COLBY WINS MAINE COLLEGE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP.

SIX VICTORIES AND ONLY TWO DEFEATS THE RECORD OF THE SEASON.

Although the dopesters, at the opening of the season, were unable to see how any other team than Bates could win the Maine college championship in baseball, yet Coach Ben Houser's Blue and Gray nine came through with six victories out of eight battles and took the pennant.

This great triumph has cemented more closely the bond of loyalty between the students and has stirred the hearts of alumni far and near. Jack Coombs, the National League pitcher, captain of the Colby championship team of 1906, sent the following telegram of congratulations:

"Pittsburg, Pa., June 6.

Extend heartiest congratulations to the Colby team and Houser; felt all the spring that another championship would be ours.

JOHN COOMBS."

PITCHERS' BATTLE SATURDAY.

The baseball team vindicated the fondest hopes of its loyal supporters, Saturday at, Orono, by defeating University of Maine, 4 to 2, in one of the hardest games of the season. Incidentally, this game gave Colby the championship, beyond the shadow of a doubt.

A team that gets four runs off "Mike" Driscoll, when he is going right, must show some real baseball; and this is just what Colby did, Saturday. Although able to nick the wily "Mike" for only two hits, the Blue and Gray showed wonderful team-work, and, taking advantage of every Maine misplay, hung up a total of four big runs,—a truly remarkable score, considering the effectiveness of the mighty Driscoll.

"Jimmie" James, on the other hand, pitched with his head as well as his arm. He refused to exert himself, except when men were on bases and there was danger of runs, in which case, every time, the pride of Colby would show his real class, and, putting all his energy behind the ball, would send his opponents down in one-two-three order. Although this method did not give "Jimmie" as good a summary as Driscoll's, it, nevertheless, got the results. James was found for five hits and four passes,—but only two runs.

Outside of the pitching, the feature of the contest was the terrific hitting of "Eddie" Cawley. The big second baseman was directly responsible for three of Colby's runs; and he got the only two hits made off Driscoll, the second, a terrific home-run drive over the centerfield bleachers.

From the third inning, the game was an air-tight pitchers' battle. Colby could not touch Driscoll; while, although "Jimmie" was hit more frequently, he, nevertheless, kept a high fence around the home-plate. No less than three times were there men on second and third,—once with none out,—but each time James "put something on it," and Maine was helpless. A fast double play, Duffy to Deasy to LaFleur, killed the home team's most dangerous rally.

Only in the eighth was the line of zeros broken, and then came the redoubtable Cawley's feature home run. With two down, he picked out a low, fast one, and drove it far into the precincts of center-field.

One of the greatest single features of the game was Colby's celebrated cheering section. We don't ask how it got there, but it was there,—one hundred strong! and more! Why, Maine sounded like a grammar school beside the visiting contingent. Perhaps the cheering, together with cheer-leader Yeaton's horse-shoe, didn't have some effect on the outcome of the game, and yet we are pleased to think that both were prime factors in getting those four scores.

"JUD" MERRILL ELECTED TRACK CAPTAIN TODAY.

At a meeting of the "C" men, this afternoon, Irving W. Merrill, '16, otherwise known as "Jud", was elected to captain the Colby track team next year. Merrill has made some good records in the quarter-mile race in the past three years, having taken first place in this event at the Maine meet this spring. He is a member of Maine Alpha Chapter of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and is popular in college circles.

SOPHOMORE DECLAMATIONS.

The annual Sophomore Prize Declamation was held in the chapel, Monday evening. The speaking was of high order and deserved a much larger attendance. The judges awarded the first prizes to Miss Flora Norton and C. B. Flanders, and the second prizes to Miss Marian White and F. A. Pottle. The other speakers were: Misses Robinson, Atkins, Porter and Messrs. Young, Watson and LaBelle. All were from the class of 1917.

FLANDERS WINS STATE TEMPERANCE CONTEST.

The second annual Prize Temperance Oration contest was held Thursday evening, in Chemical Hall. The speakers were Flanders, '17, LaBelle, '17, and Pottle, '17. The prizes were awarded as follows: First, $12.00, to Flanders, '17; second, $8.00, to LaBelle, '17; and honorable mention to Pottle, '17. The two winners represented Colby at the State contest held at Bates College on the following evening.

At the State contest Flanders, Colby, '17, won first prize and Abbott of Bates took second. Considerable distinction is attached to the first place in this contest, since it entitles Flanders, the winner, to represent Colby at the National Temperance contest to be held at Atlantic City, July 8.

CELEBRATION TOMORROW NIGHT.

In order properly to celebrate Colby's victory in the Maine intercollegiate baseball series, a grand night-shirt parade, a beautiful display of fireworks, a big bonfire, and much speech-making will be in order tomorrow night at 7.30. The baseball team has won the pennant, and it is the duty of every loyal Colby man to be on hand at the appointed hour, on the morrow, to do his part in making this celebration the best that the Blue and Gray has ever seen.

HERE'S ONE FOR YOU.

I'm tired of peas and cold lamb;
I'm tired of tomatoes
And hard-baked potatoes,—
So it's down to the Chop House for mine!
I'm tired of prunes and fish hash;
I'm tired of cold succotash;
I'm tired of "wiggles" (gelatine)
Without any jiggle,—
So it's down to the Chop House for mine!

GRAND CELEBRATION—TOMORROW NIGHT.

Congratulations to the new captain-elect of the track team.

The new editorial board and the newly chosen managers go into office with this issue. Their success in the coming year, requires your coöperation.

This issue closes the twenty-eighth volume of the ECHO. The past year has brought many problems before both the manager and the editor, but the board has exerted its best efforts in solving them. In order to insure a live and breezy weekly paper, the editorial staff and the management need the support of the entire student body. Whether this support has been given or not is for the individual student to decide. It is a question which he alone can answer.

The glorious record made by the baseball team this spring deserves unanimous commendation. After being in the "also ran" list for several years, old Colby has finally come to the front and taken the Maine college baseball championship pennant. Six victories and only two defeats spell the big word. We wish to congratulate Coach Houser and the members of his team on the fine success of the season. This triumph recalls Colby's football championship and our other victories, both in debating and speaking, during 1914-15.

As the curtain slowly falls upon the final act of the collegiate year 1914-15, we all have a tendency to look back upon the weeks that have passed and to wonder if we have taken full advantage of the opportunities offered by Colby. This retrospection creates a serious feeling, especially in the habitual "low hanger," for the closing days are to present to him the climax of the year. He has let things go by without worrying about them; he has heard assignments, but has not bothered himself about them,—thus is summed up the career of this unfortunate individual. "But, what will father say?" he asks himself, as he deliberates upon the question of failure. The question is a serious one, and he knows it. Manifestly, during the remaining days before the final examinations, the "low hanger" would do well to get busy.

EPICUREANS HOLD BANQUET.

The Epicureans, the senior honorary society of the men's division, held its annual banquet, Saturday evening, at the Chop House. Several speeches were made made by the older members. A smoke talk followed the "feed."

The initiates, from the class of 1916, were: Shirley G. Blackinton, from Phi Delta Theta; Arthur F. Bickford, from Zeta Psi; Cyril M. Joly, from Delta Upsilon; Donald E. Putnam, from Delta Kappa Epsilon; Byron H. Smith, from Alpha Tau Omega.

FOOTBALL NOTICE.

Football candidates will report for practice at the gymnasium, at 3 P. M., Monday, September 13. In picking the team, those men who work the hardest will receive first consideration.

It is advisable for candidates not to "train" during the summer. It has been found in most cases that men can maintain better physical condition during the season by reporting with surplus weight and gradually training it off than by reporting at the start in a hardened condition. By this I do not mean that one should try to put on fat, but rather the taking of moderate exercise and avoidance of hard weight reducing work.

(Signed) COACH FULLER.
