III. CHAMPLIN HALL

This building was erected in 1836, and is named after President James T. Champlin, D. D., LL. D., in recognition of his distinguished service while at the head of the College. Today, it is commonly spoken of as Recitation Hall. It contains the class-rooms of the Department of Greek, German, and History, and the library of the Department of History.

In the olden days, this building was the administration center. It is said on good authority that the architect of the Capitol Building at Washington also designed this building.

PEACE TREATY VOTE

More Women Vote Than Men

In accordance with the plan of the Intercollegiate Peace Treaty Referendum, instituted by the editors of the daily newspapers of Columbia, Princeton, Yale, and Harvard, a vote was taken at Colby on Tuesday, from two to five o'clock, with 12 professors and 193 students voting. 111 women voted, as compared with 76 of the men. Six votes were unsigned.

The propositions were as follows:

Proposition I. I favor the ratification of the League and Treaty without reservation or amendments.

Proposition II. I am opposed to the ratification of the League and Treaty in any form.

Proposition III. I favor ratification of the Treaty, but only with the Lodge reservations.

Proposition IV. I favor a compromise between the Lodge and the Democratic reservations in order to facilitate the ratification of the Treaty.

For Proposition I, 17 men, 17 women, 4 professors, and 2 unsigned persons voted.

For Proposition II, 7 men, 4 women, and 1 unsigned person voted.

Proposition III was popular with the men; 27 favored it, with 14 women and 1 unsigned person.

Proposition IV was the favorite with the women, for 76 cast ballots for it, as compared with 25 men, 8 professors and 2 unsigned voters.

The total vote, then, was as follows:

Proposition I	40
Proposition II	12
Proposition III	42
Proposition IV	108

The six unsigned votes have one of two meanings: either some of the women were registering a silent complaint against equal suffrage, or some persons were honest enough to acknowledge their total ignorance of the subject of the league and treaty.

The ballots were distributed and counted by ECHO representatives. In the near future, the ECHO will hold a straw vote for candidates for president.

NEW COACH ANNOUNCED

Graduate manager R. L. Ervin announced for the Athletic Association, Monday, that final arrangements had been made with John B. McAuliffe, of Worcester, to coach the Colby football eleven next fall. McAuliffe, who is better known to the sporting world as "Jack," is a Dartmouth man of the class of '16, and while in college he played tackle on the 'varsity for three years, and was captain in 1915. Since leaving college, he has had remarkable success in coaching football and Colby is fortunate in securing his services for next year.

HOLY CROSS FUND FOR EDDIE NILES

The students of Holy Cross showed a great spirit of sportsmanship and altruism when they collected a fund of one hundred dollars ($100) for the benefit of Eddie Niles, right half-back of the Colby football team. Eddie's leg was broken in two places in the game with the Worcester eleven. It is the second time he has been laid up with injuries while representing Colby on the gridiron.

Manager Cavanaugh of the Holy Cross team was the instigator of the movement and the fund was quickly collected and sent to Niles as a Christmas gift. The fund that is being raised by Colby men is to be presented to him in the near future. This fund is to show, on the part of the student body, some appreciation for the grit and fine spirit of loyalty which Eddie has displayed, and to enable him to go on with his college course.

THE DES MOINES CONVENTION

Over six thousand Student Volunteers gathered at Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 31 to Jan. 6, in the first national meeting since 1914. Nearly every state in the Union and several of the Canadian provinces were represented.

Colby's quota from the Men's Division was composed of Walter ("Bill") Guthrie and Charles ("Chick") Gale. They have brought back glowing accounts of the big convention, especially of the great number of college men and women. The delegates filled the hotels at Des Moines to overflowing, so that many guests were forced to stay at private houses. Every possible comfort was provided for the visitors. Entertainments, fraternity gatherings, state meetings,—all formed a part of the varied program. And then the speeches! Eddy of Boston, John R. Mott, Speer, and other prominent and influential men, men who command national admiration, gave sound, sensible addresses on such subjects as "Americanism," "The Cure for Bolshevism," and "The Future of Democracy." It was indeed "an intellectual love feast," as Dr. Libby might say. About the trip out on the "Wolverine Special," about the "big time" there, about the homeward journey by way of Niagara Falls, there will be more anon. Gale and Guthrie have brought back some REAL STUFF. Watch the ECHO for more Des Moines news.

PHI DELTA THETA ANNUAL BANQUET

The thirty-fifth annual banquet of Maine Alpha Chapter of Colby, Phi Delta Theta fraternity, was held at the Elmwood hotel, December 17, 1919. Following an excellent menu, Dr. John G. Towne, '05, acted as toastmaster. The address of welcome was delivered by Robert E. Wilkins, '20. Frederick G. Fassett, Jr., '23, responded on behalf of the initials.

Charles W. Atchley, '03, gave an interesting and well-considered address on "Some Phases of the Social Problem." President A. J. Roberts, '90, of the college, spoke entertainingly of old days and Balanced Fraternity." Among the impromptu speakers were Harry S. Brown, '91, Frederick A. Shepherd, '11, several members of the active chapter and the initials.

A solo was sung by J. Foster Choate, '20, who responded to a hearty encore.

The initials were:

From class of 1920: Ray Wellington Smith.

From class of 1922: Rufus Manley Grindle, Curtis Arms Haines.

From class of 1923: Edward Travis Baxter, Frederick Gardner Fassett, Jr., Arthur Clayton Hall, Harry Emerson Pendergast, Melvin Edwin Smith.

The committee consisted of E. E. Buse, '20, J. F. Choate, '20, B. E. Esters, '21, S. H. Ayer, '21, and H. H. Moody, '22.

THE CHAPEL DEBATE

Any student who was not present to hear the general debate last Monday evening missed a good opportunity to get rid of any surplus ideas that he might have entertained in regard to labor organization that interferes with the health and safety of American citizens." There was some misunderstanding about the exact proposition to be debated; and from the remarks made, a visitor might have thought that the question was any one of a dozen interpretations. It was a "general" debate in every sense of the word, and many besides those taking Public Speaking 5 took part. There were lively answers to lively arguments, however foreign to the question they may have been. These chapel debates are the very best opportunity that the students of Colby College have for threshing out questions of common interest. The main debates are instructive and the general debate never fails to be interesting. There should be a good attendance at the regular debate in the chapel next Monday night.

NOTICE

Cuts immediately before or after a holiday or vacation count double, unless previously excused. In extraordinary cases, however, excuses for cuts will be considered, which have not been previously granted.

THE EXCUSE OFFICER.

THE SOPHOMORE HOP

Don't forget that the Sophomore Hop comes next Friday evening. It will be an informal dance, given in the new Elks Hall. Music will be furnished by the College Orchestra. Dancing will start at 7.30. Every Colby man who can dance at all ought to be there. Let's give the Sophomore Hop good support this year, and thus help to make it an annual affair.

BOWLING SEASON ARRIVES

The bowling committee, consisting of Daniel Crook, Robert Stone, Donald Smith, Earle Tyler, Herbert Perkins, Edward Little, and Ernest McCormack, has decided upon the schedule for this year's tournament, and the first match will take place at the Casino alleys Wednesday afternoon between the Dekes and Phi Delts. At first it was thought possible to hold four rounds of matches instead of the usual three, but the committee decided that that arrangement would make the tournament too long, as it would take three months to finish it, and it would interfere with the baseball season. In place of the usual six teams, there are to be seven this year as the Pi Delta Phis have entered a team. The prize to the winning team is a silver loving cup which is presented by Chas. Pooler, proprietor of the Casino Bowling Alleys.

PROM COMMITTEE AT WORK

President Raymond H. Spinney of the Junior class appointed the following men to serve on the junior prom committee for this year: Chairman, Bernard E. Esters, Houlton, Me.; Joel E. Taylor, Skowhegan, Me.; Phil. T. Somerville, Houlton, Me.; Ransom Pratt, Corning, N. Y.

The committee held its first meeting Monday afternoon, when a few plans and dates were discussed. Nothing definite was decided upon at this meeting, but the college may rest assured that the committee will do all in their power to make the occasion one to be long remembered by all who attend it.

AN ALL-MAINE TEAM

The Portland Sunday Telegram published recently what it thinks the average football man would probably consider the most authoritative All-Maine eleven that could be picked.

It is a composite selection based on the individual selections of the 1919 captains of the four college teams of the state. No captain picked any man from his own team.

There are eleven men on the composite all-Maine team. Nine of eleven positions were carried by clear margins. There was one tie for tackle, and one in the backfield. Of the eleven players picked by Captain Stewart of Maine, Captain Rhoades of Bowdoin; Captain Cutler of Bates; and Captain Bucknam of Colby, six are from Maine, two each from Bates and Colby and one from Bowdoin.

The All-Maine line-up is as follows:

Beverly	Maine	Left End
Brewster	Bowdoin	Left Tackle
Stonier	Bates	Left Guard
J. Greene	Maine	Center
Hussey	Maine	Right Guard
Bucknam	Colby	Right Tackle
Sauvage	Maine	Right End
Ginsberg	Maine	Quarter Back
Jacobs	Colby	Left Half
R. Smith	Maine	Full Back
Stewart	Maine	Right Half

Captain Bucknam's choice of an All-Maine team consists of the following line-up:

R. Greene	Maine	Left Tackle
Hussey	Maine	Left Guard
J. Greene	Maine	Center
Stonier	Bates	Right Guard
Brewster	Bowdoin	Right Tackle
Sauvage	Bates	Right End
Ginsberg	Maine	Quarter Back
Dostie	Bowdoin	Left Half
Stewart	Maine	Right Half
R. Smith	Maine	Full Back

WANTONIT CLUB ARTICLE

In the magazine section of the Lewiston Journal of January 10 appears a long article written by Thaddeus F. Tilton, '20, entitled "The Wantonit Club—An Organization to Make Boys Acquainted with Nature." This organization, founded by Prof. Henry W. Brown, in 1909, now has over 100,000 members in all parts of the country. Among the honorary members is Ernest Thompson Seton, the prominent naturalist and author.

COLBY For COLBY MEN For COLBY

Colby men will not soon forget the splendid magnanimity of the men of Holy Cross in their Christmas gift to Eddie Niles. Men with such hearts are surely made of the right stuff. They have acted the part of the Good Samaritan, and have acted as true sportsmen. Let Holy Cross have our generous appreciation, and a warm spot in our hearts!

"I have never yet met a man who regretted his college education," said President Roberts in a pointed chapel talk on Friday morning last. The President told the story of his conversation with a grocer, who was astounded to find that college professors and grocery wagon-drivers were paid about equally.

Calvin Coolidge, whose book, "Have Faith in Massachusetts," everyone ought to read, says: "The measure of success is not the quantity of merchandise, but the quality of manhood which is produced."

Every student who desires to cultivate oral expression ought to attend the Monday night debates in the chapel, where he may speak his mind on the special subject of the open debate. In these debates, thus far, there has been a rare display of wit, eloquence, and moral seriousness. The subjects are momentous, and very pertinent to present day questions of the college and the nation.

Apropos, Professor Libby and the Debating Club are watching for intercollegiate debaters to represent Colby against Tufts and Clark. These men will be chosen irrespective of class or of past training.

Come to these debates Monday night and show your spirit as well as your ability.

The delegates Grace Foster, Gladys Dow, and Elizabeth Whipple, returned Thursday from the Des Moines Convention.

Dr. I. B. Mower spoke in chapel Monday on "Character Kindling Power."

A dramatic club has been formed by ten seniors selected by Miss Flood for their excellence in dramatic work. The officers have been appointed as follows:

President Helen Getchell

Vice-President Lillian Dyer

Secretary and Treasurer, Pauline Higginbotham

The following girls were chosen as members of the club: Gladys Chase, Lillian Dyer, Helen Getchell, Stella Greenlaw, Eliza Gurganus, Pauline Higginbotham, Alice Mathews, Esther Power, Harriett Sweetser, and Marion Waterman. The purpose of the club is to promote an interest in dramatics and to supervise all dramatic activities in the Women's Division. Membership is limited to twenty in number, and all members of the three upper classes are eligible. They will be elected to membership according to merit shown in dramatic performances throughout the year.

Girls, gymnasium has begun at last and let's make more of it this year than in the past. We know it is easier to sit in our room and say, "gymn is an awful nuisance," but that sort of mob psychology is not what we want. Let's create the other kind, and instead of taking as many cuts as possible, take as few as possible. Really seniors are not above and beyond the need of systematic training either. The enthusiasm we put into college activities shows our loyalty to Colby.

Σ. K.

Elva Jeffs, '21, has returned to Colby to continue her college work.

Bernice Butler, '21, Elizabeth Smith, '21, and Elva Jeffs, '21, have moved from Foss Hall to Mary Low Hall.

The House of Kuppenheimer

Those Good Old College Days

Are here again with their stirring meets, keen rivalries, jolly week-ends, and delightful formal and informal parties. It's a life despite the so called "hard grind"—and a life, by the way, in which good clothes are very important. We've prepared a big showing of exclusive Fall

Kuppenheimer Suits and Overcoats

They are ready now—stylish suits and overcoats that will represent you well, designed especially for well dressed young men who appreciate newer and more distinctive styling and tailoring refinements that express elegance and luxuriousness in every line. Give us a visit.
