

Y. M. C. A. TEAM CONDUCTS SERVICES

All the Way with Christ is Theme of Deputation at Baptist Church Sunday Evening—Tuggey, Chapman, Estes, Marston, Laverty, and Farnum Take Part in Service.

On Sunday night, April 15, a Colby Y. M. C. A. deputation team conducted services at the First Baptist Church. This was but one of the many teams that have been so successful thus far this year. The appearance of the young men reminded those present that Colby was not all athletes and scholars, but that Christian work also counted.

Howard B. Huggey, '25, led the opening service of song and read the Scripture. Percy Beatty, '24, and Everett C. Marston, '24, led in prayer. Addresses were given by four of the deputy preachers on one central theme: All the Way with Christ. C. Barnard Chapman, '25, spoke first on "All the Way with Christ in Friendship." He said in part, "The original Greek word for friends is the same as that for love. When Jesus said 'ye are my friends,' he declared His love for men. It behooves man to openly manifest his love for God, and his fellow men both by word and deed."

The next speaker was Stanley G. Estes, '23, who spoke on "All the Way with Christ in Cooperation." He said, "The greatest cooperation in the world is cooperation with God, the Father. It is a source of joy and power in the life of the individual." Merton S. Laverty, '23, spoke next, taking as his subject, "All the Way with Christ in Service." He said in part, "Service means work and obedience. One who truly follows works for and obeys Him. We may serve Him best as ministers and missionaries, but there are other ways also. It is not where but how we live that counts in a life of service. Worthwhile religion is every day religion, and any man who cannot take his through the week has a misfit religion. There are plenty who merely make a show of being Christians, but to follow all the way in service means to put ourselves in the background. Serve Him best by serving others."

The final speaker was Marlin D. Farnum, '23. He spoke on "All the Way with Christ in Decision."

"If we follow Christ 'all the way' we must have very good grounds for thus giving our allegiance to Him. Why should we follow Him? First, He came and lived on this earth even as you and I, but without sin. Secondly, He carried out His Father's plan even to dying on the cross for us. Thirdly, His supreme power is shown in the fact that He rose from the dead and returned to live for a short time as a man among men.

"Decisions are made in every-day life, but the most important decision of all is that concerning the investment of life, whether or not to owe complete allegiance to Christ and His cause. Decision on such matters depends more on God than on us, ourselves. What we should do is put ourselves into the right spirit, surrender to His guidance, and let Him decide the way for us to go and the things for us to do."

BASEBALL TRIP BEGINS MONDAY.

Next Monday the Colby baseball team will leave on its first out of state trip of the season. The teams which Colby will meet on this trip include Providence College at Providence, Rhode Island State at Kingston, Connecticut Aggies at Storrs, and Lowell Textile at Lowell, Mass.

The above trip will witness the first real games of the Blue and Gray outfit during the present season. The very first clash of the year however comes on Thursday of this week when Colby and the University of Maine meet in their annual Patriot's Day exhibition game which will be played on Sovereigns Field.

In the past this game has been used merely to find out just what the various men could do under actual playing conditions, and usually both coaches use two full teams, sending three or four pitchers into the box during the game.

WILLIAM D. UPSHAW AT MEN'S CHAPEL

Georgia Representative Captivates Audience with His Magnetic Personality and Sense of Humor.

Representative William D. Upshaw of Georgia spoke at the chapel exercises of the Men's Division Saturday morning. He captivated his audience as usual by his magnetic personality and sense of humor. He first told how his first visit to Colby two years ago had always remained one of his brightest memories. One thing seemed lacking this morning however. He missed the Co-ords.

In a more serious mood, he said, "The great problem facing America today is the preservation of the sanctity of the law. The violation of the Eighteenth amendment is probably the most demoralizing factor in daily life. The demand is upon the individual as a citizen. There is too much lack of appreciation of the sacredness of citizenship. Take an intelligent interest in the government. If good men don't run the government, bad men will. Citizens must act, not sit still 'a-trusting of the Lord.'"

In a facetious manner, he gave a prophecy concerning the next Presidential election. "Our next president," he said, "may be a Democrat, but he certainly will not be a Boozercat! The supreme issue of the election will be the integrity of the Constitution of the United States."

KAPPA ALPHAS ENJOY FEED

The Kappa Alpha, senior society, held one of the regular "feeds" in the room of the Misses Boulah Adams and Marion L. Drisko, Friday evening. The menu consisted of shrimp salad, hot rolls, cucumbers, coffee, chocolate, marshmallow roll and ice cream. The favors were attractive and added greatly to the attractions of the tables. After dinner bridge was enjoyed. All the members were present and it was voted one of the best get-togethers of the season.

Miss Marguerite O'Roark has been elected as the freshman member to the Student Government executive board.

A Pan Hellenic meeting was held Friday night at which it was voted to have the Pan Hellenic dance on Saturday, April 28.

The Literary society held its regular meeting Friday night in the assembly room at Foss hall. The life and works of Christopher Morley were the topics for the evening. The program began with a solo by Miss Grace Fox. Miss Annie Brownstone then gave the life of Christopher Morley. Miss Eleanor Evans spoke of his poetry and read one or two of his productions. Miss Marion Cummings read three of his essays and Miss Marion Brown read selected portions from his latest work, "Where the Blue Begins." It was a most interesting meeting and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

GEORGE H. PALMER COMING TO COLBY

Students to Have Privilege of Hearing World's Greatest Teacher of Philosophy at the First Baptist Church—Meeting Under Auspices of Kappa Phi Kappa.

On Tuesday evening, May 8, Professor Palmer of Harvard University will address a meeting held at the First Baptist Church under the auspices of Kappa Phi Kappa.

Professor Palmer is probably the most popular teacher of philosophy in the world. His lectures at Harvard have always been the most widely attended ones. As a lecturer there are none who can compare with him in clearness and fine expression. It is said that every sentence of his is a work of art.

Probably the college students will know him best through his essays of which he has written many. Among the most popular are "Self Cultivation in English," and "The Glory of the Imperfect."

As to the popularity of his lectures at Harvard it might be stated that in reply to questionnaires sent out in order to discover which course at Harvard had done the most good Professor Palmer's course received the most number of votes as being the most practical course.

It is not often that Colby students have the opportunity of hearing such men as this, and doubtless Professor Palmer will be enthusiastically greeted, especially by those who are interested in philosophy, ethics and education.

ON COLLEGE CUSTOMS.

It is the cry of some of the newcomers on the campus that Colby lacks in the matter of college customs and traditions. It is their complaint that there are not enough of these things which keep up college spirit. This is undoubtedly true. There are not many customs here at Colby which are followed year after year for the mere fact that they are customs. Outside the entertainment of the freshmen on Bloody Monday night, the wearing of the freshmen cap, the sophomore hop, the junior prom, the senior hop, the carrying of canes by the seniors, the division of the avenue into the male and female sides, the rule which keeps the freshmen to the female side of the avenue, the tipping of hats to professors, the cheering of the different buildings by seniors after their last chapel, the annual reception to the freshmen by the Y. M. C. A., and a few others there are no customs here at Colby. But after all what is the use of a custom if all that it does is to bring out a certain number for a certain length of time each year? For instance, there is the U. B. initiation. Undoubtedly this is a custom, but what on earth is the use of it all? It merely creates a laugh for some of the students, embarrasses others, and gives them a zero on the books of the professors. While anything which helps create that intangible thing called college spirit is always welcomed yet it is not always best brought about by these customs. Customs are not to be had ready-made but grow out of necessity. Customs for customs' sake are not to be desired.

MANY THINGS IN LIFE ARE NOT REAL.

Some one once said that our greatest troubles never happen. That will remind one of the little fellow who sat by the fireside in the twilight and as usual his boy mind ran to tales of gloom and terror. He began to tell these things to his father who was sitting close by. He told of great big prowling lions who would eat up little boys and big men, of big black bears who were waiting in the woods for little folks. No, sir, boys would have no chance in such a place. And then he told of the man who was driving through the woods and a great big tiger jumped out and bit off the horse's head, and the man just had to walk miles and miles to get home. 'Nd then on the way home he heard all sorts of funny noises, and sav some awful things in the shadows by the wayside, and these 'most scared him to death. About this time the little fellow looked up into his father's face and thought that his father looked frightened and so he reached up one little grimy, grubby hand and groped until he found his father's and then he said softly, "It's all right, father, you know they aren't real." Probably that is the truth about the darkest things that assail our paths and make our hearts afraid. And long ago there was a Man who lived through and overcome all human fears, and He told us even as the lad told his father, "It's all right. You know they aren't real."

THE BASEBALL SEASON.

The season thus far has been anything but helpful for the baseball players. Nevertheless, every day since the coach issued the call for men the men have been out there doing the best that they could under very adverse conditions. They deserve the praise and the support of every man and woman in college. It is not enough to wait until the day of the game to let the men know that you are behind them. Tell them so now, and then when the nights of the rallies come, be right there where you belong. A team cannot be expected to work miracles, so do not go out onto the field the day of the game and expect to walk away with everything in sight unless you have done your part in making the team the best team in the state.

Colby is going after the State Championship this year and in order to get it it is necessary for every man to do his part whether he is a member of the team or not. If you support your team, then your team will support you.

It certainly was a treat for Colby men to listen once more to Congressman Upshaw and those who were not at chapel last Saturday morning missed a rare treat. The Bryan of the South aptly describes him.

How many have their eyes on that suit of clothes down at H. R. Dunham Co.'s? It won't be long now before the baseball men will begin to decide who will get it.

There is hope for the man who will admit that he does not know, but for him who is never in the wrong and who knows everything there is very little hope.

Are you doing your part in supporting the Y. M. C. A.? The meetings on Tuesday night are unusually interesting and are open to all.

Keeping overlastingly at it brings success. Do not let your courses get the best of you now. Keep plugging.

Tell your physics prof. that this cap defies gravity

SHAVING cream caps have an uncanny habit of chumming with gravity. That's why the Williams' Hinged Cap shown here is so remarkable. You can't persuade it to roll down a drain pipe. It refuses to go near the bathroom floor. In brief, it defies all previous laws governing the behavior of shaving cream caps.

Williams' Shaving Cream, in the same way, upsets all traditions about shaving. First of all, it exceeds every known speed limit for softening the beard. You can get your face ready for shaving in less time with Williams' than with any shaving cream you ever used.

In the second place, Williams' has a positive effect for good on the skin. Your face, with the wholesome care which Williams' gives, is kept in better condition and made more comfortable.

Test out these advantages which Williams' offers. Start with Williams' to-morrow and see what a time saver it is and how it helps make shaving more enjoyable.

SENIORS CONDUCT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

First of Series of Meetings in Charge of Seniors of Alpha Fraternity.

The regular meeting of the Colby Y. M. C. A. was held at 7.30 Tuesday night. Attendance is on the gain. Fifteen were present, as compared with thirteen a week ago. That means however, that over two hundred men are missing the inspiring meetings of the association.

The meeting was under the dual leadership of the Alpha seniors, Stanley G. Estes, '23, and Merton S. Lavery, '23.

Mr. Lavery led a lively song service at the beginning, surprising the aged walls with the volume of so few voices.

Several of those present led in prayer. A general subject was announced as "What does Religion Mean to Me?" A semi-open forum meeting ensued. "Spike" Farnum said that religion should mean happiness, true happiness that comes with a consecrated life. He also spoke of it as a base upon which to build a life.

"Ray" Grant said that religion set before us an example for daily living, even Jesus.

Mr. Lavery expressed religion in terms of service, saying that the religious man felt a desire to do something worth while.

Percy Beatty stated that religious life was not all a bed of roses, but that it was hard at times. It is easy to be a coward, but the one who has the courage to follow Christ is the one who is respected in his community or circle of friends.

"Joe" Smith, the orator from Skowhegan, reminded the hearers of Prexy's truth that "religion is good common sense and good common sense is religion." Religion is not a freak, but the rounding out of a three fold life.

As a whole, the meeting was one of the most interesting of late.

COLBY MEN TO HEAR GENERAL HERSEY.

General Hersey is a Maine man and a West Point graduate and said to be a very interesting speaker.

TEAM A DEFEATS SECOND TEAM

Colby Squad Plays First Full Game of Season—Score 8 to 1.

The Colby squad went through a real ball game Saturday. On Thursday of last week, the limit was 4½ innings but on the final week-day session, Coach Parent sent his men through the regular distance of nine innings. Team A defeated Team B by the score of 8 to 1. Team B was awarded better pitching than in the preceding clash which the regulars won 19 to 3. Muir and Pratt worked for team B, while Burke and Royal plodded through four and five innings for Team A.

The Colby baseball nine was prevented from engaging in another informal brush Monday when a two inch fall of snow descended on the campus, the city and the diamond during the morning hours. At mid-afternoon, the snow had disappeared from the diamond, but the ground was soggy and it was impossible to do anything, except in the outfield.

Coach Freddie Parent took the occasion to instruct his men in some of the phases of "inside baseball." Signals for the usual plays were doled out to the members of Team A and Team B will receive their mental weapons this afternoon. The infielders were also given a long session in running down men on the paths, Coach Parent deeming this an important part of good team execution.

On another section of the outfield, the pitchers went through their stunts for the better part of an hour. Johnnie Howard, veteran hurler, who has been out of work since the Easter vacation when he was operated on for removal of tonsils, went through a lusty session indoors yesterday and seemed to have all sorts of pep. Howard hopes to be in shape to go south with the nine next week.

Danny Shanahan, catcher and outfielder, was laid up yesterday with tonsillitis but is expected back in the fold today or tomorrow.

Coach Parent was especially disappointed yesterday in the weather inasmuch as he had counted on ordering "hooks" yesterday for the first time for this year.

The second out of the year was made yesterday at noon when the squad was reduced to 36 members. Five candidates fell under the axe wielded by Coach Parent. They were L. DePaw, Pierpont and Seamens, outfielders; Sadowsky, third base; and MacPherson, pitcher.

PENN. CARNIVAL ANNUAL EVENTS

Oxford will Take Part in Games Again This Year—Colby to be Represented.

The 29th Annual Relay Race Carnival under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania will be held this year on Friday and Saturday, April 27 and 28. This great Carnival, which is now acknowledged to be the greatest annual track and field meeting held any place in the world annually, will again have international importance. This is due to the fact that Oxford University, England, will send a two mile team to compete in the American college two mile relay championship. This will be very welcome and interesting news to the thousands who were present in 1914 when a four mile team from Oxford was here and in 1920 when a combined Oxford-Cambridge two mile team appeared on Franklin Field. The 1914 race was the most sensational race that has ever been seen in this country as Oxford won by a hair. The 1920 race produced a new two mile relay record, though this record was effaced from the books last season by the wonderful team which the University of Pennsylvania then produced.

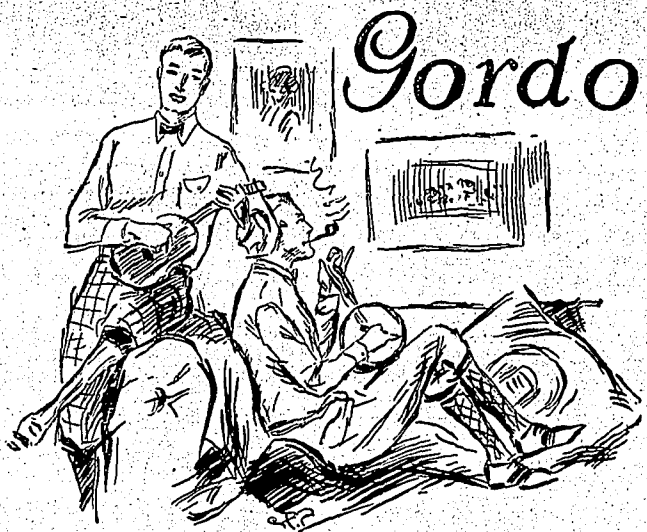

The keenest interest will be taken in the British team, and already many are asking in what shape the American colleges are to meet this new athletic invasion of our shores. It is, thus, reassuring to be told that the East has at least three teams—namely those from Yale, Georgetown and Cornell—that will give valiant battle to the English runners. The West is still to be heard from, but indications are that Chicago, Kansas and other Western colleges will also have fast quartettes to put into this important event.

Though the International race will be the big feature of the coming Carnival, the meeting promises in other respects to be up to a higher standard than ever before. The indoor season which is now at its height has already shown that the American colleges are in for the most brilliant track and field season in their history. Wonderful records are being made in all the events. For instance, last week, Charles Paddock of the University of Southern California ran the 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds, wonderful time for so early in the season. "Boots" Lever of Pennsylvania was beaten only a foot by Murchison of the Illinois A. C. at 60 yards in a new world record time of 6 1-5 seconds. Brown of Dartmouth recently cleared 6 feet 5½ inches, a new indoor high jump record. A dozen men have gotten over 12 feet 4 inches or better in the pole vault, the most notable performance being that of Owen of Pennsylvania, who cleared 12 feet 7 inches recently. Seven or eight men have put the shot better than 42 feet, while Meyers of Rutgers recently defeated Thompson, formerly of Dartmouth, in a 70 yard hurdle race in new record time. Hellfrich of Penn State came within 2-5 seconds of the world's 600 yard record at the Millrose games, and on the same evening Connolly of Georgetown made new world's figures at two-thirds of a mile. Taylor of Princeton, Woodring of Syracuse, the Olympic 200 metre champion, Koppisch of Columbia, and Baker of Virginia have all done close to 50 seconds indoors for the quarter mile. Brilliant performances have been seen all over the country, but especially in the East and Middle West. All of the above men will be seen at Pennsylvania's Relay Carnival. In addition, the relay racing has been up to a very high standard, so that new records may be expected in more than one of the College relay championships that will be run, as usual, in connection with Pennsylvania's classic.

Though the date of the meet is practically two months off, there are already close to 400 institutions entered, so that last year's record list of 425 is sure to be exceeded. These include already over 80 colleges drawn from the entire United States. The Carnival will thus be finer than ever and of the most representative character. Pennsylvania's new stadium seats over 40,000, but with such a wonderful array of teams and individual athletes, it is already predicted that it will be filled to the gates to do honor to the flower of America's college and school athletes and the visitors from Oxford.

LIGHTING THE HIGHWAYS

In the less than two years that serious attention has been given to lighting highways scientifically, upwards of 500 miles of road are now illuminated or will soon be. This figure does not include roads lighted with adaptations of village or city lighting units, but applies only to those where a special type of units are being or will be used. While the total may not be as impressive as to mileage, the installations have been made in a number of different sections of the country and the idea is spreading rapidly.

A conspicuous example afforded by the township of Amherst, just east of Buffalo, N. Y., which has arranged to light its entire system of roadways, consisting of about 112 miles, with special units designed by the General Electric Company. It has been found that suitable lighting units for highway illumination can be installed at a cost of not more than about five per cent of the expense per mile of building a road.
