BATES WINS PENNANT

By defeating Bowdoin in a weird baseball game at Brunswick Saturday, Bates won the state championship. Flinn of Bowdoin outpitched Johnston of Bates with the exception of the fifth and ninth innings in which Bates came across with bunches of hits, and scored seven runs.

Bates has won five games and lost one; Maine has won four, lost two; Colby and Bowdoin have won one and lost four each. Colby is endeavoring to have the postponed game with Bowdoin played off, in order to determine the cellar position. Score:

Bates	2 0 0 0 4 0 0 0	3—9	10	5
Bowdoin	2 0 0 0 1 0 2 0	0—5	5	6

Batteries: Johnston and Van Vloten; Flinn and Handy.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

In the intercollegiate tennis tournament held at the University of Maine, Colby made a good showing, her men qualifying in both singles and doubles. They defeated Bates in the doubles and were defeated by Bowdoin. D. Smith of Colby by defeating Trafton of Maine, got into the semi-finals but was unable to get further than two sets with Partridge of Bowdoin, who took both sets 6-3, 6-3. Colby had the bad luck to draw Bowdoin to compete against in the trials and thus the doubles team of Smith and Gow did not get far, although it was the consensus of opinion that the team that represents the college was second to the tournament winners. The men who took the trip were: Captain Donald O. Smith, Curtis Hatch, Russell Gow, and Stanley Black.

PERSHING AT COLBY

General Pershing and his party arrived at the Colby campus Friday afternoon, when from the porch of the Zeta Psi house, he delivered his speech.

Governor Milliken spoke a few words and introduced President Roberts. President Roberts said that whenever he thought of Pershing he thought of the 525 Colby boys who had been entrusted to the latter's care, as commander of the American Expeditionary forces. It gave him great pleasure to welcome the general on the Colby campus in behalf of those boys and the college they had represented.

General Pershing began his speech by recommending one of Governor Milliken's personally conducted tours of the state, explaining that it had been extremely enjoyable to him and that the scenery, the opportunity of meeting Maine people, and the cordial welcomes he had everywhere received had been a constant delight to him.

He said that it gave him special pleasure to speak on the campus of a co-educational institution, for without the American women America could not have accomplished what she did in the war. He attributed a large share of the credit for the splendid morale and the good behavior of the troops to the influence of woman in the home, and in the field. He declared that no army in the world had ever been better supported by its women.

The general told how, on a tour in Kansas, he had made speeches until he could speak no more; but the committee insisted that he speak to an assembly of the Daughters of the American Revolution. He refused and declared that he would break up the meeting. He went and simply said, "How do you do, ladies; I am glad to see you, good by." As he was about to leave the hall he was halted by the chairman who immediately made and carried a motion to make him a member of the D. A. R. Thus he was honored for not making a speech.

In closing his speech he called attention to the great importance of the future education of the country. He said that 25 per cent. of the young men of the country who were called to the colors were illiterate and declared that it was a disgrace to our country. He said he did not know the exact percentage of illiteracy in Maine; but so long as such a situation continued there would be a fine opportunity for the radical element to work havoc with American institutions.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

In accordance with Article X of the Echo Association Constitution, we are printing herewith a proposed amendment to Article XI of the Constitution. The amendment is "The annual subscription fee shall be increased to one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50)." This proposed amendment will be voted upon at Chapel, Saturday, June 12th.

LEWISTON ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

Probably what is the largest athletic meet ever held in the state of Maine will take place at Lewiston next Saturday. This carnival is the result of Coach Ryan's efforts to arouse a state-wide interest in athletics. Knights of Columbus and Y. M. C. A. units, American Legion, Posts, and colleges will be represented. Every member of the Colby Athletic squad will take part in some event. This occasion furnishes an exceptionally good opportunity for the Colby men to see the very best athletes in the United States perform, and as these men are to be the mainstays of the American Olympic team, they will be at their best.

Coach Ryan has men coming to take part such as: Joie Roy of the Illinois Athletic Club, Harold Cutbill, the flying parson; Earle Thompson, 120-yd. high hurdle, national champion, and Fred Faller, who holds the New England and National cross country championships.

MURRAY PRIZE DEBATE.

On Thursday evening, June 3, at 8 o'clock, the eleventh annual Murray Prize Debate was held in the Chapel. President Arthur J. Roberts presided. The question was: "Resolved, That the United States should pursue a policy of complete restriction upon foreign immigration for a period of five years from July 1, 1920." J. W. Brush, '20, C. A. Mitchell, '21, and T. G. Grace, '21, represented the affirmative. The negative team consisted of H. A. Perkins, '22, R. C. Bradley, '22, and D. A. Shaw, '21. T. R. Cook, '22, and L. W. Mayo, '22, the alternates, acted as time keepers. The judges consisted of Professors White and Nelson, and students selected by the debaters.

The debate was closely contested throughout and the speakers earned hearty applause. The decision was given to the affirmative side by a vote of 21 to 9.

SENIOR HOP.

The Senior Hop Committee announces that the Senior Hop will be held on Monday, June 28, at 10 P. M. This dance is to be an informal white-flannel affair. The order comprises thirty dances including six extras and the music is to be furnished by Welch's Orchestra of Waterville. In view of the fact that an exceptionally large attendance is assured, due to the numerous alumni who have already signified their intention of attending, spectators will not be admitted. The committee urges everyone to buy their tickets as soon as possible.

ELECT TAYLOR CAPTAIN

The baseball letter men met Tuesday afternoon and elected "Joe" Taylor, '21, captain of the 1921 baseball team.

PROF. WHITE'S CHAPEL TALK

"We, the near dead, salute you," said Professor White in Chapel, Monday morning; and straightway, he went about disproving, in a most convincing way, any idea that the classicists are on the road to "dusty death." Whatever we may have thought before, Professor White's report of the Annual Meeting of the Classical Association at Wesleyan must have convinced us that the study of the classics is very much alive, despite the serious blows inflicted by the war.

Even with bad weather, a rather small audience of a hundred people, and the unpromising titles of the earlier addresses—"Notes of the Latin Perfect Indicative" and "The Latinisms in Shakespeare's Diction"—even with these drawbacks, Professor White tells us, the convention was a success. The practical aspect of the study of Greek was evidenced by a comparison of the ancient Greeks with the modern French. Problems in teaching were discussed until the "imperative call of dinner interfered."

That the study of Greek is by no means a thing of the past was shown by the large number of students in the various colleges who are pursuing that subject. Amherst and Smith lead the list with over a hundred students in each college studying Greek. Wellesley, Yale, Williams, Wesleyan, have large classes. Bates has 85, Colby 10, Bowdoin 6, and Maine no students studying Greek.

All members of the 1919-20 ECHO board are advised that the pictures they ordered are ready. 75c. Spinney, A. T. O. House.

THE COLLEGE PAGEANT

June 29, 1920, will be an eventful day for Colby. On that day the history of what Colby has done and has meant to the world will be presented in the most graphic form possible—a pageant.

The Pageant of Colby, apparently, is to be a huge success. With Miss Lotta Clark as director, it can not be otherwise. It was more than could reasonably be expected that Miss Clark would oversee the affair in person; but, we are pleased to say, she has become so much interested in the college that she has decided to give her own attention to the work. Miss Clark has studied and taught pageantry for twelve years, being a founder and a member of the board of directors of the American Pageant Association. She directed the "Pageant of the Perfect City," in Boston; "The Pageant of the Y. W. C. A.," in the same city; "The Pageant of Hollis, N. H.;" "The United States War Camp Pageant," and others. She has also given courses in pageantry at the University of Wisconsin, Boston University and Delaware College.

There are to be but three or four rehearsals; but with an enthusiastic and hardworking cast this number should be sufficient. Some idea of the magnitude of the affair can be gained from the fact that there will be five hundred characters in the cast, every student participating. No better stage could be found than the pageant field back of Hedman Hall where the slope insures a view for the entire audience, and the trees are so arranged that they form a natural background.

With all these factors contributing toward success, there is high hope that the Pageant of Colby will be one of the best ever seen in the state.

THE ECHO HEARS—

That the "Y" is to renovate the old Y. M. C. A. room in Recitation Hall.

That it is to be used as a rest room, parcel-checking room, and for similar purposes, during Commencement.

That McCormack took second prize (a gold medal) in the 10-mile road race at Portland, Memorial Day.

That Conary came in fourth, and won a valuable thermos bottle.

That "Eccey" Macdonald says every professor has his favorite expression—his chestnut.

That "Eccey's" is the "national dividend"—the loaf of bread, which is "getting dried up, now."

That Colby should have some sort of fraternity legislation on rushing.

That the chapel exercises were never better than they are now.

That everyone (students and faculty alike) should have a little more regard for the "fixed boundaries" of the campus walks.

That John Burroughs, the eminent naturalist and author, has accepted the position of Inspirational President in The Wantonit Club, a nature study organization founded by Professor Brown.

That final examinations start on Friday, June 18th.

That election of courses takes place June 17th.

That Dr. Little and the second year geology class went on a two days' field trip to Bar Harbor last week.

That the big athletic carnival at Lewiston comes next Saturday, June 12th.

That, in helping the former service man Sunday, Prex again proved himself a real humanitarian.

That the varsity nine trimmed the Maine Central Car Shops 3 to 2, last Wednesday night.

THE BOOMERANG

I went into the Chapel just about a year ago
The night before a baseball game and, buddy, do
you know
I found the pews were empty, and the hymn books strewn around,
A coat of dust on ev'rything, and not a blooming sound;
The windows shut, panes closed, walls echoed at my tread?
I wrung my hands and cried aloud, "Is Colby spirit dead?"

I went into the Chapel not so very long ago,
The night before a baseball game and, buddy, do
you know
I found the pews were filled with men, and some were standing round,
The "Weas" was on the platform—and did I hear a sound?
The dust was in the air, and the cobwebs swept away,
Thru windows wide our cheers proclaimed that it was Colby's day!
The band was in full blast and the crowd just sang like mad
Our "On to Victory" and the hearts of all were glad.
Old Colby fight, old Colby pep, and spirit held the throne.
We have regained our souls; we have come into our own!

COLBY For COLBY MEN For COLBY

The following editorial, written by E. B. White, editor-in-chief of the "Cornell Daily Sun," has previously been reprinted in several college papers. It has so many merits that the ECHO is printing it here in its entirety, under its original title:

"The King's English."

"Except for the Bowery brogue, there is probably nothing that can compare with the undergraduate vernacular when it comes to setting a standard for English 'as she is spoke'. Persons coming from foreign parts are astounded at the strange tongue, and are somewhat embarrassed at having to ask for interpretations.

"There are several very remarkable things about the every-day speech of the average undergraduate. One is that it can run along with ease on a minimum number of words; and another is that it is quite expressive within the limited student circle, and quite unintelligible elsewhere. It consists in the main of ten or twelve coined phrases and a certain number of high explosives, built upon a foundation of the usual grammar school verbiage. Add to this the fact that it is rendered with very little motion on the part of the organs of enunciation, so that five words very easily merge into one, and a passing conversation sounds something like this:

"'Jevvernoim?'"

"'No, jew?'"

"For these reasons the undergraduate tongue has limitations. Although it may be entirely adequate upon most occasions, when put to the test it is often found wanting. Once in a while the student finds himself in a situation where a ban is put on the high explosives. Robbed of these he falls back in disorder on the ten phrases and the verbiage. And then, mayhap, there comes a time when even the phrases have to be forsaken, and he finds himself groping for a word. Little delicacies of expression are entirely beyond his reach. He is unable to express the shades of meaning which are in his mind. Bereft of his one means of conveying an impression forcefully, he listens to his prattle in dismay, and marvels at its weakness and childishness. It is only in such a position that he realizes what an elusive thing a word can be, and wishes he had taken a course in public speaking—his idea of the way to learn to speak.

"It is unfortunate that in a university community very little attention is paid to the acquisition of a universally acceptable power of expression. Any one can develop a code of expletives with a little practice, and the unique phrases can be picked up within twenty-four hours after their inception. So the undergraduate goes blithely along on the strength of these flimsy subterfuges, occasionally remarking that he would like to have a good vocabulary and never taking the trouble to acquire one.

"Fluency of speech is a distinct asset to any man, and the college man that graduates without having gained even an orderly method of expression has taken stock neither of himself nor of his opportunities. There is too great a tendency to say the easy thing, too little to say the accurate thing.

"We have a good language—why not use it?"

The next issue of the ECHO, June 16, will be the last for the year.

By a large vote, Dartmouth recently went on record as opposed to the "Honor System."

1920 FOOTBALL PROSPECTS.

With the baseball season over and track activities nearly completed, the Colby students are naturally enough beginning to size up our chances on the grid-iron next fall. It is never safe however to predict any form of athletics but the football fans are sure that whatever football material Colby has to offer will be developed to the best possible efficiency. For the last few years students have been dissatisfied with the training our men have received but next year surely no one can offer this as an excuse for defeat. Colby is exceedingly fortunate in securing Coach McAuliffe for the coming year. He is a man of enviable reputation both in playing and coaching the game. "Jack" McAuliffe is to have plenty of excellent material to work with in spite of the fact that Colby loses six regulars this year.

Although Bucknam and Jacobs will certainly be missed in the backfield there will be plenty of men to fill these positions. Sullivan played a fine game of ball at half-back last fall and should under competent coaching develop into a star. Good, who three years ago in his Freshman year made his letter, and Loeffler, who played in the backfield at N. H. State, will be out for the backfield. "Weas" Grace and "Johnny" Lampher will have a try for quarter. McCracken, who played a great game here at Colby during the S. A. T. C., will be back and will undoubtedly make good in the backfield. Dewhirst of Hebron Academy is coming to Colby next fall and something good is expected of him by those who have seen him play. Other men are coming here from Higgins who have played in backfield positions.

In the line positions Colby will be fortunate for a large number of candidates will show up in the fall. From last year's squad "Moose" Cook and Moreland as guards, "Slim" Gulick and Bradley as tackles, "Doc" Weymouth as center, and Capt. Pulsifer, Wolman, and Dolbeare as ends will be here in the fall. From Coburn, Morse who was captain of that outfit this year will have a try for center. Hebron sends here, besides Dewhirst, Sawyer, who played center this year and also captained the team. Cratty of Coburn is considered a crack prep-school tackle. He will come to Colby next fall. Burrows, a lineman from Manchester, N. H., is also coming to Colby.

This list of candidates is of course necessarily very incomplete and the Colby students believe many more football men of merit will enter the college next fall. It is believed that Jack McAuliffe will be a big influence at the college next year and that with the good turn-out of football men that is assured and with the loyal support of the entire student body Colby can make up completely last fall's unfortunate record.

SENIOR RECEPTION.

President and Mrs. Arthur J. Roberts entertained Monday evening at their home on College avenue in honor of the members of the Senior class, members of the faculty and their wives, and a few invited guests. The house was attractively decorated in summer flowers. Six members of the Junior class of the women's division assisted in serving.

COLBY TO CELEBRATE

Colby College is soon to celebrate its one hundredth birthday and that fittingly too. The attendance of every graduate and undergraduate is being urged by the various committees which have been working for some time on the details of the program which will include a gigantic historical pageant portraying the history of the College, a Memorial Service to be held in honor of Colby men who fell in the World War, the presentation of medals to all Colby graduates and undergraduates who saw service in the war, and an anniversary dinner, which taken all in all, will probably be the most notable gathering ever held at the College.—The New Hampshire.
