BOSTON ALUMNI GATHER AT THE CITY CLUB.

The graduates of Colby in and around Boston met in reunion at the Boston City Club, last Friday evening. The principal topic of conversation and of the speeches was the endowment fund of $500,000 for the college.

Charles H. Pepper, '89, the retiring president of the association, was toastmaster, and the principal speakers were: President Arthur J. Roberts, '90, of the college; Professor W. N. Donovan, '92, of Newton Theological Seminary; Walter C. Emerson, '82, business administrator; Elwood T. Wyman, '90, educational leader of the college, and Harry H. Upton, '17, who spoke for the undergraduates.

The following officers were elected: H. W. Dunn, '96, president; Bertram C. Richardson, '98, vice-president; Fred S. Getchell, '98, secretary-treasurer; Ambrose B. Warren, '98, assistant secretary.

John G. Larsson, '02, Emery Gibbs, '87, T. Raymond Pierce, '98, and Richard Collins, '96, were added to the executive committee.

THESPIANS STAGE TWO SUCCESSFUL PERFORMANCES.

This year's Dramatic Club made its first appearance at Clinton, last Thursday night. "Buster" Holt, '15, and his high school students were the sponsors for the performance. A good attendance and a good stage made the hearts of the Thespians glad. A dance after the play was enjoyed by the Club more than by the local Lochinvars.

Friday night, the Club gave the play at the Winslow Grange Hall under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias. A somewhat larger audience was present, including a number of Colby students.

"Higbee of Harvard" is remarkably good in its characterization and the parts are very well taken. R. H. Parker, '18, made a hit as Malvina Meddigrew, a breezy Western woman with dynamic jaw-action. C. M. Bailey, '18, took the part of Watson Higbee, a rich but crude miner and ranchman, with great credit. G. G. Watson, '17, and H. A. Smith, '19, as two fair young damsels were so realistic that they received several mash-notes after the play. H. G. Boardman, '18, played his customary role of an aristocratic old lady with his usual success. The other parts were well acted and received their share of applause.

1820—COLBY ENDOWMENT FUND—1920.

A Statement by Dean Shailer Mathews.

(From the Colby Alumnus.)

The increase of $500,000 in the endowment of Colby is a minimum requirement of the College. The past few years have made doubly plain the fact that Colby is needed in Maine and in the country; but if needed, the College must be able to meet the need. With few exceptions the alumni of Colby never had an opportunity really to come to the aid of the college that has done so much for them. The eagerness with which they are now responding is evidence that the Colby graduate is not only loyal but grateful. This in itself is an outstanding testimony to the wisdom of the present campaign for funds. We alumni want to do something for the College.

I meet the graduates of a great many colleges and universities who are going on with graduate work. It is a simple matter of justice to say that the graduates of Colby stand among the best of such graduate students. But the College has obligations in a much wider field than those men and women who plan to become teachers and investigators. It must provide for the efficient training of students who are planning to enter business. To do this both the laboratory equipment and the teaching force need to be larger. The college ought to be able to pay salaries to make it possible to hold successful teachers. In a word, the college needs $500,000 to make it proportionately as effective in its present large task as it was thirty years ago when its total student body was not as large as the present entering class. It is unfair to demand that President Roberts and his associates shall continue the educational miracle they have been working these past few years.

SHAILER MATHEWS, '84.

COLBY BOWLERS WILL CLASH WITH MAINE.

Local bowling enthusiasts will have an opportunity to compare the skill of the Colby rollers with those of University of Maine in two matched contests. Next Saturday evening, a picked team, composed of Harry Upton, '17, Francis Heath, '17, Lester Young, '17, Milford Umphrey, '20, and Earle Tyler, '19, will go to Bangor and bowl against the U. of M. "Tigers." On the following Saturday, the "Tigers" will invade Waterville for a return match.

MUSICAL CLUBS WILL PRESENT ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM.

Next Tuesday evening, the combined musical clubs of the college will present their annual Waterville concert at the Opera House. Tickets may be procured now from any of the members of the Glee Club and may be checked at DeOrsay's drug store, next Friday, at nine o'clock.

The concert is always looked forward to with much pleasure, and this year, especially in view of the excellent reports of the out-of-town trips, great expectations are held for the Waterville performance.

Norman D. Lattin, '18, violin soloist, and the celebrated string trio give a touch of excellence rarely found in a college organization. The Glee Club is said to be the best in years and is sure to give a good account of itself. Winthrop Webb, '17, tenor soloist, is always heard with pleasure, and a new voice, Raymond Brinkman, '20, baritone soloist, will be heard for the first time. The mandolin club, orchestra, and quartet, together with J. G. Perry, '18, reader, and the catchy local "hits" will round out an unusually attractive program.

CONSTITUTIONS GOVERNING ATHLETICS DISSECTED.

Up to the present time there have been two separate Athletic Associations in the Maine Colleges, the one governing football and baseball, the other having the oversight of track athletics. Now a move is on foot to consolidate the two.

Some time ago, a group of representatives from the Maine colleges met and made two proposals. The first was for a dual representation from each institution represented,—one, a faculty member, the other, an undergraduate. The second was that track meets be managed as football and baseball sports are now directed in the respective colleges.

These two propositions have been considered by the student body of each institution. Bates, Colby and Maine have favored the latter, but Bowdoin wishes to continue with the former.

Last Saturday, representatives of the Maine colleges met at the Elmwood to try to reach some definite agreement whereby the change could be properly made. They considered the constitution of each of the two associations and, after much debate and weighing in the balances, they patched together, from the fragments of the originals, a new constitution to govern all intercollegiate athletic contests in the state.

This constitution will be submitted to the several colleges in the near future for approval.

VESPER SERVICES, NEXT SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Rev. F. L. Phalen is to speak at a Vesper Service, to be held in the chapel, next Sunday afternoon. An excellent program has been arranged by the presidents of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., and this service promises to be enjoyable as well as a large factor in drawing together the students in the Christian interests of the college.

The service will be opened with a processional by the college choir. After the reading of the scripture by Miss Alberta Shepherd, '18, and an anthem by the choir, Reverend H. C. Turner will offer prayer. The response, by a mixed quartette composed of Miss Mildred Greene, '17, Miss Marion Daggett, '17, C. W. Robinson, '18, and J. W. Brush, '20, is to be followed by Dr. Phalen's address. Winthrop Webb, '17, and Marion Daggett, '17, will render a vocal duet, "The Day is Ended," and the program will close with the recessional, "How Firm a Foundation," by the choir.

HIGH HONOR STUDENTS, FIRST SEMESTER.

1917—Charles B. Price (24 hours), Fred A. Pottle (18), Cecil A. Rollins (15), Harry H. Upton (12), Lester E. Young (12), Donald B. Flood (9), Leland D. Hemenway (9), Morrill L. Illsley (9).

1918—Hugh L. Robinson (15), John K. Pottle (12).

1919—Ralph H. Drew (15), Sidney P. Wyman (15), William D. Gallier (12), Earle S. Tyler (12), Frederick D. Blanchard (9), John F. Choate (9), Alfred L. Shorey (9), Robert E. Sullivan (9).

1920—Justin O. Johnson (16), Reginald F. Sturtevant (14), Arthur F. Scott (12), John W. Brush (10), Daniel M. Crook (11), Curtis H. R. Hatch (11), Charles A. Mitchell (10), Clarence A. Tash (10).

SPEAKERS CHOSEN FOR SOPHOMORE "DEC."

For excellence in Rhetoric 1 and 2, the following have been chosen for Sophomore Declamation:

Men's division—Frederick D. Blanchard, John F. Choate, Ralph H. Drew, William D. Gallier, Isaac D. Love, Newton L. Nourse, Sidney P. Wyman.

Women's division—Elizabeth R. Eames, Belle N. Longley, Josephine Rice, Madge C. Tooker, Lillian L. Dyer.

Several colleges and universities already are forming military troops in preparation for a call to arms if the United States should declare war.

SOME RESULTS OF THE "FRIENDSHIP FUND."

Contributions to the "Friendship Fund," which is being raised by the American college men for the relief of European war prisoners, have already reached $125,000, according to an article in the March number of the North American Student. Yale University alone paid in over $5,000, and six other colleges pledged more than $3,000 each. Colby, with the gift of $800 was well up in the list of small colleges.

The enormous size of the task which this fund has to perform is realized when one figures out that the entire population of New England, 6,000,000 strong, would not fill the prison camps to their present number of inmates. The amount of money now on hand is wholly inadequate. One camp of 3,000 men has for its only means of amusement thirty books and one football, left there by a Y. M. C. A. secretary. Reading matter, games, and musical instruments are being distributed as fast as the pledges are paid.

While the work of the "Friendship Fund" is far from complete, the results are already enormous. The "North American Student" gives many instances of men saved from apathy and even insanity by this work of the Y. M. C. A. A lively evangelical work on a parallel to the social service is carried on, and hundreds of men owe their conversion to Christianity to work made possible by the fund.

In addition to the good being done abroad by this fund, a similar effect is apparent in the colleges where the money is being raised. One large university had a huge revival immediately after Mr. Porter's visit, in which greater results were obtained than in any previous effort. At another university, an average of one man a week has volunteered for mission work since the fund was raised there. Interest is also becoming aroused more than ever in the World's Student Christian Federation, which has been doing its work for many years, without many of its members having any knowledge of the existence of the world organization. The Student Y. M. C. A. in America is one, and by no means the weakest, of the links of the federation.

DRAMATIC CLUB CHANGES ITS POLICY.

At a meeting, Monday evening, the Dramatic Club decided to make a radical change in its policy for the future. In the past few years, nothing ambitious has been attempted. The plays presented have usually been of the farcical type, and have been scarcely worthy of college production. With an efficient coach, the club believes that it is capable of putting on strictly-modern, high-class plays, thus making the Dramatic Club a progressive factor in education, as well as a vehicle for entertainment. This is the policy followed by the majority of colleges, and has been very successful in their hands. It was decided that, for the Waterville performance, this year, two one-hour plays, illustrative of the modern Irish movement, will be substituted for "Higbee of Harvard," the play which has been used on the trips, but which is thought to be hardly worthy of the college audience. The new plays will be preceded by a short explanatory talk on the Irish movement, as developed by Yeats, Lady Gregory, and others. The Club is confident that these plays will prove very entertaining and interesting. It is hoped that the date of the Waterville performance will not have to be postponed.

DEKES ARE HOSTS AT HOLIDAY DANCE.

Assembly Hall was the scene of a very pretty and enjoyable informal dancing party on the evening of Washington's birthday, the D. K. E. fraternity acting as the host. About eighty couples were present. Appropriate decorations gave added attractiveness to the occasion. Above the main entrance a large Deke pin was suspended, lighted up by a dozen electric lights, around which was draped a huge American flag. Fraternity and college banners and American flags were tastefully arranged around the hall, and in a prominent place hung a picture of Washington. The orchestra, composed of Hastings and Gibson, mandolins; Prince, piano; and Welch, drums, began playing at 7.30, and gave excellent music for the subsequent 20 dances. Punch was served during the evening. The party broke up at eleven o'clock. Dr. and Mrs. Black, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Preble, and Dean Cooper acted as chaperones. Pratt, '17, Lattin, '18, and Wyman, '19, were the committee of arrangements.

Simpson gallantly escorted his Boston hostess to the table.

"May I," he said, "sit on your right hand?"

"No," she replied. "I have to eat with that. You'd better take a chair."—Ex.

PRESERVE THE STATUARY.

It seems that a word should be said about the treatment of the statues in the anteroom of Memorial Hall. No doubt it is the result of mere carelessness, but the fact is that Diana's deer has lost a leg, and Apollo has been deprived of three or four fingers. It is not uncommon to find a coat or a hat carelessly thrown upon the head of "The Dying Gaul." Evidently the men do not all realize that these statues are made of plaster of Paris, and can be easily broken. The works of art are not only beautiful, but they were given to the college by various classes and therefore bear a sentiment which alone should lead to greater thoughtfulness on the part of Colby men.

MILITARY SENTIMENT.

One of our correspondents asks for an explanation of the Colby sentiment, which gave rise to the resolution sent to President Wilson. To fulfill this request is, to say the least, a difficult undertaking, for there is naturally a wide difference of opinion here upon the various questions of the day. The aforementioned resolution indicates, however, that Colby students are not "Peace-at-any-Price" advocates. The consensus of sentiment seems to be that, while we fully realize the awfulness of modern war and recognize the good that the United States might do as a neutral after the war, yet we believe the time may come at any moment when it might more largely conduce to ultimate peace among the nations to enter the breach and do our part toward preserving the lives of our citizens and the rights of humanity. It is believed that, if Congress should declare war, it would do so only after careful consideration of alternatives and consequences. The step may become unavoidable in view of the best interests of our people and of the country. Colby students do not want war, but, if the exigency arises, they are ready to do their part, whatever it may be.

COLBY SONGS.

Probably college songs cannot be written to order, but it would seem that before the thirtieth of April some of our Colby bards might be moved to sing the praises of alma mater acceptably. It is at least to be hoped that a number will make the attempt. For the third successive year the Class of 1895 offers, in memory of the late Professor John Hedman, prizes for the best Colby songs. In previous years the offer has aroused no great interest, in spite of the admitted need of tuneful measures in which to sing "old Colby's praise." This year the possibility of having one's song included in the forthcoming "Colby Song Book" ought to arouse a keener competition. But will it? Arise, Colby songsters, and let the world hear your voices! In this connection especial attention is called to the change in the date when songs must be in the hands of the Committee—April 30, instead of March 31.

CHARLES P. CHIPMAN,
In the Colby Alumnus.

The second of the semi-monthly meetings of Gamma Gamma Sigma, the Colby Chemical Society, will be held in Chemical Hall at 7.30, Friday evening. Professor Gilbert Tolman of the physics department will read a paper on "Radio-activity."

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Echo:

When I received my copy of the Echo for the fifteenth of this month, I was interested to note the conspicuous place which the set of resolutions occupied on the front page of the issue.

The resolution was of the type that is receiving some circulation here in the Eastern part of our U. S. which has been designated as the "blank check resolution"—a "blank check," inasmuch as it delegates to one man or to a group of men a responsibility which that one man considers worthy of the intelligence and the consideration of the whole American people.

Inasmuch as our worthy president is listening for the voice of the people as perhaps no other president has done in similar crises before, it would seem proper to be quite specific in stating whether the college wants war, or a continuance of the present relations, or peace. The resolution as forwarded has the suggestion that "force" would be as acceptable as anything else, "for the protection of the rights of American citizens on the high seas."

I am taking this resolution as an evidence of the intensity of the spirit of Nationalism now prevailing on the campus. I trust, however, that there is also some evidence of the spirit of Internationalism. I hope also that there are some who have difficulty in getting enthusiastically patriotic over "our rights on the high seas," first, because of the difficulty of finding out what those rights are, and, secondly, to whom they apply. Thanking you for the publication of this note, if you care to give it space, I am still a believer that

Very truly yours,

NORMAN W. LINDSAY, '16.

GOODWIN DEBATING PRIZES AGAIN AVAILABLE.

"Resolved: That the United States should endorse the principle advocated by the League to Enforce Peace" is the subject for debate in the eighth annual Goodwin interscholastic debating contest, to be held in the chapel on the afternoon and evening of Friday, April 20, 1917.

Special prizes aggregating $100, given in memory of Hon. Forrest Goodwin, '87, are again made available to the college and are open to students of the high schools and academies of Maine. This contest is always of great interest to Colby students.

LATEST ALUMNUS IS UNUSUALLY INTERESTING.

After a delay caused by the illness of Professor Chipman, the Alumnus for January has been published. This issue contains several contributions of unusual interest, written by noted alumni.

The first article is a report of the committee on endowment. This states that, including the conditional gift of the General Education Board, $824,695 has been pledged towards the desired half million. A list of the 146 subscribers is given, as well as a list of the 124 "Christmas givers" who contributed $2,158.25, last Christmas.

The second article, "The New Colby, a Dream of an Alumnus," is an excellent prophetic picture of Colby in 1936. The writer describes his vision of the changes, the beautiful campus and the classroom and curriculum improvements, in short, of the Colby of 1936, as a model of an efficient educational and social institution.

Mr. Dudley P. Bailey, '67, gives a short resume of "Crises in the History of Waterville College."

Beginning with the incorporation of the college in 1813, he tells of the financial struggle of the institution up to the present time. At the end of the article, Mr. Bailey shows how, in spite of a severe business depression in 1839, $50,000 was raised, which saved the college from ruin. "Now," he says, "the constituency of the institution is far better able to raise $500,000, than was the much smaller and poorer constituency in 1839 to raise $50,000."

Under "The Alumni Bulletin," is a "week-end" commencement proposal, which Mr. Percy Williams, '97, sets forth as follows: Commencement should begin on Thursday night with Junior Prize Speaking, and other events following so that Class Day can come on Saturday, the sermons on Sunday, and Commencement on Monday.

This, Mr. Williams declares, would insure a much larger attendance of both alumni and undergraduates. The plan is looked upon by the trustees with much favor.

The new "Dix" plan of holding class reunions is explained and a reproduction of the plan in detail is given. This plan does not contemplate changing the method, but rather the time of the reunions. The years are so arranged that they come at intervals of from four to five years, and in such a way that members of classes who were in college together will hold their reunion the same year.

The issue also contains short articles on the Hedman Memorial Song Contest and the Colby Song Book.

Under "Book Reviews" is given an account of the "Maine Digest," a digest of the reports of cases decided by the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine, written by Fred F. Lawrence, Colby, '00.

Notes concerning the Faculty, the Campus, and the Alumni, constitute the remainder of the issue.

CAMPUS CHAT

"Billy" Meanix, ex-'16, one of the greatest all-round track men who ever entered Colby, has just been declared eligible to compete for Harvard in the spring meets. Transferring to Harvard after his freshman year at Colby, Meanix has made an enviable record with the B. A. A., but he has been unable to run for the Crimson for scholastic reasons. He holds the amateur record for the quarter mile hurdles and he will be a big addition to Johnney Harvard's track prospects.

1918—Jennie Odelle Sanborn.
1919—Mary Elizabeth Tourtellott.
1920—Alice Helen Clark.
Business Manager—Grace Farnum, '17.

The Y. W. C. A. meeting, Tuesday night, was patterned after the Annual Member Meeting at Silver Bay. Every phrase of Y. W. C. A. work was taken up under the head, "Y. W. C. A. and the Other Girl." The Advisory Board and the High School Girls' Club were present.

A new feature in the curriculum of Foss Hall life is fire drills. Such drills are really needed in a building of this size. We hope, however, that there may be no cause to make these hasty exists anything but drills.
