COLBY FINALLY TRIMS BATES.

With the score tied in the ninth, and with Bates across the pan once in the tenth, Simpson came to bat and lifted the ball to the woods for a home run. Then Lowney drew first on balls, went to second on Nutting's out, and clinched the game for Colby by a phenomenal sprint home on LaFleur's single. Thus ended our victory over Bates, at Gardiner, Saturday.

Capt. James kept Bates' hits well scattered and showed his wonderful power of control by tightening up like a clam, whenever any of the Lewistonians were on bases. Colby bunched her hits off Moore, who allowed an unusual number of long drives.

There were several sensational plays that kept the interest and excitement of the spectators at fever heat. Cauley made a double play unassisted and figured in the only other one of the day. "Ginger" Fraser, with two strikes called on him, drove the ball into the tall timber, in the sixth, for a home run. This hit is said to be the longest made on Quimby field since the days of the old Trolley League. Again in the tenth the spectators were given a thrill. "Swipes" Simpson was up to one of his old tricks and knocked out his home run. To Fraser and to "Swipes" belong much of the credit for the victory over the hitherto invincible team from Lewiston.

Both clubs presented a high grade of ball; Bates made one error and scored two of her runs in the fourth on two costly errors by Colby. With the exception of these slips, the spectators were treated to an exhibition of fast fielding and heavy slugging, the like of which has seldom been witnessed in the little hamlet down the river.

Simpson started the scoring in the first. He drew a pass, advanced on Lowney's sacrifice, Nutting's infield out, and LaFleur's three bagger. Bates scored three runs in the fourth on two hits and two errors. Marston lined to Cauley, who tagged Drake trying to get back to second.

In the sixth, Butler tripled, but James breezed the next three. With one man out, Nutting was hit. LaFleur went out, Moore to Cobb. Fraser, after the "ump" had called "Strike Two," sent the pellet to the whispering pines for a home run.

Bates scored again in the seventh, when McDonald singled and counted on Fuller's double. Colby, however, made the game go into the extras by scoring on Schuster's double over center. Dutch, although caught between second and third, reached the third sack on McDonald's wild throw, but was out at the plate in an endeavor to score. Then came the thrilling finish as related above. The score:

THOMPSON SHOWS SPEED AT PORTLAND.

Mark R. Thompson, '17, who took second place in the mile at the New England meet, recently, was awarded a handsome silver cup, as the winner of a five-mile road race at Portland, Saturday. He led a large field at the finish, his nearest competitor, a fast Indian from Carlisle, being forty yards behind. H. Goffing, '16, was entered in the 100-yard dash, but, though second in his first heat, he did not make the finals.

IVY DAY.

The Ivy exercises of the class of 1914 were held on the Foss Hall grounds Saturday afternoon, June sixth. Abbie G. Sanderson, Mistress of Ceremonies, led the processional march and gave the address of welcome. The ivy was planted upon the south side of the annex. After the class ode was sung, Ethel Merriam, president of the senior class, presented the trowel to Oddette Pollard, president of the junior class. The Ivy Ode was written by Florence Cole and Nannie Soule, and was especially good. Lois Osgood, '16, furnished music for these exercises.

The Spring Festival, "In Mother Nature's Garden," was arranged by a committee from the senior class: Emily Hanson (chairman), Madeline Clough, Grace Weston, and Lois Peacock. The time covered was a year and a day. The first episode was the prologue, consisting of dances by the four classes, this being a contest between classes for points in athletic honors. The following is the order of dances:

The Dance of the Spring Maidens..	1914
The Dance of the Summer Nymphs..	1915
The Dance of the Autumn Sprites....	1916
The Dance of the Snow Babies.....	1917

The judges of these dances were Mrs. R. W. Crowell, Mrs. T. B. Ashcraft and Dr. Anton Marquardt. They awarded the first prize to the Snow Babies, the second to the Autumn Sprites.

In the second episode, May Eve, the May Queen, Dorothy Tubbs, '14, was borne in by four charioteers, Gladys Paul, '14, Myrtle Everett, '15, Katharine Moses, '16, and Grace Farnum, '17. All the performances in costume followed in procession. The Queen was crowned and ascended the throne while all knelt.

Antoinette Ware, as the Spirit of Spring, gave a very graceful solo dance.

In the third episode, the Dawn of May Day, Mistress Mary, Grace Hamilton, '14, with her garden of flowers, made a pretty scene; and the Dance of the Milkmaids and Village Swains was enjoyed by all.

A May Masque on the Green brought out a long succession of quaint characters from Mother Goose and Alice in Wonderland. Mother Goose, Grace Weston, '14; Little Bo-Peep, Edna Peabody, '17; Jack Horner, Attalena Atkins, '17; Little Miss Muffet, Mrytle Aldrich, '17; Uncle Sam and Columbia, Abbie Sanderson, '14, and Katharine Singer, '16; Alice, in Wonderland, Alice Beckett, were some of the best known characters.

An umbrella dance by six girls was one of the pretty scenes. The dancers were overtaken by Showers, who were quickly chased away by Rainbow dressed in gauzes of the rainbow tints.

In May Day Twilight, Night, Lois Peacock, '14, brought drowsiness to all, and the Spirit of Sleep, Christine Whittemore, '14, hovered about in poppy colored robes until all were fast asleep.

MADISON HIGH WINS FINAL DEBATE.

By the close margin of one point, Madison High school won from Coburn Classical Institute in the final debate of the Goodwin Inter-scholastic Debating League. The contest was held, last evening, in the chapel, under the auspices of the Colby Debating Society. A large audience was present, and each school had with it a loyal band of supporters.

The question debated was: "Resolved, that the women of the United States should be granted equal suffrage with men." Madison maintained the affirmative and Coburn the negative. The speaking of both teams was of a very high order, each man propounding his arguments in a clear, concise and convincing manner, showing that much time and care had been spent in the gathering and preparation of material. Especially strong were the Madison men in the rebuttal.

The Goodwin Interscholastic Debate Allan R. Fraser, Willard B. Arnold, and Thomas Bryant, and they had been coached by Alexander G. Miller, '16. The Madison team consisted of Frank G. Moore, Charles E. Walton, and Harold B. Caldwell, and they had been coached by Harvey Doane Eaton, Jr., '16.

The Goodwin Interscholastic Debate

carries with it a prize amounting to $100, a gift in memory of Hon. Forrest Goodwin of the class of '87. Of this amount, $75 goes to Madison, and the remaining $25 to Coburn.

Exceptionally keen interest is being manifested throughout the college in tomorrow's athletic election. An unusually large number of candidates are up for the various offices, and it is safe to say that the vote will be the heaviest ever cast at such an election in the history of the college. Let every man cast his vote carefully and thoughtfully and thus help to elect the most capable man for each office, regardless of all fraternal or personal feeling and keeping in mind only the welfare of Colby.

COLBY LEADS MAINE COLLEGE LEAGUE IN BATTING.

By winning from Bowdoin yesterday, 12 to 10, Bates gained a clear title to the state intercollegiate championship. The final standing is:

	Won	Lost	P. C.
Bates	5	2	.714
Bowdoin	4	3	.571
Colby	2	4	.333
Maine	2	4	.333

In connection with the league season up to the Bates-Bowdoin game yesterday there are some interesting figures. Colby led by a wide margin in team batting and produced the heaviest individual hitters of the league. Nutting and LaFleur shared honors for the best batting average, each having .385. James had a record of .353 and Smith an even .300.

The team averages are:

BATTING.
	A. B.	B. H.	Ave.
Colby	211	52	.246
Bates	231	52	.225
Bowdoin	207	40	.193
Maine	197	33	.168

FIELDING.
	A. C.	E.	Ave.
Bates	267	20	.925
Maine	255	20	.922
Colby	264	21	.921
Bowdoin	279	24	.914

The ECHO'S choice of an all-Maine team, the selection being based upon the general usefulness of the players, is as follows: Abbott, Maine, catcher; James, Colby, and Driscoll, Maine, pitchers; Cobb, Bates, first base; Lawry, Maine, second base; LaFleur, Colby, third base; Cauley, Colby, shortstop; Phillips, Bowdoin, left field; Butler, Bates, centerfield; Nutting, Colby, right field.

BASEBALL REVIEW.

The lack of another pitcher of James's calibre put a crimp in Colby's showing in baseball, this year. The schedule was one of the hardest in many years, much too hard for the slender pitching staff. Nevertheless, considering the circumstances, Colby has certainly done herself proud on several occasions and has not once suffered an extremely bad drubbing.

Through the wonderful pitching of Captain James, Colby gloriously won the first game of the season from Dartmouth, but suffered defeat in the two succeeding games, on account of the over-worked Steves's failure to hold the opponents. The fourth game of the trip saw James again on the slab; but he broke in the fourth and was defeated by a narrow margin.

Some lucky hits by Bates and the inability of Colby to hit Stinson resulted in a 6 to 2 victory for the former in the first championship game. On the following Wednesday, however, Colby came back, and once more by the wonderful twirling of James, the opponents—University of Maine—were defeated 2 to 1. Fraser featured this contest with a beautiful pinch hit in the ninth, which sent Lowney across with the winning run.

Steves was defeated on the two following days by Harvard and Boston College, respectively; but, on Saturday, James led his warriors to a victory over Bowdoin and incidentally put his team in the running for the championship.

Shadows! Colby was defeated by Bates on May 20th and the bunting again faded into the distance. For some unaccountable reason, James was "not there" and Bates won, 9-4.

To cap this downfall, Maine and Bowdoin came back and each took a crack at the slipping Colby, so that, as a result, the Blue and Gray tied with Maine for the cellar position.

At last, however, Colby tardily got her gait again and passed Bates beautifully last Saturday, in a fast ten inning battle fairly alive with features.

Captain James has done great work for Colby all the season and has shown himself to be an ideal leader. His row has not been easy hoeing—a pitcher-captain's seldom is—but with the material at hand "Jimmie" has certainly done wonders. During the early part of the season, the catching was extremely weak and, at times, the fielding has not been of the best; nevertheless, James has never faltered, but has pitched gilt-edged ball throughout the season.

The game with the Pilgrim here, Saturday, and the Alumni game will complete a season that has been fairly successful, though disappointing in some respects. Only one man, Nutting, will be lost by graduation; therefore, with new material to enter in the fall, the prospects are bright for a strong team next season.

CAMPUS CHAT.

The engagement is announced of Miss Mary Helen Caswell, '04, to Professor B. E. Carter of the mathematics department. Miss Caswell is librarian at the local public library. The ECHO extends congratulations.

Frederick A. Shepherd, '11, candidate for Governor of Maine on the Prohibition ticket, has been appointed an international delegate of the I. O. G. T. to the Supreme convention of that order, to be held this summer at Christiania, Norway.

Captain C. G. Reed, of the 1913 baseball team, is playing right field for the Fitchburg club of the New England League. He is playing a fast game in the field and his batting has been one of the features of the league season.

Crawford A. Treat, ex-'15, is in town for a week, on business.

J. K. Pottle and R. H. Gillmore, '16, and H. W. Rand, '15, have left college to work, but will return for examinations.

Charles M. Carroll, '17, has left college to take up summer work.

The divisions of Physics 10 visited the Central Maine Power plant, Saturday and Tuesday afternoons.

At a meeting of the Junior class after chapel, Monday, Paul F. Fraser was elected class orator to take the place of Roger A. Putnam, resigned; Kent T. Royal, to take the place of Fraser, who resigned as marshall; and Thomas J. Crossman was elected awarder of prizes.

A meeting of the senior class was held after chapel, Monday, at which it was voted to hold Senior last chapel on Friday morning, instead of on Saturday morning as has been the custom heretofore.

At a recent meeting of the members of the men's division who "prepped" at Waterville High, plans for the organization of a club were discussed, and the following officers were elected: Simpson, '16, president; H. D. Eaton, Jr., '15, vice-president; and Baxter, '17, secretary and treasurer. The aim of this club is the same as that of the various similar associations of the college: to bring men to Colby.

Elmer H. Hussey, '13, sub-master of Oak Grove Seminary, spent the week end with friends at the Delta Upsilon house.

Frank Carpenter, '14, and Thomas Crossman, '15, attended a week-end house party given at Island Park, Augusta.

Among the guests from out of town on Ivy Day were: Miss Elisabeth Bass, Miss Ann Bass, John Bass, and Miss Susan Weston, '06, of Wilton. Helen Hanson returned with them to spend Sunday in Wilton.

Mr. Justice G. H. Hanson of Calais, and Mrs. Hanson, were present at the presentation of "The Princess" on Thursday evening.

The Junior Class, under the direction of Miss Exerine Flood, gave Tennyson's "The Princess" last Thursday evening.
