

SIGMA KAPPA
48TH INITIATIONMany Alumnae Attend Occasion. Inspiring Banquet at Elmwood.

Alpha chapter of Sigma Kappa held its forty-eighth annual initiation Saturday, December 1, at five o'clock in the chapter hall. At eight o'clock the banquet was served at the Elmwood Hotel. Helen N. Hanson, '15, acted very competently as toastmistress. Some very clever toasts were given by Ruth A. Allen, '24, Clara Ford, '26, Mrs. Mabel D. Libby, '03, Louise Helen Coburn, '77, Mrs. Mary C. Carter, '04, Marion D. Brown, '24, Mrs. Edith W. Chester, '04, Pauline Herring, '10, Bernice Downs, Delta, '25. Greetings were read from many alumnae who were unable to be present.

Besides the active members there were many alumnae present: Louise H. Coburn, '77, Helen N. Hanson, '15, Miriam B. Adams, '19, Mrs. Pauline P. Bailey, '22, Harriet M. Pearce, '22, Mrs. Grace W. Thompson, '15, Elsie L. McCausland, '20, Mrs. Mabel D. Libby, '03, Mrs. Mary C. Carter, '04, Alice M. Purinton, '99, Mrs. Edith W. Chester, '04, Mrs. Annie H. Wheeler, '08, Susan H. Weston, '06, Dr. Mary S. Crowell, '96, Florence E. Dunn, '96, Marion R. Daggett, '17, Bertha H. Kennison, '07, Caro B. Chapman, '10, Gladys A. Welch, '18, Pauline Herring, '10, Mrs. Eleanor W. Joy, '16, Lillian Pyer, '20, Jennie M. Smith, '81, Marjorie V. Smiley, '25, Mrs. Bernice B. McGarrel, '21, Florence M. Preble, '21, Alice Clark, '21, Elizabeth B. Larrabee, '23, Mrs. Grace W. Atchley, '03, Mrs. Lois H. Smith, '03, Helmer Lambert, Kappa, '08, Bernice Downs, '25, representing Delta chapter of Boston University. The nine initiates were: Louise J. Chapman, '27, Marguerite Chase, '27, Arlene S. Mann, '27, Helen C. Mitchell, '27, Lura Norcross, '27, Helen Pollard, '27, Marjorie S. Rowell, '27, Doris Sanborn, '27, Helen C. Smith, '27.

WOMEN OBSERVE
Friendship Fund.

The past week has been observed by Colby women as Sacrifice Week; so called because it has been a time when the usual small comforts and luxuries, such as moving pictures, ice cream and candy, have been sacrificed and the money usually expended upon them donated to the Student Friendship Fund. This fund, to which students all over America are contributing, is raised to give aid to the starving students in foreign lands, where living conditions are in a most deplorable state.

Thus far, by money sacrificed Colby women have raised approximately $45. This is not as much as was contributed last year, due to the fact that not all the contributions have as yet been received. Besides this money the Colby women voted to pay $100 of the $600 to be raised for this year's budget, to the Student Friendship Fund, as well as any sum over and above the total amount of the budget.

Y. W. C. A. Budget.
The budget of the Y. W. C. A. for the present year was presented by Carolyn L. Hodgdon, '24, treasurer of the association, at the meeting Tuesday evening, November 20. It was shown that $600 would be needed to carry on the Y. W. C. A. work this year. Dean Nettie M. Runnals explained that this money was to be raised by subscription. Of this, $100 will go to the Student Friendship Fund and any amount over the $600 will also be contributed to this cause.

LAM CHI HOUSE PARTY.
The first Lambda Chi Alpha house party in two years will be held at the fraternity home Friday evening. This annual social function was not observed last year because of the drastic fire which occurred a year ago last Monday morning, taking the lives of five of the brothers.

Leo Nichols and his selected team will furnish the music.

FRESHMAN ISSUE.

The next issue of this paper will be unique in the history of the COLBY ECHO. It will be edited entirely by members of the Freshman Class. From start to finish, the freshmen will be responsible for the quality of the issue. It will come out Tuesday night, Dec. 11. At a meeting of the class, E. Morton Havey was chosen Editor-in-Chief, and Harold Carson, business manager. The rest of the staff has been chosen as follows:

Associate Editors: Baird, La Grue, MacPherson, Schmiedel.
Assistant Editors: Macomber, Trowbridge, Merrill.

Reporters: Helen Smith, Marguerite Chase, Helen Mitchell, Getchell, Mathers, Lewin, Eaton, Johnston, Cowing, Lawson.

Mailing Clerks: Peavey, Rainboth.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. held a joint meeting in the chapel, Tuesday, November 21. Mr. Miller, student secretary of the Y. M. C. A., addressed the group. He complimented the men and women of Colby on their success in meeting together as a single unit. Mr. Miller said that the time has come for the two movements to exist less and less as separate movements.

"In the past," he remarked, "gatherings of men and women have been looked upon as more or less frivolous affairs. That they can meet together with a serious purpose is here shown."

The object of Mr. Miller's visit was to acquaint the students with the facts and details of the Students' Friendship Fund. The substance of the address follows:

"Shortly after the war foreign students—Austrian, German, Hungarian and Russian—were unable to continue their studies without aid. In 1919 an agent was appointed to collect funds from the students of more fortunate countries. During the years 1921-22, $1,400,000 was collected. It was hoped that the foreign student group would be self supporting by 1928.

"The fact is, the situation in Europe was never so dark as at this hour, especially among the students. Relief is indispensable if the students are to continue as such. Russia's only hope of ever being led to something better lies with the students.

"The financial situation is critical. At present 100 billion marks are worth only a dollar. It requires 30,000,000 marks to send a letter from Germany to New York. In pre-war days this sum would have been equal to $7,500,000.

"The money you students contribute is not given as dollars but is used as capital by which the people can help themselves. A system has been built up which allows students to almost wholly work their own way.

SOULE CAPTAIN
AVERY MANAGERBenjamin E. Soule of Portland Elected to Lead Gridiron Team, Avery Chosen Manager.

Benjamin E. Soule of Portland was elected to lead the 1924 Colby football team at a meeting of the letter men held in the Chapel last Tuesday.

Ben has held down the left end berth on the Blue and Gray gridiron outfit for the last three years and he is entirely worthy of the honor bestowed upon him by his teammates.

Coming to Colby from Charlie Dwyer's crack Hebron team of 1920, Soule earned his letter his freshman year and has held his position since. Last year he was chosen by most of the experts for the mythical All-Maine team and this year his choice was unanimous.

Not satisfied with being a wing man above par Ben has developed a little sideline in the art of dropkicking. His toe served him well and it was his 33-yard drop kick that broke up the tie in the Bates game and gave Colby a clear claim to the state title.

Besides his football ability Soule is very prominent in other scholastic activities. He is president of the junior class, a conscientious worker in his studies and an active member of the Zeta Psi fraternity.

With such a captain and with a large list of veterans the 1924 aggregation should repeat the performance of this season's championship team.

COBURN WINS
TRIANGLE MEETColby Frosh Harriers Place
Second in the Meet with Coburn and Hebron.

The Colby freshman cross country team finished second in the triangular meet with Coburn and Hebron over the Colby short course. Wood (Coburn) easily placed first with his team mate, Hardy, closed second. The next four places were filled by the college harriers who showed good team work. The yearlings were only five points behind Coburn, and missed Shorey who could have easily changed the score. Hebron, after traveling all day, was not in any shape to run and made no showing at all.

The summary:

(1) H. A. Wood, Coburn, 16 min.
(2) L. B. Hardy, Coburn, 16.02 min.
(3) J. Brudno, Colby, 16.10 min.
(4) T. G. Grant, Colby, 16.37 min.

(16) W. E. Leadbetter, Hebron, 18.30 min.
(17) J. Berry, Colby, 18.40 min.
(18) N. A. Williams, Coburn, 19.11 min.

Score: Coburn 81; Colby Freshmen 36; Hebron 58.

HOULTON.

At the opening meeting of "Education Week" at Houlton, Prof. Ernest C. Marriner of Colby delivered the principal address. He was very well received and the Aroostook Pioneer comments in part as follows:

Professor Marriner was very clever with stories introducing them with a touch of humor all his own, and adapting them to his hearers' fancy. He also recommended Bible study "for," said he: "if we don't know the Bible we shall hardly be able to understand the current stories of the day." He then instanced some of them which were particularly clever, and before closing delivered some very terse and compelling epigrams.

Asking what our young people are getting out of college he answered his own question by stating that they are learning "the science of getting along with folks." "College," said the Professor, "is a place in which to teach boys and girls to do better the things that they are going to do away."

DEKES HOLO
77TH INITIATIONNine Initiates Taken in to Fraternity. Banquet at Elmwood.

Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon held its Seventy-Seventh Annual Initiation and Banquet Monday evening, December 3. The initiation was conducted in the chapter house after which the members adjourned to the Elmwood Hotel where an enjoyable banquet was prepared. During the meal the traditional Deke songs were sung and the Deke orchestra of five pieces gave several selections. Letters and telegrams from absent members were read.

The toastmaster of the evening was Cranston H. Jordan, '24. The speakers included Albion W. Blake, '11, John A. Barnes, '24, Alfred K. Chapman, '25, William Philbrick, Bowdoin, '25, Howard R. Mitchell, '72, Donald E. Sprague, '26, William A. Macomber, '27, and Archer Jordan, '95.

The initiates were as follows: From the class of 1926, Frank C. Hall of Nobleboro, George A. Roach of Smyrna Mills. From the class of 1927, William F. Crouse of Philadelphia, Frank W. Harriman, Jr., of New York City, B. Morton Havey of West Sullivan, Archer Jordan, Jr., of Auburn, Harry J. Kaufman of Hartsdale, N. Y., Ralph C. Lewin of Houlton, and William A. Macomber of Fall River, Mass.

A. T. O.'S ENJOY
HOUSE PARTYFirst Fraternity House Party of Year Held on Thanksgiving Eve.

The Maine Gamma Alpha Chapter of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity held its first house dance of the year Thanksgiving Eve. The Patrons and Patronesses were President and Mrs. A. J. Roberts, Dean Nettie Runnals, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Ferrel, Mrs. Ella R. Bishop, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jacobs. The dance was well attended by members of the fraternity, alumni and guests from the other fraternities.

The house was prettily decorated with azure and gold, and Thanksgiving scenery. Punch, ice cream, and cookies were served at intermission. The committee in charge was John Berry, John Flynn, and Stephen Berry.

The Colby Orchestra furnished music for the dancing.

PI KAPPA DELTA MEETING.

The initiation and election of officers of Maine Alpha of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary debating society, was held in the chapel last Friday evening. Officers elected were: President, Elmer M. Taylor; secretary, Russell M. Squire; treasurer, Theodore F. Hodgkins; correspondent to the national paper, Robert M. Waugh.

Taylor is vice-president of the Colby Debating Society and a member of the L. C. A. fraternity. The initiates were those above mentioned and Kenneth Shaw. They are all members of the Junior class and experienced debaters.

WHITE MULE REPORT.

The financial board of the White Mule report very satisfactory returns from the drive for subscriptions. Subscriptions are coming in every day from all over the United States in answer to the circular letters sent out to the alumni.

The second edition of the paper will come from the press immediately following the Christmas vacation. This issue will be made up from a better stock of paper and will contain 32 pages instead of 10. The front and back covers will be done in a four color design.

PICTURES OF BATES GAME.

Those who wish souvenirs of the famous game by which Colby won the state championship should examine the action pictures now on exhibition in the College Bookstore. Orders are being taken for prints at ten cents each, and must be placed within the next couple of days.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT UNDER WAYSeniors and Freshmen Are Victors in Initial Contests For Druid Cup. Freshmen Take Lead in Second Lap of Series.

The first games of the Interclass Basketball tournament for the cup offered by the Druids were played in the gym Friday night. The first game featuring the two upper classes was rather one-sided and the seniors exhibiting a smooth working quintet easily trimmed the third year men by a 34 to 20 count. The second game between the Sophomores and the Freshmen was a thriller and was only decided in the last few minutes of play. As it was the Frosh had the best of an 18 to 14 score.

Beatty was the high point man for the seniors with Nickerson and McDonald getting their share of the glory. For the juniors Bud Weymouth was the star but lack of any sort of teamwork and poor eyesight lost the game for his teammates. Had Hearon sunk half of the baskets he attempted the score would have been closer.

The Frosh-Soph battle was one from start to finish. The second year men were scheduled to win but the injury of their mainstay, Johnnie Burke spoiled their chances. The freshmen displayed a fine brand of basketball and were the surprise of the evening. Peabody, Burke and Shanahan did their bit for the sophomores with Nickerson, O'Donnell and Dunnack starring for the Frosh.

Monday night the class of 1927 swept into the lead in the interclass basketball tournament by a win over the last senior team in a very close fought game. The final score read 20 to 19. The game was exciting from start to finish as first one and then the other team held the lead. It was one of the fastest games in the gym for some time and decided only in the last few minutes at which time the freshmen exhibiting a fine brand of basketball came from behind and won by one point. McDonald, garnered the most points for the graduating class and Nickerson, Schmiedel, and O'Donnell starred for the victors.

The game playoff for the collar position between the sophomores and the juniors proved to be a rather uninteresting affair. Neither team had their regular team on the floor and the game was a joke. The final score was 44 to 31 with the sophomores having a firm hold on the last place. Hebert had turned in a fine evening's work at basket shooting with a total of ten while Bud Weymouth was not far behind. Marr and Morehouse played a good game for the losers.

CALLAGHAN MAKES GOOD.

Colby College can boast of a Maine football championship this season, but that is not all, for down in Willimantic, Conn., there is a Colby grad, who is making good and such news will be welcome to South Brewer and Colby people. Tommy Callaghan, a one-time Colby baseball captain and a Colby end is working wonders in that little Connecticut town and his success as a football coach is highly gratifying.

At Colby Callaghan made himself famous as an all-around man. In football, baseball, track and basketball Tommy gained the hearty plaudits of the Waterville institution for special performances which were not once in awhile events in his sporting career. Tommy made good at Colby. —Bangor Daily News.

ELECTION OF FOOTBALL MAN-AGER HELD.

The annual Colby Athletic Association election for managers of football was held in the Chapel Saturday. John E. Avery with no opposition was elected manager. Avery has worked hard all the fall and much of the success of the team was due to his earnest efforts. He hails from Stonington, Conn., and is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Carroll S. Parker of Belfast and John A. Nelson of Augusta are next year's assistant managers. The same are members of the Delta Upsilon and Zeta Psi fraternities respectively.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

At the Y meeting last night reports were given by the Colby men who attended the state boys' conference at Pittsfield. The speakers were Waugh, '25, Barnes, '26, and Reynolds, '28. Each said that he had found the conference very helpful and beneficial.

Prof. Newman, who was also at the conference, commended the spirit of the Colby delegation. There were many others besides the speakers of last evening, who attended as delegates from Colby.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1923.

IN MEMORIAM.

Just one year ago yesterday, Colby College was plunged into sorrow by the North College fire. It is needless to dwell upon the horror of those tragic days, but would we not do well to remember the close bond of brotherhood that we felt when welded together by common grief? All petty differences were swallowed up in our one overwhelming sense of mutual loss, and Colby men and women, old and young, shared the burden equally.

How true it is that over much good fortune is a more insidious danger than misfortune. It takes more self control and a truer perspective to endure victory than defeat. We have proved ourselves superior to the bludgeonings of fate, let us not now be conquered by the wiles of success. Can we not keep the same comradeship bound by a common love of our college? It is all so simple. Why not do it?

FRATERNITY POLITICS.

For some reason there has been much discussion this last week about the evils of fraternity politics. One hears it on all sides: on the campus, among the alumni, and from interested friends. No one will say a word in favor of the practice, yet it persists. Why is it?

President Roberts pointed out that the root of the evil was the practice of dickering or swapping votes between the groups. The ECHO is inclined to believe that there is a deeper underlying cause. The real trouble lies in the exaggeration of the value of an office to a fraternity. Every fraternity likes to enumerate the positions of its members in the college world and so build up an illusion of its worth according to these standards. It is supposed to be a fine thing to be able to boast of these honors to the alumni of the chapter. This pride is perfectly legitimate until it is carried too far. When it becomes emphasized over and above the best interests of the college, then it becomes iniquitous. The problem is how to control this tendency before the college is sacrificed to the blind egotism of any one fraternity.

Colby men always take pride in the number of offices held by our alumni in the world. Yet suppose it would be possible by some conspiracy to elect a Colby graduate the president of the country over a stronger man. Ought we to do it? The analogy is so absurd as to be ludicrous, yet it is only an enlargement of a possible situation at college.

The alumni can help immensely by inquiring whether the honors so proudly displayed on paper are true or really disgraceful. But the real cure must come from within. The college can never be safe until a certain type of individual, fortunately rare, puts on far-sighted spectacles and begins to look at things with the best interests of the college in mind. We are not trying to indicate any individual or group specifically, but, if the shoe fits—put it on!

"All work and no play makes jack."

Talk about beating anyone at his own game: Bates beat Wellesley at talking! Can you imagine that?

Now that the flunk notices have gone home, and demands for explanations have been received by the students, the parents are receiving vivid pictures of the incompetence of the impertinent professors. Isn't it funny how little non-attendance and non-preparation have to do with scholarship grades?

WHICH ARE YOU?

When the Creator had made all good things, there was still some dirty work to do, so He made the beasts and the reptiles and poisonous insects, and when He had finished He had some scraps that were too bad to put into the rattle-snake, the hyena, the scorpion, so He put all these together, covered them with a mantle of suspicion, wrapped it with a cloak of jealousy, marked it with a yellow streak, and called it a KNOCKER.

This product was so fearful to contemplate that He had to make something to counteract it; so He took a sunbeam, put it in the heart of a child, and the brains of a man, wrapped it in civic pride, covered it with brotherly love, gave it a hand of velvet and a grip of steel, made it a lover of fields and flowers, and manly sports, a believer in equality and justice, a worker for and a supporter of every good thing, and called it a BOOSTER.

And ever since, mortal man has had the privilege of choosing his associates.—Horndon Observer.

CORRESPONDENCE

TO THE HEDMANITES.

To the Editor of the Echo:

In your issues of November 14 and 21 are two timely and excellent letters from occupants of Hedman Hall. Speaking for and as a member of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds I am impelled to express my appreciation of them, of their clear statement of conditions, of the spirit and good feeling that run through them and of their suggestion of what should and will be done. Cooperation between the students and the administration? That is just the thing, the only thing, the fair and sensible thing needed and the administration and our committee have full confidence that we will have and maintain the hearty cooperation of the boys. The incident of the visit, the ensuing agitation and frank discussion are the best things that have happened for a long time and are going to result in great good. The administration is committed to the policy of putting our plant into fine condition and keep it so. The thorough renovation of Recitation Hall this year is proof of that policy. Progress will be made just as fast as sound financing will permit. The trustees at their meeting on November 19 approved that Hedman and Roberts Hall should during the next summer vacation be renovated from top to bottom and from one end to the other. It is interesting to note that this approval was given two days before the letter of November 21.

When the buildings have been put into proper condition, while care on the part of the administration, which cannot be criticized, must continue, yet we must place great reliance for the needful care on the students. They and the administration are co-trustees in a trust that holds all these buildings as a priceless heritage for the boys who are to follow them. That trust is recognized by the great mass of the student body and it can be relied upon to hold in check the thoughtless few. Rules for care and use of the rooms, which in the opinion of the trustees are fair and salutary, were adopted a year ago. They should be understood by all the students and should be placed so as to be always ready for the eye. As the letters say "Why can't we have a new deal?" You can and you will. The wind has come into the northwest and I feel an invigorating refreshing breeze.

Norman L. Bassett.

THE DARTMOUTH GAME.

Editor of The Echo:

I can but heartily endorse the sentiments of "A Colby Man" in a recent issue of your publication that "it is a shame for such a wonderful season as our football team has had, to be anti-climaxed by an ignominious defeat as the beating by Dartmouth was."

All sane Colby men—whether graduates or undergraduates—must also approve of the thought that "it is not a disgrace to be beaten by a team in one's class, but to buck against a team of pre-acknowledged superiority is as foolhardy as it is unwise."

"Would Benny Leonard try to battle with Jack Dempsey?" this writer asks. Assuredly not. Why? Because he would be soundly whipped, might become physically incapacitated; in any case would lower his earning power as a professional pugilist.

Now there is a question in the mind of the writer if Colby College can afford to trifle with its athletic prestige—at present enhanced by virtue of its state series triumph—any more than the premier lightweight can frolic with fate in a match with our bruising heavyweight king.

It may be unorthodox to treat of amateur college athletics and professional boxing in the same breath but since the author of this analogy has so successively driven home his point, he must be condoned; in truth congratulated.

There is no Colby man any more in favor of treating the football team to an extended trip for a sort of post-season contest than the writer. It is only right and just that some such "remuneration" be made to the members of the eleven; who, after all is said and done, do make the greatest sacrifice (pardon me, Mike) and do undergo the most arduous training and discipline of all college athletes. But it is evident that this trip should be made for the purpose of competing against a combination of corresponding strength.

Surely the players do not enjoy a tragedy similar to that which occurred up on the Connecticut. It is not conducive to happiness to be battered around, to give all that one has, and then—even then—to be so sadly hammered into oblivion. If the trip is ordered to give the men a bit of pleasure after an uninterrupted season of toil, then it must on its face fail to fulfill the hopes of its instigators.

New England—at least that part of it known as Greater Boston—had little interest in Colby football at the start of the fall. Then the boys arrived, tied Bowdoin; beat Maine and subsequently Bates. New England cocked its ear toward Waterville and warmed towards the little Maine college. A prestige was being fanned into flame. Now that flame is out, and New England folk are not so certain as before that Colby had a well moulded machine on the gridiron. Colby men appreciate the circumstances by which the overwhelming defeat at Hanover was possible. The team had passed the peak, the season was virtually ended, and the squad was fearfully out-reserved. But the outsider does not know of these conditions and was chagrined to see the fall of his Pine Tree idol. Colby lost all the prestige which she had gained in the glorious games of the state series.

If there can be any reason why the practice of scheduling such a game as the recent Dartmouth fiasco should be continued, the writer, as many others, would like to be informed of it. Colby refuses to play Harvard owing to the hurt of injuries. Colby should refuse to meet Dartmouth, and other elevens of her calibre, owing to the hurt of prestige.

Everyone connected with Colby and Dartmouth knows that three severe points is not indicative of the true relative strength of the two teams; but, to the all important outsider, who some day may consider sending his son to Waterville, the tally hung up at Hanover means much.

$250 in Prizes

This is the new Hinged Cap on Williams' Shaving Cream. Williams' is the only shaving cream having this convenience feature. We want you to tell us how the cap appeals to you. So we make this offer:

For the best sentence of ten words or less on the value of the Williams' Hinged Cap, we offer the following prizes: 1st prize $100; 2nd prize $50; two 3rd prizes, $25 each; two 4th prizes, $10 each; six 5th prizes, $5 each. Any undergraduate or graduate student is eligible. If two or more persons submit identical slogans deemed worthy of prizes, the full amount of the prize will be awarded to each. Contest closes at midnight March 14, 1924. Winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Submit any number of slogans but write on one side of paper only, putting name, address, college and class at top of each sheet. Address letters to Contest Editor, The J. B. Williams Co., Glastonbury, Conn.

HEDMAN HOLLERINGS

Thanksgiving has passed and all are present and accounted for. May the same happen at mid-years.

The light sockets on the third and fourth floors are becoming ancient history. They should be over in the Old Library with the rest of the collections. Unmated souls!

Oleomargarine Levine whose place of business is Roberts Hall but who hangs out at Hedman—considerable, wants to know "how cum he don't get no ECHO." Perhaps he hasn't hollered loud enough or something.

Clarence Hale, the terror of Hedman Heights, wants to purchase a second hand alarm clock. Somebody broke the loudspeaker on the appendicitis of his according to reports, and he is unable to fix it.

Everett Condon is soon to appear before the public in the capacity of a Tom Mix. He is learning to roll butts with one hand at the present.

George Roach is said to be engaged to a young lady of exceptional abilities. For instance she has brains enough for two people. If the match terminates she will undoubtedly need them.

Jack Flynn, the Journalistic fiend, called on Physical Director C. Harry Edwards recently, in the latter's lair. It was stated that Flynn had a motive in his madness and will shortly enlighten the world on the subject of "Why Children Cry for P. T."

Nig Thomas blew a smoke ring with such vigor, last Sunday night that it rolled down three flights of stairs, out onto the campus and last reports stated that it was hanging on the second hand of the chapel clock.

Coch Keene of the Hedman Hall All-Mainiacs states that he cannot submit his choice for an eleven this fall as the competition is too sharp. The team however has played several games during the season including Tiddle De Winks, Poker, Tag and Post Office.

Creek Jordan is out of the Glee Club rehearsals for several days. He hurt his knee in practice.

The Hedmanites are all enjoying the interclass basketball games. The recent games were featured by forward passing and line bucking by all teams concerned. The players all hit the line hard and time and again went through for gains which totaled half the length of the gym.

Forest Colby hears that his claim to being the biggest going-over-the-road bum in the town, is being disputed. He is open to meet all comers and accept all challenges. The mileage bumbled by "Joe" to date would make the distance travelled by Coxey's Army sound like a snail's pace.

Perhaps it would timely, happy and apt to add right here that "Joe" is a popular individual at this institution as well as a Professor of Bumology. The boys all spell his name the long way with the rahs between and the majority have it tacked over the various bare spots in their rooms, etc.

Harry Kaufman received a box of grub from home a few nights ago.

Harry Kaufman was favored (?) with a visit from many of his friends—a few nights ago. (Pardon the repetition.)

The next issue of the ECHO will feature the ability of the "Frosh." Take a firm grip on yourself and be prepared for what may come.

Ta-Ta.

ANTOINE LAURENT LAVOISIER
1743-1794

Born in Paris, son of a wealthy tradesman. As a student won a prize for an essay on lighting the streets of Paris. Held various Government posts. A martyr of the Reign of Terror. Founder of modern chemistry.

They couldn't destroy the work he did

"The Republic has no need for savants," sneered a tool of Robespierre as he sent Lavoisier, founder of modern chemistry, to the guillotine. A century later the French Government collected all the scientific studies of this great citizen of Paris and published them, that the record of his researches might be preserved for all time.

Lavoisier showed the errors of the theory of phlogiston—that hypothetical, material substance which was believed to be an element of all combustible compounds and to produce fire when liberated. He proved fire to be the union of other elements with a gas which he named oxygen.

Lavoisier's work goes on. In the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company the determination of the effects of atmospheric air on lamp filaments, on metals and on delicate instruments is possible because of the discoveries of Lavoisier and his contemporaries.

This is the mark of the General Electric Company, an organization of 100,000 men and women engaged in producing the tools by which electricity—man's great servant—is making the world a better place to live in.

ZETA PSI.

Say, what would Thanksgiving Day be to the "Zetas" without "Ma" Welch? This year was no exception! "Ma" didn't forget "her boys" and saw to it that there were plenty of good things in the house for Thursday. Among those who couldn't go home and in consequence did honor to "Ma's" home cooking were: "Reinie" Burckel, '24; "Phil" Tarpey, '24; "Dick" Pike, '24; "Bob" Hawkins, '25.

Paul M. Edmunds, '26, and his brother Warren F. Edmunds, '27, visited the home of their uncle, Dr.

Charles D. Edmunds, '83, in Bangor. Yes, the Star "went" too.

George "Speed" Weymouth, '25, was the guest of Frank Goodrich, '26, at his home in Hartland.

"Red" Wentworth, '25 and "Bill" Powers, were the guests of Frank Holley, speaker of the House of Representatives in the State legislature, at North Anson.

"Ben" Soule was at his home in Portland.

Rowland E. Baird, '27, Clea Cowing, '27, and "Ed" Howland, '27, were the guests of Hiram Ricker, Jr., '15, at Poland Springs, South Poland, Mr. William A. Cowing, '04, and family were present from West Springfield, Mass.

John A. Nelson, '26, visited his folks in Augusta.

DELTA Upsilon.

Brother Lionel Hebert, '26, spent Thanksgiving with friends in Augusta.

Brother Raymond E. Weymouth, '25, has been elected captain of the fraternity basketball team for the coming season.

Brother Parker, '26, is handing out the smokes this week.

Congratulations Gus.

On Monday evening last, Brother Anderson's Ferrets opened the season on the polished surface by scoring a marked victory over Jonathan Flinn's A. T. O. Fairies to the tune of 24 to 16. The score does not begin to tell the story. The Fairies were completely outclassed from the start and the Ferrets had little difficulty in bringing home the bacon. Capt. Anderson, the original Ferret was easily the star of the evening giving an exhibition of speed and endurance thus far unsurpassed this season.

PHI DELTA THETA.

Charles Shoemaker enjoyed the Thanksgiving recess at Augusta.

Two of the brothers spent the week end at Snow Pond. The recent rain made it possible for them to enjoy a warm leisurely swim of three seconds.

Rufus Grindle, ex-'22, was a guest over the week end.

Donald Fassett spent the Thanksgiving recess in Portland.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA.

"Mutt" Peavey, '27, and "Link" MacPherson, '27, spent Turkey Day with Roger Stinchfield, '26, in Clinton. "Mutt" has a stiff neck from looking at the tall buildings.

"Ab" Scott, '24, spent Thanksgiving Day with his parents at Wilton. The A. T. O. basketball team expect to invade Unity on Friday night. The team will leave here on Wednesday so as to become accustomed to the treacherous air currents in the Unity gym.

Maurice Lord, '27, spent Thanksgiving Day with his parents in Vassalboro.

The Norwood, Mass., trio, "Doug," "Tom" and "Johnnie," all in the class of '27, held a spirited parade in the house Sunday night, celebrating Norwood's victory over the Clifton, N. J., team.

ALPHA.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stinneford of Brownville Junction, were the recent visitors of their son, C. O. Stinneford, '26.

R. Waugh, V. Reynolds, R. Grant, of the class of '25, and S. Callahan, W. Garabedian of the class of '26, attended the Pittsfield Student Y. M. C. A. Conference last Sunday.

Frederick L. Turner, '27, is able to be back in college after his recent illness of monies.

Robert Waugh, '25, was one of the members of the Y. M. C. A. deputation team which journeyed to Madison last Sunday.

Stanley G. Estes of Boston, Mass., was a recent visitor.

Joseph Anderson, '27, Clarence F. Cole, '26, and Marion N. Rhodes, '27, spent Thanksgiving with Charles Lewis, '24, at his home in Sidney.

William Springer, ex-'25, of Franklin, was a recent visitor of the fraternity.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA.

C. B. Chapman, '25, was forced to return home recently on account of illness. We are glad to announce that he is sufficiently recovered to resume his studies.

Everett A. Franson, '25, visited Pittsfield to attend a recent Y. M. C. A. conference.

Mrs. John R. Monroe and daughter were recent visitors at the Chapter house.

Messrs. Ide, Brown and Pierce spent the Thanksgiving recess in Lewiston.

through. They work in established soup-kitchens, factories, etc. Last summer 50,000 German students worked in mines and on farms. Funds are needed to keep this system going. The situation is so serious now that were you to eliminate the students you would hasten the depreciation of central Europe. I venture to say that if the universities were removed for 15 or 25 years, normalcy would not come for a thousand years.

"We need to show the students in the stricken area, some encouragement for the struggle they are making."

"Nine dollars will take a student through a whole year. Three dollars will pay a professor's salary for two months."

Mr. Miller closed by saying that he could not understand how any American student could be a Christian and refuse to aid his fellow students across the water.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, it has pleased God in His infinite wisdom to remove from this life the father of our beloved pledge, Charles R. Boakes, be it.

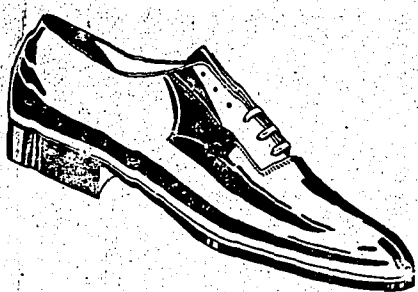

Resolved, that Alpha Rho Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha extend to the bereaved family and relatives our heartfelt sympathy, and be it further

Choice of a Career

From the Yale News

THE NINETY-FOUR

Someone, probably an insurance agent, was quoted recently as saying that from the mass of one hundred college graduates one individual only rose to the Polo and butler class, perilously near the top of the financial ladder. Five others became comfortably off and found themselves after twenty years at the small yacht and chauffeur stage. The other ninety-four presumably congregate in the great section of the American people who drive their own Buicks to the golf club. In other words, dreaming about being a rich man is one thing, and making the grade is something else again.

Yet the ninety-four presumably work just as hard as the sumptuous six. Their business is the axis on which a small and uninteresting world revolves. They have become devotees of the dollar and when that fickle deity deserts, have nowhere else to turn. Jammed in a dull, straight rut of business they can never leave the road and jump the fence into finer fields of life. This, then, is the portion of ninety-four men out of every hundred now on the campus.

The answer to the problem lies in the proper choice of a career.

Between now and Commencement we shall have something to offer on the subject of "Careers." Watch for the space with the Famous Signature.
