RELAY TEAM CAPTURES FIRST HONORS

Beats Vermont and R. I. State

Colby duplicated her feat of last year and again wrested a victory from Rhode Island State and the University of Vermont, at the B. A. A. games, last Saturday night. The blue and gray runners set the pace and carried it all the way. The Rhode Island men put up a game fight during the first two relays, but Smith of Vermont got past Fort on the third leg, and drew up on McGarry, the leader. In the final relay, Foran ran for Colby, Granger for Vermont, and O'Connell for Rhode Island. Vermont proved threatening in the last relay, but Captain Foran showed the "old fight" and brought home "the bacon." Colby's time was 3m. 55 3-5s.

The teams were as follows: Colby (G. W. Brier, E. C. Niles, J. W. McGarry, N. W. Foran); Vermont (D. E. Whelton, J. L. Shepard, W. W. Smith, L. P. Granger); Rhode Island (M. R. Smith, J. V.

Tower, W. S. Fort, H. J. O'Connell). Order of finish: Colby, Vermont, Rhode Island.

COLBY CAPTURES SECOND PLACE

Bowdoin Wins at Millrose Games

The Colby relay team, victorious over Rhode Island State and the University of Vermont at the B. A. A. games last Saturday night, succeeded in obtaining second place in its race at the Millrose A. A. games, Madison Square Garden, New York, last evening. The Colby aggregation competed in the mile relay against teams from Bowdoin, New York University, and Brooklyn College. The order of finish was Bowdoin, Colby, New York University, and Brooklyn College. The time was 3m. 37 1-5s.

COLBY MAN PRESIDENT MAINE SENATE

On Monday, February 7, Charles Edwin Gurney, '98, was elected President of the Maine Senate, succeeding Percival P. Baxter, who was elevated to the Governorship thru the death of Governor Parkhurst.

ROTARY CLUB TO ENTERTAIN

On Friday evening, the Rotary Club of Waterville will entertain the members of the senior class of the men's division, at the Elmwood Hotel. President R. H. Sturtevant has scheduled a meeting, for the purpose of arranging for songs, etc., to take place in the chapel Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, sharp. Let everyone who wishes to make the entertainment Friday night a success be at this meeting on time.

CHALLENGE TO ICE BATTLE

In order to stimulate interest in hockey at Colby, the Delta Kappa Epsilon team challenges any aggregation of "ice men" to a hockey game, to be played at any time suitable to both teams.

NOTICE!

As mid year examinations come next week, no ECHO will be published, following the custom of past years.

"GINGER" FRASER

Speaker at "Y" Meeting Tuesday Evening

"GINGER" FRASER AT "Y" MEETING

"Ginger" Fraser, former Colby gridiron star, now teaching and coaching at Coburn, gave a forceful, inspiring talk at the "Y" meeting last night. After a rousing song service, "Ginger" spoke on the different phases of a college man's duty toward the community.

He said that the outside world is not much different from college life. There are the same problems here in college that we will meet outside. We are endowed with certain faculties for the living of our lives. Will we entrust these weapons to pagan religion or any other but Christianity? The latter is the only safe trust. "Ginger" said that he never knew a real Christian who was not happy. He called for quiet determination rather than brass band enthusiasm which wanes as easily as it rises. College men should think constructively. They should be absolutely unselfish in their attitude toward their communities. They should be the leaders of these communities.

The meeting commenced promptly at 7.30 and closed at 8 sharp—30 worth while minutes. Did you miss it? Too bad!

GET-TOGETHER A BIG SUCCESS

Even tho Prexy's eleventh-hour veto prevented the members of the Women's Division from attending the athletic night held in the gym last Thursday night, nevertheless a good sized gathering turned out and witnessed the interesting events that Coach Ryan had scheduled. The gym was filled with college men, faculty members, and people from the city and near-by preparatory schools. The evening's entertainment opened with a basketball game between the seniors and juniors. The seniors won by the small margin of one basket, secured in the last minute of play. The final score was 22-20. The line-up was as follows:

Seniors

	Goals	Foul	Points
Song, lf	0	0	0
Smith, rf	4	3	11
Dunnack, c	5	1	11
Bailey, rg	0	0	0

Mayo, rg	0	0	0
Williams, lf	0	0	0
	9	2	20

Referee: O'Brien; timer: Dr. Parmenter. Time: 2 15-min. periods.

The next event was the tug-of-war between the sophomores and freshmen. Altho the yearlings had a husky team, the sophomores pulled consistently and won the match. Frude, as anchor man, and Odom, Guite, Jacques and Hedman pulled for '23, while Enholm, anchor man, together with Cratty, Watters, Fitzgerald and Sammis represented '24. The pull lasted three minutes.

The third event was the high jump. Captain Haines easily captured first honors in this, clearing the bar at 5 feet 2. Hearon was second, with Dolbeare placing third.

The potato race, which was next on the schedule, was won by Eugene Smith, with Leonard Mayo second and Cole third.

Then came the indoor shot put. As was to be expected "Moose" Cook came off with top place in this event. Harold Morse placed second, and "Swede" Enholm third.

Mike Ryan and Putnam then demonstrated a few fundamentals in the boxing game.

The "Weas" delivered a speech and issued track outfits to the members of the relay team,—“Nemo” Foran, “Joe” McGarry, “Bill” Brier, and “Eddie” Niles.

Two boxing bouts were staged, the first between Grande and “Kid” Bishop, the second between Pollock and Bickmore.

“Joe” Hois was on deck, with his famous “simplex-six” band of thirteen pieces. “On to Victory” was played by the band after the athletic events were over, and the gathering was preparing to leave.

CONDITIONS AT COLBY FLAYED BY MEMBERS PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASS

Last Friday night, February 4, the annual speaking contest of the Advanced Public Speaking Class was held in the college chapel. Professor Clarence H. White presided, and introduced the ten men who proceeded to lay bare the evils existing about Colby. Unfortunately, perhaps, the audience was rather small, as the speakers said some things that should attract the interest of every Colby student. President Roberts, in his talk at chapel Monday morning, characterized the speeches as “a vicious arraignment” of the college, and noted, in contrast, the pledges of fealty given by the New York alumni at their annual banquet the same evening. The speeches were forceful and well delivered, altho most of the “glaring evils” were over-emphasized for oratorical effect.

Following is a list of the speakers, in the order in which they spoke:

1. The Track Situation at Colby, Thomas R. Cook, '22.
2. In Defense of the Student, Clyde E. Russell, '22.
3. Colby's Obligations to Her Athletes, Arthur R. Mills, '21.
4. The Fraternities and Scholarship, Donald A. Shaw, '21.
5. Advertising Our College, Leonard W. Mayo, '22.
6. The Dying Spirit, William F. Cushman, '22.
7. Colby's Religion, Clifford Peaslee, '22.
8. Is Colby Progressive? Ashley L. Bickmore, '22.
9. Colby's Part in Life's Preparation, William C. Dudley, '21.
10. The “Old Fight” Questioned, Clark Drummond, '21.

“TRAVELS AS A DONKEY”

Army Life Depicted

That we were to hear a purely Colby product, as well as a Colby professor, was the fact brought out by Professor Chipman, himself a Colby graduate, in introducing Professor Cecil A. Rollins as the third speaker for the Library Fund. Though the absence of the social lions of the college was distinctly noticeable, a fair-sized and appreciative audience was present.

Professor Rollins is a quiet, conversational, and decidedly witty speaker. He said that his subject—“Travels as a Donkey” had been meditated upon many a time when he was laboring under a pack containing all the equipment for light house-keeping, all the furnishings of a pup tent, the china, tableware, clothes, toilet articles, ammunition, accoutrements and other incidentals carried by a United States infantryman or musician.

He began his story with the eventful life on an army transport, in which the daily routine is—eat, sleep, eat and sleep, ditto, and do it again, and so forth. Interrupted though it was by a real “sub,” which had to be disposed of, it was not on the whole too nerve-racking.

By long skips he went to Brest, where—mirabile dictu—it was not raining, to the interior palatial accommodations, and to a sleepy little French village where was enacted the great melodrama—“Keeping Warm—An Epic of the A. E. F.”

It was a drama constantly interspersed with interludes under the suggestive titles—“A Night Fight with Jack Frost” or “Ten Below in a Box-Car.” It was here that he earned the distinguished service cross having, on an especially cold day, taken his life, his shaving kit, and his towel in his right hand and sallied forth for the sole purpose of beautifying the countenance of Musician Rollins.

The armistice signed, he visited the Alps and the Mediterranean coast, but best of all was the trip that ended after skirting the Jersey coast, and after paying respects to Miss Liberty, when the ship tied up at Hoboken, U. S. A.

Professor (while discussing law of apperception in psychology, writes word “bay” on blackboard)—“What idea do you immediately associate with this?”

Student—“The bay of a hound.”

Professor—“Yes. I take it that you're a dog fancier.”

Setto voice—“Hot dog.”

PRESS OF THE CITY JOB PRINT

It seems good to see Colby athletic teams getting back into the winning column after the setback caused by the war.—The Waterville Sentinel.

Last Monday evening, ten men deliberately criticised Colby in uncompromising terms. Whether they were justified or not is entirely a matter of opinion, yet one fact stands out. With two exceptions, the attacks were leveled not at the equipment of the college, not at the administration, not at the faculty, the trustees, or the alumni, but straight at the student body.

In New York, at the same time, a band of Colby alumni were eulogising their college in the most glowing terms. They had no criticisms to offer, theirs was a paean of gratitude. Yet who shall say who had and who had not, Colby spirit?

We have not the slightest idea of disparaging the motives of those New York alumni. It would, of course, be unthinkable. And yet we do not believe that the motives of the critics were any less worthy than those of the eulogists. It is even possible that the results, (if there had been any) would have been as worth while.

As one of the speakers said, "There has been altogether too much destructive, tearing-down, criticism." Yet who shall deny the value of earnest, sincere criticism, whether or not it be in accordance with their ideas?

PHI DELTA THETA HOUSE WARMING

The Maine Alpha chapter of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity entertained at a house warming for its alumni at its Chapter House Tuesday evening. The evening's program included vocal solos by Roswell Sadd, '24, violin solos by Lee Nichols, '24, selections by a jazz trio, readings by Edward T. Baxter, ex-'23. Speeches were made by Newton L. Nourse,
'19, J. Foster Choate, '20, and Bernard E. Esters,
'21. Refreshments were served. The committee in charge comprised Esters, Hois, and Hersum.

PHI DELTS LEAD COLLEGE BOWLERS

Last week's bowling was marked by a neck and neck race among the leaders, which ended with Phi Delta Theta leading by a narrow margin. Merrill still holds high string honors with 133. Lovely is still high man for the three string total with 338.
The Phi Delta Theta hold the team single total with 492, and the team total with 1,413. The comparative standing is as follows:

P. D. T.	30	10	.833

MANY STILL DELINQUENT

Many students who subscribed for the COLBY
ECHO have not yet paid their $1.50 for the year.

Obviously, the ECHO cannot be published unless its finances are sound. Are YOU one of those students who have been "intending to pay" for your college weekly? If so, be ready when the business manager or his assistants call upon you. Better still,—why not anticipate his move and call upon him? All subscriptions remaining unpaid at the beginning of next semester will be dropped from the mailing list. Get busy!

SOPHOMORE HOP BIG SUCCESS

The annual Sophomore Hop, held in Elks hall Monday evening, easily proved to be one of the most successful social affairs of the year. The hall was decorated with the usual fraternity and sorority banners. Dancing began at 7.30 and lasted until 11.30. The music for the evening was especially good, being furnished by a combined Colby and Bowdoin string orchestra with Raymond Daniels, '22, at the piano. The hosts and hostesses were President and Mrs. Arthur J. Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. J. William Black, and Dean Runnals. Those in the receiving line were Frederick G. Fassett, Jr., president of the class in the men's division, Miss Melva Mann, president of the class in the women's division, and the hosts and hostesses. The committee in charge of the dance was: Raymond H. Daniels, Delmont Bishop, Floyd McIntyre, and Elliot Chase. The caterers were The Spear Folks.

THE LETTER BOX

To the Editor of the Echo:—

If there is no law in this college against the promiscuous removal from the bulletin board of posters and notices by over-zealous souvenir hunters, I firmly believe that the culprit should thoroughly understand the seriousness of their act. To that end I wish to say that several times lately the writer has had occasion to post notices of meetings and very often the notice or poster has been thoughtlessly removed within a very short time. The success of a meeting depends on how many students are reached by the notice so that, when said notice is rushed out of sight before the public has had a chance to learn about what is going on, failure is liable to ensue. The only time when a collector should be conscientiously justified in plying his trade is after the affair advertised has taken place or the subject posted fulfilled its mission.

Courteous regard of this obligation will do away with much uncertainty and many complications.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Tuesday, Feb. 1, the Y. W. C. A. meeting was led by Misses Annie Burgess and Edna Chamberlain. "Following Christ Through Friendship" was the topic. Special music was furnished by Misses Dorothy Crawford and Elizabeth Larrabee.

The meaning and value of friendship was well emphasized, and the meeting proved pleasingly helpful to all who attended.

On Saturday evening, behind closed doors, three members of the Dramatic Club entertained the other members. After the presentation of an original production by the hostess the Club read George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman."

Any girl who thinks Literary Society is dry and uninteresting would have a different opinion had she attended the meeting Thursday evening. All who were present thoroughly enjoyed the humorous "Nonsense Novels" of Stephen Peacock which were read by Gladys Briggs and Marion Cummings. Come Thursday night and see for yourself just how entertaining Literary Society can be. Special attraction—unique musical selections!

Every Colby girl may well be proud of the spirit of loyalty and cooperation which was manifested so nobly Thursday noon. Such a spirit does much for Colby. Let's keep it!

The Kappa Alphas had a beef steak "feed" Friday evening.

Marion Bibber, '23, has been called home by the illness of her mother.

STORE with the WHITE FRONT

: BOYS :

This is the College Store

NEVER in the history of over 30 years in business has this store recorded so many sales of Clothing to the College Boys as it has this past year.

We would like to say that this store is today selling mdse. at 30 to 50% under price of four months ago. We are buying clothing every day and selling it over our counters at a considerable saving to those who buy. High prices have gone, and this is one store, regardless of what we paid, dropped our prices when the market dropped.
