

Colby

Colby Magazine

Volume 89
Issue 1 Winter 2000

Article 2

January 2000

Front Matter

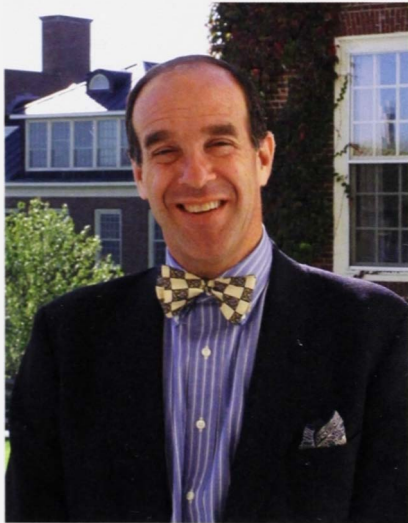

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.colby.edu/colbymagazine>

Recommended Citation

(2000) "Front Matter," Colby Magazine: Vol. 89 : Iss. 1 , Article 2.
Available at: <https://digitalcommons.colby.edu/colbymagazine/vol89/iss1/2>

This Contents is brought to you for free and open access by the College Archives: Colbiana Collection at Digital Commons @ Colby. It has been accepted for inclusion in Colby Magazine by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ Colby. For more information, please contact mfkelly@colby.edu.

Making Connections

L. Sandy Maisel
William R. Kenan Jr.
Professor of Government

Working with research assistants has been one of the best parts of Colby for me. I love having them present our work or seeing their names in professional journals as co-authors. But what is even better is that the two-way street stays open after they graduate. They call me for advice and to ask how “our” research is going. And, just as often, I—or one of my current research assistants—will call them to get advice on a project.

The ties of Colby’s unique faculty-student mentoring relationship bind us all together over long periods of time. It’s what makes this a great place to work—and to learn.

The bonds between faculty and students and alumni and Colby have always been strong.

Your gift helps strengthen these special relationships.
Give to the Colby Alumni Fund.

Call 1-800-311-3678 or visit Colby’s secure Web site at www.colby.edu/afgift/to charge your gift to your MasterCard, VISA or American Express card.