REUNION AND DINNER.

Meeting of the Boston-Colby Alumni Association.

The 29th annual reunion and dinner of the Boston Alumni of Colby College was held last Friday evening at the Boston City Club. This event is said to have been the most enthusiastic and enjoyable of any held by the association; it was an ovation for Pres. Roberts, to whose personality and efforts every speaker gave high tribute.

A broader, more productive development for Colby was the key-note, and it was shown that this was possible for the Colby of today, since the college has attained greater distinction and success as a place of leavening than ever before, and since it is assured of the sincerest, most loyal support of the alumni.

Allen P. Soule, '79, retiring president of the alumni, was the presiding officer. The guests and speakers were Pres. Roberts, '90, Ex. Gov. John D. Long, Hon. Leslie C. Cornish, '75, Hon. Arno W. King, and Hon. William P. Whitehouse, '63, justices of the supreme court of Maine; Prof. Anton Marquardt of the faculty, Ralph N. Good, '10, captain of the football team which holds the Maine championship; James Perry, '11, manager of the musical clubs; Judge George C. Wing, an honorary graduate; J. E. Burke, '90, Dr. C. F. Warner, '78; William C. Crawford, '82, Herbert S. Weaver, '82, Col. F. S. Hasseltine, '63, Augustus D. Small, '65, and Emery P. Gibbs, '88.

As an opening to the post-prandial exercises, the diners, some 120 in number, stood up and greeted with swelling cheers, Albert B. Wiggin, '43, the oldest alumnus present. Mr. Wiggin is a native of Vassalboro, Me., now residing in Boston. He was born in January, 1820.

Toastmaster Soule read letters from Judge Harrington Putnam, '70, of the supreme court of New York, Col. Richard C. Shannon, '62, of San Francisco, Moses Geddings of Bangor, Asher C. Hinds, '83, of Washington, Hon. Warren C. Philbrook, '82, justice of the supreme court of Maine, and Eugene N. Foss, who were unable to be present.

Pres. Roberts' introduction called forth prolonged applause. He said in part, "The outlook at the college is most encouraging. We have more business than we can hope to do with the facilities at hand. I am not asking for money, but I realize that everyone here has within the range of his acquaintance a man of means who would be interested to do something for Colby. I do not say this on my account. I am safeguarding the future of Colby. I would rather see success thirty years from now due to my efforts than a quick success.

"Getting a living is not so important as what one is getting out of life. We are looking for the young men at Colby, widening the prospect and enlarging the horizon and bringing them in touch with the best things that have been said and done in the world. We are not trying to show young men the ladder by which they may climb to somebody else's shoulders, but how to accept a trust and administer it in the best way they can."

Ex-Gov. Long spoke of himself as a Maine man since he attended Hebron academy, and declared the present day advantages preferable to those of long ago, that all colleges were united and calling upon young men to join in fighting the evils of greed, corruption, and dishonesty.

Judge Cornish was very optimistic, saying that Colby never had a brighter outlook in all her 90 years than today.

Ralph Good told of Colby's achievements in athletics, accrediting them in part to the untiring energy and support of the alumni body.

Prof. Marquardt and the others named above spoke in turn. Judge King appealed for the young student who may be confronted with doubt as to the path he has chosen, and the benefits of college training. Mr. Gibbs hoped the alumni would consider the immediate establishment of a scholarship.

The officers elected for the coming year are as follows: Pres. Irving O. Palmer, '87; Vice-Presidents, Merle S. Getchell, '93, Robie G. Frye, '82, Secretary and Treasurer, Warren Foss, '96;

Dr. F. F. Whittier, '81, Walter B. Farr, '87, and A. L. Goodwin, '02, were elected members of executive committee, term to expire in 1914.

During the evening there was a pleasing musical entertainment by the college quartette, soloists, and orchestra.

ZETA PSI BANQUET.

Chi Chapter of Colby and Lambda of Bowdoin Hold Joint Banquet at Augusta House.

On the evening of Friday, Feb. 18, seventy-one Zetes from Colby and Bowdoin, active members and alumni gathered at the Augusta House, Augusta, for the first joint banquet held by the two chapters in sixteen years. A jolly crowd assembled in the lobby of the hotel from seven to eight exchanging greetings, getting better acquainted, and it might be added, consulting their watches with rather remarkable frequency.

Shortly after eight the doors were thrown open and all marched into the dining room without wasting any time about it. The long tables were very attractively decorated. A string of red and white carnations extended down the center of the tables the entire length and at intervals were placed candles with decorative shades which added much to the general effect.

While the menu was being served Dennis' Orchestra furnished music. Zete songs and popular songs at intervals added spirit and enjoyment to the banquet.

At 10.45 chairs were pushed back, cigars lighted and Toastmaster John E. Nelson, Chi '98, took charge of the post prandial exercises. The speakers were:

Lucienn Howe, Lambda, '10; Lawrence Gorham Ludwig, Lambda, '10; Herbert M. Heath, Lambda, '72; Robert Betts Austin, Chi, '99; Henry Johnson, Ph.D., Lambda, '74; Hon. Fred Foss Lawrence, Chi, '00; Lyman Abbott Cousens, Lambda, '02; Henry Britt Moor, Chi, '10; O. L. Hall, Chi, '93; Edward Merrill, Lambda and Guy M. Hildreth, Kappa.

Other Chi alumni present were W. H. Rockwood, R. C. Emery, F. W. Alden, Dr. J. F. Hill, Carroll E. Perkins, Henry Abbott, ex-'06; L. S. Gilpatrick, '09; Harold Sinclair, ex-'12; W. B. Carroll, ex-'11.

Committees in charge were:

From the Chi: E. G. Stacey, '11, chairman; I. F. Brown, '10; B. B. Tibbetts, '11. From the Lambda, Harold E. Weeks, '10, chairman; W. Folsom Merrill, '11; Mark W. Burlingame, '12.

MUSICAL CLUBS.

Concert in Waterville.

Last Monday evening at the Opera House the musical clubs of the college gave their annual concert.

Much had been said in favor of the clubs prior to the concert, and expectations were keyed high. The work of the boys Monday evening demonstrated that the good reports and favorable criticisms were not unfounded, but every whit deserved. Indeed, some have been heard remarking that this was the best college glee concert ever heard in Waterville.

The glee club made a hit at the start with "The Passing Regiment," and a still greater one with the encore, a medley composed by G. A. Gould, of the class of '08. The boys came on the stage caricaturing the parts of the songs. This was so good that it was repeated in response to the applause.

The individual work was all of the first class. The soloists, J. C. Richardson, N. H. Garrick and D. H. White had to respond to encores, as did James Perry, reader. D. H. White in his excellent violin solos was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. C. H. White who is a member of the faculty.

The Mandolin Club under the able leadership of Frank Cary did good work. The Glee Club, Russell Lord leader, was well balanced, and gave its selections with vigor and harmony. The Orchestra did well considering the fact that it was handicapped with unfamiliar music.

The quartette work was very popular. A number of encores were necessary before the audience would let go.

The "House" was pretty well filled with students and city folks, all of whom were ready with their applause.

For this support the officers and leaders of the clubs wish to express their thanks.

The program in detail was as follows:

SOCIAL TEA

Last fall the faculty ladies gave a tea which was a very pleasant and enjoyable event. They are planning to give another on Wednesday afternoon, March second. This, like the preceding one, will be held in the "English" rooms, chemical hall. The invitation is extended to every student in Colby to be present.

The Theta Delta Chi fraternity has recently adopted an official coat of arms and restricted its badge to uniform size and style. The pin is of medium size and the jewels allowed are pearls and diamonds.

The baseball season is close at hand, and with a number of vacancies, by graduation it will be necessary for every man in college who knows a baseball from an onion to try for the team. Many a man who was never able to do much in baseball in his preparatory school has surprised the folks at home when he had the benefit of college coaching. We could name several cases in point within recent years of Colby athletics.

If we were to be asked what Colby needs most, we should say a new college song, reflecting the Colby of today. Many Colby songs have been written in the past, and at least one of them has found a place in one of the "Songs of all the Colleges" collections, but they are either forgotten or do not coincide with the spirit of the college today. That there is a good deal of musical talent in college goes without saying, and a story written by an undergraduate just at this time would at once raise its author to an enviable position among Colby men. Nor should the alumni be barred from competition. If several good compositions were submitted, a Colby song book might be the outcome. Think it over.

There is still another college activity which has taken on new spirit this year, and that is track athletics. While Colby's defeat at the B. A. A. meet was a reminder of that mishap in early American history known as the Battle of Bunker Hill, yet it is having much the same moral effect, that of strengthening the determination of Colby men to really accomplish something at the spring track meet of the Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Association. But instead of a relay team, Colby will want entries in a large variety of events, and this will make it imperative for every man to get out on the track as soon as the snow is gone and do his duty as a Colby man. Whether or not he is a point winner in the meet will take care of itself.

The complaint is sometimes heard that we do not have sufficient social life here at Colby. The statement may or may not be wellfounded. Certainly the college and those connected with it have always sought to give receptions, and in other ways to draw the students together, and into contact with the people of the city. That they have not always succeeded is the fault, and likewise the misfortune, of the students themselves.

The ladies are planning a social tea for Wednesday afternoon, March 2nd. The last one given by them was very enjoyable, and was praised by all those who attended. That being the case, there cannot be any doubt but that the students will be present in a body to enjoy whatever pleasant features the ladies of the faculty have in store for them.

COLBY IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

At the University Club, Los Angeles, last Friday evening, Mr. Frank Bullard of the class of 1881, entertained at dinner a party of Colby men who live in Los Angeles or vicinity.

Those present included, Dr. W. H. Snyder of the class of 1885, a trustee of the college and now principal of the High School at Hollywood. This is one of the largest High Schools in Southern California; Dr. Cates, '86; George T. Sweet, '03, one of the most prominent young lawyers in the city; Albert K. Stetson, '07, who is spending a few weeks at Pasadena on a tour of the west; and Dr. Bullard, '81, the specialist of great fame in Los Angeles.

The occasion was marked by true Colby spirit—New Colby Spirit—if you please for the spirit during the last two years has been "new". This has been brought about by the increase in the student body under the guidance of President Roberts, and furthermore by the new comfortable quarters on the campus so vastly different from the old days. It can be safely said that both old and young alumni here in California have joined the "new spirit" move. At the conclusion of the dinner the Colby yell was given with the aid of a few Lafayette and Stanford men—and the applause which was given by the other diners showed that the name of "Colby" is by no means unheard of here in the land of sunshine. For in the grill room of the club there is among the flags a large Colby banner which Mr. Bullard has placed there, occupying one of the most prominent positions on the wall.

Dr. Bullard is truly one of the most loyal and enthusiastic sons of "Old Colby" inspiring us all with his loyalty and devotion for his—our—"Alma Mater."

This occasion will long be remembered by Colby men in Southern California.

A. K. S.

The U. of M. students gave a vaudeville and minstrel show last Monday evening at Bangor. "Foolishness" was the name given to this show.

CAMPUS CHAT.

Allen F. Richards, Fort Fairfield, spent Friday with Bert A. Loane, '13.

Alton D. Blake, '10, attended the reception and dance, given by Theta Chapter of D. K. E., last Friday evening at the Chapter House, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me.

The Ladies of the Faculty will give a "tea" on Wednesday afternoon, March 2nd, in Chemical Hall.

While the city of Waterville is trying to raise money in behalf of the Hebron Sanatorium to help in the "war upon consumption," we may note a recent gift to the U. of P. for a similar purpose. This was by Mr. Henry Phipps, of New York, and amounted to $500,000.

I. W. Richardson, '10, E. A. Russell, '13, and N. L. Berry, ex-'13, attended the senior reception at Kents Hill, last week.

There has been some confusion regarding the date of the day of prayer for colleges. The "Hand Book" gave February 13, the College Catalogue, February 20, and now the information is given that February 27th, is the day.

Harold F. Dow made a trip through Aroostook County last week, arranging a schedule for the Dramatic Club trip.

Higginbotham, '11, left Saturday for Providence, R. I., where he will represent the Gamma Alpha Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega, at a conclave of that fraternity.

Ramsden, '10, has been employed as night clerk at the Elmwood Hotel, the past week.

The fine work of the Musical Clubs at the Opera House Monday night, showed that much credit is due to Mr. Cecil Daggett for his hard and faithful work in coaching them this season.

P. O. Keefe, who coached Williams for four years, has been engaged as basketball coach by University of Maine.

DE FEMINIS.

VERENA H. CHANEY, Manager.

Hattie Fossett, '07, with Miss Nichols and Miss Williams of Oak Grove Seminary, spent Saturday at Foss Hall.

Fannie Crute, '09, who is teaching in Thomaston High School has been a recent guest at Mary Lowe Hall.

Ethel Wood, '11, entertained her friend Miss Cole of Dayton, last Saturday.

Mr. Paul Fielden, of Fitchburg, Mass., has been the recent guest of his sister, Margaret Fielden, '11.

Carrie Gile, '12, entertained her brother, Mr. Gile of Alfred, the first of the week.

Mildred Ralph, '12, entertained the active Chi Gamma Thetas at a very enjoyable spread last Friday evening.

Mrs. Caswell spent Sunday in Madison.

Mr. Thomas of Farmington called on his daughter, Helen, '13, on Monday.

Helen Marsh, ex-'12, recently spent a few days at Foss Hall.

Margaret Buswell, '12, is detained at her home at Foxcroft by illness.

Eva Reynolds, '12, was sent as delegate from Winslow to the Kennebec County Christian Endeavor Union at Augusta.

Ethel Ward, '13, spent Sunday with relatives in Hallowell.

The girls who were courageous enough to take seats at the Dean's table last September were amply rewarded last Wednesday afternoon when they accompanied Dean Small on a "tram-trip" to East Vassalboro. After doing the town and causing more or less excitement among the inhabitants, the party stopped at the Revere House where refreshments of fancy crackers, tea, nuts, figs, and candy were served. The following persons took the trip: Genevieve Barker, Louise Clark, Margaret Goss, Ella Litchfield, Edith Lenhart, Belle Smith, Agnes Snow, and Avis Thompson.

Alpha Upsilon Chapter of Delta Delta Delta received in honor of Miss Mary B. Latta (Zeta) of Ludlow, Kentucky, visiting delegate of the National Fraternity, in Foss Hall Saturday evening. The parlor was tastefully decorated with pine, the fraternity tree, and a large bowl of pansies, the fraternity flower, was on the centre table. One corner of the dining room was screened off and was decorated very prettily with the fraternity colors, silver, gold and blue. Here refreshments of sherbert, fancy crackers and bon-bons were served by Flossie Cross, '12, Harriet Lawler, '12, Jennie Reed, '12, Margaret Goss, '13, and Pearl Mitton, '12. Florence Cole, '13, and Marion Ingalls, '13, acted as ushers. On the receiving line were Eleanor Creech, '10, Miss Mary B. Latta, Mrs. C. H. White and Dean Small. All the girls in college were invited and also the ladies of the faculty. After their guests had departed the Tri-Delta girls gathered around the piano and sang their fraternity songs.

No man can represent Syracuse in any athletics hereafter who is more than six hours in arrears in his college work.

It is reported that practically all college activities are suspended at Hamilton so as to have nothing conflict with the practice in debating. The teams are making every effort to defeat Colgate and Union in the coming Triangular Debate of March 4.

Dr. James B. Angell, who recently resigned from the presidency of Michigan University, after thirty-eight years of active service, has received degrees from at least nine different universities.

Because one of the Meadville papers printed some slurring remarks about Allegheny College and the president, the students drew up resolutions criticising the paper, marched downtown in a body and nailed the resolutions to the door of the newspaper office.
