COLBY SPRINGS SURPRISE

BOWDOIN IS SWAMPED 14 TO 2 IN A ONE-SIDED BATTING FEST, SATURDAY.

Colby swamped Bowdoin on the latter's grounds, Saturday, in the first clash of the season between the two colleges, by the score of 14-2. The game was rather loosely played, the large score being due to heavy hitting coupled with several wild pitches, which twice came at critical times. Colby's playing was featured by double plays and several purloined bases, while the whole infield seemed to have tightened considerably. "Eddie" Cawley did the twirling, allowing only six hits and striking out seven men.

White started the game for Bowdoin but proved ineffective and was replaced in the third by Butterfield, who appeared to have a bad attack of wildness. Donnell featured for Bowdoin, securing two doubles in three times up, but injured a finger in the sixth inning and was forced to retire.

"Linc" Heyes, the latest addition to the infield, showed class at short and proved his right to the berth. Ashworth played his usual heady game behind the bat. "Swipes" Simpson made his initial appearance of the season, and his record of two hits and three put outs shows that the old form still lingers.

In the sixth, Nye swung at a wild one with men on first and second, and was called safe at first in spite of the rule, the two base runners coming home. This was undoubtedly a mistake of the umpire, but even without it, the score against "Smiling Ben's" new charges would have been quite decisive.

PLENTY OF THRILLS IN DUAL MEET WITH WORCESTER.

In an interesting dual track meet, every point in which was closely contested, Worcester Tech. beat Colby by the score of 68-58 on Alumni field, Saturday. Colby was at her best in the hundred, the mile, and the weight events, while Worcester shone in the quarter, the two-mile, the hurdles, and the high jump.

In the two-mile, Garland of Worcester saved his strength and sprinted in the last lap, easily winning in 10 min. 8 1-5 sec. In the mile, Paul Thompson broke the tape just ahead of his brother, thereby winning his "C."

Ricker, the Worcester captain, beat out "Jud" Merrill in the quarter-mile. Merrill was penalized three yards at the start, but pushed the Worcester men hard, finishing a close third. Ricker's time was 50 3-5 seconds, a record for this track.

Ricker was also the individual point winner, piling up 13 counters to his credit. "Cy" Howes was Colby's high man with 11 points.

WEATHER MAN STOPS TIE GAME.

With the score five all, in the eighth inning a heavy shower put a stop to the Colby-Maine championship game, on Alumni field, last Wednesday afternoon. The game was apparently all Colby's until the fifth, when several wild throws gave Maine her chance to score. The game was characterized by ragged work of the infield and wonderful life saving catches by the outfielders. Schuster especially delighted the fans by capturing a long high foul, and again in the eighth by shutting off a run with a perfect throw to Ashworth from left field.

Stewart in the box for Maine lasted just four innings, being replaced by the redoubtable "Mike" Driscoll, who was hit quite as freely as his predecessor. Matthews for Colby, though rather free with passes, pitched a fine game and twice, with the bases full, fanned his men in apple pie order. "Joe" Deasy was there with the big stick, and did a few little things like smashing a windshield and making a home run.

ADVANCED SPEAKERS PRESENT INTENSELY INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM.

On Monday evening the members of the class in advanced public speaking gave addresses on phases of the European War. The speaking was of the highest order, being instructive in every way and intensely interesting. It is no exaggeration to say that no speaking event of the year is more worthy of praise than this exhibition by the members of the advanced public speaking course. This year proved no exception; indeed, if anything, the parts showed improvement over those of past years. For this extraordinarily fine work, the college is indebted to Professor Libby, the instructor in public speaking.

As presiding officer, T. F. Joyce, '17, introduced E. D. Record, '17, as the first speaker on the program. Mr. Record spoke on "Unconquerable Russia," giving some most interesting facts on Russian tradition, customs, and people, and showing clearly why Russia is unconquerable. Mr. Record said, "It is Russian numbers and resoluteness that will ultimately swing the balance and give victory to the Allies."

The second speaker was A. R. Rogers, '17. Mr. Rogers' subject was "France: Her People and Policy in the Present War." Mr. Rogers spoke with earnestness, presenting his theme in an exceptionally lucid and magnetic manner. He told how France was united into a greater and nobler republic; how, in time of need, she had come to the front as had no other nation in the war, the result being the saving of her national honor and integrity, as well as the safety of other nations.

W. E. Burton, '16, followed with "Lessons for America from the War." His speech was especially interesting because of the fact that he pointed out where the European system had failed. Militarism must be abandoned. The Europeans must be educated to the Americanism of this continent.

"The Martyred Nation" by N. W. Lindsay, '16, presented Belgium's condition in a most sympathetic and conclusive manner. Mr. Lindsay's descriptions were particularly impressive, especially those of Louvain and Rheims. He said that the martyrdom of Belgium was caused by the greatest national crime of the ages. Mr. Lindsay was deliberate and impressive in his speaking.

M. R. Thompson, '17, spoke on "The Supremacy of England." He pointed out the fact that the number of people living under the English flag represent one-fifth of the population of the earth. He ascribed England's success and Germany's fear of England to the fact that England has an immense wealth of resources. These, it would be impossible for the Great War entirely to waste. Mr. Thompson's exposition was of a particularly high order.

Ralph Kolseth, '16, spoke on "The Efficiency of Germany," giving as the cause of Germany's great efficiency the schooling of her children. It was this Prussian efficiency which had led to the wonderful armament of the German Empire of today. Mr. Kolseth was clear in his presentation and concise in his expository discourse.

The last speaker was W. C. Lincoln, '16, who spoke on "The Goal of the Ages." Mr. Lincoln's theme was on World Peace and was a clearly thought out argument. He ascribed the present conditions to narrow, political influence, and recommended a World Court and a police system as the only way to World Peace.

Each speaker was thoroughly prepared, and the event was carried through in every way successfully.

POLITICAL QUESTIONS ABLY DISCUSSED BY HON. T. F. CALLAHAN.

Hon. Timothy F. Callahan of Lewiston, former state auditor and now Republican candidate for the nomination for governor, addressed the Colby Republican Club in the chapel, last night. A relatively small crowd was on hand to greet the speaker, but those who did attend thoroughly enjoyed his able discussion of some of the leading political questions now before the state and nation.

He first made clear the responsibility of each individual in political affairs, saying that a man should keep on casting his vote for good government whether or not he succeeds in getting what he wants. Continuing, he took up the subject of the tariff, and showed how the cost of living has maintained its advance in spite of the removal of import duties. He said that incoming goods were no cheaper because the duty was now levied "on the other side," with consequent loss of revenue to us, partly made up by the income tax and the special war tax.

Mr. Callahan touched upon woman suffrage, stating that he believed it should be submitted to the people in each state. Before closing, he answered several questions from his audience, but refused to criticize the present governor or the other aspirants to the position.

JUNIOR CLASS-DAY SPEAKERS ARE CHOSEN.

At an election of the junior class in the chapel, last Wednesday, the list of men nominated for the elective class parts at the junior class-day exercises during commencement was voted upon. The following men were chosen: Class orator, A. Raymond Rogers; historian, Winthrop L. Webb; presentation of gifts, Paul G. Whittemore; chaplain, E. Donald Record; marshal, Mark R. Thompson.

MAINE INTERCOLLEGIATE TRACK MEET AT BRUNSWICK, SATURDAY, MAY 13.

E. Donald Record, '17, has been appointed Managing Editor of THE ECHO, and will direct its publication for the remainder of the year.

All freshmen and sophomores who wish to try out for the editorial staff of THE ECHO should hand their names to the editor, at once. It is desired that a large number of men report so that a board may be chosen which shall be a credit to Colby. Fair ability in writing and interest in the work are the requirements.

It has been remarked upon the campus that THE ECHO is not open to free expression of student opinion. This statement is not just. The paper was never more fully open to such opinion than it is now. The fact is, the editors urge that the students pass in their contributions. And this is as it should be. Occasionally a long contribution has to be curtailed on account of limited space; also, sometimes the subject seems inappropriate. Of course THE ECHO, no more than the Bowdoin Orient, nor the Harvard Crimson, is not a clearing-house for slams, grouches, offensive epithets, etc. It is the regular college publication, and is designed to present a complete record of college affairs and to reflect the college spirit not only for the students, but also for the benefit of the alumni and Colby's friends in the outside world. Compare THE ECHO of the past year with that of several years ago and observe its increase both in news and in amounts of contributed material. Don't take an hallucination for granted,—try us! Pass in your contributions! E. D. R.

COLLEGE SPIRIT.

The only regrettable feature of the speaking exhibition, last Monday night, was lack of college spirit as shown by the small number present. The speaking was of the highest order; the topics were of present and vital concern; and yet, out of this college of four hundred and forty members, there were not thirty at this college function. Out of a faculty of thirty members, there was but one present, and he was the instructor in public speaking. Is it any wonder that there is much agitation these days concerning the advisability of a college career?

Again, we go out upon the football or the baseball field and cheer until we can shout no more, and call this college spirit. But is it such? The man who supports his athletic teams and refuses to support the more important phases of his college life is certainly not to be classed among the select few who possess real college spirit. It is just as necessary that a man keep his honor and his dignity when he leaves a college on a vacation or for good as it is for him to cheer for the teams and to keep up his daily mark. He reflects his college in everything that he does. If he is careful in his actions, scrupulous in his words, and sincere in his purposes, he is representing the college in the right way. The harder he tries to keep his name free from taint for the sake of his alma mater, the more college spirit he has. N. D. L., '18.

HERSEY HOUSE FURNISHES MID-NIGHT SPECTACLE.

Fortunates who had already sought sweet repose were rudely aroused at about twelve o'clock, Thursday night, by the ghoulish sound of "411." The brilliant sight of the old "Hersey House" in flames caused bath-ropes and slippers to be put into hasty use, and a general stampede to the athletic field to ensue. The fire was mostly on the second floor, and the flames were shooting through the roof.

Presently, Waterville's efficient fire department arrived and soon two streams of water, pointed where they would do the most good, bid fair to cause a sudden cessation of the spectacle. As the flames died down, the disappointed pajama brigade began to tender advice: "Save the grandstand," "Port your helm," "Let 'er burn." The gallant fire-fighters retaliated from their point of 'vantage rather more effectively than usual, causing a hasty retreat of the scoffers. A rush to the hydrant was forestalled by the wise fire-laddies.

Just what will be done with the remains of the old house is not known. Last year, it was occupied by Professor Trefethen, but this year it has been simply a nest for Gentlemen of the Road. By the provisions of its gift, it cannot be torn down.

Excellent support gave Purvere, the Bates freshman phenom, a 2 to 1 victory over Maine, Saturday. This upsets the dope-pots somewhat, and seems to indicate an even livelier race among the four Maine colleges than was predicted.

Harold E. Breakwood, ex-'18, has left college. He went to his home in Whitefield, N. H., Monday.

AN APPRECIATION.

Speaking for the Colby Athletic Association, I wish to take this opportunity sincerely to thank the fraternities for the most excellent entertainment which they extended to the members of the Worcester Polytechnic Track Team.

Captain Ricker wished me to extend his appreciation for the royal welcome and good time given his team while here, also for the very close meet which it was their privilege to win.

TWENTY-FOUR MEN OUT FOR TENNIS.

With twenty-four men listed for the local tournament, prospects are bright for the coming season. Several freshmen are showing up especially well, and with Captain Fieldbrave, '16, Frank Foster, '16, and Donald Flood, '17, of last year's teams, there is no lack of material for a fast combination to represent Colby in the state meet. Captain Fieldbrave, who has been ill for two weeks, expects to get into game, shortly.

One of the men hauling wood on the campus created a sensation, Saturday, by sustaining a fall from his wagon. Dr. Cragin patched him up and took him home.

Chi Gamma Theta held its annual banquet and dance, Friday evening, May 5, at the Ware Parlors. At 6 o'clock, a delicious four course dinner was served with the assistance of Harriet Eaton, Hilda Bradbury, and Lillian Dyer of the freshman class. After dinner, toasts and impromptus were called for by Isabel Snodgrass, who acted as toastmistress. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and singing Chi Gam songs. Lots of "pep" and the good old Chi Gam spirit made the event a very enjoyable affair.

On Monday afternoon, at Foss Hall, Mrs. White entertained a number of her friends. A program of music was given on the Victrola. Her comments on the compositions helped to an understanding and appreciation of the music. The victrola was recently given to Mrs. White for her use in the music course, and she took this opportunity to thank the donors who are friends of the college and lovers of good music.

At the last meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Advisory Board, Mrs. E. K. Maxfield who left last week for Rochester, N. Y., where she is to make her home for the coming year, was presented with a silver
