BASEBALL.

COLBY 11, MASS. STATE 5.

Colby defeated Mass. State on the campus Saturday 11 to 5. The game was very poorly played and was slower than death; neither team seeming to care whether "school kept or not." The only redeeming feature of the game was the pitching of Coombs, he struck out 19 men and allowed only six hits and at least two of these could have been stopped by a little exhibition of fast fielding, while a third was a grounder that bounded over Vail's head just as he stooped for it. Vail, J. Teague and Coombs hit well but the rest of the team seemed to have an off day. In throwing, most of the team seemed to see how far they could throw the ball, Cowing, Abbott and Pugsley each getting in wild throws which counted in the run-getting. Coombs also got in a long throw that counted not in the run-getting but in getting a new ball out of the manager. In the seventh inning, after one of the new balls had been lost, the manager sent in an old ball, when it was given to John. He deliberately threw it over the fence, an act that brought applause from the crowd and a new ball from Georgie.

The game in detail: Martin, the first man up for Mass. State, struck out, Ohearn got a two base hit, Halligan struck out, and Harvey was out Craig to Keene, Keene getting the ball some three feet above his head by a beautiful jump. For Colby Abbott was out on a fly to Brooke. Coombs got a hit, Cowing a base on balls, Vail got a hit scoring Coombs, Bartlett struck out and Keene was out on a fly to Ohearn. For Mass. Kennedy was out Coombs to Keene. Gregg struck out, Proulx got a hit and then Brooke struck out. For Colby, Pugsley was out Kennedy to Walker. J. Teague got a hit, stole second and third but was left as Craig and Abbott struck out. In the third Martin got a base on balls; Ohearn, Halligan and Harvey struck out. In Colby's half, Coombs fled out to Gregg. Cowing got down on an error by Halligan, stole second, Vail on an error by Brooke, on which Cowing scored. W. Teague, who had taken Bartlett's place, struck out and Keene fouled out to Harvey. In the fourth Kennedy struck out, Gregg was out Vail to Keene, Proulx sent out a long fly which Teague gathered in after a hard run. In Colby's half, Pugsley was out Kennedy to Walker. J. Teague got a hit, stole second, was advanced to third by Craig's sacrifice hit and scored on an error by Martin off Abbott, Abbott stole second and third but was caught off third Harvey to Brooke. In the fifth Brooke, Walker and Martin struck out; Coombs hit for three bases, Cowing hit to Kennedy who threw to Harvey to catch Coombs coming home, Harvey dropped the ball and both were safe. Vail hit to Halligan who dropped the ball, Teague hit to Kennedy who threw to Harvey who dropped the ball for the second time. Keene was out Kennedy to Walker Vail scoring. Pugsley struck out and J. Teague was out Kennedy to Walker.

In the sixth Ohearn, Halligan and Harvey struck out. For Colby, Craig got a hit, stole second and third, Abbott was out on a fly to Halligan and Coombs the same. Cowing got a base on balls, Vail a hit and got to second on an error by Proulx. Teague got down on an error by Halligan, Keene got a hit, then Pugsley closed the inning by striking out. In the seventh Kennedy got down on an error by Vail, Gregg hit a sharp grounder to Vail. Just as Vail stooped for the ball it bounded completely over his head, then Abbott got in a wild throw, both Kennedy and Gregg scoring. Proulx struck out, Brooke was out Vail to Keene and Walker struck out. For Colby, J. Teague got a hit and stole second. Craig struck out, Abbott hit to Brooke who caught Teague at home, Coombs was out on a fly to Gregg.

In the eighth Martin was out Vail to Keene, Ohearn got a base on balls, Halligan got down on an error by Vail, Harvey got a hit and Pugsley made a wild throw home, Ohearn Halligan and Harvey scoring. Kennedy was out to Keene and Gregg was out Vail to Keene. In Colby's half, Cowing got a base on balls, Vail a two base hit, scoring Cowing, W. Teague struck out, Keene fouled out to Brooke and Pugsley was out to Walker. In the ninth Proulx struck out. Brooks got a base on balls, Walker got a hit, Martin and Ohearn struck out ending the game with the score Colby 11, Mass. 5.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Cowing was up five times and got to first each time, three times on balls, the other two on errors, he also scored four runs, yet he did not get a hit, while Vail who got three hits only scored once. Cowing was also the only Colby man to draw a base on balls.

The umpire gave Colby, if anything, the best end of the decisions.

The Mass. team looked like "Prep" school men.

Ohearn was batting with a loaded bat, but Capt. Cowing was on and he got a new bat.

Coombs made a pretty stop of a hard hit ball, getting his man at first neatly. There was not even an attempt at a double play during the game.

This is the third game that Colby has let her opponents score in the last innings. That was a pretty throw Coombs made when he put the old ball over the fence.

There were altogether too many people selling things. Manager Sweet would make a hit if he would clear the grounds of these people.

A trick bicycle rider from parts unknown, who said he was working his way from New York to San Francisco, gave a short exhibition on the diamond after the game.

Woods, '06, has left college to take a place on the Boston Street Railway.

COLBY 0, BOWDOIN 3.

Bowdoin defeated Colby 3 to 0 on the campus yesterday. It was the same old story, Colby had a balloon ascension in the ninth, and Bowdoin scored three runs before the balloon came down. Colby had chances enough to win three games, but threw them away by stupid base running. She played all round Bowdoin both in the field and at the bat, but Bowdoin's hits counted while Colby's did not.

White was first up for Bowdoin, and struck out, Munroe flew out to Pugsley, Cox flew out to W. Teague. For Colby, Abbott fouled out to Blanchard, Coombs was out Bly to Havey, Cowing out to Havey. In the second, Havey struck out, Coffin fouled out to Craig, Blanchard struck out. Vail was out to Havey. W. Teague flew out to Johnson, Keene got first on an error by White, Pugsley flew out to Munroe. In the third, Clark, Bly and Johnson struck out. J. Teague got a hit, but was out Cox to Havey to White. Craig got a two base hit, Abbott hit to Cox and was out at first, Craig was caught Havey to Coffin.

In the fourth, White and Munroe struck out and Cox flew out to J. Teague. Coombs was out Bly to Havey, Cowing got a hit, Vail struck out. Cowing was caught trying to steal, Blanchard to Bly. In the fifth, Havey was out Coombs to Keene. Coffin put up a fly that Pugsley made a beautiful catch of. Blanchard struck out. Teague, Keene and Pugsley struck out. In the sixth, Clark was out Vail to Keene, Bly struck out, Johnson was out Vail to Keene. J. Teague got a hit, Craig got a hit, Abbott hit to Bly, who caught Craig at second, Teague got caught at home, and Coombs was out on a foul fly to Clark. In the seventh, White flew out to Pugsley, Munroe was out Coombs to Keene, Cox was out Vail to Keene. Cowing struck out, Vail flew out to White, W. Teague got a base on balls, Keene got a hit and went to second on the throw home. Pugsley was out Bly to Havey.

In the eighth, Havey was out Vail to Keene, Coffin was out on a liner which Pugsley made a beautiful catch of and made a pretty stop a minute later of, Blanchard getting his man at first. J. Teague struck out, Craig flew out to White, Abbott struck out.

In the ninth, Clark was out, Pugsley to Keene, Bly got a hit, Johnson got a base on balls. White got a hit and Bly scored, Munroe hit to J. Teague, Cox got to Pugsley, who threw high to Keene, who missed it, Johnson and Bly scoring. Havey hit to Craig, who caught Cox at second.

Colby now came in with 3 to tie and 4 to win. Coombs was first up, and flew out to Johnson, Cowing got first on an error by White, Vail flew out to White, who doubled Cowing to first.

It seems to us that it would be a good plan to have some class baseball or some games between the members of the Hersey House, South College and the members of the college who live in town. It seems to us that some interesting baseball could be had in this way, and it would furnish a good half day's recreation for the boys as there is no "gym" work or other physical exercise for the boys to engage in, except tennis, and the courts are monopolized by a few.

What has become of our college spirit? Last fall there was an abundance of it, during the winter it stood out in bunches all over us. We were visiting the fitting schools and talking Colby until we were blue in the face. The basket ball team was supported in fine style and everything was going finely. Now all is changed, nobody seems to have any enthusiasm. At the two ball games there was practically no cheering and not even a dozen men could be got together to celebrate the victory over Bowdoin. The alumni too seem in a measure to have lost interest. Now let us wake up, get some interest in life and do some cheering at the ball games and show that we love Colby as well as ever.

While we are making fighting talk we might as well continue. We want a paper next year and if we have one we must have "ads" to pay for it, and to get "ads" we must be able to make the merchants and other people see that an "ad" in THE ECHO pays. So we simply must trade with the people who advertise in THE ECHO. If you want a paper next year trade with those who advertise.

THE ECHO sees frequently in the school papers which we receive in exchange, stories of life in other colleges, and almost every school paper has a column devoted to some college. Now it seems to us that the boys in Colby should keep their respective school papers advised of their doings and of other happenings, that would be of interest to them. Would it not be a good plan for the men in college who are graduates of one school to get together and appoint one of their number a correspondent to their school paper. We believe this is something that would aid the college.

It may be of interest to our readers to learn something about the work which is at present being done by the Department of the Interior, Division of Hydrography, United States Geological Survey, relating to the water resources of Maine.

Work of this sort was first commenced by the Government when the question of the possibility of reclaiming the arid land of the West was being discussed. The movement progressed rapidly and has now advanced so far that reports on the water resources of a large part of the country are now being prepared. It is the intention of the Geological Survey to investigate the resources of all or the greater part of the states in the Union and publish reports on them. The work, in every case, is under the personal supervision of some member of the Survey. The work in Maine began Mar. 1st, with headquarters at Colby College. It consists mainly in obtaining all possible information concerning wells, springs and water supplies, including analyses. These reports have to be classified by towns and counties. The final report is a generalization from the obtained data. Of course the greater part of the material for this report has to be obtained through correspondence as the cost of sending men to every town for the purpose of holding personal interviews with the owners of wells and springs would be enormous. We might illustrate this statement by saying that nearly six thousand letters have already been sent out in this state, although the work has scarcely begun. Every owner of a well or spring is required to give its exact location so that it can be plotted on a map. The data thus far obtained give promise of furnishing material for an excellent report.

TO TREACHEROUS MEMORY.

O Memory! Why so treacherously dost thou
Betray him who so much confides to thee:
Who trustingly gives to thy hand the key
Of treasures stored beneath his studious brow
With which he would his tongue and words endow?
Revengeful passions impulse can it be
That causes thy desired form to flee
From him who needs thy aid? Or do you now
Rejoice with insolent delight and mock
To see your victim in confusion stand
And grope for thoughts that he may not command:
To see him in the field of argument,
When naught of aid you to his aid have sent,
Bewildered in a maze of helpless talk!

GOOD NEWS FOR COLBY.

Colby College is richer by the sum of $25,000. This money comes from the estate of the Rev. Dr. Samuel Francis Smith, the author of "America," who died eight years ago leaving a good sized property which was not to be distributed until the death of his widow. That event took place this week.

Rev. Dr. Smith died in his native city of Boston, Nov. 16, 1895. To his widow was left the income of his estate and it was provided by his will that upon her death specific bequests amounting to $53,000 should be paid and the remainder of the estate should be equally divided between the American Baptist Missionary Union and Colby College. The inventory showed that he left $103,000 and this makes the sum which comes to Colby upon Mrs. Smith's death $25,000.

Dr. Smith was for a long time associated in one way or another with the college. It was in its youth when he came here in 1834 to be at once pastor of the Baptist church and acting professor of modern languages in the college. Here he remained until 1841 and after being here a short time he was married to the lady who has just died, nearly 70 years after her marriage. He did not lose his interest in the college on leaving here. Before that, in 1840, he had been chosen a member of the board of trustees, in which capacity he served 20 years. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by the college in 1853 under the presidency of Dr. Sheldon, but that did not mark the end of his devotion to the interests of the college for which he had labored seven years as a member of the teaching force and three times as long as trustee. Now that he has been dead seven years comes this new testimonial of his love for the institution.

What disposition will be made of this addition to the funds of Colby is not known. It may be simply used to form a part of the investments of the institution, its income only being expended. If it is so given that it can be used for building purposes it would enable the trustees at once to rebuild North College in modern style, or it could be used for any one of a dozen purposes all desirable. At any rate it was a generous gift which will put the name of Samuel Francis Smith well up among those of the benefactors of the college.

Miss Moody, '03, went home for over Sunday.

Mr. Bicknell visited Miss Bicknell, '03, on Monday.

Misses Higgins and Lamb spent Sunday in Pittsfield.

Pres. White is absent upon a business trip in New York.

Miss Caswell, '04, was in Brunswick for a few days last week.

Mr. Mower spent a few days this week with his daughter, Miss Mower, '04.

Hoyt Macaulay, '06, who is out teaching, visited at the college over Sunday.

Mrs. Warren, matron of the Palmer House, went to Augusta for a few days last week.

Manager Sweet of the ball team was called to Portland Monday by important business.

J. P. Dudley, '03, came down from Skowhegan Wednesday to witness the Colby-Bowdoin game.

Hutchins, '06, has left college for the remainder of the year to teach at Rockwood, near Moosehead Lake.

Mr. Harry Watson, '96, Principal of Good Will High School, was in town Saturday to see the Colby-Mass. State game.

Miss Mabel E. Dunn, ex-'03, has recently graduated from Dr. Curry's school of Oratory in Boston, and is at home for the summer.

Dean Berry spent Wednesday at Winthrop as a delegate from the Baptist Sunday school of this city, Miss Berry attended the Convention there.

Steward, '03, and Perkins, '04, spent a day at Great Pond this week fishing and they report having caught some "whoppers." "Doc" says he didn't have much to eat though.

Gordon Ferrie Hull, Ph.D., who was for three years associate professor of physics and astronomy at Colby, resigning Jan. 1, 1900, has been elected Appleton professor of physics at Dartmouth.

Dr. Bayley leaves at the last of the week for a short visit to Washington. On his trip he will represent the college at the inauguration exercises of the Jacob Tome Institute at Port Dupont, Maryland.

Prof. Beck, who was burned quite seriously in the laboratory two weeks ago, is again able to be out and meet his classes. During his illness, Dean Berry has taken charge of the Physics department very acceptably.

Misses Salsman, Watkins and Mower entertained the members of Kappa Alpha on Tuesday evening. A sumptuous supply of eatables was the leading feature of the evening, but a very delightful social time was also enjoyed.

The "ad" of Miss M. B. Stuart in another column should be noticed by every student of Colby. Miss Stuart is a former Colby student and she should be given all the typewriting there is to be done for Colby students.

The intercollegiate track meet will be held at Brunswick Saturday, and the men who are to represent Colby have been doing some hard work lately. We have lots of confidence in "Wat," and know he will not disappoint us.

Daniel C. Gilman President Emeritus of John Hopkins University, will be present during commencement and deliver the Phi Beta Kappa Oration on Tuesday night, June 28. We are fortunate to have such a noted man with us and those who hear him will listen to a treat.

COLBY SONGS.

There's a time in this year when we loudly shall cheer,
Good old winning time;
When poor Bates has the wheezes and Bowdoin weak
knees,
Good old winning time;
When the contest is over and we are in clover,
Oh, that is our cheering time;
No Bowdoin annoying, each one is enjoying
Our good old winning time.

CHORUS:

In the good old winning time,
In the good old winning time,
Making the score ten or more,
With our winning nine;
We shut 'em out and keep 'em out,
And that's a very good sign,
That Bowdoin isn't in it in
Our good old winning time.

With Bates on the string in the beautiful spring,
Good old winning time;
When we play for a name, oh, in a rattling old
game, oh,
Good old winning time;
When poor Bowdoin is beaten, her humble pie eaten,
While Colby looks on with a smile,
Not one is annoying, each one is enjoying
Our good old winning time.

CHORUS:

Pinky, panky, poo!
We'll stick it up to you,
When you try on it to land-y
It is in the catcher's hand-y.
Pinky, panky, poo!
We're going to win from you;
It's a funny, funny gamey,
But we'll win it all the samey.
Pinky, panky, poo!

TUNE—"Down where the Wurtzburger."

Bang it out, out, out where the tall timbers grow, grow,
grow,
For Bowdoin's always a gamey old foe, foe, foe.
Just bang out a base hit, or better a three,
For we can play baseball you all will agree.
B. O. Dub may be fine, but old Colby for mine,
Here's where the ball players grow.

There has never been the least doubt in the minds of the managers of either paper but what they would go on as usual, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.
