CITIZENS OF WATERVILLE HONOR CHAMPIONSHIP FOOTBALL TEAM WITH BANQUET.

The citizens of Waterville paid a signal compliment to Colby's Championship football team, last evening, by entertaining all the members of the squad at a banquet at the Elmwood Hotel. Over a hundred persons were present, including thirty or more football men, and they were greeted with a sumptuous ten course dinner. Enthusiasm and good feeling waxed warm, and everyone reported a "corking" good time. At each place was a neat souvenir program, inside of which was pasted an imposing picture of Captain Fraser in football togs. When the meal was over, Dr. Hill, the presiding officer, introduced Walter C. Emerson, '84, of Portland, as toastmaster. Mr. Emerson then took charge of the situation, and in an easy and jovial way, he called upon the following men for speeches: President Roberts, Mayor L. E. Hilliard, Hon. Fred Emery Beane, Fred W. Clair, Esq., John W. Coombs, Dr. Marquardt, and Captain Fraser.

President Roberts responded in his usual terse and impressive manner. He thanked the citizens profoundly for their continued interest and ready assistance, towards Colby, and ended by expressing his gratification because of the existing good feeling between the citizens and the college.

Mr. Beane, in his speech that followed, made special reference to the good work of the football team during the past season, and warmly congratulated the players.

Mr. Clair also congratulated the football team on its splendid record, and he concluded his remarks with the toast: "here's to the Colby football team—may they go out into the world, and be useful men!"

Jack Coombs, '06, the "Iron Man," was next announced, and he received a tremendous ovation. His speech was, for the most part, couched in a humorous vein, and it teemed with pithy stories of some of his baseball experiences. Towards the last he became more serious, and he expressed the hope that the football men would continue to fight as they have fought, playing a clean game throughout life, and realizing, as their final reward, success in full measure.

Dr. Marquardt spoke in his characteristically jocular manner, and his sparkling wit evoked much laughter from his hearers. He said he thought Colby was never better prepared to fit students for their life work, and that this fact was due in a large degree to the harmony and serenity which existed between students, faculty, alumni, and citizens of Waterville.

At this point, toastmaster Emerson read a telegram from Coach Fuller which congratulated the team, and manifested a heartfelt satisfaction in the way the team had cooperated with its coach.

Captain "Ginger" Fraser was the last speaker on the program. His speech was brief and full of ginger. In part, he said, "First of all, I want to thank you citizens of Waterville for this splendid tribute you have paid to us. I only regret that I have not four more years in which I might play football at Colby." Cheers were then given, the alma mater was sung, and the banquet broke up happily.

Fred Pottle, '17, was called home Sunday by the death of his father

ECHOES FROM THE FOOTBALL SEASON.

A communication is at hand from Edward G. Stacey, of Columbus, Ohio, who writes in part as follows: "It is a source of pride to know that old Colby has developed a team this year capable of playing an aggregation like Annapolis and winning such high praise. I wish Colby might show Ohio State University how to play football. They think they have some team there but the champions of Maine would trim them. Congratulations for Colby and to the members of her notable team, without forgetting any of those who helped to make it a success." He encloses the following newspaper clipping:

"The middies did not win so easily, for in facing Colby, the championship eleven of Maine, the Navy found an opponent worthy of its best brand of football. The Maine players were physically fit and they clearly outplayed and outmaneuvered the Annapolis eleven for the greater part of the game, using a remarkably open and fast attack. The middies, however, outlasted their opponents, and, although eleven points behind at the close of the first half, came back so strong and persistently that Colby crumbled before the rushes of the sailors in the closing periods and was defeated, 31 to 21, in a game which was generally credited with being the fastest and most brilliantly played at the naval academy in years.—Ohio State Journal.

"Colby presented one of the fastest teams that has played in Annapolis for many a day, and their attack was so varied as to puzzle the middies on many occasions. Physical endurance was the deciding factor in the game, for Annapolis was completely outplayed and outclassed at all angles in the first half of the game." —Washington Star.

Cochems, the U. of M. coach, is credited with the statement that "Maine wouldn't put out a team in the next four hundred years that could defeat the present champions."

Captain Fraser and Pendergast have been chosen by "Touchdown," in the Boston Journal, as members of the All-Eastern second eleven.

STANWOOD ELECTED FOOTBALL CAPTAIN.

Irving Ross Stanwood of Needham, Mass., has been elected captain of football for the season of 1915. He has been one of the team's most aggressive players for the last three seasons. During his first year he played largely at end but during the last two seasons has proved a tower of strength at center in which position he has merited the almost unanimous choice of the critics for the All-Maine team. His only rival for this honor is Baker of Maine. Stanwood is a strong, clean player and his inspiring leadership should play a great part in bringing another championship to Colby in 1915.

A. A. AMENDMENT ACCEPTED.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association after chapel this morning the constitutional amendment, recently proposed by the athletic council, was accepted. The Section of Article VI, regarding the election of Managers, now reads as follows: "The managers shall be elected at the first regular meeting of the association after the close of their season; and two assistant managers shall also be elected at this time. Assistant track managers shall be elected from the sophomore class. The council shall propose the names of all candidates and post their names at least one week from the time of the meeting of the association."

The trials for the position of reader for the Musical Clubs are to be held at the chapel on Friday afternoon, December eleven.

COLBY FINISHES SEVENTH IN NATIONAL MEET.

The Colby cross-country team finished a good seventh in the National meet held at New Haven the morning before the Harvard-Yale game. The feature of the race was the running of Wenz who finished third being beaten by a scant 20-yard margin by Potter of Cornell and Morrison of Princeton. The winner was forced to establish a new record for the course. The team finished in the following order: Wenz, Webster, O'Brien, Weg, M. Thompson. At the last minute it was found that, by a new ruling of the cross-country committee, freshmen are ruled out of competition; Levine, consequently, could not start.

This was the first year Colby has been represented in this National meet and the showing of the team as a whole, and of Wenz, in particular, is sure to add to Colby's prestige among the larger colleges. The teams entered, in the order of finish, were: Cornell, Harvard, Yale, M. I. T., Penn., Princeton, Colby, Dartmouth, Brown, Columbia and the college of the City of New York.

BANQUET OF DELTA KAPPA EPSILON.

Initiation exercises were held at the chapter house and were enjoyed by the large body of alumni who, as usual, came to see the new members of their fraternity and to live again for an evening with their brothers in the active chapter. After the exercises of the initiation were completed all adjourned to the Elmwood Hotel where a splendid banquet was awaiting them.

We've noticed few signs of progress as yet toward the revival of the Bowling League.

Every man in college thinks he could produce a better ECHO than he who now tries to edit it.

What can have become of our student council? The organization has proved itself very useful, the past two years, in adjusting any difficulties between students and faculty. As a representative committee of the student body, it is a great success. We hope soon to see it resurrected and reorganized and ready for any emergency.

A recent alumnus of the State University was visiting the campus of his Alma Mater, at Orono, about a month ago and afterward said he couldn't see much change in the place. Naturally not; for there was precious little change there. Financially speaking, it was a rather disastrous trip the Orono boys made to Waterville. Maine "Campus" please copy.

The editor of the ECHO has recently been accused, and possibly quite justifiably, of running the paper too much to athletic—especially football—news. To be sure, the greater part of the space has been given over to the sporting news of the college. We feel that, when we have a chance to crow over our athletic success we should make the most of it. This fall we had a team to be proud of—everyone has been interested in it and talking about it. The team's success has been the all-absorbing topic of conversation on everybody's tongue. Studies, debates, lectures, etc., have had to take a back seat temporarily in our consideration. The winning of the football championship means much to Colby. Why shouldn't we crow?

PROF. CROWELL'S "BRIGITTA."

Among the more recent text books in use in schools and colleges is a work of German Literature, belonging to the Oxford German Series, the books of which are edited by American scholars. The little gem of literature called the "Brigitta," by Stifter, has been prepared by no other than our own assistant professor of German, Robert Warner Crowell, A. M., It is a beautiful little story in the German text—a romance, centering around the Hungarian steppes, the leading characters of which are the Major and Brigitta, herself. The book is sure to find its place among the best text books of the times.

DEBATING SOCIETY.

The class in Debating and Public Speaking has been divided into ten teams,—chosen by Professor Libby for class debate. Briefs on both sides of each question are due tomorrow, and it is understood that the debates are to begin immediately. The questions are all of personal or local interest; so some lively contests may be expected. Negotiations are already pending for debates with teams from one or two other nearby colleges.

CAMPUS CHAT.

The members of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, who remained in town over the Thanksgiving recess, gave a most delightful whist party on Friday evening at their chapter house.

Frank A. James, '15, spent the Thanksgiving recess visiting friends in Bangor.

Mr. Shaw, the Eastern secretary of the National Prohibition Association, was a visitor about college during the week before Thanksgiving and gave a brief address at chapel one morning.

Lattin, '18, rendered a violin solo at Chapel yesterday morning.

Woodford Rand, '16, and Ross Stanwood, '16, spent the recess at Robert Hussey's home in North Berwick.

Rev. Charles F. Robinson, pastor of the Congregational church, was the leader of the Y. M. C. A. meeting last evening.

The A. T. O.'s held a very pleasant Whist Party at their chapter house on Friday evening.

Harold Campbell, '15, preached at Thomaston, Sunday.

C. A. Treat, '16, and Roy Gillmore, '15, spent Thanksgiving in Lewiston.

Outlines of the two-thousand-word articles in Economics I on the subject, "Economic Conditions in My Home Community" are due tomorrow morning.

The Zeta Psi Fraternity will hold its annual initiation Friday night.

How It Used To Be

In the early day of railroading, there was a card in the depot at Waterville which read as follows: "The Locomotive will leave every morning at 10 o'clock, provided the weather is fair."

There used to be just as much uncertainty about ready-made clothing. If all the conditions were right, it fitted fairly well.

Nowadays
