

WHAT THE ECHO
HAS ACCOMPLISHED740 News Items and 71 Cuts
Have Been Printed.

What has the Colby Echo accomplished this year? Let us take a look at the specific things that have been done. In the twenty-seven issues published by the old board there were 740 news items. These filled 282½ columns. There were also two columns of editorials in every issue. 71 cuts were published during the year at no expense to the ECHO. Every issue has come out on Wednesday night as scheduled. Not one has been late. The largest number of news items in one issue was 36 and the smallest number was 15 with the average about 30.

The business department shows a corresponding prosperity. Starting in the year with a debt of more than four hundred dollars, the ECHO for the first time in several years has paid for itself. But besides that it has paid off a hundred dollars on the old debt. To do this it has been necessary to run heavy on the advertising but that was unavoidable. The business staff has demonstrated that it is entirely possible to make the ECHO a paying proposition.

One of the main features of the paper has been the articles on "Old Colby" written for the most part by Joseph C. Smith, the editor. Many interesting sidelights on the history of the college have been brought to the attention of the students. Moreover, these articles were always illustrated by one or more cuts. A list of the titles follows:

"A Freshman's Letter in 1839," "The Famous Nightshirt Parade of 1904," "College Rules a Hundred Years Ago," "Author of 'America' Once a Colby Professor," "Old Sam a Colby Institution," "College Life in the 'Good Old Days,'" "Colby Man the Ambassador to Japan," "Old Daniel Pratt, G. A. T." (Great American Traveler), "To Colby by Boat," "When Board Was One Dollar a Week," "The Old Library," "Jim Perry—A Colby Martyr," "An Editor, Statesman and Author," "The Man Who Forgot Himself Into Immortality," "Rare Ben Butler," "Colby's Priceless Art Treasure," "Emerson at Colby," "Hundredth Birthday of the College Bell," "Colby's First Graduate," "Predecessors of the 'White Mule.'"

In connection with the editorial page also reviews of many books by leading Colby authors have been published.

Many special articles of human interest have been run such as the story of the Hot Dog Man. A special distinction for the ECHO was an exclusive interview with Ex-Vice President Marshall secured by the editor and published last fall.

The ECHO questionnaire was a novel idea and brought to light more interesting information about Colby students and their ideas of what Colby is and should be than anything else has for many years. The results of the questionnaire showed many startling facts.

To the editor, Joseph Coburn Smith, must go the greatest credit for all that has been done. Under his leadership and direction with the cooperation and hearty support of the rest of the board the best ECHO for many years has been published.

ORACLES WILL BE DISTRIBUTED
FRIDAY.

The Colby Oracle, the annual college year book, is now prepared and will be distributed Friday morning, June 6, from the Economics' room at Reclination hall. All Colby students are requested to come in person for their copy between the hours of nine and ten Friday morning.

The delay in the publication of the Oracle has been due to the rush of work at the printers, and to the desire on the part of the editorial board to carefully examine the first prints in order that no mistakes of type enter in.

There are several changes in the make-up of the Oracle this year. There are many new cuts of professors, and the color of the border has been altered from the blue used for many years previous. The cuts of local scenes of interest have appropriate links describing them attached. The literary department is especially good this year.

NEW GYM IS
MOST NEEDEDEcho Poll Shows 193 Votes for a Gym and Eleven for a Chapel.

A new gymnasium is the most needed single improvement at Colby, according to the statistics compiled from the Colby ECHO questionnaire. No other question brought forth such a united opinion. Out of the 217 returns, 193 specified the need of a new gymnasium.

Eleven mentioned a new chapel as the greatest need, while several others wanted an auditorium or vaguely spoke of new buildings. The members of the Women's division were in favor of a recreation building or gymnasium. Two votes were cast for new sidewalks, and the same for a central dining room for the men. One girl wanted another hall like Four Hall.

Of course, a certain number of the answers were out of the ordinary, among which were the following needs of the college: "Construction of the college away from the station," "Scholarship atmosphere," "Moral uplift," "New faculty," "Improved lighting facilities in the library," "The doing away with racial discrimination," "University attitude with privilege of thinking for ourselves."

WILL H. LYFORD, '79
JUNIOR GUEST
TENNIS TEAM
TIES WITH BATESDonor of Public Speaking
Prizes to Give Address on Junior Class Day.

Announcement was made on Monday by the chairman of the Colby Commencement Committee that word had been received from Will Hartwell Lyford, of the class of 1879, Chicago, that he would be the Class Guest of the juniors at the class day exercises on Monday forenoon, June 16, and would deliver an address. Mr. Lyford is one of the best known of Colby's 3000 graduates. He was born in Waterville. For a year after graduation he was a civil engineer, subsequently a claim agent for the C. & E. I. R. R. In 1884 he was admitted to the bar, and immediately thereafter served, first, as assistant general solicitor, then as general solicitor, and then as general counsel for the C. & E. I. railroad, with business offices in Chicago. Mr. Lyford established the Lyford Interscholastic Prize Speaking contest fifteen years ago, giving prizes aggregating $100 each year for distribution among the preparatory school students of Maine, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts. This contest is held each year at Colby and now attracts approximately 75 young orators from these three states. It is estimated that over 600 preparatory school students have taken part in speaking contests for the Lyford prizes.

EPICUREANS HOLD MEETING.
At a meeting of the Epicureans held Tuesday afternoon nothing very definite was accomplished although several plans were discussed. It was decided, however, to wake the society up after its several years of slumber and to take an active part in college activities. Another meeting will probably be held later in the week.

LOSSES TO BOWDOIN—SACKETT
WINS 16 TO 14 SET.

During the past week the Colby racquet wielders played off two of their long delayed tennis matches, one with Bowdoin, Thursday, May 29, at Brunswick, and the other with Bates on Saturday, May 31, at Lewiston. The Bowdoin match was a rather one-sided affair, the Black and White taking the meet 6—0. The Bowdoin players had everything their way in the doubles matches, but Macomber, Sackett and Lovley of Colby put up a brave fight in the singles. In fact Macomber and Cushman played two deuce sets before the deciding game was won. The fans expected a lively tilt in the Sackett-Lord match and their expectations were fully met. Lord took the first set 6—4, and was leading in the second when Capt. Sackett rallied and with careful precision played his chop-placement game until he won the set 7—5. The next set went to Lord 6—3.

The summary:
Bowdoin Colby
Sackett vs. Lord, 6—4, 5—7, 6—3 ..... 1 0
Macomber vs. Cushman, 8—6, 7—5 ..... 1 0
Lovley vs. Kimball, 2—6, 6—3, 6—4 ..... 1 0
Barnes vs. Hill, 6—4, 6—0 ..... 1 0
Macomber & Lovley vs. Lord & Kimball, 6—1, 6—3 ..... 1 0
Sackett & Barnes vs. Cushman & Hill, 6—1, 6—2 ..... 1 0
Total ..... 6 0

The match at Bates was an even split, Colby running away with both doubles and one singles match. The second set in Captain Sackett's match with Purington of the Garnet was one of the longest ever played between Maine colleges. Sackett took the first set 7—5. In the second both players were at their best and neither could seem to take the deciding point. Time after time the match was tied until the beginning of the twenty-ninth game when Sackett outwitted his opponent and took the set 16—14.

Barnes, Lovley and Macomber all lost their singles matches giving Bates enough points to tie the final score.

Summary:
Bates Colby
Sackett vs. Purington, 7—5, 16—14 ..... 0 1
Barnes vs. Fairbanks, 0—1, 10—8 ..... 1 0
Lovley vs. Stanley, 0—2, 6—3 1
Macomber vs. Gray, 6—1, 7—5 1 0
Sackett & Barnes vs. Purington & Stanley, 7—5, 6—8, 0—7 0 1
Macomber & Lovley vs. Gray & Fairbanks, 6—4, 6—4 ..... 0 1

EDUCATION FOR ALL.

Some way America must continue to provide the opportunities of liberal education for the average man. We must train leaders, we must give of the best to the best, but democracy needs not simply a chosen few but the elevation of the standards of life and thought among the masses of the people to the fullest extent practicable.

We need not simply technical and professional schools, business and commercial schools, vocational training, but wide opportunities for liberal study for those who may not be intellectually the most promising. If our existing universities and colleges are compelled to restrict their numbers, others must be supplied. No one who desires and who is reasonably prepared to take advantage of higher education should be denied it in our democracy because of lack of resources. — Secretary Charles E. Hughes, in School Life.

TWO STATE SERIES BASEBALL
GAMES SPOIL COLBY'S CHANCEBlue and Gray Loses to Bowdoin 9 to 6
Through Weak Pitching—Bates Also
Wins 6 to 2 Leaving Colby Last.

The Colby nine left Brunswick after their game with Bowdoin on May 27, on the short end of a 9 to 6 score. Bowdoin captured the game in the sixth inning. The pitching staff worked under a jinx, three hits being made off Muir, filling the bases. Coulman went to the mound promptly passing two men, forcing in two tallies. Howard took Coulman's position in an effort to stop the scoring but was hit for four more runs.

The Blue and Gray enjoyed a big inning in the third, McGowan tallying a home run with two on. In the first inning he tripled, scoring Colby's first run.

Hits were well distributed among the nine, totalling six to Bowdoin's eight. The Muleteers made a last minute effort to even things up in the eighth, but were only successful in bringing one run across. Colby's fielding was above that of the Black and White, only two errors being chalked up against Bowdoin's four.

In spite of the fact that Colby out-hit Bates at Lewiston, Monday afternoon, in the fifth state series game for the Blue and Gray team, sensational fielding, combined with timely hitting by the Garnet sluggers enabled them to pile up an early lead, and win by a 6 to 2 score. Peanut Hamilton, the Bates moundsman, was working in top notch style and pitched a brand of ball during the entire nine innings which reflected his veteran's ability and experience in the box.

Brad Cutler had a big day with the stick, likewise in the field. He pulled in several difficult ones and connected for a single and a triple. Fransen did exceptionally good work for Colby in the out-field as well as contributing a hit.

Daker, Cogan and Menneally were the outstanding stars of the Bates team. Daker made his reputation with the club in the first by pounding out a circuit drive. He also fielded well as did Cogan. Menneally's running catch of a line drive to right center was one of the feature's of the game.

Colby and the University of Maine were scheduled to play the last game of the state series for the Parentmen, at Orono, Wednesday afternoon.

BASEBALL TEAM LOSES THREE GAMES.

Sunday afternoon the baseball team returned from a four days trip on which they played University of New Hampshire, Tufts and Dartmouth. The results of these games shows the team is in a slump. The batting average which has been good all the season dropped off. The pitchers didn't seem to be up to their usual form. The game with the University of New Hampshire resulted in a 11 to 1 victory for them. Three pitchers were used, Saucier, Coulman and Wilson. Captain Fransen scored Colby's only point by stealing home in the ninth inning. In the Tufts game the Colby team seemed unable to bunch their hits and again they were turned back 6 to 3. Porter pitched his game allowing only six hits. The last game was with Dartmouth. In this game the Colby team was quite outclassed and was defeated 14 to 2, Howard and Muir pitching.

BASEBALL FRIDAY.

The last game of the baseball season will be played on Seaverns Field on Friday, June 6, at 2:30. Colby meets the University of New Hampshire nine.

THE NEW BOARD.

The proposed ECHO Constitution has been adopted excepting one article which provided that the editor might or might not get his credits at the discretion of the Advisory Board. The election of the new board was held Monday afternoon and the results may be seen above. All but one of the members of the old board, excepting those who graduate, will remain on the new staff and their experience will be available for turning out a better paper next year.

The new constitution gives a working basis on which to run the paper instead of the dead letter document which was regularly disregarded this year. Only fourteen votes were cast against the proposed plan by the student body so that it met with overwhelming endorsement, one hundred and twenty-three votes having been cast in favor of a change. The board appreciates the cooperation of the students in helping to put this across and asks that a spirit of cooperation continue through the coming year. We shall be glad at any time to receive suggestions from members of the student body and from all subscribers and hope that everyone will feel free to make them whenever he sees fit.

GOOD LUCK, '24!

Once more the year draws to a close and another class will soon leave old Colby to seek their fortunes in the world. Some will be fortunate enough to continue their education further, but many more will undertake the task of earning their living.

The class of 1924 has contributed much to make Colby a better place and we shall miss them. Whatever field they may enter we wish them every success, and wherever they may be we urge them to always remember their Alma Mater. Good Luck, '24!

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP.

An excellent example of good Colby sportsmanship is furnished by her attitude in regard to the protest against Price of Bates. The withdrawal of a protest against a star athlete of another college after it has been demonstrated that the protest was based on a technicality and that the spirit of the rules had not been broken promises well for the future relations of the two institutions.

COMMENCEMENT.

Commencement is almost here and many alumni will soon be back on the campus. Everyone should take special pains to have things looking shipshape and those who are staying over Commencement should put themselves out to see that the old grads are well entertained.

PREX'S RETURN.

Prex and Mrs. Roberts will be back sometime this week or the first of next. Although the college affairs have been well handled during their absence, it will certainly be good to see them back. Why not have the whole college out to meet the train and give them a rousing welcome home?

THE LAST ECHO THIS YEAR.

This is the last regular issue of the ECHO this year, so we take the opportunity to thank the students for their hearty support during the year and to wish them the best of luck for the summer. May every underclassman be back next fall bringing a string of freshmen along with them.

Exams are here again. Let's hit them as we never did before. The strong finish is what counts.

Let's quit the crabbing, stop the knocking and play ball. What do you say?

COLBY POEMS TAKING PRIZES*TO POPULAR LEAVES.

First Women's Prize Won by Marion Brown, '24.

Little poplar leaves,
Why do you cling so tenaciously
To your branches?
Your weaker brothers fled—
Fluttering, sideling downward—
Whirling madly upward—
Long ago.

The fierce north wind, gray clad in steely armor,
Battles with you,
Until you shrink back, shivering,
Pierced by his icy breath.
The rain sweeps in long diagonals past you.

The murky smoke of a cloud hovers
low
And hangs, far back, in dusky fringes
Around the coppery horizon.

Little poplar leaves,
Do you remember the time
When you swung like golden pennies
In the sunshine,
And the gay breeze of August—
Arrant spendthrift—
Let you slip lightly between his fingers?

Little poplar leaves,
You are tattered, as if
Shot through by tiny bullets.
Think you that the soft fingered south
wind
Will once more play with you—
Or that the sun again will gleam
Upon your glinting surfaces?

Ah, little poplar leaves,
Your day is done!
The rough wind tears at you
To bear you to the ground.
And yet, your short life, I know, has not been all in vain;
For, lo, beneath you on the twig,
Little poplar leaves,
Protected from the storms
By your sorry tatters,—
Firmly, warmly wrapped in varnished cradles,—
Sleep the tiny, elfin buds,
The promise of another summer.

PRAYER AT EVENING.

Third Women's Prize Won by Marion Brown, '24.

The lilac dusk now softly floods the street,
And all the dusty glare, the brassy
heat
Of day is gone. Faint, breeze blown perfumes pass
Of pinks in dooryards old, of new cut grass,
Of jam, and toast, and cake fresh baked for tea.

The brown dark softly slips from tree
to tree,
From hill to hill, and mellow yellow light

Looks out through gleaming panes,
'till faces bright
Soom smiling joyful welcome down
the street.

Faint calls of lingering children and the sweet
Far cry of frogs in marshes low but make

The silence deeper. Drowsy bats awake
And sit on velvet wings. Above the hill,

The moon flings out her tawny hair,
and still
Paint stars poop out like misty halfshut flowers.

Dear Lord, for calm that comes at twilight hours,

COLBY POEMS TAKING PRIZES

For all these little, pleasant things of earth,
The quiet simple things, whose actual worth
For soothing weary hearts will ne'er be told
Until our life is lived, and we are old,
For self-forgotten deed, for kindly word,—
For these, as evening falls, we thank Thee, Lord.

O SPRUCE.

First Men's Prize Won by Joseph Coburn Smith, '24.

O Spruce, whose tip is pointing up towards God,
When men have come and felled you to the ground
And stripped and rolled you into rushing streams
Which carry you to snarling, whining
mills
Where you are torn and mangled into pulp,
Then taken to the vats, from which in turn,
You come out sheets of paper, virgin,
white,
And then, with someone's thoughts are traced upon—
O Spruce! O may you still be pointing up towards God!

SPARKS IN SOOT.

Second Men's Prize Won by Joseph Coburn Smith, '24.

Sometimes
In the velvet black
Of well-smoked bricks
A spark
Will catch, and trace
Fantastic figures,
Scrolls of gold—
In soot.

Sometimes
In blackest haunts
Of sordid cities,
A soul
Will catch The Flame
And glow and shine
And kindle others—
In soot.

"Y" ROOM WILL SOON BE OPENED

Employment Bureau, Lost and Found Department and Information Desk Will Be Run.

The room in Hedman Hall formerly occupied by Prof. Edwards is to be used by the Y. M. C. A. It will serve as general quarters for the association but all students of the college will be welcome there. Numerous plans have been made for the development of the place. It will be refurnished throughout and modern lighting facilities installed. There will be a large center table, writing desks, a bookcase and the usual furniture which goes to make up a cozy room. It is planned to have the more important periodicals at the disposal of the students.

The new "Y" office will serve several purposes. Besides being a reading and recreation room it will provide a long felt need in providing a place for conferences.

Several bureaus are to be maintained in the new headquarters. Among them will be an Employment Bureau, a Lost and Found Department and an Information Desk. The latter will be of special value in the fall when the incoming freshmen are trying to learn the ropes.

For a long time the Y. M. C. A. has felt a great demand for a place of this sort. It will solve many old problems and besides this will allow the association a greater freedom and range of activities.

To allow quick development of the room, a campaign is being made among the students for funds. About $200 in pledges is being collected which will allow the "Y" a good financial basis on which to launch its activities next fall.

REDUCES OCEAN FARES.

Cunard Line Cuts Rates in Half by Unique Arrangement for Educators and Students.

The Cunard line on June 21 will inaugurate a series of special summer sailings to Europe, which will provide round trip passage at $170 per person. The entire third cabin accommodation will be reserved for the exclusive use of tourists, college students and graduates, teachers, writers, artists and such other people of refinement as are anxious to avail themselves of the opportunity of economical travel or study abroad.

There will be three of these outgoing sailings, the second on the "Mauretania" July 2, and the third on the "Lancastria" on July 3. There will be similar arrangements for passage homeward, the "Beregaria" on August 23 and the "Saxonia" on September 6, being two of the sailing dates already fixed.

The idea of these cheap excursions is to fill the great demand for an economical way of going abroad this summer. It is planned to keep them solely for the use of residents of America. There will be numerous two-berth staterooms, and no more than three passengers will be carried in any room. Particular pains will be taken to make sure that there will be no unbecomingly travelers in any room, either going abroad or returning.

The Cunard line states these excursions are planned to appeal to those people who heretofore have considered a trip abroad as beyond their means.

There will be special entertainments and dances on these trips.

COLLEGE EDUCATIONS ARE SOLD BELOW COST.

Persons who wonder "what the colleges do with their money" and why they so frequently have to ask the public support, may find their answer in some figures just announced by the treasurer of Yale University. They show that last year each student cost the institution an average of $885, the student paying in return only $207. Of Yale's total income only 26 per cent came from tuition fees.

If the average student had to pay out $800 or more a year for tuition, not including board, lodging and other expenses, American colleges would not be crowded to capacity as they are today. In recent years many institutions have felt called upon to double their tuition fees and yet their incomes from this source continue far below their expenditures. "If their professors and instructors were paid in proportion to the value of their services, the disparity would be even greater."

It is seen, therefore, that without liberal endowments or state aid most colleges would have to close their doors. — Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

POETRY

LES VACANCES.

The following poem, submitted in French 3 and 4 to Prof. Boquel, was written by Pauline E. Waugh, '27, of Sangerville:

Le jeune enfant, irréfléchi,
S'abandonne aux belles vacances;
Aux livres, il ne songe pas du tout,
Mais à la mere nature il pense.

Non, il n'a pas les soucis du monde,
Les soucis sont pour les plus grands.
Mais pour le jeune enfant c'est bon,
Car le bon Dieu l'a fait ainsi.

Quand les enfants seront ages,
Après l'école, pendant la vie,
Le changement d'ouvrage prendra
La place des vacances de jadis.

Mais dans l'ouvrage de faire le bien
De vacances, nous n'avons besoin,< Car Jesus Christ, Sauveur des hommes,
N'eut jamais le repos des soucis.

PREFERENCE.

Some like the snowshoe
And some like the ski,
But we prefer to swat the ball
Off a sunny tee.

Some like a bobsled
Sliding down a hill,
But we prefer to see Babe Ruth
Sock the little pill.

Some like the smooth ice
Where the skaters glide,
But we prefer to see a boy
Give a horse a ride.

Some like icicles
Hanging from the trees.
But when they pass the seasons round
We'll take summer, please.

A CHOICE OF WAYS.

"Hurrah! The dance is on, kid,
Come join the merry throng;
Aside with work, put up your books,
On the shelf where they belong."

Thus spoke Bill, with twinkling eye,
As he straightened a crimp in his jazz
bow tie.

"No dancing for me to night, Bill,
I've too much work ahead,
Latin, and Greek, and Rhetoric,
Before I strike for bed."

"O! there's time enough, old top,
For work when the fun is past,
But the dance that's on tonight, boy,
Perchance may be the last."

He looked expectantly at steady old
Bill
It isn't fair, you know.
So softly close the door, old chap
On the outside as you go."

So Bill went off to the dance alone;
Where laughter rang and the bright lights shone,
While Ned studied long on Latin and Greek,
Neath a shaded lamp, for his eyes
were weak.

The years passed by and to Ned there came
A great deal of wealth and much of fame.

A happy home, a loving wife,
And several children to cheer his life.
He deserves his honor, merits the praise
By his well won battle of college days.

But Bill, the classmate we've spoken about,
Failed in his courses and so flunked out.

Studying his history a little more
We find him a clerk in a dry goods store.

He has little of wealth, little of fame,
No wife or children to call his name.

We concluded thus, that his choice of ways
Paid mighty poor dividends in later years.

—C. L. S., '26.

STUDENTS' EXCURSION TO NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF MEXICO.

During the past four years the University of Mexico has conducted a Summer Session, with unusual advantages for American students who wish to become better acquainted with Mexican life.

Courses are given in elementary, intermediate and advanced Spanish; in the history, geography and literature of Latin America and Spain, as well as in such fields as archaeology, folk-lore and politics.

Special opportunities are afforded students of the Summer School under the direction of trained guides to visit places of interest near the City of Mexico. Excursions are made to pyramids, volcanoes, monasteries or Indian villages.

A tuition fee of $30 entitles students to register for four or more courses. Living accommodations can be obtained for from $2.50 to $4.00 a day. Special rates can be arranged ed for transportation by railroad or by steamship companies.

Mexico City is 7,500 feet above sea-level; the entire summer is pleasantly cool, and the air is invigorating. The University officials and the Mexican people are particularly cordial in welcoming American students and in helping make the occasion a helpful one.

Students or teachers interested in the 1924 Summer Session are asked to consult the nearest Mexican Consul or write to

"The Mexican Consulate, New York City,"
or The American Friends Service Committee, 20 South 12th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

WHY STUDENTS FAIL.

Too little sleep, too much play, not enough study, too much leisure, fast eating, and diversified thinking are factors that devitalize students and are responsible for the "delinquent groups" found in every university, according to a report made public by Professor Howard of Northwestern University.

Delinquency does not necessarily imply lack of intelligence. The average intelligence of the delinquent group is quite as high as that of the general student body.

Among the total group of men interviewed (1600 in all) only fifteen were thought to be handicapped by "mental immaturity."

"These are boys who have, for the most part, been reared under easy circumstances and who have never been required to view life seriously. Such students have a distinctly childish attitude toward their classroom work, have no intellectual interests, no definite ambitions, no sense of responsibility. In most of these cases high-school preparation has been superficial and inadequate." — The School Review.

Absence of previously acquired intellectual interests, undue attention to athletics and dependence on the teacher, and reaction from home and school restriction, are the reasons for failure in college given by Roswell P. Angier, Dean of Freshmen at Yale University, in his report to the president.

"The attitude in home or school may be one of merely coaching the youth to get off examinations instead of striving to awaken him intellectually. This subtly involves, as corollary, the attitude of regarding the entrance tests, rather than the four years of college beyond, as the goal of effort.

"If the home environment, regardless of what is explicitly said, prompts the boy to feel that athletics are a major pursuit instead of a secondary interest, he will carry this habit of mind into college to his detriment. If a school throws insistent emphasis on athletics and on its prestige therein, the same results follow.

"It has appeared time and time again, on questioning boys who are doing well, that their previous teachers did too much of their work for them. There was too much coddling or personal coaching. The boys had, therefore, acquired habits of dependence on the teacher. In college, such a boy will suffer, often more sinned against than sinning.

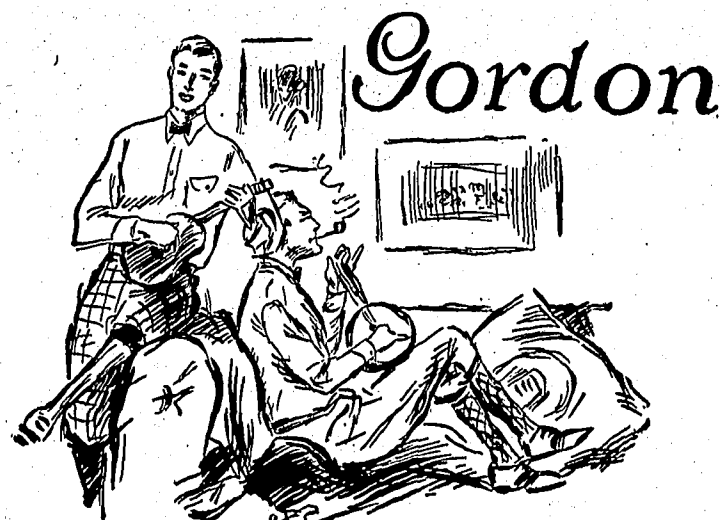

"It is a fairly safe generalization, but not without exception, to say that the more restrictive the home and school, the less well prepared are their boys for the freedom of college life. There doubtless exists in some quarters the theory that the restrictions imposed will become such settled habits as to be converted into self-discipline. But that is mistaken psychology, since such habits, unlike athletics and dependence on the teacher, are not in accord with the boy's desires. When he can, he therefore rebounds from them."

EXPLORE MT. DESERT ISLAND

Geology Class Returns from Bar Harbor Trip.

On Saturday night, May 31, the elite of the department of geology of Colby college returned to the campus after studying the topography and petrology of Mt. Desert Island. A chronological itinerary of the journey follows:

Thursday, May 29.

Packed in a Studebaker, a Buick, a Chevrolet, a Star, and a Lincoln light four coupe the party under the supervision of Dr. E. H. Perkins and Miss Corinne Van Norman took flight and landed in Bangor for dinner at 12.30. After testing the culinary art of Bangor's emporiums of chow, the party again took the air route to the ovens, a scenic spot of the island, and after few directions from a Red Cross nurse discovered the whys and where-fors of the existence of said oven by Doc Perkins. Nothing further occurred of interest on Thursday except the discovery of a new mountain road by our own geologist, Joe Smith.

Friday, May 30.

After a delightful breakfast at the Y. W. C. A. the party traveled to the highest point on the island, namely, Green Mt. and returned to the coast for lunch. As the party had fairly recuperated a journey to the Spouting Horn proved most interesting, as well as instructive. In order followed Anemone Cave where Aaron (Andy) found his mate and gave him a most comforting protection. The party then went to Day mountain and viewed the wonders of an old coast line. Here the party was momentarily lost but the quick presence of mind of Aaron who suggested that they send out a dove solved the difficulty. All journeyed back to the "Y" and retired early only to be aroused by the usual feed of Otter Creek lobsters. Many a back was broken and many a bed overturned but no casualties resulted.

Saturday, May 31.

Ready for the final day's work the Sheik girded his loins but was forced to retire because it seemed to be raining large pebbles from the top of Pemetic mountain.

At the top of Pemetic Mountain the mountaineers sang their national anthem and "Perk" assured them all an A if they'd desist. The goat trail down the mountain provided many a thrill. Jacob was rescued from what might have been a fatal fall by the laughter of Moses and Aaron. All journeyed back to the "Y" and prepared for the final trip home, stopping by the way at Hall's quarry where minute information was doled out by one Mr. Grant, an ancient son of the green-sod. Here the Sheik met the misfortune of an airless tire which had to be repaired. All off for Bangor and home reporting a most instructive and enjoyable trip. Many thanks were due Dr. Perkins for the great style in which the trip went off.

F. S. BERNEAUER ADDRESSES CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP COMMITTEE.

The Rev. F. S. Bernauer, pastor of the Oakland United Baptist Church, addressed the members of the Christian Fellowship Committee, Monday evening at 7.30 in the chapel. The title of his lecture was, "The Place of Music in Worship." In spite of the fact that the piano was absent he presented a gripping and forcible talk on the subject, one in which he is considered an authority in the state.

This meeting of the Christian Fellowship Committee was important as it was the last meeting of the year. Previous to this year it has always been the custom to elect, or appoint, during this meeting the new officers for the ensuing year. This year radical changes were made in the unwritten laws. Instead of appointing a new cabinet as before, it was voted on at a previous meeting to appoint a town committee who should be invested with the authority to hold a meeting the first Monday in September, at which time the new officers would be elected, their tenure of office starting with the October meeting.

LOST OR FOUND? THE WHITE MULE.

Notice:—
Uncle Ruben says that he has recently lost his white mule. He says further that the only reason why he doesn't advertise through the classified section of our glorious morning paper is that he can't find any section under which to advertise it. He says that since the white mule is neither a cow or a horse, automobile or apartment, lost or found, and since in the opinion of authorities it is a newspaper, magazine or periodical he doesn't know just what to do. How over those who know assure him that if he watches the newstands, railroad stations and bypaths close enough that he is apt to see the white mule in all its glory in the biggest, best and funniest edition next Monday morning.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas it has pleased God in his infinite wisdom to take from us our beloved sister, Mary E. Tourtellotte, therefore be it

Resolved, that we, the members of Beta Chapter of the Chi Omega Fraternity, wish to extend our heartfelt sympathy and condolence to her family in their hour of deep sorrow and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be placed upon our chapter records and a copy be printed in the Colby Echo.

Marion L. Cummings,
Elsie I. Bishop,
Frances J. Tweddie.

BOBBED HAIR STATISTICS.

Moved by recent news items, the ECHO statistician has deemed it advisable to compile data concerning the probability of bobbed-haired bandits in Colby. The astonishing fact has come to light that the probability is exactly 1 to 3, for precisely 88% of the members of the Women's division have abbreviated tresses. The sophomores lead in this race, having just 50% of their heads shingled. Just why this should be so is not obvious, but undoubtedly the phenomenon has something to do with the recent spots discovered on the sun. Next in line, as might be expected, are the freshmen with 38%. The juniors have 25%, and the staid and dignified seniors have succumbed to the lure of the shingler only to the extent of 15%.

Of course, these statistics are corrected only to the time we go to press, and perchance even now enough new heads have been barbered to materially change our figures. However, sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.
