COLBY TRACK MEN RUN WELL AT PORTLAND LEGION GAMES

Relay Team, at Fast Clip, Barely Nosed Out by Brown Four. Brudno Wins Mile Handicap. Sullivan Second to Nurmi, Lapping Rest of Field. McBay Second in 880-Yard Run.

With plucky little Jimmy Brudno as its outstanding performer, the Colby track team, or rather, that portion of it which was selected to represent the Blue and Gray at the Portland Legion meet, hung up a creditable evening's work.

Several other Colby athletes performed creditably at the Legion games, which attracted some 4000 spectators, most of whom were lured by the appearance of Paavo Nurmi, Finland's matchless distance runner, who easily cantered in ahead in the special 3000 yard invitation race.

WEBER ADDRESSES DRAMATIC CLUB

Basing his remarks on the words of Hamlet, "I must be cruel only to be kind," Professor Weber in an address to the members of the Dramatic Club, frankly told them how much they failed to fulfill the true purpose of such an organization.

As an illustration of a play based on the commonplace happenings of life, he read a one-act play, "What They Think," by Grace Caruthers.

ALPHA DEFEATS NON-FRAT FIVE

Thrilling Game on Tuesday Results in 31-17 Alpha Victory.

In a very uncertain and thrilling game in the gymnasium yesterday afternoon the Non-Fraternity team was defeated by the Alphas 32 to 17. Until the very last period of the game, the outcome was uncertain.

The Alphas experienced most of their trouble with Mason who played his usual flashy game. In spite of all efforts Mason continuously broke loose and not until he was put out on personal fouls did the Alpha quintet secure control of the situation.

Marr was the high point scorer with 20 points—9 field goals and 2 fouls. Throughout the game his shots were certain from almost any part of the floor. He and Nickerson proved the mainstays for the Alphas. Mason, Hodgkins and McNaughton did good work for the Non-Frats.

The summary:

Alpha (32) (17) Non-Frat Marr, if ----- If, McNaughton Nickerson, rf ----- rf, Hodgkins Smith, c ----- c, Mason Corbett, lg ----- lg, Braegdon Kelly, rg ----- rg, Stevens Substitutions: Non-Fraternity: Pierce for Stevens, Stevens for Hodgkins, Hodgkins for Mason. "PREX" ADDRESSES KAPPA PHI KAPPA AT BANQUET

Speaks on Problems of Secondary School Teaching to Educational Society.

At a banquet of the Kappa Phi Kappa society last Friday evening, President Roberts gave a very interesting and valuable address. The banquet took place at the Messalonskee Inn, and was the second of a series being held by the society.

President Roberts spoke of the problems of teaching in the secondary school, giving most of the time to the subject of discipline. He noted at the outset the three circumstances, under one of which all secondary school teachers will find themselves. In the larger high school the teacher will find himself filling the position of principal or room teacher. In the smaller school he will often find himself occupying both the positions of principal and teacher.

In any case, the President pointed out, discipline is of almost paramount importance to success in teaching. He recalled how, when his father taught school, it was a common custom for the pupils to carry the teacher from the classroom if he were not able to command sufficient discipline. Such an event, of course, concluded the career of all would be teachers. In those times the teacher used to resort to physical force. In our day, however, personality has come to be the substitute for physical force.

"Never lose your temper," is the first rule in discipline. In losing his temper the teacher loses control of the whole situation. Many pupils become highly gratified upon discovering their ability to get the instructor angry. The second rule in discipline is that of making thorough preparation for every class. This permits the teacher to give part of his time to unruly pupils. He can bombard them with questions, and they will keep still in self defense, seeking to avoid the teacher's attention. Thus, it follows:

MUSICAL CLUBS GIVE HOME CONCERT AFTER SHORT TRIP

Excellent Program of Colby Combined Clubs Well Rendered at Opera House Last Night. Met With Success Everywhere.

AT WATERVILLE

The Waterville concert of the Colby Combined Musical Clubs, held in the City Opera House last night, was a huge success. The great increase of interest in this activity, together with the excellent showing both here in Waterville and on the trip of last week, portends a greater future success for the clubs and an added prestige for Old Colby.

The program, which was played to a capacity audience, was run off smoothly and well. The selections by the orchestra, banjo and glee clubs were well rendered, displaying fine co-operation on the part of leaders and players. Apart from the selections by the orchestra and glee club, several individual and group numbers were presented. Following the opening numbers by the orchestra and glee club respectively, Kenneth Copp held the audience in close attention with his cornet solo. Copp has a great future ahead of him as cornetist. "Waterville Eddie" Baxter next sent the crowd into spasms of laughter with a few selected humorous numbers. A fine group of male voices constituted the male quartet which sang a few excellent selections. Immediately following them, Albert Wassel entranced the audience with his violin solo, "Song in E Major" by Leonarde. "Bits of Syncopation" by the comedians Rood, Cook, and McBay brought the spectators from near-tears to joy.

After a brief intermission followed by two selections by the orchestra, Mr. Allen sang a pleasing baritone solo, "The Ship of Dreams." Rowland Baird gave a selected reading, "The Whistling Regiment," by J. Clarence Harvey. "Fun for Flunkers" consisted of slams on the faculty to the tune of "Taint Going to Rain No More." "Copenhagen" by The Midnight Sons and two pieces by the glee club finished up a well-rounded and interesting evening. The program presented several features not given on the trip.

PORTLAND CALLS REV. G. V. SMITH

Student of Class of '15 called There From Hyde Park, Mass.

Rev. Chellis V. Smith, a former Colby student, has received a call from the First Baptist Church of Portland. Rev. Mr. Smith is now serving as pastor at the Baptist Church at Hyde Park, Mass. The Hyde Park Baptist Church is one of the largest of the Boston suburban Baptist churches and is one of the strong churches of the denomination. Rev. Chellis V. Smith, after graduating from the Gordon Bible school, was a student at Colby 1911-12. After leaving Colby he went to Boston University, receiving his M. A. degree from there. He next attended Newton Theological Seminary where he was graduated with the highest degree of the institution, that of B. D. His first duties as a pastor were at the Plainfield Baptist Church at Plainfield, N. H., where he was also a member of the board of education. His next pastorate was at Somerville, Mass. He was a chaplain in the United States Army during the war. Since the war he has been serving at Hyde Park.

Mr. Smith, in case of his acceptance, will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. J. Harrison Thompson, who was called to the Ruggles Street Church of Boston.

Prof. "What are the natural elements?" "Air, water, and fire." Prof. "And what are the political elements?" "Air, water, and gas."

CONCERTS ELSEWHERE

The thirty members of Colby's Combined Musical Clubs returned Saturday, February 7, after the first trip of the season. The troupe played in North Jay, Livermore Falls, Farmington, and Oakland, and received hearty ovations in each of the respective towns visited.

The organization is fortunate in having a number of interested and wide awake men in charge of its affairs for the current year. This speaks for itself in the success that the club has so far enjoyed. Lloyd M. Dearborn, '25, is this year's manager, and is being ably assisted by Albert Wassel, '26, and Cleo Cowing, '27. The Glee Club is under the leadership of Abbot E. Smith, '26, the orchestra is being ably directed by "Al" Wassel, '26, while Kenneth Bragdon, '26, heads the Banjo Club. All are deeply interested in the production of a concert troupe superior to any which have represented the Blue and Gray in past years.

The concert program in effect during the recent trip was as follows:

ROUNDY ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A. MEETING

Coach Edward Roundy gave a very inspiring talk at the weekly "Y" meeting last night on the aim and value of athletics.

Coach Roundy said that a man shows his true self when he is on the athletic field. In the classroom he puts on more or less of a front but on the field he is seen as he really is. The characteristics that he shows there, if developed, will be the shaping influence of his whole life. If he plays cheap tricks or is unfair, so he will do and be in life. If he shows courage, and pluck and love of fair play you may always expect him to do the right thing later on.

The speaker ended his talk by saying that a college is judged by the kind of teams it produces and those depend a great deal on the student body. If the students support a team that is crooked and unfair, they are as much at fault as the men on the team. It is up to the college to keep teams that stand for fair play and are worthy of representing the college.

JUDGE CORNISH RE-ELECTED

Chief Justice Leslie C. Cornish was re-elected president of the board of trustees of Lithgow Library and Reading Room, Augusta, at their annual meeting on February 4, an office he has held for 21 years. He graduated from Colby with the class of 1875.

HOW MUCH DOES A CUT COST?

Did you ever figure up how much each class costs you and how much you lose in dollars and cents if you cut? Try it and see. Take your total expenses for a year and divide them by the number of classes you attend during the year and see how much each class is worth? Most of us take five courses three times a week. That makes fifteen classes a week. There are approximately thirty weeks in the year in which we attend classes. Thirty times fifteen gives us four hundred and fifty classes, in round numbers, that we attend during the college year. Now take your expenses. If you work your board or room, figure up what you save that way and count it on your expense account. In other words, figure up in dollars and cents what you pay for in work to get an approximate idea of what your expenses really are. Then divide your total expense for a year by four hundred and fifty and see what each class costs you!

Let us take an example and see what we get. Few students get through a year on less than $600 total expense. That makes the ticket for each class worth $1.33. If your expenses are $700, each class costs you $1.56. If your expenses are $900, each class costs you $2.00. If they were theater tickets, how many would you throw away? How many two dollar bills can you afford to throw to the winds while you are in college? Think it over!

THE COLLEGE PRESS.

An encouraging sign of the times is the apparent determination of those who direct the policies of journals published in the colleges of the United States to maintain the highest possible standard in their news and editorial pages. It is a convincing denial of the claim that the demand of educated people, even those of the younger generation, is for sensationalism and scandal.

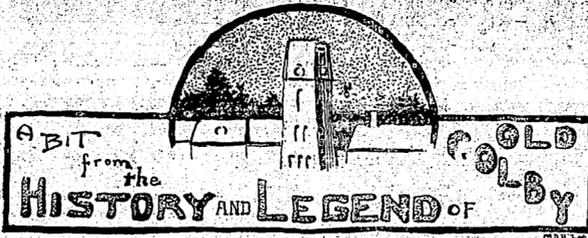

At a recent session of the Intercollegiate Press Club of Indiana the delegates not only indorsed the policy of the college newspapers in their stand for clean journalism, but demanded that the "larger and more important press," if it desired the support of the schools and colleges, adhere to the same high standard. It was pointed out that educators are coming more and more to depend upon newspapers for use in the classrooms, and that the papers available were those which adhered strictly to clean and constructive policies. It was observed that "newspapers need to get away from the printing of criminal and other demoralizing news items if they expect to take their proper place in the educational field."—The Christian Science Monitor.

ORIGINAL PHI BETES HELD LIBERAL PRINCIPLES.

The Phi Beta Kappa Society, which is just letting the contract for the construction of a memorial building at William and Mary College, to be dedicated on Dec. 5, 1926, to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of its organization, claims to be one of the few organizations whose early charters were drafted with provisions broad enough to permit the extension of its honors to women. The charter granted to Harvard began with this clause: "Whereas it is repugnant to the liberal principles of societies that they should be confined to any particular place, man, or description of men, and if (as?) the same should be extended to the wise and virtuous of every degree and of whatever country, etc." When it was decided in the latter part of last century to recognize the scholarly attainments of women by admitting them to membership, it was considered that this clause contained ample authority.

From a survey recently made by the American Classical League: "The Latin enrollment in the colleges of the country in 1923-1924 was approximately 40,000, and the Greek enrollment 16,000." In addition to these conditions the survey found that of 609 colleges in the United States 284 offer courses in beginning Latin, 470 in beginning Greek, while 214 require two to four years of Latin for admission to the A. B. course.—The Publishers' Weekly.

The University of Illinois has classified the parents of its 11,000 students. Thirty per cent are farmers and 1899 are skilled or unskilled laborers. There are among them junk dealers, blacksmiths, policemen, watchmen, painters, plumbers, miners and porters. Professional men, scientists, and business men constitute the majority, but the statistics show that intelligence is not a matter of class distinction.—Journal of Education.

COLBY UNIVERSITY IN 1882.

In 1882, Colby University was entering on its sixty-second year of existence. An old report shows some interesting facts about the college at the time. The aim of the college, according to the report was to do thorough work. The total expenses amounted to only $245 a year. The course of study included what was deemed essential and fundamental to a thorough education. Drill in the Classics and Mathematics were especially emphasized. Among the subjects were Astronomy, Mechanics, Hydrostatics, Pneumatics, Sound, Magnetism, Light, Electricity, Chemistry, Mineralogy, Botany, Physiology, Hygiene, German, French, Rhetoric, Logic, English Literature, Elocution, History, Intellectual Science, Moral Science, and Political Economy.

The expense of a student at Colby might be less, it was believed, than at another college of equal grade in New England. The sum of $250 covered the expenditure of every sort of many students; not a few spent less. The following was an estimate of some of the more prominent items of expense:

	Per Annum
Tuition	$ 45.00
Room rent, one-half of a room	12.00
Incidentals	18.00
Fuel (half room), washing, and lights	50.00
Board (36 weeks at $2.50)	90.00
Books and Furniture	25.00

Students were, upon certain conditions, aided from the scholarship fund.

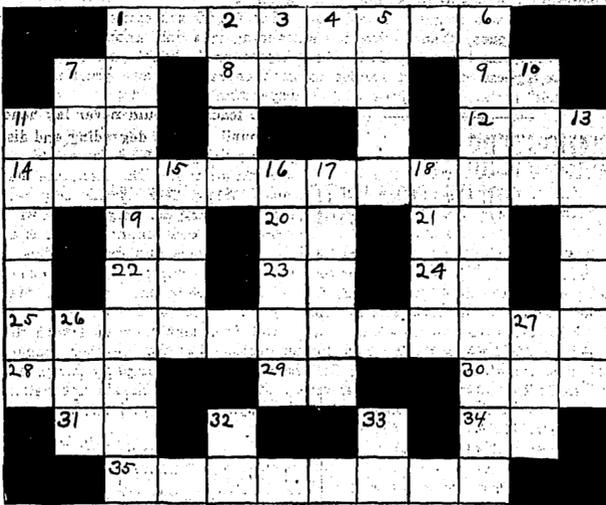

Examinations for admission were held in Champlain Hall at eight o'clock in the morning during the last of June. They lasted three days, usually beginning on Tuesday and lasting through Thursday. The examinations were partly oral and partly written. A second examination was held on the first day of the term, at the same place and hour. In those days catalogues and information were furnished by application to the Librarian.

In the 1889 catalogue, we find further interesting information about expense. Tuition, rent and incidentals were estimated the same as in 1882; but the estimate for board dropped from $2.50 a week to $2.25 a week. Other items were books, $12; light, $2.50; and washing, $12.

If we went through the year on $12 for books in 1925, they would be pretty scarce. The few copies in each course would be well worn at the end of the term and the book store would be bankrupt. If we had to live on $2.25 a week, we should become walking shadows in the course of a few weeks. If our total expenditures for a year did not go over the $218.75 at which they were estimated in 1889, we could all drive an automobile.

DELTA UPSILON HAS DINNER DANCE

Formal Affair a Pleasant Occasion, Held on Jan. 22.

The D. U. Dinner Dance, which was postponed from December 5, was held at the Elmwood Hotel on Thursday, January 22, at 7.30 o'clock. It was a formal affair, which added a great deal to its attractiveness. An excellent dinner was served to thirty-nine couples, during the course of which the College Orchestra played several selections. The floor was then cleared of tables and the orchestra started to play for the dancing. There were ten dances, all of which were enjoyed by everyone.

The committee in charge of the dance consisted of "Gus" Parkes, '25, "Bud" Weymouth, '25, "Squeek" Squire, '25, and Carl Johnson, '27. The patrons and patronesses were President and Mrs. Arthur J. Roberts, Dean Nettie M. Runnals, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Roundy and Mrs. A. W. Haney.

MISS FOWLE AT FOSS HALL

Miss Priscilla H. Fowle, Dean of Women at Newton Theological Seminary, came last week-end for her annual visit to Colby. Miss Fowle, a Vassar graduate, is a young woman, whose interesting personality has won for her a host of friends among Colby women. On each visit, she has a conference with any girl who desires one. Choosing a vocation is frequently the subject of these conferences. Miss Fowle, with a tireless enthusiasm and ability to inspire, has helped many girls to catch a vision of what the future can bring forth if a vocation is wisely chosen.

A tea was given by the Y. W. C. A., in honor of Miss Fowle, Saturday afternoon. Dean Runnals, Miss Fowle and Miss Marjorie Everingham, '25, president of the Y. W. C. A., were in the receiving line. Besides the Hall girls, Mrs. Roberts attended the tea. Miss Elizabeth Kingsley, '25, poured.

WILKINSON SPEAKS TO KIWANIS CLUB

At the regular meeting of the local Kiwanis Club, held at the Elmwood Hotel, Monday evening, Professor William J. Wilkinson spoke to the members on the life of Abraham Lincoln. David Armstrong, a boys' club worker from Worcester, also gave an address.

Professor Wilkinson showed how Lincoln exemplified the principles of the Kiwanis Club.

"The greatest thing about Lincoln was that he was the outstanding exponent of Democracy. He had an unbreakable faith that a government of, by and for the people would not perish from the earth. The Tories were firm believers in government for the people but never by the people. Hamlin and Adams believed that the people were unfit to rule and that the government should be by the learned or the wealthy.

"Another outstanding feature of Lincoln's character was his fearlessness in devotion to a cause which he believed to be right. He was one of those rare characters whom the world produces once in a while, who are not afraid in the face of all mankind to state fearlessly what he really believes, although he be utterly alone.

"Like the great apostle of religious liberty, he was always ready to say 'Here I Stand, God Help Me, I Cannot do Otherwise.' His moral courage was shown time and again. He was not the kind of a man who sells his soul in order to win an election.

"Lincoln's education, although gained from few books, was very complete. He mastered what he stud-

In two games at the gymnasium Saturday night, the Non-Frats took the Dekes into camp defeating them to the tune of 32 to 23, while the Delta Upsilon quintet were victorious over the Lambda Chis 41 to 21. Each of the games provided plenty of thrills.

The first was a hard contest. Mason shone for the Non-Frats, making many difficult shots. The Dekes led at the end of the half. They resorted successfully to the five man defense. In the second half, however, it was a different story. Mason, working the ball up to the five man defense, shot from there with great success and the Non-Fraternity aggregation soon had a comfortable lead.

Cook and Macomber were the stars for the Dekes. The summary follows: Non-Frat (32) (23) Dekes

DAUGHTERS OF COLBY ORGANIZE

Tuesday evening, February 3, twenty-six Colby girls met with seven alumnae at the home of Mrs. E. C. Marriner to found a club for the Daughters of Colby.

There has been a similar club for the past three years for Sons of Colby and the alumnae thought it about time the women were organized. Any Colby girl who has had a father or a mother at Colby is eligible for the club.

The following officers were elected to serve for the remainder of this year: President, Doris Hardy; vice president, Florence Plaisted; secretary and treasurer, Clara Ford. The club is to have its picture in the Oracle this year. Refreshments were served by the Alumnae hostesses.

The Daughters of Colby are: Claire A. Crosby, Clara M. Harthorn, Doris W. Hardy, Dorothy L. Austin, Marion A. Merriam, Phyllis Bowman, Doris J. Tozier, class of '25; Esther Wood, class of '26; Florence Plaisted, Lenora Hall, Julia Mayo, Helen C. Smith, Harriet Fletcher, Doris Sanborn, Miriam Rice, Marjory Pierce, Clara Ford, Ardelle Chase, class of '27; Helen E. Merrick, Dorothy Daggett, Margaret Vigus, Muriel Lewis, Amy Dearborn, Evelyn Ventres, Ruth Tilton, Emma Tozier, class of '28.

that keeping everybody busy is the key to good discipline.

President Roberts stressed the point that the secondary school teacher must not talk too much. Let this responsibility fall on the class. The President ventured to remark that a tenth of the talking secondary school teachers do is quite enough.

Nocturnal activities such as dancing and parties should be engaged in very infrequently by the secondary school teacher because they invariably interfere with his poise in the classroom on the following day. The reason for the importance of this, lies in the fact that teaching calls for a great deal of poise.

There was an important hint in the statement that teaching is very largely a repeating what you have now with what is already in the pupil's mind. If the boy feels that what you have is of some practical value and interest or has some connection with him, he becomes attentive.

In the second game the D. U. team by dint of much teamwork defeated the Lambda Chis. The Delta Upsilon quintet displayed excellent passing and this factor netted them the game. Johnson, Saucier and Keith showed up well for them. The summary follows:

The President warned against memory work in the classroom, noting that it is uninteresting and better be done at home.

The foundation stone to successful teaching is a full knowledge of the subject, professional qualification. A good character is also practically indispensable.

The teacher should never lay hand on a pupil. It is a degrading and disgracing thing for one human to lay hand on another. The discipline that comes through fear is ill acquired. Likewise, using the tongue for a whip is not to be countenanced as it is as bad as corporal punishment. This is more often resorted to by women teachers. Sarcasm causes fear which is much to be avoided.

The President concluded with the suggestion that the teacher should have a blind spot for petty things, but at the same time should not permit the pupils to believe he is indorsing them.

DELEGATES NAMED TO Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

Three students have been selected by the Y. M. C. A. cabinet to represent Colby officially at the New England Student Conference to take place at East Northfield, Mass., February 18-15. The delegates selected are Albert U. Pencock, '27, William E. Garabedian, '27, and Kenneth J. Smith, '26. Howard B. Tuggey, '25, and Raymond Grant, '25, are also planning to attend the conference.

The conference will be bigger this year than it has ever been before. Plans have been underway at Northfield and there will be a large attendance, representing every college in New England as well as many seminaries and secondary schools.

The chief speakers at the conference will be David E. Porter, of international reputation, and Miss Rhoda E. McCullough. The theme will be "God and the World We Live In." Special attention will be given to campus problems. There will be ample discussion by groups under the leadership of carefully trained leaders.

The Maqua and Silver Bay Councils and the New England Field Council are in charge of the conference.

"Y" ROOM TO BE OPEN

At the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, arrangements were made so that the "Y" room in Hadman Hall will be open in the future on Wednesday and Saturday evenings and on Sunday afternoons. There will be a bundle of wood on hand so that the fireplace may be used and recreation of various natures may be resorted to. The committee in charge of the new activity is headed by William Garabedian, '27.

The Class Endowment

And How It Can Be Done Through Life Insurance

THE JOHN HANCOCK MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

It worked out this problem for the 1923 graduating class of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and is ready to do it for others.

Many graduating classes, wishing to benefit their Alma Mater have turned to the insurance idea since it allows the participation of a large number of students.

This plan provides for the payment of a certain specified sum to the University at the end of 20 or 25 years, the members of the graduating class paying a nominal sum each year to create an endowment. In case of the death of a graduate before the endowment matures the full amount is paid into the fund.

Every student is given a chance to put his John Hancock on the dotted line and become a contributing member to the future welfare of his Alma Mater. It has been successfully carried through in a number of cases, and it can be done with your institution.

The John Hancock organization will be glad to render any service it can to college classes and individuals who are interested in this life insurance work.

CAMPUS BRIEFS

Several of the Deke boys went to the track meet at Portland Monday night and all are reported to have had a great trip.

The Dekes who were with the Musical Clubs on the trip through North Jay, Livermore Falls, and Farmington are slowly recovering from the effects of the bounteous "feeds" that they received on the trip. Rood was heard to say that he believed that marsh-mallow was made from the whipped cream of North Jay.

George Roach, the mump fiend of the Deke house, is once more attending his classes.

Miss Azial Roach was a visitor at the Deke house last week.

Hershel Peabody is receiving congratulations on his being eligible to take part in varsity sports.

Joe Gorham left for home on Tuesday. He maintained that he could cure the mumps more quickly at home than in Waterville. We are still wondering who it is that is such a fine nurse. Perhaps it is his mother but—?

The Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity takes great pleasure in announcing the pledging of Alfred Brennan to the Fraternity.

Some of the Dekes went on the Tri-Delta strawride on Saturday and all reported a most enjoyable time.

B. Morton Haves, who was here for the mid-year exams, has returned to his position with the Bangor Daily Commercial. "Mort" has obtained a good job and has a fine chance for advancement. When "Mort" first went on the Commercial he was a cub reporter but during last summer he was given assignment work to do and now he is doing a great deal of column work. It is expected that, if he continues at the present rate of advancement in his chosen profession, he will soon be put on column work alone and possibly he may be sent to Waterville to take charge of the work for the Commercial here. We are sure that everyone in Colby knows of his journalistic ability and are sure everyone wishes "Mort" the best of luck in his new job.

Since the arrival of a shipment of so-called "gob" pants at the Zete House, the stories have been converted into lower, second and poop decks with the resultant "Swab decks" for the freshmen. To fellows interested in joining the navy we might say that the recruiting officer is Ed Howland.

Brothers Cowing, Baird and Smith report an exceedingly enjoyable trip with the Glee Club, especially in Farmington where a certain well-known institution is located.

Brother Harry B. Carpenter, Rutgers, '24, the assistant general secretary of the Fraternity has been at the Zete House during the last few days looking over the chapter and getting acquainted besides getting in touch with the local alumni.

Mr. Lloyd Fowles, Bowdoin, '26, is a caller at the Zete House this evening.

The track meet at Portland attracted quite a few of the brothers either as competitors or spectators. Brothers Ford, Wentworth, P. Edmunds and W. Edmunds attended.

"Tick" Pierce squandered his usual six nights at Fairfield last week. "Tick" says that the walking is pretty good from that fair town to Waterville but only on certain nights.

Mr. Frederick Keniston, Rensselaer, '26, called at the house last week on his way to college. Mr. Keniston is a native of Rockland.

The Lancers Club announces the pledging of August V. Belott, '28, West Orange, N. J., and Norris A. Scribner, '28, Stratton.

Miles F. Carpenter, '28, made his weekly trip to Norridgewock over Sunday.

All of the Lancers attended the concert Tuesday night. Four of the brothers went stag.

Hiram Crie and "Kid" Knofskie made the trip with the musical clubs last week.

Leroy Savage, '27, is confined to his bed with an attack of the mumps. Clyde Mann, '28, returned this week and has resumed his studies.

Jack Monroe, '26, is ill at his home with the mumps.

Herbert M. Wortman, '26, entertained his father and brother at the house Tuesday night.

Several visitors were entertained at the Lambda Chi house Sunday evening.

Clarence Emery, '26, has returned to college to resume his studies.

"Sow" Earle, '26, has lost his moustache. Will funder please return.

"Filthy" Heal, '28, has moved from Hedman Hall to the D. U. House.

"Gus" Parker, '26, "Tallow" Fowler, '27, "Al" Wassell, '26, and "Al" McDougall, '28, represented the D. U. House on the Musical Clubs trip. They all reported a good time in Farmington.

"True Story" Baldwin, '27, visited his grandfather in Madison last week.

"Punk" Keith, '26, has secured a job as demonstrator for "Ferret" Anderson's new striped shirts.

Floyd McGarry of Bowdoin and Fred Purinton of Houlton visited the D. U. house last week.

"Bud" Weymouth, '25, superintendent of the hockey rink, has lost his monkey wrench.

"Ira" Bagnall, '28, has secured a job as clean up man at Dunlap's.

"Art" Snow, '24, president of Caratunk University, is spending a few days at the D. U. House.

Clair Wood, ex-'26, visited the D. U. house last week.

"Shy" Mills, '25, is confined in bed with the mumps.

William Springer, '26, spent the week-end at the Alpha House.

Under Frank Sanborn's able tutorage his ensary now renders most of the popular selections. He finds that it will sing for hours on a regulated diet of "Ballard's Golden Oil."

Now that the mid-year crisis is safely past and promises of spring are in the air, the young men's fancy lightly turns in another direction.

"Zeke" Jones has been with us again for the last few days as he pronounces the ice at Community Park "too soft for skating."

"Kon" Bragdon has returned safely from the Glee Club trip. Who says we haven't any present day miracles?

SIGMA KAPPA.

Miss Eunice Pepper of Concord, Mass., has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Holra C. Smith, '27, at Foss Hall.

Miss A. True Hardy, '28, read at the supper of the Colby Alumnae Association at the Baptist church.

Miss Emily B. Heath, '26, went to Boston last week-end where she attended the joint initiation of Delta and Omicron chapters at the Hotel Vendome.

DELTA DELTA DELTA.

Miss Ruth K. Turner, '26, has been ill at her home in Augusta for the last week.

Miss Marjorie V. Sterling, '25, went to Unity, Friday, to referee a game between Unity and Newport.

Miss Naomi C. Maher, '21, was the guest of Miss Margaret E. White, '25, last week.

Miss Marjorie V. Sterling, '25, spent the week-end in Augusta.

Delta Delta Delta held a straw ride Saturday night. Those present were: the Misses White, Drisko, Tarant, P. Ham, Herron, Glary, B. Ham, Steinhart, E. Vigue, Jacobs, Hight, M. Vigue, Beatty, Decker, Robinson, Mason.

CHI OMEGA.

Miss Alice J. Wood, '27, of Winthrop and Miss Marjorie E. Pierce, '27, of Oakland were initiated into Beta Chapter of Chi Omega on Saturday evening, February 7.

Miss Hope Chase, '26, and Miss Cornelia Adair, '28, spent the week-end with the Misses Doris and Emma Tozier at Fairfield.

Miss Harriet Towle, '28, spent the week-end at her home in Winthrop.

PHI MU.

Miss Hilda Desmond, '27, has recently been called home on account of the illness of her father. Miss Desmond does not plan to return to Colby.

The following girls spent the week-end in Portland: Miss Ruth Fifield, '25; Miss Marjorie Duristan, '28, and Miss Arlene Warburton, '28.

SOPHOMORE HOP COMMITTEE.

At a recent meeting of the Sophomore class the following committee was selected to make plans for the annual Sophomore Hop: Carl E. Johnson, Fred E. Wright, Alphonse W. Lawson, Lincoln W. MacPherson, Ralph A. DeOrsay, Robert E. Bowerman and Harry J. Kaufmann.

The committee has decided on the evening of Friday, February 27, as the date for the annual social function of the Sophomore class. It will be held at Elks' Hall.

"FLUNK" REPORT.

A report from the registrar shows a total of seven flunks for the semester just finished. Of the number four are from the men's division and the remaining three from the women's division.

Eight students are on probation until the third Wednesday of this semester when the deficiency examinations will begin. The schedule for deficiency exams is being made out by Professor White.

IS COLLEGE EDUCATION TOO EASY?

I would seriously submit for undergraduate consideration the question whether from the point of view of their own ultimate good, there has not been a too complete disappearance, from the college curriculum and from college life, of compulsion and of requirements, rigorous, and even irksome, if you will, which temper the mind and test the soul of men. The great reservation which an anxious world feels today in regard to college men is not in regard to their culture or their social polish, but in regard to their stamina—mental, moral and spiritual!

In consideration of this point, I would, however, urge that we be nice in our interpretation of the word "hardness." It should not be confused with roughness or coarseness, which some seem to believe are necessary concomitants of strength. The distinguished president of a great New England university has said that if he were to accept the opinions of some of his college friends in regard to what constitutes manhood he would be forced to the conclusion that "red blood" does not pass through the brain. Surely, it is among college men in particular that we ought to be able to assume exemplification of the truth that strength is not incompatible with intelligence and that both are largely enhanced in worth when combined with sweetness of character and gentleness of demeanor.—President Hopkins, Dartmouth College.
