MUSICAL CLUBS.

The Colby Musical clubs have been holding rehearsals regularly, beginning several weeks before the Christmas vacation, in preparation for the coming concerts. The Glee club under the leadership of Harold Jones, '14, has been well supported. The new music, which is well adapted for the work of the club, will certainly be one of the pleasing features of the program.

The Mandolin club, under the able direction of Henry S. Cushman, '13, is unusually large this year and will be of excellent quality. Royden K. Greeley, '13, has the Orchestra working hard, so as to be ready when the season opens. The orchestra, as in other years, will furnish some of the best features of the entertainments. The clubs have been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Cecil Daggett, who is giving them excellent coaching. The first concert will be given in Fairfield, January 17th.

COLBY INTERSCHOLASTIC DEBATING LEAGUE.

Invitations have been extended to the schools which participated in the Colby Interscholastic Debating League, last year, to compete again, this year. The preparatory schools represented were: Higgins Classical Institute, Coburn Classical Institute, Maine Central Institute, and Oak Grove Seminary.

The High schools were: Hallowell High school, Good Will High school, Skowhegan High school, and Waterville High school.

The conditions are the same as last year:

The prizes, amounting in all to One Hundred Dollars, are the gift of Forrest Goodwin, of the class of 1887, of Skowhegan, Maine, and have been offered to the college in order to foster a greater interest in debating.

For 1912-1913, the prizes are open for competition to eight of the preparatory schools of Maine, members of the Colby Interscholastic Debating League. A series of seven debates shall be held between teams representing the eight preparatory schools. Fifty dollars shall be awarded the winning team in the final contest; fifty dollars shall also be awarded in two prizes of twenty-five dollars each, to the successful teams in a series of preliminary contests. The League shall be under the general direction of the Colby Debating Society.

DEBATE.

The third preliminary debate was held in the chapel, on Friday evening, December 13. The question discussed was:

"Resolved: That the United States government should be operated upon the principles of Socialism."

The speakers on the affirmative were: David Jack, '14, Leon P. Spinney, '15, and Florian G. Arey, '15; on the negative: Leonard Grant, '15, Stanley B. Miller, '14, and Ernest C. Marriner, '13.

The decision of the judges, as rendered by Professor John Hedman, chairman, was in favor of the negative.

While the judges were arriving at their decision, several speeches were made from the floor, by members of the debating class; and Bertrand A. Loane, '13, the reader for the Musical clubs, gave a reading, which was greeted with hearty applause.

The next debate will be held in the chapel, Friday evening, January 10th. The question for consideration will be:

"Resolved: That the British Government is justified in protesting against the Panama Canal Act and its enforcement, in so far as it relieves from payment of tolls American ships engaged in the American Coastwise Trade, on the ground that it violates British rights under the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty concerning the Panama Canal."

The speakers on the affirmative will be: George W. Perry, '14, Earle M. Woodward, '15, and Paul F. Christopher, '15; on the negative: James H. Phair, '14, R. A. Putnam, '15, and Andrew Young, '13.

LECTURES.

A series of lectures by members of the Faculty of Colby College is to be given during January and February for the benefit of the College Library. These lectures will be popular in style and illustrated by stereopticon views. Tickets for the entire series can be obtained at Moore's bookstore, or at the College Library. Price 75 cents each. Single lectures 25 cents. To college students course tickets will be sold for 40 cents each; single lectures 15 cents.

The dates and speakers follow:

January 14. Prof. John Hedman: The Land of the Midnight Sun.

January 28. Prof. Webster Chester: A Biologist in Bermuda.

February 11. Prof. Clarence H. White: The Sea-Kings of Crete.

February 25. Prof. George F. Parmenter: The White Mountains.

CHARLES FREEMAN FOSTER.

Charles Freeman Foster, A.M., of the class of 1855, and a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, died in Philadelphia, December 11th. He was born in Dorchester, Mass., in 1830 and, after his graduation from Colby in 1855, spent two years in Newton Theological Seminary. From 1857-59, he was pastor in South Amesbury, Mass., after which he held pastorates in Biddeford and Yarmouth. In 1864, he was appointed chaplain of the state alms-house, at Tewksbury, Mass.; but, after a two years' service, he went to Monson School, in the capacity of assistant superintendent and chaplain. He remained there until 1875, when he went to the Famshan School for Boys. Finally, from 1878 to 1900, he filled the office of superintendent of public schools in Chester, Pa.

Mr. Foster spent the greater part of his life in the educational field; and, even after his retirement, in 1900, he still took an active interest in all public affairs.

ARTHUR J. ADAMS.

Though the curtain has fallen upon the football season of 1912, it is fitting that attention should be called to the difficult and painstaking role in which Trainer Adams has featured.

Arthur J. Adams, Track Coach and Trainer, has proven himself, in many instances, unselfishly loyal to the best interests of Colby College. Besides bearing the responsibility of the track team, he cheerfully accepted the important duty of taking charge of the physical condition of the men on the football squad.

Mr. Adams' success has been apparent from the very beginning. One instance in particular will suffice. Preceding the Bates game, it was correctly rumored that Colby had a crippled football team. By diligent, careful work, Trainer Adams applied himself to the work which lay before him. The result is well known. Captain Soule and captain-elect Fraser, although unable to enter the scrimmage on Thursday, were brought into such condition that they earned positions on the All-Maine Team on the Saturday following.

The college is just beginning truly to appreciate the services of Mr. Adams. More than a football trainer, more than a track coach, he exemplifies that type of man that is bound to secure recognition in any phase of activity which he may chose to enter.

Tuesday afternoon, January 7, Alpha Tau Omega was defeated by Phi Delta Theta bowling team by a score of 26 pins.

AROOSTOOK CLUB.

The Colby students who come from Aroostook County met at the Delta Kappa Epsilon house, Tuesday afternoon, and elected officers for the Aroostook Club as follows:

President, Melvin P. Roberts, '13; vice-president, Charles G. Reed, '13; secretary and treasurer, Robert H. Williams, '15; executive committee: Bertram A. Loane, '13, Ernest W. Warren, '15, and Donald Putnam, '16.

MASSACHUSETTS CLUB.

The day before the college closed for the Christmas vacation, a Massachusetts club was organized, with the following officers:

President, Norman J. Merrill, '14; vice-president, Ralph E. Hamilton, '13; secretary and treasurer, Paul F. Fraser, '15.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to take unto Himself the father of our beloved brother, Chester F. Wood, of the class of 1914; therefore, be it

Resolved, that we, of the Colby Chapter of the Commons Club, extend our sincerest and deepest sympathy to our brother and to his family, in their bereavement; and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to our brother, that a copy be published in THE COLBY ECHO, and that a copy be entered in the records of the Chapter.

A. D. GILLINGHAM, '14.

W. H. KELSEY, '15.

L. W. CROCKETT, '15.

A letter from Clark College has been received by the secretary of the debating society, extending an invitation to join in a debate. It is expected that the challenge will be accepted.

Since college opened in the fall, attendance at chapel has been a requirement. From now on, until the end of the year, it will still be required, but with this difference: monitors will take the attendance, each morning, and make weekly reports. The object of this move is not to provide statistics for the faculty, from which to draw conclusions as to the religious condition of the college; but, rather, to create among the students a stronger and more genuine esprit de corps.

The Y. M. C. A. again seeks to prove its usefulness to the college. Last year, it conducted with great success a series of life-work talks by prominent gentlemen. This year, another program is to be carried out. Topics that are of vital interest to every college man are to be discussed by speakers of mature experience. No student should miss these talks, or fail to give his support in making them even more successful than were those of last year.

LIFE-WORK TALKS.

A series of life-work talks similar to that held last winter has been arranged by the Y. M. C. A., for the coming months. The success of the series last year has given encouragement to the officers of the association to adopt the same means for interesting college men in Y. M. C. A. work, as well as for giving them an opportunity to hear experienced professional men speak upon points of interest in their own chosen life-work. It is to be hoped that Colby students will take advantage of the following program:

Feb. 11. "Medicine," Dr. J. G. Towne, Waterville.

Feb. 17. "The Ministry," Rev. H. E. Dunnack, Augusta.

Mar. 4. "Philanthropy," Rev. George W. Hinckley, Good Will Farm, Hinckley.

Mar. 11. "The Young Men's Christian Association," Jefferson C. Smith, Waterville.

Mar. 25. "Teaching," Prof. Herbert C. Libby, Waterville.
