evening, refreshments were served in the dining-room. This function was especially pleasant to the representatives of the visiting schools, who had an excellent opportunity for becoming acquainted with those in the city with whom they may later be associated in college life.

CAMPUS CHAT.

Colby College, Waterville, Maine.

The College was chartered in 1818. It is most favorably situated in a city of about 10,000 inhabitants at the most central point in Maine, in a region unsurpassed for beauty and healthfulness. It offers the classical course with 70 electives, also a course without Greek, leading to the degree of Ph. B.

The Library contains 36,000 volumes and is always accessible to students. The college possesses a unique Physical Laboratory, a large Geological Museum, and is the repository of the Maine Geological Collection. A new and thoroughly equipped Chemical Laboratory was opened in September, 1899. Physical training is a part of the required work. There is a gymnasium with baths, and an excellent cinder-track.

The preparatory department of the college consists of four affiliated academies: (1) Joburn Classical Institute, owned by the college, Waterville; (2) Hebron Academy, Hebron, (Oxford county); (3) Ricker Classical Institute, Houlton, (Aroostook county); (4) Higgins Classical Institute, Charleston, (Penobscot county).
