SONS OF COLBY ENJOY BANQUET

Members of Organization
Guests of President Roberts at Annual Affair--
Thirty Men Present--Chief Justice Cornish Speaks.

The Society of the Sons of Colby, the members of the faculty who went to Colby, and Chief Justice Cornish of the Supreme Court of Maine were the guests of President Roberts for dinner at his house Thursday evening, January 11. The society comprises those undergraduates one or both of whose parents have attended this institution. This the third annual affair of the kind and the membership has increased from 15 to 22 since its organization. The purpose is chiefly social and to bring closer together those whose parents were college-mates before them. Another activity is to try to get other Colby Sons who are now in preparatory school to take their college courses at their father's Alma Mater. To accomplish this, a campaign of publicity and information was conducted last year with the result that 10 Colby Sons entered this fall.

The big table in President Roberts' house was set for 30 men and nearly filled the room. It was beautifully decorated and lighted with candles. The dinner was sumptuous and delightfully served. The conversation was graced by the anecdotes and reminiscences of Dr. Taylor and Judge Cornish. The President was a jovial host while Dr. Libby bubbled over with wit.

After the dinner, President Roberts enumerated the Colby connections of each of the society. It was found that the oldest class represented at the occasion was the class of 1838 which contained the great-grandfather of Francis Firth Bartlett, '26. The youngest class, on the other hand, to have a representative was the class of 1902 in which the father of Lloyd M. Dearborn, '25, graduated. Besides the great-grandson mentioned, four other of the boys were grandsons of Colby men, namely: John Russell Gow, '23; Joseph Coburn Smith, '24; Alfred King Chapman, '25; and Abbott Emerson Smith, '26. Five of the boys, also, having mothers who attended Colby: John Phillip Tilton, '23; John Albert Barnes, '24; Joseph Coburn Smith, '24; Francis Firth Bartlett, '26; and George Butler Barnes, '26.

Then President Roberts introduced Hon. Leslie Colby Cornish, of the class of 1875, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Maine. Judge Cornish exhibited some old documents showing some of the contributors to the funds that made possible the founding of "The Maine Literary and Theological Institution." Some of these showed in a graphic way the sacrifices of those who gave till it hurt that there might be this opportunity open to the boys of Maine to get a higher education. Judge Cornish spoke concerning his own college days and expressed his everlasting debt to his professors especially Prof. Samuel King Smith of the class of 1845, who was professor of rhetoric for 42 years, and to Dr. Julian Daniel Taylor of the class of 1868, who was also present at the dinner. Dr. Taylor was urged to speak but declined to make a formal address. The party was reluctantly forced to break up in order that Judge Cornish might catch the night train for Augusta.

The members of the faculty present were: Julian D. Taylor, '68; Frank B. Hubbard, '84; Arthur J. Roberts, '00; Herbert C. Libby, '02; Charles P. Chipman, '06; Nathaniel E. Wheeler, '09; Lester F. Weeks, '15; Herbert L. Newman, '18.

The following are the members of the Society of the Sons of Colby, with their Colby connections:

The father of Joseph Coburn Smith, '24, of Skowhegan is perhaps the best known parent of the "Sons of Colby." This is very fitting, for Smith is the president of the organization. George Otis Smith graduated from Colby in the class of '08. He is a nationally known figure through being director of the United States Geological Survey. At the present moment, he is a member of President Warren G. Harding's coal fact finding commission. This commission is composed of seven men, all appointed by reason of their being possessed of expert knowledge on the subject of coal. On this commission

--Z. P.'S Defeat L.C.A.'S

The interfraternity basket ball league got under way Tuesday, January 16, with a game between the D. U. and Non-Fraternity teams. The competition this year will be very keen as several of the fraternities have fast aggregations.

The game between the D. U.'s and Non-Frats, was a surprise to the dopsters. The D. U. five were conceded an easy victory, but were fortunate in landing on the long end of a 25 to 20 score. The individual stars of the afternoon were Keith for the frat men and Chafetz for the non-fraternity five.

THORNTON BURGESS COMING HERE.

The Colby Alumnae of Waterville have another entertainment in store for Waterville people in the person of Thornton Waldo Burgess, who will be in Waterville, Wednesday, March 28. Mr. Burgess is the renowned writer of "Bodimo Stories." He was born in Sandwich, Mass., in 1874. He has been associated all his life with magazine and newspaper work, as well as being a well-known author of children's stories. He has been associated with the editor of "Good Housekeeping," and everyone knows his "Bodimo Stories" in the Boston Herald. He will speak in the afternoon so that all the children especially may hear him. He is particularly fine and Waterville is fortunate to be able to have the opportunity of hearing him. The place will be announced later.

GENERAL LORD, '84 TO ADDRESS ALUMNI

Distinguished Alumnus to Speak to Western Maine
Alumni Association Luncheon on February 7.

Gen. Herbert M. Lord, of the class of 1884, is to address the Western Maine Alumni Association at a luncheon to be held in Portland on Wednesday, February 7.

The Alumni Association is fortunate in securing Gen. Lord to speak on the National Budget, and thus give Colby Alumni an opportunity to hear the directing head of our new budget system describe that most important financial and economic measure. Because of the importance of his work and because of his high position in the field of public finance, it is believed many alumni will wish to hear Gen. Lord. The Alumni Association has asked THE ECHO to announce that all Colby men will be welcome and that any planning to attend the luncheon should so advise Rex W. Dodge, 186 Middle street, Portland, Me.

COLBY LOSES FIRST GAME TO BATES

Lack of Training Apparent in Waterville Aggregation as Lewiston Squad Gets Long End of 5-0 Score.

The Colby hockey team received its first set back of the season at Lewiston, January 13. The Bates ice team succeeded in placing themselves on the long end of a 5 to 0 score. Colby started her first competition of the season, having had two nights on the ice without scrimmage. It was the old story of condition coming to the front.

Bates did not excel particularly in stick handling or in defensive tactics. In the first period and in the early part of the third, the Blue and Gray had the edge on the Garnet, and only failed to score through the good work of the Bates defense.

Huhn, McGowan and Ratcliffe all through the game skated past the entire Bates team, only to lose the puck before reaching a scoring position.

Bates displayed a good brand of hockey during the game, scored through individual rather than team effort, and owed their success to the inability of the Colby forwards to skate fast at all points of the game.

Joe Cogan, Garnet center, starred for the Lewiston aggregation, pushing two tallies through the Colby defense.

Leonardi was the first to score. After four minutes of play, he shot a fast one from right wing which eluded Captain Berry of Colby. R. Stanley, playing defense for the first time, got away just before the close of the first period and scored from center ice.

In the second period saw Bates threatened several times. Cogan slipped one past Berry on a pass-out by J. Stanley.

The third period was somewhat slower. Bates gave some of her subs a chance to show what they had. In this last period Leonard and Cogan both succeeded in netting the puck.

Bates worked well in the defense, but her forwards failed to check back fast enough to prevent the Colby wing men from making considerable distance in every dash. Here was where the Colby forwards excelled. For Colby, McGowan and Huhn were the beacon light. Captain "Jack" Berry, the Colby netman, played a steady game.

Waugh addressed the chapter on the subject "Our Bond." Stanley G. Estes, '23, outlined the plans of the fraternity for the future.

William Cheney Dudley, '21, who was one of the charter members of the organization gave a history of what the fraternity had been and told of the ideals which the founders of the fraternity had.

Dr. Thomas E. Ashcraft was to have spoke for the faculty but was unable to attend because of sickness.

The committee in charge was: Stanley G. Estes, Carleton E. Bennett, and Edward H. Merrill. The initiates are as follows: Kenneth W. Bragdon of Westbrook; S. Arnold Callahan of Camden, Leslie E. Payne was the only man from the cross country squad to be awarded a letter during the last season.

HEALTH RALLY HELD.

Thursday evening in the assembly room at Foss hall a short health rally was held. Miss Doris Wyman, '23, president of the league presided. There were several stunts intermingled with class and college songs and cheers. Speeches were made by Miss Wyman and the Misses Doris Dickey, '23, head of basketball; Mildred Collins, '23, head of volley ball; Helen Pratt, '24, head of skating. The purpose was to arouse enthusiasm for winter sports and also to remind the girls that good health rules are a great help during the mid-year examinations.

BOWDOIN TAKES CLOSE GAME FROM COLBY PUCK CHASERS

Brunswick Aggregation Gets Long End of 3 to 2 Score in First Game Ever Played on Colby Rink--Both Teams Show Improvement Since Game with Bates.

The initial game on the new Colby rink, Saturday, January 20, between Colby and Bowdoin was the first contest in hockey ever played on the campus in a championship series. The dedication was quite a success although the Brunswickers took away the bacon with the close score of 3 to 2.

The game was one of the best ever seen in this section of the state. At no time was the final decision assured. Bowdoin got the jump in the first period and maintained the lead through the entire game. The Blue and Gray men followed closely, garnering goal for goal with the exception of the last.

The Colby men, having found opportunity for practice, were in much better shape than in the two previous games. Both teams were somewhat hampered by the narrowness of the rink, which was 10 yards short of a regular playing surface.

Bowdoin showed a marked tendency to try long shots. The Colby puck chasers adopted different tactics, taking the puck well inside the Bowdoin defense before attempting to score. Nichols, the Bowdoin goal defender, allowed only two goals out of over 30 attempts. McGowan excelled in the forward line. On the defense McBay was easily the star. Young, substituting at goal for Berry looked good in front of the cage.

Four minutes after Referee Vale of Colby had called the men onto the ice the Bowdoin team had scored. Bucknam, on a pass from Miguel at center ice, sent a swift shot between Capt. Berry's legs. Nichols was forced to act quickly two or three times in this period to ward off a Colby score.

Colby's first score came in the second period. McGowan worked the disc up from mid-rink to a position directly in front of the Bowdoin goal and scored on a swift pass through Nichols' feet. Al Morrell placed the Black's second counter in the net. There was a mix-up in front of the Colby cage and Young lost sight of the puck until it was past him for the goal. Young stopped some difficult passes during this session.

Both teams found the goal for a counter in the final period. Bowker, Bowdoin's left wing, shot from the left side of the rink. The disc eluded Capt. Berry's stick and was allowed although it had rebounded outside the goal. Huhn found the Bowdoin goal for Colby's second counter on a pass out from Ratcliffe. The Blue and Gray men fought hard to tie up the score but Bowdoin assumed a defensive game.

Referee Vale was not forced to exclude a single player from the ice because of fouls committed.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA

Dr. Julian Taylor addressed the members of the new education fraternity, Kappa Phi Kappa, on the evening of January 12 when the first of a series of dinners was enjoyed by the fraternity.

Dr. Taylor gave a very much appreciated address on "Teaching" which was gratefully received by the members. Among other things he gave a list of "Don'ts" which he observes and which from time to time he has received from his classes in teachers' Latin. Among these "Don'ts" are the following:

Don't use slang. It shows lack of refinement, and no use of language anywhere can be too careful. Use the language of a cultivated gentleman.

Don't be diffuse. Be clear and definite. Condense.

Don't be unpunctual.

Don't show temper, but have absolute self-control.

Don't be sarcastic.

Don't expect too much from the student.

Don't suppress originality.

Don't be unappreciative. Encourage the student to talk and ask questions.

Don't scold.

Don't tell pupils that which he ought to find out for himself.

Don't get rattled.

Don't get into ruts.

Don't forget that you are a gentleman.

Don't be satisfied when you think that you have attained success.

Don't teach the class, but the individuals.

In concluding his address Dr. Taylor said that teachers should have a definite aim, and should endeavor to develop both the mental and moral traits of the students. The thing most neglected is imagination and we cannot really appreciate others unless we can use our imagination. Furthermore, he said, students should be asked the question "why" continually, for the very best that is in each must be drawn out, for, as a rule, students are both sensitive and considerate. The three qualities which a teacher must have are self-control, self-criticism, and sympathy.

COLBY CHESS TEAM

The Colby Chess Club met the Waterville club in a four-board match, the outcome of which was doubtful until the very end. The score was 9-8 and one draw, in favor of the collegians.

Representing the college there were J. C. Smith, '24, Meyer Chafetz, '24, A. Rosenthal, '25, and J. Pierpont, '26. Against them were Mr. Jordan, Dr. Mitchell, Mr. Morrell, and Dr. Johnson.

A. Rosenthal proved a very stiff opponent for Mr. Morrell who was fortunate enough to receive a tie in the number of games played.

J. Pierpont played very creditably but emerged on the short end of the score winning three out of seven games. Dr. Johnson was his opponent.

J. C. Smith was very unfortunate, losing one game and drawing another. His opponent was Mr. Jordan.

Meyer Chafetz had a fairly successful evening winning four out of five from Dr. Mitchell.

A return match will be played on Tuesday, February 6, at Mr. Jordan's house.

COLBY WOMEN'S LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING.

The first meeting of the Literary society of the Women's Division was held January 12 in the assembly room. Miss Collin Clary, '24, the vice-president, presided in the absence of Miss Myrtice Swain, '23, the president, who was ill. It was an open meeting and nearly the entire Women's division was present. The program opened with a violin solo by Miss Marion Johnson, '25, accompanied by Miss Marion Smiley, '25.

The subject of the evening was a debate, Resolved: That "It is better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all." The affirmative speakers were the Misses Helen Pratt, '24, Gertrude Fletcher, '23, and Altha Bean, '25, while the negative team was composed of the Misses Donnie Getchell, '24, Marcia Davis, '23, and Ethel Alloy, '23.

Miss Grace Fox, '24, played several pleasing piano selections. The audience were the judges and rendered the verdict in favor of the negative team.

HOPE IS A LIAR.

Such is the title of an intensely interesting article by W. L. George in the American Magazine for February. He says that if he were asked the question "Which way do you take life?" He would reply, "I believe that hope is the enemy of success; I have not pride; yet I ask no favors of any man." He goes on in the article to say that his road to success has been a hard one, and that he has attained his goal principally because he did not hope. He realizes that what he says is directly opposite to what young men as a rule get for advice. Usually one is told that robust optimism will keep him up, that hope is a faithful friend, a tireless comforter. But Mr. George says, "Nonsense! Hope tells flattering tales; hope is a liar; hope tucks you in bed when you ought to be out; hope smooths over your acts of stupidity and tells you it'll be all right next time. The hopeful man is the weak man; the strong man stands alone and needs no hope."

Mr. George is doubtless a very great author yet we cannot believe that he really means that he would have men give up hoping and live the stoical unemotional life which would be the result. It rather seems that we build our lives by what we hope, or dream. We cannot attain success without dreaming of that success unless we do it blindly, and then there is no credit to us. We look into the future and plan. These plans are but hopes, and hopes which we intend to realize. Had Columbus been satisfied with conditions as they were, and willing to accept the geography as the people of his time knew, then he would never have set out for this new continent. He believed that he could find a shorter route to India, and when he set out he hoped that he would find it. Yet he was not sure. And so neither are we sure of anything. We set out on a road and we can but hope that the way will lead to the right path. Our lives are built on dreams and hopes, and to remove these removes the very foundations upon which we build. As a man thinketh, so is he. The tragedy would be not to hope, rather than to hope to much. There can be no great danger in hoping, but the man who has given up hope is the man to be pitied. The Bible is full of passages which tell us to hope to the end. In 1 Peter 1:13 we read, "Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober and hope to the end." In Lamentations 3:26, we read, "It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the Lord."

No, Mr. George, it is impossible to agree with you that hope is a liar. Rather it seems that it is the spur which urges men on to higher and better things. Take hope from a man and there is not much left that is worth anything. We all hope. It is impossible to stop men from hoping and no one, no matter how famous he may be, can ever make people believe that success can be attained by giving up hoping.

TIDY UP.

There have been many comments recently upon the slack way in which some men persist in going to classes. Now, this is not a school for dudes, but at the same time it must give the professors the idea that they are teaching a class of "hard-boils" from the questionable section of some large city, if appearances are to count for anything. Habits which are formed in college are apt to go with one through his life. If we make it a point to be neat now it will come so much easier to be neat later. It is not necessary for one to wear his best clothes to class but he can at least wear a coat and tie. Sweat shirts and sweaters are all right on the athletic field and in the gymnasium, but they have no place in the class room. Get the habit of being neat, it will come in handy later. And just another word. Everything that is thrown into the snow now will appear on the grass in the Spring and make just that much more work for "Chef" and his crew. Be careful where papers and waste material is thrown and there will be a better looking Campus in the Spring, and less work to get it looking its best.

Y. W. C. A.

The sophomore members of the World Fellowship committee of the Y. W. C. A. held a Japanese silver tea in the parlor at Foss Hall Wednesday afternoon from 4.30 to 5.30. The room was most attractively decorated and represented a veritable Japanese garden. Tea was served by the Misses Lena Cooley, Marion Johnson, Edith Gray and Winona Knowlton, who were most attractively gowned as Japanese maidens. The two members of the committee who had charge of the tea were the Misses Leota Schoff and Eva Alley and they were assisted by the Misses Florence Smith and Grace McDonald.

Tuesday evening, the regular Y. W. C. A. night, was given over to the meeting of the Student League, so there was no Y. W. C. A. meeting.

On Friday afternoon, January 19, a business meeting of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and advisory board was held in the Foss Hall parlor. The president of the association gave a brief report of the work that has been done thus far, and outlined the plans which have been made for the immediate future. One of the difficulties which now confront the association, is the problem of a place in which to give entertainments, the proceeds of which are necessary to the raising of the budget. This problem, together with the question of the best type of entertainment to give, was discussed, and many helpful and workable suggestions were made by the members of the advisory board. Hot chocolate and cookies were served by the social committee of the Y. W. C. A. The advisory board is composed of the following members: Mrs. A. J. Roberts, Mrs. Henry W. Brown, Mrs. W. Chester, Mrs. B. E. Carter, Mrs. H. E. Trefethen, Mrs. C. H. White, Mrs. N. E. Wheeler, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Mrs. M. A. Bessey and Dean N. M. Runnals.

C. C. A. MEETING.

The C. C. A. held their first meeting of the year Tuesday evening, January 9. Twenty were present, and all entered the singing with greater spirit than ever. Robert Waugh led in prayer. After which "Spike" introduced Prof. Herbert L. Newman as the speaker of the evening.

Prof. Newman spoke on the topic: "A Goal for the New Year," taking his text from the third chapter of Philippians, 13th verse: "Forgetting those things which are past, and reaching forward unto those things which are before, I press forward toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Tuesday evening, Jan. 16, Prof. Morrow addressed the C. C. A. on the subject "Aggressive Christianity." He took for example, Christ's words to his disciples which are found in Matt. 22:37: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself." This, he indicated, has covered the two great fundamentals of religion, namely, Theology, Man's relation to God, and Sociology, man's relation to his fellow men. This means we shall love our Lord but that we shall also equally love our fellow men.

OUTING CLUB HIKE BEST OF SEASON

Men Enjoy Tramp to Snow Pond-- Business Meeting Held Out at Plumstead's Cabin.

The fellows who missed the Outing Club hike on Sunday will never realize just how much they did miss. The so-called "Inner Five" went out early Sunday to break a trail and prepare the camp for those who were to follow. The five were "Art" Berry, "Gallon" Eustis, George Tash, "Jake" Libby, and "Clank" Barnes. They finally reached Plumstead's camp, four miles up the lake.

The camp is a regular log cabin with a large fire place and an ante-room with a good cook stove. "Trash" started a fire in the fire place. "Clank" and "Trash" went off to find a telephone to summon the rest of the crowd. While they were away the rest of the gang started a fire and chopped a hole in the ice for water.

The next thing in order was dinner. A sumptuous feast consisting of bacon, steak, beans, "Gallon's" toast, and coffee was soon ready for the hungry five. "Art" ate so much that he couldn't move afterwards and had to have his pipe and tobacco carried to him. The others were not far behind. "Trash" got a late start but finished well. The last loaf of bread he ate made the others look around to see if there would be enough left for the rest. However everyone was finally satisfied.

After the dishes had been cleared away pictures were in order and they were a mean lot to photograph. About 3.30 the rest of the crowd began to straggle in. Nelson got first money altho Jack Laughton pushed him all the way. Prof. "Les" Weeks brought the remainder of the gang with him. When everyone had regained their health and were warm another picture of the group was taken.

The "Inner Five" then began preparations for the royal repast. It was about the same as the other except that the whole gang couldn't eat as much as the "Five" had stored away at noon.

A business meeting followed with "Trash" presiding. "Clank" Barnes was chosen secretary pro-tem. It was voted that the Outing Club should march in a body at the Carnival parade on January 25. The idea of purchasing a camp for the members of the Outing Club was discussed and a committee of the officers was chosen to investigate this end make a report at a later meeting.

Some of the fellows had to hurry right back to the city but a few were left. It sure was fine to sit around that old fire and tell stories. But all good times must come to an end and the party finally left camp in order to catch a car to Waterville. They made their car and did not have to hike from Oakland to the city as was expected.

It was a grand good time and it is hoped that more of the fellows will take advantage of the next hike which will come shortly after mid years. Don't miss it!

A missionary of Belgian Congo writes that on a recent visit to Kinshasa, one of their largest towns, the only thing American that she saw was a well-equipped store of the Ford Automobile Company with two American young men in charge. Fords are the principal cars sold in that region. Since American commercial interests find no difficulty in invading the Belgian Congo, surely American Christians ought not to be less aggressive in spreading their message.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, It has pleased God in His infinite wisdom to remove from this life the grandmother of our beloved sister, Margaret T. Gilmore; be it Resolved, That we, the members of Alpha Delta Chapter of Alpha Delta Pi, extend to her our heartfelt sympathy, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed upon the records of the chapter, and that a copy be printed in the Colby ECHO.

The resignation of the sergeant at arms, Miss Marjorie Smiley was read to take effect immediately. The meeting was then opened with a vocal solo by Miss Margaret Hardy, '26, accompanied by Miss Rosamond Cummings, '25. The evening was then devoted to a discussion of the magazines of today. Papers were given by the Misses Mildred Hawes, '23, on "Literary Digest," Doris Dickey, '23, on "The Bookman," and Hilda Worthen, '24, on "Scribners." These were very interesting and instructive. Miss Marjorie Smiley, '25, gave a most pleasing piano solo. The critic of thought was Miss Helen Freeman, '23.

She mentioned the delightful southern hospitality and gave humorous bits which made for a most interesting and worthwhile report. Miss Milliken is the president of the Bates Student Government.

The Kappa Alpha, senior honorary society, held a "feed" Monday night in the rooms of the Misses Boulah Adams, Marion Drisko and Helen Harris.
