

LANGERS ENJOY ANNUAL DANCE

At Elks Hall, Last Friday.

The first annual spring dance of the Lancers Club was held in Elks hall last Friday evening. The hall was very attractively decorated in a novel way with masses of streamers of all colors. About sixty couples attended.

Music was furnished by the College orchestra. The committee in charge was Harry B. Thomas, '26, Houlton; Hiram H. Crie, '25, Rockland; Aldo Fasse, '25, Adams, Mass.; Everett Condon, '26, Shrewsbury, Mass.; Henry Allen, '27, Tenants Harbor.

"Y" CABINET HAS SPRING RETREAT

Go to Lake Cobbosseecontee to Make Plans For Coming Year.

Saturday afternoon the "Y" Cabinet went to the State Y. M. C. A. camp at Lake Cobbosseecontee for their annual "retreat." Such a conference gives the men on the cabinet a chance to become better acquainted with each other and enables them to make plans for the next year.

The first meeting consisted of a general discussion which was held around the open fireplace about 4.30. "Ken" Smith lead the meeting stressing the need of cooperation among the members of the cabinet, describing each man as a partner in the work of the "Y" and calling upon each partner to be active and faithful in carrying out the portion of work given him. After the talk each man led in prayer and a very interesting discussion followed which served as a foundation for the thought of the remainder of the conference.

When the supper bell was rung about 6.30 the fellows who had gone canoeing and those who had gone for a walk came storming around "Chez" Jenkins and his faithful helpers who had prepared a real banquet. "Al" Peacock and Grundy being the last to reach the table and "Al" was also the last to leave being forced to do so by his unanimous election as dish washer.

At 7.30 Peacock led the group in cleaning up a few campus problems for next year. Plans for fixing up the "Y" room in Hedman Hall, for freshman reception and for stunt night were discussed. The meeting adjourned at 8.30 and the remainder of the evening was spent in toasting marshmallows and swapping stories.

Sunday was a busy day. Morning worship was conducted by "Ray" Grant in a very impressive manner. Professor Newman followed with a discussion on "Christ's Way of Life on the Campus," which grew so warm and the air so cold that all were compelled to adjourn to the house where it was continued before a cheerful, blazing fire.

After dinner, which was delayed over an hour because of the length of the preaching discussion, the budget was brought up for consideration and $500 was put as the amount which the "Y" feels is necessary to carry on its work successfully next year.

As a result of the conference it is felt that next year will be the biggest ever for the "Y." Its cabinet is a well balanced, enthusiastic unit and the plans are adapted to the needs and means of the Colby campus.

Those going on the trip were: Professor Newman, Raymond Grant, Kenneth Smith, Albert Peacock, William Garabedian, Robert Lombard, Herbert Jenkins, Gordon Grundy, Lawrence Penkes, George Jones and Glen Rainboth.

INVITATIONS HERE

The senior commencement invitations arrived yesterday morning and are now being distributed to those members of the class who bought them. Over a thousand invitations were ordered. They are of three sorts, plain engraved, leather covered booklets and cardboard covered booklets. There is no delay in the distribution as all invitations were paid for before being ordered.

ANNUAL LYFORD CONTEST HELD

Shaw of Easthampton High, Muchmore of Hebron and Whelan and Niman of Worcester Classical, are Prize Winners.

The 16th annual Lyford inter-scholastic prize speaking contest was held in the college chapel last Friday. First prize was won by John F. Shaw of Easthampton, (Mass.) high school. Second prize was awarded to Malcolm W. Muchmore of Hebron academy. Third prize was captured by Charles S. Whelan of Worcester (Mass.) Classical high school and William A. Niman also of Worcester Classical high school took fourth prize.

The prizes are the gift of Will H. Lyford, '79. Mr. Lyford, now a resident of Chicago, Ill., has always been interested in speaking contests and he gave the prizes to promote interest in declamation in secondary schools. The contest has also served to attract many students to Colby who otherwise would not have entered.

The contest was one of the best in the history of the public speaking event. The preliminary speaking took place in the afternoon. The declamation was very good and the judges had considerable difficulty in trying to pick the speakers for the finals. After a great deal of thought and consideration sixteen speakers were selected.

The final contest was held in the evening. The eloquence of oratory in the finals was amazing for students in secondary schools. The judges were confronted with an even more difficult problem to pick the winners. Finally Mr. Shaw was selected for first prize. Shaw spoke on "The Outlawry of War." He was also winner of first prize in the contests held last year. Mr. Shaw is a very accomplished speaker and easily deserved the honor of being a double winner.

All of the addresses were excerpts from famous orations of well known men given in comparatively recent years. The awards were made on the basis of interpretation, appearance and pronunciation.

The program was as follows: "The Meaning of Americanism," (Hughes), Harold Shiro; "Idols of Ideals," (Loeb), Roderick O'Connor; "The War of Service," (Wilson), William A. Niman; "The American Revolution of Today," (Abbot), Charles S. Whelan; "Americanism," (Roosevelt), Wesley Winter; "Eulogy of Harding," (Coolidge), Howard Stiles; "Lincoln, a Man Called of God," (Continued on page 3)

UPSILON BETAS HAVE BANQUET

Freshmen Honorary Society Holds Formal Initiation.

The formal initiation and banquet of Upsilon Beta, the freshman honorary society was held Thursday, May 7. The formal initiation took place in Chemical Hall under supervision of the sophomore delegation. The members then adjourned to the Young China restaurant for their initiation banquet.

George L. Mittelsdorf as toastmaster impressed upon the initiates the honor they had received in being elected to the society. He urged them to carry on the work of the organization, when it should be left in their hands, to the best of their ability, especially in the choice of new members. Plans for the future of the society were explained by other speakers.

The initiates were Augustino A. D'Amico of Lawrence, Mass.; John N. Erickson, Newburyport, Mass.; Charles Flaherty, Norwood, Mass.; Ashton L. Hamilton, Eastport; Durward L. Heal, Millinocket; Charles I. Bagnall, Houlton; James T. McCroary, Adams, Mass.; Roy V. Shoroy, North Vassalboro; James M. Laughton, West Ripley; August F. Stegler, Jr., Grant Neck, N. Y.; Everett R. Drummond, Waterville; Louis P. Fournace, Purchase, N. Y.; Walton F. Corbett, South Paris; Ralph H. Ayer, Lynn, Mass.

STRAW BALLOT FAVORS PROPOSED SYSTEM

Vote "Yes" 94 to 36.

The results from the straw ballot published in last week's Echo show a strong majority of the students in favor of the proposed system of selecting managers. Returns were received from a total of 139 ballots. Of these, 94 unconditionally favored the system proposed by the Athletic Council. Seven more favored it, except for section (i) which allows the manager to receive his letter at the beginning of his sport season instead of waiting until the end. One objected to section (c) whereby freshmen managers are rated by Coach, Assistant Manager, and Athletic Director, and one objected to section (k) which allows the Council to appoint the man of next highest rating to fill a vacancy. 36 opposed the proposal altogether. The proposed system has an absolute majority of 49 over all other votes combined and a majority of 58 over entire opposition to the scheme.

The returns, coming from only 139 men, do not give any final settlement of the question but they do indicate that the feeling among the students is that the present system is unsatisfactory. Those who voted against particular articles indicated dissatisfaction with the present system. Thus 103 out of 139 are against the present system although 9 do not entirely agree on what the new system should be. Nearly three times as many students favor the new system as oppose it altogether.

PARTS FOR PLAY ARE ANNOUNCED

Final Selections For Cast Made By Miss Flood.

Miss Exerene L. Flood has announced her final selection of the parts for the college play. Many candidates tried out for the commencement play this year and the candidates were of such a high order that the casting of characters was difficult. A week was required in singling out the best material. This abundance of talent seems to indicate that the play this year will be an excellent one.

The play to be presented this year is entitled "London Assurance," and is of a humorous nature. It will be presented twice. The first presentation will be on June 13, and will mark the opening of the college commencement exercises. This will be for the people of Waterville. The second presentation will occur two days later, on Monday, June 15. At the time it will be given for the commencement guests and undergraduates.

The roles in "London Assurance" are all highly difficult and require much real acting. Movement and life are characteristic of the play throughout and each role requires a well equipped and well trained player. Although the production of the play will be difficult and demand experienced direction, it is found to be a notable success. Miss Flood is well qualified to direct the production. She has had abundant experience and is capable of bringing out the best work that every player can do.

The cast of characters has been announced as follows:

SENIOR CANES ARRIVE

The Senior canes have arrived and are appearing in greater numbers daily on the campus. The heads of the canes this year are shaped like the Colby mule. This novel and distinctive design was chosen by the committee and was especially carved by the makers. R. Fransen is chairman of the committee and he is distributing the canes. The seniors will carry the canes in body Saturday at the track meet.

COLBY NINE TIES INDEPENDENTS

Seven Inning Game Ends In 2-2 Score.

In a seven inning game on Seaverns Field, yesterday afternoon, the Colby regulars were held to a tie by the Independents. The final score was 2 to 2. The game was called after the sixth inning because of unfavorable weather conditions. "Rip" McPhee pitched for the Independents while Trainor worked on the mound for Colby. He gave the Independents but a lone hit. Mason also allowed but one hit.

Chase and Fagerstrom did excellent work for Colby. The game was a practice one in preparation for the second state series contest with Bates on Friday. The Independents team was composed of local stars and a large crowd of local baseball fans were present at the game.

COLBY BEATS BATES IN GREAT GAME OF BASEBALL

Blue and Gray Men Take Their First Victory In State Series By Playing Errorless Baseball. Peabody, Fransen and Corbett Star.

The Colby ball club came into its own with a vengeance last Saturday afternoon on Seaverns Field when they took a sizzling game from the Bates nine in a state series encounter. The final count of 4 to 3 gives some idea of the calibre of the game which was witnessed by a large crowd. The Colby aggregation seemed to have undergone an entire rejuvenation and played a brand of baseball that would have graced any big league diamond. The entire team played errorless ball and several of the plays turned in by the blue and gray ball hawks verged on the marvelous.

Saturday's game was of true championship calibre with both teams fighting savagely for the verdict till the horsehide plunked into Smart's glove making possible the final put-out of the struggle. Bates drew first blood, garnering a first inning run but the Colby rooters were soon transported into delirious joy when Coach Roundy's charges poled out three pointers in their big second inning. From then on the visitors were the underdogs and were always dangerous. Only Corbett's ability to keep the garnet bingles well scattered, together with the air-tight fielding of his teammates, prevented the Bates clan from securing the lead.

It fell to the lot of "Lefty" Corbett, freshman portsider, to face the visitors from Lewiston and he certainly turned in a creditable day's work. It was no child's play for the yearling twirler to turn back the heavy hitting Bates combination but he had plenty of stuff on the ball and hurled a masterly game throughout. His task was greatly alleviated by the spectacular fielding of his teammates who cut off several embryo hits by circus catches. Peabody, "Bobby" Fransen, and Smart, were the worst offenders in this line, all three turning in some startling catches. Fransen scooped several hot sizzlers that bore all the earmarks of legitimate basehits. Peabody had a field day in right. The husky blue and gray outer-gardener was all over the lot spearing every ball that intruded into his territory. Not contented with his sparkling exhibition of fielding, "Houlton Jim" tossed in a stinging four-bag clout for good measure. "Ted" Smart, who replaced O'Brien at the hot corner for Saturday's game, had a busy afternoon. He handled the nine chances that came his way cleanly and poked out a dinky one-bagger for good measure. One of his catches was a gem. Hamilton drove a wicked liner over third which Smart corralled with a quick dive. He received a wonderful ovation from the stands for this performance.

Hamilton essayed mound duty for the visiting aggregation and although he did not fare as well as did Corbett, he was accorded support far below that of the Colby nine in quality. He was invincible in the first inning but in the second stanza the Colby stickers found his delivery, rather to their liking. Peabody was first batter for Colby in this inning and he led the assault on Hamilton with a terrific homer to deep center. "Ev" Fransen dumped a single over short and Pa-

Coach Mike Ryan has put the finishing touches on the Colby track team and it is ready to make a strong bid for the championship at the Maine intercollegiate Track and Field Meet which will be held on Seaverns Field next Saturday. The track and field is being rapidly conditioned for the classic and it will present an excellent surface by Saturday.

LAMB CHI DANCE SATURDAY

The Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity will hold its annual dance at the Taconet club house on next Saturday evening. Following the precedent of former years the night of the State Track Meet has been selected. The dance is to be a formal affair.

The committee in charge of the dance consists of Joseph Scharr, '27, chairman; Lester R. Nesbit, '27, and William Pierce, Jr., '27. The Douglas Melody Men from Augusta have been engaged to play. The committee is hard at work to make the affair an outstanding success.

L. C. A. DEFEATS OAK GROVE

The Lambda Chi baseball team journeyed to Oak Grove last Wednesday afternoon and handed the "preppers" a trimming in a seven inning ball game. From the outset, the frat men seemed to have the edge and as the game progressed, their superiority became more prominent. Kenton McCubrey did the hurling for the Lambda Chis in such a fashion that the rest of the ball club didn't get much chance to break into the limelight. "Brad" Cutler connected for several bingles while Maxwell looked pretty smooth as a shortstop. "Bill" Pierce, captain of the outfield, proved to be a real flyhawk when he accepted every chance without an error. After the game, which finally ended 0 to 2, the Lambda Chis were entertained by the Oak Grove boys.

THE ELECTION OF MANAGERS.

The results of the straw ballot show that the students are strongly in favor of the proposed change in the system of choosing managers of athletic teams. These elections of managers have long been a sore spot in our interfraternity relations. They have been notable for their lack of recognition of work done and the amount of fraternity wire-pulling exhibited. This new system, besides giving the candidates a fair show, would also do away with much of this friction between fraternities and would promote a better feeling on the campus.

THE LYFORDS.

One of the events during the year which is exceedingly beneficial to the college is the annual Lyford Prize Speaking Contest. This contest brings boys from all over Maine, as well as from outside the state, to the Colby campus and gives them an introduction to the college, thus bringing Colby and the preparatory schools into a closer relationship. It gives the boys who come a sidelight on college life and what it is like, which they might not otherwise receive.

THE TRACK MEET.

The State Track Meet takes place on Seaverns Field on Saturday. This is the big event of the year for the track teams of the four Maine colleges and an especially big one for Colby this year as the meet is to be held in Waterville. Colby has never won a state championship in track. This year we are represented by a strong team, but its success depends in a great measure on what kind of backing the student body gives it. The students have got to be wholeheartedly behind any team for it to do its best. What is your decision? What place will Colby take next Saturday?

COLBY LITERARY PILGRIMAGES.

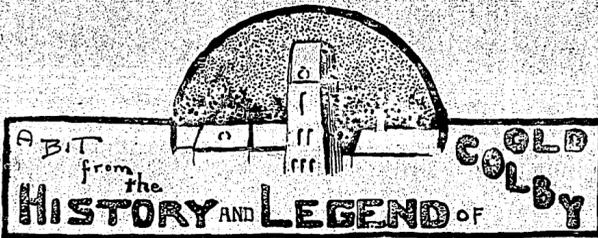

The Bowdoin Literary Institute to commemorate the graduation of Longfellow and Hawthorne one hundred years ago has attracted considerable attention. A group of the outstanding authors of today have been present and given students of literature a chance to become acquainted with them first hand. Several parties of Colby students have journeyed to Brunswick to hear part of these lectures under the leadership of Prof. Weber. A party also went to hear Dr. Meiklejohn lecture at Bowdoin, and to hear President-Emeritus Charles F. Thwing, of Western Reserve University, speak at Portland. Earlier in the year, a group went to Portland to see Robert Mantell in "Hamlet," and during the Easter vacation twenty students made a real pilgrimage through Maine and Massachusetts. All these trips indicate that there is a live interest in literature in Colby which should be fostered and increased.

What a vast difference a little cleaning and fresh paint makes! The Colby gym looks a hundred per cent better since a little work with the brush has been applied to the walls and roof.

Acting on the belief that an hour of physical exercise before an examination is more beneficial than a hour of frantic cramming, the University of Texas will continue gymnasium classes right up to examination time.

Students who have to submit only to regular medical examinations are fortunate. Thirteen hundred students at Lehigh were examined by ten different specialists in search for physical defects.

Inter-fraternity golf is popular at the University of California this year.

THE CURRICULUM OF 1875.

By G. P. Abbott

Changes are wrought so gradually that it is almost impossible for us to realize that they are taking place at all; but if we will disregard the gradual steps of progress or deterioration and turn back to a time covering a whole span of years, we will be completely surprised at the very vast changes which have taken place. Our catalog this year is not dissimilar to the one of the year before or that in turn does not differ perceptibly from the one of the year before that; but to look at this year's catalog and then take up the one for 1875-6 is to see clearly a great deal that has been accomplished in the intervening time.

The college had changed its name nine years before (1875-6) from Waterville College to Colby University and had agreed to the admission of women to classes in the early seventies, so that in 1875 the college if not in name was in form the same institution which we have today.

The best way to appreciate the changes is to compare our catalog of 1925 with the one published in 1875. The first difference though of slight importance to the progress of the college is that in the older catalog the first page is an illustration of the buildings and roadway opening onto the campus. Memorial Hall is unchanged, outwardly from that time; and Chaplin, Champlin and Coburn Halls appear to be undisturbed. Many new buildings have been added and the campus now boasts nine buildings in all. Some are used for dormitories and fraternity houses, others for recitations. At the time of the picture there was but one dormitory on the campus and boys who did not live there or at home, lived (probably working their way through college) in the homes of the various professors. The picture was taken presumably after young ladies were admitted to the halls of learning and displays several couples attired in the highly picturesque fashion of the day, walking or driving by the campus. Evidently the "cord" met at once with favor in the college.

The college calendar which in our present catalog covers four pages, at that time had difficulty in filling one. There was no historical survey included in the introduction of the older catalog. Perhaps they realized, as we seem to, that it was the men and women of that period who would be the history of the college. There were then but ninety-two students besides the president who was at that time the Reverend H. N. Robins, D. D. Today we have thirty-two instructors and thirteen assistants. The faculty then consisted entirely of men; today there are three women teachers on the staff.

There were then but ninety-two students altogether in the college; a senior class of seven men; a junior class which held two women; and there were six women in the other two classes. Today there are about six hundred students and nearly half of them are women.

Fifty years ago the classics were of paramount importance; today the sciences and languages, modern, hold quite as important a place. At that time examinations were held two days before commencement for entrance to the college in the fall. The examinations were required of all entering students. Fifty years ago it was not at all uncommon for boys to study at home until they took their college examinations which was the only way to establish a requirement of knowledge. Many boys entered college at the age of fifteen and made, oftentimes, the smartest students. That the curriculum was less "snap" ones. There was a rather hazy help but believe when we glance through the courses which were given but there was also less chance of shifting courses and picking out the "snap" ones. There was a rather exacting formula of studies and the students were almost invariably bound to follow it. Another glance at the requirements for entering will show that if the curriculum was slightly easier though less flexible, the knowledge required for entering was certainly both more exacting and more rigid. Here the classics prevailed, too.

The curriculum included Philosophy, Rhetoric, Astronomy, Greek Language and History, Mathematics, Chemistry and Natural History. The Freshman work covered Latin, Greek Dialects, the study of Christianity, Physiology and Hygiene and Mathematics. The Sophomore year, Mathematics, Greek, Latin, Anglo-

Saxon, Astronomy and Ethics were taken up. In the Junior year the major subjects of language were continued and Ethics, Political Science and German and German History were added. The last year courses in Optics, Navigation and a lecture course in Light were added to the major subjects. It would seem a rather fine plan to revive some of the old courses. A year of Anglo-Saxon would be valuable to students of the languages and English Literature.

In the front of the older catalog is an expense account for the benefit of the prospective student. The tuition was forty-two dollars and the room and board were reckoned at the lowest rate of two-fifty per week, or the highest, three-fifty per week. Incidentals and laundry were also figured out for the year and the entire cost of maintenance was not much more than our present tuition.

The library is given special mention in the catalog of 1875 as containing 11,000 volumes. Today there are more than ten times that many and we are not given to boasting about it, although to be quite fair it is a very fine library.

The many changes which have been made in the curriculum in the last fifty years have been done to accommodate both the times and its demands on the education of the youth of America and the time which the youth of America can spend on educational betterment. The languages and the sciences are still the bases of the two courses, but a student may specialize in different branches for four years work if he so desires. The changes have been almost entirely for the benefit of the college in what it has to offer the students for knowledge, living conditions, and opportunities in general. The college which was of excellent standing then has grown with the demands of the times and is now, benefiting, by those changes, a college of high standards and exceptional opportunities.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET ON MAY 23

School Boy Runners Will Be Here. High Schools Only Are Eligible.

May 23rd has been set as the date for the Colby annual interscholastic track and field meet. This date was recently released by C. Harry Edwards. According to present plans this year's meet will be the largest in the history of interscholastic games at Colby. Many schools have already signified their intention of having teams at the meet. High schools only are eligible to compete. The need has been felt for a second division for high schools and the need will probably be gratified next year. The Colby meet is unusual in that it affords greater opportunity for high schools to win honors. At the state meets at the other colleges the prep schools dominate while the high schools have little chance.

Two new events are to be added to the Colby program this year. These will be the pole vault and the 120 yard high hurdle race. Under the present program the following are the events contested: 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard run, 880 yard run, one mile run, high jump, running broad jump, pole vault, 120 yard high hurdles and 12 pound shot put.

Waterville and Seaverns Field is the most desirable and accessible place in the state because of its central location, and also because the local elnder paths are the best in the state.

Although in the past the Colby meet has been mostly attended by high schools in the Kennebec valley, it is probable that this year teams from all over the state will contest.

MARRINER ATTENDS AUGUSTA CONFERENCE

Relationships between the secondary schools and the Maine colleges was the subject of discussion at the conference of the School Principals' Association at the State House last Saturday. The qualifications of college entrants, work of students during the past year, comparisons of the work attained by the same students in high schools and college and the admission requirements of the several institutions were considered.

Colby was represented at the conference by Professor Marriner.

BIG BIBLE AT COLBY

A large number of Colby students contributed to the big Bible prepared by the Bible Society of Maine and on display in the old library for a while last week. About 1700 people each wrote a page in the Bible which weighs 88 1/2 pounds. All sorts of persons from the governor to convicts in Thomaston contributed to the work. The youngest person copying a page was a six year old child and the oldest a ninety-one year old man. A new Bible of similar sort is being prepared in which each verse is to be copied by a different person.

The Freshman class at the University of Oregon is governed by an executive council instead of a president.

SEVEN TRIPS FOR LITERARY STUDENTS

Classes in Literature Have Had Busy Year Under Prof. Weber.

During the past year the members of the classes in English Literature have made six pilgrimages from the college to hear some author or speaker of note or to visit scenes of literary historic interest. Another trip is also planned for May 15. These pilgrimages have been promoted by Prof. Weber.

The first trip which was taken was to Portland on November 4 to see Robert Mantell in "Hamlet." Members of the Shakespeare class and a few members of the other advanced literature classes went for the performance.

From March 30 to April 2, a real pilgrimage was taken through Maine and Massachusetts by twenty Colby men and women. Places of interest especially to the American Literature classes were visited. This was the longest and probably the most interesting pilgrimage taken.

On April 23, Prof. Carl J. Weber, Prof. H. F. Brown, D. E. Sprague, E. H. Merrill, and Coburn Ayer went to Brunswick to hear the lecture given there by Ex-President Meiklejohn of Amherst on the "American College of Tomorrow."

On May 1, President Emeritus Charles F. Thwing of Western Reserve University spoke in Portland at the annual meeting of the combined chapters of Phi Beta Kappa in Maine. A party consisting of Dr. T. B. Ashcraft, Prof. Carl J. Weber, Edward H. Merrill, and A. K. Chapman were present from Colby. Dr. Thwing spoke on "The Place of the Scholar in the Modern World."

The Bowdoin Literary Institute which began May 4 and does not end until May 15, has been responsible for two pilgrimages and one more is planned. On May 4, a party of undergraduates went to Bowdoin to hear the poet Robert Frost lecture. On May 7, Mrs. Margaret Deland spoke on "Some Ways of Writing Short Stories." This lecture was attended by a group of Colby students who desired to hear the famous modern novelist. The last trip to Brunswick is planned for May 15 when Christopher Morley will speak on "The Phantasmagoria of Literature." Prof. Weber is arranging for a party of three dozen undergraduates, with a number of the faculty, to attend. The Bowdoin Literary Institute is to commemorate the graduation of Longfellow and Hawthorne just one hundred years ago, in 1825. Other lectures to which visits from Colby have not been planned are "Romanticism and Realism in Modern Poetry," by Carl Sandberg, "Hawthorne," by Dr. Henry Seidel Canby, "Wordsworth," by Prof. Irving Babbitt of Harvard, "The Talk About Technique," by Willa Cather, who won the 1922 Pulitzer prize for her novel, "One of Ours."

COLBY BEATS BATES.

gerstrom kept up the procession with an intended sacrifice that developed into an honest to goodness hit. Hamilton fozzled Chase's bunt and the sacks were loaded. Corbett showed that he was in the game for a win by tucking a cute little one-sack blow over third with "Ev" Fransen clattering over the pan. Hannifen went out via an infield fly but Fagerstrom counted while Daker was throwing Smart out at first. Ray snatched McGowan's long boost to center, closing the inning.

The first Bates run occurred in the opening inning when singles by Small and Moulton, interspersed with a pretty sacrifice by Dimlick, provided the counter.

The next action came in the fifth when Mennelly and Moulton singled. Mennelly scored on a fielder's choice.

Colby's final run came in the eighth. Fagerstrom was safe on a boot by Hinds. Chase sacrificed him to second. Corbett was retired, Hamilton to Jordan, with Fagerstrom making third on the play. Hannifen grounded smartly to Daker who had some difficulty in securing the elusive pellet with Fagerstrom scoring in the meantime and Hannifen perching on first. Smart singled and McGowan walked, choking the sacks, but Hamilton quelled the rally then and there by fanning "Bobby" Fransen, one of Colby's heaviest hitters.

The Bates team made their last bid for the game in the final frame. Daker slammed one to center for a single. Small boosted one that was gathered in by Fagerstrom. Mennelly received a free ticket and both runners moved up a peg when Chase let a Corbett twister get by him. Moulton hoisted a sacrifice fly to right field. Peabody started with a crack of the bat and caught the ball on the dead run. The force of the smash took the right gardener off his feet and knocked his over, but he leaped up and pegged beautifully to McGowan. Small had already counted and Mennelly was sprinting for third. McGowan twirled like a flash and sped the ball to third where Smart retired Mennelly. This fine play ended the game and brought great relief to the blue and gray adherents.

Jordan, initial sacker on the visiting nine put up a sterling game for the losers, handling seven chances perfectly. Small and Moulton were the telling batters on the Bates team, each securing two hits.

EXTENSION COURSES COME TO CLOSE

Ended Monday Evening With a Reception.

The Colby College Extension Courses which were begun this year under the directorship of Professor Carl J. Weber for the benefit of the adult members of the Waterville community and for school teachers and business men, came to an end Monday evening, May 11, with a reception. The occasion followed the final adjournment of the classes and was held on the lower floor of Recitation Hall.

All enrolled students enjoyed the refreshments served them by members of the women's division. Professor Weber made announcement of the work and schedules planned for next year's courses. Attention was called to practical lessons learned in the year's experience. It was further announced that the Extension Course faculty will be still larger, and the field of subjects open to election still greater. There will be pairs of courses offered in the curriculum next year which will make it possible for the students to elect two parallel courses in their chosen field of study.

The Extension Faculty will be increased next year by the addition of Professors Wilkinson, Auffinger, and Colgan of the Departments of History, Business Administration, and Education, respectively. The courses will be offered in six subjects.

Regarding the granting of credits for the year, and the issuing of certificates, Prof. Weber announced that those desiring credit must make special arrangements with the various instructors regarding either examinations or specially required papers to be written. Those meeting these requirements will be given certificates for the year's work.

WHITE MULE ISSUE AT STATE MEET

College Comic To Be On Sale Saturday.

The third and last issue of the "White Mule," the college comic paper, will be distributed at the Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet which is to be held on Seaverns' Field, Saturday morning and afternoon, May 16. This issue will be 99.465% pure and yet will be the best that has ever been published by the board. From the start to the finish this number will be a top ringer.

The cover is a work of art and for the first time will be printed in four colors. In the past it has been the custom to have the cover in three colors, but in order to have the paper as attractive as possible, the board decided to incur the additional expense, and have a cover as good as the contents of the paper.

WILKINSON SPEAKS TO WOMEN'S CLUB

Gives Addresses on Some Challenging Phases of Our National Life.

At the annual meeting of the Kennebec Union of Women's Clubs which was held in Waterville recently, Professor Wilkinson spoke on some phases of our national life which at the present time challenges the interest of such organizations as that represented by the Kennebec Union.

Among other things the women's clubs were interested in education. Attention was called to legislation which was pending at Washington which would provide for a new department of education at the head of which would be a secretary with a seat in the cabinet. The speaker referred to such a proposal as another instance of government being transferred from the county and state to the national capital.

The speaker pointed out that such an arrangement would result in a greater degree of efficiency and uniformity and would probably assume more satisfactory financial arrangements for the more backward states or communities. But it would result in the people losing control of the management of their own affairs in this particular field. We were pursuing a policy, Prof. Wilkinson said, which if continued would result in supplanting democracy, or government of the people, by a bureaucracy, or government of experts.

Another matter which was appealing to the interest of the women's organizations was that of world peace and the settlement of international questions by arbitration. Dr. Wilkinson quoted John Ruskin's appeal to the women of England to use their influence for the abolition of war. As disputes between individuals were no longer settled by the duelling sword but by the courts; as the differences between the different states of the union were submitted to a supreme court instead of the ancient barbaric methods of force, so the day would come, the speaker said, when nations would allow their conflicting claims to be adjusted by a world court.

During the past twenty-five years all the presidents of the United States had been earnest advocates of the principle just stated. Next December when Congress assembled, Mr. Wilkinson asserted, the Senate would immediately decide whether Mr. Coolidge's wishes with respect to our participation in the World Court would be carried out or not. If such organizations as the women's clubs of America would actively support the President they could arouse public opinion to such a degree that the Senate would hardly dare to refuse its demands.

Do College Students Insure Their Lives?
The Answer Seems to be "Yes"

Do You Know

That in a test recently made with upper-class students of both sexes in fourteen representative colleges, 140 out of 351 said they carried life insurance policies? It is significant that 40% of undergraduates have insurance on their lives—a notable advance over what prevailed twenty, or even ten, years ago.

This shows that college students and their parents think life insurance is of considerable use in connection with the educational program. Parents believe in it because they have something invested for the benefit of their children. Students realize that their lives have an economic value. Taking life insurance is an expression of faith in the value of a college education.

The John Hancock is particularly interested in insuring college men and women and in obtaining college graduates for the personnel of the field staff.

D. K. E.

Word was received at the Deke house from "Al" Thiel to the effect that he expected to arrive in Waterville on Thursday night and would remain over for the track meet on Saturday. "Al" says that his eyes are better and with the aid of glasses he expects to be able to do some reading and writing by the middle of June.

"Joe" Gorham and Lloyd Dearborn went to Augusta on Tuesday.

The freshman delegation of the D. K. E. Fraternity were the guests of Mrs. A. F. Drummond at a dinner given in their honor. The fellows all went up early to be sure and be there when the "feed" started and from the reports that have been coming to the Deke house it is understood that there was not a course to which the boys did not do "full" justice.

George Barnes leaves tonight for the "spud-country" to aid on his father's farm with the spring planting. He claims that if the weather remains good he expects to be back and take up his studies within the next two weeks.

Preparations are being made for the State meet, as many of the alumni are expected to be back to see Colby "come through" to its long sought victory in the State Track meet.

Roy Hearon's leg is rapidly healing and, if no more dogs deem it necessary to bite him, he hopes to be in good condition for the meet Saturday. The dog is resting comfortably.

ZETE.

The week has been exceptionally devoid of news and a sort of calm hovers over the Zete house. This is probably due to the fact that on Saturday the Colby track will hold the center of the stage. The host of returned graduates and all will serve to make it a gala occasion.

"Charlie" Nelson skipped to his home at Augusta for the week-end.

The Snow brothers were visited by Charles Phillips of Rockland.

Last Sunday being Mother's day, the boys presented "Ma" Welch with a bouquet of carnations.

The Edmunds phaeton nosed its way up to Hartland Sunday where Frank Goodrich made a visit to his folks.

"Ted" Sample, the wizard mechanic, has got back at the faculty by selling his baby Lincoln to one of its members.

Warren Edmunds who sprained his ankle some time ago has abandoned his crutches for a cane. He had best get well enough to walk without it by Saturday or he will be mistaken for a senior.

D. U.

"Josh" Baldwin made his usual journey to Fairfield for the week-end.

"Joe" Hammond was visited by his folks on Saturday and returned with them to his home in Dexter.

"Jack" McGowan spent Sunday at Augusta.

"Tuggle" Fagerstrom made his weekly trip to his home in Hinckley.

"Lion" Weymouth who was suddenly called home, due to sickness of one of his prize heifers, is once again back to the fold.

"Piny" Emery and "Bozo" Thorsen went over the road to their homes in Ellsworth last Saturday.

A few of the boys enjoyed a tour of Waterville and vicinity in "Gus" Parker's Rearin' Terror the other day.

An informal party was held at the House last Tuesday, which was attended by many students from Waterville High, Winslow High and Cornburn. The guests all joined in the singing of the good old D. U. songs after which several speeches were made, and later on in the evening ice cream and cake were served.

"Bud" Merrill, '24, now teaching at Woodland, spent the week-end at the House.

"Polly" Bonn has received a job with one of the local firms advertising raincoats.

P. D. T.

Ellis F. McLeod is confined at the Sisters Hospital in Waterville with a severe attack of the grip.

Charles W. Shoemaker is also confined to his bed with a stage of acute indigestion.

George E. Murr spent the week-end in Skowhogan where he and his girl were patrons of the senior dance of the Skowhogan High school.

The boys have started their final tournament for the champ of the house in "horse-shoes." The winners of the first series were George Murr, Charles Shoemaker, and Sherry Holcomb. The mention of this is of little note, but the champ will receive a golden horse-shoe much prized by the boys.

A. T. O.

"Tom" O'Donnell, '27, was incapacitated for a few hours on Sunday afternoon with a severe attack of water-on-the-brain. "Tom" should not thrust his head out of his window, especially if "Feldy" happens to be anticipating the appearance of his Voltaire shaped cranium from a window above.

"Ab" Scott, '24, spent the week-end at the house, where he spent many leisure hours telling the boys about the wonderful time he has had since graduation.

Brother E. W. Campbell, '17, was a welcome guest at the home last Saturday evening.

"Ken" Dow, '25, was a delegate to the Lancers Dance held last Friday evening.

"Link" MacPherson, '27, is the proud father of one more year added to his already sophisticated career. In other words, it seems that on May 9 he was one year older than twelve months previous to that date. Because of this startling phenomenon he was the recipient of many presents.

The "Messenger," a publication of the fraternity is near completion and will be issued within the next few days.

"Farmer" states that the beloved "White Mule" will again begin to kick about and make its appearance at the state meet.

Charles Alexander Flaherty, '28, was visited by his folks from Norwood, Mass., during the late hours of Sunday evening.

"Shimmy" Simm, '25, claims to have some of his originality shown in the late issue of College Humor, by the appearance of a few of his jokes. Many members of the victorious Westbrook Seminary baseball team spent Saturday night at the house.

L. C. A.

The coming week-end will be crowded with big events for all the boys—baseball, track meet, and dance.

Stanley Brown, '26, is hanging around the Victrola in order to put on the finishing touches to his lately acquired collection of modern dance steps.

John Laughton, '25, has taken an interest in the Henry Ford establishment by purchasing a Ford coupe.

ALPHA.

The Alpha fraternity is pleased to announce the pledging of G. V. Jones, '28.

"Hocy Pocy" Hamilton states that he doesn't break his dates because he hasn't the "coin." We think that he is afraid of his "Cohen."

A shower bath has been installed on the porch roof and several have been baptized and converted versus the cold water cure.

George Fletcher spent the week-end in Strong and reports that the old town has become pretty quiet since he left.

"Zeke" Jones spent the week-end in China with Mrs. Jones in their summer cottage.

John Gilman, Lawrence Hickey, Hollis McGinley and George Chapman of Bates college were callers at the Alpha house, Saturday.

A smoker for the entertainment of the Lyford speakers was held last Friday evening. "Mony" Monaghan put his Melody Boys through their stuff and "Dick" Race didn't cause a thing to disappear all the evening.

"Don" Millett, spent the week-end in Augusta with his grandparents. Monaghan states that his grandmother must be an example of perpetual youth.

"Doc" Merrill returned safely from the Phi Beta Kappa banquet at Portland. "Cy" Knight regretted that he could not accompany him.

"Bennie" Sprague spent last Saturday evening in his den conferring with "Vargon" Reynolds on the subject of "Folostory of Apocapation."

LANCERS.

Open house day was observed at the Lancers Club last Friday and several guests were entertained during the afternoon.

Milos Carpenter, '28, paid his folks a visit at Smithfield over the week-end.

"He" Crie, '25, has been seen several times on the road between Waterville and Lewiston and on one occasion he and Colby, '25, were seen in the vicinity of Portland with two rather jovial companions.

The house, according to "Eni" Clark, '28, was in rather a deplorable condition after Milos Carpenter, '28, returned last Sunday night, but "Pop" Pasco, '25, has now recovered and is back to normal once more.

Henry Allen, '27, made several trips to Rockland during the past week and spent the week-end there with his parents.

HEDMAN.

"The midnight oil the young generation burns now is unfortunately, gasoline,"—not around here however. It is "oil" that the boys sling. Hair cuts are not as common these "hard" times in May—shortly the boys will have to advertise for a "bobber!"

"Copper's Farmor" has but one subscriber in the hall now—collego does change a fellow.

"Iron-man" Abbott is an attendant at the State hospital in Augusta.

In his spare hours he instructs the inmates in the art of wrestling and self-defense.

One writer says, "It's none of the instructor's business how one dresses and lives." There are some "profs" around here who don't think so.

Hedmanites are wondering why: June is so late in coming. Nobody gets any more "eats" in the mail.

"Hy" always takes "The Open Road."

There's so much "deadwood" floating around—on the Kennebec! Spooners insist upon spooning in the open—much remains to be seen.

Somebody doesn't turn the chapel clock around so that people could choose the time.

The boys will all be out strong next Saturday for the state meet. "Boys will be boys"—so you must make allowances.

And—Strawberry short cake for dessert is the word—Oh boy!

CHI OMEGA.

Miss Helen Kyle, '26, attended the spring dance of Chi Alpha chapter of Chi Omega at Jackson College, Medford, Mass., as delegate from Beta.

Alumnae night was observed Wednesday evening, May 6th. The alumnae entertained with a very clean one-act play, "Evening Dress Indispensable." Music was also furnished and later in the evening refreshments were served.

PHI MU.

Miss Edna Tuttle, '26, spent the week-end in Livermore Falls, as the guest of Misses Beatrice and Phyllis Ham.

Miss Helen Harmon, '27, recently underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Miss Margery Dunstan, '28, recently entertained her father.

Miss Doris Simpson of Portland, and Mr. Wesley Lucas, '26, of University of Maine spent the week-end with Miss Gwendolyn Johnson, '27.

ALPHA DELTA PI.

Miss Alta S. Doe, '25, spent the week-end at her home in Weeks Mills.

Miss Louise S. Thomas of Augusta called on her sister, Miss Muriel G. Thomas, '27, on Sunday.

Miss Annie Alley of Calais and Mrs. Roscoe I. Goodwin of Fairfield were the guests of their sister, Miss Eva L. Alley, '25, the last of the week.

Miss Dorothy E. Farnum spent the week-end at her home in Wilton.

Miss Margaret A. Davis, '28, called on friends in Bangor at the University of Maine on Sunday.

BETA CHI THETA.

Saturday evening, May 9, the sorority gave an evening's program consisting of orchestra selections, readings, solo dancing, and pantomime, in honor of their patronesses, Mrs. A. F. Drummond, Mrs. E. J. Colgan, and Mrs. W. J. Wilkinson. The orchestra consisted of the Misses Mollie and Rose Seltzer, violin and cornet and Jessie Alexander at the piano. Readings were given by Misses Claire Crosby, Jennie Nutter, and Elsie Adams. Miss Edna Cohen gave a delightful dance in old-fashioned costume. Much humor was afforded by a sketch in which the Misses Marguerite Albert, Lezene Rolis and Agnes Brouder took part.

BEATRICE BAKER HOBBY, '22

To the host of her Colby friends, the sudden death on Thursday, May 7, of Mrs. Beatrice Baker Hobby, Colby, '22, comes as a distinct shock.

While in college, Mrs. Hobby was active in the Y. W. C. A., was a member of Kappa Alpha, and was an enthusiastic participant in athletics. She was graduated with high honors, having been elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Mrs. Hobby also won a German prize. She was a member of the Sigma Kappa sorority.

Mrs. Hobby taught school in Essex High school for a year after graduating.

In August, 1923, she was married to Irving R. Hobby, a graduate of B. U. in 1922. They made their home in Arlington Heights, Mass., and Auburndale.

Funeral services were held in Auburndale, Sunday, and burial took place in Bingham, Mo., Tuesday.
