DELTA UPSILON.

District Convention of New England Chapters Meets at Medford, Mass.

The third annual convention of the New England Chapters of Delta Upsilon was held with the Tufts chapter at their chapter house in Medford, Mass., on February 22, 23.

The "smoker" came on Friday night at the Tufts chapter house and was largely attended by delegates and also by a good number of the Tufts alumni. Before the evening was past Goldwin Goldsmith, Columbia '96, and Clifford M. Swan, Technology '99, came in and were given the "glad hand" in true Delta Upsilon style. After considerable time had been spent in renewing old acquaintances and making new ones, the Tufts boys served up a variety of sandwiches and a cup of coffee that foretold the generous hospitality which was so evident throughout the convention.

During the evening the quarters were assigned to the visiting members and at a late hour the company broke up for the night.

At ten o'clock Saturday forenoon the company reassembled for the first business session of the convention. After election of convention officers and examination of credentials, it was reported that all the New England chapters except Amherst were represented, the absence of the Amherst delegates being due to the closing of that college on account of scarlet fever.

Then followed the address of welcome by the Tufts Senior delegate. It was responded to by the Harvard Senior delegate in the absence of the Amherst representative. Then the question of equalization of rates for the New England District Convention was brought up and discussed, and it was finally voted to put this into effect next year. Other matters pertinent to the New England District were discussed and acted upon. The next two hours were given up to luncheon and sight-seeing.

At two o'clock the afternoon session was begun and the following papers presented:

"Interfraternity Relations"	Bowdoin
"Upperclass Supervision"	Williams
"Advantages and Disadvantages of Chapter House Life"	Brown
"Chapter Meetings"	Tufts

Each of these papers was followed by a general discussion in which many helpful ideas were brought out.

Several musical selections were then rendered by the Tufts chapter orchestra, after which the Brown chapter extended an invitation to the convention to meet at Providence in 1908. This completed the business of the convention and adjournment followed.

At 7 P. M., the annual banquet of the New England Club of Delta Upsilon was held in the private dining room of the New American House, Boston, to which all the delegates were invited.

It is needless to say that the menu was all that could be desired, and the post-prandial speakers, among whom were Judge L. E. Hitchcock, Amherst '72, of the Mass. Supreme Court; Hon. John A. Bennett, Amherst '73; Goldwin Goldsmith, Columbia '96; Allen P. Soule, Colby '70; and several others, seemed to overflow with wit and eloquence. Not until nearly midnight did the "roastmaster" declare the exercises ended, and with a roarsing yell for Delta Upsilon the company dispersed.

SKATING PARTY.

A Large Party of Students Enjoy an Evening of Roller Skating.

On Monday evening, Feb. 18, fully seventy-five of the college students, accompanied by a few friends from the city, enjoyed a skating-party at the Coliseum of the Central Maine Fair Association's grounds. For many it was the first attempt at roller skating and consequent falls were numerous; but happily they all resulted in no injury other than sadly dishevelled hair or dusty clothes.

In order that the occasion might more closely resemble the "real thing" a large part of the college band was present to furnish music. This, of course, greatly added to the success of the affair; but as the leader was unable to accompany the boys, they could hardly overcome the desire to participate in the skating with the result that the selections rendered were short but sweet.

To perform the duties of chaperones Dr. and Mrs. Black and Mrs. Thompson attended the party and to say that their services were very acceptable would express but little of the pleasure they contributed. While Mrs. Thompson was left to guard those who had scarcely the courage to try their luck on wheels, Dr. Black and his wife decided to renew their acquaintance with roller skating. Mrs. Black was content with the more dignified part of the sport but the Doctor took everything that was coming his way, including a somewhat extended slide down one side of the rink.

In every respect the evening was most enjoyable and the number of would-be roller skaters among the students was materially increased. It accordingly seems quite reasonable to suppose that such parties will become an established custom here during the winter, and already there is talk of holding another in the near future.

BOSTON COLBY ALUMNI.

The Twenty-sixth Annual Reunion of the Boston Colby Alumni Association will be held at the American House, Hanover Street, Boston, Friday evening, March 1, 1907.

It is expected that the following trustees and alumni will be present and speak: President Charles L. White, D.D., Professor Arthur J. Roberts, '90, Eugene N. Foss, Esq., Dudley P. Bally, Esq., '67, Allen P. Soule, '79, Col. Francis S. Heselstine, '63, Hon. Warren C. Philbrook, '82, Benjamin P. Holbrooke '88, Lincoln Owen, '89, J. Colby Bassett, '95, Henry W. Dunn, '96. Dr. Julian D. Taylor and others will also be present.

During the evening Mr. Frank Sibley, the inimitable story teller of the "Globe," will drop in long enough to tell a story or two, and on invitation of Mr. H. A. Denison, '82, the eight members of the Apollo Club, who sang so acceptably last year will again give several vocal selections.

M. D. Smith, R. A. Lyons, and D. K. Arey attended the third annual district convention of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, held with the Tufts Chapter at Medford Friday and Saturday last. Higgins, ex-'08, Hunt, ex-'07, and Davis, ex-'07, were also present. The delegates returned Sunday with the exception of Lyons who took a short trip to Providence, returning Monday.

WITH THE MUSICIANS.

The Musical Clubs Make Another Successful Trip.

The Musical Clubs took another trip on Wednesday and Thursday of last week giving concerts at Livermore Falls and Wilton. The clubs left town in the morning getting to Livermore Falls in time to give a band concert in front of the postoffice at noon. The fellows were put up at different homes around town and had the afternoon to themselves to take in the sights. The concert which was given under the auspices of the Senior class of the high school was held in the Baptist Church. A good-sized and enthusiastic audience greeted the fellows and from the opening number on the program the concert seemed to please the hearers. Second and third encores seemed the rule of the evening.

Thursday noon the clubs took the train for Wilton. Here the fellows were met and assigned to their places by Prof. R. W. Dodge—"Buster" of former days. Another band concert was held in front of the town hall that attracted a good deal of attention of the people on their way home to dinner. The Senior class of the high school had secured the town hall for the concert and by eight o'clock this was packed to the limit of its seating capacity and standing room was being sold. As on the previous night the program took well with the audience and every number was heartily applauded.

The work of the clubs is improving steadily. The glee club is working well and the soloists and reader are receiving merited applause at every appearance.

The clubs returned to Waterville on the morning train Friday. Nothing of special importance occurred on the trip with the exception of Pete's experience with his hat and otherwise and the excursion that the sextet managed to run in. The fellows all enjoyed themselves and feel satisfied with the showing made in the concerts.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association meeting Tuesday evening was one of unusual interest and profit. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Aldrich of Bates who spoke in a very earnest way on the topic "What is Success?" Mr. Aldrich called attention to the various ways in which college men seek to succeed. Some aim to succeed as scholars, others as athletes, and still others as society men.

Many men succeed in all of these ways, but too often they leave the religious life out of the consideration. Too often this side of life is not given its proper place in the making of a symmetrically successful life.

Mr. Aldrich's address was straightforward and enthusiastic and could not help impressing his hearers.

The meeting was exceptionally well attended.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the athletic association held Saturday afternoon at the association room, the resignation of James Nickels as manager of the base ball team for the coming season was read and accepted. Some names were proposed to fill the vacancy but no further action taken.

George C. Anderson, '09, spent Sunday at his home in Fairfield. Howard A. McLellan, '09, accompanied him.

THE ORACLE AGAIN.

It may be just a little late in the term to bring the Oracle once more before the students with the request for more "material," but it seems necessary. We cannot complain of complete lack of support, and we can get out an Oracle with the "stuff" already submitted; but we are not going to be satisfied with that. We want more support and we want to get out a good Oracle, one that will fairly represent the college. We can't do that if you do not help. The impression seems to be current that when the Editor-in-chief has been elected, and the fraternity representatives appointed, the student body has done its full duty, and that henceforth the Oracle is the affair merely of its editors. As a matter of fact, some of those who are officially connected with the annual show less interest than many who are not, and the Editor has little time for work other than arranging and revising contributions. If, then, you want to own an Oracle that will compare favorably with the annuals of Maine and Bowdoin, you must do your part in preparing it.

The impression is rife, also, that only candidates for Phi Beta Kappa are qualified to write for the Oracle. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Some of our best work is submitted by men with conditions. It is a striking fact that they are just the men who most loyally support college activities. It doesn't take a Shakespeare to write a grind, in rhyme or prose, on ones roommate, or even on the faculty. Of course the Oracle is unwilling to be an agent or conveyance of anybody's ill humor, but at the same time, it isn't going to be afraid of anyone's dignity, for the kind of dignity that can't stand a little fun isn't worth having.

Annales; anything that has caused a smile about the campus or in the classroom; serious or comic poems, stories of college life, all are acceptable. Hand whatever you may have to the Editor, and he will be glad to acknowledge it either in your signature or in the formal acknowledgments at the end of the book. And while the Oracle will make no promises, those who contribute most freely will probably be treated most considerately in the "slams."

By consulting the Oracle and files of the ECHO we notice that one of the customary events in the winter term has been a Senior Exhibition with Junior Parts. What has become of it this year? No Junior Parts have been announced yet and no preparations have been made for the Senior Exhibition. Is it possible that the Senior Exhibition has met the fate of the Freshman Reading?

The month of February is rich in birthdays of great Americans. Very few need to be reminded that both Lincoln and Washington, our two greatest presidents, were born in this month, but perhaps it is not so commonly known that today marks the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of America's greatest poet, Henry W. Longfellow.

One hundred years ago the question was asked in England, "Who ever reads an American book?" Would such a question be asked today? If it were, what would be the answer? In the last century American literature has taken its place with the literatures of other nations, and not only in England but throughout the world American books are read. Perhaps no one man has done more to give American literature its present standing and power than Henry W. Longfellow. He was the "poet of the heart." His poetry grew out of his experience, the purity and beauty of his character, and always gives one the feeling that life is not "an empty dream" but "real" and "earnest."

Perhaps nothing is occupying the attention and the thought of the people of Waterville at the present time more than the great religious campaign going on in the city. It is not a movement conducted and planned by the ministers alone, but business and professional men are entering into the campaign with an earnestness and sincerity rarely equalled. Rev. Bowley Green, the evangelist in charge of the services, is presenting the claims of Christianity in a most candid and straightforward way. He does not use any fantastical or fanatical methods, but just asks for a fair and unprejudiced hearing. Nothing could be fairer or more manly than the two questions which he placed before his audience at the first mass meeting in the City Hall:

"Do you believe that Christianity deserves your careful consideration? If so, will you give it the consideration which you believe it deserves?" Such a presentation of the claims of Christianity certainly commends itself to thoughtful men, and every Colby student whether he agrees with Mr. Green or not should not miss the opportunity of hearing him.

JOYS OF THE EDITOR.

Editing a college paper is a nice thing. If we publish jokes, people say we are rattle-headed. If we don't we are fossils. If we publish original matter, they say we don't give them enough selections. If we give them selections they say we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church we are heathens, if we do we are hypocrites. If we remain at the office we ought to be out looking for new items, if we get out we are not attending to business. If we wear old clothes they laugh at us, if we wear good clothes they say we have a pull. Now, what are we to do? Just as likely as not someone will say we stole this from an exchange. So we did.—The University Echo.
