HEDMAN MEMORIAL SONG CONTEST.

For the third time the Class of 1895 announces that prizes aggregating $50.00 will be given during the current year for Colby songs. During the past two years enough Colby songs have been obtained to form a nucleus around which to build a Colby song book, and all that is now needed is several more distinctly Colby songs of unusual merit and value. Through the persistent efforts of the Class of 1895, it now seems that there are real possibilities of publishing a Colby song book before the end of this college year, as practically all arrangements have been made to carry this out, except it is desired to hold it open long enough to obtain the songs that are submitted for this year's "Hedman Memorial Song Contest." With this idea in mind, not as much time will be allowed for the preparation of these songs and all must be submitted by March 31st, 1917.

In announcing the gift of these prizes, Archer Jordan, '95, vice-president of the Alumni Association, says, in speaking for his class:

"This year we would like to have this idea emphasized that, although we do not wish to discourage the production of original music, there are such a large number of Colby men and women who are able to write clever verse that we want for one year to give them a chance at the prizes with no handicaps. Therefore, only the merits of the complete songs will be considered in awarding the prizes, regardless of whether the music is original or not."

It is evident that the desire of the Class of 1895 is this year to obtain the words for a Colby song that can be set to an old and familiar tune, and it would seem that there should be no difficulty in securing such as there are many graduates and undergraduates of Colby who have produced verse of great merit and any should consider it an opportunity to serve the college, as, if a stirring college song can be obtained, it will live through the many years to come.

This contest is open to all, whether connected in any way with Colby or not; what is desired is to obtain results, and all who are in any way interested in this proposition are appealed to to immediately prepare something to be submitted in this contest. As Vice-President Jordan says, "The money value of the prizes is small but the honor to the one who gives us the real Colby song at last will be very great through all the years."

Remember that this contest closes March 31st, 1917, and manuscript should be sent to Charles P. Chipman, Librarian.

MRS. FRANKLIN TO COACH DRAMATIC CLUB.

The Dramatic Club, with a few changes in cast, has resumed rehearsals and expects to be ready to present the play, "Higbee of Harvard," immediately after midyear.

The club has been fortunate in securing as coach, Mrs. G. Bruce Franklin, who is well known throughout the college, especially since the concert on December eighteenth. Mrs. Franklin has specialized in dramatization and is well qualified for the position. After graduation from Ohio Wesleyan, she received her M. A. degree at the University of Chicago and was for eight years assistant professor of oratory and dramatization under Professors Fulton and Trueblood at Ohio Wesleyan. She also held a similar position at Harvard and Radcliff for one year under Professor Winter. Her experience and ability make her far more capable than the ordinary coach; and, therefore, great things are to be expected from the dramatic club, this year.

Two vacancies which occurred in the cast have been filled. G. F. Hendricks, who was to play the title role of Lorin Higbee was obliged to drop out of the club, and his place is being filled by A. C. Little, '17. The part of Senator Withrow, which was left vacant when V. G. Smith, ex-'18, left college to accept a teaching position, has been given to F. D. Blanchard, '19. H. A. Smith, '19, is acting as understudy.

ALUMNUS WINS HONORS IN DEBATE.

In a debate between the University of North Carolina and George Washington University, Harry Kidder, '11, was one of the two debaters representing the winning team of the latter university. Mr. Kidder's side had the affirmative of a proposition which dealt with compulsory arbitration of labor disputes on interstate railroads.

While in Colby, Mr. Kidder won many prizes in public speaking, and was a member of the collegiate debating team. His many friends congratulate him on his success.

MANY VETERAN DEBATERS AVAILABLE.

With the trials for the Colby-Bates-Maine debate to occur next Saturday afternoon, at Chemical Hall, naturally the prospective defenders of Colby's honor on the platform are massing their material. The question reads as follows, "Resolved: That the Federal Government shall provide for the Compulsory Arbitration of all Labor Privileges." Six debaters and two alternates will be chosen. Such a question is of interest to all live citizens, especially college men.

There are excellent possibilities for strong teams, this year, since five veteran intercollegiate debaters will be in the tryouts: Fred A. Pottle, '17, Carroll B. Flanders, '17, Norman D. Lattin, '18, A. Raymond Rogers, '17, and Herbert L. Newman, '18. Other promising candidates are: J. F. Choate, '19, E. S. Tyler, '19, L. E. Young, '17, P. P. Barnes, '19, I. D. Love, '19, and C. A. Rollins, '17.

A victory in such a contest means as much as, if not more than, a state athletic championship; hence every man who competes in these trials is working for Colby.

STUDENTS MAY ATTEND CONFERENCE.

Special inducements are being offered Colby students to attend the Community Efficiency Conference at Augusta, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of this week. An opportunity to hear such men as Thomas Mott Osborne of New York, Dr. Alexander Johnson of Philadelphia, and Raymond Robbins, the great Chicago social worker, should certainly not be allowed to pass unheeded. Registration blanks may be obtained from A. A. Heald at the Savings Bank Building.

FIVE COLBY MEN IN LEGISLATURE.

The State legislature for the coming term has five Colby men in its ranks: Hon. Charles P. Barnes, '92, W. L. Bonney, '92, Charles E. Gurney, '98, Charles H. Wood, and William H. Rowe.

At the opening of the Legislature, W. L. Bonney was elected speaker of the House.

Wanted—A room for true gentlemen about thirty feet long and twenty feet broad.

CHICAGO ALUMNI SHOW REAL COLBY SPIRIT.

The annual dinner of the Chicago Colby Association, composed of some of Colby's most enthusiastic and energetic alumni, was held at the University Club in Chicago on Friday, December 15.

Prior to this big meeting, several informal gatherings had been held by the members of this club for the sole purpose of discussing the needs of the college and the special efforts now being made to meet those needs.

At the dinner, President Arthur J. Roberts, '90, submitted to the members of the club a full account of the progress made at the present time in the endowment campaign. Responding to this, nearly every member of the association was ready to make his pledge towards the $500,000 to be raised for increased endowment by 1920. Besides President Roberts, speakers of the evening were, Albion W. Small, '76, Shailer Mathews, '84, Dana W. Hall, '90, and Franklin W. Johnson, '91.

The officers elected to serve for the coming year were: President, Herbert S. Philbrick, '97; secretary-treasurer, Franklin W. Johnson, '91.

MURRAY PRIZE DEBATERS CHOSEN.

The Murray prize debate is to be held some time next month, although the exact date has not as yet been selected. The following men have been chosen to participate: P. P. Barnes, '19, E. S. Tyler, '19, H. H. Upton, '17, R. L. Sprague, '18, C. A. Rollins, '17, and I. D. Love, '19, with J. F. Choate, '19, and W. G. Harley, '19, as alternates. These men are to choose the question and divide their number into two teams.

In this debate, the winning team receives seventy-five, and the losing side twenty-five, dollars, the money in each case to be equally divided among the members of the respective teams. These prizes are the gift of George Edwin Murray, '79, of Lawrence, Mass. It is expected that he will be present, this year, personally to award the prizes.

DR. JOHN L. DEERING, '84.

Dr. John L. Dearing, '84, who, next to his classmate, Dr. Shailer Mathews, was the Colby graduate best known outside the country, died at Clifton Springs, N. Y., on Dec. 20, 1916. Dr. Dearing has spent his life as a missionary in Yokohama, Japan. He has been one of the greatest factors in the rapid advance of Christian work in Japan, and has also done much to promote a better understanding between the United States and Japan.

COLBY HAS THREE DELEGATES AT LEXINGTON.

At the National Prohibition Convention, at Lexington, Kentucky, December 28-31, Colby was represented by three delegates: Miss Helen Baldwin, '19, Charles M. Bailey, '19, and Herbert L. Newman, '18. This was a larger representation than that of any other college at so great a distance.

The trip to Lexington was exceedingly interesting and enjoyable. The companionship of college students was enjoyed both ways, side excursions were made to Niagara Falls and to Washington, D. C., and everything was done to make the trip pleasant.

The convention itself proved to be the best ever held by the Association. The speakers were masters in their fields, more delegates were present, and the inspiration of the recent successes for prohibition added a victorious note to the gathering and paved the way for constructive measures. Definite plans were inaugurated, and inspiring messages were given the delegates to carry to their home organizations. Not the least important feature of the convention was the privilege of association with such a body of students, many of whom were carrying the burden of the leading activities of their college.

It is expected that Colby, through her capable representatives, will derive much benefit and inspiration from this convention. A special meeting was to have been held last evening, but it was postponed in favor of the special services now being held at the Baptist church.

PHI DELTA THETA FEASTED AT THE ELMWOOD.

The members of the Maine Alpha chapters of Phi Delta Theta feasted and made merry at the Elmwood, Wednesday evening, December 13, on the occasion of the thirty-second annual initiation banquet of the fraternity. Doctor J. G. Towne, '05, served as toastmaster, and the speakers included: Mark R. Thompson, '17, Robert E. Wilkins, '20, Charles W. Atchley, '03, Nelson I. Mixer, '08, and Frederick A. Shepherd, '11. Besides the regular speeches, impromptu remarks by the initiates were features.

The initiates were: 1919—Austin W. Maddocks, Martin Weisman, Lincoln Heyes, John A. Stowell, Robert E. Sullivan.

1920—Walter W. Cross, Robert E. Wilkins, Elliott E. Buse, Lyman P. Morse, Guy E. Rouse, Merle F. Lowery.

MUSICAL CLUBS.

In the issue of the ECHO for December 13 was printed a schedule of six concerts for the Christmas trip of the musical clubs, as given out by the manager. Two days before the trip was to start it was called off, and the "Colby Concert Company" was hastily formed to play the single date at Houlton. To the outsider, something seems decidedly wrong. If the concerts were called off at the last minute, where were the contracts? If no one would go sponsor, would it have been too much of a risk to hire a hall and put on the concerts on the club's own initiative? After two years' absence, Colby's many friends in Aroostook would surely have received the clubs royally. The cancellation of the trip on such short notice caused much inconvenience and loss to several men who came from long distances to make the tour. Not only this, but the failure makes an unfortunate beginning to a very promising season. The clubs are as good as, if not better than usual, and the clubs of our sister colleges are apparently experiencing no financial difficulties. There is now a current rumor that the Colby Concert Company may supersede the musical club in some of its important trips. It is indeed a bad state of affairs, one that cannot be lightly overlooked by the student body. It hurts our confidence in an important college organization and it hurts the college.

A PROPOSED CHANGE.

The recent difficulty experienced by the musical clubs brings up a proposed change which seems well worthy of attention. It is plain even to the casual observer that the musical and dramatic clubs, the two really cultural organizations in the college, are both upon an insecure and ineffective basis. Neither even approaches its possibilities. The glee club prepares a number of songs of recognized merit, yet dallies over a whole season of four or five months for one or two out-of-town trips and a single Waterville performance. The songs could be heard a score of times with undiminished pleasure. The quartette and orchestra are rarely heard. The dramatic clubs of late years seem hardly more than existing.

A great deal of money is spent, first and last, for athletics in this college,—and wisely, too. We have no quarrel with athletics. It certainly holds an important place. Yet, is there not a tendency to put too much stress upon athletics at the expense of other equally important activities? Is there not a greater relative amount of enthusiasm expended in this direction than is consistent with a broad, well-rounded college life?

The change which the ECHO proposes is to place the musical and dramatic clubs upon as sound and effective a basis as the athletics of the college, to insure them equally good coaching, and to support them to the extent of a few hundred dollars, if necessary. Those students showing musical and dramatic talent have as much right to development as have those possessing athletic ability. Good musical and dramatic clubs, properly managed, would advertise the college as effectually as its athletic teams, and in an entirely different field. Difficulties, such as occurred with the dramatic club in 1912-13 and the musical club of this year, would be avoided. The intellectual and cultural side of the college would be improved. Colby would be raised to a higher plane.

This is not a pipe dream. It is easily possible of accomplishment. All that is needed is to break away from deadening precedent, to cooperate, and to awake to the call of progress. A small college with the right sort of spirit, like Colby, is just the place in which to start such a project. The initiative may well come from either the student body or the faculty. Will Colby support her cultural activities as generously as she does her athletics?

COLBY SONG BOOKS.

Instant enthusiasm will without doubt greet the plan of the Alumni Association to publish a Colby Song Book, this year. The need has long been felt. As this will be the last opportunity to have a song published in this book, everyone who writes verse at all should certainly enter this year's Hedman Prize Song Contest, as announced in another column of this issue.

TALENTED ARTISTS PLEASED LARGE AUDIENCE.

The concert, held under the auspices of the Colby Prohibition Association, at the Congregational church, Monday evening, December 18, was a success in every way. Because of the excellent program offered, a large number of persons, both from the college and the town were present.

The opening number, an overture by the college orchestra, won the interest and the appreciation of the audience. This was followed by a well rendered vocal solo by Miss Marjorie Smith. After two fine selections by the college trio, and a song by the Colby Glee Club, Winthrop Webb and Carl W. Robinson sang solos, the latter playing his own accompaniment on the guitar.

Feature numbers of the evening were violin solos by Norman D. Lattin, and readings by Mrs. G. Bruce Franklin. Mr. Lattin played Simonetti's "Madrigale" and Kreisler's "Schon Rosmarin," with exceptional skill and feeling. Mrs. Franklin pleased and surprised everyone by her remarkable interpretations of scenes from "Les Miserables." Seldom has Waterville had the pleasure of hearing a reader of such versatility and charm.

DR. GROVER HIGHLY HONORED.

Ray C. Young, '15, now an instructor in Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., in a recent letter home wrote the following:

"They say that 'a prophet is without honor in his own country.' I have an example of that in the way some Colby people fail to appreciate Dr. Grover. I was reading a text-book by a celebrated German, named Zenneck, who proved a long, involved mathematical equation, something like this:

"Therefore, in conclusion, we may consider the point proven, as it agrees with the accepted formula promulgated by Rosa and Grover.' (That's our Grover.)"

This conclusion was drawn from an excellent article by Dr. Grover, which appeared in the publication put out by the United States Bureau of Standards.

COLBY CONCERT COMPANY SUBSTITUTES FOR MUSICAL CLUBS.

The Colby Concert Company, a group of Colby musicians assisted by Miss Laura Carpenter of Madison, which took the place of the musical clubs at the one concert scheduled, gave a performance at Houlton on Jan. 1, 1917. The Aroostook Pioneer, in commenting on the concert, gave the following comment:

"Colby Collegiates Give Pleasing Concert.

"A large audience, which included a big proportion of the local Colby alumni, greeted the Colby Concert Company, at Mansur's hall, on New Year's evening.

"The program was an excellent one and those who took part were well deserving the liberal applause given each number. Especially good were the violin solos by Mr. Lattin. It is seldom that a Houlton audience has heard a better violinist than Mr. Lattin. Each number called for an encore which was graciously rendered by the young collegiate.

"The solo singers, Mr. Webb and Mr. Choate, were pleasing, as was also the playing of the trio, Mr. Lattin, violin, Mr. Pratt, cello, and Mr. Pringle, piano. The reader, Miss Carpenter, was given a cordial reception by the audience, who thoroughly enjoyed her different selections.

"The company was managed by E. R. Scribner, a local boy, who also was a member of the quartet, which was heard in 'a bit of ragtime,' as the last number on the program.

"The concert was under the auspices of the senior class of Ricker. A dance followed the concert."

DELTA UPSILON BANQUETED AT AUGUSTA.

The fifty-first annual initiation banquet of the Colby chapter of Delta Upsilon was held at the Augusta House, December 14, 1916. Cyril M. Joly, '16, was toastmaster and Ernest R. Scribner, '17, was choragus. The post prandial speakers were Winthrop L. Webb, '17, Chester H. Sturtevant, '92, Leroy A. Ramsdell, Bowdoin, '16, William B. Tutill, '94, Reginald H. Sturtevant, '20, and Claude A. LaBelle, ex-'17.

The initiates were: 1920—Arthur P. Mills, Almon P. Hunter, Thaddeus F. Tilton, Wilbur N. Baxter, Reginald H. Sturtevant, Donald H. Curtis, Curtis R. Hatch.

CAMPUS CHAT

Students are all pleased to see Mrs. Ashcraft upon the street after her severe illness.

The college library has received from the Maine Alpha of Phi Delta Theta a year's subscription to McClure's Magazine and The South American. These magazines will hereafter be found on the magazine rack in the reading room.

FACULTY.

President Roberts spent a part of the vacation in Boston. He speaks highly of "Billy."

Dr. Wolfe took a southern trip during vacation, visiting in Maryland and Virginia. During this trip he attended the convention of the American Economic Association, held at Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. Parmenter and Professor Chester were in New York City during vacation, at the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Little attended, during vacation, the convention of the American Geological Society, held in Albany, N. Y. He gave a paper at this meeting, entitled, "Pleistocene and Post-Pleistocene Geology of Waterville."

Professor Libby preached at the Free Baptist church, Saco, last Sunday.

Prof. H. W. Brown gave the leading address at the Rhode Island Boy Scouts' Convention, Providence, and at a state Y. M. C. A. reunion, in Boston, during vacation.

Professor Robert W. Crowell addressed the Congregational College Men's Class, Sunday noon, on the subject, "Our Debt to England."

CHAPEL.

At chapel, last Friday, President Roberts gave his impressions of Billy Sunday, whom he heard during the Christmas vacation. He said that "Billy" is far less barbarous than his critics maintain. He especially praised Sunday for his forceful and intelligent use of the English language. The only thing which Prexy questioned was the sincerity of some of those professing conversion.

Dr. Phelps gave a chapel talk, last Saturday, on the subject, "Doing Things."

Prexy is giving a series of practical chapel talks upon the subject of track athletics. Every man in college is urged to enter this field of sport. We wonder what Coach Smith will say when the recruits present themselves for training.

The "sin of wastefulness" in the use of the commodity supplied by the Central Maine Power Co. was emphasized by President Roberts, Monday morning.

Y. M. C. A.

No Y. M. C. A. services will be held next week, as the members are taking an active part in the series of special meetings being held at the Baptist church.

Edward Dunbar, '19, conducted the services at Athens, Sunday. Cecil Rollins, '17, was at Riverside, Sunday evening.

The Social Service Committee has plans well worked up for two classes in English. Credit is due the committee for its faithful endeavors.

The Discussion Groups will continue meeting for a few more weeks, if the members so desire.

D. K. E.

"Doc" Perry, '16, who is the instructor in mathematics at the Country Day School for Boys in Newton, Mass., spent a short vacation at the Deke House over the week-end.

Ross Holt, '18, and Maurice Ingraham, '17, went to Clinton, Saturday, on a hunting trip.

Don Putnam, '16, who is connected with the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., at Bangor, visited at the Deke House during a brief business trip to this city, Saturday.

Colby Kallack, '20, has been appointed page for the House of Representatives, at Augusta.

D. U.

R. H. Sturtevant, '20, who was ill during the holidays, returned to college, Sunday.

"Bullet" Hendricks, '19, basketball coach for Waterville High School, accompanied his charges to Old Town, last Saturday. His team was completely outclassed, but that is no reflection on the ability of the coach.

D. G. Jacobs, '18, substituted at the Waterville post office the first part of the vacation.

John Choate, '19, and Guy Rouse, '20, visited Harris McIntyre in Houlton during the stay of the Colby Concert Company there.

"Pat" Hughes, '19, refereed a basketball game at M. C. I., Saturday evening.

Everyone at the Phi Delta house is smoking wedding cigars after the announcement of the engagement of C. W. Lawrence, '17, to Miss Della Saville of Brockton, Mass. Good luck, "Lawrie," we believe in starting the New Year right.

Elliott Buse, '20, stayed with Lyman Morse, '20, at the latter's home in Harvard, Mass., during the holidays.

A. T. O.

Everybody connected with Colby will be sorry to learn that "Teddy" Bresett, '20, who last fall made a name for himself in the football world, has been obliged to leave college. He has again entered the normal school at Fitchburg, Mass., where he was a student before coming to Colby. Conditions at home made the change necessary.

Vernon Smith, ex-'18, and Woodford M. Rand, '16, were visitors at the house during the week just passed.

F. A. Pottle, who represented Gamma Alpha chapter of Alpha Tau Omega at the biennial congress held at St. Louis, Mo., has returned to Waterville. He reports a very pleasant and interesting trip.

C. C.

E. F. Ellingwood, ex-'19, did not return to college after vacation. He is now teaching in Whitneyville.

J. F. Everett, '17, has been ill the last few days.

A. E. Skillings, '17, has moved from his home in Oakland to 17 Roberts Hall.

Miss Dorothy Belyea of Frederickston Jct., N. B., visited H. A. Osgood, '19, Saturday.

The Commons Club quartette, composed of J. W. Brush, '20, and H. W. Goodrich, '18, tenors; R. O. Brinkman, '20, baritone; and C. W. Robinson, '18, bass, sang at the Baptist church in Fairfield, Sunday night.

Installation of officers and initiation of members of the Literary Society occurred Saturday evening in the assembly room at Foss Hall. The room was tastefully decorated for the occasion. After the initiation service, there was an address by the president of the organization and remarks by Dean Cooper. The first literary meeting of the society will take place Friday evening, January 19, the subject being "Three Great American Women." Madeline Daggett, '17, will speak on Ella Flagg Young; Mildred Greeley, '17, on Julia Lathrop and her work; and Hazel Gibbs, '17, on the works and life of Margaret Deland. Current events will be discussed by the following girls: Phyllis Cole, '18, Matilda Titcomb, '19, and Lucy Teague, '20. After this will come the reports of the critics on thought and delivery: Cornelia Kelley, '18, and Lucy Taylor, '17. Music will also feature in the evening's program.

PERSONALS.

Judging from the experiences of Foss Hall girls, Dan Cupid must have been kept extremely busy during the Christmas holidays.

Miss Nina Briggs of Monticello is the guest of her sister, Nettie Briggs, '20, for a few days.

Pauline Higginbotham, '20, addressed the inmates of the sanatorium at Fairfield, Sunday afternoon. Her subject was "A Clean Slate." Annie Treworgy, '17, gave selections on the piano.

Ellen Newbegin, of Houlton, a student at the Mt. Ida School, Newton, Mass., visited her cousin, Phyllis Sturdivant, '19, on Tuesday.

Ethel Armstrong, '18, is confined to her room with a severe attack of the grip.

Ruth Ross, '20, has left the Hall to be with her mother, who has come to make her home temporarily in Waterville.

One hundred of the girls living in the dormitories attended church, Sunday morning. New year's resolutions are having a good effect. Keep it up, girls.
