FOUNDATION OF GOOD CLOTHES

A Coat depends upon its Canvas as a house does upon its foundation. Our canvases are made entirely by hand, the material is thoroughly cold-water shrunk and the hair cloth of best quality. Our method tends to keep a coat in shape longer—from puckering or breaking should the wearer get it wet—and adds materially to the life of a coat.

MUSICAL CLUBS.

Under the auspices of the "Unity Club" the Colby musical organizations gave a concert last Wednesday evening at Oakland.

In common with previous concerts of this season the one Wednesday evening was successful. Each number on the program was well received.

A number of the students accompanied the clubs. Manager Perry had secured a special car, so there was no confusion about going or returning.

Monday and last evening the clubs were again in the public eye. In Milo they were under the auspices of the Senior class of the High School. Last night at Bangor, the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, of the Baptist Church, took charge of the concert.

UPSILON BETA.

Thursday evening, March 10, the Upsilon Beta held its annual initiation at the Delta Upsilon House. After the initiation a social evening was enjoyed. This year the initiates were: George C. Adams, George L. Beach, Victor A. Gilpatrick, Ivan O. Harlow, Philip W. Hussey; Charles J. Keppel, Bertrand A. Loane, Elwin A. Soule, Roy F. Good, J. Ervin Chase.

YOGORO CHIBA.

Dr. Hall has recently received an interesting report of the only Japanese student that ever attended Colby. At this time, when so much attention is being given to Bible and Mission Study, the report is of especial significance.

Yogoro Chiba, a native of Sindia, belongs by adoption, to a family of high rank. He was converted to Christianity in 1887 while attending Bible classes led by Baptist Missionaries in that province of Japan. Chiba received a part of his education in a Methodist institution in Tokio, graduating at the head of his class. He spent the next two years in Colby, '93-'95, and then three at Rochester Theological Seminary.

Since his return to his native land Chiba has been on the faculty of several of the best secondary schools, and is now President of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Tukoka. He has been an incessant worker in the field of educational improvements, introducing the advanced ideas of the occident.

TWILIGHT MUSICALE.

Saturday afternoon, at the First Baptist Church, a Twilight Musicale was given for the benefit of the Colby Y. W. C. A. To the Sophomore class, which had entire charge of the affair, is due much credit for the attendance was large and the program very enjoyable.

WHY??

With almost enough board walks to go completely around the cinder track; with the price of rubbers at $1.00 per pair, and good for not longer than one day's wear; with the concrete sidewalk dry from the crossing downtown, so that with the exception of one short stretch, which at this time of the year might as well be a bog, from the second gate to the crossing:—why is it necessary that we have to run the risk of getting stuck in the mud whenever we want to go down town or to church?

Yes, why?? It does seem as though the honorable President and faculty of this institution ought to have influence enough with the city fathers to secure a bit of concrete sidewalk for a so much used piece of sidewalk as that is. If the city won't do it, the college ought to. Almost 300 students pass there an average of four or five times a day. We need a good many things but none that would be much more of a blessing.

If you don't think so just try getting off the campus any day now about noon and see how much mud you carry off on your shoes and the back of your suit from head to foot.

A STUDENT.

DRAMATICS.

The Dramatic Club played "One of the Eight" before a large and enthusiastic audience at the Belfast Opera House, Belfast, Tuesday evening, March 8. This is the second production of the play, and showed a marked improvement over the presentation at Fairfield last week. The weak parts have been strengthened and the play improved in every way and the manner of its reception at Belfast was very gratifying to those who have worked so hard to make it successful.

After the play a dance was given which the members of the cast attended, and all report a very pleasant time.

Tuesday evening the club gave the third production of the play at Clinton. Owing to illness Gilpatrick was unable to take his part of "Amy" and the play had to be changed considerably on this account, but, nevertheless, all were equal to the occasion and everything went off well. There was a very noticeable improvement in all the parts. The house was well filled and the applause was generous throughout.

M. I. A. A. OFFICERS.

At the Annual Convention of the Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Association, which was held in the Elmwood Hotel, the following officers were elected:

President—J. Emerson, Bowdoin.

Vice-President—M. R. Sumner, Maine.

Treasurer—J. G. Bishop, Bates.

Secretary—T. P. Packard, Colby.

Two undergraduates of each college were present at the meeting. President Haskell presided.

Considerable discussion was aroused over the question of the adoption by this Association, of the Greek Discus. It was voted that each college send in its vote on the matter within two weeks.

It was voted that no medal should be given to Blanchard of Bates for lowering the hurdle record, since Blanchard had knocked down every hurdle in his string.

In order that no further dispute of this nature might arise the wording of the N. E. I. A. A. was adopted: "No record shall be made in a hurdle race unless the competitor leaves every hurdle standing after jumping the same."

ALUMNI NOTES.

'99. Rev. W. B. Chase, recently Y. M. C. A. secretary for Morris County, N. J., has accepted a call to the church at Nahant, N. Y. Mr. Chase was ordained in 1902, and was pastor at Washburn, Me., 1902-08.

'06. Rev. W. Dodge has been transferred from Lewiston to Portland. He is employed by the New England Telephone Company.

THE NECESSITY OF TRAINING.

The question is sometimes asked "Why do we need to train when we can win the championship without it?" In reply it may be said that a team might be able to win a championship and yet on account of lack of training not do justice to itself. The winning of the game itself is not the essential point. We ask every man who is out for athletics to do his best and if he does this we are proud of him whether he wins or loses. We do not mean doing his best on the athletic field alone but also when he is off the field.

No man can do his best without training and training hard, not only for two or three days just before the game but throughout the whole season. Of course this means that a man must give up some of his good times but after the season is over does not the knowledge that you have done your best more than compensate for the pleasures foregone? Does not the confidence and "feeling good" of the athlete in perfect health and training make up for a few dances missed and a few "smokes" not smoked? The athlete is not working for himself alone, although he receives most of the benefit, he is working for his team-mates, for the undergraduates and the alumni. Is it fair to the man, playing beside you in the line or the back field in football, to the man playing behind you on the baseball field, to the man running after you on the relay team, who has trained faithfully, is it fair to him for you to break training in any way and shift some of your work on to his shoulders?

The undergraduates here and the alumni scattered all over the United States are proud to pick up a paper and see that Colby has won a game or a championship. They may not all run to tell you about it but you may be sure that they feel prouder of the college because of it. Is it fair to them for you to break training when the game or the race might have been won if you had trained?

Why do not all our athletes train as they should? Many do but there are some to whom it means more to go to dances than it does to win a game or a race. It means more to them to smoke and break training in other ways than it does to beat the competing college. The pity of it is that these men even without training are better than some of the men who train hard. They know it and so they make the team but is this loyalty to the college?

If you, the student body, want Colby to turn out teams in good training so that they can play their best game or run their best race, it is for you to put a stop to this breaking of training that is going on in college among some of our athletes. You and you alone can do it. The question is "Will you do it?" Is your loyalty to the college so great that you, each and every one, will speak to a man, whom you see breaking training and tell him to stop? If you will do this we will have championship teams in all the sports, football, baseball and track all the time.

DEBATING SOCIETY.

The first regular meeting of the society under the new method will be held on Thursday evening, March 17, in the English Room, Chemical Hall. The meeting will be called to order at 7.45 P. M.

The following is the program of the meeting:

1. Business session.
2. Current events by members of the society.
3. Discussion; Popular Election of U. S. Senators: Opened by E. C. Marriner, '13, Affirmative. D. W. Ellis, '12, Negative.
4. Short talk on Phase of debating, H. C. Libby, Instructor in Debating, Colby College.

It is hoped that the meeting will be well attended by the members of the society and all who are interested in the work.

Y. M. C. A.

On Tuesday evening, March 8, the weekly meeting of the Association was held in the Delta Upsilon parlors on account of trouble with the lights in the Y. M. C. A. room. It was quite an innovation and the meeting was enjoyed by all who were present. Andrew Young, '13, took for his subject, "Bags and Holes."

After the regular meeting the Cabinet met to discuss the subject of Mission Study. It was decided to hold Mission Classes for the rest of the year. The leaders of the different classes met at the close of the Cabinet meeting and prepared for a canvass of the student body.

The Chairmen of all the committees are expected to hand in a written report of their work at the close of the year which comes in a few weeks.

Nelson N. Scales, '11, U. of M. was elected Captain of Basketball for next year.

Twice during the past week the college choir of the Men's Division has contributed special music to the chapel exercises. The effect of this is greater than is immediately evident. Constant repetition blunts the truth of hymn and psalm, and too often a familiar voice, raised in invocation, is scarcely listened to, not heard. But the solo, or the quartette, leaves an impression that lasts beyond the day and is surely productive of much good.

Possibly a word in the ECHO on the matter of taking merely ordinary precautions for one's safety, is out of place, but the students should be cautioned against tempting fate in front of railway trains.
Flagmen are maintained at both College avenue crossings of the Maine Central at some expense to the company, and students should realize that failure to heed the flag-man's warning would vitiate a claim for damages on account of injury. Strange to say, those who take the steepest chances are members of the Women's Division, two of whom were pulled from in front of an incoming passenger train by a railroad man last fall in the nick of time. The College avenue crossings are no more dangerous than any other grade crossings if only a little common sense is mixed with one's zeal to be punctual.

For five years the painted clock faces on the tower of Memorial Hall have looked east, west, north, and south, the painted hands on each face pointing to a different hour. But what began as a student joke will shortly become a reality, for a fund has been growing, added to by successive Junior classes, which will place a reliable clock in the tower. In order to spare the feelings of the present bellman, it may be said truthfully that this year the hourly tolling of the college bell has taken place at intervals of exactly sixty minutes, but the time has been when an Ingersoll dollar watch, to vagaries much inclined, was arbiter of the class-room destinies of Colby students. However satisfactory may be present regime of absolute accuracy, there is always the haunting fear that things may not be always thus, and all Colby students await the day when an honest clock with four honest faces shall smile down upon the Colby campus by day and night.

THE SENIOR'S PRAYER

Gods of the Greek roots
Hear thou my prayer.
Grant me new courage
My burdens to bear.
Exam. week is coming,
Too soon, I declare
Gods of the Greek roots
Hear thou my prayer.

Lord of Psychology,
Be thou near by;
Prompt my weak memory;
More wisdom supply.
Give me the Knowledge
To somehow squeeze by.
Lord of Psychology,
Be thou near by.

Shades of Old Caesar,
And Cicero, too,
Help me, I pray thee,
To somehow get through.
Lend me thy presence
An hour or two.
Shades of Old Caesar,
And Cicero, too.

Gods of all studies
In which I must pass,
Thou knowest my knowledge
Is lacking, alas.
For weeks I've been flunking
Each day in my class.
Ye gods of all studies,
O, help me to pass.

CAMPUS CHAT.

The Executive Committee of the Junior Class met on Friday afternoon to perfect arrangements for the Junior Prom. which is to be held on the evening of April 25th. Be sure and keep that date open.

President Roberts spoke very earnestly to the student body at Chapel Service on Monday of this week, in regard to entering enthusiastically into the track and baseball work of the coming season. He urged them all to work hard and train faithfully in order to make it a successful year.

Gilpatrick, Boober, Robinson, Hatch, and Barker of Hebron were visitors at the Zeta Psi House after the Coburn-Hebron basketball game Friday night.

Rogers, '11, went to Belfast Saturday so as to attend the city election Monday.

Faulkingham, '12, went to his home in Jonesport, last week to attend the spring election there.

Sharp, '13, visited in Kennebunkport over Sunday.

There is some talk among the Juniors of inaugurating a Tree Day for the Junior class. Something along that line would be a splendid plan for trees are disappearing every year and nothing is being done to replace them.

Mr. Libby is making arrangements so that several of the members of the class in Public Speaking can go out on Memorial Day and deliver orations before some of the G. A. R. Posts in the state.

Harold F. Dow, '10, manager of the Dramatic club, has been engaged to play the part of "Orlando" in a production of "As You Like It" to be given in Boston by the Junior class of Boston University, the latter part of April.

Mr. Herbert C. Libby, Instructor in Public Speaking and Debating, also Registrar, is planning on a trip through Aroostook County next week in the interest of the college.

James K. Roméyn, '13, addressed the students of Oak Grove Seminary last Sunday.

The A. T. O. men were the guests of the Zetas on Friday evening, March 11th. A very pleasing evening was passed at the Zeta House.

The members of the Debating Class are working on a debate on the subject of Direct Primaries. When it is prepared it will be given in the chapel some evening.

Many of the students took advantage of the reduced tickets for students and attended the recital of David Copperfield given at the Opera House on Saturday evening by Leland Powers of Boston. Mr. Powers gave a wonderful interpretation of the characters which Dickens made famous, being especially good in the characterization of Heep, Peggotty, and Micawber.

Gilpatrick, '13, is confined to the house with a bad cold, and was unable to take his part in the college play at Clinton Tuesday night.

DE FEMINIS.

VERENA H. CHANEY, Manager.

Louise Buzzell, '11, attended a house party of the Delta Upsilon fraternity at Brunswick last week.

Dora Libby, '13, spent Wednesday at her home in Winthrop.

Mrs. Leavitt of Wilton has been a recent guest of Miss Bass.

Miss Wakeham of Houlton visited Florence Ingersoll, '13, last Sunday.

Emma Leighton, '12 has been entertaining her cousin, Miss Nash of Ellsworth, who stopped at Waterville on her way to Boston.

Last Friday evening Leona Achorn, Helen Robinson, Leona Garland, Cassilena Perry, Lillian Lowell and Mary Donald entertained the other senior girls at a thimble party at the home of Mrs. Chalmers on Main St. Mrs. C. H. White and Mrs. Cyrus Stimson were present and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Belle Smith, '13, has been entertaining two friends from Hebron, Inez Philbrook and Madelon Lawrence.

From statistics compiled by Colonel George Edwards, of the University of California, who for years has taken the deepest interest in athletics of that institution, the athlete is a better student than the collegian who eschews the track, the gridiron and the diamond. Colonel Edwards' statistics show that of all the men who entered the University with the freshman class for the last 15 years, only 35 per cent of those who did not go in for athletics graduated, while 65 per cent of the athletically inclined students won their sheepskins. Prof. Walter E. Magee has also prepared statistics showing that the brawny man is also the brainy man.

AN ENVIABLE REPUTATION.

Position Philadelphia Has Attained in the Medical World One That Has Added to the Quaker City's Credit.

Philadelphians have long pointed with pride to the medical colleges that are located in their city. No doubt their pride is justifiable, for these "seats of learning" have earned reputations for themselves that are world wide. Students from the old world and the new have made the journey to Philadelphia to avail themselves of the many advantages the colleges of the Quaker City offered.

Chief among these medical institutions is the Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia. Granted a primary charter in 1850, it advanced rapidly until in 1867 its charter was amended, and it became a regular medical college with the privilege of granting degrees in the different special branches of medicine and surgery. Since then, "the rapidity and vigor of its growth is probably without a parallel in the history of medical schools," and today it offers unusual opportunities for students to prepare themselves in medicine, Pharmacy, Dentistry or Chemistry.

The college is most advantageously located. It is situated in a large manufacturing district, where the hospital cases are extensive and varied in character, and afford unsurpassed clinical facilities. The clinical amphitheatre is the largest and finest in the world. The hospital has been recently enlarged, and is well equipped and modern in every respect. There are fourteen laboratories so arranged that abundant individual work is assured each student.

There are four departments in the college, as follows: Department of Medicine, Department of Dentistry, Department of Pharmacy, and Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry. In each department degrees are granted at the end of carefully graded courses. Every student has the advantage of practical instruction, free quizzes, limited ward classes, modern seminar methods and clinical conferences.

The faculty consists of a staff of instructors of pronounced ability and reputation for the most modern methods.

The dean of each department will furnish information to anyone desiring it.
