GIFT.

Colby has very recently received from one of her sons the gift of a valuable art collection. The gift consists of seventy-nine pictures, of which fifty are prints, in colors, of original paintings; nineteen are carbon photographs; and ten are engravings. Most of these pictures were imported from London and Paris. The collection is the gift of Charles Hovey Pepper, L. H. D., of the class of 1899. Immediately after graduation from Colby, Dr. Pepper studied art, both here and abroad, and, besides being a student of the world's famous works, he has himself produced a large number of paintings. The excellent portraits of Professors Foster and Smith which are in Memorial Hall were painted by him.

A few of the prints, illustrative of the various schools of painting, are:

Italian: Ghirlandajo, Old Man and His Grandson; Batticelli, Virgin, Child Jesus and St. John; Leonardo de Vinci, Head of Christ, Beatrice d'Este, and Mona Lisa; Raphael, Madonna in Green; Bellini, Madonna of the Palm Trees; Titian, Bacchus and Aridiane, Madonna of the Cherries, The Presentation in the Temple, and The Tribute Money.

Flemish and Dutch: De Hooch, Dutch Interior with Soldiers; Terborch, The Concert; Vermeer, The Pearl Necklace.

German: Drawings by Albrecht Durer and Hans Holbein, the Younger.

Spanish: Velasquez, Infanta Margarita Teresa.

French: Watteau, Rural Recreation; Corot, Landscape; Millet, The Gleaners; Manet, Boy with Sword, Girl with Parrot.

English: Gainsborough, Portrait of Mrs. Graham; Reynolds, Portrait of Miss Ridge, Age of Innocence; Raeburn, Portrait of Lady Maitland; Romney, Portrait of Lady Hamilton.

American: Inness, Autumn Oaks; Thayer, Caritas.

In the collection there is also a fine photograph of the upper half of the statue of Venus de Milo, nearly full size.

MADISON-SKOWHEGAN.

The preliminary Colby Interscholastic Debate between Madison High School and Skowhegan High School was held at the Skowhegan Opera House, Saturday evening, March 22.

Presiding Officer, Frank A. James, '15.

Board of Judges, C. J. Keppel, '13, and Professor C. P. Weston.

Coaches: Madison, Florian G. Arey, '15; Skowhegan, Roger A. Putnam, '15.

The question for discussion was:—"Resolved: That the State of Maine should permit the transmission of its water powers beyond the state limits." The affirmative was supported by Skowhegan and the negative by Madison.

Sherman Shumway, of Skowhegan, opened for the affirmative. He concisely explained the fact that there was no prospect of future development of Maine's water power, under existing conditions, and told of the large amount of such power to spare.

Harold Caldwell replied for Madison, saying that if Hydro-Electric Plants were built in the state, they would take the sites which the factories ought to have. This would be detrimental, since the factories employ more men than would the Hydro-Electric Plants.

Charles J. Sheridan continued the argument for the affirmative by comparing non-transmission of water power from Maine to non-transmission of coal beyond the state borders of Pennsylvania.

Gardner Means spoke for the negative and showed that transmitting water power from the state would be detrimental from both an economic and financial standpoint.

Carroll Flanders closed the argument for the affirmative, and gave some economic reasons why the power should be allowed transmission.

Mayland Rogers, the last speaker for the negative, proved that our state had water power enough; and, that, instead of building Hydro-Electric Plants, we should introduce more factories.

The decision of the judges was in favor of the affirmative.

WATERVILLE-GOOD WILL.

The students of Waterville High school rallied to the support of their debating team by going in full force to Good Will on the evening of March 21. The debate proved to be interesting and exciting to the finish.

Presiding Officer: D. W. Ellis, '13.

Board of Judges: E. M. Woodward, Professors Wolfe and Brown of Colby College.

Coaches: Good Will, Leo. G. Shesong, '13; Waterville, Leslie F. Murch, '15.

Good Will supported the affirmative, and Waterville the negative, of the question:—"Resolved: That the American Congress should repeal the legislation which exempts from the payment of Panama Canal Tolls, American ships engaged in the American coastwise trade."

E. Bucknam opened the debate for the affirmative. He gave a brief history of the Panama Canal and of the more important treaties which have given to America the right to build the canal.

Lawrence Jones, of Waterville, showed that the Panama Canal was purely an American project.

H. Wyman was the second speaker for the affirmative. He contended that, should America break the treaty obligations, a retaliation on the part of other nations would result, which would greatly over-balance benefits which might be derived from free ships.

Elmo Stevens, the next speaker, said that the Panama Canal Bill did not violate the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty. The United States is not only subsidizing her own ships, but also helping to pay the tolls on all foreign ships.

C. Russell closed the debate for the affirmative and maintained that American citizens are opposed to a subsidy of the sort proposed by free tollage through the canal.

Raymond Rogers concluded for Waterville by saying that the body of the English people sympathized with America's attitude.

The debate was won by Good Will High School.

BASEBALL AT COLBY.

Never before in the history of the college have there been so many candidates for positions on the baseball team. Every afternoon there are almost forty men on the diamond working hard under the direction of Coach Daly. Although it may not be within the bounds of truth to say that the outlook for the championship, this spring, was never more hopeful than it is at the present time, yet Colby has every reason to believe that her chances are as bright as are those of the other Maine colleges. It will be but a matter of time to prove which is the superior team. Colby's first game of the season will be played on alumni field next Saturday afternoon. This is the annual exhibition game with the University of Maine, and it will be the first test of the team's real strength. Among the prominent candidates are James, Robbins, Steves, Pendergast, and Hussey for pitchers; and Captain Reed, Harlow, Cummings, Lowney, Simpson, Campbell, Blackington, Fraser, Berry, Nutting, LaFleur, and Clukey for other positions.

WESTERN MAINE COLBY ASSOCIATION.

On Wednesday evening, March 26, the Colby men of the western part of the state held a banquet at the Congress Square Hotel in Portland and organized the Western Maine Colby Association. After the banquet, a constitution was adopted and the following officers were elected: Wilford G. Chapman, '83, President; Charles E. Gurney, '98, Vice-President; Ernest E. Noble, '97, Secretary-Treasurer; William H. Looney, '77, Edward F. Thompson, '82, and Clark D. Chapman, '09, Executive Committee.

Mr. Chapman then introduced President Roberts as the guest of the evening. The President explained at some length the financial condition and needs of the college, and referred to the growth and improvements of the past few years. In concluding, he gave his idea as to the proper attitude that a college should have toward its students. Some colleges, he said, take pride in the size of their scrap heap; but to get boys into college and to keep them there, is a better aim.

President Roberts' speech was followed by brief remarks from William H. Looney, '77, Charles M. Woodman, '98, and Rex W. Dodge, '06. After the speeches, an informal Colby reunion was held.

AROOSTOOK COLBY CLUB.

On the evening of April 8th, the annual meeting and banquet of the Aroostook Colby Club was held in Watson Hall, Houlton. At a short business meeting preceding the banquet, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

President, Charles P. Barnes, '92; first Vice-President, Howard Pierce, '97; second Vice-President, John B. Roberts, '03; Secretary, Arthur K. Stetson, '07; Treasurer, W. P. Titcomb, '95. Executive Committee: A. K. Stetson, '07, J. K. Plummer, '87, and W. A. Gilpatrick, '10.

A delicious banquet was served by the Guild of the Episcopal Church, in whose parish house the meeting was held. Following the banquet, President Roberts was introduced, and he spent part of the evening telling about things at Colby. Remarks were also made by Principal Weeks of Ricker. A large number of loyal Colby men were present, and the evening was one abounding in good cheer and Colby spirit.

THE COLBY ALUMNUS.

The March number of the Colby Alumnus, which is just out, is a very attractive and interesting issue. Of most interest, perhaps, to the present students, is a breezy account of the Boston Alumni Dinner, held last February. The biographical sketches of a few eminent Colby men are well worth reading.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL.

At the meeting of the Athletic Council, Monday evening, Graduate Manager Ervin read a letter from Track Coach Adams, who has notified the association that he will be unable to coach the track team regularly this spring. A committee, composed of Graduate Manager Ervin, Professor Hedman, and John Wells, was empowered to straighten out the coaching situation.

It was also voted not to allow the use of the athletic field, this spring, to the Waterville High School Athletic Association.

The preliminary Interscholastic Debate between Oak Grove and Coburn will be held at Oak Grove, Friday evening.

"Too Much Johnson," indefinitely postponed.

The Eighteenth Annual Reunion of the New York Colby Alumni Association will be held Saturday, May 3, at Hotel Wolcott, 4 West 31st Street, New York.

Within a few weeks, the new editorial board of the ECHO will have to be appointed. It is necessary that candidates should begin at once. Only through a strong and thoroughly enthusiastic editorial board, can the college produce a live and interesting paper. The names of candidates should be handed to the editor-in-chief before the end of this week.

The Athletic Association has taken progressive measures to have all its activities under proper supervision. The wisdom of having a graduate manager has been amply justified by the present prosperity. There are other activities, however, just as important, which strive to uphold the fair name of the college.

These, also, should be under proper supervision, in order to ensure their success. Very often managers of different clubs have perplexing problems to solve, and the advice of a supervising officer would tend greatly to clear the difficulties as well as to prevent unjust criticism.

PEN POINTERS.

The attendance of the faculty at chapel, last Thursday, was large. Was there any fear of probation?

"Bauble," according to Webster, the lexicographer, means, "a fool's club."

More mystery! The Speedway Club.

The Junior Prom. and no Taxicabs! Sounds like "White House" policy.

A few more conscientious freshmen on Alumni field might have saved Manager Carroll's speech in chapel.

The keen competition for positions on the baseball team eliminates all hope of places being "cinched."

"Mrs. Lillian Hunt" is another Colby man who will make fame with the pen.

INTER-FRATERNITY BOWLING LEAGUE.

The record of the Colby Inter-fraternity Bowling League for the year 1913, is now history. The cup has been awarded to Zeta Psi, which won from Delta Upsilon in the three final matches of the season. When the schedule of the teams was completed, these two teams were tied for first place; and it was decided that the honors should be given to the team that won two games out of three.

These games were extremely interesting and very closely contested. The Zetes were victorious in the first, but the D. U.s came back and won the second. The last, which was the most interesting of all, was won by the Zetes, thus giving them the championship.

SOPHOMORE DECLAMATION.

The following students have been announced as the speakers in the Sophomore Declamation Contest: Harold S. Campbell, Leonard W. Grant, Paul F. Christopher, Robert H. Williams, Roy M. Whelden, Ethel G. Chamberlain, Helen W. Hanson, Ruth Morgan, Edna L. Stevens and Marion O. Steward.

MUSICAL CLUB TRIPS.

During the Easter vacation, the Musical Clubs took two trips; one south, as far as Portland, and the other north, through Aroostook. Two days after college closed, Thursday, March 27, the first concert was given, at Livermore Falls. From here, the clubs went to Farmington, where a concert was given Friday evening. They proceeded then to Portland, for a Saturday night engagement, and returned to Waterville, to spend Sunday on the campus. Monday, March 31, the second part of the trip began—a concert being given at Milo, that night. The engagement Tuesday night, was at Presque Isle; at Caribou, Wednesday; and at Fort Fairfield, Thursday. Friday, the clubs started on the return trip, staying in Houlton that night for the last concert.

The trips were both unusually successful. The program had been changed somewhat from that given in Waterville, and different parts had been materially strengthened. The clubs were greeted by large audiences in every town and much praise was received. The orchestra took particularly well, and the violin solos by George Pratt were a strong feature of the program. Much credit for the success of the season is due to Manager Keyes, whose untiring efforts made it possible.

CAMPUS CHAT,

Roy F. Good, ex-'13, now a student in Harvard Dental School and Leslie B. Arey, '12, who is taking graduate work in Zoology at Harvard, are spending a few days with friends on the campus.

Elmer H. Hussey, '13, of Norway, has recently received an appointment to take up graduate work in history at Harvard University.

The Senior and Junior articles for Commencement are due May 15.

State Superintendent of Schools, Payson Smith, gave the first of his series of six lectures before the class in Education, last Monday morning.

John P. Flanagan, '14, has left college to accept a position in Bangor.

Rev. Isaac LaFleur led chapel, Saturday.

Superintendent Perkins, of the Waterville Public Schools, addressed the class in Education, Friday.

Professor Henry W. Brown will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church, next Sunday.

The Murray Prize debates and the team to represent Colby against Clark College met with Dr. Black, at his home on Pleasant street, last Saturday afternoon.

Frank Nardini received a royal welcome from the students, on his return to college, Tuesday.

Arthur Gillingham, '14, led the Y. M. C. A. meeting, Tuesday evening.

WOMEN'S DIVISION.

MARY PHYLLIS ST. CLAIR, Editor.
 MARIAN E. INGALLS, Business Manager.

Dean Bass entertained the Women's Division at a Suffragette Party, at Foss Hall, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Deborah Knox Livingstone, of Bangor, was present, and addressed the girls on Equal Suffrage.

Mildred Holmes, '15, Edith Verrill, '16, and Ethel Weeks, '16, have left college.

During the vacation, Pauline Hanson, '13, gave a chapel talk to the girls of Nasson Institute on the Young Woman's Christian Association.

Abbie Sanderson, '14, led the Y. W. C. A. meeting, Tuesday evening. The topic was, "Mountains of Daily Life."

The Junior Class Day parts have been assigned as follows: Historian, Marjorie Scribner; Poet, Hazel Young; Ode Committee, Florence Cole, Clara Collins, Adelaide Klein.

Eva Roby, '16, has returned to college. Material for the third issue of the Colbiana is due.
