C. C. A. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Percy G. Beatty, '24, to Lead
Organization for Coming Year—Other Officers are Chosen.

The C. C. A. held its annual election of officers, Tuesday evening, March 6. The following men were elected: Percy G. Beatty, '24, president; Coburn H. Ayer, '25, vice president; Joseph C. Smith, '24, secretary; and Raymond S. Grant, '25, treasurer. After the election of officers, Clarence P. Shedd, a traveling Y. M. C. A. worker addressed the association very interestingly on "The organization of the Y. M. C. A. in our schools and colleges."

Spirit ran high during the meeting. Each faction strongly supported its candidate, and seven ballots were cast before the results were finally decided. At the close of the meeting "Spike" mopped his heated brow, and remarked that never had he attended such a long election since he had been in the C. C. A. With such spirit the Colby Christian Association is sure to make its influence felt during the coming year.

C. C. A. DEPUTATION AT SKOWHEGAN

Members of Colby Christian Association Hold Meetings at Methodist Church
—Tuggey, Brown, Chapman and Laverty Make up Delegation.

On Saturday, March 10, a C. C. A. deputation team consisting of Merton Laverty, '23, C. Barnard Chapman, '25, Howard B. Tuggey, '25, and Stanley Brown, '26, left Waterville, on an evangelistic mission to the Methodist church in Skowhegan. Train service caused a two hour delay, but the fatigue of the journey was quickly forgotten when the four students sat down to supper in the Methodist parsonage.

On Sunday, the amateur apostles had charge of all the services. At the morning service Mr. Chapman rendered vocal solos, Mr. Brown read the Scripture, and Mr. Tuggey offered prayer. Mr. Laverty delivered the sermon of the morning on "Meeting the World's Greatest Need," taking as his text, "Love Your Enemies." Very forcefully he pointed out that the nations of the world could not be transformed as nations, but that the only way to improve a nation, morally and intellectually, was through the improvement of the individual.

During the Sunday School hour, the Colby men were in prominence, each one teaching a class in the school. The Epworth League meeting in the evening was led by Mr. Laverty, the only Methodist of the four, and likewise the only Epworth Leaguer. He took for his subject "Denying Christ," and spoke briefly about our relation to the Christian life. Mr. Tuggey led the service of song, with Mr. Brown at the piano.

At the seven o'clock service, an evangelistic program was provided. Mr. Brown and Mr. Chapman rendered instrumental and vocal music. Mr. Chapman led the singing, Mr. Brown read the Scripture, and Mr. Laverty offered prayer.

The evening sermon was given by Mr. Tuggey on "Religion and Life." Inspiringly he spoke of religion as a link which unites man and God, a link of love in the hearts of men. He pointed out that religion is largely the relation between the physical and spiritual, human and divine, man and God. In closing he urged that Christians should make their practical religion of love that makes a beautiful life.

Aside from the religious services, there are rumors of a social on Saturday night at the Bethany Baptist church, where each had to display his lingual powers at the call of "Joe" Smith, impromptu toastmaster.

Then there were two post-service sojourns, one at the supper table of the parsonage, and later at the home of Baptist friends.

COLBY RELAY TEAM AGAIN VICTORIOUS

Waterville Men Win Over
N. Y. U. at Meadowbrook
Games—Colby Only Maine
College Represented.

The Colby relay team added another win to its list at the Meadowbrook games last Saturday. The race was to have been a three-cornered event, New York University and Fordham University being the other ones. Fordham failed to appear at the race, so it became a dual affair between Colby and N. Y. U. The Colby runners were not forced to exert themselves in winning. The time of 3:38 5-10 was much slower than Mike Ryan's charges have made this winter.

Colby was the only Maine college that was represented at Meadowbrook. These games bring together some of the best athletes of the east. Since the war they have sprung into prominence and are rated even higher than the Millrose games at New York.

Coach Ryan adopted new tactics in the order in which the Colby men ran. In the triangular race with Fordham and N. Y. U. at the Millrose games the order was Foran, Capt. McGarry, Fransen and Hearon. The only change was in the anchor man. Due to the nature of the race, Mike sent Hearon, Colby's star sprinter, to the line first and kept Foran to run anchor.

Hearon got away to a good start and handed over to McGarry a lead of about ten yards. "Mac" kept this lead through his part of the race, as did Fransen and "Nemo" had it all his own way, breasting the tape nearly twenty yards ahead of the N. Y. U. anchor man. Had the Colby fliers been forced to exert themselves more the time might have been better.

This race was the last competition for the relay men until the Penn. relays at Philadelphia on April 27 and 28. The men will keep in training for these races by participating in the Interfraternity Track meet which starts Wednesday afternoon and will continue for about three weeks.

CITIZENS' TRAINING CAMPS.

Major Hannigan of Boston, a former member of General Edwards' staff, will address the students of Colby College in chapel Friday morning on the 1923 Citizens' Military Training camps. The camp for the New England section will be held at Camp Devens, Mass., during the month of August.

Plans for an intensive recruiting campaign have been completed by the association under the direction of Captain Sabine W. Wood of Bangor, chairman for Maine, assisted by county and town chairmen. Provisions have been made for the training of 3000 students between the ages of 17 and 27 years. There will be four courses, a basic Red course, advanced Red course, and the White and the Blue courses. The latter three courses will include training in the Infantry, Cavalry, Coast and Field Artillery and Engineering branches of the service.

All the courses will include training in citizenship and physical development. There will be swimming and athletics for which gold and silver prizes will be awarded at the close of the camp. A bronze medal will be given to the student holding the best all around record in each company.

By a special ruling of the War Department the hospital area used for the two former training camps will be preserved and utilized for the training this year.

Colby students interested in the courses may obtain application blanks and information from Frederick D. McAlary, City Job Print.

"Among the highly useful student organizations is the Inter-Collegiate Prohibition Association. On the completion of twenty years of active work, it gives evidence of vitality. Not only has this association soon and responded to the need of securing intelligent support for the prohibition laws of this country, but it has heard the call from other lands. Certainly every Christian student must not only wish the I. P. A. well, but also set himself by every means to cultivate prohibition sentiment not only in this country, but wherever men are cursed by the liquor business."—Students' Edition, Association Mon.

Informal Class Affair is Enjoyed by Thirty-five Coupples—Decorations in Keeping with St. Patrick's Day

An informal class dance was given by the junior women on Saturday evening, March 10, in Foss Hall dining-room. The hall was very attractively decorated in keeping with St. Patrick's season. About thirty-five couples were present and music was furnished by the college orchestra.

At intermission refreshments were served by freshman waitresses dressed in white with shamrock aprons and green caps. Appropriate St. Patrick's favors were given out during the novelty dance by the Misses Doris A. Dewar and Edith M. Grearson, '26, who held trays cut in the shape of large shamrocks.

The patrons and patronesses were: Pres. and Mrs. A. J. Roberts, Prof. and Mrs. G. F. Parmenter, Dean Nettie M. Rannalls, Miss Florence E. Dunn, Miss Corinne B. Van Norman, and Miss Mildred D. Wright.

The committee in charge of the dance was: Miss Evangeline W. York, chairman, Miss Helen H. Pratt and Miss Ethel M. Reed.

LARGE CROWD ENJOYS VESPERS

Students Flock to Hear Frank Fagerburg—Program Enjoyed by Largest Audience of Year.

The vesper service held Sunday, March 11, was one of the best ever held in the college chapel. Marlin D. Farnum, president of the Colby Christian Association, presided. Prayer was offered by Prof. Woodman Bradbury, D. D., '87, of Newton Theological Institution. The scripture reading was given by Miss Louisa K. Tilley, president of the college Y. W. C. A.

The music on the program consisted of two anthems rendered by a large mixed choir and an excellently played violin selection by Lee Nichols, '25, Abbot Smith, '26, at the piano. Both anthems contained some fine solo work. Two hymns were also sung during the course of the service.

The speaker was Frank Fagerburg of Newton Theological Institution, pastor-elect of the First Baptist church in Springfield. Mr. Fagerburg was an orator of most unusual ability. His pleasing appearance and forceful and expressive manner kept the attention of everyone present glued to him and listening for every word he spoke. His main points he demonstrated by many illustrations and analogies so that no one could fail to grasp clearly the idea he wished to put across.

The service was closed with a hymn and the benediction by Prof. Bradbury.

It is the custom for Newton to send a deputation to Colby each year, but it is doubtful if they ever sent a speaker who made a better impression on the students at the college than did Mr. Fagerburg.

MISSIONS IN JAVA.

The population of Java numbers 85,000,000 or 700 people to the square mile. Only 30,000 of these have been taken into the Christian church. There are many Moslem adherents and over 20,000 pilgrims go to Mecca each year. The Salvation Army is doing a magnificent work in the large cities. The Dutch missions have done thorough work in organizing self-supporting churches among the Moslem converts, but they lack cooperation. The work is held back by a lack of missionary reinforcements and a meagerness of Christian literature. One of the most apparent needs of the Java field is an organized Y. M. C. A.

The first summer prohibition conference of students in Czechoslovakia was held at Nachod, Bohemia, last August for four days. They are to be held annually. The national student abstinent society has 1500 members and is growing steadily.

FIVE CANDIDATES FOR FIRST BASE

No Lacking for Contestants for Initial Sack in Colby
this Year—Only One Veteran Left but Material
Looks Good—Competition
Will be Keen.

The filling of the first base position on the Colby baseball team of the coming spring campaign should not give any very great worry to Coach Freddie Parent and Captain Johnny Lanpher.

At least four candidates will be out for the initial sack on the Blue and Gray nine. One other man will be ready in case the other quartet of hopefuls fails to come through and take the job steady.

One of the veterans of last year's team is Tommy Callaghan, formerly of Brewer high. Callaghan played regularly last spring on the baseball team, worked end on the 1922 gridiron crew, and captained the varsity basketball team last winter. He is the best fielding first baseman in the state colleges, but was a bit weak with the stick last season. It is expected he will be used on the slab this year for he is the only lefty available and, with the expert coaching of Freddie Parent, should round into better shape than two years ago when he was used to pitch several games.

Among the other candidates for the first sack is Johnny McGowan, formerly of Westbrook seminary and the Portland Sandlotiers. McGowan is a good fielder and a good sticker and reigns the favorite among the men out for the position. He has reach, height and athletic brains. He was the best preparatory school first baseman in Maine last year. McGowan is out for baseball after serving as left wing on the Colby varsity hockey team which finished third in the state series standing.

"Heinie" Burckel, captain-elect of football, is expected to enter the list for the first base position. Burckel was out for the first sack last spring, but dropped from the squad in order to devote more time to his courses.

"Jake" Shoemaker, pivot man on the championship Phi Delta Theta basketball five of the Colby interfraternity basketball tournament, will also be out for the first base corner. Shoemaker is one of the tallest men in college. He fielded well last year but was weak at bat.

The fifth man intending to try for first base is Dunn, a lanky freshman, who has little previous experience, but who is expected to develop fast under Coach Parent.

Freddie Parent's greatest problem as coach of the Colby baseball team this spring will again prove to be the construction of a pitching corps able to stand the gaff of the State series and the out-of-state jaunts of the Blue and Gray ball tossers.

At present writing there are 11 pitching candidates for the Colby 1923 nine. Of this number two have had considerable experience at Colby slabs. Six others have had squad experience, but have never participated in important Maine college series games. Three are members of the freshmen class who come with considerable experience. Upon the success of the three freshman hurlers to come through on the mound will depend much of the doping of the present Colby campaign when warm weather and the disappearance of the snow and ice enables the Blue and Gray ball tossers to emerge from the gymnasium and enjoin on Seneca's field.

The two veterans are Johnny Howard and Frank Porter. Howard is a junior and came to Colby from Goddard Seminary, Vt. He has pitched good ball for Colby, but has invariably been afflicted with a sore arm about mid-season for the past three years, thereby losing all effectiveness. Porter is also a third year man, who came to Colby from Everett High of the Greater Boston Interscholastic League. A year ago last spring he won three State series games in a row for Colby after the locals had accepted three trimmings in their first three starts. Porter improved under Parent last spring and should prove dependable this year.

The six other hurlers who have worn Colby uniforms in past years are Coulman from Lynn high, Odom from Goodwill, McDonald from Colby

In the absence of the president, Dana W. Hall, '90, the meeting was presided over by Fred Foss Lawrence, '00.

The program was opened by a selection by the college orchestra. This was followed with a prayer by Evan John Shearman, '22, of the Beta, of

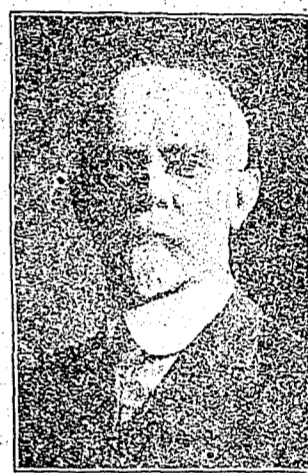

DR. WOODMAN BRADBURY, '87
Delivered Phi Beta Kappa Address
Maine of Phi Beta Kappa. Mr. Shearman was elected to Phi Beta Kappa last year.

The initiation of new members was then carried out. The members elect were introduced to the society by Prof. Chipman, secretary and treasurer of the Colby chapter. Prof. Chipman then read a portion of the constitution explaining the purpose of the organization. The keys were presented by Prof. White who first addressed the initiates.

The address of the evening was given by Prof. Woodman Bradbury, D. D., '87, of Newton Theological Institution. His subject was "Why Read Poetry?" The address was a very scholarly and entertaining one and contained many quotations from the best poets, showing the speaker's intimate knowledge of the subject of his address. Prof. Bradbury is a graduate of Colby in the class of 1887 and is at present on the Board of Trustees.

The initiation, which as the first public Phi Beta Kappa initiation ever held here in Waterville in the middle of the year, was very well attended and the church was filled to capacity. All who were present were fully re-

SEMI-FINALS IN GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

Seniors Defeat Sophomores

Finals will be Played Today.

The semi-finals in volley ball furnished a great thrill to the cheering spectators Wednesday afternoon. The senior-sophomore bout was fast, with the seniors winning two out of three games.

The first of the set the seniors won readily by the score of 21 to 4. Then the sophomores got a lease of life and made the game even by winning a hotly contested game 21 to 11. However, the seniors won the final game easily by 21 to 10. The playing of the two teams was very evenly matched, each girl playing a steady and consistent game. The teams were as follows:

M. Faines	M. Sterling
A. Ringrose	V. Jockey
E. Porter	A. Crocker

The scores were the Misses Ann Erickson and Genevieve Clark. Referee, Miss Van Norman.

The junior-freshman match was decidedly one-sided in favor of the juniors, who won two games in succession by the scores of 21 to 15 and 21 to 10. The playing of Misses Ruth Allen and Mary Ford of the junior team and Miss Evelyn Rushton of the freshman team was a feature of the game. The teams were as follows:

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 14, 1923.

IN FULL SWING.

Last week was a busy week. But perhaps it was as typical of Colby as any single week can be.

Our relay team returned from Philadelphia with a silver trophy of victory. The track men are getting in shape for the interfraternity meet. The baseball team is getting the kinks out of their arms in the gym. The inter-fraternity basketball tournament has just ended, while the hockey league awaits the favor of the weather man.

The Phi Beta Kappa keys were distributed with appropriate ceremonies.

The intercollegiate debaters started studying their propositions.

The musical clubs are practicing strenuously for their home concert.

The Oracle editors are laboriously working on their assignments. Modesty forbids mention of the toiling of the Echo staff.

In the realm of the spirit, too, Colby is active. The Student Volunteer Band was host to fifty delegates from the other colleges in a missionary conference. The Colby Christian Association conducted its regular meeting, and sent deputation teams to two towns over Sunday. Vesper services and personal interviews were held by a delegation from Newton Theological Institution.

We believe this is typical of Colby—enthusiastic activity in all forms of wholesome extra-curriculum work. No one side of our college life is disproportionately stressed, but all phases function smoothly towards the glory and honor of that corporate being which we call "the old College."

AMERICANISM.

The following was written by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise and appeared in the Jewish "Daily News." The writer was born in Budapest but even the native-born Americans may do well to read what he has written and read it thoughtfully.

Americanism is not a matter of birth or ancestry, for the American is self-made, not born. Americanism is not a birth-right privilege, but a lifelong responsibility.

America is not a place, not a religion, not a locality; America is an atmosphere, an ideal, a vision not yet fulfilled.

No man is an American who does not place America first, before himself. He must serve America; America must not serve him. No man is an American who is not possessed of a genuinely democratic faith—that is, trust in the people and such devotion to the commonwealth as sets the benefit of all above the advantage of one or some. He who holds democracy to be the rule of the mob is not a democrat, whether his forbears came to Massachusetts in 1620 or he to New York in 1910. He is no American who is a democrat on parade. He is no American who cherishes prejudices, whether these be social, or radical, or religious.

All this is only another way of saying that an American is a conscious, vigilant, fraternal, unwearied creator of America who scorns the notion that America bears a charmed life, and that democracy, even though it be of the American brand, guarantees the automatic solution of its own problems.

BASKETBALL.

The fraternity basketball league has now ended and even those who were the most pessimistic concerning its success must admit that the season was a success in every way. It was impossible to have a team to represent Colby in a State contest and the idea of Prof. Edwards to substitute for it the fraternity games certainly met with the favor of the students.

Outside of the enjoyment which this sport has afforded it was the only practical way in which it was possible to keep the basketball players interested in the sport and at the same time it kept them in practice.

Next year if it is possible to put a team into the State field the results of this year's basketball will be evident, and if such a team is possible the men will be much better able to cope with the teams of the other colleges than they would have been if there had been no fraternity games this year.

A great deal of praise is due to Professor Edwards for his hard work in putting on the winter's schedule. He is a good man for the place and the students should show their appreciation for him.

And on Thursday the Glee Club howls at home.

Doesn't look much like baseball in a month, does it?

Easter vacation is in sight, but that is no excuse for laying down on the job.

Get behind Mike Ryan and help him put across his interfraternity track meets. Mike is one of the hardest working Colby men and deserves the support of everyone.

Everyone will agree with the New York papers which stated in regard to the relay games at Meadowbrook that Colby is one of "the smaller colleges." That is perfectly true as far as numbers go but after all is it numbers or spirit that counts the most?

It is all very well to make light of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity, but how many men are there who deep down in their hearts do not envy to some extent those hard-working individuals who were fortunate enough to be elected to that body?

A certain gentleman has prophesied that the snow will be all gone in two weeks, and yet there are some who go as far as to say that Americans have no imagination!

ENTHUSIASM GREAT VOLUNTEER MEETING

Annual Conference of Maine State Union Guest of Colby Band--Fifty Delegates Present.

The annual conference of Maine State Student Volunteer Union was the guest of the Colby Student Volunteer Band during the week end, March 9 to 11. About fifty delegates registered from Bates, Bowdoin, University of Maine, Bangor Theological Seminary, Bucksport Seminary, and Kents Hill. Most of the meetings were held in the vestry of the Methodist church. The speakers included many men prominent in missionary work.

The conference opened with a banquet at Harmon's Cafe. Then everybody adjourned to the Methodist church where the delegates got acquainted with each other and gave college cheers and songs. Dr. Charles E. Spaulding of Worcester, Mass., gave his famous illustrated lecture on South America. Dr. Spaulding spent two years in South America on a tour of investigation for the Methodist Centenary Movement. His lecture was enlivened by his keen sense of humor and his vivid descriptive powers.

Saturday's Meetings.

At the morning session the first speaker was Mr. Arthur A. Heald, state director of county work of the Y. M. C. A. who spoke on the relation of the Student Volunteer movement to the college "Y" associations. The second speaker was Mr. Fay Campbell who for two years has been a traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer movement and represented that movement at the conference. After the addresses an open forum was conducted.

At 1:30 delegation meetings were held at the church. In the afternoon session several missionaries brought messages from their experiences and answered questions concerning various phases of missionary work.

The address of the evening session was by Dr. Cummings of Bangor Theological Seminary who took as his subject: "The Lure of the Mission Fields."

Closing Session.

There was a meeting of all the delegates Sunday morning at 9:30 after which they attended morning worship at the Methodist church.

In the afternoon another conference session was held at the church and at 4:00 the delegates went up to the Colby college chapel where Vesper Services were conducted by the C. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

The closing session was held at the Methodist church in the evening. A very inspiring address was given by

The executive committee for the conference consisted of: Pres. Harold E. Mayo of Bates college, vice president, Avis Varnum of Colby, secretary, Helen E. Hill of Bates, treasurer, Marlin D. Farnum of Colby, Doris Twitchell of U. of M., Frank R. Hamilton of Bangor Theological Seminary, registrar, Everett Marston of Colby.

Y. W. C. A.

"Prayer" was the subject of Prof. Newman's last lecture at the Y. W. C. A. meeting, Tuesday evening. He defined prayer as one's social life with God. Prof. Newman brought out two phases of the subject, the essentials of prayer, and the utility. The essentials he gave as faith, adoration, confession, petition, concentration, sincerity, and perseverance. Under utility comes subjective value and objective value. Prayer strengthens the body, clarifies the vision, brings up one's convictions to a certain point, and holds up his highest self. Then come changes in the environment relative to the changes in us. In answer to the question "Does God answer prayer?" Prof. Newman gave the quotation: "Trust also in Him, and He will bring it to pass."

The annual election of officers for the Y. W. C. A. was held Monday evening. Miss Anna Erickson, '24, was elected president for the coming year. Miss Erickson is a member of the Phi Mu fraternity and a most capable and all round girl. She has been active in Y. W. work during all her college course and the coming year is sure to be successful with such an efficient leader. Miss Marjorie Everingham, '25, also a member of the Phi Mu fraternity was elected vice president. Miss Elizabeth Kingsley, '25, was elected as secretary. Miss Kingsley is a member of the Chi Omega fraternity. Miss Carolyn Hodgdon, '24, was elected as treasurer. Miss Hodgdon has been prominent in all college activities. She is a member of the Chi Omega fraternity. Miss Irma Davis, '26, also a Chi Omega was elected as assistant undergraduate field representative.

FOSS HALL NOTES.

The weekly meeting of the Colby Women's Literary Society on Friday evening was devoted to the life and poems of Edgar A. Guest, now called the poet of the American people.

Miss Tholma A. Powers, '23, gave an interesting account of the poet's life. As example of Guest's poetry, "Daddies" and "Bob Discusses Cleanliness" were read by Miss Evangeline W. York, '24, while "It Couldn't Be Done" and "Those Cut-Down Trousers" were given by Miss Anna C. Erickson, '24.

Miss Marcin L. Davis, '23, rendered a vocal solo accompanied on the violin by Miss Marion Johnson, '25.

Current events were given by the Misses Irma V. Davis and Marguerite L. O'Roak, '20.

Miss Lena Cooley has been elected sergeant-at-arms of the Literary society.

On Saturday evening, sixteen sophomore girls held an informal party in the Foss Hall assembly room. Games were played and dancing enjoyed. The Misses Eva L. Alloy and Rosmond G. Cummings were in charge of the affair.

Miss Helen H. Harris, '23, was the guest of friends in town over the week end.

Miss Helen H. Pratt, '24, has been chosen chairman of the Ivy Day committee.

The Kappa Alpha, senior honorary society, held a feed in the rooms of Miss Marguerite Starbird, Friday night. The menu consisted of pork chops, baked potatoes, hot rolls, baked apples and cream, cake and coffee. All the members were present. The parlor at Dutton house has been entirely refurnished. New wicker furniture, a table lamp, rug and draperies have been purchased. The girls are greatly delighted and more so, since it was a complete surprise. The money was given for the refurnishing by the Portland Alumnae association.

"SHOW me," says the math. teacher—and when the chalk clouds have settled down there are a lot of figures signed "Q. E. D." which aren't "Q. E. D." at all.

Say "Show me" to the shaving cream you're using and see what answer you get. Will it soften your beard right down to the base before the breakfast bell has rung twice? Will it leave your skin smooth and supple after every shave and give you the well-groomed look of perfect skin health?

Every day men are finding how much easier shaving can be made because of the speed and thoroughness with which Williams' softens the beard. Likewise, they are finding a help for their skin in Williams' that they never found in any other shaving cream. Try it yourself. The difference may surprise you.

FINAL GAMES IN FRAT BASKETBALL

Remainder of Regular Schedule in Tournament Played Last Week—A. T. O.'s Defeat D. K. E.'s—Non-Frat Defeat Alphas—P. D. T.'s Defeat L. C. A.'s—Z. P.'s Defeat D. U.'s—Final Percentages in League.

The remainder of the regular schedule of the Colby interfraternity basketball tournament was played last week. There are a few games left to be played that were postponed earlier in the season for various reasons. With the exception of the Phi Delta Theta game these are of slight importance and will have no bearing on the position of the winners. If the Zetes should win from the leaders at the present time, there would be a three-cornered tie for first position. But why mention the impossible! The Phi Delta Theta five are practically assured of first honors with the Alpha Tau Omega quintet a good second.

The two games played on March 7th were rather uninteresting due to the fact that the outcome could easily be predicted, and that neither game had any direct bearing on the league standing. The first game between the A. T. O.'s and Dekes was close and exciting for three periods but in the final frame the Taus rolled up a nine point lead 29 to 20. The Non-Frats had an easy time defeating the Alphas with a total of 24 to 7. The A. T. O. five, in winning from the Dekes, secured a good hold on second position in the league.

The Dekes surprised the audience when they held the A. T. O.'s down in three periods of their contest. The Taus seemed to be far from their usual form while the Dekes played hard and consistently. Had the College avenue five exhibited the brand of basketball they showed yesterday in the earlier games they would not be holding down next to last place. The winners passed well through the game but the Deke defense was a big factor in keeping the ball from the basket. Peabody was the individual star of the encounter, caging over half of the Deke's points. His total of 14 points was the high score for the afternoon. Capt. Barnes, the center for the Dekes, took the jump from Ratcliffe consistently and thus aided his team to a considerable extent.

Captain Tom Callaghan of the A. T. O.'s returned to the game after being out a week with an infected arm. He succeeded in caging five baskets in spite of his lay-off.

The Taus were on the long end of the first stanza with a 9 to 7 score. The Dekes had a two point lead at the close of the half.

The fives were tied at the end of the third quarter; but the winners managed to pull away in the last period. Jimmy Wilson was forced to retire in the last period due to an injured shoulder. His place was ably filled by Vale, the All-Maine Center in hockey.

The summary:
A. T. O. (29) (20) D. K. E.
McDonald, lf lf, Peabody Callaghan, rf rf, Shaw Ratcliffe, c c, Barnes Moynahan, lb lb, Wilson Scott, rb rb, Sackett Goals from floor: Peabody 6, Callaghan 5, McDonald 3, Scott 4, Ratcliffe 2, Barnes, Shaw. Goals from fouls: McDonald, Peabody 2, Shaw. Substitutions: Nicekron for Scott, Vale for Wilson. Referee, Keith, D. U. Timer, Odum, L. C. A. Scorer, Edwards. Periods, 4 ten-minute.

The Non-Fraternity five were too much for the Alphas, and won easily to the tune of 24 to 7. The Alphas were able to score but twice from the floor. The other three points were annexed by Cole from the free throw line. Chafetz, Non-Frat, was the star of the game and had the high score with 12 points to his credit. He was all over the floor and yet put up a strong defensive game. Springer, the Alpha center, was a strong factor in their passing game. Roach played well for the Non-Frats in his initial appearance.

The summary:
Non-Frat (24) (7) Alpha
Fasce, lf lf, Pinkham Sadowsky, rf rf, Cole P. Dewey, c c, Springer Chafetz, lb lb, Merrill Roach, rb rb, Felch Goals from floor: Chafetz 6, Roach 4, Sadowsky, Felch, Pinkham. Goals from fouls: Fasce 2, Cole 3, Referee, Burke, P. D. T. Scorer, Edwards, Timer, Odum, L. C. A. Periods, 4 ten-minute.

The games played on March 8th were more interesting than those of the preceding day, particularly the Zeta Psi-Delta Upsilon contest. The Zetes and D. U.'s battled through four desperate periods, with the Zetes finally winning 35 to 33. This was the second time the D. U. five has lost by two points, the Phi Deltas turning the trick two weeks ago.

The Phi Deltas were out to break records in their game with the Lambda Chis and they succeeded. The Lambda Chi Alpha outfit offered little opposition to the tournament leaders and were snowed under to the tune of 93 to 14. The Phi Deltas broke the high single team record of the season with their high total. The Zeta Psi had previously held the record through having defeated the Delta Kappa Epsilon team by a score of 51 points. The high single individual record went by the boards too when "Jack" Shoemaker, the elongated pivot man of the Phi Delta Theta five jumped into the limelight with 21 baskets from the floor for a total of 42 points.

The Phi Delta Theta had little difficulty in walloping the Lambda Chi Alpha. The Lambdas had many shots at the Delt basket but were way off in shooting and had to be content with six baskets from the floor and two from the foul line for a total of 14 points.

The Phi Deltas got going slowly, massed their attack on the Lambda basket in the second and third periods, and ran away with the game in the final frame. The Phi Deltas led 10 to 5 at the end of the first period, 37 to 10 at the half, and held the Lambdas to four points in the last two periods while running up their own total 56 points. In addition to Shoemaker who made the high record of 42 points, Burke and Haines were much in the game. Burke tallied 23 points while Haines garnered 18. The Phi Delt Freshmen, Shanahan and Helcomb, played a strong defensive game and also took part in the scoring of the great total.

The summary:
P. D. T. (93) (12) L. C. A.

The Delta Upsilon-Zeta Psi brush was one of the fastest of the tournament. An unfortunate event marred the playing of the game. Capt. Tom Callaghan of the Alpha Tau team was prevailed upon to handle the whistle after he had expressed the wish that someone else less concerned with the result take charge. He withdrew from the game at the end of the first period owing to criticism from the sidelines. Referee Edwards handled the remainder of the game.
The Delta Upsilon five was weakened, owing to the sickness of Johnny Lanpher.

He insisted on playing in the game but was in poor physical condition and was not at his best, although proving the backbone of the losing offense and defense. The Zeta Psi offered a stronger offense than the losers, secured a jump in the first period, and were never headed although Johnny Lanpher tied up the count for a few moments in the first and third periods.

Captain Schenck of the Zetes was high point with 15 points. Young of the Zetes and Keith of the Delta Upsilon were second with 14 points each.
