ATHLETIC EXHIBITION.

Excellent Program of Gymnastic Stunts Has Been Arranged.

For the first time in three years Colby is to give an athletic exhibition. During the past term practice with this end in view has been constantly and faithfully held in the gymnasium and the efforts of Mr. Fogg, the physical instructor, coupled with the support of the students should result in an extremely successful exhibition.

The classes have diligently prepared their different drills and many of the individual members are to take part in other sorts of gymnastic work. Mr. Fogg has directed several such exhibitions and his ability and interest in this line will be largely responsible for the presentation of the affair.

The date set for the occasion is Tuesday evening, March 10. Tickets are already on sale by the students and may be exchanged for reserved seats at Hawker's Drug Store on or after next Saturday.

The Freshman class is to present a wand drill. The Sophomores, a dumb-bell drill, and the Juniors and Seniors an Indian club drill. Each drill shows the result of much practice and by reason of the number of participant should afford a very pleasing spectacle. The formation of pyramids of various descriptions is also likely to prove one of the features of the evening. In addition to these there will be boxing contests, work on the horizontal and parallel bars, tricks performed by the use of the Swedish horse and more tumbling of a general nature.

The prices of admission will be only 25 and 35 cents and it is hoped that a large number will attend, both in appreciation of the efforts of the participants and in the interests of the athletic association.

BATES DEFEATED

Final Game of the Season Easily Won by a Score of 31 to 9.

On Saturday, February 29, Colby defeated Bates at basket ball by the score of 31 to 9. This was the last game of the season for Colby but as a result of the victory the championship is undecided between Maine and Colby and a game may be arranged to determine which is to be considered as the champion.

The game Saturday was fast and rough with Colby having the advantage throughout. It was easily the roughest game that has been played here this winter and fouls were frequently called on both sides. As a result of the free throws, Colby netted five points and Bates five, thus breaking even in this respect. Colby made thirteen goals from the floor and Bates but two.

As in previous games every man on Colby's term was responsible for the victory, all making about the same number of goals and covering their opponents well. For Bates, Brown and Sargent excelled.

The game opened with a rush, and after a little preliminary passing, Good made the first goal for the home team. Blake, McLellan and Mackenzie shot baskets in rapid succession and McLellan shaking a Bates man from his shoulders made another. Sargent made the only goal from the floor for Bates in the first half and Allen evened up by making one for Colby. A foul was called on Blake but Brown missed. Almost on the next play Bridges fouled and Blake made the point for Colby. Mackenzie fouled and Brown got his basket. Blake missed his goal on a foul by Brown. A double foul was next called but both sides failed to score. Mackenzie made a goal for Colby and Brown missed his shot on a foul by the home team. Good made two goals in succession. A foul was called on Bates but Blake failed to make his basket. He made one from the floor however immediately after and time was called with the score, Colby 21, Bates 3.

The second half opened with Smith as forward in place of Allen. Brown scored on a foul by Blake and Good missed the basket on a foul by Brown. McLellan made a goal for Colby and a double foul was called. Good missed but Brown made his point. Bates fouled twice and Colby once in the next few minutes of play. Blake made two points for Colby and Brown one for Bates as a result. Bridges shot a goal from the floor. Brown and Blake both missed the basket on a double foul. Bates fouled three times and Blake made two baskets from the foul line and followed these with a goal from the floor. Dorman went in in at center in place of Sargent. A foul was called on Colby and Brown made his point. Smith threw a basket from the floor for Colby and time was called.

Line up and summary:

COLBY

Blake (Capt.) lf
Allen, Smith, rf
McLellan, c
Good, rg
Mackenzie, lg

BATES

Harriman, lg
Bridges, rg

The score. Colby 31, Bates 9. Goals from the floor, Good 3, McLellan 3, Blake 3, Mackenzie 2, Allen, Smith, Brown, Bridges. Goals from fouls, Blake 5, Brown 5. Fouls, Bates 11, Colby 8.

DEXTER CLUB.

Its Entertainment at Foss Hall Largely Attended and Thoroughly Enjoyed.

The Dexter Club, assisted by the Girls' Glee and Mandolin Clubs, gave a very enjoyable entertainment at Foss Hall, Saturday evening. The first number on the program was a selection rendered by the Glee Club. This was well received and it is expected that much pleasure will be derived from the clubs' work in the future. Second, a reading by Miss Tupper, entitled, "A Summer Flirtation," was well delivered. The Mandolin Club selections were good, and as usual, the piano solo by Miss Buzzell was appreciated.

Last of the entertainment, but by no means least, was the farce given by some of the members of the Dexter Club. This was a bright amusing picture of the "Woman's Club" life and proved as was previously announced "uproariously funny and an all star cast." It was entitled "Penelope's Affinity" and had the following cast:

Mrs. Clubhouse, Ethel Wood
Mrs. Gadabout, Hazel Cole
Swanee River Canader, Marian Brown
Penelope Newgirl, Linia F. King
Gwendoline, Margery Buckman
Maggie Ryan, Alice Thomas
Nora McQuirk, Rachel Felch

Members of Club,

Mildred Stevens Mary Hall
Louise Buzzell Helen Warren

The manner in which the "stars" carried out their several parts did justice to the able training of Miss Marion Goodwin. Nora made an excellent maid and the skill with which she broke crockery and prepared breakfast food was particularly noticeable. Miss Ethel Wood made an ideal hostess and her daughter Gwendolin provided much amusement with her mandolin solo. Miss Penelope entered heartily into her part and played it well.

After the farce, letters were given each person, and wits were sharpened in the following game of "conversation" Refreshments were served and games closed a successful evening.

Referee Fogg. Time 20 and 15 minute halves. Timers, Smith and Libby.

Preliminary to the college game Cony High of Augusta, and Waterville High, played a fast and snappy game, Cony winning by the score of 19 to 11. During the first half, Waterville easily lead, making four goals from the floor to one by Cony from the foul line. In the second half however Waterville went to sleep and Cony tied the score without difficulty and ended the game well in the lead. For Cony, Meader played the best game, and for Waterville, Gilman.

Lineup and summary:

Open House.

Mrs. Charles L. White kept open house for the students of the college, Monday evening, at the President's residence, College Avenue. Despite the snowstorm which was in progress a goodly number were present, and while the occasion was entirely lacking in formality it was none the less a successful one. The music was furnished by the College Orchestra. Frappe and tea cakes were served.

Mrs. White was assisted in receiving her guests by Dr. Mollie Crosswell. Among those whom the students had the pleasure of meeting was Mrs. F. W. Klein of Greene.

The occasion was the first of a series of informal social events which will take place during the spring. It was at first planned to hold them fortnightly and while this is undecided at present, it is understood that they will be held frequently.

Pearl Davis has been visiting friends in Brunswick, for a few days.

Anne Roberts, accompanied by her mother and Dean Berry, left last Saturday for Dr. King's Hospital at Portland.

M. C. Joy, '06 was a guest at the Phi Delta Theta house on Sunday.

The Real College Man.

[The following is an extract from an address recently delivered by the President of Miami University].

Viewed objectively, our college man is a biped with bifurcated hair hanging low on either side, leaving only a triangle of questionable whiteness above the eye brows. If he wears a head-covering of any sort above this towseled thickset, it is a cap, in color of blinding red, or blue, or green, or yellow, and of a Happy Hooligan circumference; or, mayhap, it is a flat and well-nigh brimless hat with a wide band, fit rival for the coat of Joseph, the patriarch. His necktie can be heard three squares away. Beneath his vestless coat, his wide expanse of negligee shirt-front displayed on a station platform would prevent a disastrous train-wreck, if the block should fail to work. His belted and suspend-erless trousers are a perpetual source of anxiety to friends fearful of his reputation for decency. His striped socks, set into the latest pattern of low cut shoes, under turned-up pantaloons, complete the picture that makes the lower extremities a fit termination for the spectacular beginning at the top.

Viewed subjectively—for he has his subjective as well as his objective side—the college man is an individual of limitless prospects for usefulness. His possibilities constitute the measure of his responsibility. His opportunities for the development of his talents and the growth of a stalwart character place within his grasp a life of influence that will widen with successive generations to the end of time and that will maintain its power through all eternity.

The real college man is a patriot. He believes in his institution, he rejoices in its victories, and contributes to their multiplicity. I know that every time a boy yells for his college, he is drawing its colors about him a little more securely, and I know, too, that he is laying the foundation for that larger patriotism, which in later years, will accentuate his love for country every time he gives a cheer for the "Stars and Stripes."

The real college man is a scholar as well as a patriot. Indeed it is impossible to form any conception of loyalty in disassociation from obligation. The supreme duty of the college man is work. To be able to think clearly and to reason wisely, to possess a sane judgement, to have an appreciation of the fine things in literature, in art and in history, is to have the joyful consciousness of a life that is high above the commonplace.

Last of all, our real college man is a man of character. He is plain, unassuming goodness. He has good, red blood in his veins, but he knows that the greatest triumph possible to mortal man is that victory over self, which subdues passion, controls appetite, directs desire, commands reverence, and establishes honesty. The real college will keep ever before its students for their emulation the blameless character of Him who was both God and Man, and, seeking to fashion their ideals after this life, college men will be firmly established in every good word and work. The patriotism, the scholarship, and the character of the real college man will make him the mightiest potentiality of future years in dethroning "graft" and in crushing tyranny. He will be the first exponent of public and private honesty in our American life, for when the hair is cut, when cap is discarded, and when trousers are unrolled, we shall find that the real college has given to the world a real man.

At the Y. W. C. A. meeting last Tuesday evening, reports of the Worcester Convention were given. Miss Berry introduced the more specific report of the girls by giving a general idea of the size and impressiveness of the convention.
The girls then gave reports of the different sessions. This convention was held in the First Baptist Church of Worcester, a new and very beautiful building. The various college, secondary school, and city associations were represented. A banquet for the delegates and many of the citizens of Worcester was served at the church, Monday evening, at which the mayor of the city gave the visitors a fine welcome. Tuesday afternoon the local Y. W. C. A. gave a tea for the delegates. The Territorial committee, whose headquarters are in the city, invited all delegates to visit their rooms. No one could fail to receive at this convention a very definite idea of the vast work the Y. W. C. A. is accomplishing, and the opportunity which it has of still wider influence.

on his daughter, Hazel Cole, last week.

A mixture of salt and lemons is said to be good for infants especially when teething. Foss Hall has prescribed for her infants a lemon mixed with one ounce of salt as a tonic to be taken three times a day. If this does not reduce their ever out cropping freshness another tonic stands in readiness which will reduce the desired effect.
