COLBY ALUMNI OF NEW YORK HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

The New York Alumni and Alumnae celebrated the twenty-fifth birthday of the New York Association by gathering in record numbers for the annual banquet and business meeting of 1920, held at the Sherman Square Hotel, New York City, on the evening of April 16th. Over fifty members and their guests sat down to the dinner which proved to be in every way the most successful in the annals of the Association. After the matters of routine business had been cared for, Dr. Joel B. Slocum, '93, President of the Association, called on President Roberts for the first toast of the evening. The President spoke of the Endowment fund,—its incidents, amusing and otherwise,—and prophesied the complete success of the "drive." He then spoke of the plans on foot for the Centennial celebration promising the men that, if they would only return for the festivities, beds would be provided for them all "under the willows."

Following President Roberts came H. T. Jordan, '93, who represented the City of Brotherly Love. I. G. Saunders, '03, made a straightforward appeal for the placing of Colby athletics on a basis which would encourage the athlete to his best and cleanest endeavor on the field and in the class room as well. Harvey Knight, '14, spoke for the younger alumni, and W. W. Drew, '02, for those who are getting older but wish still to keep up the fiction of youth. They were followed by Prof. Franklin W. Johnson; and by Miss Emma A. Fountain, '95, who responded for the Alumnae. Judge Harrington Putnam, '70, and Prof. E. B. Mathews, '91, responded to the final toasts of the evening. And as the paper used to say, "a good time was had by all."

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Joel B. Slocum, '93, Vice-President, Miss Bertha L. Soule, '85, Secretary-Treasurer, A. Harvey Knight, '14.

MAINE WINS EXHIBITION GAME

The University of Maine Baseball team won from Colby in an exhibition game the first of the season, at Alumni Field last Monday afternoon, by a score of 10—6.

The second team replaced the first in the seventh inning with the score 6—3 in Colby's favor.

The work of the first team was excellent and the prospects for the future look bright for another championship team.

MASSACHUSETTS TRIP SUCCESSFUL

The Concert Company returned Saturday from a successful trip into Massachusetts for the benefit of the endowment fund. Concerts were given in Amesbury and Newburyport. That the concert given in Newburyport was highly satisfactory is shown by the fact that a return engagement has been requested. The company made about $50 on the trip; this, with the $150 made on the concert given in the Haines Theatre, the Musical Clubs and Concert Company have been able to contribute to the endowment fund.

Manager Urie announced that plans are now tentative for a trip to be taken by the Concert Company in the middle or latter part of May, when through the alumni association, concerts will be given in Portland, Boston, Worcester, and New York.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS ORGANIZE

The men of the college interested in the work of the foreign field, and of the Christianization of the world, met in the chapel last Friday night, and formed a Student Volunteer Band. Roger E. Bousfield was elected Leader, Charles E. Mitchell, Vice-Leader, and Raymond J. Bates, Secretary. Classes will be held weekly at an hour convenient to all.

SONNET

I often think that I should leave my books
To gather mould upon the silent shelves
Of this my peaceful den, that surely looks
As though 'twere haunted by a monk that delves
Too deep in priestly lore and mystic creed.
Since man is born a flower, why should he
Assume to be a tall and prickly weed
That stands so chastely in the ash debris
Of some forsaken spot? Lay down the pen
And rest your tired eyes amidst the green
Of summer fields, the pageant made for men,
And not the place for pedants pale and lean.
A little study, then a round of play
Is best to drive the blear-eyed monk away.

J. W. B., '20.

WEDNESDAY'S TRACK MEET

The first of a series of Wednesday afternoon track meets took place last week on Alumni Field. Although no records were broken, the men showed that they are grasping the rudiments of Coach Ryan's instructions, and have improved very much since the first of the season. The future of track at Colby looks promising.

The results:

Shot Put: Bucknam, first; L. Cook, second; Tyler, third; Frude, fourth.

High Jump: W. Berry, first; Pulsifer, second; D. Crook and A. Berry tied for third place.

50-yd. dash: A. Berry, first; Wills, second; Williams, third; Pulsifer, fourth.

300-yd run: Perkins, first; Niles, second; Cole, third; Bickmore, fourth.

600-yd run: Mercer, first; Whittemore, second; Chase, third; "Ike," fourth.

1,000-yd run: Mayo, first; Costley, second; Green and McCormick tied for third place.

75-yd low hurdles: Pulsifer, first; W. Berry, second; Crook, third; Dolbeare, fourth.

HALLOWELL SPEAKERS CHOSEN

Last Saturday afternoon, the members of Dr. Libby's class in Public Speaking 6 delivered excerpts from their speeches written for competition in the Hallowell Prize Speaking Contest. The judges, Dr. Libby, Professor Brown, and Mr. Rollins, have announced the names of those chosen for the final contest as follows: Bradley, Brush, T. Cook, Craig, Drummond, Niles, Peaslee, Pinowsky, Russell, Shaw and Whittemore.

Beloit co-eds have circulated a petition as a counter-irritant to one circulated by the men. The petition which the men presented asked that co-eds stop the use of rouge. The co-eds petition asked that, in view of the fact that the war is over, the men stop, or at least moderate the use of oils to keep their hair in place. The petition closed with the words:

"We, the undersigned, promise never to use the horrible, disgraceful, dirty rouge if you men likewise promise to hereafter use the oil on the inside wheels in place of the external surface."—The Lawrentian.

COLBY For COLBY MEN For COLBY

Monday's game is no indication of the strength of our team. Since it was an exhibition game, and the first of the season, Coach Allen was justified in giving a large number of men an opportunity to show their worth. We do not begrudge Maine the victory, but we want it understood by those who did not see the game that there was a reason for our defeat.

The beauty of Memorial Hall is enhanced in the springtime by the clean sweep of lawn on the south side. It would be a shame this June to see this piece of green cut twice diagonally by lines of dead grass or of packed brown earth; yet this promises to be the case unless the bee-lines from Chemical Hall and from the southernmost gate to the chapel door are abandoned at once.

The pessimists must have been aware of the sterling college spirit that reigned at the clean-up party on Alumni Field last Wednesday. As a result of the hard, systematic work done by the large crew of volunteers, the athletic grounds are now as clean and orderly as a millionaire's estate.

Most of the men who grumble about the total lack of Colby spirit this year are upperclassmen who like to talk, as men in their dotage do, of the "good old days." This is perfectly natural, but when carried too far, it tends to depress good spirit. Carlyle said, "Call a man a thief and he will steal." We have heard so long that our spirit is not what it ought to be, that it is no wonder we are tempted to sit back and agree.

Cheer up! These are the "good old days!"

Last Wednesday afternoon showed an improvement in the student's interest in athletics. Increase it by the geometric ratio. It will mean success.

Let everybody get behind Coach Ryan in his endeavor to make Wednesday the big day of the week.

A schedule of sports has been arranged which should interest everybody:

A track meet will precede a tennis tournament or an inter-class baseball game.

Events, such as a three legged race, potato race, and potato race will be run off that will give everybody a good time and an opportunity to do his part.

Weekly athletic meets will build up college spirit and athletic teams.

Let's get behind the coach.

A. B. M.

Waterville, Maine, April 21, 1920.

Mr. John J. Tammany Tweed,
Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

I am informed that you are considering the matter of a college education for your son, and that, with his Latin and Greek, you wish him to get a thorough grounding in the fundamentals of politics. While I assure you that I am entirely disinterested, except that I am deeply concerned about the higher education of our youth, let me urge upon you the merits of our college in respect to a political education.

College, sir, is the dress-rehearsal for life. How could a man take his part well in the elaborate political schemes on our campus, and then step into the great arena and fail? Utterly impossible. Consider a sample of our activities this year.

The Mu Pi fraternity proposed a man for manager of hockey. Two other fraternities agreed to support this man, and three vowed to oppose him. This agreeing and vowing was done very secretly. To break the deadlock, a shrewd and ambitious member of Mu Pi approached some of the influential members of the fraternities in opposition, promising them the support of Mu Pi in the spring, when Gamma Gamma would put up its man for manager of lacrosse. The result, of course, was that Mu Pi's man was elected manager of hockey, and Gamma Gamma's man was chosen manager of lacrosse. Perhaps, Mr. Tammanytwweed, your son will have such opportunities for political bargaining if he comes to our college next fall.

The Freshmore class elected its officers in this manner: three of the fraternities were informed that the election would be held at a given hour at a given place.

The election was held, with the officers being elected of course, from the three fraternities in the bargain. Ten minutes before the polls closed, one of the conspirators slyly placed notices of the election on the college bulletin boards. The five or six men, members of the other three fraternities, who happened to read the notices, rushed to the polls and balloted, but, of course, this had no effect on the outcome. The men of the uninformed fraternities were in high anger, the next day, when they learned that an election had been held without their knowledge. However, the ring-leader of the conspirators proved that notices had been posted in time, for men of all the fraternities had voted. He then turned to his cronies with the wink of a politician; the coup d'etat had been a complete success.

So you see, Mr. Tammanytwweed, your son would receive valuable training for leadership in the Republican Party, which, I am informed, stands for party first, country last. We have a popular motto here: College first; fraternity last. This has a beautiful sound, has it not? Do not the cleverest politicians always advertise their lofty devotion to clean government?

You will make no mistake, Mr. Tammanytwweed, in sending your son to our college.

Very truly yours,
EDITOR OF THE RE-ECHO.

NOTICE

The Student Endowment Fund Committee wishes to remind the fraternities that it is now getting along toward the end of the season when the amounts pledged must be paid.

THE "RETORT COURTEOUS" * TO CHARLES LAMB'S "GRACE BEFORE MEAT."

A member of the college faculty recently remarked to the writer that the old custom of asking the blessing before beginning a meal was dying out. This, together with other similar declensions, has often been ascribed to the effect of studies in English Literature and to the taking too seriously some of the individualisms found therein.

Charles Lamb's famous essay on "Grace Before Meat" has furnished many with authority or argument for allowing a venerable custom to fall into desuetude. Our charming Charles tells us, "Theoretically I am no enemy to graces," and then in a reminiscent mood, remarks that Samuel Johnson "used to make inarticulate animal noises over a favorite food. Was this the music quite proper to be preceded by the grace,"

Charles, Charles, "there standeth one among you, whom ye know not."

It is this "one mightier" who "took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples. (Matthew XXVI, 26.)

And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave to the disciples. (Matthew XXVI 26,)

And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them. (Matthew XXVI, 27.)

And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples. (Mark VI, 41.)

And he took several loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples. (Mark VIII, 6.)

And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed and commanded to set them also before them. (Mark VIII, 7.)

And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them. (Mark XIV, 22.)

And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them. (Mark XIV, 28.)

Hed he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples. (Luke IX, 16.)

Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. (Luke XIV, 15.)

And he took the cup and gave thanks. (Luke XXII, 17.)

And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them. (Luke XXII, 19.)

And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. (Luke XXIV, 30.)

And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples. (John VI, 11.)

They did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks. (John VI, 23.)

What more need be said, except to append a quotation from St. Luke, Chapter X, verse 37:—Go, and do thou likewise.

CAMPUS CHAT

The baseball team has left for games with Boston University, Holy Cross, Massachusetts Aggies, and St. Anselm's.

The Geological Department has recently received, through the kindness of Mrs. Cyrus W. Davis of Waterville, the choicest specimens from her late husband's collection of minerals. The most striking features of the collection are the polished sections of petrified wood and agates, and the mineral groups from Pike's Peak, Colorado.

Dr. Phelps gave an interesting address at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last night on "Wanted: A Man." The new officers took their places for the year ahead. The retiring president will render a report of his administration at the meeting next Tuesday night. Dr. Phelps will give a lecture on "Public Speaking." Both men and women will be welcome to this lecture.

Miss Lotta A. Clark of Boston, director of the pageant, spoke to a crowded chapel last night on the general subject of pageantry. Lantern slides showed some of the successful pageants of recent years. Miss Clark urges and anticipates a great success here at Colby this June. Lack of space forbids a fuller report of the excellent lecture. Rehearsals for the pageant will be held all this week.

J. A. Thompson, '12, of Franklin, Me., called at the Phi Delta house, Saturday.

Dana Newman, '22, of Tufts, was the guest of Hiram Moody, '22, Monday.

H. F. Moody, '22, spent the week-end at Webber Pond.

F. G. Fassett, '23, spent the week-end at Portland.

Wayne Dixon, '23, spent the week-end at his home in Somersworth, N. H.

Seth Twichell, '20, is on a business trip to Boston and Fitchburg.

Harold T. Urie, '20, spent the week-end at his home in Byfield, Mass.

Robert McCobb of the University of Maine visited Roy Hobbs, '23, over the week-end.

Recent chapel speakers have included Dr. George Huntley of China, Professor Harry, who contrasted French with Anglo-Saxon education, Professor Webber, who spoke on the Rhodes Scholarships, Dr. Libby, who spoke on the lack of responsibility among college men, and Professor Trefethen, who spoke on "Character."

Totman, ex '22, stopped over to see the Maine-Colby game. He has a position in a bank at Gardiner.

Bousfield, '22, led the meeting at the Thorndike Congregational church last Sunday.

Doctor Cook of York Village was a visitor at the L. C. A. house this week.

Osgood, '20, played at the Baptist church in Harmony last Sunday.

Monday was a general "spruce up" day at the Deke House. All hands turned to and levelled the tennis court, raked and rolled the lawn, and removed the storm windows. A marked improvement on the general appearance of the grounds around the house revelled.

Fred Chase of Skowhegan, brother of "Trapper" Chase, '23, has been visiting at the Deke House over the week-end.

A. F. Scott, '19, and Hugh Robinson, '18, now studying at Harvard graduate schools, are spending this week in Waterville.

"Spike" Farnum, ex '22, left Sunday night after spending nine days at the college.

Miss Gwendolyn Fraser has been here speaking to the girls this week in the interest of the Student Volunteer Movement.

Monday evening, the Y. W. C. A. gave a stunt party at the chapel. Each sorority and the Gab-A-Lots gave a stunt. The first event was a country schoolroom scene given by the Chi-Omegas. The pupils were some of the professors as one would picture them in their extremest youth.

This was followed by a reverie of youth given by the Phi Mus. It was a very pretty conception. Then came the Gab-a-Lots who showed us how to put the pie in Pie Alley. This was most effectively and affectingly done. We wonder why some girls turn green at the mention of custard pie.

The Sigma Kappas gave an orchestra selection followed by the feature "Wild Nell, the Pet of the Plains," by the Knock 'em Stiff Film Company. The Tri Delts gave a graduation from a very select seminary.

The knocks on some of the most famous characters of the college community were touching, to say the least. The final event was the burial of laziness in the form of Ruth Mosher, given by Alpha Delta Pi. We hope the actors had as good a time as we did.

Summer Work

We still have room
For a few LIVE men
Provided they want to Earn a lot of MONEY
This summer.

This isn't a gamble
It is a SURE THING
For the man who HUSTLES
And besides
We pay a SALARY.

NOW is the time
To get on the Band Wagon
So see our local man
Or write us direct and Ask for the dope.
