DECISION WEEK.

SERIES OF EVENING MEETINGS
CONDUCTED BY REV. E. C.
HERRICK, '98.

Beginning last Thursday night, there have been held every evening, in the chapel, revival meetings for the men of Colby College, by a graduate of this college. Reverend Everett Carlton Herrick, of the class of 1898, now pastor of the Baptist church in Charlestown, Mass., has been the leader of these evangelistic services. The meetings have all been an hour or less in length, and have been conducted from a college man's standpoint, in a way agreeable to everyone. Although results have not been spectacular, several men have decided to take a definite stand in the matter of their personal religion. It is earnestly hoped that many more will do so in the two opportunities remaining.

At the first meeting, there was a good attendance of both students and faculty. Rev. Mr. Herrick chose for his subject, "Service." He said, "Service is the highest and happiest ideal of life. In the end, it is service that pays the biggest dividends in real happiness." In his quiet, but forceful and most pleasing manner, he showed his audience how Christian service is, after all, the greatest thing in life, for it is the strongest promoter of that universally desired quality—happiness.

Friday evening, the topic, as previously announced in chapel, was, "What are we here for?" As the speaker said, "We know what we are here in Waterville for, what we came here to college for, and what we go into our classrooms for. But in the broader sense, we are here on this earth and in this present life, for the purpose of doing something for others and for ourselves, and for a chance to prepare ourselves for the higher and fuller life." So inspiring was Mr. Herrick's talk at this service that all who were present went away with a grander and nobler conception of life.

Although a storm was raging Saturday night, there was an attendance at the service of seventy or more. The text, which was the first one the speaker had chosen in this series, was, "And He went a little farther." Here was presented the value of prayer and the prayerful life; and, in man to man fashion, Mr. Herrick spoke of the claims of the gospel upon every man. Neither at this time, nor at any other, has the old fashioned method of emotional excitement been resorted to, in order to bring out the men, but the claims of Jesus Christ upon every man's life and the seeking of the Master as the manliest ideal have been presented in a sincere way which can not offend, but rather served quietly to lead all to declare themselves.

Sunday afternoon, the meeting was held at half past two. This service was one of the best. Mr. Herrick chose his scripture lesson from the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians, and, in a pointed way, analyzed religion, resolving it into three elements: beauty, holiness, and love.

Monday evening's sermon had for its subject, "The consequences of neglect." Several illustrations were cited, all of which could have for their conclusion, he neglected the opportunity until it was too late. The catastrophe happened; there was no escape. In concluding, Mr. Herrick spoke of how we may neglect

Christ, and closed with that fine poem, "Alone with my conscience."

Although the attendance was not quite as large on Tuesday evening, however, the service was one of the most encouraging and helpful of all the meetings. Mr. Herrick delivered an exceedingly plain and inspiring sermon upon the text, "The door being shut." He outlined how Christ does knock at the door of every man's life, no matter whether we open and let Him in or not.

There are to be two more meetings in the series. Starting with a fair attendance at the first meeting the audience has increased at nearly every service, and the closing one tomorrow night should attract the larger part of the student body. Besides conducting the evening services, Mr. Herrick has led chapel the greater part of the week, and has held prayer meetings in the Y. M. C. A. room, at four o'clock each afternoon, in addition to holding private conferences at other times.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE.

The annual Maine Intercollegiate Y. M. C. A. student conference is to be held here, in Waterville, February 20th to 22nd. The banquet, Friday night, at the Armory, will be the first event and, with the exception of a recreation period Saturday afternoon, the entire time, until the close, on Sunday evening, will be taken up with helpful conferences and inspiring addresses. No student can afford to miss hearing Mr. Roberts and Mr. Colton. The educational value alone is great, because these are men widely known and are experts in their spheres of religious work. To help defray the large expense of the conference, an admission fee of seventy-five cents will be charged the delegates. This will admit them to the banquet and to all of the other meetings.

Every student is urged to attend the banquet, if possible, and a hearty invitation to the various other meetings is extended in behalf of the Y. M. C. A. There will also be delegates in attendance from the preparatory and high schools of the state. Let every Colby man be a good host and try to make every delegate feel at home.

PROFESSOR HEDMAN'S ILLNESS.

The entire college deeply regrets the unfortunate illness of Prof. John Hedman, '95, of the department of Romance languages, who was stricken last Saturday with a severe attack of typhoid fever. Professor Hedman may feel sure that he has the sympathy of all and the best wishes of everyone for his rapid and complete recovery. During his illness, his classes will continue as usual under other instructors, with the single exception of the course in Spanish. Students in this course will be obliged to elect substitutes.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TRACK.

Colby will not have its usual indoor dual meet with University of Maine, this year. Maine's gymnasium is rather small and lacking in facilities for such a meet, and our own gymnasium being unfitted for it, it has been thought best to give up the meet.

However, Manager Merrill has been endeavoring to interest all three of the other Maine colleges in a state intercollegiate indoor meet to be held annually, in the hope that the new Bowdoin gymnasium might be placed at the disposal of the Association. Such a meet would undoubtedly boost track athletics in Maine, by increasing the interest in this sport during the dull winter season.

THE NEW CATALOGUE.

The new Colby College Catalogue for the year 1913-1914 has been received from the printers and is now ready for distribution at the college office. To the casual observer the new volume appears little different from its predecessor in contents and general appearance; but under close perusal and careful comparison are found many minor and several important changes.

In the first place there are two changes in, and two additions to, the Faculty. Florence Carll takes the place of Miss Bass as Dean; Harlow, '13, the place of Kimball, '12, as Instructor in Chemistry; Mrs. Crowell becomes Director of Physical Training in the Women's Division; and Mr. Frederick G. Fassett, editor of the Waterville Morning Sentinel, is the Instructor in Journalism.

A comparison of the total number of students listed in this bulletin with that in last year's shows: that the number of men has increased by five, that the number of women has decreased by two and that there is, therefore an increase of three in the total registration.

Perhaps the most noteworthy of several minor changes under Admission Requirements is that Solid Geometry is no longer required of a candidate for the B. S. degree.

The most important difference between the new catalogue and the old is found in the addition to the curriculum of Courses of Instruction. The additions include: two new courses in Greek Civilization and Influence; a new full-year course in advanced Scientific German; a full-year course in advanced Spanish; the offering of Italian for the first time; a valuable, practical elementary one-year course in Journalism; two new courses in economics: Railroad Transportation, and Corporations and corporation Finances; a full-year course under Physics in Wave Motion; a continuous course in Household Chemistry and the Chemistry of Food and Nutrition—a practical course for students of the Women's Division.

A change worthy of passing notice is the fact that Physics is no longer required of A. B. students. The Rules Governing Excuses given in this catalogue are practically the same as those to be found in the library.

Something which interests every senior is the statement, under the head of examinations, to the effect that senior quizzes will be held a week previous to examination week, allowing senior vacation as usual.

The tone of the whole volume is progressive and up-to-date, and gives indications that Colby is really advancing into "civilization."

SEMESTER REPORTS.

Registrar Libby wishes to announce that the first semester's reports will be due at the college office from the professors on Wednesday night. It will be another week before they can be filed and made out for distribution.

RESOLUTIONS.

Inasmuch as God in His infinite wisdom has removed from this life the father of our classmate, Clara Morton, and

WHEREAS, we, the class of nineteen hundred seventeen of Colby College, are mindful of the deep sorrow of our classmate; therefore be it

Resolved, that we extend to Clara Morton an expression of our heartfelt sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to our classmate; and that a copy be sent to the Colby ECHO for publication.

The Student Y. M. C. A. conference is almost upon us. To this conference are expected about three hundred boys and young men. The city people are planning on taking care of part of the boys, and already accommodations for a part of them have been promised. There are, however, still quite a number who are not provided for. It has been thought by some, and rightly too, that the college can take care of a generous share of the delegates, or can at least look out for those not already disposed of. This would be an act of mutual benefit. While helping to make the convention a success it would give many preparatory school boys some idea of Colby, and in that way it would advertise the college in the manner that it should be advertised. To do this it is necessary for the college boys themselves to do the entertaining. The committee in charge would be glad to have anyone, who can take care of one or more delegates, say so. Some of the fraternities have already agreed to look after a certain number.

Have you attended any of the revival meetings which are being held at the present time? Every man in college should present himself at one, at least, for no one who is a student in the college should miss hearing one of his older college brothers. It is widely known by this time that Mr. Herrick is an alumnus of some reputation, and he has not been out of college so long as quite to forget the students' point of view. Mr. Herrick has come here without financial inducement. He comes as a loyal son who wishes to do the greatest amount of good, and he most assuredly deserves our co-operation and support. At the meetings, there is no collection taken nor is there any other obligation attached. There is no embarrassing urging or exhorting. Your presence at a short rational talk upon a religious subject is all that is asked. A cordial invitation to stay to a brief after-meeting is given, however, but no one is forced to stay.

Mr. Herrick is deserving of your best support, and behind him there are those who are working unceasingly for the success of his mission, and who take a leading interest in the affairs of our Alma Mater. What is your attitude toward them?

ALUMNI BANQUETS.

BOSTON AND WESTERN MAINE ASSOCIATIONS.

The second banquet of the Western Maine Colby Association will be held at the Congress Square hotel in Portland, tomorrow evening. President Roberts and Dr. Marquardt are expected to attend from the college. Justices Whitehouse, Cornish, King and Philbrook of the supreme court have also been invited.

The banquet of the Boston Colby Alumni Association will be held in Boston, March 6. President Roberts and Professor Taylor will be among the speakers.

INTERFRATERNITY BOWLING BEGINS FOR SECOND SEMESTER.

There have been two matches in the interfraternity bowling league so far this semester. Delta Upsilon clashed with Phi Delta Theta for the first one, and although the match was between the strongest and weakest teams it was nevertheless quite interesting. The "D. U.'s" won by 38 pins, thereby gaining a little greater lead over the "Zetes" and "Dekes." Jones was high man for the off-campus team, and Allen rolled well for the leaders.

The score was: Delta Upsilon, 1264; Phi Delta Theta, 1226.

Yesterday afternoon the "Phi Delts" took a turn at winning, taking the match from the "A. T. O.'s" by a pinfall of twenty, the total being 1220 and 1200.

CAMPUS CHAT.

Waldo Baker and Stanley Higgins of Charleston visited M. F. Hunt, '15, Friday afternoon, while on their way to Lewiston to attend the State Boys' Conference.

Frederick F. Sulley, '16, of Philadelphia, Pa., who returned from the Libby Hospital last week, is now spending a few days with relatives in Machias for the sake of recuperation.

Dr. Homer P. Little, of the geology department, is spending a few days at his home in Dalton, Mass.

Charles P. Chipman, '06, college librarian, returned late Tuesday night after spending a few days at his home in Connecticut. During his absence Harvey Knight, '14, has had charge of the library.

Prof. H. W. Brown gave an address at Skowhegan, Tuesday night.

On account of almost frigid temperature in some recitation rooms many classes have necessarily been excused during the past week. Tough ain't it?

An urgent request for the prompt submission of all material for the new Oracle has been posted by editor-in-chief Haskell.

Ray I. Haskell, '14, attended the Boys' Convention at Lewiston, with a number of younger boys of the Congregational church.

George W. Putnam, ex-'16, was a recent visitor at the A. T. O. house.

Ivan N. Waldron, '17, attended the four-cornered meet between Deering High, Portland High, Brunswick High, and Westbrook Seminary, at Portland, Saturday.

Lewis Green of Bangor Theological Seminary was a visitor of Harold S. Campbell, '15, last Monday.

Raymond Colbath, of Ashland, visited friends at the A. T. O. house, last week.

The preliminaries for the Purinton Temperance prizes will take place in the chapel, Saturday, March 7.

The preliminaries for the Peace Prize Contest are scheduled for Wednesday, February 25.

The preliminary speaking for the Hamlin Prize Speaking Contest occur for the men's division, this afternoon and next Wednesday afternoon.

Reading 4 (Women's division) is to be given the second semester as a continuation of Reading 2. Heretofore Hygiene has been given, but this year Reading is to take its place.

The musical clubs gave a concert at Richmond, last Wednesday night. They expect to be in Bangor, March 5. The date of the Waterville concert has not been definitely fixed.

WOMEN'S DIVISION.

IDELLA KATHRINE FARNUM, Editor.
MARION EDITH DODGE, Business Manager.

Ethel Merriam, '14, spent Sunday at her home in Skowhegan.

Hazel Ross, '15, went home Sunday on account of sickness.

May H. Sargent, '15, is at her home in Buxton, Maine, for two weeks.

Emily L. Hanson, '14, is attending classes again, after two weeks illness.

The Rev. Elisha Sanderson of Sedgwick,

Me., visited his daughter, Abbie Sanderson, '14, at Mary Low Hall this week.

Marion Wyman, '16, spent several days at her home in Damariscotta.

Florence J. Cole, '14, will teach French 8, divisions a and b, and French 12, during the illness of Prof. Hedman.

Aldine Gilman, '15, is entertaining her aunt, Mrs. Ernest Ham, this week.

Vivian Ellsworth, '15, has been absent from classes for several days because of an attack of the mumps.

Miss Helena Boothby of Clinton, Me., a student in Farmington Normal School, recently visited Winifred Shaw, '17.

Vivian Skinner, '16, entertained her father at Foss Hall, Monday.

The meetings this week, led by Mr. Herick, have been attended by nearly all the girls, and have been most enjoyable and helpful.

The seniors are fortunate in being able to have an extension of their regular Bible-study course into this semester. The invitation includes all seniors. The time is every other Sunday, beginning with February fifteenth, and the place of meeting is Mrs. Maxfield's home.

The girls had a jolly Valentine party Saturday evening. The tables were all moved back in the dining room, and the floor was waxed for the occasion. Dancing was enjoyed by many, and ice cream was served during the evening.

Marjorie Scribner, '14, was at Skowhegan, Tuesday evening, to sing at the rededication services of the Bethany Baptist church, of which the Rev. George Merriam is pastor.

The Mission-study classes are beginning their courses this week. The seniors and juniors are studying "The Renaissance in India," the leader being Rev. Charles F. Robinson. The sophomores take "The Challenge of the City," the leader being Dean Carll. The freshmen have two classes; the foreign division takes up "China's New Day" under the leadership of Marion Wyman, '16, and the home division takes "The Church of the Open Country," with Idella K. Farnum, '14, as leader.

What is it? See next week's Echo.
