FOOTBALL AND CROSS-COUNTRY TEAMS GUESTS OF HONOR AT BANQUET.

Colby's football and cross-country men received the unique honor of being the guests of the representative men of Waterville, last Monday night, at a dinner given them at the Hotel Elmwood. Dr. J. Frederick Hill acted as toastmaster, and after-dinner addresses were given by Ex-Mayor Redington, Dr. Bunker, Hon. Cyrus W. Davis, President Roberts, Dr. Marquardt, Coach Daley, Coach Cohn, and Captain Fraser.

Mr. C. W. Davis spoke in a humorous vein and finished by paying a tribute to the ever increasing efficiency of Colby College, her president, and her teams.

Mr. Redington showed the inter-dependence which exists between the business man and the professional man, and said that without the co-operation of these two there would have been no Colby. He paid a tribute to the college men, telling of the benefit they are to the city, and laid particular emphasis upon the men who settle here after completing their course. Mr. Redington alluded to athletics, and concluded with a tribute to "Jack" Coombs, Colby's "iron man," who has been a world-wide advertisement for the college.

Dr. Bunker gave free rein to his neat sense of humor. He paid a stirring tribute to the college as being the greatest asset of the city, and congratulated the citizens upon having an institution which could bring here men like President Roberts and Professor Hedman.

Coach Daley said that he had travelled one hundred and fifty miles, not to go to a banquet, but to see the men of Waterville give a party to the Colby athletes. He assured the hosts of the evening that the teams appreciated their courtesy and then outlined the vicissitudes of the past season. He said that the team had developed the fighting spirit during the season and that he believed this to be the reason why the men of Waterville were taking the interest they were displaying at that banquet.

Coach Cohn of the track team was the next speaker. He briefly outlined the prospects for the season, and promised to try to repay the city for its confidence in him and his team.

Captain Fraser of the football team was the next speaker. In his usual manner, full of vim and fight, he said that the banquet was good proof of the belief his hosts have in the college. Captain Fraser said that the fight which had been developed in the team this year would be perfected another season; and while he made no prophecies, it ought not to be hard to read what he had in his mind.

Dr. Marquardt was the next of the humorists to be heard and he got away with some of his usual sparkling fun, at the expense of Dr. Bunker. He closed his remarks with a very hopeful prophecy regarding the events of the coming year.

President Roberts was the last speaker on the program. "Do you know what is the greatest burden I have, as president of this college?" he said, "It is the way in which some of these boys spend their time. I appeal to you as business men of Waterville to aid me all you can in bearing this burden, by your votes if need be, to make Waterville a better, cleaner city, and, as I am the last speaker of the evening, I leave this as my benediction."

MURRAY PRIZE DEBATE.

FIFTY-TWO MEN TO TAKE PART IN PRELIMINARIES, THIS AFTERNOON.

The preliminary debates for the selection of students to compete for the Murray Debating Prizes are being held in Chemical Hall, this afternoon, beginning at one o'clock. Fifty-two members of the Debating Society are to present their arguments, each on a different subject. All debates were submitted December 12, and were, on the average, 2000 words in length. In the contest of today, speakers are to be ranked on the scale of 100 points: speaking to count 50, interpretation 25, appearance 15, voice 10. The names of the eight highest ranking contestants will be given out Thursday afternoon, in the Debating class. Work will then be begun at once on the Murray Prize Debate itself, and the final presentation will be on Monday, February 16.

Prizes for the debate amount to one hundred dollars. They are the gift of George Edwin Murray, of the class of 1879, of Lawrence, Mass., and are open to students enrolled as members of the Colby Debating Society. Mr. Murray is this year giving the prizes for the fifth time.

GOODWIN PRIZE DEBATES.

FOR PREPARATORY SCHOOL MEN.

Through the generosity of Mrs. Goodwin, the prizes for inter-scholastic debates, which were for many years offered by her late husband, Hon. Forrest Goodwin, '87, are to be continued during the coming winter. The following preparatory schools have already accepted invitations to join the league: Hebron Academy, Maine Central Institute, Waterville High, Skowhegan High, and Madison High. It is expected that Coburn Classical Institute, Oak Grove Seminary, and Good Will High will join soon, and it is possible that several other schools will be invited to enter for the sake of enlarging the membership of the league. The schedule of debates will soon be arranged and will be announced later.

INDOOR TRACK.

At the National Indoor Track Meet, which is to be held January third, at Brooklyn, N. Y., Norman J. Merrill, '14, is to be one of the officials. Coach Harvey Cohn left, Tuesday, for Brooklyn, to make arrangements for entering several men from Colby.

The list of the athletes that will probably participate under Colby colors is as follows: Thompson and Wenz, in the 1000-yard run; Weg, Waldron, Golden and I. W. Merrill, in the 600-yard run; Joyce, in the weights.

The 71st annual games of the National guard are also to be held in Brooklyn on the same day, and it is probable that Colby will be represented by a team at that meet also.

DRAMATICS.

Last Saturday afternoon, the trials for dramatics were held in the English room, in Chemical Hall. Two of the parts have not been assigned, as yet, so the entire cast cannot be published; but it will probably be posted the last of the week. The judges were Professors White, Mott-Smith and Maxfield. A good number tried out for parts and the outlook for a strong cast is very promising.

This year the club is to present Goldsmith's famous play, "She Stoops to Conquer." It abounds in true literary merit and wholesome comedy. The board of advisers in dramatics for this year is as follows:

Prof. Mott-Smith, chairman, Prof. Hedman, Prof. White, Prof. Maxfield, Prof. Brown.

MUSICAL CLUBS SCHEDULE.

The manager of the Musical Clubs has arranged a series of concerts to be given by the combined clubs on a trip through Aroostook County, during the latter part of the Christmas vacation. The names of those who have succeeded in securing a place on the club will be posted within a day of two. The schedule follows:

Monday, December 29th, at Corinna.

Tuesday, December, 30th, at Houlton.

Wednesday, December 31st, at Bridge-water.

Thursday, January 1st, at Caribou.

Friday, January 2nd, at Fort Fairfield.

Saturday, January 3rd, at Presque Isle.

PEACE SOCIETY PRIZES.

The preliminary speaking for the inter-collegiate oratorical contest to be held by the Maine Peace Society, will occur here Wednesday, February 25. Brief excerpts of the speeches will be given at this time, and the five highest ranking men will be admitted to the local contest, which is to take place Monday, March 9. The best speaker in this contest will represent the college in the inter-collegiates, in the middle of March.

The twelve men in the advanced Public Speaking class, and ten or more other students are to take part in the preliminaries.

TEMPERANCE PRIZE.

Detailed plans for a Maine inter-collegiate contest for a prize offered on the subject of "Temperance," with particular reference to the State of Maine, are being made by Prof. Libby, and Mr. Purinton, of this city. Maine, Bates, and Colby have already accepted invitations to compete. The preliminary contest is to be held January 14, after which five men will be picked for the local contest, occurring February 20. Selections will then be made for the inter-collegiates. Interested students may obtain further information from Professor Libby.

STUDENT LECTURES.

A series of four lectures, to be given in the chapel by members of the student body, has been arranged by Professor Libby. The first of these lectures was delivered by David Jack, '14, last week, on the subject, "Scotland, The Land of Heath and Heather." The next in the series is to come immediately after Christmas. Theodore Fieldbrave, '16, is to be the speaker, and his subject will be, "India's Contribution to Civilization." Sterioptic views will add to the interest of the address. Following this there will be another illustrated lecture, by Robert H. Bowen, '14, on "Mars, The Planet of Mystery and Romance." The last of the series will be "Music," by George W. Pratt, '14.

Although the foregoing are all that have been definitely arranged for, to date, others are well under way, and it is likely that additions will be made to the list.

MADIKANE Q. CELE SPEAKS BEFORE Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

"The Manners and Customs of Africa" was the subject of an interesting and instructive address delivered in the chapel, Tuesday evening, by Captain Cele, a full blooded negro and a native prince of the Zulus. Both divisions of the college were invited and the chapel was well filled.

After narrating many of his experiences and telling something of the people of his native land, Captain Cele said that he expected to go back to Africa in the near future and to give his life to leading his countrymen out of their darkness into a broader and higher civilization. He closed by singing a native love song, much to the amusement of the audience.

Bertrand Loane, '13, was a visitor at the D. K. E. house last week.

CHRISTMAS RECESS from Friday, December 19, at 6 P. M., until Tuesday, January 6, at 8 A. M.

As elsewhere reported in this issue, the banquet at the Elmwood tendered to our football and track heroes, by the business men of Waterville, was a most enjoyable affair. That the men of the city are so much interested in our athletics and are rallying to the support of our teams is one of the auspicious signs of the times. And through the columns of the ECHO we hereby extend, on the part of the student body at Colby, to those through whose courtesy we were permitted to enjoy Monday evening's festivities, our appreciation and heartfelt thanks.

From the number of prizes for debating and public speaking mentioned in this issue, and this does not include the entire list by any means,—and from the subject of the other articles, it is evident that Colby is somewhat inclined toward the scholastic side of college activities, as well as toward the athletic, and other, interests. Much stress has been laid, it is true, upon athletic contests, this fall; but, in the seasons of sports, accounts of these things are in demand and must have place; but this is no proof that the college is running all to athletics. It takes no more weeks of unsensational work to prepare debates and other literary exercises than it does to qualify a team for success on the track or gridiron. Each has its place and all are worth while.

With this issue, the ECHO closes its active existence for the year 1913. Our next number will contain a 4 in place of the 3 on our date line. This evidence of the college year's progress will be hailed with great joy throughout the community. To those on the last lap of the course, it will bring feelings of untold satisfaction to know that almost within their grasp is the coveted sheepskin; to those who jog along behind, it will bring a ray of hope and of encouragement to continue on toward the goal of their ambition, which seems even yet so far away in the hazy distance. We now leave you with prayers for your success in "killing off" the horde of exams and quizzes, which, as usual before a vacation, are so unmercifully thrust upon the unsuspecting students. We also extend our best wishes for a pleasant vacation, a Happy Christmas, and a Merry New Year.

CAMPUS CHAT.

Mr. Green and Mr. Friedman, students at M. C. I., were entertained at the D. K. E. house, Monday.

The Dekes are planning to give a dance, Friday evening.

The members of the Delta Upsilon fraternity were very pleasantly entertained, Friday evening, by Xi chapter of Zeta Psi, at an informal smoker and card party. The D. U.'s report a jolly evening—one long to be remembered.

D. J. Jacobs, '17, will be out of college until after the holidays.

Byron H. Smith, ex-'14, visited college last Friday and Saturday.

A detailed account of the annual reunion and banquet of the Northwestern Alumni Association, which was held at the University of Chicago, last Friday evening, and at which President Roberts was the principal speaker, will be given in a later issue of the ECHO.

An attempt is being made to organize a freshman hockey team. Members of the class who are interested will remember to bring their skates with them when they return, after Christmas.

Some time ago, President Roberts sent out some Christmas letters, and recently he has supplemented them with a word of Christmas reminder. It is hoped that many will be able to join the "Thousand Christmas Club of Colby College.

Dr. H. P. Little, of the Geology department, has completed a series of ten lectures before the students of Bangor Theological Seminary.

Mr. Lord, of the Bangor Theological Seminary, and Mr. Grice, of Maine Central Institute, were visitors in the college classrooms, Monday.

A number of visitors have been in chapel this week. Rev. E. C. Whittemore conducted the services, last Thursday; Dr. J. William Black led on Friday; and Mr. Ringe, secretary of the International Y. M. C. A., with offices in New York, spoke on Monday morning.

The Greek letters for Phi Delta Theta have recently been placed on the portico of that fraternity house. They are neatly done in gold and add much to the appearance of the house.

Rex W. Dodge, '06, President of the Alumni Association, has proposed a slight change in the program of Commencement week, which he believes will make the exercises as a whole far more interesting. Instead of having the band concert Wednesday afternoon, when most of the people have left or are leaving, he proposes to have it Tuesday afternoon, to follow the Alumni Luncheon. This would mean that the Senior Class Day exercises would have to be abbreviated somewhat and be held wholly in the forenoon, instead of both forenoon and afternoon, as formerly. The Seniors have voted to try the plan, next June.

WOMEN'S DIVISION.

IDELLA KATHRINE FARNUM, Editor.
MARION EDITH DODGE, Business Manager.

The women in Reading 2 are handing in their readings for the Hamlin prize contest, to be held the last of the semester.

Irma Ross, '17, of Corinna has been unable to return to college since the Thanksgiving recess; but she expects now to be back after the Christmas vacation.

Lucy Montgomery, '16, will spend the holidays at Dr. E. C. Whittemore's.

Dorothy Webb, '15, has been elected by the Women's Division as the delegate to the quadrennial International Student Volunteer Convention at Kansas City. The delegates from all the New England colleges are to go by special car from Boston, and will be accompanied by Miss Mary J. Corbett, the territorial secretary.

The invitation extended by the Y. M. C. A. to the Y. W. C. A. to hear the lecture by Madikane Q. Cele was appreciated. Many girls availed themselves of this rare opportunity to hear a native Zulu and to gain new knowledge of African life.

An unusually interesting Y. W. C. A. was held last week upon the subject of the transformation now going on in China. Marion Wyman had charge of the meeting. Edith Pratt spoke on the great work of certain native missionary women, Vivienne Wright spoke on the life of Sun Yat Sen, and Emily Hanson gave a most interesting talk based on the course in foreign mission study that she took at Silver Bay, last summer.
