MASSACHUSETTS TRIP.

But Two Games Played in Both of Which Colby is Victorious.

The Colby baseball team left on its Massachusetts trip last Thursday morning. Coach McDevitt took the following men with him: Cary, catcher; Michaud, pitcher; Nutting, first base; Sturtevant, second base; Blake, second base; Lander, short stop; Tibbits, third base; Hammond, short stop; Shaw, center field; Vail, right field; Good, left field and pitcher.

In the game with Andover on Thursday afternoon, the same team was used that faced Maine on Patriot's Day. At Dover, against New Hampshire State College, no changes were made except that Good did the pitching and Michaud covered left field.

The team showed up well in both games played. The game with the University of Vermont, at Lowell, Mass., was cancelled on account of rain. For so early in the season, few errors were made and the team was remarkably strong at the bat. One follower of baseball in the State of Maine was heard to remark that Colby had never before turned out a team which hit so well as early in the season.

Colby defeated Andover in the first game played by the score of four to nothing. The game was interesting and well played by both teams. Michaud, the freshman pitcher, pitched a first class game. Although Andover got four hits, he struck out seven men and gave but one base on balls.

Andover was weak at the bat and Colby's scoring was done by timely hitting and good base running. Andover made three errors, thus contributing slightly to Colby's scoring. The Colby team handled the ball without an error. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning by agreement of captains.

The scoring was begun by Colby in the second inning. Two men had been thrown out at the plate before Nutting scored on a low pitched ball which Snell allowed to get by him.

Colby got two men on bases in the fourth but was retired without a score by clever fielding on the part of Andover. Sturtevant got a hit in the fifth, was sacrificed to second, and scored on a single by Shaw.

In the seventh inning, Colby made her third run. Hammond, who ran for Good, was on third and scored on a "squeeze play." Vail was at the bat and, when Sherman pitched the ball, Hammond started. Vail bunted and Hammond scored.

In the eighth, Colby made the last run of the game. Shaw got his base on balls and scored on singles by Good and Michaud. Good and Vail were thrown out at the plate by quick work on the part of Snell and Keeler. The final score was Colby, 4; Andover, 0.

The second game scheduled for this trip, that is, the one with the University of Vermont, was cancelled because of rain as stated before.

On Saturday, the team went to Dover where New Hampshire State College was defeated, 20 to 3. Good was in the box for Colby. This was his first game and his arm was naturally a little stiff in the first inning when New Hampshire scored three runs. After this inning, however, the Durham team could not get a man to third base.

Colby started the scoring in the first inning making four runs before the third man was out and, in her half, New Hampshire had three men cross the plate. From then on until the sixth inning, it was a good game. Neither team was able to score until in the sixth inning, Colby landed on Merrill's pitching and scored twice. No runs were made in the seventh but, in the eighth, the slaughter began. Colby scored three runs with ease and in the ninth, eleven runs were made from nine hits. The Colby team batted entirely around after two men were out in this inning and, finally, New Hampshire sent in Swan to finish the game.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS.Union Meeting in Chapel Addressed by Rev. H. P. Woodin of Auburn.

The first of a series of platform meetings, to be held this spring by the Y. M. C. A., took place in the chapel last Tuesday evening. The speaker of the evening was Rev. H. P. Woodin of Auburn. Mr. Woodin was the first white child born in China and lived there for thirteen years.

He took as his subject, "The Study and Promotion of Christian Missions," and spoke in part as follows:—He said that he considered it a great privilege to speak before college men and women on missions. The contempt that some people have for missions is due to ignorance. There are scores who have gone to foreign countries opposed to missions and have come back their staunchest supporters. The modern appeal for support of foreign missions is not the old appeal of the awfulness of letting so many men and women go down to damnation without having the chance to see the light. Today, we do not believe in that. The modern appeal is the appeal of Christ, that those of us who have this world's goods should share them with our needy brothers.

We must believe in foreign missions to protect ourselves from barbarism and to open markets for our products. Once the Fiji Islands was the synonym for everything savage and barbarous. Today, there are more church goers and more altars there than anywhere in the civilized world. The Boxer outbreak closed seventy-five mills in this country. When the missionary goes into an heathen land, its wants increase. It wants better agricultural implements, better everything. A great market is opened for our products.

We must believe in missions on account of the reflex action as a result of work in foreign lands. In the Sandwich Islands, there are 20,000 Japs, mostly heathen. The Japanese native churches are sending missionaries there to work among them. The Bohemians, Armenians, and, in fact, all the nations are doing the same thing; even sending them to work among their people in their own land. Then there is the reflex action on our own citizens in foreign lands. They seem to cut off all restraint when they get into these foreign lands and enter into sin in its worst form.

The credit of civilization is at stake. The missionary stands as the exponent of the highest things in civilization in contrast with what most people stand for when they go to a foreign shore. The reputation of American men and women in many lands is very bad. It is worth while to have men to stand for the best.

Some people say, "Why go to a people who do not want a new religion and force it upon them." My boy may not like medicine but, if he is sick, he may need it. If I can help the people over there, it is my duty to send civilization to them. The missionary seeks to better the industrial and economic life, as well as to tend to the spiritual needs of the people.

In closing, Mr. Woodin spoke of the splendid work of educators, missionary physicians, and missionaries. Real heroes they are, men and women who sacrifice everything for the sake of Christ, who are separated for years from their children, and who perform a real service for mankind. The hardest part of all for these heroes to bear is when, just as they see victory ahead, there comes the message from home, "You must retrench." Then the missionary feels discouraged and forsaken.

The annual Junior Promenade will be held in Elks' Hall on Monday evening, May 3. A reception will be held at eight o'clock, to be followed by dancing. Wentworth's orchestra of eight pieces will furnish music for the occasion.

Carter, '11, is slowly recovering from a serious illness.

THE COLBY HYMN.

The ECHO is very glad to print for its readers, this week, the Colby Hymn, which Rev. I. B. Slocum, '93, has lately written for the College. The music to which it is set has been arranged by Mr. E. J. Colcord, '75. Through the generosity of Mr. A. H. Bickmore, '93, several hundred copies of the hymn have been sent to the college, and a plate provided for future use, when this present supply has been exhausted. To these three loyal and affectionate sons of Colby, the ECHO offers the grateful thanks of students and graduates alike.

The band is rehearsing regularly and should be ready to play at the first championship game in this city.

SOPHOMORE RECEPTION.

Affair at Knights of Columbus Hall Broken up by Girls of Freshman Class.

The men's division of the Sophomore class gave a reception to the women's division on Thursday evening, April 22. Dr. and Mrs. Black and Dr. and Mrs. Lawton were the chaperones for the evening. Allen, '09, and Greeley, '12, furnished excellent music. Ice cream was served during intermission and a liberal supply of Hager's punch, the gift of Pres. Roberts, added much to the enjoyment of the evening. The programs were very tastily arranged in the class colors, gold and brown.

Previous to the affair down town, the sophomore girls had captured the freshman class banner from one of the freshmen's trunks at Foss Hall. Anxious for vengeance, the freshmen went down to the Knights of Columbus Hall, wholly unbeknown to the boys and stole the ice cream that had been left there for the reception. Whither it went no one knew nor were the sophomores' diplomats able to induce the freshmen to return it. This difficulty was easily overcome, however, by ordering more from Hager's but, when fifty howling freshman co-ords were found up stairs in the dance hall, the sophomores were non-plussed as to how they should eject them. It was finally decided to go on with the party and, after some little time, the freshmen left of their own accord and, having invited the freshmen boys to Foss Hall, they had a party of their own where the sophomores' ice cream was devoured.

Economics articles, due early in June, have been assigned.

On last Saturday, the men who have appointments for the Sophomore Declamation met Mr. Herbert Libby in Pres. Roberts's office to select their pieces. It is expected that the declamation will occur about the 25th of May.

RECEPTION.

On Wednesday evening, April twenty-first, President and Mrs. Roberts gave a reception to their Waterville friends. Music was furnished by the College orchestra. The following young ladies assisted: from the College, Miss Henderson, Miss Carver, Miss Garfield, Miss Hamilton, Miss Tebbetts, Miss Yeaton, Miss Labonte and Miss Powers; from the Institute, Miss Boutelle and Miss Percival.

CHAPEL TALK.

Rev. J. E. Norcross of Boston, district secretary of the American Baptist Home Missionary Society gave a short talk in chapel on Saturday morning. He spoke of the Bible as the one book, not only, for a dying man, but also, for the living man who is trying to make the most out of his life.

He went on to say that the marvelous success of Christ's three years of preaching and teaching was possible only because, during all his previous life, he had worked hard and faithfully at whatever came to him to do. Real success in anything comes only as the result of hard work and the man of greatest ability, unless he does his best at all times, will be outstripped by someone who has less ability but is a harder worker.

We, who are privileged with a college education, should realize the responsibility entailed and take such advantage of our opportunities that, when we have left the historic walls of the college for the work in the world to which we are called, we may look back upon our days here as days well spent.

S. A. Herrick, '12, has returned from Bangor where he has been taking examinations for entrance to Annapolis.

Estabrook, '12, was called to his home in New Limerick, Maine because of the serious illness of his mother.

ALUMNI NOTES.

1906. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Beveradge of Pulpit Harbor have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Orrie L. Beveradge to I. A. Bowdoin, '06.

1906. John Coombs pitched his first game of the season for Philadelphia last Thursday at Boston and won by the score of 1 to 0. He allowed several passes but only one hit was made off his delivery and he was very effective with men on bases.

1903. Dr. Boothby, ex-'03, and William H. Hawes, '03, visited at the Zeta Psi House last week.

1899. W. L. Waldron has recently been elected principal of the Brewer High School conditional on his acceptance. The election was made to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of L. W. Robbins, '94, to accept the district superintendency of schools in Aroostook. Mr. Waldron is a member of the bar but has decided to give up the law and make teaching his life work.

1896. J. M. Pike, formerly principal of Livermore Falls High School, has accepted a similar position at Calais.

1887. Holman F. Day has a story in Smith's Magazine for May, "The Trimming of Ossian," which is in Mr. Day's best and most readable form. A Boston paper states, "Mr. Day's work appears in so many American Magazines, we can hardly keep track of it."

Ex-1908. Emmons P. Burrill of Augusta, now a senior at Harvard, visited friends in town the latter part of last week.

Ex-1911. Andy Applebee, who has been placed on the road by the Hull Manufacturing Company of Oldtown, dealers in typewriter supplies, was in the city on business recently.

1908. George A. Gould, who has been traveling in the south for Carpenter, Morton Co., arrived in Waterville last week.

Nelson I. Mixer, '09, has been visiting at his home in South Paris.

CAMPUS CHAT.

Clarence Masterman of Wilton spent several days the past week with friends at the Phi Delta Theta House.

The return game with New Hampshire State, originally arranged to be played at Portland next Saturday, will be played in this city instead.

Sinclair, '12, who has been undergoing treatment for his eyes at Bangor, returned to college last Saturday.

The May-pole Social, announced last week, will be held in the gymnasium on Friday evening of this week. Fifteen cents admission will be charged and all profits will be given to the Northfield Committee of the Y. M. C. A. The college orchestra will furnish music. Refreshments will be served. The May-pole march will be at eight o'clock.

The Freshmen have elected Leslie Jordan, '12, captain of their class baseball team. After considerable debate they ventured to arrange a game with the Lawrence High School of Fairfield for last Saturday forenoon and succeeded in winning out by the score of 16 to 4. Needless to say they are much elated by their victory, and it is rumored that they are now trying to secure a game with the North Grammar School of this city.

DE FEMINIS.

MAUDE N. EATON, Editor.
CASSILENA PERRY, Manager.

Miss Gertrude French, ex-'10, who is teaching in the Belgrade High School, has been visiting Miss Leona Achorn, '10.

Miss Angie Corbett, '08, is staying at Foss Hall for a few days.

Miss Alice Wood of Newton, Mass., is visiting Miss Pearl Davis, '09.

Miss Cassilena Perry, '10, is teaching at Oak Grove Seminary.

Mrs. E. F. Yeaton of Belgrade has been visiting her daughter, Donna Yeaton '12.

Miss Agrandice Record, '09, was called home Saturday by the death of her aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Haycock of Cherryfield spent Sunday with their daughter, Miss Beatrice Haycock, '12.

The basketball and tennis courts are in splendid condition and the Freshman and Sophomore teams are beginning practice.

Miss Marion Wadsworth, '09, who has been absent from college two weeks on account of illness, returned Saturday night.

"THE JAPANESE GIRL."

On Saturday evening, the Women's Glee Club presented "The Japanese Girl" at the Coburn gymnasium. Although the audience was small, it was very appreciative.

The scene of the operetta is laid in a picturesque Japanese garden, gaily decorated with lanterns for the festivities which are to celebrate the coming of age of O Hanu San, a Japanese beauty of high rank. A number of the girl's friends come to offer birthday congratulations, and assist in the preparations for the festivities which are to take place in the evening.

Two American girls who are touring in Japan with their governess for education and amusement are impelled by curiosity to enter the garden, and slip away from their governess, who falls asleep while sketching. The Japanese girls find the governess while she sleeps, and resent her intrusion. They cause the lady much distress by pretending to understand no language but Japanese, and by ignoring her pleas to allow her to pass. O Hanu San comes to the rescue, chides the girls for their thoughtless conduct, and invites the American ladies to witness the quaint ceremonies which are about to begin.

The parts were all well taken and much credit is due Miss Davidson who trained the chorus. The cast was as follows:

O Hanu San—A Japanese girl of position	Frances Pollard, '12
O Kitu San } Her cousins	Marion Brown, '11
O Kayo San }	Ruth Goodwin, '12
Chaya—Her servant	Beatrice Haycock, '12
Nora Twinn } Young American	Laura Day, '10
Dora Twinn }	Esther Robinson, '11

LAUNDRY THOUGHTS.

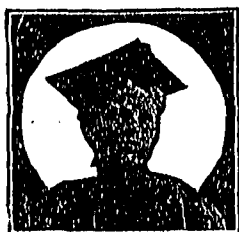

Try the dull finish,
It's up to the minute,
Patronize the People's
If you would be in it.
Broke! Lost all. Haven't a dollar,
Makes you mad if it's your collar.
Why not try the People's—understand—
Where every collar is turned by hand.
Ask Nathan Garrick or Guy Vail.
