

WOMEN'S PLAY
WELL PRODUCED"Merchant of Venice" Given Before Appreciative Audience.

"The Merchant of Venice" was played before a crowded house by members of the women's division Tuesday night, January 22. The benefits of the performance went towards the women's gymnasium fund.

Much credit is due the actors for their clever work in interpreting the play. The part of Shylock, taken by Mary E. Gordon, '24, was done particularly effectively. Barbara Whitney, '27, made a stately and charming Portia. Marion D. Brown, '24, as Launcelot brought many laughs from the audience.

The play was coached by Prof. Carl J. Weber and showed the effects of much painstaking work.

The cast was as follows:

RELAY TEAM
LOSES MANMcGarry, '24, Injures Ankle in Practice.

Joe McGarry, one of the three remaining veterans from last year, and who had been doing very fine work this season, was injured last Friday afternoon while going through a light work-out. Someone had dragged the water hose over the track in order to flood the skating rink, and McGarry tripped over it turning his ankle badly. He is now able to get around a little with the aid of a cane. It is hoped that he will be out again by the first of next week for his services are very much needed.

The first time trials, which were held on the board track, the first of last week, proved to be very unsatisfactory to Coach Mike Ryan. The fellows had been resting for a few days and were not as good and the track was not in very good condition.

The Colby relay track has been further improved by cutting the corners so as to allow the runners to travel closer to the rail. The high rail and rather sharp corners bothered the relay men in making the turns. The track now offers about the same conditions which the relay team will meet when they take part in the races to be held next week under the auspices of the Boston Athletic Association.

FAST GAMES IN
FRAT LEAGUEPhi Deltas Defeated For First
Time. Dekes, D. U.'s,
A. T. O.'s, and Non-Frats Win Games.

The results of the first part of the second leg in the interfrat basketball race run off last Tuesday afternoon in the gym gave the Alpha Tau Omega quintet a 41 to 21 victory over the Zetas, and the Non-Frats a win by only one point over the Lambda Chis, the final tally being 19 to 18. Both games were fast and hard fought showing that the battle for first place in the race will be furious.

The Zetas and A. T. O.'s in the first half of their scrap were pretty even, the former showing great improvement over their work of last week. In the last periods, however, the A. T. O.'s got going and piled up a comfortable lead.

The summary:

Goals from fouls, Cowing, 2; Soule, Pierce, Hawes, Nickerson, 4; Schmiedel, McDonald, 2. Referee, Crawley, Timer, Stuart, Scorer, Corson. Time four ten minute periods.

The second set-to was as fast and furious as one could wish. From the start the outcome was always in doubt as first one team and then the other would come into the lead. The closeness of the game kept the spectators on edge until the final whistle. Chafetz and Laughton had a hard fight for individual honors, while Mason, the colored flash of the Non-Frats showed excellent form.

JOHN W. BRUSH, '20
IS ORDAINEDIs Made Pastor of Portland
Church. His Sermon in Part.

John W. Brush, '20, and a graduate of Newton Theological Seminary in the class of 1923, was ordained as pastor of the Stroudwater Baptist church in Portland on Saturday, January 20. In Colby, Brush was an excellent student, elected to Phi Beta Kappa, a member of the Student Council and president of the Y. M. C. A. He was also given the Condon Medal for the best all-around member of the graduating class. He is the only one who has ever received it, a unanimous vote of the class being essential to its award.

REV. JOHN W. BRUSH, '20

Rev. Brush preached his first sermon in his new capacity on Sunday morning, speaking as follows:

Ordination Sermon.

Where the spirit of Christ rules, the simple fact that a man is in need makes us his debtor, be he Protestant or Catholic, Gentile or Jew, white or black. The immediate question is not, who is he, or how did this happen, but what can I do for him?

The divine sympathy of the Saviour made every needy man an image of the Saviour Himself. What precious consolations are ours for any wounds we have received in the battle of human spirit! We can feel that we have helped the Saviour in His time of trouble, for is not His image stamped on the heart of every man, no matter how much sin has dimmed or darkened the image? To a friar who for some petty reason refused to succor a man in need, Saint Francis said, "Wouldst thou know how thou hadst sinned against him, nay, against Christ? When thou seest a poor man, thou oughtest to consider him in whose name he cometh, namely, Christ. Who took our poverty and infirmity on Him: for the infirmity and poverty of this man, is as it were a mirror to us, wherein we may see and consider with pity, the sickness and poverty of our Lord Jesus Christ."

If the Saviour of mankind were stricken on our doorstep, with what reverent and joyful pride would we minister to His needs! Oh brother man, He is on our doorstep, in the image of every needy man and woman in the world.

To say nothing of the needs at home, the children of the Near East are perishing with hunger. Very soon there will come to our attention the case of the millions of starving children in Germany. We shall be asked for our millions to help. Who dares ask a question when children are languishing and dying of hunger? Our late enemies? Yes, if you please, but perhaps we are all our own enemies where the passions of war are involved. At any rate we are all pretty well tangled up in the net-work of guilt. Our brothers suffer. The Lord Christ suffers. Now if ever we can show the depth and breadth of our Christianity, now we can prove to all mankind whether our religion is a surface convention or a meaningful form or whether it can transcend the boundaries of race,

COLBY AND BATES
IN CARNIVALJordan Wins Open Ski Jump
--Barnes Stars on Snowshoes.

In the Waterville Winter Carnival held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday Colby was well represented. "River" Jordan won the open ski-jumping competition on Friday afternoon with 175 2-3 points to his credit. "River" although jumping for the first time this season kept his feet on two out of the three counting jumps and it was this skill that enabled him to win. Lovett and Haskell of Auburn, made long jumps but could not hold the stand. Archer Jordan and Joe Smith got in a good afternoon's work but lack of practice counted against them.

The jump was in good condition and all of "River's" tries were over 40 feet. At the close of competition he tried a jump for distance which he surely got as he sailed for over 50 feet. The landing, however, was not of the best and he fell receiving a bad shock and bruises about the head which kept him out of the intercollegiate competition Saturday.

On Saturday morning the Colby Outing Club weakened by the loss of two of its veteran ski men lost to the strong Bates outfit by the score of 29 to 19. Colby succeeded in taking three first places but Bates not only did the same but took all places in the ski jump and cross-country run. Maine and Bowdoin were supposed to have taken part in the competition but offered various excuses as to their absence.

Barnes, Hawes, Smith and Jordan did their part in easily winning the ski relay. The coolness of Jordan who fell within ten feet of the line saved the race for Colby. John Barnes brought honor upon himself by winning the snowshoe dash and obstacle race while Johnny Laughton pulled a second in the cross country race on the same articles. Joe Smith and Archer Jordan did their best in the ski jump but failed to place.

The summary of events and the prizes is as follows:

Cross country ski race: First, C. Gilpatrick, Bates, gloves, American Clothing Co.; second, Fletcher of Bates, skis, Kennebec Canoe Co.; third, W. Gilpatrick of Bates, scarf, William Levine's Clothing Store.

Cross country snowshoe race: First, Tiffany of Bates, hand made snowshoes, John Cushman; second, Layton of Colby, smoking stand, Redington & Co.; third, Chadburne of Bates, rubbers, A. S. Landry Shoe Store.

100-yard snowshoe race: First, Barnes of Colby, moosehairs, George H. Johnson; second, Tiffany of Bates, billfold, Larin Drug Co.; third, Chadburne of Bates, no prize.

Snowshoe obstacle race: First, Barnes of Colby, gloves, Waterville Motor Co.; second, Tiffany of Bates, scarf, Walker Clothing Co.; third, Chadburne, no prize.

Ski jumping: First, Matsanaga of Bates, skis with harness, John F. Hill Co.; second, Baker of Bates, hunting shoes, L. P. Loud; third, Fletcher of Bates, golf hose, Lowe-King Co.

Ski relay race: First, Colby, (Jordan, Barnes, Smith, Hawes), four safety razors, Davlau's Drug Store; second, Bates (C. Gilpatrick, Matsanaga, Fletcher, Tiffany), no prize.

creed, and circumstance, and reach out to the place where there is need. God forbid that America should be found wanting in this time of the world's great need. God have mercy on us who bear the name of Christian if we shut up our compassion when the cries of the needy reach the very heavens. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

COLBY AND MAINE
SPLIT HOCKEY HONORSBlue and Gray Ice-Birds Lose In Poor Game
At Orono---But Come Back Strong In Carnival Game.

At Orono.
The State Hockey Championship series opened for Colby on Wednesday, January 16, at Orono, against the University of Maine puck chasers. On account of the poor condition of the ice the Colby team wished to cancel the game but the Maine team refused to do this.

In the first few minutes of play the spectators received a thrill when Captain Vale of Colby sustained a blow in the mouth from a hockey stick which necessitated taking time out while the cut lip was treated.

Stover starred for Maine making two of the three shots which resulted in their win. Stone garnered the 3rd tally in the second period after which Colby tightened up and the third period was fast and furious with neither side making a score.

Vale and McGowan worked well together and but for Baxter's brilliant work in the cage would surely have scored.

From start to finish it was a hard fought battle and much credit is due Colby's goal tender Fagerstrom for keeping the score down as low as he did.

Taken as a whole, in consideration of the deplorable condition of the rink and the absence of McBey, Colby's regular right defense man the team made a satisfactory first showing.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETING.

The Student Council held its regular meeting last Wednesday afternoon at Preble's Studio. The election of officers was the only important business transacted. Several social dates were approved.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Joseph W. McGarry, '24; vice president, Winston E. Noble, '24; secretary and treasurer, Ivan Martin Richardson, '24.

At a special meeting in conjunction with faculty members last Saturday, the petition of Gamma Phi Epsilon for recognition as a Colby campus fraternity was informally discussed, but no definite action was adopted.

ALPHAS HOLD
ANNUAL BANQUETGiven In Honor Of Eight
Neophytes. Banquet At Elmwood.

The Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Fraternity held its annual banquet at the Elmwood Hotel, Saturday evening, January 19. Throughout the meal Alpha songs were sung and letters from absent members were read.

The toastmaster of the evening was Roland W. Payne, '24. The speakers included Edward H. Merrill, '25, Kenneth W. Bragdon, '26, Clarence F. Cole, '26, Everett C. Marston, '24, Robert M. Wnugh, '25, and Raymond J. Bates, '22.

The neophytes were as follows: From the class of 1926, Frank L. Sanborn, South China; Clarence F. Cole, Los Angeles, Calif.; and Bernard Nickerson, Hulls Cove. From the class of 1927, Alvarus F. Bonnett, Abbot; Charles H. Eaton, Jr., Morristown, N. J.; Frederick O. Wright, St. Albans, Vt.; Preston O. Wallader, Waterville, and Marion N. Rhoades, Belfast.

There is one yoll college boys learn as soon as they get to college. It is, "Money, Money, Money."

At Waterville.
In a fast game at the Community rink here on Saturday afternoon Colby retrieved herself for her defeat at Orono by taking the University of Maine over in a 2 to 1 victory.

It was a most interesting game to watch for, due to the clever work of Maine's goal tender, Baxter, Colby were able to tally only two points though the puck was in Maine's territory the greater part of the time.

The first period ended without either side being able to score. In the second Vale took the puck two-thirds of the way down the ice through Maine's defense and made a pretty shot through Baxter for the first tally. Millett made the second point on a pass from McGowan shortly afterward.

In this period Maine rallied and Stover made a long shot through Fagerstrom for the University's only point.

The game was exceptionally clean and fast with only two fouls, one called on each team.

Much credit is due Millett and McBey for their fine work in breaking up Maine's attempts to score.

STUDENTS TELL
OF CONVENTIONSix Delegates Tell of Indianapolis Meetings.

At a joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. held in the chapel January 15, reports of the delegates to the Student Volunteer Convention were given.

Dean Nettie M. Runnals presided. The first speaker was Kenneth J. Smith, '26. His subject was the "Atmosphere of the Convention." He spoke of the motto of the convention which was "The Evangelization of the World in this Generation." This appeared to him at first as quite impossible but as the convention came to a close he said that it appeared to him as really possible after all.

"The Race Problem" was discussed by Marjorie A. Everingham, '25. Equality of race, she said, can come only when men prefer the way of God to the way of selfishness.

C. B. Chapman, '25, discussed "The War Problem." Thirty-five of the forty-nine discussion groups chose this problem. Four platforms in regard to the question of war were presented by this group. It was hoped that whereas Greece was founded for art and Rome for law, that America might be famed in the future by founding international peace. The conditions of the eastern hemisphere were described by Virginia Baldwin, '26. The need for more Christian helpers in China, Japan and India was stressed.

Robert Waugh, '25, told of corresponding conditions in the western hemisphere—South and Central America and Mexico.

The keynote which rang throughout the convention was world brotherhood and that can be attained only when the people in the more unfortunate countries are given more opportunities by those countries which are able to help.

Percy Bently, '25, presented "The Challenge." This challenge is for each delegate to put into action on his home campus the benefits he has received from the World Student Volunteer Convention.

News editor for this week: Howard B. Tuggey

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23, 1924.

These ski jumpers take Leap Year too seriously.

Isn't it funny that water always freezes slippery side up?

For the last time we repeat: In a very few days you will be wishing that you had started boning for the exams TODAY.

The seniors will soon be taking their last three-hour examinations. Mayhap the same is true of certain underclassmen!

In order to make sure that the members of the ECHO staff will remain in college for the rest of the year, there will be no issue next week.

Freshmen should remember that after awhile when they realize that Phi Beta Kappa is worth working for, the ranks of this first semester may make or break their chances just as much as later work. Moreover, it is general experience that A's are easier to get in the freshman year than ever after. Moral: "Gather ye rosebuds while ye may."

THE TECHNIQUE OF MID-YEARS.

The day of judgment is at hand! The time for reckoning approaches! Democles' sword is impending and the thread is becoming frayed! At least, this is the attitude of many students on the eve of examinations.

But after all, mid-years are not so bad. The experienced student will usually settle down to his job and go easily through the week with satisfactory marks and an unruffled disposition. How does he do it? As in other things, it is all in knowing how. Success is to the efficient. Therefore, it seems fitting that the ECHO set forth some of the practical points that go to make up the fine art of taking examinations.

First of all, plan your campaign. Decide which parts of each day you will devote to each subject, and then hold to your plan. Don't neglect to review. Even if you have done faithful daily work, it is of no use unless you bring it to the surface again by review. Cramming is a beneficial exercise if it is done in the right way. Its value is to reorganize your knowledge into new relations. Study for general trends, not details. Try to see your semester's work in better perspective. Imagine what your instructor would like to have you know, and study that.

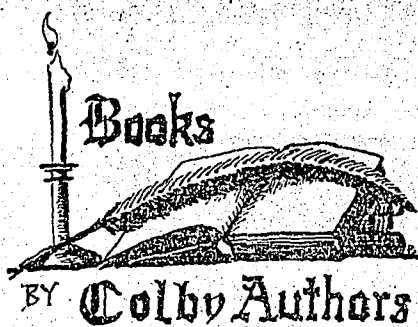

March through the whole course in a definite system. Whatever you do, don't get panic-stricken and scramble through your notes pecking here and there for facts. Never try to wade through a whole book and expect to know any more about it afterwards. The important passages should have been marked during daily study. If you have not done the daily work, the only thing you can do is break your arm and get excused from the examination.

Above all, review your review. You think you command the subject after one review, but this knowledge becomes very fleeting when the crucial hour arrives. Make notes on your notes and go over these again and again.

One's physical condition has a definite effect on his success. Go into strict training! Sleep will give better rank than all night study. If you have an afternoon examination, a heavy lunch is bound to make you drowsy and the brain sluggish. Vary your study! More than two hours continuous work results in low efficiency, but variety, not idleness, is what prevents brain fatigue. Non-attention to this point makes you liable to go stale. Try to reach the peak of your efficiency, but don't slide over the other side.

Now the zero hour has come. Select a seat with good light and where you need not strain to see the blackboard. First of all, read over all the questions slowly. Afterwards, while you are focusing your attention on one question, the answers to the others are formulating themselves in your mind. Sometimes they come into consciousness ahead of time. By all means jot them down or they may be lost. Always have scratch paper. In long questions, make an outline before actually writing. Watch the time and don't spend too much time on any one part. On the other hand, stay the full time. You can't blame the instructor if he draws wrong conclusions if you leave after only one hour or so.

Finally, keep your head. Have confidence! If you have done honest work, you are all safe. If not, you aren't. In either case, why worry? Anyhow the ECHO wishes one and all the best of luck.

THE STORY OF OUR NAVY.

By W. O. Stevens, '99.

"The Story of Our Navy," by William O. Stevens, of the class of 1899 is a narrative and descriptive account of the growth of the United States Navy from the early colonial period to the present time.

Our early naval heroes and their battles are described in an interesting and graphic manner. The author emphasizes the devotion and valor of our naval heroes against great odds and severe trials.

The causes of our naval battles as well as the reasons for their success or failure are so woven in that the story retains its charm and gives a better understanding of our naval history.

The author points out that in modern times the strength and efficiency of our navy depends upon cooperation and good thinking. The strength of our navy is also aided by modern science and systematic operation.

Since graduating from Colby Dr. Stevens has written several books on naval life and training and is now professor of English at the United States Naval Academy.

CORRESPONDENCE

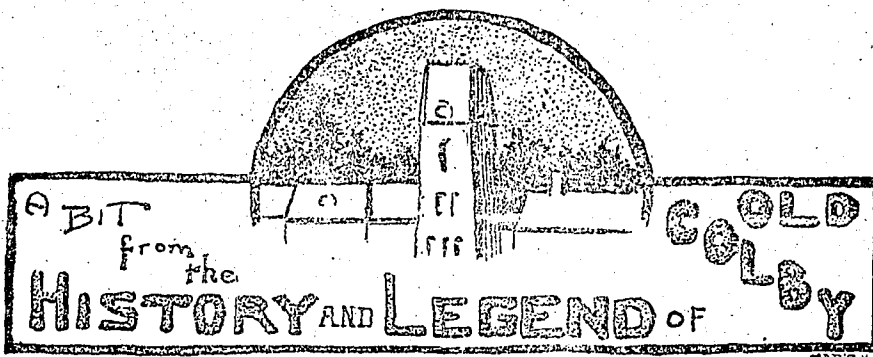

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE FACULTY.

To the Editor: Tyranny is the forerunner of self-destruction. A sense of fairness, justice, and equity is indispensable in institutions as well as nations and states, in order to insure peace, order and respect toward the superior on the part of the subordinate. Abuse of power, misuse of authority, and the like, are the exponents, yea the ancestors, the ones which from immemorial times have engendered radicalism, outlawry, anarchy, and revolution.

"Love covereth a multitude of sins," Peter said. A certain professor in Colby, understanding the meaning of Peter's great truth, faced this condition. One day the professor himself came into class two minutes late and found empty chairs. Next class day he said to the students, "I look for a fair deal. When you are late I do not mark you absent. I think you should wait for me when, for some reason or other, I am late." From that day until this no one has been late coming into class.

Another instructor faced those same conditions about the same time. He, in a kindly fashion said, "When I am late" (and he must sleep on both ears at once to find himself late at least once a week) "you shall wait ten minutes, and when you students get here after the bell has stopped ringing, keep out of the room for I'll

TO COLBY BY BOAT.

To the modern student who roars up from Boston by train in a very few hours, it seems incredible that the first president of Colby came to Waterville by boat, spending more than a month in the journey from Boston.

The following is a condensation of a letter from Mrs. Chaplin, wife of Pres. Jeremiah Chaplin. The original seems to have been lost, but was printed in the Oracle for 1893.

On board Sloop Hero, June 20, 1818.

My Dear Friends:—

Sabbath morn. We have just entered the Kennebec river; have left salt water to sail upon the fresh. Our vessel is no more tossed with boisterous waves, but the water is calm and unruffled.

About four o'clock we arrived in Gardiner, where we staid all night. It is a pretty place, where considerable business is transacted. In the morning we sailed for Augusta. We passed by Hallowell, which as we passed, formed a very handsome appearance. About eleven o'clock the vessel struck aground, which prevented our going so near Augusta as we intended. Augusta is a very pretty town situated on rising ground.

Wednesday we left the place, and took one of those long boats which are much used in the Kennebec, and which being made with a booth at one end, are very convenient for the transportation of families as well as goods. Sometimes when the wind was unfavorable it was found necessary to procure oxen, who, standing on the water's edge with a rope fastened to them, which is fastened to the boat, much assists its motion. We went along with their assistance, but as the wind was several times faint and weak the men took the rope and helped us along. Night beginning to draw the curtain of darkness around us when we were three or four miles from Waterville, it was thought best not to proceed until the light of another day dawned upon us. Early Thursday morning we again set out.

At ten o'clock we arrived in Waterville; just before we reached the shore we observed a number of gentlemen coming toward us; we soon found their object was to welcome us to Waterville. Teams were immediately provided to carry our goods from the boat to the house, which is convenient and pleasantly situated. It is rather retired from the thickest of the village, altho' neighbors are handy. A number have called upon us and seem quite friendly. Many of those whom I have seen, appear to be people of education and polished manners; nor are they destitute of places of public worship. We are so happy to find that Waterville contained two, though neither of them elegant, or completely finished.

At length I must bring my letter to a close. My dear friends who wish to correspond with me will each receive this as a particular letter to them. Perhaps many, if not all who peruse these lines may see my face no more; they will, however, receive my best wishes for their present and future happiness.

It is late; weary nature requires repose, and again I bid you all an affectionate farewell.

mark you absent anyway." The result is lack of mental harmony between that instructor and his class, plus about a dozen freshmen on probation.

Which of the attitudes of the two men is most justifiable and effective?

We believe an amendment to the latter instructor's constitution—or lack of it—is in order.

Charity, again, covereth a multitude of sins, and don't forget that charity begins at home.

Endorsed by the Freshmen Class meeting of Saturday, December 8.

To the Editor:

I wish to take this time to express my appreciation and thanks to those men who, when practicing basketball or otherwise using the gymnasium in the evening, have been thoughtful enough and decent enough to appear there in gymnasium suits and shoes.

I had occasion to go to the gymnasium last Friday evening and was very much pleased to find that all of the men on the floor were wearing gymnasium regalia. This spirit of cooperation is what we need at Colby.

I seem to have so many chances to "crab" that it gives me added pleasure to have this opportunity to commend.

Sincerely,

C. Harry Edwards.

$250 In Prizes for the Prize Cap

For the best sentence of ten words or less on the value of the Williams Hinge-Cap, we offer the following prizes: 1st prize, $100; 2nd prize, $50; two 3rd prizes, $25 each; two 4th prizes, $10 each; six 5th prizes, $5 each. Any undergraduate or graduate student is eligible. If two or more persons submit identical slogans deemed worthy of prizes, the full amount of the prize will be awarded to each. Contest closes at midnight March 14, 1924. Winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Sub- mit any number of slogans but write on one side of paper only, putting name, address, college and class at top of each sheet. Address letters to Contest Editor, The J. B. Williams Co., Glastonbury, Conn.

Williams is as much better to shave with as the Hinge- Cap is better than other caps: The latter is heavier and holds the moisture in against your beard. Quicker softening results. Also, Williams latter lubricates the skin. There is noticeable absence of irritating razor friction. And Williams takes good care of the skin. Though you shave daily, your face remains smooth and feels comfortable. Williams is a pure, natural-white cream absolutely with- out coloring matter. Try it!

Y.M.C.A. TEAM AT DOVER-FOXCROFT

Deputation of Five Does Commendable Service Over Week-End.

The best deputation ever sent out by the Colby Y. M. C. A. was sent to Dover-Foxcroft on Sunday, January 20. It consisted of Percy G. Beatty, '24, C. Barnard Chapman, '25, R. H. McLeary, '27, W. A. Macomber, '27, and Prof. Herbert L. Newman.

They left Waterville on Saturday afternoon, reaching there in time for a men's banquet at 6.30 at the United Baptist parish house, the Congrega- tional, Methodist, and Baptist churches co-operating. After the supper, a social was enjoyed, attend- ed by over two hundred young men and women. After a sing around the piano, two reels of movies on Theo- dore Roosevelt were given. Then Macomber amused his audience with a slight of hand and comedy sketch, and the Colby men put on a sketch entitled "The Three Trees." This was followed by group games.

On Sunday morning the men held services in the churches. Beatty and McLeary held forth in the Metho- dist church, Chapman and Macomber in the Congregational, and Prof. Newman in the United Baptist.

In the afternoon a men's meeting was held in the Methodist church. Beatty presided and Chapman sang. The men spoke on "All the Way," the motto of the Colby "Y." Macomber spoke on "Our Bodies 100% for Christ," McLeary, "Our Minds for Christ," Chapman, "Our Social Life for Christ," and Prof. Newman, "Our Spiritual Life like Christ's."

Chapman and Macomber were sent to jail, and conducted a service there.

In the evening at seven o'clock, a union service packed the auditorium of the Congregational church. This is said to be the biggest service of its kind in that town for years. Prof. Newman presided and Chapman led the singing. Beatty preached an in- spiring and gripping sermon: "Stop! Look! Listen!" After the service an after meeting was held, and over half of the audience remained.

The Colby men were enthusiastically supported by the ministers of the three co-operating churches. Others who assisted included Wal- ter J. Riddout, '12, now superintendent of schools there, and Clifford Packard, ex-'20.

The services of the Colby men were much appreciated and will be long remembered.

NEW LIGHTS ON RINK.

Two bright lights have been in- stalled over the skating rink, thus making it possible to skate there af- ter dark. The rink is available to all college men except during hockey practice.

DRUID OFFICERS.

Officers of the Druids, honorary Junior society, were elected at a meeting at the D. K. E. House on Thursday, January 17. They are as follows: President, Elmer M. Taylor; vice president, Raymond S. Grant; secretary and treasurer, Robert C. Brown.

PHI BETA KAPPA RULES EXPLAINED

Freshman Ranks Will Count
Towards Scholarship Honors.

There may be some freshmen who have not a very clear idea as to just what this "Phi Beta Kappa," that they hear so much about, really means. It is the name of a fraternity, founded at William and Mary College in 1776. Originally it was a secret fraternity like those now on the campus, but later it developed into a purely honorary, non-secret society with membership confined to those who have high scholastic rank. Thus it has become to be synonymous with highly trained intellectual ability, and so has an immense practical value in the eyes of the world. To wear a Phi Beta Kappa key is a recommendation anywhere.

The Beta chapter of Maine was founded at Colby in 1896. The president of the chapter is the State Bank Commissioner Fred F. Lawrence, '00, and the secretary is Prof. Carl J. Weber. The election of new members from the senior class will take place in February, as soon as the examination marks are in.

The rules for eligibility are as follows: "No more than one-fourth of the men in the Senior class, and not more than one-fourth of the women in the same class can be elected,—and no one can be elected unless his average rank in all courses upon the records of the college at the end of the first semester of the senior year is 88 or higher."

This means that marks received in the Freshman year count towards eligibility, and makes it important for each Freshman to realize from the very start of his college career that the record that he begins for himself

PRESIDENT AT CITIZENSHIP CONFERENCE.

President Arthur J. Roberts is in Boston attending the New England conference of Good Citizenship. After completing this and other business President Roberts will return to Colby Wednesday, January 23.

FAST GAMES IN FRAT LEAGUE.

son. Timer, Smart. Time 4-10's.

On Wednesday afternoon the spectators at the interfrat basketball games received a treat. The Phi Delta quintet in a game full of thrills from start to finish whistled their first defeat since the formation of the intramural league in 1921 at the hands of the D. U. aggregation by the close score of 29 to 28. The game was by far the fastest and closest seen in the gym for a long time and the sensational shots and beautifully executed passes kept the crowd in an uproar and left them hoarse and nervous wrecks at the close.

Defeat was scheduled for the D. U.'s from the first but even with two regulars they performed the miraculous. It was only by fighting with no let up that they carried off the honors as the Phi Deltas tried too much defensive playing.

Two men were forced to the sidelines by personal fouls, caused by the intensity of the struggle. Dunnack and Saucier were the victims. Hebert, Weymouth and Saucier starred for the D. U.'s and Burke and Shoemaker for the losers.

The summary:
Delta Upsilon (29)

(28) Phi Delta Theta
Hebert, lflf, Burke
Saucier, rfrf, Holcomb
Weymouth, cc, Shoemaker
Beatty, lglg, Shanahan
Fotter, rgrg, Dunnack
Substitutions, Larrabee for Saucier, Baverman for Dunnack. Goals from floor, Hebert, 4, Saucier 4, Weymouth 4, Beatty, Larrabee, Burke 5, Holcomb 4, Shoemaker 2. Goals from fouls, Saucier 1, Burke 2, Shoemaker 2, Dunnack 2. Referee, MacDonald. Timer, Putnam. Scorer, Edwards. Time, 4-10's.

In the other game of the afternoon the Dekes swamped the Alphas to the tune of 42 to 11. Although close during the first half, the second half found Macomber of the Dekes with his eye on the basket and the winning total began to climb. Tug Wilson and Macomber could be picked out from the winners while Nickerson and Garabedian played well for the Alphas.

The summary:
Dekes (42) (11) Alpha
Macomber, lflf, Nickerson
Roach, rfrf, Wright
Harriman, cc, Waugh
Johnson, lglg, Rhodes
Wilson, rgrg, Garabedian
Substitutions: Sackett for Roach, Roach for Sackett, Wyman for Sackett, Johnson for Harriman, Harriman for Roach, Smith for Waugh, Eaton for Rhodes. Goals from floor, Macomber, 10; Roach, Harriman, 4; Wilson, 2; Johnson, 2; B. Nickerson, 2; Wright, Waugh, Garabedian. Goals from fouls, Harriman, 2; Johnson, 2; Garabedian. Referee, Schmiedel. Timer, Putnam. Scorer, Edwards. Time, 4 10 minute periods.

SHERWOOD EDDY COMING.

Sherwood Eddy, the well-known international observer, is coming to Colby next month to give a series of addresses on the burning problems of the day. Mr. Eddy is a Yale graduate. He went out to India in Y. M. C. A. work and had a tremendous influence over a wide area, winning thousands of Hindus to Christ. For some years, Mr. Eddy has been secretary for Asia under the International Committee and has traveled extensively in China, India, Japan and the Near East as well as various countries in Europe. He has just completed a trip around the world studying labor problems, and a new book on the subject is just off the press.

DELTA Upsilon DANCE.

The Colby chapter of Delta Upsilon fraternity held its first house dance of the year Friday evening, January 18th. In the receiving line were President and Mrs. A. J. Roberts, Dean Nettie M. Runnels, Mrs. Kathryn Bowdoin, and Mrs. A. W. Haney. The dance was very well attended by members of the fraternity and guests from other fraternities.

The house was beautifully decorated in blue and gold. Punch was served throughout the dance and at intervals ice cream and cookies in the fraternity colors. The committee was Donald John Mills, Mario Anderson and Lionel Hebert. Music for the dancing was furnished by the Phi Delta Theta orchestra.

WHAT IS FAME?

Journalism Class Shows
Ludicrous Ignorance of News of To-Day.

What is fame? What's in a name? Now and then with startling clearness it is shown to us just how limited is the glory which might be expected by anyone who has his name on the front page of all the newspapers. If any group of students might be expected to peruse the newspapers regularly, it is the class of journalism. Yet a few days ago the following horrible examples of provincialism were brought to light in this very class.

The question was: "Who is Dawes?" Listen to these answers.

"Dawes is the man at the head of the U. S. prohibition enforcement league. He has been indicted, or accused, of graft and criminal actions." "Postmaster General."

"Dawes is a Senator."

"Dawes is the leader of labor in England. He is next in line for prime minister."

"Dawes is connected with railroad work as regards government."

"Man in charge of Philadelphia clean-up."

"Gosh, do you expect me to know all these men?"
