:: LAW ::

The Boston University Law School

Trains students in the principles of the law and in the technique of the profession so as to best prepare them for active practice wherever the English system of law prevails.

America's new place in international politics and commerce challenges the young American.

He must equip himself for new world conditions with a knowledge of legal fundamentals.

LAW—Its principles and application to all business is almost as necessary to the coming business man as it is indispensable to the lawyer.

Special scholarships ($75 per year) are awarded to college graduates.

Course for LL. B. requires 3 school years. Those who have received this degree from this or any other approved school of law may receive LL. M. on the completion of one year's resident attendance under the direction of Dr. Melville M. Bigelow. Several $25 and $50 scholarships open in this course.

COLBY REPEATS MAINE SCORE ON EASTERNS

In a drizzle of rain on Seaverns field last Saturday afternoon, the Colby baseballers followed up their 9-6 victory over the University of Maine last Tuesday by doing the identical thing to the Eastern A. A. That is, the score was identical. The game was much better in respect to playing, than was the U. of M. exhibition. The first inning was the tightest of the whole session. The A. A. scored a run in the second, when Smith got to first on a hit, stole second when Verrill flied out, advanced to third on pitcher's error, and came home on Feeney's hit. Colby tied things up in the next frame, Captain Taylor coming through. The next three innings were uneventful for the Easterners, although Colby got a one run lead in the fifth, when Azzara batted for M. Daniels. Cobb relieved Daniels in the first of the sixth, and the Easterns promptly found him for four runs. It began to rain in bucketsful, and Colby's hopes went glimmering. In their half of the sixth, however, they filled the bases, and Ray Daniels, who had gone out once and fanned once, slammed out a three bagger in big league style. Four runs came in during this inning which made the score 6-5. In the next frame the Easterners evened matters up, Doc Dwyer coming through this time. In her half of the lucky seventh, Colby ran true to form, getting a three run lead by means of Good's three bagger, the score standing 9-6, which it remained for the rest of the game.

There was evidence of considerable improvement on the part of the Blue and Gray over the showing made against the U. of M. The game was a harder one to play in that the ball and the field were wet and slippery and that there was a cold north wind blowing. On the whole there were fewer errors, and the fielding was much cleaner than in the Maine exhibition. The box work was perhaps the weakest part of the program. Feeney was on the mound for the Easterns against his former teammates, and pitched a good brand of ball. He was supplanted in the sixth by Shaw, and it was in the sixth and seventh that Colby did most of her scoring. The score:

COLBY AT THE STUDENT CONFERENCE

Held Here April 22, 23, 24

With the Colby band and the Colby delegation at the head of the procession, the delegates to the 39th Annual State Student Conference marched to the Armory, Friday night, for the first number on the program,—a sumptuous banquet. The festivities were formally opened by "Colby the long way" from the 40 or 50 Colby men present. Cheering augmented by the singing of "On to Victory" was constant during the evening.

After the "feed," there were speeches of welcome and acceptances of the same followed by an address by Dr. A. G. Noehren on "Conditions in India." Judge Mansur, as toastmaster, kept the wires hot with wit.

Saturday morning and afternoon were taken up by sectional conferences.

Saturday evening was college night. A representation from each college spoke on the "Value of Extra-Curriculum Activities in Preparation for leadership." "Spike" Farnum spoke for Colby.

Harry E. Dodge of Fall River delivered a timely address at a mass meeting at the first Baptist church Sunday afternoon and also spoke at the final service, Sunday evening.

Twenty-nine official delegates from Colby attended all or part of the conference meetings. Many of the visiting delegates were entertained at the fraternity houses. The conference members were guests of the Colby Athletic Association at the game, Saturday afternoon. The boys were shown around the campus by guides, before the ball game.

CONFERENCE AT BROWN

The New England Officers' Training Conference for leaders of College Christian Association will be held at Brown University, April 29, 30, and May 1, 1921. Among the speakers are: G. Sherwood Eddy, David R. Porter, and E. Fay Campbell who, by the way, is planning to visit Colby in May.

Beside these inspiring speakers there will be live discussions led by students, local, state and field secretaries.

The conference convenes with the banquet at 6.30 P. M., April 29, and closes with the final session on Sunday, 7-9 P. M.

Colby is planning to send at least one delegate to attend these meetings.

Like "Way Down East," the Colby Concert will "never be shown at less than first class prices." May 3!

HALLOWELL CONTEST IN MAY

Some time in May, the annual Hallowell Prize Speaking Contest is to take place. Prizes aggregating $100 will be distributed as follows: First, $50; second, $25; third, $15; fourth, $10. These prizes are the gift of Florentius M. Hallowell, '77, of Kearney, Nebraska. This is the twelfth contest to be held. The following men from the class in Public Speaking 6 have been chosen to compete in the finals: Asa C. Adams, '22; Basil B. Ames, '23; Arthur L. Berry, '23; Arthur J. Brimstine, '21; Paul L. Brooks, '21; Stanley G. Estes, '23; Clifton E. Lord, '23; Anson C. Lowitz, '23; Floyd T. McIntyre, '23; Julian H. Patten, '23; Evan J. Shearman, '22.

MASSACHUSETTS MEN ATTENTION

There are approximately fifty of us at Colby. A few, who had the time and the incentive, have drawn up a constitution and set of laws for a real snappy organization to be known officially as the MASSACHUSETTS CLUB. We can do no more. It is up to you, the majority, to support the organization. We want to see just as many, and more, Massachusetts men at Colby in future years. That is the main reason why we want a MASSACHUSETTS CLUB. Get behind this club now and push. Help make it a success. Every man in Colby who is a bona-fide resident of Massachusetts is eligible and we want him to join.

This is not a financial enterprise; it is not a "feed" society; it is a bond of mutual understanding and fellowship among those who love Massachusetts and wish to perpetuate her name at Colby.

Watch for the announcement of the first official meeting of YOUR club, the all-Massachusetts society and attend it. Your aid and support are needed.

NEIL F. LEONARD, '21,

EUGENE V. SMITH, '23,

Find out the reason that all Berlin turned out to see the Glee Clubs! May 3.

PHI DELT DANCE

The Phi Delta Theta Fraternity entertained last Friday evening, at an informal house dance. There were about thirty couples in attendance. Music for dancing was furnished by a four-piece orchestra, and there were several tables at cards. The house was decorated with the fraternity colors and palms were grouped with good effect. A buffet lunch was served during intermission. The patrons and patronesses were: President and Mrs. Arthur J. Roberts, Dean Nettie M. Runnals, and Professor Euclid Helie. The committee comprised Esters, '21, Hois, '21, and Hersum, '21.

BUSINESS AND RELIGION

"Ivory soap is Christian soap," said Mr. Harry W. Brown, '99, of Emery-Brown Co., Waterville, at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Tuesday night. "That is because Mr. Proctor and Mr. Gamble, the makers, are Christian men and they practice Christianity in the operation of their business. There are so many firms that are apparently succeeding thru immoral methods that one might easily claim that business and religion have no relations with each other. Wanamaker, when asked why businesses conducted on wrong principles are apparently so successful, replied that he had seen seven large stores in New York rise up and flourish for a time on an immoral basis but that one by one they fell. 'The wicked flourish for a season'."

Mr. Brown said that he was almost tempted to say that practically all the biggest concerns in the country were conducted by Christian men or were run on Christian principles. However, he did mention many prominent examples: Mr. Cluett, maker of the Arrow collar, is President of the Y. M. C. A. in Troy, N. Y.; Mr. Colgate, maker of the Colgate toilet furnishings, is one of the finest Christian men in the country and a director of the international Y. M. C. A.; Mr. Huyler, the chocolate manufacturer, spends much time in work at the Jerry McCauley Mission in New York; Julius Rosenwold, head of the Sears-Roebuck firm, John Wanamaker and Heinz are other men prominent in the business world whom Mr. Brown mentioned as being outstanding Christians in character and business.

He said, "In any business controlled by the spirit of Christ, there can be no lock-outs, strikes, or unfair wages."

A certain man was asked to speak on what was the trouble with Christianity. He studied the question and came to the conclusion that the principles of Christianity were sound but the fault was usually with the methods of applying these principles. He decided to apply the Golden Rule to his own business—a small, weak one. Within a year they moved the business into much larger quarters and within another year the business of the firm had increased 1000%—almost a miracle. Profit-sharing schemes were introduced on the basis of amount of salary. The high-salary men, naturally receiving most under this plan, themselves petitioned that the profits be divided on the basis of time expended—an unheard of thing—so that the old and weaker and more deserving employees got a bigger bonus. That's how the practice of the Golden Rule worked in that particular firm.

Solos, jazz quintets, 'neverything just to make laughter reign for one evening. May 3.

TRACK MEN LEAVE THURSDAY

The Colby contestants to the Pennsylvania games will leave at 9 o'clock Thursday morning. The meet is to take place at Philadelphia, April 29 and 30. Colby will be represented in the relay (probably against Catholic University, Washington and Jefferson, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, etc.) in the two-mile run, the 220-yard dash, and in the discus throw. In addition to Coach Ryan and Manager Grace, the following men will probably go: George W. Brier, Alan Mercer, Joseph W. McGarry, N. W. Foran, Herbert A. Perkins, and Curtis A. Haines.

LYFORD CONTEST, MAY 6

Twenty-eight preparatory schools have now signified their intentions of sending contestants to the annual Lyford Prize Speaking Contest, which will be held here, May 6. The entries to date are as follows: Holyoke, Mass., High; Classical High, Worcester, Mass.; Aroostook Classical Institute; South Portland High; Freedom Academy; New Gloucester High; Sangerville High; Lisbon Falls High; Bangor High; Gorham, N. H., High; Berwick Academy; Groveland, Mass., High; Leavitt Institute; Sanford High; Hebron Academy; Lewiston High; Monmouth Academy; Parsonsfield Seminary; Coburn Classical Institute; Edward Little High; Oak Grove Seminary; Deering High; Townsend, Mass., High; Camden High; Colby Academy, New London, N. H.; Litchfield Academy; Eastport High; Traip Academy.

Maurice E. Cobb, '24, sustained a broken finger in the ball game on Saturday last.

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA RELAY GAMES

Vacation is over, and with it went the last let-up in training for track candidates until the races shall be run off in Philadelphia, April 29 and 30.
There is much to be done from now until that time.
The track squad is willing to work hard and train consistently, but it must receive more support from the men of Colby. It is rather discouraging for a track athlete to go out every day and run with a few men—the faithful few. There is enthusiasm in numbers. Why can't more men get out on the track? If they cannot offer any competition, they can at least cheer the spirits of the varsity athletes by their presence. Students must further cooperate by assisting the athlete to train. Fraternity men should be a little more careful to see that their brother athlete gets all the sleep he needs and should make it hard, not easy, for him to break training by smoking, or the like.

The Pennsylvania meet is almost upon us and we want to make a good showing in Philadelphia.
The Colby alumni of that section are making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of our relay team and are now planning to organize as an alumni association.

Very little is accomplished by a rally the night before the boys leave, or by giving the team a rousing send-off at the station. The time to get behind the track squad is now!

H. C. W.

"Y" NIGHT AT HAINES

In order to raise a fund to enable Colby to send representatives to the great summer conference at Silver Bay, New York, a gigantic "Y" night will be observed at the Haines Theater, within a few weeks. The Colby Centennial Pictures have been engaged by the Association and will be shown that night, together with a skit by college talent and a feature film procured thru the courtesy of the manager of the Haines.

A big program, a big time, a BIG CAUSE.
Don't forget, "Y" night—coming soon.

SOPHOMORE DECLAMATION

The Sophomore Prize Declamation took place in the chapel, last Thursday evening. The eleven speakers chosen for excellence in the first year course in rhetoric, who took part are as follows:
John P. Tilton, Galen Eustis, Merton E. Laverty, Marguerite Starbird, Louise L. Steele, Ida F. Jones,
Myrtle G. Wells.

The first prize for the men was won by Lloyd J.
Treworgy; the second, by Frederick G. Fassett.
The first prize for the women was won by Melva M. Mann; the second, by Thelma A. Powers. The judges were: Professors Henry W. Brown, Herbert C. Libby, and Cecil A. Rollins. President Roberts presided.

Mark Twain died too young. He could have written a "best seller" on the Colby Musical Clubs

Among the recent speakers in chapel are Professor Woodman Bradbury, '87, Newton Theological Seminary, William C. Crawford, '82, Director, Boston Trade School, (both trustees of the college) and President Geer, of the Hartford Theological Seminary.

At their meeting in Portland, last Saturday, the trustees decided to adhere to the original plans for the coming commencement and not to change the date to June 15. June 21 will be observed as the 50th anniversary of the admittance of women to the college.

DR. MESERVE IN INTERESTING WORK.

Last April, Dr. Charles Francis Meserve, a former superintendent, spent a few delightful days visiting Superintendent and Mrs. Peairs and other friends and renewing old associations at Haskell and in Lawrence. Superintendent Peairs has requested him to write his recollections of Haskell Institute and he has consented to do so. He plans to write an article each month until the series is completed. Although Dr. Meserve was president of Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C., for 26 years, and is now president emeritus, he has kept up his interest in Indian affairs through his connection with the Mohonk Indian Conference and observation and study in the field. So as Superintendent Peairs has given him wide latitude, he proposes to give first his impressions of the schools he visited last year at Albuquerque, N. Mex., Phoenix, Ariz., Riverside, Calif., Chemawa, Oreg., and lastly Haskell.

He has also been requested to write a history of Shaw University, which work he has begun. In addition to this he is planning a sketch of his life and experiences in the South, under the title—"A Yankee in Dixie."

—Indian Leader, Lawrence, Kansas.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Save Saturday Evening, May 7

On Saturday evening, May 7, at the College chapel, the girls of the Junior and Freshman classes will present "Gypsy Operetta," a musical entertainment in two acts. Much time is being given in preparation, under skilled supervision. Pretty songs and pretty dances by pretty girls in pretty costumes!

The new Y. W. C. A. cabinet has had an unusual privilege in the visit of Miss Oolooah Burner, who has held three very valuable Round Table discussions with them, on the subject "Christian Fundamentals."

Miss Burner spoke also before the faculty ladies at a tea given by Mrs. Roberts last Sunday afternoon.

At a meeting of the Literary society Friday evening, Dr. Hannay spoke in an entertaining manner on Scotland. He related some of his experiences while there and described some of the places of literary fame which he visited. Dr. Hannay contrasted the life of Scotch students with that of American students and showed that American students had a much easier life. He concluded his lecture by reading in Scotch dialect a selection from "The Bonny Brier Bush" by Ian McLaren.

The following have been elected officers of the Literary society for next year:

President ..... Edna Briggs
Vice-President ..... Melva Mann
Secretary ..... Annie Brownstone
Treasurer ..... Vina Parent
Sergeant-at-Arms ..... Helen Libby

'How Hopeful

"How will you have your eggs?" asked the waitress.

"As well as could be expected under the circumstances," replied the absent-minded doctor.

YOU HAVE WRITTEN POEMS !

Do you care to have them revised or constructively criticised by successful authors? If you do, then send us your manuscript (stories, articles or poems). We will criticise, and place them should they prove to be acceptable for publication.

There is no actual charge for our services. If, however, you have not previously enrolled with the advisory department of this association, we request that you enclose the initial fee of two dollars, which we must ask of each new contributor. There is no additional expense, no future obligation.

It must be realized that we can only be of aid to those of serious intent. If you do mean to strive for literary success, we can help you in many ways. Our services are yours until we have actually succeeded in marketing at least one of your manuscripts. Send something to-day!

Please enclose return postage with your communications.

: BOYS :

This is the College Store

NEVER in the history of over 30 years in business has this store recorded so many sales of Clothing to the College Boys as it has this past year.

We would like to say that this store is today selling mdse. at 30 to 50% under price of four months ago. We are buying clothing every day and selling it over our counters at a considerable saving to those who buy. High prices have gone, and this is one store, regardless of what we paid, dropped our prices when the market dropped.
