

GLEE CLUBS DRAW BRILLIANT
SEASON TO SCINTILLATING CLOSE

Combined Clubs Enthusiastically Received By Audience Which Filled The City Opera House---Leaders Are Deserving Of Much Credit For The Quality Of The Performance Presented.

Before an audience which amply filled the Opera House last evening, the Combined Glee Clubs brought their season to a brilliant close.

The curtain arose on the full orchestra which was immediately greeted with hearty applause. Mr. Wassell, the leader, acknowledged the ovation and the concert opened with the overture "La Dame Blanche" by F. A. Boieldieu. The number was excellently played and was well received by the audience. The Glee club then presented its first number "John Peel" by M. Andrews in excellent style and was vigorously applauded, but they declined to give an encore. It is interesting as well as gratifying to note that for the first time in recent years, the Glee Club was allowed to sing with all the lights on the stage remaining on, instead of being obscured in a semi-eclipse as has been customary in past concerts.

Mr. Wassell then came on to be one of the outstanding hits of the performance. Due to the many requests from both on the campus and from his many friends in the city, Mr. Wassell played the same number with which he captivated last year's audience, the "Solo in E Minor," by Leonard. Mr. Wassell was tumultuously applauded and he responded with an encore, "Au Soir," by Rudolph Friml, which was equally well received. Mr. Wassell is the most accomplished violinist which has been in Colby in many years, and it seems as though the college will have difficulty in filling his place when he graduates in June. Mr. Wassell was ably accompanied in both selections by Mr. Smith.

As Mr. Sprague was taken suddenly ill and thus prevented from attending the concert, Mr. Baird substituted for him with a reading by Service. Mr. Baird was immediately called back for an encore at the conclusion of his first selection.

LIBBY ANNOUNCES
MURRAY DEBATE

Six Men Are Named To Take Part In The Annual Prize Contest.

The department of public speaking has announced the names of the six men who will take part in the annual Murray Prize Debate, as follows: Kenneth Havenor Cassens, '28, Rockland; John Douglas Johnston, '27, Orono, Mass.; Arthur Benjamin Levine, '28, Waterville; Lawrence Asa Peakes, '28, Poulton, Vt.; Charles Pembroke Nelson, '28, Augusta; Lindsay Charles Varnam, '26, Waterville. Appointment to the Murray Debate is determined by excellence of work done in the Public Speaking 5 (debating) class.

The sum of one hundred dollars has been given to the college to stimulate an interest in debating. The donor of these prizes is George Edwin Murray, of the class of 1879, of Lawrence, Mass.

The prizes are open for competition to all students electing public speaking 5.

The following rules shall govern the awarding of these prizes:

1. A public debate shall be held as soon after the end of the first semester as possible at which time the six debaters shall be assigned to teams representing the affirmative and negative sides of the question for discussion.

2. Three judges, to be selected by the president of the college, shall pass upon the merits of the debate.

3. The judges shall award the prizes on the basis of 50 points, of which value of argument shall count 25, appearance, 15, pronunciation 10.

4. The awards shall be as follows: to the winning team, $75 shall be given, the same to be divided equally among the three speakers; to the losing team, $25 shall be given, the same to be divided equally among the three speakers.

The banjo club gave an excellent interpretation of the "Soldier's Farewell," by J. S. Seredy. Mr. Warren responded for the encore demanded, by playing, "Then I'll Be Happy," with intricate variations.

The first half of the concert ended with a selection, beautifully rendered by the string quartette composed of Mr. George, 1st violin; Mr. Wassell, viola; Mr. Ely, 2nd violin; and Mr. Cowing, cello.

During the interim between the first and second parts of the program, the usual razz was handed to the professors from a darkened stage. This year it took the novel form of station C-O-L-B-Y, broadcasting a radio program.

Part two of the concert opened in a decidedly lighter vein than the first part of the program.

The first selection was waltzes from "The Student Prince," a light opera still on the boards on Broadway. This choice of numbers was a particularly happy one and they were roundly applauded by the audience. The following group was an Indian Suite by the octette composed of Messrs. Clark, Harlow, Parker, Rood, Sickney, Tibbetts, Wassell, and Richardson, accompanied by the full orchestra. "By the Waters of the Minnetonka," by T. Lieurance; "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water," by C. W. Cadman and the "Indian Love Call," (from Rose Marie) by R. Friml, were the selections given.

The delicate finesse with which the voices and instrumental accompaniments were combined marked this suite as one of the outstanding features of the performance.

Messrs. Cooke and Rood made their entrance in characteristic style and their banjo abstractions were met with a storm of applause from the student body.

Mr. Copp ably played a difficult interpretation of the aria from "The Carnival of Venice." This was an arrangement for the cornet. He continued to an encore.

The banjo club rendered the "N. C. 4 March," by F. E. Bigelow, in their usual peppy manner and were forced to reply with two encores.

The Midnight Sons presented one of the finest dance orchestras heard in Waterville for some time, and Waterville has heard a few. Their main selections were "I Love My Baby," and "Milenburg Joys." These two selections brought down the house, and they responded with "Who" with vocal refrain.

The concert was brought to a close by the glee club singing the Viking Song, by S. Coleridge-Taylor, followed by our Alma Mater by Bean in which the entire student body joined in singing.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA MEETS

A meeting of Kappa Phi Kappa, the Honorary Educational Society, was held last Friday evening at seven o'clock in Coburn Hall. Lee Warren, '26, was initiated into the fraternity at this meeting. The petitions of several candidates for membership were passed upon; Carroll D. Tripp, '26, and Joseph Anderson, '27, who were accepted will be initiated at the next regular meeting.

It was voted that the members send cards of condolence to Herbert Wortman, '26, president of the society, who was forced to go home on account of illness.

At the next meeting the topic for discussion will be "The Ethics of Teaching."

At the faculty meeting last Thursday it was decided to grant the students' petition asking that the Easter vacation be changed to include Easter Sunday. It has been customary in the past to have the vacation start about the twentieth of March and last about twelve days. As this does not include Easter Sunday, it was thought advisable to have the vacation start a week later, so that the students could be at home for the holiday.

CLASS GUESTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Two Eminent Graduates Accept Invitations To Speak At Commencement Festivities.

The Commencement Committee through its chairman announces that Clarence E. Meleney, LL.B., of the class of 1876, has accepted the invitation of the senior class to be its guest of honor. Mr. Meleney is one of the best known of Colby's graduates. For many years he served as associate superintendent of the public schools of New York, resigning only because he had reached the age limit set by the New York law. He is still active in his profession, serving as superintendent of the schools of Great Neck, New York, and testing some of his educational theories. Mr. Meleney was given the degree of doctor of laws by Colby in 1904. Next commencement will be Dr. Meleney's 50th reunion.

Dr. Meleney was born in Salem, Mass., Dec. 8, 1853. On graduating from Colby he became principal of Warren Academy which position he held for one year. After resigning the principalship of Warren Academy Dr. Meleney went to Marlborough, Mass., where he took the position of head-master in the grammar school. Since that time he has successively held the following positions: Principal grammar school Quincy, Mass., principal public school, No. 2, Yonkers, N. Y., principal Newton St. public school, Newark, N. J., superintendent public schools, Paterson, N. J., and of Somerville, Mass. In 1893 he became head of the department of the school of supervision, Teacher's College of Columbia University, and later he joined the faculty of philosophy at the same institution. In 1896 he resigned to accept the more lucrative position of assistant superintendent of schools for New York city and in 1902 he was promoted to the position rank of assistant superintendent.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS TO BOSTON ALUMNI

Is Principal Speaker at 45th Annual Banquet--- Gives Two Rules to Cure Athletic Ills of Colleges.

President Arthur J. Roberts of Colby college, speaking at the 45th annual reunion of the Boston Colby alumni association, Saturday evening at the Hotel Westminster, recommended to other colleges two rules which have been in operation at Colby for many years. "These rules would remedy nine-tenths of college athletic ills including over-excitement," he said. "The first is: We do not have to win games; and the second, When we lose, we lose simply a game."

"See how these rules work. When we found that we didn't have to win games, the alumni became alarmed. We were relieved, the intense strain was removed. The graduates, frightened, came to us and said that boys would not enroll for the college. Yet they do in increasing numbers."

"Other colleges, large and small, should establish this rule. There is never any over-emphasis at Colby. No coach of any athletic team will ever receive more than a professor while I am president," he said amidst great applause.

"There is such a thing as paying too great a price. Yet we find that three-fourths of our athletic troubles were over when we put this rule in effect."

"The second: When we lose we simply lose a game, means a lot. We thought there would be considerable discussion over this. Traditional rivalry and the loyalty and interest of the graduates were at stake. Yet we manage to maintain a fairly decent win column and have not lost one iota of our graduates' loyalty, affection, and interest."

"The graduates preserved their equanimity and were not unduly excited when we lost. I don't like to lose games, in fact, I get sick when we do. But we manage to keep our heads when athletics are discussed."

"It does not mean a thing to the prospective student if the college he is to attend has a fine winning record. The rank and file would rather attend a good college even if it loses games regularly."

"Of course, we should supply a field, a coach, and materials for student sport activities. That is understood. But I am ashamed when we win games from some colleges. A small college like Colby cannot win so many games from larger colleges without incurring suspicion."

PROVES BIG SUCCESS

Large Crowd Attends Annual Affair Given by Second Year Men.

The annual sophomore shuffle was held at Elks Hall on Monday evening, and was attended by a large number. The decorations were very artistically arranged and consisted of red and yellow streamers strung from the lights to the walls. American flags and shields were prominently displayed on the walls surrounding the banners of the various fraternities.

A program of sixteen dances was enjoyed and the music was furnished by "Babe" Harrington's orchestra. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served during the intermission.

The patrons and patronesses for the affair were: President and Mrs. Arthur J. Roberts, Dean Nettie M. Runnels, Prof. and Mrs. Curtis H. Morrow, Coach and Mrs. Edward C. Roundy, Mrs. Katherine Welch was the matron for the occasion.

The committee in charge of the dance consisted of the following members of the sophomore class: Chairman, Ralph H. Ayer, Lynn, Mass.; Durwood S. Hoal, East Millis; John N. Erickson, Newburyport, Mass.; Cecil E. Foote, Holyoke, Mass.; August F. Steigler, Great Neck, N. Y.; Louis F. Forende, Purchase, N. Y.

CHAPTER OF PI GAMMA MU
TO BE ESTABLISHED AT COLBY

Professor Curtis H. Morrow Is Instrumental In Bringing National Honor Society In The Social Sciences To College---Only Students of Highest Rank Are Eligible To Join.

It is very gratifying to learn that Colby has been selected as a desirable institution in which to place the newly formed Social Science Honor Society, known by the name of Pi Gamma Mu.

The credit for this enterprise belongs to Professor Curtis H. Morrow of our department of economics and sociology. It is through Professor Morrow's efforts and influence, aided in no small way by the prestige he enjoys in his chosen field, that it has been decided to place a chapter of Pi Gamma Mu in Colby.

The chapter when established will be known as the Alpha.

Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honor Society, was established in 1924 by the co-operation of seventeen colleges and universities in which chapters were formed. These institutions were: Southwestern, William and Mary, Washburn, Berea, Akron, Toledo, North-Western, Lawrence, Wyoming, Baylor, Southwestern University, Baylor, Willamette, Pacific, Montana, Iowa State, Birmingham-Southern. Two chapters have since been added, at Dakota Wesleyan and Drury.

The plan of organization adopted was a unique one. It consisted of three steps: first, the simultaneous organization of charter chapters in a few selected institutions; second, the election of members-at-large in numerous other institutions; third, the establishment of other chapters as the demand for them might arise.

The first stage has been successful.

HIGH HONOR IS GIVEN
DR. HERBERT C. LIBBY

Invited to Serve on Committee on Resolutions for Rotarian Convention.

A very great honor has just been conferred upon Professor Herbert C. Libby, of the college faculty, as well as upon the college, in his appointment by Donald A. Adams, of New Haven, Conn., president of Rotary International, to the Committee on Resolutions for the International Convention to be held in Denver, Col., June 14-18. This committee is the working committee of the great convention, handling all matters of general policy, and writing and preparing for printing all resolutions dealing with the present and future of Rotary. Membership on this committee presupposes an intimate knowledge of the world-wide problems of Rotary for the committee will receive from Rotary clubs scattered throughout 33 nations of the world requests for action on many subjects.

Professor Libby accepted the invitation from President Adams only after conference with President Roberts of the college. The committee will meet in Denver several days before the international gathering of some 10,000 Rotarians, and this will mean that Professor Libby must leave before the college year is closed. His duties in connection with the annual commencement will be handled by Professor Morrison, a member of the commencement committee.

ly passed and there are now nineteen fully organized chapters actively functioning in their several institutions. The second stage, while not as yet completed, has also justified its wisdom, as 511 members-at-large representing 272 institutions have been elected and are enthusiastic promoters of the new Society.

Up to this time no effort has been made to establish new chapters, as it is felt that the Society should be conservative in this respect. But it is desired to make the new order nationally known in the academic world through the election to membership-at-large of teachers of social sciences in leading colleges and universities. These members-at-large will act as guides, counsellors and friends of the younger men and women in the movement. They will contribute to the national journal, serve as judges in contests, act on committees, and in their own teaching and administrative work in every way promote the ideals to which Pi Gamma Mu is devoted.

The purpose of the Society of Pi Gamma Mu is to encourage and reward the undergraduate study of social science. This is to be accomplished by making selection to the society a high honor, by offering prizes for research, surveys and original thought, and by the publication of a national journal. This magazine, known as "Social Science," publishes articles contributed by members for the purpose of advancing the ideals for which the Society stands. Its special purpose will be to vitalize and deepen social interest in young college students and graduates.

The term "Social Science" is used in the widest sense to include all studies which contribute directly to the knowledge of society and to the solution of social problems. Hence students and teachers of sociology, economics, commerce, political science, law, history, philosophy, ethics, religion, education, psychology and biology are members.

The special aim and ideal of Pi Gamma Mu is the encouragement of the study of society and of social programs in the light of scientific truth and by the scientific method, first on the part of young college men and women, and then through them, on the part of society as a whole. The purpose is not to add appreciably to the list of so-called "student activities," which distract the students' attention from the main business of college life, but rather to reinforce and vitalize that work insofar as it relates to social matters.

Pi Gamma Mu has two sorts of members: chapter members, who are college seniors, alumni and instructors, men and women, who have attained to a high degree of scholarship and have distinguished themselves in social studies; and, second, members-at-large, who are teachers of social science in recognized colleges and universities. There are no honorary members.

Both classes become members upon the same terms and conditions. No one is elected upon his own application. The candidate's name must be proposed by a chapter or national officer. His qualifications are then passed upon, and if they are approved he is invited to become a member. This he does by signing an enrollment card and paying his national initiation fee of five dollars. This fee, in effect, constitutes a life-membership, as there are no annual dues or further fees of any sort. Upon payment of this fee, the candidate is formally elected to Pi Gamma Mu and is henceforth entitled to all of the privileges thereof including that of buying and wearing the official key of the order.

Pi Gamma Mu is soon to be incorporated as a non-profit seeking corporation under the laws of Kansas. None of the national officers receive any remuneration of any sort for the services they render, and several of them have spent and are spending much valuable time that if used otherwise would bring large financial return. The society now has $8000 in (Continued on Page 3)

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1926.

"Culture then comes partly as a gift, partly from self-discipline, study, devotion to an ideal, partly from environment, contact with superior people, travel, the seeing the minds and manners of many men. What to others it seems to be is, as I have said a distillation from the personality, an aroma, a grace and a benediction."

—Dr. Julian D. Taylor.

The article from which the above was taken has been one of the most inspiring bits of reading which has come to our attention for sometime.

What better can college do for a man than give him a personality which he lacked on entering, friendships that he will never lose, and lastly culture which once absorbed may be gradually exuded again as a sweet "aroma" to enrich our mellow years?

We have wandered around several of the country's greatest universities and there we have observed more beautiful buildings than has Colby, more extensive and expensive equipment than has Colby, but we have never chanced across more loftier ideals, nor finer traditions than are Colby's. And last, but far from least, it has never been our privilege to meet a more scholarly, more cultured group of men than they who compose Colby's faculty. Thus we have the "environment" provided by our college and her noble traditions, thus we have the "contact with superior people," provided by our distinguished faculty; as for self discipline, study, and devotion to an ideal, they are ours if we will it. Having found all the rest within our Alma Mater what remains to fulfill the background of Dr. Taylor's outline?

Only one, "the seeing the minds and manners of many men," and where could we find a better place to do this than here in Colby?

On the campus and in our fraternity houses we come closer to each other than we will probably ever come to men again.

We come to know each other as few men do, and as we get closer to people, as we come to know them better and find that they have weaknesses that they fight against, and make failures which they grieve about, it should not make us cynical. It should make us kinder and more tolerant. And on that day in June when our sheepskin is handed to us if we know nothing else we'll know each other. That in itself will be a great deal to take with us, out into life, and who knows,—we may be taking culture.

We congratulate the Glee Club on their splendid concert of last evening,—the crowning climax of an excellent season.

The skill and taste used in selecting the programs, and the fine artistry exhibited by the soloists, combined with an excellently coached ensemble, all went to make this season's clubs the best in years.

It is unfortunate from a financial point of view that they were so unlucky as to run into the worst possible sort of weather on their Massachusetts trip. However, since this was entirely beyond their control the fact that the clubs have not been a financial success this year can hardly be chalked up to mismanagement.

All concerned deserve the heartiest commendation of the student body, and this applies to the individual members of the organization who certainly gave the appearance of having practiced faithfully and well.

The Echo wishes to state that it has received many letters and words of personal commendation from several different members of the alumni for the idea expressed in last week's issue in regards to creating a Building Fund for a new gymnasium. Mr. Albert F. Drummond of the Waterville Savings Bank has also signified his willingness to manage such a fund for us. The only thing left to do now is to get the Fund started. It would appear on the surface that such a thing should originate in the Student Council.

The Echo has not brought forth the idea in any spirit of vaingloriousness. The proposition in itself is not unique—most colleges have such funds. It would seem that the sooner we get the undergraduate body and the Alumni working in conjunction towards a common goal the sooner we will have a new gymnasium. So let's get going.

It is a relief now and then to come in contact with an individual of the generation just ahead of ours who does not believe that the college students of today are rushing en masse down the primrose path to,—to the other end of it. We were talking to a member of our alumni the other day who certainly is in a position to know whereof he speaks, and he tells us that the students in college today are doing twice the amount of reading that the average student of ten years ago did. Not only that, says our authority, but the "quality of the material they are reading is infinitely better." We present the thought to the much maligned "coming generation" for what it is worth. Dum spiro, spero.

It is rumored, in fact it is alleged that a certain aggressive newspaper correspondent about town is making arrangements to have an Associated Press wire strung directly to the campus.

It is said that he considers the college so fertile a newsfield that he is going to sit on the campus end of the wire prepared at any moment to shock a waiting, gasping world to its foundation. We hope, however, that we have said or done nothing during the past week which might have set the united world on fire had he been fortunate enough to have had the wire in place. But even so, life has its little handicaps and infant prodigies, even journalistic ones, crushed to earth, will rise again we fear.

HONOR SOCIETY HEARS TALK BY DEAN RUNNALS

Reads Paper on Orientation to Delta Sigma Chi.

At the meeting of the Delta Sigma Chi, held at Foss Hall on Friday evening, Dean Nettie M. Runnals read a paper on "Orienting the High School Girl," which she had previously read at the teachers' convention in Portland last fall. Dean Runnals commenced her talk by defining the term "orient" as "to adjust by referring to fundamental principles of right." She further stated that the object of education is to try to teach ideas which will be translated into the pupil's future conduct. In her high school years the girl makes the greatest decisions of her life. The teacher's attitude must be one of interest in her subject and pupil. She should have abundance of confidence and good will, and must know her pupils as far as possible, so that no misunderstandings will accrue. Even though discipline must be stressed, the teacher should realize that every student is not keenly interested in every lesson every day. Example is better than precept. May the teacher act so that what she does speaks so loud that what she says cannot be heard unless doing and saying agree. Store up self-control. Be shock-proof. If you cannot do something to make the girls different from what they are, don't try teaching.

ALUMNAE ENJOY INFORMAL SUPPER

Plans are Made for Raising Money for Womens' Building Fund.

The Colby Alumnae Association enjoyed a supper Wednesday evening, Feb. 17, at the Messalonskee Inn. After the supper the members of the association discussed plans for raising money for the Health Building Fund. The plan finally chosen to adopt from the various ones suggested is to give a fair sometime in the spring. Details for this scheme are not yet completed. The following committee was appointed to have charge of the project: Mrs. Donald Putnam, Mrs. M. W. Bessey, and Miss Doris W. Hardy, '25, all of Waterville. Reports were read by various members of the association.

Over $42,000 has already been gathered for the Health Building Fund, but this amount must be greatly increased before actual construction of the desired building can begin. The Alumnae of Colby and the undergraduate women are making every effort to reach the goal of $100,000 before the end of the college year. Methods of securing money already tried by the Alumnae are gifts, annual plays, sale of Colby pencils, Colby soap and chocolates.

TIES BATES SEXTETHockey Team Plays One Hour and Twelve Minutes to a Tie.

The Bates hockey team by winning the morning game Monday from Colby and playing a tie in the afternoon with the same team, landed second place in the Maine Intercollegiate hockey series. Bowdoin occupies the sun berth with four straight victories. Bates won one, lost two and one tie and Colby lost three and tied one.

The afternoon game at the Lewiston arena was a hard fought one. Bates scored in the first period and Colby tied in the third. In one five minute overtime period both teams added a goal. Two more five minute periods and one of twelve minutes were also played, neither team being able to score. As the players were then exhausted the game was called a draw.

In the morning game Bates started off with a rush and scored four goals in the first period. After that Colby tightened up and Bates was unable to score again. Colby scored twice in the second stanza and one in the final period but could not overcome the lead. The summaries:

Gray and Brown of Bates and Turner of Maine scored 7 points each.

INTER-FRAT CARNIVAL
SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

An interfraternity winter sports meet was to be held this afternoon, at three o'clock under the auspices of the winter sports team. Although carded to see which fraternity has the best array of experts on the ski and snowshoe its potent reason was to determine if there was enough interest in the sport to carry it further. Tentative plans are now being made for the program for winter sports next year. These plans when completed will make it possible to have a team to represent Colby in winter sports. The fifteen men who have reported consistently under Prof. Edwards' tutelage are excellent material and should form a fine nucleus for a team next year. A picked team from this squad has attended three meets at which they have shown their merit. It seems this next year should find the winter sports team a fixed unit on the athletic calendar. The list of events in today's meet were to be:

For Winter Sports Team Members.
250 yard ski dash.
250 yard snowshoe dash.
2 laps (3 or 4 miles) ski race.
2 laps (3 or 4 miles) snowshoe race.

Novice Races.

100 yard ski dash.
Snowshoe obstacle race.
Ski hurdle races.
440 yard snowshoe race.

The Alpha Tau Omega quintet found no difficulty in swamping the Delta Kappa Epsilon five in a score of 60 to 19. Trainor with 11 baskets was high scorer. Nickerson hung 9 goals during the game. Cooke, D. K. E., did practically all the scoring for his team and was the only dangerous man on the Delta Kappa Epsilon five. Play was fast throughout, featured by clever passing and the deadly shooting of Trainor, Nickerson and Callaghan.

CHAPTER OF PI GAMMA MU.

vested in United States Registered Bonds, and plans, by careful economy and conservative management, to build up within the next few years an endowment fund of $50,000, so invested, to be used for the promotion of social science.

Prizes for individual research upon the part of undergraduate and faculty members and for social surveys upon the part of chapters will be offered during the coming academic year. Announcement of these prizes will be made in the initial number of "Social Science."

Pi Gamma Mu is not an ordinary honor society. It has no national ritual and no secret features of any sort. Its name is simple and modest, merely the initials of the Greek words: "Politikes gnoseos mathetai," which means "Students of Social Science."

The purpose of Pi Gamma Mu is not the glorification of its own members, their titles, honors and achievements, but it is the serious purpose of advancing the cause of the scientific study of social problems. To accomplish this aim, it has a real program, which it is now putting into effect. To this end it seeks to align the socially minded college and university teachers and students of America in a movement opposed to social ignorance and superstition and to advance the reliance upon scientific truth as the road to freedom, security, progress and the highest human welfare. The wide and enthusiastic acceptance of the purpose and program of Pi Gamma Mu proves both the need for such a movement and its practicability. Pi Gamma Mu starts at the source, with the social science teachers and students of our colleges and universities.

Until a complete and exhaustive search has been made of the college files and a report given no announcement will be made relative to the names or number of men eligible for this new society.

However, according to the constitution of the fraternity the following requirements are prerequisite to membership.

1. Any person of good moral character who is an instructor, alumnus or son of any college or university where there is a chapter of Pi Gamma Mu may be elected to membership by a majority vote of the faculty members of such chapter, provided that he or she has had at least twenty-one semester-hours of social science with an average grade of eighty-five per cent or more therein, and has distinguished himself in social studies.

2. Instructors in social science and other distinguished social workers located where there are no chapters may be elected members-at-large upon the same terms as other members by a majority vote of the National Executive Committee.

3. A person elected in either manner shall become a member upon the payment of the national and local initiation fees and may purchase the Pi Gamma Mu key.

The aim of the fraternity is: "Cooperation in the scientific study of social problems."

Its motto is: "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Professor Morrow will be the sponsor for the organization in Colby. He is to be congratulated on bringing the honor to Colby and to himself.

Professor Morrow graduated with the degree of A. B. from Clark College in 1910. In 1922 he received his M. A. from Clark University. From 1910 to 1912 he was an assistant in the history department of the same institution. During the years 1910-1912, and again from 1914-16 he was a scholar in history at Clark University. Professor Morrow held the position of assistant librarian to the American Antiquarian Society in Worcester, Mass., from 1912-1918.

In the fall of 1918 he went to Melrose, Mass., where he became head of the department of history and economics in the Melrose High School which position he held for two years.

With the opening of the college year in 1920 Professor Morrow came to Colby as associate professor and head of the department of economics and sociology. In 1924 he was elevated to a full professorship and he has occupied the chair of his department ever since.

Professor Morrow is a member of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the American Economic Association, and the American Sociological Society.

Professor Morrow will take his doctor's degree in philosophy at Clark University in Worcester, Mass., this coming fall.

Dr. Meleney's record of achievement marks him as one of the most eminent authorities in the field of secondary education in the United States today. The college rejoices in the fact that he will be back to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his graduation in June. The senior class feels that they are fortunate indeed in having Dr. Meleney as their official class guest.

The commencement committee also announces that Richard A. Metcalf, of the class of 1886, of Richmond, Va., has accepted an invitation to be the guest of honor of the junior class on Monday of commencement week. Mr. Metcalf will deliver a short address on the college campus at the conclusion of the class day exercises. ITS ANNUAL BALLAffair is Followed by Formal
Dance in Chapter
House the Next Evening.

The Colby chapter of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity held its annual formal ball Friday evening at Elks Hall. The affair was one of the most brilliant and successful of the college social season. The ball was attended by the members of the active chapter and also members of the alumni body besides the delegates from the various fraternities.

The hall was very prettily and artistically decorated. There were streamers of red, gold and blue that were arched into a huge canopy which was suspended from the lights to the wall. The walls were delicately hung with streamers of the same colors, which are the colors of the fraternity. There were flags and shields placed on the walls which added more splendor to the decorations. The letters D K E were suspended from the light fixtures and a huge Deke pin was mounted conspicuously over the balcony.

The dance was formal and lasted from 9.30 until 2. The music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Yale University students who went by the name of the Yale Rhythm Makers. Each lady guest was presented with an attractive favor which was a bridge set that consisted of a leather case containing a set of playing cards and a scoring tablet. The Deke seal was prominently displayed on the cover of the set. Refreshments were served at intermission and consisted of ice cream, cake, and punch.

The patrons and patronesses for the ball were the following: Dr. and Mrs. George Farmenter; Professor and Mrs. C. Harry Edwards; Dean Nettie M. Rurnals; Mrs. Grace W. Bartlett; Mrs. Mary Martin. The committee in charge of the affair was Albert Thiel, '28, of Canton, Mass.; Carroll J. Cooke, '28, of Meriden, Conn.; Francis F. Bartlett, '26, of Waterville.

On Saturday evening a dinner was given by the Dekes at the Elmwood Hotel. Another formal dance was then held at the chapter house. The house was prettily decorated with streamers and fir boughs.

When silvery moonlight falls on town and field—and the long, joyous tour home is ready to begin
—have a Camel!

Camels contain the very choicest tobaccos grown in all the world. Camels are blended by the world's most expert blenders. Nothing is too good for Camels. In the making of this one brand we concentrate the tobacco knowledge and skill of the largest organization of tobacco experts in the world. No other cigarette made is like Camels. They are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

WHEN moonlight washes woodland and hills with platinum light. And the tour home is ready to begin—have a Camel!

For Camel makes every smooth tour smoother, adds of its own contentment to every delightful journey. Camels never tire your taste or leave a cigarette after-taste. Pay what you will, you'll never get choicer tobaccos than those in Camels.

So this night as the forest-topped hills race by in moonlit procession. As the magic road curves through the colonnades of birches—have then the finest made, regardless of price.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.
