Chemical Hall was erected in 1898. On the first floor are a large laboratory for work in General Chemistry; a laboratory for quantitative analysis; a balance room; a furnace and glass blowing room containing apparatus for forced draft; a lecture room equipped with lecture table provided with gas and electric service and a projection lantern; a private laboratory and office for the use of instructors and a stock room for the lecture apparatus and chemicals.

Other laboratories for advanced work in qualitative analysis and organic chemistry are located in the basement. Here, a large variety of special apparatus is found.

The second floor contains the President's office, the Faculty room, and four class rooms.

AMHERST PROFESSOR LECTURES

Last night in chapel, Professor Raymond D. Gettell of Amherst College, lectured on "The United States As a World Power." A clear and fluent speaker, Professor Gettell held the attention of a large audience for a full hour. The lecture was under the auspices of the International Relations Club.

The speaker traced the development of the United States in three periods: the first, from colonial times until 1823, the date of the Monroe Doctrine; the second, from 1823 to 1898, and the third from 1898 to the present time. In the first period, we were implicated in world affairs because of our bond with Great Britain, and our wars with her. The second period was one of internal development, a period in which we tried to hold fast to the policy of isolation, which became increasingly difficult. Since the War with Spain, we have been plainly a world power.

Professor Gettell closed with a quotation from Roosevelt, to the effect that we no longer have a choice as to whether we shall be a world power or not, and that it only remains as to how we play our part in this new world order.

The audience expressed its appreciation of Professor Gettell's lecture by rising after the applause.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Graduate Manager R. L. Ervin has announced this week, thru the Echo, the football schedule for next fall. Both the Athletic Council and Faculty have ratified it.

A feature of this schedule is the game with Holy Cross at Portland on the 13th of November.

- Oct. 2 Fort Williams at Waterville.
- Oct. 9 Norwich University at Waterville.
- Oct. 16 Bates College at Lewiston.
- Oct. 23 Bowdoin at Waterville.
- Oct. 30 University of Maine at Orono.
- Nov. 6 New Hampshire State at Durham.
- Nov. 13 Holy Cross College at Portland.
- Nov. 20 Army at West Point.

The bowling schedule for the week is as follows:
Thursday, March 4, P. D. T. vs P. D. P.
Friday, March 5, A. T. O. vs Z. P.
Saturday, March 6, L. C. A. vs D. U.
Monday, March 8, D. K. E. vs P. D. P.
Tuesday, March 9, P. D. T. vs A. T. O.
Wednesday, March 10, Z. P. vs D. K. E.

DEKES GIVE FORMAL BALL

On Tuesday evening, February 24, Delta Kappa Epsilon entertained at a formal ball held in the New Elks Hall. About 60 couples, including invited guests from every fraternity in college, attended. Music was furnished by the College Banjo Orchestra. The reception began at 8.30 o'clock and the dancing started at 9 o'clock, lasting until 1.30. The hall was decorated with the fraternity colors and Colby and fraternity banners. An illuminated representation of the Deke pin was prominently placed at the front of the hall. The reception committee consisted of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Marston. The patronesses were: Mrs. C. R. Green, Mrs. S. F. Marr, Mrs. R. R. Paine, Mrs. W. M. Pulsifer, Mrs. J. W. Black, Mrs. G. F. Terry, Mrs. John Ware, Mrs. H. D. Eaton, Miss Alice M. Holmes.

COLLEGE WILL PROFIT

The Northern Baptist Convention has pledged $28,000,000 for educational purposes in the next five years. This fund will be divided among the 68 denominational institutions, and Colby will profit materially thereby. The convention hopes to put these institutions on a sound financial basis. The four Colby fitting schools, Coburn, Hebron, Higgins and Ricker, will also receive an endowment from this source.

DEBATE QUESTION CHOSEN

The newly formed debating league of Clark, Tufts and Colby, has chosen for the coming debate the following proposition: Resolved, "That the Federal Government of the United States should permanently acquire and operate the railroads of the country as one unified system of national transportation." The schedule of debates will possibly be as follows: At Worcester, Colby upholding the negative; at Boston, Clark upholding the negative against Tufts; at Waterville, Tufts upholding the negative. The list of judges is due one month before the debate which will probably be held on April 30, although this is merely tentative.

The Chemistry Chorus will now step forward and render a pathetic little ditty entitled: "We've got the Litmus Paper Blues."—Goucher College Weekly.

THEATRE PARTY NIGHT.

The examination period is over. The Student Endowment Committee is now ready to begin its active campaign for raising the sum pledged to the General Endowment Fund. The support of every man and woman in college is necessary to accomplish the desired result.

The evening of March 23rd has been set apart as "theater party night." The Haines theater is the place. A big feature picture, and a farce comedy by the men's division are the attractions. Remember the date. Select your partners. As a suggestion, this is "leap year."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Colby Y. M. C. A. realized $44.50 on the recent Fraternity Stunt Night, this money going toward the convention fund. Many requests have been made for another such affair this winter.

Stanley G. Estes, '23, and Chauncey L. Brown, '23, have been assisting the local Red Cross in teaching foreigners English.

Mr. Clark of Hartford Theological Seminary will visit the college next Friday to confer with any men who are considering or anticipating the ministry as a profession. This will be preparatory to an important conference of theological students and candidates to be held at Hartford in two weeks. Dr. John R. Mott and Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin are among the speakers who will address this conference.

The president of the Colby association attended a conference of Maine college Y. M. C. A. presidents and secretaries with Mr. C. P. Shedd, the New England College Secretary, at the New Elm House, Auburn, last Friday.

Approximately seventy-five men heard Dr. Marquardt's excellent address at the last Y. M. C. A. meeting.

The annual summer conference will be held at Silver Bay, New York, this year, instead of at Northfield, Mass.

Less than 1% of American men are college graduates, yet they furnished:

55% of our Presidents
36% of our members of Congress
47% of Speakers of the House
54% of the Vice-Presidents
62% of the Secretaries
67% of our Attorney Generals
69% of the Justices of the Supreme Court.—
Maine Campus.

NOTICE

Because of the greatly increased cost of athletic supplies, coaching and transportation, the Athletic association finds itself unable to meet expenses with its present income.

The Athletic Council, therefore, recommends that Article IV, Sec. 1, of the constitution be amended to read as follows: "Every member of the Association shall be subject to yearly dues amounting to $15.00, in the case of the students of the men's division, of which $7.50 shall be payable in the first semester of the college year, and $7.50 in the second semester. In the case of the students of the Women's Division, the dues shall be $8.00 annually, $4.00 of which shall be payable in the first semester, and $4.00 payable in the second semester. In the case of the alumni, alumnae, and faculty, the dues shall be $5.00 annually, which shall entitle them to free admission to games." Said amendment to become effective at the beginning of the second semester (March, 1920).

The Athletic Council further recommends that the following paragraph be added to Article VI, Section 3: "A cheer-leader shall be elected in the manner prescribed above for the election of manager, and two assistant cheer-leaders shall be elected in the same manner as assistant managers."

The Council further recommends that the following paragraph be added to Rule 2 of the By-Laws: "The cheer-leader shall be awarded a four-inch block 'C' within a circle."

Signed NEIL F. LEONARD,

Sec. of the Association.

JOHN R. MOTT AT DES MOINES

Charles H. Gale, '22, has written for the Echo the following account of one of the great speeches at the Des Moines convention:

"John R. Mott delivered the first address at the opening session of the Student Volunteer convention at Des Moines. He said that we had gone there to the convention to get a commanding vision of the new world, a world vastly different from the one upon which the delegation gazed at the previous convention held in Kansas City, just six years ago.

He compared that old world with the one of today, shaken, impoverished, overburdened, and suffering. In spite of the confusion and the bewilderment, we may thank God that society is plastic and teachable. Old things are passing away and all things may become new.

Dr. Mott sounded a new challenge—a call to leadership in the sense which Christ had in mind when He said that he who would be greatest must be servant of all. There comes to the students of our day a demand for a great unparalleled offering of lives dedicated to the service of God and man.

Especially significant to Dr. Mott is the union between American and Canadian students, who are bound together in the deepest things of life—those pertaining to religion, language, and laws; by the recent sacrificial experiences; and, above all, by common responsibilities and destinies.

In a convention like this one's horizon widens as one looks into the faces of hundreds of foreign guests representing forty nationalities. The undertaking of rebuilding the world along Christian lines is impossible of accomplishment without this unity."

COLBY For COLBY MEN For COLBY

Did the Colby Republicans read the last Echo?

The Echo extends its complete sympathy, with that of all the students of the college, to Professor Taylor in his sorrow.

Bates is to be complimented on her splendid victory over the Harvard debates. It is a great honor to defeat the representatives of a great university on their first trip into the state.

That all of our professors should be magnetic orators is hardly to be expected, inasmuch as brainpower and natural eloquence do not necessarily go together. The men who fill the rear seats of the chapel should respect this fact by being at least polite toward the speaker of the morning. Although quiet sleeping, minus the snoring, could not annoy any profound thinking discoursing behind the old pulpit, a low, mumbling confusion, with a scuffling of feet, is ill-mannered, disrespectful, and thoroughly unworthy of college men. Toleration is a rare gift; but self-restraint is within the reach of every sane, thoughtful man.

Why was it that, on the birthday of the great Emancipator. Colby gave no recognition at all to the anniversary? On February twelfth last year, a member of the faculty read an excellent paper on the life and work of Abraham Lincoln, but this year, one would not have known the significance of the day at all, unless he had looked at the red numbers on his calendar.

CAMPUS CHAT

President Roberts made a trip to Buffalo last week.

The Brown Daily Herald for February 11 contains a biographical record of Carleton M. Bliss, a non-graduate of Brown, '18, who attended Colby for a year. Bliss was killed in an airplane accident in England, November 14, 1918.

Professor Brown addressed a Y. M. C. A. conference of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, at Somerville, Mass., last week. On Sunday morning, Professor Brown spoke to delegates and citizens in the church of Dr. R. A. Colpitts, '07.

A musical composition of Professor Webber's was rendered at the Baptist Church, Sunday, Feb. 22.
It was a bass solo by J. Foster Choate, '20, with a violin obligato played by the composer.

E. Donald Record, '17, and Burton E. Small, '19, both former editors of the Echo, visited at the college last week.

The names of Professors Little and Ashcraft appear on the Waterville ward election ballots.

The college catalogue for the year 1919-20 has been published. It contains a complete schedule for the centennial commencement. Otherwise the catalogue is not essentially different from former ones.

Stanley Estes, C. L. Brown and E. Stanley Kitchin made a 26 mile snowshoe trip to Palermo in Waldo county during the mid year examination period.

Nearly all the members of the Pi Delta Phi fraternity enjoyed a theatre and dinner party last Satur-

Mr. Primm, representative of Balfour Jewelry Co., called at the house last week.

Ralph Barter of Deer Isle, was a guest of Conary, '21, last Tuesday.

Treworgy, '23, has returned from his home after a ten days' vacation.

Odom, '23, returned to college last Thursday, after being confined to his home two weeks on account of sickness.

Libby, '22, Andrews, '23, Waterman, '21, and Hamer, '20, spent a few days at their homes after midyears.

Norman Bassett, '91, was a visitor at the Deke House a week ago Tuesday.

"Red" Sprague, '23, was taken to the Sisters' Hospital the first of last week with the "flu," and is now at his home in Boothbay Harbor convalescing.

Shaw, Pulsifer, Whittemore, and Shearman made brief visits at their homes during the mid-year examination period.

"Bunny" Brown and "Dusty" Rhoades, both of Bowdoin, were present at the Deke ball.

On Friday, March 12, a joint banquet of the Bowdoin and Colby Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon will be held at the Agsta House in Augusta.

N. M. Green of Houlton stopped at the Deke House on Monday while returning to Hebron Academy.

Neil F. Leonard, '21, read at the American Legion exercises at the City Opera House, Washington's birthday.

The House of Kuppenheimer

Those Good Old College Days

Are here again with their stirring meets, keen rivalries, jolly week-ends, and delightful formal and informal parties. It's a life despite the so called "hard grind"—and a life, by the way, in which good clothes are very important. We've prepared a big showing of exclusive Fall

Kuppenheimer Suits and Overcoats

They are ready now—stylish suits and overcoats that will represent you well, designed especially for well dressed young men who appreciate newer and more distinctive styling and tailoring refinements that express elegance and luxuriousness in every line.

Give us a visit.
