IX. HEDMAN HALL

Hedman Hall is a twin dormitory with Roberts Hall, pictured and described in last week's Echo. It is on the back campus, on a line with Chemical Hall and Roberts Hall, and about midway between them. It was erected in 1915 and named in honor of Professor John Hedman, a graduate of the college and for a time professor of romance languages.

BASEBALL CANDIDATES OUT

Over Forty Respond

Spring is imminent! Captain Bucknam has issued his call for baseball practice. Over forty men responded to the notice last week, and the gym once more resounded to the joyful sounds of baseballs wracking in mitts and gloves. Everyone "dug in" with the customary Colby spirit and determined to let 'em all know that he was going to get a place on the team. If all candidates continue to turn out in such numbers for daily practice, and if they continue to keep up the "old pep," a good team should result. "Baggy" Allen comes down for three afternoons a week, while "Buck" is at the gym every afternoon.

There are some good possibilities in the Freshman class, both for pitchers and catchers. "Buck," "Jake," White, and Hamer are some of the old men who are looked upon to do some twirling. "They say" that Eustis and Howard did some good kork in "prep" school. Coulter, Lampher, and Guthrie are among the candidates for catcher.

Outdoor practice will start as soon as the snow leaves the athletic field.

DECLAMATION SPEAKERS CHOSEN

The names of the men chosen for the annual Sophomore Declamation contest were announced in chapel, Monday, by Prof. Libby, as follows: George W. Currier of Kingston, N. H.; Charles H. Gale of Medford, Mass.; Charles M. Jackson of Waterville; Clyde E. Russell of Charleston; Evan J. Shearman of Portland; H. Theodore Smith of Sedgwick. April 12 is the probable date of the contest. The first prize is ten dollars, the second five.

BOWDOIN RELAY MEET

On Saturday, the Colby freshmen relay team will journey to Brunswick, to compete in a triangular meet with the Bates and Bowdoin freshmen teams.

Because of the inclemency of the weather, track work has been confined to the gymnasium. However, the men are in the best physical condition.

Coach Ryan feels confident that Bates and Bowdoin will be forced to exhibit some fast running in order to register a victory over Colby.

DEBATERS CHOSEN

The trials for the Triangular debate which were held last week resulted in the following selections: The negative is to be supported at Worcester against Tufts by John F. Choate, '20, H. Thomas Urie, '20 and Neil F. Leonard, '21. These men were selected by Dr. Libby on the basis of the experience that they have had in public speaking and debating since they have been in college. All have made good records.

Choate is the only intercollegiate debater in college at the present time. He was a member of the team that won both sides on the question in the triangular debate between Bates, Maine and Colby in 1917 and he was also second prize winner in the Goodwin contest this year.

Urie was a member of the winning debating team in the Murray prize debate in 1918 and was also awarded third prize in this year's Goodwin contest.

Leonard is a speaker of some reputation, having been the college reader on the Glee clubs for the past three years and is the 1919 Hallowell contest he divided first and second prizes.

The affirmative team that is to debate against Clark College in Waterville will be composed of Earl S. Tyler, '20, George Wolstenholme, '22, and Harold Marden, '21.

Tyler has won first prize in the Goodwin for two successive years and he was also first prize winner in the Junior exhibition in 1918.

Wolstenholme had a reputation as a speaker of some importance before coming to Colby as he won the Lyford contest in 1917, representing Coburn Classical Institute and in the following year when he entered Colby he was awarded first prize in both Hallowells and the Hamlin speaking.

Marden was a member of the winning Murray debating team in 1918 and also won first prize in the Sophomore Declamation the following year.

From this array of experienced men who are to represent the college on the debating platform it will be seen that the showing should be an excellent one. Both sides of the question are already hard at work and as the contest is to take place April 30 they have a lot of hard work in preparation before them.

"Pat," said his employer, "I want to make you a present of this pig."

"Now, shure," replied Pat, "an' it's just like you, sor."—Wampus.

MUSICAL CLUBS

The Musical Clubs are now concentrating all their efforts upon rehearsals for the entertainment which will be given by the Concert Company, which has been formed to include the chief features of the regular programs. Although not all the members of the Clubs could be taken on the trip to Berlin, N. H., it seemed advisable and for the best interests of the college that the date should not be cancelled. So a varied program consisting of selections by the Mandolin Club, the Male Quartet, the Instrumental Trio, the Reader and the Soloists will be given by a Concert Company. This will contain some of the best features of the program that will be given in the Haines Theatre on the evening of March 23, "Theatre Party Night," and also of the program planned for the trip which may be taken through Massachusetts for the benefit of the Centennial Fund. Manager Pratt announces that immediately after Easter rehearsals for the Glee Club will start again on preparation for the coast trip and the concert which will probably be given in Portland later. Dates for Skowhegan, Augusta and Waterville concerts are still pending.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

Captain C. J. Weber, of the English Department, who is a member of the Rhodes Scholarship Committee of Selection for Maine, received during the past week from the Rhodes Trust in London a Memorandum regarding appointments for the coming years. An epitome of this information is given here for the benefit of those in the college who are interested in the Scholarships; further information can be obtained by applying to Captain Weber.

What the Scholarship is:—it is of the value of three hundred pounds (about $1,500) a year, and is tenable for three years, during which the scholar must reside at some college in the University of Oxford, England. There are twenty-two colleges in all.

Who is eligible:—a candidate must be a citizen of the United States, with at least five years' domicile, and unmarried; must be between 19 and 25 years of age on October 1st of the year for which he is appointed; and by that time must have completed at least his Sophomore year at some American college.

Note that to be eligible one does not have to pass an examination,—either qualifying or competitive. The old examinations have been done away with, and Scholars are now appointed without examination of any kind. Those who have obtained degrees from American colleges or universities may be excused from all examinations at Oxford except the final examinations at Oxford except the final examinations.

How the Scholar is selected:—A candidate for appointment must make application not later than August 14th on a prescribed application form. Applications in Maine must be sent to Dean Nixon of Bowdoin College. Not more than two candidates are allowed to present themselves from Colby, these two to be selected as the college sees fit. Those, therefore, who wish to apply next August should obtain the Colby election before June. On September 25th next, the Committee of Selection will meet the candidates personally and will elect the scholar to represent the State.

The qualities considered by the Committee in making its selection are:

- (1) Qualities of manhood, force of character, and leadership.
- (2) Literary and scholastic ability and attainments.
- (3) Physical vigor, as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

The Maine Scholar appointed next September will go into residence at Oxford in January, 1921 (the oddity of this time is due to the derangement of the schedule by the war). In September of 1921, the Maine Scholar will be appointed who will go into residence at Oxford in October, 1922. In September, 1922, the Scholar will be appointed who will go into residence in October, 1923. In 1923 there will be no appointment in Maine, nor again in 1926; skipping every third year.

Information about Oxford can be obtained from Captain Weber and in the "American Oxonian," a quarterly magazine, the April number of which will be devoted entirely to information for prospective Rhodes Scholars. This number will be sent to any address for 25 cents on application to W. W. Thayer, Concord, N. H.

Colby has not sent a representative to Oxford for some years. In this our centennial year, it would be especially fitting for us to add another trophy to our list of honors.

On a recent church bulletin the pastor's theme for the following Sunday, "What is the Worst Thing in the World?" was announced in large type, and following in much the same type "Singing by Our Quartet Morning and Evening."—Vermont Advance.

We always laugh at the faculty's jokes
No matter what they be
Not because they're funny
But because it's policy.—Exchange.

COLBY For COLBY MEN For COLBY

The Echo regrets to announce the resignation of Edwin F. Mabie, '20, from his position as an associate editor. Because of the pressure of other duties, Mabie has seen fit to relinquish this position. The Echo owes him thanks for his faithful service.

Repeat Monday's attendance at chapel six times every week, after you have removed the incentive, and the famous old Colby spirit will be unquestioned.

"There is rest, rest, in this college life for me."

Whenever you hear the strains of this song of the care-free echoing through the halls of the dormitories, are you not tempted to find the singer, that you may enter in your note-book the name of that remarkable person? The only ones who could seriously sing such a ditty are those whom our president charges with using the college as a winter resort. Such men seem hardly to have caught the spirit of the place.

The public is more and more expecting the colleges to turn out intensely practical and ambitious men, and not idle dreamers whose greatest accomplishment is to have secured a bachelor's degree. Whether or not this expectancy is a sign of an increasing spirit of materialism in our nation is a debatable question. At any rate, the average Colby man finds it difficult and costly to loaf.

Stevenson, in his pleasing essay, "An Apology for Idlers," defends the youth who whiles away his time without plan or routine; but perhaps R. L. S. ought not to be taken too seriously in this matter. It seems more reasonable to suppose that loafing during the impressionable years of one's college career would tend to make the life-long idler. Of course, the scholars must have time for thought and careful research; but, as in almost everything else, there is here a golden mean. The primary product of the college should be men,—men in the best sense of the word,—men of action as well as of vision.

CAMPUS CHAT

President Roberts made a brief trip to New York Monday and Tuesday.

Professor Brown was ill for a few days last week. The College Men's Class of the Congregational church had a welsh rarebit feed at Dr. Little's, Monday night, March 8.

During the past week Prof. C. J. Weber received a belated Valentine from England in the form of a notification from the University of Oxford that he had been granted the degree of Master of Arts on February 14th, 1920.

The College Men's Class of the First Baptist Sunday School held a snowshoe party on Tuesday evening, March 9. They left the post office at half past seven with about ten couples present. At 9 o'clock they returned to the church vestry where refreshments, consisting of cookies, cocoa, and ice cream, were served. Everybody had a most enjoyable time.

Skilling, '20, stopped at the Lam Chi house for a short time Sunday night.

Peaslee, '22, went home last Thursday night with an attack of the mumps.

Brinkman, '20, attended the banquet of the Beta Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha at Orono, last Saturday evening.

D. B. Demeritt and A. L. Ferrin from the University at Maine, attended the L. C. A. dance last Friday evening, and stayed at the house over night.

A new number of the Alumnus is out. Its contents will be described in next week's Echo.

Phi Delta Theta announces the pledging of Wayne W. Dixon, '23, of Somersworth, N. H.

J. H. Farley of Bridgewater, Me., called at the Phi Delt house last Sunday.

Robert Day Cox, '16, of Nashua, N. H., dropped into the Phi Delt house for supper last Monday evening.

Hiram R. Moody, '22, spent the week-end at Warren on business.

Hervey Allen '12, of Camden, Me., called at the Phi Delt house last week.

Phi Delta Theta observed Founder's Day last Monday evening. Among those present were some of the local alumni and pledges.

Dr. H. F. Kallock, '92, of Fort Fairfield was in town on business Sunday and called at the Deke house.

F. E. Chase, Skowhegan High School, '20, was the guest of his brother, "Trapper" Chase, '23, last Saturday.

Gulick, '23, and D. Sprague, '23, are to visit Hebron Academy next week end at the request of President Roberts, to talk up Colby to the students there.

On Wednesday, March 10, Alan Mercer of White Plains, N. Y., was initiated into the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

Stanley G. Estes, '23, attended the Bowdoin league debate at Augusta. The debating teams were Portland High and Cony High. This debate is one of a series now being held under supervision of the class in debating at Bowdoin.

The Rev. Carlyle G. Smith of South Portland was a guest of Pi Delta Phi last week.

Charles Mitchell, '21, attended the convention of the Interchurch movement at Bangor last week.

Leslie H. Cook, '22, is recovering from his recent illness.

Hanford Crouse of Washburn called on Milford Umphrey recently.

Walter R. Guthrie, '22, and Charles H. Gale, '22, spoke at the Baptist church at Skowhegan, last Sunday evening, on the subject of the Des Moines conference. J. Gleason Perry, '20, played the violin at the same service.

FOOTBALL ELECTION COMING

The annual election for manager of football will be held before the spring vacation. The candidates are Clark Drummond, '21, and J. Edward Little, '21. Both men have assisted the manager during three seasons; Little playing on the team last fall. The election promises to be close, as both men have worked hard and earned the good will of the student body.

LAM CHIS HOLD DANCE

A dance was given by the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity last Friday evening at the Elks Hall. The hall was decorated with the banners of the local chapters of fraternities and sororities, and at the head of the hall was the Lambda Chi Alpha escutcheon. Music was furnished by the College Orchestra and refreshments were served during the intermission. Besides the members of the fraternity and their invited guests from the other fraternities, there were present the following patrons and patronesses: Pres. and Mrs. Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. Grover, Dr. and Mrs. Little, Prof. and Mrs. Weeks, and Dr. Harry.

BOWLING SEASON NEARING CLOSE

With but one more week of bowling, the A. T. O.s have a comfortable lead. The score through Tuesday night is given below. If there is an error in this score, will any who can prove wherein lies the mistake please see the editor, and not the associates or assistants?

THE DEKE BANQUET AT AUGUSTA

Last Friday evening, the Bowdoin and Colby Chapters of Delta Kappa Epsilon held a joint banquet at the Augusta House, Augusta. This was the fourth annual banquet held jointly by the two chapters, and the first since 1917. Despite the uncertainty of train schedules, fifty-five Dekes were present, among them many prominent alumni of Bowdoin and Colby. Norman Bassett, Xi, '91, was toastmaster and introduced first, Mayor Burleigh Martin, Theta, '10, who, as Mayor of Augusta, gave the welcoming speech. Other speakers to follow were: John Clair Minot, Theta '92; Judge Lancaster, Sigma, '08; Colby Kallock, Xi, '20; Cornelius Rhodes, Theta, '20; Chief Justice Leslie C. Cornish, Xi '75, was the last speaker and urged that college men should not shirk the harder tasks. He said that the things one remembers with the most pride and enjoyment are the hardships of life. He also said "the normal life should grow happier and happier all the time." Throughout the evening music was furnished by a Deke trio, consisting of Pratt, Barnum, and Perry. The banquet lasted untod 12 P. M. and the men from both colleges returned on the night trains.

Monday and Thursday chapel was given over to booming the drive for united mission work. Pauline Higginbotham, '20, Gladys Dow, '21, and Grace Foster, '21, were the speakers.

Tuesday noon Mr. Beatty spoke to the girls presenting a choice of service or what the world calls success for our purpose in life.

The Rev. G. H. Hamlin spoke to the girls Wednesday at chapel giving new inspiration to those choosing missions for their work from among the many openings to college women.

Friday noon Mrs. Henry Hanson spoke on the work among the Syrians here in Waterville.

The program of the Literary Society for March 12 was as follows:

- State and National Government
- Gladys Chase, '20
- Stella Greenlaw, '20
- Victrola
- Current Events
- Mildred Todd, '23
- Critic of Thought
- Eliza Gurganus, '20
- Critic of Delivery

Tuesday evening the Dramatic Club held its first meeting in the social room at Foss Hall. A short sketch was given featuring Helen Getchell, Marion Waterman, Gladys Chase, and Eliza Gurganus. The first junior to be taken into the club was made a member at this meeting. Adele McLoon was chosen as showing the most talent in every way and was considered a great addition to the club. The rest of the evening was spent in reading Oscar Wilde's play entitled, "The Importance of being Earnest."

The Gab-a-Lots recently had a feed of indisputable uniqueness (so they think): Jazz salad; crab topics for conversation, discussed in a Know-a-Lot fashion; Lots of Talk and plenty of Raving and Preaching; shimmy fudge a specialty.

The idly curious have taken it upon themselves to define the Gab-a-Lots. Below are some of the choicest and most classic definitions:

- I. A Bunch of Freaks.
- II. A Pop Corn Club.
- III. An Intellectual Gathering (?)
- IV. Reputation Smashers.
- V. Original, true-blooded, up-to-date Yankees—
 this their own definition!
