BASEBALL.

COLBY 11, HARVARD 2ND 7.

Colby defeated Harvard 2nd Saturday, 11 to 7. The game was loose and uninteresting, Colby having the game well in hand from the start. Both teams had balloon ascensions, but Colby's came after she had the game won. Colby scored 4 runs in the second on four errors, a put out and a stolen base. One in the third on two hits and a sacrifice. Two in the fourth on singles by Craig and Abbott and a two base hit by Coombs. She added four more in the seventh on hits by W. Teague and Keene, a three base hit by J. Teague, an error by Murphy and a hit by Vail. Harvard 2nd did not score until the sixth, Coombs having them at his mercy.

In the sixth, Hammond was the first man up and John plunked him in the back with the ball, then Carpenter, Marshall and Greenough got hits on which two runs were scored. Coombs thought that was enough so struck out Fischel and Parker, then got a little over anxious to strike out Bolton and gave him a pass, then struck out Murphy. In the next inning just to show them he was in the game he struck out the three men up. In the eighth, Marshall the first man up hit a sharp one at Craig who missed it. Greenough got in front of one of John's benders and trotted to first, then Fischel got a hit on a ball that should have been a put out but was fielded too slowly. Then Parker straightened out one of John's speedy ones and it brought up against Shannon. The hit was good for three bases, and three men scored. Bolton hit out a slow one to Reynolds who tried to catch Parker at the plate but was a bit too slow. Murphy hit a high fly to J. Teague, who surprised the crowd by dropping it, Bolton going to third, from which he scored when Hammond rolled a slow grounder to Keene. In the fourth inning Coombs pitched but three balls. J. Teague's error was the first one he has made this year. Reynolds who took Pugsley's place at short played a good game for his first on the 'varsity. The playing of the Harvard 2nd was very ragged, Marshall at second being the only one to play a good game.

BATES 12, COLBY 5.

Colby was easy for Bates in their final game of this year. Both teams played poorly but Bates could hit while Colby could not. Both catchers played a good game. Coombs was wild and was hit hard, while Colby could do nothing with Doe. There was a high wind blowing and, in spite of the fact that the diamond had been sprinkled all the forenoon, dust covered the field a good part of the time; which perhaps accounted for the many errors.

For the first Bucknam got a hit, stole second, but Stone and Allen struck out, and Doe put up a fly for Abbott. Abbott struck out and Coombs and Cowing fled out to Wood.

In the second, Wood got a hit, stole second but was left as the next three men went out in order. Keene got a hit in Colby's half but it was wasted powder.

In the third, Dwinell struck out, Bucknam got hit, Stone got a hit, W. Teague fumbled it and Bucknam scored, Stone going to third, Allen got three strikes on him, but Cowing dropped the ball and he was safe, he promptly stole second from which he scored with Stone on Wood's hit. Nickles struck out.

Craig got a hit and went to second on an error by Dwinell, third on Abbott's hit and home on Coombs' fly to Bucknam. Cowing also fled to Bucknam.

In the fourth, Bates went out in order, W. Teague struck out, Keene hit a high one that Allen dropped, Pugsley got a hit, J. Teague a base on balls, Craig hit to Bucknam and Keene scored, Vail who took Reynolds place put up a fly to wood.

In the fifth, Bucknam got a hit, Stone hit to Coombs who caught Buckman at second, Allen got a hit, Doe hit to Keene and was out at first. Wood got down on an error by Vail, who slipped and fell as he got the ball, Stone scoring. Nickles got a hit, Allen and Wood scoring. Mertz was out on a fly to Keene, Colby went out in order.

In the sixth, Cole got a hit and stole second. Dwinell struck out but Bucknam got a home run, Stone was out Pugsley to Keene and Allen fled to W. Teague. W. Teague got down on an error by Wood and Keene on an error by Allen. Pugsley hit a sharp liner to Allen who caught it doubling Teague at second, J. Teague got a hit but Craig forced Keene at third on a grounder to Nickles.

In the seventh, Doe got a hit and Nickles got down on an error by Pugsley, but no runs resulted. In Colby's half, Vail struck out, Abbott got down on an error by Allen and scored on Coombs' hit, Cowing popped up a fly for Wood, W. Teague hit to Wood who missed it Coombs scoring. Keene put up a high fly for Stone.

In the eighth, Bucknam got a hit, Stone hit a high one that either J. Teague or Pugsley ought to have got. Pugsley tried for it but did not get under it so it went for a hit. Allen hit a sharp one to Vail who missed it. Doe was out Coombs to Keene, Bucknam scoring. Wood got a hit, W. Teague let it through him and Stone, Allen and Wood scored, Nickles flew out to Coombs.

Colby scored once on a three bagger by J. Teague and a hit by Vail.

In the ninth, Bates went out in order, Coombs got a two-base hit but was out trying to make it a three, Cowing got a hit but W. Teague and Keene were easy outs and the game closed 12 to 5 for Bates.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

CLASS OF 1920, MODEL HIGH SCHOOL, WINS GREAT HONORS.

The Baptist vestry was crowded, Friday evening, the attraction being the graduating exercises of the Model High school. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Colby Y. W. C. A., and the proceeds went to pay expenses for delegates to Silver Bay this summer. Much credit is due Misses Higgins, Caswell, Jones and Lowe, the committee of arrangements, for the very successful manner in which they managed the event.

A regular graduation program was carried out, but in a burlesque style that kept the audience in a roar the greater part of two hours. The music was especially fine, barring the discords, wrong time and extra notes, and the articles were finely rendered.

The singing by the "Whang-a-Doodle Quartette" with Mr. Pugsley's solo and the Presentation of Gifts by Mr. Coombs were certainly special features; but it seems unfair to pick favorites where all did so well, and it is sufficient to say that the class did itself proud and was a credit to its "Greatly-wise" instructor and the worthy board of trustees.

Following is a list of those who took part with their program below:

The year is fast drawing to a close and as it is necessary for the retiring manager to close his account before July 1, 1903, all bills must be paid before then, both subscriptions and "ads." It is the aim of the present management to leave as few bills as possible on the books and with this end in view every effort will be made to collect every cent.

There is one feature of college life that we find in most colleges, which seems to be totally lacking in Colby. That is for the boys to get together once a week or so and sing, not necessarily college songs but all the popular songs. Now here in Colby we have a large number of good singers and it seems to us if every man in the college would be on the steps of, say Chemical Hall, one night in the week and those that can sing, would sing college and popular songs for an hour, we would do much to promote a better college feeling and more college spirit, and it would be a pleasant way of taking an hour's recreation.

As we saw Harvard 2nd play, it seemed to us that we ought to have a second team. There is material in college for a first-class second team, a good pitcher and catcher and at least three good fielders who are not much below 'varsity standard. With this nucleus we believe a good second team could have been developed which could have gone out among the fitting schools and played a game that would have been a credit to the college and would have helped to interest men in Colby. Although it is too late now for a team to be organized, we believe that next year a second team should be organized early in the season and a schedule of games arranged. We think it would pay the Athletic Association to appropriate a sum of money in order that this could be done, for very few games can be arranged unless return games are played. If this was done we are sure the coach and members of the 'varsity would help the men on the second out and give them the benefit of their instruction. We shall be glad if we are able to read next year of games played by the Colby 2nd team.

The Marietta College Olio prints an account of the ball games played by the college team since its last issue, surrounded by a mourning line and says:

"Since our last issue the number of games lost makes our work merely that of writing obituaries. Oak Grove has been ransacked and those moldy inscriptions made to do duty for a second time in their history. We must exemplify the virtues of the deceased and speak lightly of their faults; spare our darkest colors in painting the slaughter; breathe fond hopes for future salvation from defeat." (We have been tempted to do the same thing.)

Campus Chat.

Vail, '06, was in Portland Monday.

Mildred Jenks, '03, spent the holiday in Portland.

Long, '06, was at his home in Camden for over Sunday.

Professor Hedman's class in Spanish was granted an adjourn Saturday morning.

Hawes, '03, attended a masonic invitation of the "Shriners" at Lewiston last Thursday.

Contrary to the usual custom the cut for Memorial Day extended from chapel to chapel.

Prof. Hedman and wife visited relatives in Damariscotta during the Memorial Day recess.

Our dreams of the championship are all over now, but we may worry somebody about second place yet.

Ethel Higgins, '05, has gone to Charleston to attend the commencement exercises of Higgins Classical Institute.

The Harvard 2nd ball team was a very gentlemanly crowd of fellows, and their short stay with us was pleasant both on and off the field.

The art lectures given by Dr. Warren are proving very instructive and interesting and they are a great help to the class in Junior English.

Invitations are out for the reception to the Seniors and their friends to be given at the home of President Whites' next Tuesday evening.

The Y. W. C. A. meeting at Ladies' Hall, Tuesday evening, was very interesting. Clara Martin led, the subject was, "What we owe to Christ."

Pugsley, '05, went home Memorial Day to play ball for the Somersworth local team against the crack Dover nine. In a 10 inning game Somersworth won 6 to 5.

The committee on arrangements for the Junior Promenade has been a busy crowd the past week, and a very enjoyable evening is promised for Thursday.

At chapel Wednesday morning, the Sophomores passed round bills, taken from the Freshmen the night before, announcing that the Freshman Reading would occur Friday, June 6, 1903.

The boys of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity enjoyed a spread at the Frat hall Tuesday night, at the expense of Mr. L. C. Staples, '03, the occasion being the announcement of his engagement to Miss Alice Maynard of Portland.

The uniforms for Company H. of the 2nd Maine Regiment of National Guards have arrived. About one-half the company is composed of college boys, and we have already three important officers, 1st Lieutenant, and 1st and 2nd Sergeants.

Freshman bills were put out at twelve o'clock Tuesday night and were taken down by the Sophomores at about three o'clock. This is the first evidence that the Freshmen were in the game, the fight before being between the President on one side and the Sophomores on the other.

The manager was unable to procure the services of Mr. Murray of Bangor as official for Wednesday's game against Bates. This was received with regret by all the admirers of good clean baseball, for Mr. Murray is recognized as a thoroughly competent official and is highly in favor with the public.

Kappa Alpha held its annual initiation and banquet Saturday evening, May 30, at 15 College Avenue. After the mysteries had all been revealed, the company sat down at the table decorated in crimson and gold, and furnished with a royal banquet. An hour was spent in feasting, singing, and toasting. The initiates were Misses Caswell, Carver, Salsman, Clement, Simmons, Cleveland, Watkins, Cochrane and Ward.

COLBY WILLOWS.

O ancient trees, ye willows old,
With gnarled trunks and branches weatherworn,
So battered by the storm wind bold
By time's assault so broken, rent and torn.

From ye sweet memories of old days
Are borne to me on some fair dreamy eve,
When in a dim, ethereal haze
The present world for fancy's realm I leave.

Ye whisper how ye had your birth
By students planted in the springtime long ago,
And how the strength of this fair earth
Soon made your tender buds to spreading branches grow.

Ye murmur in my listening ear
Your recollections of those former men,
Who lived and worked and studied here,
As 'neath your arching limbs they tread again.

This thoughtful one, with book in hand,
Forsakes his room for your more welcome shade,
And now by gentle breezes fanned
Reclines and scans the tome before him laid.

Another comes with troubled heart
Whom sorrow drives from work and books away,
Ye sympathy to him impart,
And breathing peace his troubles ye allay.

And once again their forms ye see
Engaged in sport of recreation hour,
Or in some sophomoric glee
Impressing freshmen with pretended power.

And ye in summer beauty clad
With pride and joy have many years looked down,
While every leaf is dancing glad,
On graver students decked with cap and gown.

On those whom ye for one more year
May yet in pleasure and in work behold,
Whose class day songs and words ye hear
Ascending from the shaded campus fold.

And some in parting exercise
Ye hear take leave of Alma Mater halls,
To go where life's great duty lies;
Upon their heads your richest blessing falls.

And 'tis my prayer that ye may still
Long years cast down your influence benign,
On those who places high will fill
And crown Old Colby with a name divine.

A. M. WATTS.

The Freedom Academy Echo of this month has this to say of one of our popular ball players:

"The association was fortunate enough to secure the services of Mr. William Teague, one of Colby's strongest players, to act in the capacity of coach. Speaking from the standpoint of the student body and particularly for the ball team I can safely say that we now extend through the columns of the Echo, our sincerest thanks to Mr. Teague for the untiring efforts which he put forth in the endeavor to bring out a winning team."

A recent number of the Princeton Alumni Weekly prints a list of regulations which were in force at Princeton in 1803. One of them reads somewhat as follows: "The hours of study shall be from the time of morning prayers (at about dawn) till 8 o'clock, from 9 to 12 in the forenoon, and from 2 till 5 in the afternoon, during which time each student shall keep his room unless called from it to recite, or by some urgent necessity of which he shall always be ready to give an account to any officer of the college, who may observe his absence."

A new course in English literature of the 18th century will be offered by Prof. Trent at Barnard next year. Prof. Brewster will offer a new course in 19th century fiction to undergraduates, and one in prose writers of the 19th century to graduates.

Columbia has received a gift of $100,000 to endow a chair of administrative law and municipal science. It has also established a course in automobile engineering.

It is said that twelve hundred students of Ohio State University fall or suffer conditions in the mid-year examinations and two hundred of these go home.
