

PRESIDENT ROBERTS SAILS FOR EUROPE

Many Farewell Receptions
Tendered to "Prex."

After sixteen years of unflinching service to Colby College, President Arthur J. Roberts, accompanied by Mrs. Roberts, has sailed for Europe on a four months leave of absence. Two years ago the trustees of Colby extended a leave of absence to President Roberts but important matters prevented his leaving at that time and again in 1923, the tragic Lambda Chi Alpha fire deterred the plan. At last the long intended vacation has materialized.

An idea of the degree of respect and love with which President and Mrs. Roberts are regarded in their home city and at Colby College, may be gathered from the numerous farewell parties which have been extended to them, during the past few weeks.

On the evening of February 2, the members of the faculty and their wives tendered a dinner to President and Mrs. Roberts at the Elmwood hotel. After a delightful repast,

PRESIDENT ARTHUR J. ROBERTS

Doctor J. W. Black introduced Doctor Julian D. Taylor, Professor Florence Dunn, and Doctor T. B. Ashcraft. The speakers voiced the common sentiment of regret at President Roberts' absence but extended the heartiest wishes for a delightful journey.

Another good-bye dinner was given to President Roberts by the members of the Women's Division of Colby college on February 6, at Foss Hall. Miss Donnie C. Getchell, '24, president of the student council, presented President and Mrs. Roberts with ten dollar gold pieces as good luck tokens and spoke a few words of appreciation, picturing very effectively the great regret which Colby students have for President Roberts and Mrs. Roberts. The President responded with a speech which, as usual, stirred the heart of every Colby woman.

Again on Saturday afternoon, February 9, the Men's Division of Colby college held a reception in Chemical hall, in honor of President and Mrs. Roberts. Refreshments were served by six girls from the Women's Division. Every man extended his good wishes with a hand-shake. Mr. Ivan M. Richardson, '24, presented Mrs. Roberts with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, and President Roberts with a traveling diary entitled "My Trip Abroad." President Roberts responded with words that every Colby man will long remember. He said in substance, that he might meet countless boys in his travels there would never be any who could hold the place in his heart which his Colby boys held.

A last farewell banquet was tendered President and Mrs. Roberts by the Rotary club of Waterville, at the Elmwood hotel, on Monday, February 11. The Reverend Charles A. Knickerbocker of the Universalist Church and Doctor Herbert C. Libby of Colby college who were the speakers most ably and effectively presented the real sentiment of the members of the club.

It was indeed a stirring sight to see with what fervor and affection the students bade goodbye to Pres. and Mrs. Roberts as they boarded the train for New York on Wednesday.

Upon their arrival in New York, President and Mrs. Roberts were entertained by the New York Alumni at a banquet. On Saturday, February 16, they left for Naples, Italy.

NOTABLE FIGURES GOTHAM BANQUET

New York Alumni in Enthusiastic Send-off to "Prex."

The New York Colby dinner, Feb. 15, was a real send-off to Pres. and Mrs. Roberts. It was the largest Colby affair ever held in the metropolis, ninety being present and crowding to the limit the dining room reserved at the Commodore Hotel. Editor Merle Crowell of the American Magazine, toastmaster and president-elect of the New York alumni, was the guiding genius of the evening and to him belongs the credit of securing the two star numbers of the program, Captain Hurley, the explorer, and Bruce Barton, the writer. Captain Hurley gave the Colby people the first view of his wonderful South Sea Island motion pictures. He is best known as an Antarctic explorer and photographer, the associate of Douglas Mawson and Ernest Shackleton.

Bruce Barton, a graduate of Amherst, presented the advantages of a small college diploma so that his hearers agreed with him that it was a case with only one side. His plea was for the education that fits one not so much to earn a living as fits one to live. He doesn't want the New England small college to become modernized; the old traditions that have helped to turn out men of the Calvin Coolidge type are the best.

George Otis Smith, '93, and Prof. F. W. Johnson, '91, followed. Mr. Smith lined up with Mr. Barton in faith in the education that stresses quality rather than quantity. In referring to the nation's need of spiritual leadership he characterized as providential the presence in the White House of one who measures up to all the best traditions of the small college. Professor Johnson, in wishing President and Mrs. Roberts God-speed remarked that he detected a suspicious element in the universal pleasure in having the President leave the college in other hands for these months, something which President Roberts himself said he could not overlook.

"Prexy," as usual, capped the climax with his talk which gave strong support to Mr. Crowell's assertion that he is the strongest college president in New England. Humor and sense, deep feeling and wise counsel, followed in quick succession, with that characteristic optimistic note ever present, and his report of the quality of students now at Colby was most assuring. His reference to the Sons of Colby as equal in every respect and superior in many instances to their fathers whom he knew in college was appreciated by his hearers.

On the eve of their departure for Europe President and Mrs. Roberts could have been given no more whole hearted testimonial; the last of a series, each expressing the love and respect felt for Colby's President.

DEKES WILL MAKE MERRY THURSDAY

Ball and House Party To Feature Festivities of Local Chapter.

Plans for the thirty-seventh biennial ball of Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon have been completed to the last detail and one of the most elaborate affairs held under the auspices of this fraternity in many years is expected at Elks Hall on Thursday evening.

An extended program for the occasion has been planned by the committee in charge. There will be open house on Thursday afternoon followed by the ball in the evening with music by the Black and White Orchestra of Portland. A tea dance will be held at the chapter house on Friday afternoon followed by a dinner at the Elmwood Hotel and an old fashioned straw rido in the early evening. The festivities will be concluded after the dinner with an informal dance at the Tacomet Club House.

The patrons and patronesses for the ball will be: Donn Nettie M. Runnals, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Black, Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Parmenter, Professor and Mrs. C. H. Edwards, Professor and Mrs. Euclid Holle, and Dr. Antonios P. Savides.

NON FRATS TIE UP LEAGUE RACE

D. U. Team Falls Before
Onward Rushing Five.

The Alpha Tau Omega and Phi Delta Theta teams easily won their games in an interfraternity basketball league doubleheader. The two winning teams registered high scores. The Phi Delta team ran up the largest score of the year, defeating the Alpha's 85 to 22.

Burke, Shoemaker, and Holcomb, the three boys from New Jersey, provided thrills for the basket fans by their sensational shooting. Burke found the basket 15 times, Shoemaker 14 and Holcomb 11 plus three fouls. Felch and Nickerson were the best performers for the Alpha team.

The summary:
Phi Deltas (85) (22) Alpha
Burke, lf lf, Pinkham
Haines, rf rf, B. Nickerson
Shoemaker, c c, Smith
Holcomb, lg lg, Merrill
Bowerhan, rg rg, French
Substitutions: (Alpha) Rhoades for Smith. Goals from floor; Burke 15, Shoemaker 14, Holcomb 11, Felch 5, Nickerson 3, Pinkham 2, Smith 1, Haines 1. Goals from fouls, Holcomb 8.

GLEE CLUB GIVES LOCAL CONCERT

Enthusiastic Audience Fills
Opera House.

From the overture by the orchestra to the singing of Alma Mater, the concert given by the Colby Musical Clubs at the City Opera House on Tuesday evening, was a complete success. The orchestra, under the leadership of Lee T. Nichols, '25, gave evidence of much careful training. Each instrument blended perfectly into a harmonious whole.

The Glee Club, led by Abbot E. Smith, '26, was directed this evening by Mr. Harrison Smith. The club rendered several most pleasing numbers. Kenneth Copp, '26, the cornet soloist, showed a perfection of technique and a clearness of tone not frequently found in a cornetist.

The Mandolin Club under the direction of Lionel Hobert, '25, delighted everyone with their rollicking tunes, and the Jazzsters fairly set the whole audience to rocking with the pulsing throb of their dance music. It was during the performance of the Jazzsters that Grenville Vale appeared, to electrify the audience with the magic of his gay songs and fancy dance steps.

Chester Coburn, '27, who sang two charming songs is to be complimented on the clear, smooth quality of his voice.

A new feature of this year's concert, a string quartet with its close harmony and delicate phrasing, was one of the very enjoyable parts of the evening's entertainment.

The novelty act by Grenville E. Vale, '24, and Louis McBay, '25, caused a sensation. The often-repeated word of Mr. Vale's song, "Collegio Life Ain't What It Used to Be," struck perhaps an answering note in the hearts of the audience for the applause was loud and long.

The row of mystifying interrogation points, which appeared on the program, stood for a group of songs dedicated to the Colby faculty. The house was dark during this number except for the flashlights of the singers and the spotlights which, from the balcony, were turned upon the unhappy victims.

One of the most creditable performances of the evening was that of Lee T. Nichols, '25. Mr. Nichols is an accomplished violinist and he played with feeling and power which gripped his hearers and held them motionless.

The officers of the clubs, to whom much credit is due for the success of the concert are: President, George M. Davis, '24; manager, T. C. Bramhall, '24; assistant manager, Lloyd Dearborn, '25; assistant manager, Albert Wassell, '26; leader of Glee Club, Abbot E. Smith, '26; leader of Orchestra, Lee T. Nichols, '25; leader of Mandolin Club, L. Hobert, '25.

COLBY TEAM AT AUBURN CARNIVAL

Controversy Over Cross
Country Run Becomes Very Bitter.

The Colby Snowshoe and Ski team finished third in the second annual intercollegiate winter carnival held at Auburn on Saturday. J. Barnes, '24, and Laughton, '25, did good work for the Blue and Gray. The former grabbed off a second in the snow shoe dash while Laughton finished third in both the snow shoe dash and three mile run. Colby was beaten out for second place in the ski relay race in the most thrilling race of the day when Stubbs of Bowdoin beat out J. Barnes of Colby by scant inches. Ski jumping conditions were poor, a heavy wind greatly handicapping Colby's light jumpers.

Three Bates men finished well ahead of their nearest competitors in the five mile cross country ski race but the event was protested by Bowdoin and Colby because the Bates team unintentionally cut off a part of the course. Bates later maintained that the flags were blown over and that the route which her men took was almost as long as the original course. The judges examined the tracks and decided to allow the Bates victory as there was no question about the superiority of the Garnet skiers.

The Lewiston Evening Journal for February 18 printed a story in which slurring aspersions were cast upon the representatives of Bowdoin, Maine and Colby for disqualifying the Bates skiers. President Cranston Jordan, '24, of the Colby Outing Club states that no such action was taken at any meeting at which Colby was represented.

The summary:
Five mile ski race—Won by W. Gilpatrick, Bates; C. Gilpatrick, Bates, second; Fletcher, Bates, third; Stubbs, Bowdoin, fourth; G. Barnes, Colby, fifth; Andrews, Bowdoin, sixth. Time, 58m, 45s.

Hundred-fifty yard snowshoe race—Won by Eastman, Maine; J. Barnes, Colby, second; Laughton, Colby, third. Time, 13m 4-5s.

Three mile cross country snowshoe race—Won by Patten, Maine; Wilkes, Bates, second; Laughton, Colby, third. Time, 23m 18s.

Two hundred twenty yard ski relay race—Won by Bates; second, Bowdoin; third, Colby.

Ski jump—Won by Merrill, Maine; O. Baker, Bates, second; Malsunaga, Bates, third. Best score 81.5 points.

The final counting of points gave Bates 21; Maine 15; Colby 6; Bowdoin 3. This victory puts Bates in the lead with Maine and Colby runners-up and Bowdoin in the cellar. The standing of the colleges at present is: Bates 42; Maine 27; Colby 11; Bowdoin 10.

ZETA PSI HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

Prominent Alumni Speak
at Get-Together Affair.

The annual banquet of the Zeta Psi Fraternity was held Tuesday evening, February 12, at the Elmwood Hotel.

The occasion is always looked forward to with interest as it is the formal method of welcoming the neophytes of the Chapter into the fraternity. The pleasure of the evening was enjoyed by all the members of the active chapter, together with a large number of the older brothers.

After the dinner, numerous brothers were called upon to speak by Toastmaster Carrol N. Perkins, '04. Among those were Brothers Frank B. Hubbard, '84, James F. Hill, '82, Edward F. Merrill, '08, Frederick I. Hill, '10, Willard B. Arnold, '10, Albert R. Rogers, '10, Arthur J. Heath, '10, Philip J. Tarpey, '24, Arthur W. Buckel, '24, Ralph H. DeOrsay, '27, and George B. Hill, '24, of the Lambda Chapter, Bowdoin.

Musical selections were rendered by the orchestra and many fraternity songs were sung with true Zeta Psi spirit.

Much credit for the success of the affair is due to the hearty cooperation of the Banquet Committee consisting of Robert H. Hawkins, John A. Nelson and J. Frank Goodrich.

HOCKEY TEAM DOES VALIANT WORK

Bates, Bowdoin, and St. Dominique Given Furious Battles.

Colby's fighting ice-birds will close their season Saturday at Augusta when they clash with the champion Bates sextet as the gala attraction of the Maine State winter carnival. The winner of the battle will retain possession of the Governor Baxter cup for the period of a year. Coach Helle and Captain Vale have their charges going great guns now and the Blue and Gray team is sure to give the Garnet a great fight. The hair raising contest which Colby gave Bates at the Auburn carnival on Friday caused the management of the Capital City carnival to substitute the Blue and Gray for Maine which dropped a game to Bowdoin on Saturday. A large delegation of Colby adherents will undoubtedly follow the team to Augusta for the contest.

The Colby hockey team journeyed from Waterville twice the past week, played the three strongest teams in the state and returned with a tie and two defeats. All three games were close and hotly contested with the issue always in doubt until the final whistle was blown. The Colby team, playing consistent, hard, and fast hockey, in every game threatened to carry off the honors. But the strain of three games in four days, the constant traveling, and the fact that they were playing on strange rinks made the odds too great.

Tuesday, February 12, the Blue and Gray sextet met the St. Dominiques on the Bartlett street rink in Lewiston. The Colby puck chasers were not expected to have much of a chance after having been defeated by Bates at Waterville the previous Saturday. The fast showing of the upstate team was a revelation and it was only in the last period, when Moreau caged two goals, that the Lewiston team was assured of victory. Both teams presented defenses bordering on the phenomenal.

The summary:

GYMNASIUM PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

Physical Director Edwards
Makes Public Architect's
Tentative Drawings.

For a long while the need of a new gymnasium has been felt at Colby, and now the first step in that direction has been taken. Professor C. Harry Edwards has a set of plans in his possession which provide for a building just suited to Colby's needs. The new building would be situated just where the present gymnasium stands. It would have a large gymnasium floor suited for inter-collegiate as well as inter-fraternity basketball and general gymnasium work, locker and shower rooms, a special dressing room for both home and visiting teams, two large exercise rooms for men doing special work because of organic difficulties, etc., a large recreational room for lounging, situated right under the entrance. Over the entrance and on the second floor there will be a large trophy room. At the present time Colby has a great many trophies, but owing to the lack of some adequate room in which they might be displayed, they are scattered all over the campus. There would also be two four-walled hand ball courts, and a large dirt-covered floor whose dimensions would be over 150x200 feet. This could be used for all sports in a case of inclement weather.

So far there has been no definite action taken. Professor Edwards has received permission to raise the money for such a gymnasium, and he now awaits suggestions from either the alumni or the student body.

TRACK MEN MAKE GOOD AT BOSTON

Mittlesdorf, Payne and Wentworth Win Places in A. A. U. Meet.

Colby athletes made an exceptionally fine showing at the A. A. U. meet held in the Mechanics Building, Boston, Saturday evening, February 16, in conjunction with the Harvard, Dartmouth and Cornell meet.

George L. Mittlesdorf, '27, a New Jersey boy, in winning the forty yard dash in four and four-fifths seconds tied the track record. In winning this event Colby's freshman star defeated the cream of New England's field of sprinters.

Roland W. Payne, '24, again showed the public that he will be a strong contender in the next Olympic trials by taking a close second to R. E. Brown, the B. A. runner, in the two mile event. George Lermond of Boston College who has been a great rival of Payne's finished thirty yards back. On the last lap Payne picked up twenty yards and finished four yards behind Brown. Payne's time was nine minutes and forty-one and three-fifths seconds.

Kenneth S. Wentworth, '25, in placing next to F. B. Toftell, B. A. A., in the thirty-five pound weight throw proved one of the surprises of the meet. The big blonde youth, in spite of being ill, heaved the weight forty-three feet and five inches. As this is the first time he ever competed in such an event all the more credit is due him.

Elmer E. Taylor, '25, placed second in the forty-five yard high hurdles in the semi-finals. This is Taylor's first attempt at hurdling in competition. Everett A. Fransen, '25, placed fifth in the thousand yard run. He led the field for some time but was forced to fall back.

Russell F. Brown, '26, placed fifth in the semi-finals in the six hundred yard race.

Capt. R. C. Hearon, '25, won his heat in the semi-finals but was beaten in the finals of the forty yard dash.

Colby's showing was all the more creditable in view of the fact that no other Maine college was able to score a point except Bates which scored a place by virtue of a third place in the thousand yard run by Archibald.

Summary of events:

Two Mile Event.

Won by R. E. Brown, B. A. A.; Roland Payne, Colby, second; George Lermond, B. C., third. Time, 9 min. 41 3-5 sec.

35 Pound Weight Throw.

Won by F. D. Toftell, B. A. A., distance 52 feet, 5 inches; K. S. Wentworth, Colby, distance 43 feet, 5 inches, second; P. E. Berglund, Harvard, third, distance 42 feet 7 inches.

40 Yard Dash.

Won by G. L. Mittlesdorf, Colby; I. Reid, Brown, second; C. H. Wansker, American Woolen, third. Time, 4 4-5 seconds.

TRACK TEAM ENTERTAINED
AT B. U.

The members of the Colby track team, who competed at the A. A. U. games last week were entertained very hospitably by the Alpha Kappa Psi Fraternity of Boston University. This courtesy on the part of the B. U. track management was much appreciated by Coach Ryan and the Colby athletes.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1924.

Get behind Mike Ryan and that track team.

The wail emanating from Lewiston this week should be taken from whence it comes.

The student who nailed the K. K. K. placard to the campus tree has no regard for the century old ideals of Colby College.

The courage of the faculty members who attend the annual Waterville concerts of the musical clubs is exceeded only by that of the members of the quartet.

There is an old adage that the better teacher flunks the fewer students. If seventy per cent of a college class fail look to the instructor and not to the students for the cause.

This issue is produced exclusively by the class in Journalism 2. Last week's editorial to the contrary notwithstanding, the Utopian era in the field of college newspapers has not been reached with this effort. We feel, however, that we have instituted several changes in the makeup of the ECHO which will go far to maintain Colby's claim for the finest college weekly.

In an article entitled "The American Malady," published in the February number of the "Atlantic Monthly," Langdon Mitchell, distinguished novelist, poet and playwright, speaks frankly of the "total blank and vacuity of the American mind after it has submitted itself to four years of college education." Dr. Mitchell goes on to say that "the American student is a fine, upstanding, honest, well intentioned, athletic, and empty headed fellow; at thirty or fifty he is this still and nothing more." These words should give us pause for thought. We heartily recommend the reading of the article. Its worst feature lies in the fact that it is crammed with undeniable truths.

AFTER COLLEGE, WHAT?

Educators everywhere are lamenting the fact that the teaching profession is being made the dumping ground for college graduates who are unfitted to teach but who are forced into the ranks by the necessity of earning their daily bread. College graduates everywhere are lamenting the fact that lack of other fields is forcing them to take up pedagogy. The problem here at Colby is even more acute than at other colleges. The solution of the difficulty seems to be a proper spirit of cooperation between the alumni and the undergraduate body. Colby has many alumni who are leaders in their respective professions. If these men could be organized into a body which would select those graduates best fitted for certain professions and then make a concerted effort to place them in the right positions a great step would be taken in the right direction. Possibly a system of lectures by prominent Colby graduates who are leaders in the various business fields would tend to interest the students and help them to select the work for which they are best fitted. Certainly the problem is a pertinent one and of such importance as to command the attention of the alumni in their early meetings.

EVOLUTION AND THE FLAPPER.

While King Tut and his ancient glories have been relegated to the ignominy of a half column on an inside sheet, the flapper with all her idiosyncrasies still holds the attention of the reading public as of yore. College professors, even college presidents, take time from their arduous duties to write long columns, even whole columns for the sole purpose of denouncing the modern young women. The Magazines which strew the library tables, the newspapers which the undergraduate furtively peruses during the more intricate portions of the class room lecture, all these give some space at least to the discussion of this phenomenon of nature—the flapper.

Of what value is all this discussion? It would seem that there is too much publicity given to an ordinary fact of nature. The evolutionist sees, even in evil, a hope for better things. He knows that the unpleasant parts of life are but objects, ideas, people, who have not yet reached the perfect state, but are still on the lower rungs of the evolutionary ladder.

We study evolution in the abstract as if it were a thing as dead and as unconnected with our present existence as the mummies of Egypt. We forget that we are still as much in a process of change as was prehistoric man, chiselling his rude pictures on the walls of his cave. The flapper is a product of evolution, a development of the age. If she adapts herself to the environment she will survive, will even grow old to raise horrified hands at the startling misdemeanors of her grand-daughters. If she fails in her task of adjustment, her type will disappear and the world will wag on without her. The topic therefore is no subject for dispar, whatever the outcome.

ALPHA DELTA PI HOLDS BANQUET

Alpha Delta chapter of Alpha Delta Pi held its ninth annual banquet at the Elmwood Hotel on Saturday evening, February 16.

Place-cards representing ships with waves in the sorority colors and bunches of violets decorated the tables. The toasts featured symbolically some part of a sea voyage. Miss Ruth Mosher, '21, acted as toastmistress.

Alumnae and guests who enjoyed the banquet were: Mrs. Alice I. Newman, '17, Mrs. Daisy M. Wilson, '18, Misses Hazel M. Gibbs, '17, Mildred Barrows, '17, Margaret Craig, '22, Ruby Schuman, '22, Edythe Porter, '23, Alice Nelligan, ex-'24, and Emily Barrows, ex-'25. Miss Frances Leard was a delegate to the banquet from the Boston University chapter.

The initiates were: Misses Sylvia Brazzell, Ardelle Chase, Mildred Chase, Mildred MacCarn, Ruth Viles, and Erna Wolfe, all of the class of 1927.

DEAN FOWLE OF NEWTON SPEAKS

Miss Priscilla Fowle, Ph. D., dean of women at Newton Theological Seminary was a visitor at Foss Hall, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 15 and 16. She came with the purpose of interesting Colby young women in a career of religious education and social service, complete training for which may be obtained at Newton.

A tea to which the large cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. was invited was given in honor of Miss Fowle at Foss Hall on Friday afternoon. After a social half-hour, Miss Fowle gave a talk of absorbing interest dealing with the classes of training at Newton and with the work which the churches are doing in the way of religious education among young people.

WOMEN HOLD FIRST UNDERGRADUATE BANQUET.

An undergraduate banquet was held by the members of the Women's Division on Wednesday, February 13, at Foss Hall. The dining-room was decorated for the occasion in gray and blue. A large number of girls who live in town as well as those who live in the dormitories were present. The tables were made attractive by hand-painted nut cups at each place.

Mrs. E. W. Hall, widow of Edward W. Hall, former professor of modern languages at Colby, made a most charming toastmistress.

Between courses at dinner the Alma Mater was sung and songs by each class pledging their love and service to Colby came at intervals through the evening. After coffee was served the following speakers were introduced by the toastmistress: "Colby Spirit," Nellie E. Pottle, '25.

"The Next Three Years," Pauline E. Waugh, '27.

"Colby's Call," Idora B. Beatty, '27.

"Colby's Matches," Miss Florence E. Dunn, '26.

"Colby Friends," Ruth Fifield, '25.

"Lux Mentis Scientia," Dean Nettie M. Runnals, '08.

"The Follies of the Women's Division," Emily R. Heath, '26.

"The Undergraduate Banquet," Elsie I. Bishop, '25.

Although every toast deserves especial mention because of its excellence, the one entitled "Colby's Matches," given by Miss Dunn, brought forth the greatest applause. She caught the true spirit of her subject and before she finished there were tears of laughter in the eyes of every person in the dining-room.

The program ended with the singing of the Alma Mater, written by Mrs. Emily Hanson Obeir, '14. It was felt by every one present that the First Undergraduate Banquet was a complete success and that the desired result of the "mid-winter get-together" had been accomplished.

MANY CHANGES IN ORACLE

The Colby Oracle, which will be ready for distribution about the first of June, will depart from the regular routine and will adopt several changes this year. Beginning with the covers there will be a new color scheme and design. There is also to be a change in the senior cuts which will be oval in shape instead of square as formerly. The year-book will also be larger this year as there is much more literary material which seems worthy of publication.

The committee in charge of the 1924 Oracle follows: Everett C. Marston, '24, Editor-in-Chief; George T. Nickerson, '24, Business Manager; Ivan Richardson, '24, Managing Editor. The Seniors can aid this committee a great deal by handing their photographs to the Managing Editor at once.

Y. W. C. A.

The first of a series of open forums for the discussion of questions of general interest to the women's division was held at the Y. W. C. A. meeting on Tuesday evening, February 12. Miss Carolyn L. Hodgdon, '24, presided. She gave the key-note to the meeting and started the discussion by asking a very simple question, "Do you borrow?" She followed this question by others in regard to the effect of borrowing on the character of the individual, what borrowing leads to, and whether or not it should be practiced. The members present at the meeting were then urged to express their ideas on the subject.

The opinions were many. Good arguments were put forth both for and against borrowing.

At the close of the meeting, the consensus of opinion seemed to be that borrowing, as well as lending, is all right if common sense and fairness is applied to it.

LIBRARY NOTES

The interest of local people has been aroused by an article in the Saturday Evening Post for February 9. The subject of the article was a Waterville man and the author is a Colby alumnus of the class of 1916. The article in question is entitled "Politicians and Prohibition," is a eulogy of the enforcement work of Maine's late governor, William T. Haines, and comes from the pen of Fred F. Sully.

A new feature at the Library is the conspicuous display of a few notable books. This week the display card reads "Books People are Reading." Next week books of special interest to teachers and prospective teachers will be displayed.

A book which every Colby student ought to read is Arthur G. Staples' "The Inner Man," sketches of contemporary men of prominence in Maine. The sketch of Chief Justice Cornish, the president of Colby's trustees, is especially interesting.

Read more biography! Colby men and women are already exhibiting a marked interest in such books as Whiting's "President Coolidge," Russell's "Warren Harding," Thayer's "George Washington" and Charnwood's "Roosevelt." How many of you have read these books? The best biography of the year, however, is McElroy's two volumes of "Life of Grover Cleveland."

PSYCHOLOGIST IS GUEST AT COLBY

Miss Tilton Addresses Psychology and Education Classes.

Miss Naomi Tilton, executive secretary of the New England Federation of Psychology Clubs, was in Waterville from February 12 to 19, giving a series of seven popular talks on the "Science of Personal Efficiency."

She addressed the Psychology and Education classes on the campus on Thursday and Friday. Saturday, she was a guest at Foss Hall for lunch, talking to the girls on "Personality."

Her conversational method of delivery spoke directly to each individual. Her pertinent applications to daily life made Applied Psychology seem very vital.

"Consider the sub-conscious as a hill with the conscious strata on the top. Thoughtless people will attempt to bore down to the sub-conscious layer but a good geologist will go to the out-cropping of the suggestible layer on the side of the hill."

"What is this out-cropping of the sub-conscious?" she asked. "The suggestible layer of the sub-conscious occurs when one is afraid, angry, jealous, tired or half awake. Tell a person what you desire him to become when he is angry and he will act on the suggestion. Tell people what they should not do, they will do it."

"Are you like the young mother who told her small son when he was naughty that he was acting like his father's people and was getting more like them every day? She was aiding him psychologically to do that very thing by suggesting it to him when he was susceptible."

MUSICAL CLUBS ON LONG TOURS

Massachusetts and Coast Trips to Be Taken in Near Future.

What promises to be the big trip of the combined Musical Clubs, this season, is that which is scheduled by the management for the week beginning Mar. 24. This includes the annual visit to Massachusetts. For the first time in the history of Colby, the clubs which represent the college, are to present entertainments in Boston, Norwood and Whitman.

The first evening on this trip will be marked by an entertainment at Westbrook. To date, the following evening, Tuesday, is open but it is highly possible that an engagement may be made in New Hampshire for this night.

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings, entertainments will be given in Whitman and Norwood, Mass., respectively. Friday evening will conclude the trip when the program is carried out in Steinhart Hall, Boston. These various places are all new on the schedule and the members of the club are looking forward with much favor and expectation to visiting them.

The week preceding the trip to Massachusetts, the so-called "coast trip" is planned when the clubs visit Belfast, Brooks and other towns and cities of the state. Although the entire schedule for this trip has not been made out as yet, Manager T. C. Bramhall, '24, has received numerous offers and expects to make some definite announcement soon regarding the other places where entertainments will be given.

Earlier in the year the possibilities of a trip to New York were discussed but owing to the inability of the New York alumni to receive the club this year it was thought advisable to wait until another season.

At the present time a trip to Arrostook is being contemplated by the management. In past years northern Maine, comprising the towns of Houlton, Island Falls, Milo, etc., has proved to be a favorable section for entertainment of this nature and providing the baseball activities of the college do not conflict, another trip may be made to the northern part of the state before the present season passes.

The college has been favored with an exceptionally good musical club this year, the entering class bringing many musicians of merit, who in combining with the older members, have been able to present numbers both exceptional and clever.

Aside from the regular musical presentations the eccentric dancing of Grenville E. Vale, '24, and the comedy sketches by Edward T. Baxter, '25, have proved to be strong and extraordinary features on the club's program this season.

The many who are interested in the club feel assured of its success during the remainder of the season.

HOCKEY TEAM.

McPherson for Millett, Pike for McBay; (A. S. D.) Pelchant for Tondreau.

Referee, Lavalliere.

The next day the Blue and Gray ice-birds were in Brunswick where they played Bowdoin for the first time this season, the games scheduled for either dates having been canceled because of Bowdoin's inability to get practice. The Colby men were tired and stiff from the strenuous encounter with the St. Dominiques and Bowdoin jumped into the lead at the start. By the middle of the third period the White hockeyists apparently had the game sewed up with a 3 to 0 lead. But the Colby team was not to be outdone so easily. McGowan started the rally which saved the Colby scalp when he twice carried the puck down the ice and scored. McBay knotted the count at 3-all with a shot from the center of the rink. Preble put Bowdoin in the lead once more but Vale's timely shot tied it up again. With the score standing at 4 to 4 the teams battled through three over-time periods in a vain effort to decide the winner. Neither team could score; and, worn out by their efforts, they called the game a draw.

Goals made by Bowdoin, Cutter 2, Cronin, Preble; Colby, McGowan 2, McBay, Vale. Referee, French. Time, three 15-minute periods; three 5-minute overtime periods.

Friday the Colby team left Waterville again for Lewiston to play Bates at the Auburn Carnival. The game was the hardest fought of the year and ended with the score standing 2 to 0 in favor of Bates, thus giving them the Maine college hockey championship. In the Maine college series only one goal has been scored on Bates and that was made by Colby in its first encounter with the Garnet.

Colby gave Bates her hardest battle of the year at Lewiston and threatened throughout to snatch the decision. But the teamwork of the Garnet sextet was not to be denied. Corey scored the first tally in the opening period on a long shot. In the last period Colby put up a stubborn defense but O'Connor scored on a long shot from the center of the rink.

The summary:

Conch Mike Ryan yesterday received word that George L. Mittelsdorf, '27, has been selected to represent New England in the National A. A. U. games to be held in New York next month. Mittelsdorf will compete in the forty yard dash. It is likely that Roland W. Payne, '24, will run in the two mile event at the same meet.

MERCHANT OF VENICE CAST ENTERTAINED

Colby Alumnae Give Banquet to Shakespearian Players.

The Waterville branch of the Colby Alumnae Association entertained the twenty-five college girls who made up the cast of "The Merchant of Venice" at a delightful party on Friday evening, February 15, in the dining hall of the Methodist church.

A supper was served at 6.30 by the ladies of the church. This was followed by an entertainment consisting of a one act farce full of quaint costumes and rich Irish brogue, readings, and piano and vocal solos, by several of the Alumnae.

During the supper it was announced that the sum of $549.17 had been cleared from the Shakespearian play, "The Merchant of Venice," which was given at the City Opera House on January 22. This money goes to the fund for the new gymnasium for the Women's Division. Both the alumnae and the college girls have been working for over two years to raise money for this building.

The program of the entertainment was as follows:

Mrs. Sullivan's Seance—a one act farce
Reading from Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew".....
Miss Margaret Totman

Piano solos:
Nocturne in F major.....Chopin
LentoCyril Scott
Miss Florence Eaton

Vocal solos:

PRESIDENT ROBERTS SAILS.

President and Mrs. Roberts expect to visit Switzerland and France. From France they will travel across to London and from thence to Scotland. Their visit will include countries of Europe and the Orient. The return to America will be made about June 1 on the Mauretania.

Great men have performed great services for humanity through countless generations but no service has ever been performed by any one with deeper loyalty or with more real Christian spirit than that which President Roberts has performed for the students of Colby college during the last sixteen years. With unfailing patience and love he has borne the burdens of each student and has been a friend and guide to every Colby man or woman.

The A. T. O.'s in spite of the absence of their two stars, McDonald and O'Donnell had little trouble defeating the Lambda Chi's, 50 to 20. The losers flashed only in the first period. After the opening round they were decisively outpointed. Schmiedel and Nickerson were the high scorers for A. T. O.'s. Laughton shone for the Lambda Chi's.

In an interfraternity basketball league doubleheader, the non-fraternity team stepped into a tie for first place by defeating the Delta Upsilon team 20 to 20, and Alphas won an interesting game from the Zeta Psi combination 18 to 8.

The feature game was in doubt until the last minutes of the final period. There were never more than two baskets separating the two teams until Rood found his eye for the basket and dropped in three just before the final whistle. The floor work of Mason, the colored sensation, was the best that has been seen in a league game. Johnson's work stood out for the losing team.

The Best Business Career

IS what every ambitious senior is thinking about at the present time. Life insurance is one of the best, one of the most desirable, and one of the most satisfactory as a permanent calling.

In assets and volume of business, life insurance is one of the three leading businesses of this country, yet the field is comparatively undeveloped. Only 7 per cent of the economic value of human life in the United States is covered by insurance. This gives an idea of the big field still to be worked, especially business insurance for firms and corporations.

As to remuneration: Reports of college graduates who have entered business indicate that life insurance is at the very top as a source of income. Now is the time for you to consider what you are going to do after graduation. If you are ambitious and willing to work hard and are interested to know about life insurance, address

A Class Distinction

The Hinge-Cap is the insignia of Williams Shaving Cream and of Williams only. You'll notice three things about Williams every time you shave. 1. Williams lather is heavier and holds the moisture in against the beard. Quicker and more thorough softening takes place. 2. Williams lather lubricates your skin — your razor actually seems to "glide" the hairs off. 3. Williams lather leaves the skin in marvelously fine condition. No matter how frequently you shave, your face stays cool, smooth and comfortable.

You'll enjoy every shave with Williams. It is a pure, natural-white cream without any artificial coloring whatsoever.

LITERARY SOCIETY MEETS.
On Friday evening, February 15, an interesting magazine review was enjoyed by members of the Literary Society. The freshmen were especially invited to attend this second meeting of the society which was held in the assembly room at Foss Hall.

The meeting was opened by a piano solo by Miss Margaret Smith, '24. Miss Hazel Berry, '25, gave a brief review of Scribner's Magazine, summarizing the particular field covered by each of its departments. Miss Eva A. Alley, '25, reviewed the American Magazine. Miss Alley stated that the great popularity of this magazine was due to its very practical and wholesome outlook on life. Miss Hilda Fife, '26, delivered an interesting review of the Literary Digest. Miss Fife maintained that too many avoided this publication. Miss Rachel Conant, '24, spoke on the great work of the Vocational Guidance bulletin board. The advice and opportunities offered through this medium to women of Colby are invaluable.

The meeting in the main encouraged the reading of magazines for better knowledge of political questions, and for general information.

WHITE MULE.

The third issue of the White Mule will appear this week. It is the same size as the last issue and contains as much, perhaps more, entertainment than the last one.

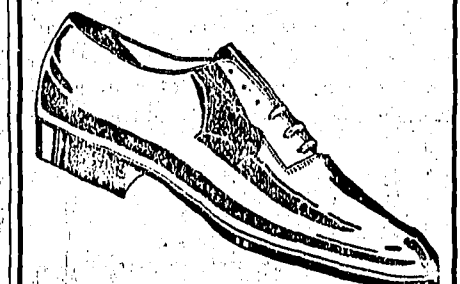

The Alumni have contributed admirably this month. The boys do their bit, but where are the girls? The staff would appreciate a few more efforts from the Women's Division.

Friends of the White Mule might be interested to know that other people have liked it so well that many more copies will be published this month than ever before.
